Community responds to cry for food

By Maurie Walker
staff writer

People do care about their neighbors. Proof of this was seen Thursday night when some 75 people representing 32 businesses, clubs and service organizations responded to Mayor Charles Pickering's call for help in feeding the city's hungry.

With 25 percent of the community on some type of assistance, Pickering earlier had declared that a state of human emergency exists in Westland. He had called a meeting in the Bailey Recreation Center, seeking help in forming "Operation Bread Basket" similar to the program started recently by AAA.

"This is an indefinite problem," the mayor said, "and the need to help is going to be there for a long time."

RESPONDING to the mayor's plea and offering their services were such groups as the Westland Breakfast Lions, Westland Host Lions, Goodfellows, Kiwanis of Wayne County West, Westland Kiwanis, Westland Police Sergeants and Lieutenants Association, Westland Fire Fighters, Norwayne Task Force, FISH, various homeowners groups and senior citizens clubs.

Also represented were PTA groups, the Wayne-Westland and Livonia School Boards, Westland Moose, UAW Local 900, the Youth Soccer League and Dad's Athletic Club.

Pickering told the groups that figures from the Wayne County Department of Social Services show 4,800 families in Westland are in need of help. Westland's population is less than 85,000.

"This means some 20,000 persons in the city are in need. And there are some who do not qualify for aid for one reason or another but are in desperate straits.

"There are families who are having to sell their homes, cars, personal possessions just to exist," Pickering said.

"I want Westland to take the lead and show other communities what can be done to help those in need," he added.

He said the city is challenging various groups and residents to see what can be done.

"I'd like to see a communitywide participation in this program."

PICKERING said he was offering two ideas to help.

"We will have our annual ball in February. One dollar from each ticket sold will go toward this food program.

"At the same time, we are asking that those attending the ball bring some food for the needy."

Another offer for help came from Paul George, owner of Skateland on Cherry Hill.

Henry Lundquist, head of the Westland Department of Public Services, said George has donated the arena for a fund-raising event on March 3 from 6-10 p.m.

"The facility holds 1,300 people and, if we can fill the arena at $5 per ticket, it will be a great help in our food program," Lundquist said.

"We are asking people who attend to also bring some food," he added.

Lundquist asked the service groups and others to help in the sale of the tickets.

Sylvia Kozorosky, director of Westland's Department on Aging, said she would coordinate all the city's senior citizens groups and suggest each club pick a time to work on the project.

IDEAS FROM other groups were volunteered at the meeting.

John Ready of the Westland Goodfellows, whose busy time is during the Christmas season, said they are now going to be a year-around organization to participate in the mayor's program.

LT. AL BILLINGS, head of the Westland Police Department Traffic Bureau, found getting to Denver, Col. by air was a longer trip than expected — 60 hours to be exact.

Billings headed for Denver just prior to the big Christmas snow storm there, but the airline kept it's part of the bargain.

"We couldn't land (on the first flight) because the airport was closed, but the pilot said, 'There's Denver, 30,000 feet below.'"

"We had to stop at Sioux Falls, S.D. to take on fuel so that we could get to Minneapolis, where we stayed from midnight Christmas until about 4 p.m. (the following) Monday when the Denver airport was finally opened.

"We reached Denver about 9 p.m. Monday."

Billings said the trip back to Metropolitan Airport took less than three hours, including a stopover.

CITY COUNCIL recently approved the appointment of three members to the Economic Development Corporation.

Reappointed to six-year terms were Norman Stockmeyer, a member of the state board of education, and Dennis O'Neill, deputy superintendent for Wayne-Westland school district.

Also appointed to a three-year term was Patrick Dana.

THOMAS BROWN, who retired at the close of 1982 as one of Westland's state representatives, was honored by a city council resolution last week. Brown also served the city as its first mayor, and prior to that, he was supervisor of the former Nankin Township.

WESTLAND'S recreation department is hoping we get a little of the white stuff — by Feb. 5.

That's when the department has scheduled the city's second, hopefully annual snow sculpture contest. Using the theme, "cartoon comic," nothing but snow is permitted in sculpting masterpieces in residents' own front yards.

Coloring, however, is permitted.

Registrations for the contest are being accepted now through Feb. 2. Department representatives will visit homes throughout the city to judge the icy wonders.

If Mother Nature doesn't cooperate, the contest will be postponed until FEB. 12.

FROST Junior High and the elementary unit of the Livonia Youth Choir will be among the Michigan choral groups competing in the statewide Great American Choral Festival Feb. 11-12. The competition is the idea of composer-arranger Johnny Mann of "Stand up and cheer" fame.

Winners of the state competition, to be at Plymouth-Salem High School in Plymouth, will move on to national competition to select the best amateur singing organization in the country. Other area groups interested in entering the competition can contact the Plymouth Community Chorus, host organization for the competition, at 377 Amelia, Suite 202, Plymouth 48170. Or call 455-4080.

A FREE health screening is available for Westland senior citizens age 60 and older on Wednesday at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. For an appointment call 722-3308. Health screenings conducted by the Wayne County Health Department are available from 8:45 a.m. to 2 p.m. every Thursday at the Whitman Community Center on Ann Arbor Trail in Westland, and from 8:45 a.m. to 2 p.m. every Tuesday at the health department offices on Merriman north of Michigan Avenue in Westland. Call 729-2211 Ext. 258 for an appointment. A voluntary donation is accepted.

Vets reflect on post-war life

What have the attitudes of local people been like toward Vietnam veterans who returned to this area? What difficulties have veterans had here as a result of the war? Do they ever regret going to Vietnam? Would they go again? Who are some of these men and what are they doing with their lives today, 10 years after the end of America's involvement in Vietnam?

Special writer Victoria Diaz asked these questions as she focused on the lives of three Vietnam veterans: Robert Sayre of Livonia, Robert Cohen of Canton Township and James Myrold of Westland.

Diaz teaches writing classes at Schoolcraft College and Livonia and Southfield Community Education programs. She has a bachelor's degree in English from the University of Michigan-Dearborn and has written several feature stories along with book, movie and theater reviews for area newspapers and news magazine.

She lives in Livonia with her husband and three sons.

In 1967, when Livonian Robert Sayre returned to the United States from a tour of duty in Vietnam, the first civilian he saw welcomed him home by spitting in his face and running away. "It gave homecoming a new meaning," said Sayre, 36.

Although Sayre's experience may have been unusual, it was not unique.

To say the least, most Vietnam veterans were not welcomed home as heroes. Some experienced outright hostility. Others met with indifference. Many came home to find that those who had refused to go to Vietnam were accorded a more heroic status in their community than the GI who had actually fought.

"I have no regrets about going," said Sayre. Confined to a wheelchair since a post-Vietnam auto accident in 1967, Sayre is a full-time student at Madonna College, working toward a degree in journalism and public relations. "I'd go again, if I could."

Drafted just out of Garden City High School in 1966, he spent 11 months in Vietnam driving a truck.

"But I never talk about the war with my neighbors. It's a subject that's avoided like the plague. I'm the only Vietnam veteran in my neighborhood. All of the rest of the men are about my age, but they went to college instead of Vietnam. I thought that was cowardly then, and I still think it's cowardly. The 12 years I've lived there, none of the men or women has ever mentioned Vietnam."

SAYRE, WHO is divorced and shares a home with his parents, said he has no plans to work after graduation. After being discharged from the Army, he worked full time for 13 months at the Veterans Administration offices in Detroit, dispensing occupational and educational information to veterans. He claims he liked the job, the interaction with veterans, but eventually had to quit because "it was costing me too much money."

Campaign plugs draft registration

By Sandra Armbruster
editor

Fewer men are registering for the draft now than registered during the Vietnam war.

"On time" registration, 30 days before or after a man's 18th birthday, during Vietnam was 92.93 percent in Michigan. Registration during that era eventually reached 98 percent.

Currently 97 percent of Michigan men born from 1960-63 have registered, placing the state 11th from the top. But for those born in 1964, the rate drops to 82.13 percent. Michigan ranks 36th highest in the number of registered men for that year.

Lt. David C. Disbrow of the U.S. Army Reserves believes the rate is lower because "we don't have local draft boards set up now, so there isn't as much a reminder. And we're not at war."

Disbrow, serving on active duty with the state's selective service department before returning to his job as a high school math teacher in Clintonville, has been visiting high school counselors in Detroit, Livonia, Southfield, Royal Oak and Dearborn to get the registration message out.

DISBROW SAID the system is interested in increasing the number of registrants in the area. While the rate is high outstate, the percentage of registrants drops to 82 percent in Oakland County and to 76 percent in Wayne County.

"We're interested in registering them, not prosecuting," said the Rochester resident who has served for 28 years in the Army, 14 of them on active duty. "We're not interested in sending names to the justice department."

He added that the Selective Service System is obligated to follow the law, however. That law provides a penalty of up to five years in jail or a $10,000 fine for those who "willingly fail to register."

There have been cases throughout the U.S. fighting the forced registration. Two men were found not guilty. Five were found guilty and one plead guilty. Sentences have ranged from 250 hours of community service to two years imprisonment. Nearly all cases are being appealed.

No cases have been filed yet against Michigan men.

Since they were trial court cases, none hold binding precedent. One an Appellate Court reaches a decision on an appeal, a binding precedent is established, but only within that court's geographical jurisdiction.

THOSE WHO didn't register but should have may still fill out the simple card at any post office.

"The post office doesn't ask why you're late," said Disbrow.

Men who have already registered must notify the Selective Service when they move of a change in address, he added.

Actually the percentage of those who have registered is good compared to other programs requiring registration.

"People have asked if they can ride our coattails in some states with a reminder to those who turn 18 to register to vote," Disbrow said.

To catch up with those who haven't registered, Disbrow said, the system checks drivers licenses except in those states which "have a problem with whether their lists can be given to other agencies."

Current movies about the Armed Forces, such as "An Officer and a Gentleman," and "Stripes," don't bother Disbrow.

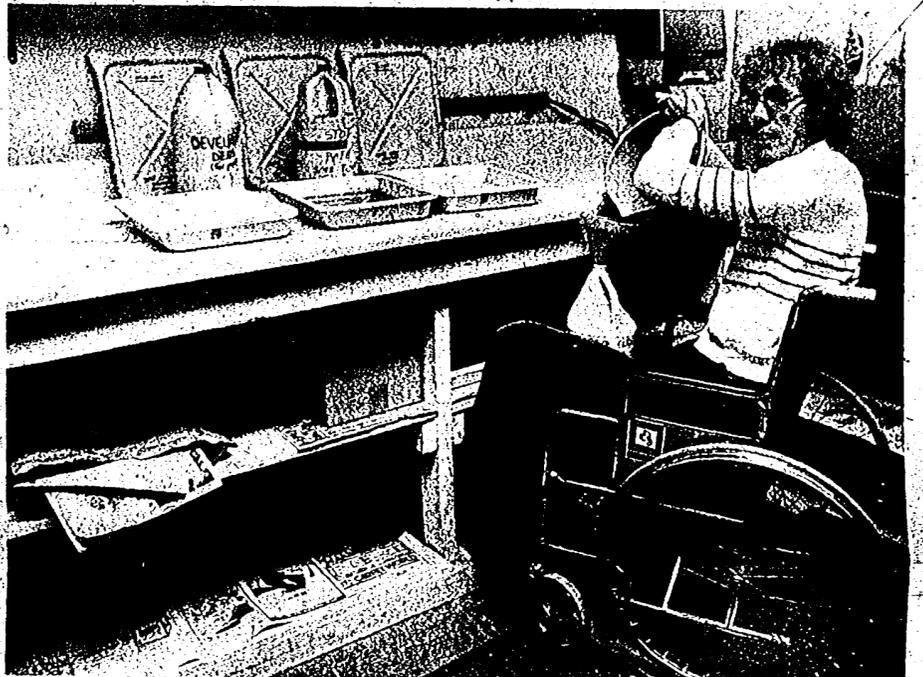

"Everyone pokes fun at us one time or other," he said. "Registration goes up whether we get good or bad publicity. Of course, we'd rather have the good."

Disbrow said that since there isn't a draft or war right now, the services currently are looking for "higher level high school grads."

"When the economy's bad, we get more and better people in the service than in good times," he said.

Disbrow, who plans to retire in this month at age 60, said the lure of an early retirement and "comrademerie of the reserves" encouraged him to stay in the service.

Asked if he thought women also should be forced to register for the draft, Disbrow said, "I hope it doesn't come to that. I have three daughters."

But if I only can go out and make $12-15,000 a year, I lose a lot more money than I make. I lose my Social Security, my insurance policy; it's just not worth it to me."

In his spare time, Sayre pursues an interest in photography by working as a darkroom lab assistant at Madonna. He also is a coin collector. Presently, he's not involved with any veterans' organizations in the area. "I went to a couple of VFW meetings. I'd be asked a question about being a Vietnam veteran, but before I could answer, they'd start telling me about their war experiences, and could care less about what happened to me. I thought, 'This is crazy.' So I didn't go back."

"One night, I went to the Bamboo

Rap (a Vietnam veterans counseling service on Seven Mile Road). There were maybe four or five guys there, and they all started telling their stories. One said, 'I was back a week, then I got busted...' They had all been in trouble with the law within the first week to a month after they'd come back from Vietnam. When it got to be my turn, I said, 'Damn, do I feel out of place. It took me till last summer to get my first traffic ticket.'

"I probably would've had trouble with the law, though, if I hadn't been in the automobile accident," said Sayre, who said he experienced the Post Vietnam Stress Syndrome. "It was mean when I came home. I don't

Lucas to maintain Hines Park

Westland residents may see improvement in Hines Park maintenance and patrols next summer. Mayor Charles Pickering said that's the word he got in a recent visit with Wayne County's first chief executive, William Lucas.

"He definitely intends to have Hines Park patrolled by the Wayne County sheriffs," said Pickering of his meeting with Lucas about a month ago. "He said he intends to reopen the mini-sub stations in the park, and he encouraged me by saying that maintaining the park will be a priority."

"The Lower Rouge Parkway was closed in the area of Norwayne, and I told him there was a definite need for it."

Pickering said the two also talked about Wayne County property.

"He wants to dispose of property that's not functional to the city. That will provide revenue to the county as well as make it (the property) taxable," Pickering said.

Also to be maintained by Lucas are Wayne County General Hospital and the county health services, according to Pickering.

"I told him our residents would suffer if these were eliminated, and he said that at that time he had no plans to eliminate those services," Pickering said.

Pickering, who, like Lucas, is attempting to reorganize government to erase a deficit, said he "understands the problems he (Lucas) faces and I sympathize with him."

"The advice I would give him is to work closely with the county commissioners."

"I'm glad I went," said the former Navy medic who often accompanied Marine outfits on patrol near Da Nang. "I thought it was a good experience. Of course, I was scared the whole time I was there. But it gave me a lot of insight, and some traits I didn't have before. I went. I have a lot more persistence, more confidence in myself, more endurance."

"I've not encountered any kind of prejudice or hostility in this community because I fought in Vietnam. That's never happened to me here. I don't know if it's because I was a medic and people thought I wasn't on the front line, or was neutral or something. But I had a weapon that I carried, and I felt, at the time, if I had to shoot somebody, I would have to defend myself or the people I was with."

Since his return in 1967, Cohen has earned a master's degree in biology from South Connecticut State College in New Haven, Conn., plus another master's in business administration from Central Michigan University.

After having been wounded in 1966, Cohen experienced several symptoms of the Stress Syndrome. "I still have the nightmares about being shot," he said. "They do seem less frequent, but I still get them. When I was in school in Connecticut, I talked to a psychologist in the psychology department about the dreams. He said, 'They'll never go away, not until they're replaced by something more severe.'"

Now an engineer with Ford Motor Co., Cohen is married and the father of two sons. Occasionally, he writes poetry, most of it about his experiences in Vietnam.

JAMES MYROLD, 33, of Westland enlisted in the Army at 17 and later volunteered for duty in Vietnam.

Married, and—the father of two daughters, Myrold relaxes by fishing, playing baseball and softball, reading the Bible, and watching television.

He said he's not experienced Post Vietnam Stress Syndrome, although he does claim to have been a "nervous wreck" when he first returned home 14 years ago.

Groups planning to feed hungry

The Westland Lions Club is going to make every meeting and function a "can a man" event.

"We are also offering our bus when needed," a spokesman said.

A member of a Veteran of Foreign Wars group suggested that those posts who have bingo ask those attending to bring food.

Councilwoman Nancy Neal, who donated a check for $1,000 at the mayor's meeting, said she had been giving part of her council salary to a widow's group and "will now give all of it to Westland taxpayers."

The Westland Jaycees will hold a dance Jan. 22 with a can of food per person as part of the admission price.

They are also planning a June dance with food being a part of the admission. Pickering said the city could set up a trust and agency fund to handle the money for the program.

"The AAA represents Westland, Garden City, Wayne and Inkster in their Operation Food Basket. Our food can be dropped off there."

"The money, however, is for our own residents. We have to take care of ourselves first," the mayor said.

Pickering pointed out that this meeting was mainly to get suggestions from various groups as to how to handle the program.

"We will be getting together soon with individual groups to finalize the program," he added.

THE WEATHER AND ARTHRITIS

It is common knowledge that people with arthritis can sense a coming change in the weather. When asked how they know, they say, "I can feel it in my bones."

Is this statement true? If weather can effect joint pain are there particular climates which will lessen the pain of arthritis?

Rheumatologists have investigated this matter. Studies reveal that the key factor is barometric pressure, rapid changes in air pressure correlate closely with the onset of joint pain.

The up and down fluctuation of barometric pressure is paralleled by corresponding expansion and contraction of joints. This movement, small as it is, when occurring against an irritated surface, results in pain.

Going to a dry climate like Arizona may not necessarily improve your arthritis. Rapid changes in barometric pressure occur everywhere.

As changing climate will not help arthritis, one must be prepared to deal with joint pain in a resolute manner.

Views On Dental Health

CALORIES AND CAVITIES

A recent study has shown that Americans are consuming just as much sugar today as they were 10 years ago, and even more corn sweeteners, a common ingredient of packaged foods.

In fact, each year Americans consume the average person's weight in table sugars and corn sweeteners, about 129 pounds worth. These are called "empty calories" because they contain essentially no nutrients.

What is all this sugar doing to their dental health? The same thing it did to the Dutch 300 years ago. Many of the paintings of Dutch painter Rembrandt show people with decayed or missing teeth, or no teeth at all. This was in the 17th century when the Dutch were bringing back large quantities of sugar from the New World. By 1661 Amsterdam had 60 sugar refineries and had become the "carbohydrate capital" of Europe. Before then, cavities and missing teeth were much less common and so was the use of sugar.

Good dental care today, with regular checkups, can help prevent loss of teeth. It also calls for moderation in sugar intake to help keep cavities to a minimum.

"We couldn't decide on what to buy, so this is for you. For one of your little dreams, or part of a big dream."

Breaking the deadlock.

"I think an expensive piece of jewelry is the only way to go," said Bonnie Murray. There was a small outbreak of moans.

"Look, we've been over this a million times and we can't agree on anything. I think we ought to quit arguing and buy her that United States Savings Bond," Doris Rapp said in a voice bordering on anger.

It was the third meeting of the "Gift for Hattie Walker Committee." Hattie had been in charge of all the secretaries and office workers at the company for over ten years. Now she and her husband were moving to a small town to run their own business.

The night before the meeting, Beth Miller had said to her next-door neighbor, "Hattie is really amazing. Ten years on a job like that and everyone still loves her. We've collected over $500 for her going-away gift. $500, imagine! Course we'll never be able to decide what to buy with it."

And it was beginning to look as though Beth was right. The committee had considered 42 separate suggestions and was hopelessly deadlocked.

Grace Brown, a close friend of Hattie, rose to speak. "I agree with Doris. With that $500 we can give her a $1000 Bond and she can do whatever she wants with it. Save it, or spend it on a watch or . . ."

"Ora Hawaiian vacation," shouted Ann Taylor. "Or some fancy luggage," piped up Beth Miller.

In a second, everyone was shouting out alternative uses for the Bond.

Doris Rapp held up her hands for silence. "Hey, hey, everybody . . . we all agree at last . . . it's a U.S. Savings Bond." Applause drowned out the rest.

The lunch was held at La Sotta. It took over the entire restaurant and it still was crowded.

Grace presented Hattie with a funny card and everyone laughed. Then she handed her the $1000 Bond and said, "We couldn't decide on what to buy, so this is for you. For one of your little dreams or part of a big dream."

Hattie took the Bond and looked at it with relief. "Last week I found a sheet of paper someone left on the copier," she said. "It was a list of 42 different gift suggestions. Everything from a Hawaiian vacation to fancy luggage. I didn't understand what it was at the time. Now, all I can say is I'm so glad you decided on the Bond."

As the crowd cheered, she kissed Grace on the cheek and smiled a big smile. Then she sat down and burst into tears.

U.S. Savings Bonds make a perfect gift. They fit everyone. They're indestructible. And they cost only half the face value.

Whitman grows

New lives add new life to center

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

"A baby is God's opinion that the world should go on."

Those words by Carl Sandburg are tacked to a supply cabinet in the infant-and-toddler-room at the Whitman child-care center, 32235 West Chicago. They tell why the oversized room which, just a few years ago was filled with school-aged youngsters, is now stuffed with high chairs, cribs, diapers and bottle warmers.

When Whitman Junior High School closed in June 1978, the child-care center was born and the spirit of the closed school was carried on.

Taking care of the children of those who used the new Whitman Continuing Education Center seemed like a good use for one on Continuing Education Center seemed like a good use for one of the rooms in the recycled building, said child-care Director, Lois Mize.

"But we failed that first year because we offered child care only to those who were taking classes in the center," recalled Mize, a Livonia resident who has been with the program since it began.

From those first shaky months, a child-care program has grown which now offers babysitting for four preschool-age groups, plus a before-and-after-school "latch-key" program.

The program has grown from a one-room operation in which all age groups were lumped together, into a center which now uses three rooms to serve infants, toddlers, junior preschoolers and preschoolers.

Infants and toddlers share a room, while the preschoolers play in two rooms nearby.

"We have spread out so much the principal, Jim Newman, keeps accusing us of taking over the entire (Whitman) center," Mize said.

Growth came, she said, by going beyond the center's students and offering child care to Livonia-school-system employees, to the residents of nearby subdivisions and, finally, to any resident of Livonia. And the child-care center is still used by those who take classes at Whitman.

The center, which is open from 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Friday, has a staff of 13, plus an aide paid through CETA funds.

The center also depends heavily on volunteers such as Livonians Greg Harakas, Jim Craig, Michael Mize, Louise LaBelle and the center's grandfather, Steve Nagy, who is 72.

That's Kerry Sommers, 7 months, smiling behind his pacifier.

The volunteers pitch in to keep toys and furniture in tip-top shape recently building cages to house the center's mascots — rabbits named Pumpkin and Snowball.

"I get a kick out of just coming in and talking with the kids," said Nagy, who recently returned from a trip to China bringing back gifts for the youngsters.

Nagy comes to the center every Thursday, takes up his carpenter's tools and shows the children how to work with tools making blocks.

Animals live in cages in each of the three child-care rooms. A family of gerbils watches over the babies in the infants and toddlers room; Emily, a guinea pig, watches as the junior preschoolers eat lunch and a guinea pig, gerbils and two parakeets keep the preschool room noisy with background chatter.

Since September, Mize said, the center has taken care of 120 children and has served 102 families. Some of the youngsters stay the full day, while others come in for just an hour or two.

"Sometimes the numbers change hourly," Mize said. "But generally we have room for one more."

Sharon Craig has her hands full feeding Bridgette Crain, but she also keeps a watchful eye on Davita Burkhead-Weiner. The two little ones were among the 120 children the Whitman Child Care Center has cared for since September.

Food lines are in the suburbs as hunger hits home

A DECADE ago, few covering the suburban beat believed we would be writing stories about mass unemployment, hunger and food distribution points. Those beats were for the papers downtown — in the big city. We were out here to cover what many felt were the singular problems of the suburbs — road paving, zoning disputes, millage elections and septic tanks.

In the big picture, these were small problems to be sure — but surprisingly important when it was your road being paved or your neighborhood school being closed.

Sure we've had our dramatic moments — cross-district busing, low-income housing and a murder or fire for good measure. Sometimes a crooked politician would pop up to keep us honest.

BUT FOR THE most part, even journalists — a cynical bunch, at best — believed the general run of suburban living was free from the very serious social problems of the large city.

Some journalists sneer at the affluence surrounding them. Many are young and have a difficult time understanding the concerns of the more established in society.

On the other hand, others — the more established scribes — really believe that all that exists to write about in the suburbs are high society and the good life.

Caught in the middle are those journalists who believe the social problems of the big city are those of the suburbs — disguised, for sure, but related. Often they are dismissed by the others as, well, crackpots,

"do-gooders" and sometimes even "troublemakers" who are living in the fantasy of big-time journalism. Journalists, you see, reflect the society which they cover. Their opinions are just as diverse and many times just as misguided.

BUT TODAY'S REALITY is that food lines are popping up all over the suburbs — in churches and even city halls.

Just the other day, Farmington Hills, not exactly a haven for the poor, set up a food distribution center working out of its recreation office — an irony to be sure. What once was solely a planning center for fun has become a headquarters of survival for many who just a year or two ago never would have believed they could be in such economic straits.

Throughout the suburbs, we are beginning to see scenes more reminiscent of a John Steinbeck novel than an Erma Bombeck column.

And these troubled times have been shadowing this comfortable suburban world for a long time. The signs existed for all to see. But many chose to deny reality — neither from fear and naivete born out of parochialism or out of an elitist, devil-may-care attitude.

Perhaps it was up to those who knew better, to be more insistent — both those of who are journalists and those who actually live in the community and participate in civic life.

THOSE WHO persist in denying realities, who want to hold on to their fantasies, work hard at insuring others who don't agree are ridiculed and discredited.

Many a tragic story exists of persons on city councils, school boards or other commissions who just gave up in frustration or in fatigue. This minority tried desperately to talk of social realities. They simply were crushed under the weight of public scorn.

But that's the past. Now we have a chance to bury our misconceptions and work together to deal with the realities of unemployment and hunger and to rebuild a shattered economy.

Lucas: A bit of the 'madcap Prince' is alive in him

AS SHAKESPEARE told it in his plays, Henry IV's son Hal was the "madcap prince of Wales" who consorted with "vile company" in low taverns. Prince Hal used his cash and credit to pay his questionable companions' bar bills even as he was planning to rise above his indiscretions to become a worthy successor to his father's throne.

Indeed, as King Henry V, he led England to its most glorious victories and widest political influence.

And it makes me wonder: Is William Lucas, sheriff from 1969-82, a Prince Hal who, as county executive, will be able to rise above past mistakes and bad companions to become another Henry V?

The answer is uncertain. Consider:

THE GOOD MARKS —

+ Lucas got rid of three administrators who had used their positions as elected county commissioners to get high-paying administrative jobs: John Barr in Civil Service, Royce Smith and Chester Wozniak in Public Works. The executive showed some compassion to Smith by demoting him rather than firing him because Smith is within six months of having vested pension rights.

+ He appointed Duane Egeland, formerly deputy director in charge of engineering, to head the Public Works Department. My contacts with this Livonian over the years indicate he is fair, cool, objective, a professional engineer and probably an outstanding choice. I disagree with Egeland on "super sewer" — but, well, mine may be a minority voice.

+ Lucas retained Robert FitzPatrick as economic development director. Lucas showed good judgment in keeping a goal-setting, hard-working, good-humored, businesslike public servant and magnanimity in retaining his 1982 campaign opponent.

+ Lucas is fighting for the right to appoint the sheriff. While I suspect the legal case is weak, I am certain he is doing the right thing for the office of county executive. (I don't know enough about his designee, Loren Pittman, to comment on whether he would be a good sheriff.)

+ Lucas is being taken to court for trying to replace the UAW cronies on the Road Commission with three of his own appointments: a township supervisor, a suburban city council member and a professional management consultant from Detroit. On first look, at least, his appointments appear excellent. They are persons who have faced the voters or possess administrative ability, or both.

+ While Lucas's blue-ribbon reorganization commission was short of female names, there is evidence

'Is William Lucas a Prince Hal who, as county executive, will be able to rise above past mistakes and bad companions to become another Henry V?'

he is making good female appointments. Two of his proposed road commissioners are women. There are women in important-sounding jobs on his transition staff. All the evidence isn't in yet, but it looks as if Lucas will move in the right direction.

+ The executive talks a good line about wanting to serve the public instead of political interests. Lord knows, such a commitment is needed. More on this later.

THE BAD SIDE —

- On his last working day as sheriff, Lucas made a disappointing proposal to the County Board of Commissioners: He would drop the court appeal on the deputies layoff case he lost if the board would dip into the general fund to pay the $250,000-plus fee of attorney Dennis Nystrom, who represented both the sheriff and the deputies union. Lucas' order to the deputies to stay on the job was wrong. He and the deputies were beaten in court, fair and square. He and the deputies ought to pay Nystrom's fee out of their own pockets. The proposal reeks of blackmail.

- In the words of a county commissioner: "Lucas was advised against doing three things: interfering in the board's choice of chairman, trying to infringe on our office space and trying to cut our staff size. He did all three." It is wise for an executive not to intrude on the legislative body's turf. Lucas made a serious tactical mistake.

- Lucas made an even worse mistake in his choice of a candidate for county board chairman. Lucas backed Sam Turner, who as chairman from 1981-82 violated a long-standing practice of dividing committee chairmanships between Detroiters and suburbanites. Lucas talks a good line of "togetherness," but his pal Turner doesn't practice it.

ON BALANCE, there are more good points than bad but there is a bit of the "madcap prince of Wales" still alive inside the new executive.

On the character side, I note Lucas doesn't hold personal grudges. That's great, because my praises and criticisms aren't personally motivated.

On his father's death, Hal, the new Henry V, pledged: "For the fifth Harry from curbed license plucks the muzzle of restraint."

To the extent that the new county executive emulates England's greatest king, we are on the same Crusade.

IRRESISTIBLE SWEETS FOR A DESSERT TABLE

Although Americans are eating lighter main meals, dessert carts are featured in increasing numbers of fine restaurants. Sweet tables appear at large catered parties as well as small home wedding receptions. Maida Heatter, the cookbook author who has been called the high priestess of desserts says, "The whole country has gone crazy about sweets."

So it is no wonder that dessert parties are becoming a popular way to entertain at home. Some people invite their guests for dessert at 9 p.m. and suggest they eat lightly at dinner. Others find this an ideal way to end the evening after a concert or play.

Many desserts can be made ahead or take only a few minutes of last-minute preparation, so this is the kind of party you can enjoy with your guests, rather than being stuck in the kitchen.

You can combine homemade treats with food purchased ready-to-serve, like beautiful fresh fruit to arrange in a basket and the best quality ice cream, to serve with your own special topping. Cut down even more on cooking time with convenience foods that you turn into your own fabulous desserts.

The most impressive dessert table appeals to the eye as well as the taste buds. Since guests may want to sample all the choices, you will want to plan for variety in flavors and textures.

A homemade pie will impress more people than a tray of the fanciest French pastries. When guests compliment you on the flaky, tender crust, you don't need to reveal that you took advantage of the new pre-rolled, refrigerated pie crusts that are all ready to use and bake up just like the best homemade crust. One beauty of a two-crust pie for fall, Cranberry Apple Pie, features new crop apples and whole fresh cranberries. Another choice might be a classic one-crust Black Bottom Pie which combines a rich baked chocolate layer with a light rum custard layer.

A cake roll is another impressive dessert, and German Chocolate Cake Roll is surprisingly easy to make. The time-saving secret here is that recipe directions show how to turn a pudding-included German chocolate cake mix into a make-ahead cake roll, while the filling is a new ready-to-spread frosting which looks and tastes like the traditional homemade coconut pecan frosting. The German Chocolate Cake Roll is frosted with whipped cream before serving and garnished with mandarin orange pieces dipped in chocolate.

Another cake dessert which would be an attractive addition to your table is Rum Raisin Oatmeal Torte. Oats and brown sugar cake mix is the base, and coconut almond frosting combined with cream cheese, rum and raisins makes the rich filling.

When your guests try Praline Bananas Royale, they'll be reminded of New Orleans-style Bananas Foster. Form ice cream balls ahead of time and store them in your freezer in a pretty glass serving bowl covered with plastic wrap. The sauce takes just minutes to make by heating a can of coconut pecan or coconut almond frosting, which you spice with a little cinnamon. Add banana pieces to the hot sauce and keep warm in a chafing dish or some other heat serving dish. Just before serving, pour rum around the edge of the warm sauce, light it and spoon it flaming over ice cream.

A dessert table which has eye-appeal as well as taste-appeal includes Cranberry Apple Pie, an edible centerpiece of fresh fruit, Praline Bananas Foster to serve flaming over ice cream and German Chocolate Cake Roll.

Have an elegant party

If Christmas expenses have left your wallet slightly thinner, don't think you have to forgo the pleasures of occasionally entertaining. Using some of the many good things growing in Michigan, you can entertain elegantly and inexpensively.

Hearty soup, of course, is an appropriate main dish, needing only a good crusty bread, salad and a simple dessert to complete the meal.

Another time, invite guests to a fondue party. Melt cheese with wine and seasonings, offer chunks of French bread for dunking. A relish tray replaces the salad course, and a sweet fondue (chocolate?) into which you dunk fresh apple wedges provides dessert.

A sit-down dinner could feature a rich beef stew. Just call it Ragout de Boeuf, as the French do, and you've upgraded the value instantly. With it, a green or molded salad and a light dessert — perhaps Michigan ice cream with raspberries from your freezer.

A French provincial cassoulet makes a wonderful party dish, you can use almost any combination of meats, and it's inexpensive. Soak 1 pound Michigan navy pea beans overnight, then parboil. In large skillet, brown 1 pound lean pork and 1 pound of poultry, both cut in chunks. Remove and set aside. In same skillet, brown 1 pound smoked sausage, remove and slice. Sauté in a little butter just until tender 1 medium onion, chopped, and 2 cloves minced garlic.

In large buttered casserole, combine beans, meats, onion and garlic, a pinch of cloves and thyme, and a little chopped parsley. You may also add a diced carrot if you like.

Pour over the mixture ½ cup Michigan red wine and enough of the bean liquid to cover. Bake in 325° oven about 3 hours, adding more liquid if necessary. You may also add about 2 tablespoons tomato paste to the liquid. Top with buttered bread crumbs for the last hour of baking.

At the time the first chickens were being domesticated in India about 2,000 B.C., rice had already been cultivated for 2,000 or more years. Chicken and rice paired up early in their development and have been going together ever since. Here, in a modern version called Chicken and Rice Oriental, a superbly sauced boned chicken breast is served with fluffy rice.

Versatile rice is ideal for today's smaller families

As families get smaller, cooking for reduced-size households can be difficult. Changing the shopping habits of a lifetime is easier said than done. For example: A bag of onions or just four? A pint rather than half-gallon of ice cream? A whole chicken, or just the right number of pieces? How much food is wasted?

Fortunately, some foods — like rice — adapt readily to any situation. Rice keeps almost indefinitely on the shelf in a tightly covered container. So it doesn't really matter how large a package is purchased. Rice can be measured and just the exact amount cooked for the meal. But there is another advantage. Cooked rice can be kept in the refrigerator for a week. Cook more than needed for one meal; then just scoop and steam enough for the next meal. This saves time, too.

Another economical suggestion: Look for meats and seafoods that are a single serving; then buy the number needed for the meal. No waste. No boring leftovers. Two recipes follow that illustrate perfect meals for two. Chicken breast halves and salmon steaks are deliciously sauced and served over rice for very impressive meals.

CHICKEN AND RICE WITH SAUCE ORIENTAL

- 2 chicken breast halves, skinned and boned
- 1 egg, beaten
- 3 tbsp fine dry bread crumbs
- ¼ tsp salt
- 1/16 tsp ground black pepper
- 1 tsp vegetable oil
- ¼ cup chicken broth, divided
- ¼ cup plum jelly
- 1 tsp vinegar
- 1 tsp soy sauce
- ¼ tsp Chinese 5 Spices Powder*
- 1/16 tsp. Tabasco pepper sauce
- 1 tsp cornstarch
- 1 cup hot cooked rice

Dip chicken in egg, then in crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper. In medium skillet sauté breast halves in oil over medium-high heat 3 to 4 minutes on each side. Add ¼ cup broth. Reduce heat, cover, and simmer 5 to 10 minutes, or until chicken is opaque. Remove from skillet; keep warm. Add jelly, vinegar, soy sauce, seasoning, Tabasco, and cornstarch dissolved in remaining broth to skillet. Cook, stirring, until sauce is clear and thickened. Serve chicken and sauce over beds of fluffy rice. Garnish with sliced green onions, if desired. Makes 2 servings.

* Or use 1/16 tsp each ground black pepper, cinnamon, cloves, and anise.

Microwave method: Dip chicken in egg, then in crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper. In shallow round microwave proof dish heat oil on High (maximum power) 1 to 2 minutes. Add breast halves; cook on High 1 to 2 minutes on each side. Add ¼ cup broth. Cover and cook on High 1 to 2 minutes, or until chicken is opaque. Remove from dish; keep warm. Add jelly, vinegar, soy sauce, seasoning, Tabasco, and cornstarch dissolved in remaining broth to dish. Cook on High 3 to 4 minutes, or until sauce is clear and thickened, stirring every minute. Serve chicken and sauce over beds of fluffy rice. Garnish with sliced green onion, if desired.

Each serving provides: 447 calories. Not recommended for diabetics.

- ### SALMON AND RICE PACIFICO
- 2 salmon fillets (about 6 oz. each)
 - 2 tbsp butter or margarine, melted
 - 1 ½ tsp lemon juice
 - 1 tsp packed brown sugar
 - ¼ tsp seasoned salt
 - ¼ tsp minced garlic
 - ¼ tsp paprika
 - 1 cup hot cooked rice

Place fillets in an 8x8-inch baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients except rice. Pour over salmon. Cover and bake at 375° for 15 to 20 minutes, or until salmon flakes easily with a fork. Serve salmon and sauce over beds of fluffy rice. Garnish with lemon slices and parsley, if desired. Makes 2 servings.

Microwave method: Place fillets in an 8x8-inch microwave proof dish. Combine remaining ingredients except rice. Pour over salmon. Cover and cook on High (maximum power) 4 to 5 minutes, or until salmon flakes easily with a fork, rotating dish ¼ turn after 2 minutes. Serve salmon and sauce over beds of fluffy rice. Garnish with lemon slices and parsley, if desired.

Each serving provides: 535 calories. Not recommended for diabetics.

Delicious meals use frozen foods

Consumer demand for simple ways to prepare nutritious food increases as available time for cooking decreases. Frozen foods are perfect for such needs. They greatly simplify meal preparation and can be used right from the package or as ingredients in recipes.

For delicious meals in little time — and with even less work — you might like to try the following:

• In medium saucepan, combine one (1 pound) package thawed sliced beef and gravy with ½ cup each: frozen sliced carrots, cut green beans, chopped green pepper, whole pearl onions and fresh cherry tomatoes. Add ¼ tsp. thyme and ¼ tsp garlic powder. Cook 10 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Meanwhile, bake a package of frozen patty shells according to package directions. Use beef and vegetable mixture to fill patty shells. Complete this bill of fare for two with a fresh salad and for dessert, cheese cake topped with fruit.

• Heat one (8 ¾ ounce) package frozen chili con carne with beans according to package directions. Cook four frankfurters. Place cooked frankfurters in buns. Spoon chili con carne with beans over each. Top with grated cheddar cheese and onion for four servings.

• Heat one (12 ounce) package frozen chicken patties according to package directions. Place each heated chicken patty in a bun with lettuce, tomato and mayonnaise. Serve with ratatouille. Add a pound cake to end this hearty meal for four.

• Heat one (22 ounce) package frozen fried chicken according to package directions. Serve with spicy taco sauce dip. Frozen rice with carrots, peppers and onion in butter sauce, broccoli spears and chocolate cake with pudding in the middle complete the meal.

• Sauté four (12 ounce) diced knackwurst in 2 tbsp butter until lightly browned. Add one (10 ounce) package frozen Bavarian-style beans and spaetzle, one (9 ounce) package frozen small onions with cream sauce and 1 ½ cups water. Bring to a full boil over medium heat, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and stir until sauce is smooth. Cover and simmer for four minutes for three generous servings. Serve with rolls, green salad and apple Danish for dessert.

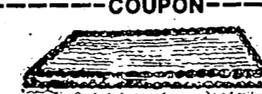

• Sauté ¼ cup frozen chopped onion in one tbsp butter until lightly browned. Add ½ pound ground beef and brown well. Add one (7 ounce) package frozen rice and peas with mushrooms, 1 tsp brown sugar, ¼ tsp dry mustard, 1 ½ tsp chili powder, ¼ cup sliced pitted olives and one (18 ounce) can tomato juice. Reduce heat and simmer 8 minutes. Sprinkle with ½ cup shredded cheddar cheese for four servings. An avocado and tomato salad, corn muffins and for dessert, strawberries, complete the dinner.

• Prepare one (12 ounce) package frozen shredded hash browns according to package directions. After turning, cut each brick in half. Season with pepper to taste. Fry until crisp and brown. Remove hash browns from skillet and place on broiler pan. Top each hash brown with two slices of ham, cut to size, slice of Swiss cheese, slice of tomato and avocado. Broil until cheese melts. This dinner for four is complete with soup and rolls. Brownies make a nice dessert.

Dustin Hoffman as New York actor Michael Dorsey dresses up as a woman to get a role in a daytime soap opera, in "Tootsie."

the movies
Louise Snider

Dustin Hoffman portrays more than just a tootsie

"Tootsie" (PG) is terrific, and Dustin Hoffman is responsible for the terrificness. He proves he is the consummate actor, even in a dress.

He plays an unemployed New York actor, Michael Dorsey, who can't get work because he is too good. He's a perfectionist who gives directors a headache. His agent (played by the movie's director, Sydney Pollack) tells him no one in New York or Hollywood will hire him.

Desperate, he dresses as a woman, takes the name "Dorothy Michaels," and auditions for the role of a female hospital administrator in a television soap opera. He gets the role, and his career soars as Dorothy becomes a personality to be reckoned with.

Hoffman is convincing as Dorothy and dignified. He doesn't go for the cheap joke. He hasn't created a stereotype good for laughs, although there are plenty. He has created a character with a backbone, not just a figure, and with a brain, not just a hairdo.

MICHAEL, AS DOROTHY, bristles when he sees the way the director and a lecherous actor take advantage of the women on the show, talk down to them and, at best, patronize them. He chafes at the trite, predictable dialogue of the melodramatic scripts.

He begins introducing fresh dialogue, makes Dorothy more assertive and becomes an inspiration for others on the show, including the female lead (Jessica Lange), with whom he falls in love.

All of this exacts an emotional toll on Michael and introduces comic complications in his domestic arrangements and friendships. The comedy is bright and sophisticated, filled with sharp observations about the acting profession, television serials and male-female role playing. "Tootsie" is very funny, but to its credit, it is seldom funny at the expense of laughing at someone.

Its humor arises largely from situations, entanglements and misunderstandings.

Supporting Hoffman is a superbly assembled cast. Teri Garr is Michael's longtime girlfriend who thinks he is gay. Jessica Lange, the nurse of the television show, thinks Dorothy is a lesbian. Charles Durning, who plays Jessica's father, falls in love with Dorothy. Bill Murray is Michael's surprisingly calm and droll roommate. Dabney Coleman is the macho, egotistical TV director. Sydney Pollack, "Tootsie's" director, is Michael's beleaguered agent, who argues with him in one of the movie's best scenes.

IF "TOOTSIE," with all its satirical thrusts, were only about an actor transforming himself into a female star, it would be comic enough, but the movie offers more than that. The first 30 minutes provide a telling, behind-the-scenes look at what most actors — all but the superstars — endure.

The actor, auditioning for a part, puts himself on the line and faces the humiliation of rejection from the vague, "You're not right for the part," to the abrupt, "You're too short" or "too old."

Hoffman conveys the actor's feelings with such strength and intensity you can't leave the theater without believing these were actual experiences for him, too. When "Tootsie" ends, you feel that you have not only been entertained but shared a personal and authentic experience.

As for Dorothy, the measure of Hoffman's success is that he has created such a strong, unique and inspiring character that she is missed when the movie is over.

Hoffman brings reality to the role of "Dorothy Michaels."

New cataract surgery uses laser technique

By Doug Mills
special writer

For those Americans who have had cataract surgery and developed visual problems afterward, new hope is available in the form of the laser.

Called a YAG for its three components yttrium, aluminum and garnet, the $102,000 laser is locally only at Farmbrook Medical Building, 29829 Telegraph, Southfield.

The laser has already been ordered by three area hospitals and will be popular because there's no risk of infection. "That makes it safer than surgery," said Dr. William D. Myers, a Birmingham resident. He also performs out-patient cataract surgery at St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, and cataract surgery at a Walled Lake office.

FOLLOWING cataract surgery the YAG laser can be used to clear a membrane formation, he said. The YAG can also be used before cataract surgery.

"Occasionally the YAG is used to cut open the anterior membrane prior to cataract surgery," said Myers' partner, Dr. Dennis Z. Weber. "Like a lima bean the anterior membrane must be penetrated before the posterior membrane can be dissected for cataract surgery."

"I think this makes post-operative cataract surgery for most forms of cataracts a thing of the past," said Weber, whose practice is in myopia and cataract surgery. "A patient can have the surgery done in under five minutes with no pain and no anesthetics."

WHILE THE laser doesn't replace cataract surgery it can simplify follow-up for the patient, Dr. Myers said. The laser concentrates light energy in pulses that cause miniature explosions.

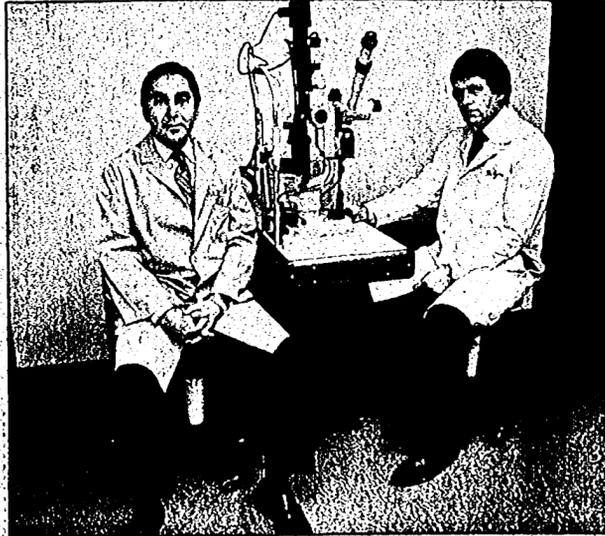

"With the YAG laser we can focus where we want the energy directed," said Myers. "We also divert the beam from where we don't want it, areas such as the retina."

The number of holes made by the laser depend on the amount and thickness left after cataract surgery, he explained; adding, the holes are 50 microns in size. By comparison, the size of the period at the end of this sentence is about 200 microns.

Considering the increasing numbers of people who have cataract surgery, and that 40 to 50 percent develop cloudy sight afterwards, Myers said he couldn't over-emphasize the importance of the YAG laser.

Another advantage of the laser is that it can be used through an implant left behind after extracapsular surgery, Weber said.

Extracapsular, Dr. Myers explained, means that only the cloudy cover that is associated with a cataract is removed. Leaving the remainder of the eye intact, he said, not only protects the retina after surgery, it virtually eliminates the possibility of infection.

Good works people VAAL classes grow in scope

By Marie McGee
editor

VAAL — THE GOOD works people — have launched the new year with the strongest schedule of classes since the fledgling art association came into existence a scant eight years ago.

It also comes at a time when VAAL — an acronym for Visual Arts Association of Livonia — is on the threshold of some far-reaching changes affecting the future of the group that began as a sub-group of the Livonia Arts Commission.

One change will have impact on where the group will hold classes after completion of the winter term which begins this week. They may have to move to a Livonia school when the city moves from Jackson Center, where VAAL has been based for the past two years.

The other concern is an on-going discussion by VAAL members on whether the time has come to give up the arts commission sponsorship and go it alone. The need for a broader financial base is prompting the discussion.

BOTH CONSIDERATIONS, however, have moved to the back burner temporarily as the arts group begins the Winter term registration is now under way. For more information, call Lois Bro at 477-6789 or Evanthia Samra at 474-8637.

winter term in the strongest position possible in terms of professional staff and community response.

Newest faculty members are noted basket weaver Theresa Ohno of Plymouth, fabric artist Linda Soberman of Huntington Woods, Farmington weaver Barbara Wolff, and watercolorist Ed Farhat of Livonia.

They join sculptor Lois Bro, who is also acting VAAL director, artists Kate Daniel, Ann Dase, Jerrine Habsburg, Elizabeth Hull, Edee Joppich, Electra Stamelos and Audrey DiMarco; photographer Norbert Davert, silk flower artist Mary Foran, calligrapher Judith Quinlan, colorographer Ann Stirn and painter Robert Wilbert.

Farhat, who is perhaps best known locally for his pen and ink sketches of many of Livonia's historical buildings, will conduct two introductory watercolor classes on Saturdays, Feb. 5 and Feb. 26.

ONE OF OHNO'S basketry classes starts tomorrow and continues for four weeks, with a second four-week session starting Feb. 8. It will be held on Tuesdays from 3-4 p.m.

The highly popular craft of fabric painting will be introduced by Linda Soberman, a member of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Arts Association whose work is shown frequently in area art exhibits. A spring exhibit at the Carol Hooberman gallery in Birmingham will include some of her latest works.

Soberman, who holds a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan, is credited with being one of the first fabric artists in the Detroit area to paint on silk. In her VAAL class, she will instruct students how to create their own hand-painted fabrics, using dyes and paints to accomplish everything from clothing to pillows.

The class will run five weeks, beginning Feb. 17, meeting on Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 a.m.

WOLFF, WHO HAS a master's degree in exhibition in fiber design, will begin a six-week weaving class Thursday, Jan. 13, from 1-3 p.m. Students will learn to weave on a frame loom to produce wall hangings or decorative pillows while learning basic weaving techniques.

Stamelos will conduct a one-day seminar in watercolors in March: Students will study a variety of watercolors to show various approaches to the medium and ideas behind them. Challenging set-ups for painting will be part of the format. Students may also bring one or two paintings for critique.

Wilbert, well known in the Detroit area for his still lifes, will conduct a one-day workshop on Monday, March 7. The workshop will propose special problems in seeing the figure. The emphasis will include the sensing of the wholeness of the form and its effect in the painting.

Stirn of Lansing, who joined the staff last year, will also conduct a one-day workshop in March in the area of colorograph-printmaking. The March 9 session will demonstrate the techniques

Professionalism adds dimension

It is the growing legion of satisfied students who have labeled the VAAL staff "The Good Works People."

It's students like Raymond Davison of Garden City, Ann Keeton of Redford Township and Kay Fill of Plymouth Township.

They — and others as well — agree that the calibre of professionalism of the staff is a cut above that of normal art instruction, particularly that offered by community colleges or adult education evening classes.

All but Davison have ribbons won for outstanding art work to back up how they feel. But Davison, nevertheless, was just as vocal in his praise.

Fill was particularly impressed with the seriousness of the instructors. A homemaker who took up art when her two children, ages 9 and 11, were infants, said that a "very well-qualified VAAL staff takes the job more seriously" than other instructors she has had.

FILL'S PROGRESS since taking VAAL classes has been remarkable, said sculpture instructor Lois Bro. Fill started out in oil painting and is now in sculpture. For Fill, the progression from one medium to the other was easy "because of the encouragement that comes from dedicated teachers."

Most of the students agree that the classes are convenient and fairly economical with less paper work and less time than comes with college classes.

Another point is that the annual art show VAAL sponsors is a good way for novices to get exposure.

ART EMANUELE/staff photographer

"Retired" is the title of Kay Fill's award-winning oil painting. After painting classes, Fill progressed to sculpture studies and re-did the boots — copies of ones worn by her construction worker husband — in clay. She would like to try life drawing next "if I can ever get this (sculpture) out of my system."

ART EMANUELE/staff photographer

Ann Keeton of Redford Township takes her drawing seriously and appreciates the dedication of the VAAL staff. "It's more than a hobby with me," she said. "I make time for it." In the background is a charcoal drawing of an elderly woman that won a honorable mention in a recent VAAL exhibit.

Bowens mark 50 years wed

Richard and Hazel Bowen of Lyndon Street, Livonia, recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a surprise party in the Birmingham home of their son Donald.

Helping host the event was their daughter Barbara Stigleman of Westland.

The couple married Nov. 24, 1932. Bowen retired from the Detroit Police Department after reaching the rank of lieutenant.

There are seven grandchildren.

Retreat date is Jan. 22

Bible teacher Patsy Clairmont will be the keynote speaker at the fifth annual mini-retreat at Aldersgate United Methodist Church on Jan. 22 and not Jan. 11 as announced in the Thursday edition.

Theme of the retreat will be "Growing with the MASTER Gardener." The session will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 2:30 p.m. and will include a luncheon. Reservations will be accepted until Jan. 15 and may be made by calling 278-5428. Registration fee is $6.50. Aldersgate is at 10000 Beech Daly, Redford Township.

Dear Mrs. Green:

Your column is delightful, as well as intriguing. I would be fascinated by your analysis of my handwriting, if you should choose to do it.

I am 46 years old and right-handed. S.D., Bloomfield

Dear S.D.:

All pervasive in your handwriting sample is the element of control which you exercise over yourself so much of the time. Emotions are not allowed to run rampant for you work to keep them on an even keel.

Your modus operandi is always within the framework of rules and regulations. You require structure and security in your life. You are usually fastidious about details and doing things properly.

You know where you are going in life and how you are going to get there. Goals are carefully planned and you proceed efficiently, though often cautiously, toward their achievement. Your self-discipline has you persevering even when you may not feel like continuing.

The rhythm of your handwriting reminds me of a Sousa march and should serve as an asset in organizing your time and performing your work methodically and without lost effort.

admirable, they can also be the cause of stressful situations, especially when working with other people whose standards are quite different than yours. Some worry, perhaps over trifles, is present as is some possessiveness on your part.

You are well acquainted with many of the finer things life has to offer. They, quite naturally, influence your choice of friends, books and leisure-time activities. A flair for the written word seems evident.

If you have a question about your handwriting, write Mrs. Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, in care of this newspaper. Please use a full sheet of unlined, white paper, writing in the first-person singular. Don't forget to include your signature. Age and handedness are also helpful.

As a homeowner you may qualify for a MICHIGAN NATIONAL BANK EQUI-LOAN

WHAT IS AN EQUI-LOAN?
An Equi-Loan is a second mortgage secured by the equity in your home. By using your home equity, you can borrow $3,000 or more with liberal repayment terms at simple interest rates. * An Equi-Loan is not a remortgage, but a second mortgage; it will therefore not alter your present mortgage or its rate.

The amount of equity in your home, by the way, is the difference between its appraised value and your first mortgage (if any). This equity provides the basis for borrowing a large amount of money at established simple interest rates with the maximum amount of the loan being determined by the size of your equity.

WITH A SIMPLE INTEREST EQUI-LOAN YOU HAVE THE OPTION OF SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCING THE AMOUNT OF INTEREST YOU PAY.
The earlier you pay back a simple interest loan, the less you'll pay in interest charges. So every time you make an early payment, or an additional payment, you are actually reducing the amount of interest you pay for your loan.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE OF THE AMOUNT YOU CAN EXPECT TO BORROW.
Each transaction is different and subject to credit approval, however, we are flexible in our lending policy. In general, you can expect that the total of your first and second mortgage will amount to 70% of our valuation of your home. For Example:

Appraised Valuation $50,000
70%
Total Loan Value $35,000
1st Mortgage Bal. $25,000
Available for 2nd Mortgage $10,000

HERE'S HOW TO APPLY FOR AN EQUI-LOAN.
The procedure is much the same as it is for a personal loan. Simply take this ad to the installment loan department at Michigan National Bank West Metro. Or you can phone us at 421-4990 and discuss your plans with a trained loan executive. An appointment can be made if you like.

Redford Thurston comeback topples Glenn in overtime

By Ken McDonald
special writer

Overtime wins are becoming the trademark of the Redford Thurston basketball team.

The latest came Friday night when the host Eagles trimmed Westland John Glenn in a battle of Northwest Suburban League (NSL) unbeatens, 67-64.

Thurston coach Gary Fralick doesn't mind the overtimes as long as it's in the victory column. Before Christmas, Thurston beat Livonia Franklin in overtime, 70-66.

The Eagles, sitting atop the NSL, erased an 11-point Glenn lead in the final four minutes of regulation play.

Senior sharpshooter George Sibel led the charge, scoring three baskets in a row to pull the Eagles within five points.

With 32 seconds left, Sibel connected on a 20-foot jumper to draw Thurston even closer, 62-60.

"We wanted to get the ball to George in the fourth quarter," Fralick said. "He missed a few at first, but we kept giving it to him and he came through."

AFTER SIBEL'S basket, Glenn's Mike Baydarian had a chance to give his team some breathing room five seconds later, but missed the front end of a one-and-one free throw.

On the rebound, Glenn's 6-foot-8 center Paul Grazulis fouled Jim Weiss, who went to the line and tied the game by sinking two shots while Grazulis went to the bench with his fifth foul.

Glenn then worked the ball for a final shot, but guard Greg Gill missed a eight-foot off-balance shot which basketball

bounced off the rim with two seconds to go.

In the three-minute overtime period, Glenn was missing Grazulis and 6-5 forward Jack Walker, who also fouled out in regulation play.

Thurston controlled the extra period, outscoring Glenn 5-1 as Dan Starinsky and Steve Smith each made baskets.

"Our continuity was totally off in our offense," Glenn coach Dan Henry said. "We usually practice with at least one of our big men in there and both were on the bench."

"THIS IS the worst loss I've ever been a part of," added the dejected coach. "It feels like I've lost a family member. I feel that bad."

Fralick said the absence of Walker and Grazulis in overtime inspired his club.

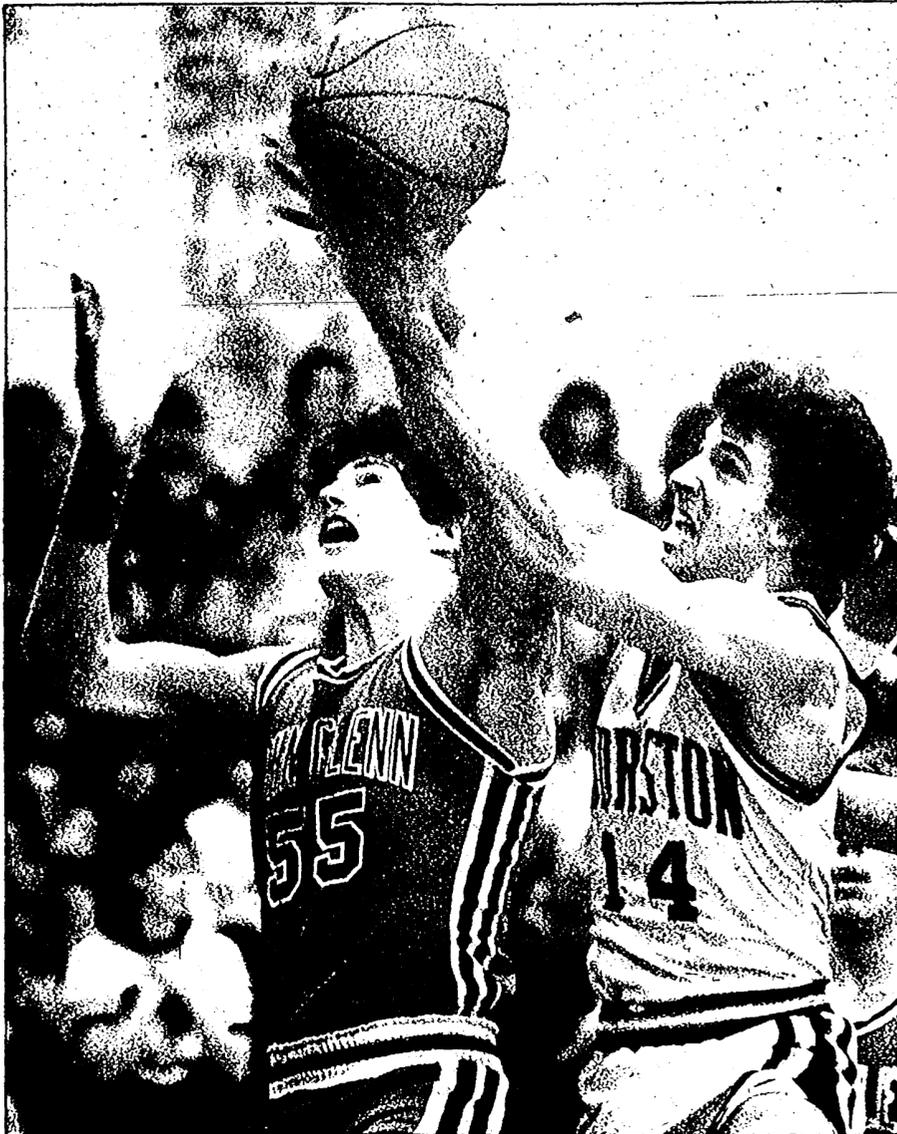

"When we went into the overtime knowing they were on the bench, I've never seen my team so confident they were going to win," he said.

Glenn chiseled away a Thurston seven-point halftime lead in the third quarter as Gill and Baydarian combined for 11 points. Glenn led 44-41 going into the final period.

Sibel led all scorers with 27 points while Smith and Weiss chipped in with 16 and 12, respectively.

Todd Jennings topped Glenn with 17 points, Gill had 15 and Baydarian notched 10.

Glenn is now 7-3 overall while Thurston upped its overall record to 6-1.

Glenn's Jack Walker (left) battles for a rebound Friday night with Redford Thurston forward George Sibel. Thurston won the key Northwest Suburban League battle, 67-64, before an enthusiastic crowd.

Aggie girls rip opponent in volleyball

Mona Clor patrolled the front line, making eight blocks, leading Redford St. Agatha to a 15-13, 15-8 girls' volleyball triumph over Detroit Benedictine Thursday night.

Clor, a senior, rallied the Aggies from a 13-3 first game deficit. Teammate Mary Kellow also stood out with her play in the backcourt.

In the second game, junior Sue De-Belsio served nine consecutive points including two aces as Agatha raised their season record to 3-0.

The Aggies will travel tonight to play Allen Park Cabrini.

LIVONIA STEVENSON opened the 1983 season Thursday with a 15-6, 15-3 Western Lakes win over Walled Lake Western.

Linda Loeffler sparked the Spartans in the first game, serving five straight points.

"They had only one real hit after Linda served," explained Stevenson coach Lee Cagle. "After that we controlled the play from the backcourt."

In the second game, Sally Chapin had six aces and Tami Scurto dominated the net for Stevenson.

Cagle also singled out the play of Geraldanne DiDomenico, the team's backcourt specialist.

The Spartans meet Farmington tonight at home.

REDFORD BISHOP BORGESS stopped Birmingham Marian Thursday for its sixth win in seven tries, 15-3, 15-7.

"We played very good defense as a group," said Borgess coach Jerry Abraham after the Central Division win. "We're playing well for this time of year."

Johna Gambotto was again the catalyst for Borgess.

She racked off six ace blocks in each game and combined for nine ace spikes.

"Johna was awesome all night," said Abraham. "She just played a tremendous net game."

Borgess will host a quad meet tonight against Grand Blanc, Novi and Oak Park. Play begins at 6:30.

Spartans win—3C

Cox fools Churchill, 5-2

Hat trick boosts Stevenson

By Paul King
special writer

Livonia Stevenson used Dave Cox's hat trick to overcome an early Livonia Churchill threat and post a 5-2 Suburban Prep Hockey League (SPHL) victory Friday at Edgar Arena.

The win improved the Spartans' record to 9-2 overall and 6-1 in the SPHL. Churchill fell to 2-8 overall and 1-7 in the league.

The Chargers twice took the lead in the first two periods with Craig Hanson scoring both times. Stevenson's Mark Kubitsky pumped in a shorthanded goal at the 9:14 mark of the first period after Hanson's first tally to tie it at 1-1.

Hanson again gave Churchill the lead early in the second period. But that's when Cox got hot, burning the game-tying and game-winning goal past Charger goalie Keith Walk in a 1:41 span.

E.J. Perreault and Cox both notched power-play goals in the third period to ice it for the Spartans. Perreault also picked up two assists in the game.

Phil Bryant stopped 25 of 27 Churchill shots to collect the victory.

LAKE SHORE 5 CATHOLIC CENTRAL 4

St. Clair Shores Lake Shore got the winning goal from Paul Finger with just over four minutes remaining to frustrate Detroit Catholic Central Friday at Mark Wells Arena.

The game-winner was Finger's second tally of the evening. Joe Maddalena also pumped in a pair for Lake Shore.

CC rattled Shorlan goalkeeper Tom Mason with 52 shots, but Mason turned away 48 to collect the win. Lake Shore managed just 14 shots at the Shamrock's John Bedes, but made them count for five goals.

Dave Morse had a goal and an assist for CC and Joe Kley, Eric Socia and Scott Summers all had single tallies.

The loss dropped Central to 3-1 in the Michigan Metro Hockey Association and to 5-2 overall.

LIVONIA STEVENSON 5 WYANDOTTE ROOSEVELT 2

Three second-period goals — two by Al Harmon — were enough to boost Livonia Stevenson to an SPHL victory over Wyandotte Roosevelt Wednesday at Yack Arena.

Harmon's goal on a power play at the 5:54 mark of the second period broke a 1-1 deadlock and gave the Spartans the lead for good. Harmon added another score 3½ minutes later on Erik Strom's third straight assist of the game.

E.J. Perreault, the SPHL's leading scorer, added a power-play tally with less than two minutes left in the second period, then closed out the Stevenson scoring with a goal at the 5:46 mark of the third on an assist from Brian Cox. Cox got the Spartan's first goal just two minutes into the opening period.

Darin Phillips turned away 23 of 25 Roosevelt shots on goal to pick up the win.

LIVONIA BENTLEY 8 SOUTHFIELD-LATHRUP 3

Tom Anderson blasted in a pair of goals to help Livonia Bentley even its record at 5-5 overall and 3-3 in the SPHL Wednesday at Edgar Arena.

The Bulldogs broke open a close contest with four goals in the third period. Bentley was ahead, 4-3, before the final-period surge. Dave Lentz and Paul Maderosian each had a goal and two assists, while Mike Hachigian, Scott Boos, Jim Brady and Ken Schmidt each tallied one goal. Scott Smith and Scott McDonald each had a pair of assists.

Bentley fired 33 shots at the Lathrup nets, while Dave Benson stopped 17 of 20 shots at the Bulldog goal.

BLOOMFIELD ANDOVER 12 LIVONIA FRANKLIN 2

Bloomfield Hills Andover exploded in the second period, burying Livonia Franklin under a seven-goal avalanche to skate to an easy SPHL triumph Thursday at Detroit Skating Club.

A 1-1 tie after one period quickly melted in the second, as the Andover Barons pelted Patriot goaltenders Mike Vasilco and Pat Collins with 33 shots during the stanza. Vasilco was tagged with a 10-minute misconduct during the period and Collins took over in the nets. Each goalie allowed six goals.

Jim Barnes got Franklin's first goal in the opening period and Ed Zajdel put one into the net in the final period. Steve Waldman collected the hat trick for Andover and Scott Crankshaw, Jim Aronovitz and Mike Laramie each notched a pair goals.

SOUTHFIELD-LATHRUP 9 LIVONIA CHURCHILL 4

Scot Fine, Barry Meyers and Mark Katzman each pumped in two goals to rally Southfield-Lathrup past Livonia Churchill Thursday at Beech Woods Arena.

The Chargers trailed, 4-1, after one period and 8-3 after two. John Jardine accounted for two of Churchill's goals, Todd Baumann had a goal and two assists and Paul Blanchard had one goal.

Wednesday, the Chargers travelled to Grand Oaks Ice Arena to battle Hartland and returned with a 5-2 defeat.

Jardine and Rusty Lynch notched Churchill's only goals in the contest as the Chargers were outshot, 32-24, in the contest.

RU had trailed by only three points at the half, 32-29.
Three other Garden City players scored in double figures — Scott McCloskey (17), Brett Emery (11) and Craig Dimaya (10).

Canton defense stops Bentley '5'

A fired-up Plymouth Canton quintet came out smoking defensively, racing to a 52-36 basketball win Friday at Livonia Bentley.
"I think we really wanted to win tonight," said Canton coach Dave Van Wagoner. "The full-court man-to-man defense did it for us."
Amazingly, Canton handled Bentley's huge front line, out rebounding the Bulldogs, 37-19. Pat Murphy, a 6-foot-3 senior, had only two points for Canton, but hauled down 14 rebounds.
"We just didn't play well and Plymouth Canton hustled," said Bentley coach Jim Komula. "Hopefully against Stevenson on Tuesday we can come up with something. We're struggling more at this time than I thought we would."
Canton, now 2-4 overall, took control of the game by outscoring Bentley 8-2 in the third quarter.
Ron Rienas led the winners with 15 points. Jim Thorderson countered with 11 for Bentley, now 3-3 overall.

The loss drops Churchill to 3-1 in the league play. It was Harrison's first win in five tries.
"Most consider this an upset, but I consider this the first step," said Harrison coach Mike Teachman. "The key was Dawson and Jones combining for 14 points in the fourth quarter and we also hit those free throws."
Harrison made 11-of-18 shots from the line.
LIVONIA FRANKLIN 64
NORTH FARMINGTON 56

Ray Boyle paced North with 16. John Nowak and John Dawson contributed 13 and 12, respectively.

FARMINGTON HARRISON 57
LIVONIA CHURCHILL 56
Gordie Dawson tapped in a rebound shot with one second to go, giving the host Hawks a come-from-behind win Friday over Western Division leader Churchill.
