Candidates call for development at chamber lunch

By Sandra Armbruster
editor

Gearing remarks to the concerns of their business audience, six of eight candidates running for city council addressed issues concerning Westland's economic development during speeches before the chamber of commerce.

But it was Mayor Charles Pickering who fired the opening salvo during the question and answer period by charging that the "incumbents are running their campaign based on my record, not theirs."

Pickering asked Councilman Kent Herbert, whose appointment the mayor had vetoed, if he would accept blame for "bad deals" made while Herbert was the city's finance director.

"Usually you give me all the blame whether I take it or not," Herbert responded. He added that an industrial park development on Ford Road near the airport was the "only project you've ever bailed the city out of."

Asked if such illegal transfers were made while he was finance director, Herbert said, "Absolutely not. Three years ago the city had a $1 million surplus. There wasn't the need. Why would anyone do that with a surplus?"

QUESTIONING Herbert about the surplus, Elizabeth Davis, Pickering's secretary, asked why there was a deficit when the mayor took office.

"There was $1.7 million in the banks and on deposit when I walked out the door," said Pickering.

He admitted, however, that his department had predicted a $300,000 deficit by June that year and had submitted a plan on how it should be handled.

"Unfortunately, nothing was done," he said.

Artley responded to a question about why a fire station was closed. He explained that the council had dropped two firefighters during budget deliberations because it didn't receive justifi-

PICKERING again issued a challenge to the four incumbent councilmen — Herbert, Robert Wagner, Thomas Artley and Ben DeHart — to a debate before the election. The mayor added that although he supports the four challengers — Harry Connor, Henry Johnson, Richard Grajeck and Marjorie Daniels, he denied "hand-picking" them.

Herbert rejected the proposed debate, saying that the mayor wasn't running for office. He was joined by Artley and Wagner in stressing the need for what they called a council that operates "independently" of the mayor.

Under questioning from the audience, Herbert explained his probe of transfers between city funds that ended in a state reprimand. He said that $600,000 was transferred out of city funds collected from bonds sold to build Ford Road. He charged that the money was used to avoid a financial crisis in the city.

material in a fire at the school. Cub Scouts who joined in the effort to collect 4,000 pop bottles were Rickey Morga (left), Jeff and Michael Peterson, Joe Rork and Clayton Campbell.

Help pops up for teacher in need

By Sandra Armbruster
editor

When four classrooms went up in smoke recently at P.D. Graham Elementary School, an eight-year accumulation of teaching materials valued at more than $1,000 went with them.

"Most of them are irreplaceable," said Teri Brackett, a SPARKEY preschool teacher who lost materials from workshops, albums, projects for her students and small appliances.

"It really is everything I had," Brackett added. "Normally I keep my stuff at home, but there was extra room for storage (in the classroom) so I went in Friday night and took everything."

School was to start the following week. Instead, firefighters believe that an arsonist struck late Sunday, Sept. 25.

By the next morning, the portable module containing four classrooms was gutted.

Feeling like a "brand new teacher," Brackett said it would take time and money to replace the burned goods.

RALLYING QUICKLY to fill the void were Cub Scouts and Webelos from Pack 765, sponsored by the Graham PTA.

About 40 boys spent a rainy Saturday combing the neighborhood to collect 4,000 pop bottles.

"Normally we have a service project for the boys to do later in the year, but when the fire happened, adults met Wednesday night and someone mentioned collecting bottles," explained Karen Likovich, awards chair for the pack.

Oct. 1 Scout Energy Day, was chosen for the canvass and literature was sent home with students.

Once the horde of pop containers was collected, Pack members and parents sorted out the bottles according to brand.

"It was a very smelly job," Likovich added.

"You can imagine how big (the pile) was."

The collection reaped a return of $402 with the cooperation of three stores including Meijer's Thirty Acres, which also made a $20 donation. It took a pickup, station wagon and a van to cart the pop containers just to Meijer's.

The money helped replace some of the toys and teaching materials lost in the fire.

"I was so down in the dumps about my personal things and the classroom materials burned. This really perked me up," said Brackett.

THOMAS BLACKLOCK, deputy superintendent for operations, said that while a firm figure isn't available, the district estimates replacement cost of the structure at $160,000. Added to that would be the cost of the foundation, equipment and furniture inside the structure.

Blacklock and Brackett said no one knows yet whether her teaching materials will be covered by the district's insurance.

"It's hard to put a price on some of those things," Blacklock said. For now the district is in the process of demolishing the ruins, Blacklock said, and the classes have been relocated within Graham and a portable module left untouched by the fire.

Common sense important

Seniors hear crime prevention tips

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

Much of crime prevention comes from common sense.

That was the message from Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano when he spoke before senior citizens in Westland's Whittier Center last Friday.

"It's just common sense, taking the time to think things out," he explained. "It's common sense that it's better to walk in pairs than alone. It's common sense to have 'direct deposit' and to carry a whistle with you."

Altogether, an estimated 204 people attended two separate seminars at the Whittier Center last week. They were on hand to hear speakers from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and the Office of Services to the Aged discuss the topics of crime prevention and health care for the elderly.

Home security and self defense were among the concerns shared by many of those in attendance.

LAST WEEK'S presentations emphasized "being aware," said Tony Shannon of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. Shannon spoke at a discussion in the afternoon, while Ficano spoke in the morning.

"They should be the eyes and ears of the law, report things they see," Shannon said.

Seniors are advised to walk with someone instead of alone. They should have their Social Security checks sent directly to the bank, using the "direct deposit" system.

"Statistically, seniors are the focus of many crimes," Ficano said. "They are most vulnerable when they're out by themselves on the street — when it looks as though they don't have the ability to move about quickly and run after a thief — and in con games."

AMONG THE most-common con games used to bilk seniors of money are those that involve a phony investigator and the "pigeon drop" scam, according to Ficano.

"Someone will pose as a bank investigator and tell the senior they can help trap a dishonest bank employee by using money out of their account," the sheriff said.

After saying there must be absolute secrecy about the matter, the swindler will have his elderly victim withdraw some money.

"They'll turn it over (to the con artist) and never see it again," Ficano said.

In the "pigeon drop" con game, the con artist will pretend to find money and offer to share it with the senior. The swindler will convince the senior to put in some money as a sign of good faith.

Con artists in another scam will visit the homes of bereaved families. The con artist will tell the family that he is delivering a Bible that had been ordered by the deceased, and that he has come to collect the payment for the order. In reality, the caller only found the

Enrollment decline slows in 2 districts

Student enrollment continues to drop in the Livonia and Wayne-Westland school systems, but not as rapidly as had been projected.

According to the fourth Friday counts taken last week, the Livonia School District has 17,815 students, 125 more than projected, while the Wayne-Westland School District has 16,256 students, 97 more than forecasted.

This year's enrollment figures compare with last year's 16,006 students recorded by the Livonia district and 16,817 students for the Wayne-Westland district.

That means Wayne-Westland lost 464 students, while Livonia lost 1,073.

The figures are for enrollment in kindergarten through 12th grade and don't reflect those attending alternative and adult education programs. The count of students is taken annually on the fourth Friday in September. That figure forms the basis for state aid in districts like Wayne-Westland. In Livonia, however, high property values place the district outside the formula calculating aid granted per student.

As a result, the higher-than-anticipated enrollment will translate into larger revenues for Wayne-Westland.

"The enrollment decline has slowed dramatically," said Dan Stee, Wayne-Westland's executive director for student relations. "Years ago we were losing 1,000 students a year. Now it's down to 400 a year, and that's a good sign."

Three elementary schools were closed in the district last June due to

Council campaign heats up

When the mayor and fire chief decided to close a station, Artley said the council vetoed the idea unanimously. A firefighter later was restored and overtime allocations increased once the chief "put together information."

Asked if the city has an ordinance prohibiting the dumping of waste, Artley said the council would look into it.

THE ONLY challenger to respond to audience questions was Daniels who, like incumbents, favors a millage to support Westland's own library. She favors removing the library from city politics, but would like "the people to bring about" the millage.

During her opening remarks, Daniels said that she wants to bring about a "government of reason and dignity. I don't think we have that right now."

Daniels said she would favor development of the city's industrial parks, protection of residential areas and improving the "looks" of Wayne and Ford roads.

Grajeck, who recently retired as a city firefighter, said he would be an independent councilman and wanted to "return pride to the city."

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Thomas Artley answers a question about Westland fire service at a candidates debate sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

Connor, an architect and builder, charged that the city isn't being fairly represented by the current council. He said he was tired of hearing the city being called "Wasteland," and wanted to see industrial parks be developed.

Saying that he was a good listener, Connor added that city business owners and residents need each other.

WAGNER CALLED business "the salt of the earth — it's what makes the city go." He pledged to continue to help businesses in the community and to try to develop the industrial parks. He added that he had worked "hand-in-hand" with business and industry in the 14 years he has been on the council.

Artley, now council president, called the chamber a "great resource," noting that it had acted as a clearing house for the Ford Road development and had operated a job-matching program. Like other candidates, Artley called for development of the city's industrial parks with a more aggressive administration.

He also promised to "hold as many study sessions as possible" to help the business community.

name in the obituaries.

WOULD-BE thieves are discouraged by persons walking "confidently. In a self-assured manner," Ficano said. A whistle can be used to call for help, but it should be kept readily available instead of at the bottom of a purse or pocket.

Seniors shouldn't carry important papers with them.

"Birth certificates or medical records are of no use to the thief, and are hard to replace," the sheriff said.

Residents always should lock the doors to their homes with a key when they go out. Leaving the lights on help give the appearance that someone is still home. Residents should have their newspapers picked up and their grass watered, among other items, when they go away on long vacations.

Seniors always should insist on seeing official identification, and may check any matter out with the police and Better Business Bureau, Ficano advised.

"Insist upon identification before you open your door to any delivery person,"

Birth rate to hike kindergarten class

declining enrollment.

DESPITE THE less-than-anticipated decline in Livonia, Superintendent George Garver told the Livonia Board of Education at a recent meeting that there is no indication student enrollment may be bottoming out.

"There is not one shred of evidence that student decline is abating in Michigan," Garver said he was told by a state official studying population trends. "The birth rate is rising outside Michigan, but not in the state."

"We may be able to change that in Livonia if we get more than our share of customers, but that is unlikely if property values remain the same," he said.

In Wayne-Westland, however, Slee said that a higher birth rate may be reflected in the number of kindergarteners who enrolled for school this year. There were 93 kindergarteners more than anticipated when school opened, Slee said.

The biggest increase was seen at P.D. Graham Elementary where 30 more turned up during fourth Friday counts. Other significant increases in kindergarten enrollment were evident at Wildwood, Lincoln and Vandenberg elementaries, according to Slee.

Besides kindergarteners, the bulk of the added enrollment came from the district's high school seniors, Slee said, particularly at John Glenn High School. Another surprise came in the district's 10th grade class.

"Usually it's much bigger," said Slee. "We expected it to grow by 70 students, instead it dropped by six."

To accommodate the changes in enrollment, some teachers have been recalled while others have been moved to different schools, Slee said.

PCHA continues health screenings for senior adults

Westland area senior citizens will again have a chance to "Discover Good Health" this year as the Peoples Community Hospital Authority begins the third round of health screening under a grant from the Out-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging.

The next screening is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the Whittier Community Center, 28550 Ann Arbor Trail. Seniors age 60 or older should call 722-3308 to make an appointment.

More than 4,000 senior citizens from western and downriver areas of Wayne County have participated in the free health screening program. During the coming year, about 35 free screenings will be offered at community sites in the out-Wayne County area.

The full screening includes vision, hearing, glaucoma, blood pressure, respiration and TB testing, breast exam, blood chemistry or urinalysis, and information and counseling on a variety of health subjects. New services added this year include flu vaccines, stress assessments, mouth examination and a cancer detection test that can be done at home.

Health screening is done by a team of hospital professionals from the four participating PCHA units — Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, Heritage Hospital in Taylor, Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park and Seaway Hospital in Trenton.

In addition to the cooperation of community centers and sites, services are provided by the Optometric Institute and Clinic of the Detroit Society for the Blind, Superior Courier Services, the hospital auxiliaries and the American Cancer Society. Several health organizations donate literature, and consulting services have been donated by several area physicians.

Interim House helps women

Crisis and supportive counseling and financial assistance are a few of the services offered to battered women and their children by Interim House, a temporary shelter in Detroit.

Any woman who has been physically abused by her husband or live-in boyfriend may call the organization for help at 962-5077. Professional counselors are on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Group counseling service is offered at six YWCA branches throughout the tri-county area, one of them the North-West Branch-YWCA in Redford Township.

Other services offered are permanent housing assistance, health and child care, legal and transportation assistance and referrals for counseling.

Boundaries after Bentley

This map shows the boundary line plan for the Livonia School District after Bentley High School is closed in June 1985. The Livonia Board of Education, which rejected a motion to postpone the school's closing until June 1986, approved the plan that divides the Bentley attendance area among the three remaining high schools. The plan breaks down the Bentley area by giving the area bounded by Schoolcraft, Middlebelt, Five Mile and Farmington roads plus the Coventry Gardens area north of Five Mile (between Hubbard and Edgewood) to Churchill; the area bounded by Schoolcraft, Inkster, Five Mile and Middlebelt to Franklin; and the remaining area north of Five Mile to Stevenson.

Livonia school head to seek raises for administrators

By Dan Vecchioni, staff writer

Livonia Public Schools superintendent George Garver is expected to ask the Board of Education at its Oct. 17 meeting to approve raises for the district's 28 non-union supervisors and administrators.

The amount of the raises has not been announced, but Garver said he will not be using a recently completed management study as a basis for his recommendations.

The study, conducted by Anderson-Roethle Inc. of Wisconsin at a cost of $18,300 plus expenses, proposed a salary system that conceivably could lead to salary reductions for most district administrators.

The board, at its Oct. 3 meeting, accepted but did not approve the Anderson-Roethle report and referred it to two committees for further study. Garver said the report, if eventually approved, would not be implemented until the 1984-85 school year.

"I anticipate bringing a recommendation to the board on administrative salaries at the next meeting," Garver said.

THE RESULTS of the management study were released to the board in two phases. The first report, presented in August, addressed administrative organization and job descriptions.

The second report, presented last week, dealt with ranges for various salary grades, placement of the various administrative positions within the salary grade framework and procedures for reviewing administrators' performances and adjusting their salaries.

Among the recommendations in the second report, Anderson-Roethle suggested downgrading the ranges in six of the top eight salary grades, shifting seven administrators into higher grades and dropping three into lower ones.

The adjustments would place at least 14 administrators into salary ranges that are between 1 and 12 percent lower than their current ranges.

They include the assistant superintendent for personnel, elementary and secondary education directors, special services director, employee relations director, comptroller, food service supervisor, maintenance

'Most districts pay their administrators in a lock-step manner. Our board is seeking an equitable policy based on performance.'

— George Garver, superintendent, Livonia Public Schools supervisor, transportation supervisor, operations supervisor, purchasing supervisor, warehouse supervisor, maintenance foreman and printing supervisor.

In addition, Anderson-Roethle rejected the concept of a bonus plan for administrators.

ACCORDING TO Neil Meitler, who presented the Anderson-Roethle report to the board last week, internal and external data were used in creating the salary system. These ranged from surveys of salaries in comparable districts to personal interviews with Livonia's administrators.

"The report has been written as a procedure so, if approved, it can be implemented as is," Meitler said. "It is not an operating policy but rather a fundamental salary system. This is a product that can be used."

"We deliberately attempted to tailor it to the school system," he added. "It's a salary system with interrelated parts. But if one part is removed, the system won't work so well."

The key to the system is the salary adjustment process. It calls for a general raise in each grade each year and then an individual raise based upon job performance. The individual's placement within his salary grade range would indicate how well he/she is performing his job, Meitler said.

A detailed performance evaluation process, based on job descriptions, was presented in the Anderson-Roethle report.

MEITLER SAID the performance evaluation system is a better alternative than a bonus plan, which is more suitable in an industrial setting. He said school districts that try bonus plans invariably back out of them. One reason, he said, is that there are no tangible indicators of success on the job in the educational field.

Despite Meitler's comments, Garver said "the board is still interested" in a bonus plan.

"Most districts pay their administrators in a lock-step manner," he said. "Our board is seeking an equitable policy based on performance."

Anderson-Roethle's recommendations now are under study by two board committees. Garver said the board eventually will have the opportunity to reject the report, adopt the report or adopt a modified version of the report.

"This is the second time in nine years we've had a management study conducted," he said. The first one, conducted by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. in 1977, was approved without modifications, he said.

The report covers all the district's administrative and supervisory positions with the exception of the superintendent. "They left mine out," Garver said. "But then mine's a little different. I'm evaluated yearly by seven board members."

Laurie Ghannam, 8, of Redford Township shows the suckers being produced in 18 flavors by handicapped workers. The Ghannam family is marketing the sweet to area businesses and as fundraising projects out of the Corkscrew Party Store in Westland.

Sweet tooth proves good for business

A one-time kitchen hobby has resulted in an award as small business of the year from the National Rehabilitation Council for some Medina, Ohio, candy makers.

The company, M.L. McJack Corp., began 1 1/2 years ago as a hobby in the kitchens of the McCurdy and Lonjak families, where hard-candy suckers were hand-made.

The suckers, produced in 18 flavors from pina coloda to the more traditional favorites, proved so successful that Bob McCurdy and Bill Lonjak quit their

marketplace

jobs for what they called the "American dream."

They opened a factory, employing 20 handicapped persons to produce the brightly-colored, translucent suckers. No preservatives or additives are used in the manufacture of the suckers, which won't break when dropped.

IMPRESSED with a 5 1/2-foot high display of the suckers at King's Island, Chris Ghannam of the Corkscrew Party Shoppe in Westland decided to bring the product to Michigan.

"It was a humanitarian thing, too," said Ghannam. "We do have a handicapped brother, and this has great potential to show what they can do."

As independent distributors, the Ghannams have placed the suckers in Big Boy restaurants, 7-Eleven stores in six states and in doctors' offices. Ghannam said that the Towne Club pop company plans to use them in coordination with their many varieties of soda.

The suckers, which retail for 39 cents, are sold by the case and available to fund-raising groups.

Anyone interested in the product can contact the party store at 595-1033.

Bowlers strike against cancer

Town-N-Country Lanes in Westland will conduct a bowlingthon during the week of Nov. 12-19 to raise funds for the "Strike Out Cancer - Spare a Child" Campaign.

The program is dedicated to Terry, an 8-year-old girl who has been a patient for the past five years at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Terry, of Mount Carmel, Ill. developed acute lymphocytic leukemia, the most common form of childhood cancer, in March 1978. She has been in remission and off all medication since November 1980.

Sponsor forms are available at Town-N-Country Lanes, on Wayne Road between Cherry Hill and Palmer. Joe Kaskolski is the local coordinator of the campaign.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, in Memphis, Tenn., was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases in children. St. Jude provides total medical care to all patients.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians work side by side seeking not only better means of treatment, but also the cause, cure and prevention of diseases. All information gained at St. Jude is shared freely with other hospitals and institutions all over the world.

Ford proposes help for ailing businesses

The House Subcommittee on Labor-Management Relations has approved a bill that would provide federal assistance to businesses, communities and workers to prevent business failures and plant closings.

Introduced by U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, whose district includes Westland, the proposal also would provide assistance to dislocated workers when plant closings cannot be avoided.

"I have worked on this legislation for many years," said Ford. "Sen. Walter Mondale and I first introduced plant closing legislation in the mid-1970s when our constituents were hard hit by sudden shutdowns of major manufacturing facilities without so much as a day's notice."

"Workers lost their pensions, their homes and, most shockingly, many even took their lives."

Key provisions of HR 2847 include:

- Loans, loan guarantees and technical assistance to ailing businesses.
- Financial aid for distressed communities.
- Retraining and placement services for dislocated workers.

The subcommittee's vote was the first time that a Congressional committee has endorsed this legislation.

"We need policies to prevent dislocation where it makes economic sense to do so," said Ford. "We need programs of assistance to ensure that the resources of productive workers are not wasted and that community life and local governments are not unduly disrupted by economic events they cannot control."

The measure now will be considered by the full House Education and Labor Committee, where Ford serves as the second ranking member. The bill also is being considered by the Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs.

Suzore blasts Lucas, Nystrom over pay rates

As Wayne County commissioners head toward votes week on a new budget, the group's chairman delivered a stinging indictment against County Executive William Lucas and his spending practices.

Chairman William Suzore, D-Allen Park, said Lucas is overspending his current budget and overpaying his staff — particularly Dennis Nystrom.

"Taxpayers are paying 10 members of Lucas' personal staff over $800,000 a year. That's more than any other group of deputy executives in the Midwest. That's nearly as much, per employee, as the governor of the state of Michigan receives," said an angry Suzore.

"HIS CHIEF of staff, Dennis Nystrom, has been receiving $1,250 per week — paid by voucher to his law office, without the approval of the county commissioners who were elected by the taxpayers to protect their money."

Nystrom was former Sheriff Lucas' attorney, as well as attorney for the deputies union, in their unsuccessful attempt to avoid laying off 250 persons in the road patrol. Nystrom has billed the county some $280,000 for his work, but the commission has refused to pay.

The facts that the lawyer is a conservative Republican in his politics and an Oakland County resident have angered Wayne County politicians and state Democratic leaders. Lucas' reply is that he considered ability, not politics. Nystrom's rate of pay and method of collecting it have never been revealed by the Lucas administration.

Suzore charged that Lucas overspent his $812,000 budget by $263,000 for a total of $1,075 million since taking office Jan. 1 as the first county executive under a home-rule charter in Michigan history.

"ALL THE taxpayers got for their charter vote last year is another layer of government, 37 new county employees to help the CEO and unrestricted, irresponsible spending," said Suzore.

His complaints are:
 • Lucas hired Public Affairs Associates to lobby in Lansing for an approved fee of $8,000. So far, he has paid the firm $20,000.
 • Lucas is seeking to reduce the County Commission from 15 members to five or seven. "Lucas does not like commissioners questioning his free spending ways and is now trying to ease the way by reducing the County Commission ranks."

• Lucas' top 10 aides and their salaries are: Corporation counsel (currently vacant since John O'Hair was appointed prosecutor), $62,500; Carl Stoutermire, director of personnel, $58,739; Fred Todd, chief financial officer, $62,500; Murdic Coleman, information system director, $58,739.

Also, Vernice Davls-Anthony, director of public service, $58,739; Lyle Self, risk and management director, $39,744; Dennis Dilworth, deputy health director, $55,000; Jamil Akhtar and Frank Wilderson, deputy CEOs, $57,239.

"These figures do not reflect an average 42 percent in fringe benefits," said Suzore.

MEANWHILE, SAMUEL A. Turner, D-Detroit, chairman of the County Commission's committee of the whole, said the budget will be ready for tentative adoption next week.

When adopted, the budget will go to Lucas for approval or line-item veto. The commission has 30 days to override a veto.

The board meets at 2 p.m. Thursdays. Next week it will meet as a committee of the whole in Committee Room A on the seventh floor of the City-County Building on alternate. The following week, it will meet as a full County Commission in the 13th floor auditorium. All sessions are open to the public.

Battles at Schoolcraft

Gym vs. data lab vs. a tax vote

By Tim Richard
Staff writer

Unless Schoolcraft College trustees seek construction money from voters, they could witness an internal battle for room space, and the grand prize may be 20,000 square feet in the auxiliary gymnasium.

"It is the desire of the administration to have a new physical structure" for the growing data processing program, Conway Jeffress, vice president for instruction, told the board of trustees Tuesday.

But to athletic director Marvin Gans, student leaders Barbara Sergison and Christine Karabatakis and 922 petition signers, the issue was to save the auxiliary gym.

"Our students, our programs, our outreach would be severely impaired if certain facilities were used for other than their purpose," said Gans, in the front row center as 90 persons packed the "pit" lounge in the Waterman Center for a 2 1/4 hour special board meeting.

It was the largest audience any board meeting had drawn since the '60s, trustees said. The audience warmly applauded Gans and other pro-gym speakers.

"I WAS somewhat surprised at the focus — the computer lab and the gym," said President Richard McDowell. "Believe me, we've gone way beyond that."

But if the administration were seriously hinting at going to the voters for a construction bond issue, two of the seven college trustees weren't buying it.

Said Paul Y. Kadish, veteran of 10 years on the board, "Only one (alternative) will I immediately turn down — a millage campaign. I'm not willing to go to the people and ask for millage on a bond issue," said Kadish, who chaired three of the four unsuccessful money issue campaigns during the '70s.

"No way do I see us going for a millage," said vice chairperson Rosina Raymond, citing Michigan's 13 percent unemployment rate. "I personally lean to something on campus," said the 12-year board veteran.

But trustee Harry Greenleaf said, "I wouldn't reject construction out of hand. We're living with less millage (property tax rate) than six years ago."

And at another point, Greenleaf said, "Computer literacy is a key ingredient of future general education. No space on the campus is inviolate. None whatsoever."

Kadish agreed with that point. Looking directly at athletic director Gans, Kadish said, "What I hear from you, Marv, is 'Look at all alternatives except the auxiliary gym.' Well, I'm going to look at all the alternatives."

WHAT STARTED the debate was a long-range planning study, begun in 1980 under then-president C. Nelson Grote.

According to Jeffress, it soon focused on retraining for the aging faculty (average age 49, few earning advanced degrees in the last decade), updating the curriculum and curing the shortage of space.

"Data processing is our most highly rated (by students) curriculum," said Jeffress. "It is an extremely important area because it will support so many other curricula in the future," as well as for faculty upgrading. His written text noted a 30 percent decline in credit hours generated by the physical education department since the physical education building was opened in 1971.

"Data processing and word processing are two programs where we are currently rejecting half of all of the persons who wish to enroll in these courses because we do not have space for our equipment."

(That led trustee Kadish to remark: "The only thing we haven't done is ask those who have been turned away which petition do they want to sign?")

Jeffress said the planning committee recommends a data lab with 100 stations and six classrooms. That means a total space need of 10,000 square feet.

THIRTEEN alternatives were examined, Jeffress said.

Two involved the auxiliary gym — a one-floor conversion (9,800 square feet, $280,000) or a two-floor conversion (19,600 square feet, $790,000), according to Kenneth Lindner, vice president for business.

Other alternatives are converting the lower Waterman Center (10,100 square feet, $440,000), using a dock area in the service building (8,140 square feet, $407,000) and potential fire marshal problems; taking space in the cul-de-sac of the applied sciences building (3,325 square feet, $150,000); and filling in two cul-de-sacs in the forum building (9,000 square feet, $450,000, but fire exit and roof problems on the sloping ground).

Other alternatives are to buy portable buildings, rent space off campus and build a $600,000 addition onto the applied sciences building.

Although Gans' and physical education students formed the largest and most vocal bloc, the report showed that if the gym were converted, the biggest loser would be Ron Griffiths' continuing education and community services programs.

Take your family on a family adventure.

Satellites provide space-age window on the world

In 1957 I remember sitting in Mrs. White's science class listening to her commentary on Russians, Sputnik and the importance of space education.

Today, more than 20 years later, we are still bating U. S.-Soviet relations and the decline in science education. However, little is heard about satellites. America's latest love affair in the space program is with the shuttle. Satellites have become commonplace since dozens have been launched, for a variety of purposes, beginning with Sputnik in 1957.

TIROS (Television Infrared Observation Satellite) is used for weather watching. It records temperature and maps weather development over the entire globe twice each day.

Closer to home, SMS (Synchronous Meteorological Satellites) monitors the weather in the United States every half-hour around the clock. Its system assists our local weather reports in getting their forecasts.

Another, GEOS (Geodetic and Earth Observation Satellites), maps the Earth's surface. LAGEOS (Laser Reflecting Geodetic and Earth Observation Satellite) specifically watches over California's San Andreas Fault, monitoring movement in the Earth's crust over a period of years.

SEASAT keeps watch over storms, ice fields and ocean currents as an aid to ships.

LANDSAT, by far the most thrilling of all satellites, has opened up whole new fields of Earth studies.

LANDSAT can spot schools of fish in the ocean, detect geological formations that indicate oil and mineral deposits, monitor air and water pollution, and even keep track of migrating animals.

Though not the first to launch a satellite, in 1972 the United States pioneered the technology which brought us the LANDSAT system. LANDSAT is a relatively simple satellite. About one ton in weight, it travels around the earth 570 miles above in a circular orbit every 103 minutes.

The satellite is sun-synchronous, so it sweeps across the earth at the same local time of day, about 9:30 a.m. The satellite passes around the world 14 times a day.

As the earth turns beneath the orbiting spacecraft, the instruments on board take pictures of the successive swaths of ground directly below. Similar to adhesive tape being wound onto a ball, these swaths of coverage gradually envelop the earth with a full layer of tape being added to the ball every 18 days. Each strip is approximately 115 miles wide.

LANDSAT does not take photographs like a camera. The spacecraft uses an instrument called a Multi-Spectral Scanner. This instrument scans the area that lies directly below the spacecraft as it moves along in its orbit, sensing the brightness of sunlight reflected from the earth.

The scanner senses the reflected sunlight in four different colors, and separate images are converted to voltages and returned to earth as electronic pulses. This data, once received on earth, is corrected for distortion, processed, and stored on film, computer tape, or disks.

By monitoring the intensity of each color, the satellite can distinguish between water, land, concrete, and grass, or healthy and diseased vegetation.

LANDSAT can see the difference in ground cover between any two spots on earth as small as the size of a suburban house lot.

LANDSAT can detect in less than 13 seconds what would take an earth-bound traveler years to discover.

THERE IS A growing market for satellite images among organizations involved in earth resource monitoring and mapping.

Oil and mineral companies are big purchasers of satellite images. Lumber companies use LANDSAT data for managing forest resources. Dead or diseased trees can be distinguished from healthy ones, and forest fires can be detected so firefighters can plan their strategies.

Agricultural interests also use LANDSAT data to record the growth of wheat on a national scale. Not surprisingly, the U.S. government routinely uses LANDSAT data in forecasting wheat production in the Soviet Union.

In southeastern Michigan, the Environmental Research Institute of Michigan (ERIM) is a leader in using LANDSAT imagery.

Dr. Watcke is dean of liberal arts and former dean of vocational education at Wayne County Community College.

Best fall color tours are afoot

Lem Messee
doors writer

There's one best way to see fall color. It's not hauling yourself to Brown County, Indiana, or the UP, or poring over commercially prepared tour maps that guide you past cider mills, antique shops and restaurants.

It's not studying the calendar to pick the best time, although southern Michigan's best time is just about now.

It's not in a car, on a bus tour, or a trip to the Algoma region of Ontario. The best way is to pick a spot and walk.

THIS HIKER'S first candidate for a fall color tour is to start at Bishop Lake in the Brighton State Recreation Area, just a few miles west-southwest of the I-96/US-23 interchange in Livingston County.

Two trails start at the picnic grounds on Bishop Lake Road — the two mile Kachichin Trail and the five mile Penosha Trail.

"Nothing unusual," says Bill Simon, park manager of the 5,000-acre Brighton Recreation Area — and that is just the point. It's vintage Michigan: gravel based hills formed by the glaciers, old ponds that have become meadows, pines and other conifers, all the basic hardwoods, deer, small ground animals and birds.

At several places there are signs pointing to a "scenic point." Take the severa extra steps to see them. They open out on broad vistas of greens, yellows, reds and browns.

The longer Penosha is the most challenging with some steep climbs up and down hills. It took my party — a middle-aged writer, a teen-ager and an old-timer — nearly three hours to complete the five miles, even though we took only three brief rest stops. But there was no compulsion to set a record or make a big date. Our only obligation was to have a good time.

outdoors

IN A CAR, you don't get to examine leaves up close. On a hiking trail, you can study a single bush or even a single leaf, noting how color crosses from one end to another.

You see the subtleties of color — the yellow-greens, the yellow-oranges, the red-oranges. My own favorite is the giant leaf of the sassafras, but you can pick any tree you want to enjoy.

On a trail, you get the smells — the earth, the remaining flowers, the fresh breeze. You can stop and pet the woolly bear caterpillar. It sure beats the smell of a car interior or an ashtray.

Bring along something liquid: Simon's troops run a nice place, but they don't put drinking fountains and pop stands along a hiking trail. And you'd be surprised, even on a cool day, how you can work up a sweat.

Now, this isn't a sales pitch for one park or one trail. It's just one outdoors lover's true story of a fine day. Your own favorite trail — maybe a neighborhood park — will serve just as well.

HUDSON MILLS Metropark, out Dexter way, will have a program for those who want a fall color tour that's a little more structured.

At 10 a.m. Sunday, naturalist Bob Hotelling will lead a 1 1/2 hour walk along the nature trails to observe fall colors. He says to bring your camera and meet at the park office. Register in advance by calling the Kensington park number at 685-1561. (The Kensington folks run Hudson Mills, too.)

KENSINGTON Metropark, just past New Hudson, has several family-oriented nature center programs this weekend. Call the park office at 685-1561 to pre-register.

"Going to Seed" — 10:30 a.m. Saturday. How fruits, nuts and seeds become food for wildlife are explained by a naturalist during a 1 1/2 mile walk.

"October's Paintbrush" — 1:30 Saturday. Bring your camera for the fall color program.

"Autumn Is..." — 10 a.m. Sunday. Naturalist Brian Creek will lead a 1 1/2 hour walk.

"Autumn Animals" — 2 p.m. Sunday. Naturalist Bob Hotelling will lead a 1 1/2 hour look at wildlife. Bring binoculars.

OAKWOODS Metropark, down Flat Rock way, will hold a "Prairie Work Bee" at 10 a.m. Saturday to help relocate plants. Volunteers are needed to relocate many rare and unique plants such as coneflowers, blue-stem grasses, sunflowers and others.

Bring a shovel, work gloves and sturdy shoes. Call the nature center in advance at 697-9181 so they will know they can count on you.

At 2 p.m. Sunday, Oakwoods will feature a nature program on "hitchhiking seeds," weeds which stick to clothing and animal furs in order to travel. Naturalist Glenn Dent will lead the 1 1/2 hour hike. Call to pre-register.

Afraid You're Going Deaf?

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Bellone. A non-operating model of one of the smallest Bellone aids of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than a fourth of an ounce, and it's all at car level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. All hearing problems are not alike and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid but many can. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 00000, Bellone Electronics Corporation, 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, IL 60646.

Now's the time to prevent a fire tragedy

IT WON'T happen to me." Those famous last words are what Joseph Benyo calls the biggest misconception he hears. Benyo, a battalion chief with the Westland fire department, is in the business of fire prevention.

Think about these statistics: About 6,000 Americans die in fires every year. Home heating fires are the major cause of all residential fires in the U.S. But other common fire causes include carelessness with gasoline, tossing out a cigarette instead of quashing it and, simply, a frayed appliance cord.

The saddest fact of all is that many of those deaths could have been prevented with a little awareness and common sense.

That's where Benyo comes in. The firefighter has been taking his "learn not to burn" message out to the people, from kids in classrooms to senior citizens in high rise apartments.

SINCE THIS is fire prevention week, it would be a good idea to review some safety procedures with your family and even your boss.

- Make sure there are properly installed and maintained smoke detectors where you live and work.
- Think about potential fire hazards and remove or correct them.

- Make EDITH — Exit Drills In The Home — a part of your household routine.

- Remember fire department rules: If your clothes catch on fire, then "stop, drop and roll." Firefighters also teach people that once out of a burning structure, stay out.

- Memorize the fire department's number yourself and place it near the phone. Knowing where to find it can prevent panic in an emergency.

JOINING IN the fire fight this year are the Westland Jaycees, who are urging Westland residents to "adopt a fire hydrant."

Jaycees hope that residents will select a hydrant to keep neat and clean year-around. Clearing away high weeds, snow and trash will help firefighters reach hydrants quickly.

Painting them will improve the appearance of the neighborhoods and provide friendly competition in a contest Jaycees are sponsoring.

To adopt a hydrant, write to the Jaycees at P.O. Box 191, Westland 48185. Entrants will receive a "certificate of adoption," listing their names and the hydrant's location.

Remember, a fire can happen to anyone.

Newspaper has knack for serving, surviving

HARNESS MAKERS, lamplighters, bootblacks, sandwich men, knife grinders, tinkers, axlesmiths, hedgsmiths, alemongers, tinkers, newspaper writers.

All but one of those occupations have virtually disappeared since the days when America was founded.

Sometimes radio broadcasters, television broadcasters, billboard merchants, cable-TV hucksters and direct mail mongers predict the demise of the newspaper business, too. But you the readers choose to keep us operating.

And during National Newspaper Week, we all may want to remind ourselves of why our institution survives and even flourishes.

THE BILLBOARD, the handbill, the bumper sticker and the TV commercial all tell you a candidate's name — and you will be seeing many of them as 1984 approaches.

But only the newspaper reports the officeholder's voting record, elicits the candidate's views on the tough issues of tomorrow and assembles the hard facts of a biography for you to study.

The junk mail contains circulars for a particular store and may even contain prices.

But only the newspaper contains ads for a variety of competing stores and lets you compare prices in a single publication. And the news columns contain information that makes some peddlers a little uncomfortable: what products are being recalled, which are of questionable safety, which are bad buys in this economy or at this time of year. No junk mail circular ever gave you that kind of information.

BROADCAST REPORTS are an easy way to pick up a bit of information, especially if you are feeling a little on the lazy side today.

But if you want more than 20 seconds of facts on a major happening in your community, if you want to know who in town died or got married, if you want to preserve a news item to send to Aunt Bess in Florida, if you want the hard statistics behind the football scores and property taxes, if you want the names of the scholarship winners and the folks who got the business promotions — well, you can't clip it out of the TV screen. But it will be in the newspaper.

It's ironic, but there's a major retail chain that has shifted its promotional efforts to junk mail. Yet when the chain wanted to fight a piece of legislation in Congress which it considered harmful, what did it do? It sent news releases to the newspapers.

When people want to emphasize a point to their state legislators or congressmen, they often clip a newspaper story or editorial. But you'll never see a TV or radio tape in the legislator's or congressman's mailbag.

WE ALL KNOW the jargon term "mass media," but how many mass media are there?

There are publications for environmentalists and manufacturers, bird watchers and hunters, feminists and traditionalists, labor and management, Democrats and Republicans, rock fans and classical aficionados, those with fortunes and those with pennies, those who consume and those who produce.

But what medium even tries to be a common ground for all points of view and all the interests that make our nation so vital and interesting? What medium even attempts to explain one group to the others? You are reading it.

Well, we've patted ourselves on the back pretty lustily and have vowed to do even better work in the future. But we also pause to thank you the reader for helping us to be good.

You invite us into your home, you read us, you praise us when we do well, you bawl us out when you think we've missed something, you give us tips, you write us the kinds of letters no broadcaster, billboard merchant, bumper sticker printer or junk mail distributor ever gets.

In short, you have kept us going for 200 or more years. All of us should be thankful for that.

Old Diz psyched 'em in wildest series of all

THE NATION'S sports pages are filled these days with all sorts of stories and anecdotes of the World Series, but in no place has it been mentioned that this is the 49th anniversary of the wildest of all World Series — and it was played in Detroit on what was then called Navin Field.

In 1934 Mickey Cochrane sent the Tigers against the St. Louis Cardinals, and to all intents and purposes it was decided the day before play began.

At the time, the Cardinals had the Dean brothers — Dizzy and Daffy — and Dizzy actually beat the Tigers before he ever threw one pitch.

He used a bit of psychology the moment he arrived at the field, and the Tigers never were the same. It was the close of the Tiger final practice when the word came that "the Cardinals are here."

With that there was a roar from the right field entrance, and leading the pack was a giant of a fellow with a white cowboy hat.

IT WAS DIZZY Dean showing the way.

He leaped over the rail, walked up to home plate and took a bat. "Throw me one," he called. And when the pitch came in, he slammed it into the left field seats.

With that he shouted, "You guys will be easy." The Tigers were stunned. Next day Charlie Gehringer, the stone wall on defense at second base, made two errors in the first inning.

Before the series ended, it became the wildest on record. It was the series in which Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the white-haired baseball commissioner, ordered Ducky Medwick, a Cardinal outfielder, out of the game to prevent him from being hit by the baskets of fruit that were being tossed from the bleachers.

the stroller
W.W.
Edgar

Ducky became the villain in the game because he raced to third base with spikes flying, and it appeared he was making an attempt to spike Marvin Owen, the Tiger third baseman.

One of the wildest scenes in the history of World Series play, it became one reason why Manager Frankie Frisch and his Cardinals were labeled "the Gas House Gang."

WHILE THE Tigers tried to fight back with such pitchers as Tommy Bridges and Schoolboy Rowe, they failed to show the spirit they had displayed during the regular season. And at every opportunity, Dizzy was upsetting them.

In the seventh and final contest, Dizzy pitched a masterful game while his mates ran up a 13-0 score, and the Cardinals walked off with the title.

Even before that finale, Dizzy had the baseball world in a dither. The day before he sneakily relieved a runner at first base (Frisch didn't see it), Dizzy tried to steal second and was hit on the head by the catcher's throw.

He was rushed to the hospital, and the baseball world was agog. Finally, word came from the hospital that he had escaped injury.

THE MORNING paper hit the street with a blazing headline that said: "Dizzy's Head Shows Nothing."

"Old Diz," as he liked to be called, claimed it was the worst insult he ever received: It was even worse than the insult on the final day when, with Diz pitching and holding a 13-0 lead, Frisch sent his entire pitching staff to the bullpen to warm up, and the Cardinals didn't have another game scheduled until the next spring.

No, there never will be another World Series like that one 49 years ago.

Teachers' problem: parents

IT'S FASHIONABLE to be against teachers.

Once they were glamorized as belonging to one of the noblest professions. Parents were proud to raise children to become doctors, clergymen or teachers.

But no more. This week parents in the Plymouth-Canton school district picketed against striking teachers. These parents blame teachers for a strike that has been going on since Sept. 30.

It's easy to fault teachers. Let's admit it, we think of teachers as persons who work from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. with three months off every summer. We're a little jealous about that.

As teachers become more strident in their unions, they lose more public support. It's "unprofessional" for them to wear ragged clothes and carry a sign saying, "No contract, no work."

Recent studies critical of our educational system — such as "A Nation at Risk" — confirm what we all know. Teachers aren't doing their jobs.

I MUST ADMIT that I was among those most critical of teachers. I was particularly irked by bumper sticker popular about a year ago, "If you can read this, thank a teacher."

How arrogant of teachers to think that everyone who knows how to read, learned it from a teacher. Many parents have taught their children to read.

But I have changed my mind about teachers. Since September my wife has been teaching full time. I have new respect for their profession.

Work days begin closer to 5:30 a.m. than 8:30 a.m. Preparing for as many as six or seven different classes in a day takes time. Also, teachers must be in the classroom 30 minutes to an hour before the first student arrives.

Students may leave at 3 p.m., but that's not the end of the work day. Discipline problems must be handled after school. That's also the time for in-service training, meetings with other teachers or the principal. Evenings are often taken up by meetings of the PTO, sessions with school board members or with parents. In between, time must be found to correct tests and papers.

A TEACHER faces many problems, including relatively low pay and lack of security. But perhaps the toughest is the apathy of parents.

What can a teacher do when a child refuses to do homework? The response used to be for the teacher to tell the parent. But today too many parents don't care if children do their assignments. That attitude extends to any kind of discipline given out by a teacher.

Many parents seem to regard teachers as educated baby-sitters.

Being a teacher is not all doom and gloom. Many children are enthusiastic and eager to learn. Some days a teacher reaches even the most difficult child.

Most teachers I have met in the past few weeks are dedicated and caring professionals.

Last week Peter Beidler, a teacher at Lehigh University, was named "Professor of the Year" by the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education.

His advice to parents was: "Go up to a teacher and say, 'Thank you, you really made a difference with my child.'"

That's not a bad idea.

By the way, teachers don't take summers off. Most go to graduate school so they can retain their certification.

Be nice to a teacher today.

U.S. House protects safeguards for national parks

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes Sept. 29 through Oct. 5.

roll call report

PARKS — By a vote of 160 for and 245 against, the House rejected an amendment on the question of how protected national parks should be against development occurring on adjacent federal lands.

The amendment sought to remove a proposed requirement that the Interior secretary determine that the public interest will not be harmed before approving a federal land use that might injure an adjacent unit of National Park System.

It was offered to a bill (HR 2379) providing a variety of additional safeguards for national parks. The bill was sent to the Senate.

Supporter John Breaux, D-La., said the existing National Environmental Policy Act is adequate to protect national parks against intrusions from nearby federal property.

John Seiberling, D-Ohio, opposed the amendment, saying it would be "in effect, gutting the bill."

Members voting yes wanted to kill the extra layer of protection for national parks.

Voting yes: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, and William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Voting no: Dennis Hertel, D-Detroit,

William Ford, D-Taylor, and Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

BENEFITS — The House rejected, 141 for and 278 against, an administration-backed effort to make the federal unemployment compensation program less costly to all taxpayers but less beneficial to the long-term jobless.

This occurred during debate on a bill (HR 3929), later sent to conference with the Senate, that extends the program providing unemployment checks to the jobless who have exhausted their normal allotment of state and federal benefits.

The vote turned back a GOP attempt to limit supplemental benefits to a maximum of 12 weeks and extend the program for 18 months. It left intact Democratic language providing up to 16 weeks of additional federal checks and renewing the program for only 45 days.

Democrats wanted another extension after 45 days. Republicans said this was a ploy to provide a vehicle for 1983 tax-increase legislation the president opposes.

Members voting yes favored the less-costly administration plan for renewing the program that provides an extra series of unemployment checks.

Voting no: Pursell, Hertel, Ford, Levin and Broomfield.

world view Cubans now receive from their government's news managers. Since the VOA is largely objective, Radio Marti will be less pugnacious than President Reagan had wanted it to be.

To get the bill through Congress, he agreed to incorporate Radio Marti in the VOA rather than the less-restrained U.S. Board for International Broadcasting.

Supporter Jack Kemp, R.N.Y., said there is no question of the rightness of our efforts to export the American idea to the rest of the world."

No opponents spoke against the bill. Members voting yes wanted to establish Radio Marti as part of the Voice of America. Parsell voted yes.

SENATE

RATE — The Senate rejected, 34 for and 59 against, an amendment which in effect was to provide more weeks of unemployment compensation eligibility in states where joblessness is most entrenched.

The measure dealt with federal supplemental benefits, those the jobless receive after exhausting their normal allotment of state and federal benefits.

Presently, whether a state gets supplemental benefits is based on its Insured Unemployment Rate (IUR), which counts only those individuals still receiving normal state and federal jobless checks.

The amendment, opposed by the Reagan Administration as too costly, sought to base the determination on a state's actual unemployment rate, thus benefiting states having high concentrations of long-term jobless.

It was offered to S 1187, a companion to HR 3929 (above). The bill was sent to conference with the House.

Senators voting yes wanted to provide more weeks of supplemental unemployment benefits to states having the worst unemployment.

Michigan Democrats Carl Levin and Donald Riegle voted yes.

JOBS — By a vote of 50 for and 44 against, the Senate tabled (killed) an amendment to add $364 million to the $6.4 billion earmarked for job training in the fiscal 1984 appropriations bill for the departments of Labor, Education, and Health and Human Services.

Backers said most of the extra funding would go to programs aimed at youths who are poor. The $91-million spending bill (HR 3913) was passed and sent to conference with the House.

Howard Baker, R-Tenn., who voted to kill the amendment, said it was his "responsibility and duty to try to support the committee system," a reference to the Appropriations Committee's opposition to the amendment.

Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, who favored the amendment, said that in light of President Reagan's opposition to the extra money "I must seriously question the administration's commitment to effective job training programs."

Levin and Riegle voted no.

Katz is named distinguished psychologist

By Diane Gale
staff writer

When Dr. A. Edward Katz of Livonia changed from the study of engineering to psychology, he was fascinated by the possibility of finding out what makes people do the things they do.

"After 30 years I'm still looking for answers," said Katz, who is director of psychology at Hawthorn Center. "The things we learned in other social sciences turned out to be different from what we thought."

"But there is always the challenge of trying to understand."

Katz was recently designated a Distinguished Psychologist by members of the Michigan Psychological Association at a recent meeting in Bay City.

"It feels good to have my colleagues view my contributions as worthy of merit, and there are a lot of people out there who are equally — note I didn't say more — deserving," Katz said with humility and jest in his voice.

Humor happens to be an integral part of his personality. He also uses light-hearted quips as a tool to make clients relax enough to objectively view their behavior.

"If my clients don't have a sense of humor when they come here, then I teach them how to have one," Katz said.

The 56-year-old Livonia psychologist didn't think it was funny though, in 1963, when a race riot almost broke out in Dearborn when residents mistakenly thought a black couple was moving into the city. Dearborn police didn't respond, and state police were called in, Katz said.

Katz was so upset by the incident that he founded a group called Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations, the purpose of which was to improve race relations. The first meeting was held with six friends in his basement. It grew to more than 300 members, but is no longer in existence. They tried to make the group's concerns become campaign issues.

KATZ IS NO newcomer to politics. From 1964-78, he served as trustee, secretary and president of the Livonia Board of Education. His tenure with the school board was during a time when meetings were animated with emotion-packed remarks about such issues as censoring books and sex education. At one point, Katz was even accused of being a member of the Communist Party because of his stand on these and other issues.

Katz was instrumental in making Livonia known for its special education programs. "In terms of my function here (at Hawthorn), it gave me insight into the problems at the schools and the kinds of kids we see here," Katz said.

In 1956, Katz began working as a psychologist at Hawthorn, which was the first year the center opened its doors on a site across Haggerty from Schoolcraft College. It was the nation's first comprehensive psychiatric treatment center for children and adolescents.

Hawthorn's 13 staff psychologists and seven interns do from 800 to 1,000 evaluations each year. The center, an agency of the Michigan State Department of Mental Health, provides diagnostic assessment and treatment for children up to 17 years old with emotional and learning problems.

It has 140 beds in its residential treatment center, which also has a school. Its patients are ages 5 through 17. Hawthorn offers an out-patient clinic, in-patient facilities, day programs, as well as group and family therapy.

The most dramatic cases are the children with infantile autism and severe schizophrenia, which many psychologists believe is biologically caused, Katz said.

"Probably the most tragic stories come across when the children have had a horrendous early life experience," he said. "These children have an inability to relate, but biologically they are intact."

HE EXPLAINED that a child is unable to relate to others when he has never had the experience of trusting or receiving care.

"They treat people as objects," said Katz. "Asking these kids to react like normal kids to love and affection by giving of themselves in return, is like asking a blind person to see."

"This accounts for a lot of criminal behavior. We can control some of the behavior, but we can re-create the infancy experience. It is kind of depressing."

To take a vacation from work Katz has enough hobbies to make him a certifiable Renaissance man. He once ordered a harpsicord kit. He managed to get all the strings and keyboard in the right place.

"Lo, and behold! Surprise. It played," laughed the psychologist. His daughter Peggy played it.

Katz can be found at various parks on occasion flying radio controlled model airplanes.

"Both the electronics and the flying appeal to me," he said. "It is cheaper than flying the real thing. And when you crash the results aren't as dramatic."

He is also a photographer. He is married to Jimmie Katz, who is active in the League of Women Voters, and they have four children, all graduates of Bentley High School.

Their daughter Judy, 30, is an NBC broadcast engineer at a TV station in Tampa. Peggy, 27, works as a child care worker at Hawthorn, and David is Betty Connell of Livonia — or B.C. as she is known — is one of the volunteers who helped form Canter and Post. She is also an instructor as is her daughter Cheryl.

Audrey Winisky of Livonia is Canter and Post's treasurer. She is also one of the founding members of the organization that numbers 50-plus volunteers and also is an instructor.

With the sun setting, two riders, Jeannie Grace (left) of Walled Lake and Jeanette Marchand of Redford, walk their horses into the practice ring after warming them up. The riding program goes on all year — including winter when ponies are ridden.

Horse sense Volunteers mount riding program

By Marie McGee
staff writer

A GROUP OF self-proclaimed "horse nuts" have met with galloping success in a business venture at nearby Ivory Farms that offers a full riding program to area families.

It's called Canter and Post and is the outgrowth of a similar program conducted at the 153-acre farm near Union Lake by the Girl Scout of Metropolitan Detroit for nearly 20 years.

In fact, Canter and Post's founders were all part of that popular program until the Metro Detroit G.S. Council canceled it two years ago, citing the need to cut expenses.

AT ISSUE WERE insurance costs. The Detroit G.S. council sought to have Ivory Farms shoulder the liability costs. Ivory Farms board of directors, however, refused, stating it was already contributing heavily to the program through the donation of the use of the property and the horses.

Caught in the crossfire were hundreds of area youngsters — and their mothers, who by this time, were just as addicted to horseback riding as their daughters. Many of the moms had advanced to the point of serving as instructors in the program.

One of them was Margaret "Peaches" Taylor, longtime Girl Scout leader, who is credited with initiating the Girl Scouts "Horse Set" program 20 years ago at Ivory Farms.

Thrown temporarily by the Detroit council's decision to scuttle the program, Taylor and some of the other mothers-instructors banded together to form the non-profit Canter and Post.

Taylor became president. Aiding her is a board of directors that includes scout riding program stalwarts Audrey Winisky of Livonia as treasurer and Betty Connell. All the 50-plus women involved in the program volunteer their services. All instructors are certified by the Camp Horsemanship Association.

"WE DECIDED AT the outset not to accept salaries in order to keep the price of the lessons low," said Winisky. A $5 registration fee covers insurance for the rider and helps the fledgling organization with operating expenses. Cost of the hourlong lesson is an additional $6.

Facilities are leased from John

A chalk board hangs in the barn so that the riders can alert others if special care for a horse is needed. It's all part of the program to teach complete horsemanship — not just riding.

Ivory Farms and year-round camping as well as horseback riding programs are offered.

"We never close," Winisky said. Success wasn't immediate, however.

There were a lot of problems. Most involved upgrading of the facilities.

Almost immediately the group was faced with putting up new fences and erecting a new roof on the main barn.

Adding to the roof problem, Connell pointed out, was the fact that seven layers of roofing had to be peeled off before the new roof could be installed.

"But with all of us pitching in — plus fathers and grandfathers — we got the job done," Winisky said.

ALL THE WORK on the farm's upkeep is done by the volunteer staff. In addition, riders in the program are asked to help out.

Riders are responsible for taking care of the horse's needs and also perform tasks that aid in keeping the facilities in order.

"We cater to groups," Winisky noted. "But we're not restricted to girls or to scouts. The boys are becoming horse nuts, too."

Canter and Post has a stable of 33 horses and 23 ponies.

Hobbled somewhat by the Detroit council's continued reluctance to permit off-site camping at the facility, Canter and Post organizers are heartened by the support of other area G.S. councils who are approving camping trips to the farm.

Hopefully, the Detroit council will join the fold again someday.

Anyone interested in camping and/or riding at John F. Ivory Farms can obtain further information from Margaret Taylor, President, Canter and Post Inc., 9992 Cooley Lake Road, Union Lake 48085.

Dr. Edward Katz still looking for answers

Inside the barn, each rider must take care of the horse being ridden that day. That includes cleaning stalls, brushing, caring for cuts, cleaning hooves — and dispensing plenty of TLC — tender loving care. And it also includes sweeping the floor.

BPW salutes community activists

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Sue Discher of Garden City was named a Distinguished Woman for her fund-raising activities to fight muscular dystrophy.

Carole Chlump, Detroit winner, is president of the Detroit Bar Association and works in banking.

Because she makes a habit of serving as a mentor to young career women, Westland resident Teresa Solak was honored by the BPW. She represented the Canton club.

Redford resident Deborah Comstock was singled out by the BPW because of her activities as an educator on substance abuse.

Some women boast they've come a long way, and others say it's not far enough.

But five local women have made it to the top in the estimation of their local Business and Professional Women's clubs.

Honored recently with Distinguished Woman of the Year awards were Suzanne Discher, Garden City; Teresa Solak, Canton; Deborah Comstock, Redford; Carole Chlump, Detroit, and Mary Pullick in Livonia.

"Each organization selects a woman from their community who best exemplifies the ideals of BPW through their professional work and enthusiasm," said Deborah O'Connor, BPW director of District 9.

The citations were awarded last Wednesday as a kick-off to National Business Women's Week, Oct. 16-22.

"I would like to see a time when there is no differentiating between men and women in business," said Chlump, 41, who is the first woman president in the 147-year existence of the Detroit Bar Association and an attorney in private practice.

"But I think it will take another generation before that happens," she said.

Take half the women working in business and promote them to executive positions, that's Chlump's suggestion for reaching that goal.

Women are still earning 59 cents on the dollar, and the situation will change only when women learn to assert themselves, she said.

CHIAMP HAS accumulated more than 25 distinguished appointments and awards.

She's also a member of the Michigan State Bar, Women Lawyers Association, ACLU, National Organization of Women, Common Cause, NAACP, Michigan Women's Campaign Fund, National Conference of Negro Women and the advisory committee of the Interim House spouse abuse shelter.

SOLAK, a Westland resident and the Canton honoree, said: "I feel women have a lot to offer in the business world, because they're more sympathetic to certain problems."

"They're a real necessity in the business world, because they have more compassion for their fellow workers," she added.

Solak, 55, is assistant vice president and branch manager as well as marketing and public relations director of Wayne Bank.

Solak attributes the recognition by BPW to her devotion in serving as a mentor and giving encouragement to young women who are starting their careers.

Organizations Solak has been involved with include, Canton Chamber of Commerce, St. Damian Altar Society, National Association of Bank Women, Women's Economic Club, Wayne County Community College and Bank Speaker's Bureau.

"Join a networking organization such as BPW," Solak advised women interested in advancing in their careers. "Even at my late start with the club, it helped tremendously."

"Women need to take risks that in the past only men were willing to take," Discher, 44, said. "They need to work hard to be a success in whatever standards they feel are a success."

DISCHER, owner of Hair Hut in Garden City, raised thousands of dollars with employees for the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Association.

She's also a charter member and first chairperson of the Downtown Development Authority. She is also a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and belongs to the National Association of Women Business Owners and American Hairdressers & Cosmetologists Association.

Discher, who lives in Westland, finds time to teach a class in beauty salon management in the continuing education program at Schoolcraft Community College.

"The most beneficial changes are that women are being recognized in the business world, getting credit, taking financial risks and having banks backing them," Discher said.

COMSTOCK battles a hefty social problem in her position as community relations manager for Henry Ford Hospital's department of chemical dependency.

She disseminates information about alcohol and drug dependency. Comstock was unable to attend the award ceremony, so co-worker Lorna McEwen explained why she thought Comstock achieved the recognition.

"She's a very dynamic speaker, and well versed in her field," McEwen said. "She works in the community helping set up seminars and spreading information about drug dependency."

In a phone interview, Comstock said that women are not taking advantage of treatment offered them in substance abuse.

"Now that women are entering the work force in large number they face the same stresses that men have experienced for years," she said. "My focus is to make women aware they have a resource."

PULICK, 45, trimmed her volunteer schedule to work as a full-time field director for Huron Valley Girl Scouts Council. She began the job in June.

Pullick is also the president of the Historical Commission at Greenmead in Livonia. She averages about 10 hours a week at the city's historical site.

Before starting the Girl Scout position, she was a volunteer for the LOVE offices, Girl Scouts and the state district organizer of the Federated Garden Clubs.

Pullick taught needlework and craft classes and a course that dealt with setting priorities and using time efficiently.

"My philosophy is that you must determine priorities in life, set goals, and do what you have to do to reach those goals," Pullick said.

She attributes her many hours in volunteer work as the probable reason why she was chosen for the BPW honor.

The Distinguished Woman of the Year Award was part of BPW's national Speak Up campaign. The program is an effort to increase the 150,000 national membership and to promote the 98 chapters throughout the country. The campaign runs Oct. 15-31.

a system analyst for Michigan State University. David also founded a rock band for which he plays bass guitar. Jonathan, 22, lives in Denver, and is a management trainee for Arby's restaurant. He is attending business college.

BUT HOBBIES and family life are not all the resources Katz draws upon to help him in a professional life so full of problem solving.

Psychologists must develop a defense mechanism to buffer themselves from becoming too attached to their clients, he said.

"Everybody distorts the world, and the only difference is we're trying to get them (clients) to distort the world the way we do and not the way they do," Katz said in an explanation of a psychologist's role.

Emotional stability isn't one of the criteria for psychologists, Katz quipped.

In an explanation of why he may have been chosen for the distinguished psychologist award, Katz said that Hawthorn has been a training site for more than 250 interns from universities.

"A lot of them have gone away with a good feeling about this place," he said.

What do you have in common with Susan B. Anthony, Whitney Young, Clara Barton and Thomas Jefferson? A lot — if you're the kind of person who feels deeply for all people; who thinks that social justice and equality aren't just words, but require action. A lot — if you think there are many paths to truth to explore. A lot — if you believe that what you think and feel, what you meditate and pray for, can be acted on daily. For those who share these beliefs, there is a faith that welcomes and supports free and independent-thinking people who have hope for the future. Unitarian Universalism — it's the faith that helped sustain Dr. Albert Schweitzer, Henry David Thoreau and Dorothea Dix. It's the faith of people down the street from you. Maybe we have something in common. Maybe not. If you would like to visit a Unitarian Universalist congregation this week, welcome!

Drama group plans 3 productions

New Concepts Theatre, Garden City High School drama group, will open its season next month with "Wake Up, Darling," a romantic comedy scheduled for the Nov. 10-12 weekend. It will be followed by a children's show, "Hansel and Gretel," the Feb. 16-18 weekend, and "Chicago," a musical vaudeville show May 17-19. The spring show, set in the 1920s, will be one of the flashiest and entertaining shows ever produced by NCT, a group spokesman said. The drama group, directed by Howard Palmer, plans to perform for the Michigan Thespan Conference in April and the International Thespan Society's Festival in Muncie, Ind., next year.

Together, we can change things.

What if my new car is a smash hit on the way out of the showroom?

With Auto Owners, it's covered. An Auto Owners policy automatically covers your new car. And should you have an accident within 90 days and your car is a total loss, they'll pay the full cost of a new car.

Other companies offer coverage that's incomplete. But Auto Owners they try to fix everything. Stop by at 2793 Farmington for full details.

TIED OF PRYING?

What picture comes to mind when you hear the word "family"? Do you see a mother, father, and 2-3 children? What does a family look like?

Every family is unique. There are families with children, some with no children, some are single parent families, and there are "blended families" - where a new family is formed from former ones. Part time families occur when a parent has custody on week ends or during vacations. Families come in all sizes and in wide variation.

Your family - of one or more - is welcome with us. Though every family has its own specific set of problems and potentials, we all need Christ, His love, and His human caring. Let us meet your family this week!

Parsh life, Catholic press are 'Legacy' series topics

Lectures on the history of Catholicism in Detroit are continuing through Nov. 1 at Madonna College, Livonia, to mark the 150th anniversary year of the Archdiocese of Detroit. The lectures highlight "a legacy of faith" and are held each Friday at 7 p.m. in the college lecture hall.

"Faith in Action," the topic for Oct. 14 will be addressed by Louis E. Brohl III, a Madonna College administrator, who will speak on parish life. Margaret Conyn, editor of the Michigan Catholic, will speak about the influence of the Catholic press.

Catholic education will be addressed on Oct. 21 and 28. Sister Mary Serra, assistant superintendent of schools in the archdiocese, will speak about the elementary and high school systems on Oct. 21, and Sister Mary Lauriana, vice president of Madonna College, will speak about higher education on Oct. 28.

There is a $5 fee for each lecture. The public is invited. For further information, call 591-5188.

Yoga Day '83 is approaching

The Yoga Association of Greater Detroit is holding a full-day of yoga seminars and sessions Saturday, Oct. 15, at the North Congregational Church at 26275 Northwestern Highway in Southfield.

The program features 30 classes and is geared to a variety of interests — those curious but ignorant of Yoga; those trying to reduce their stress levels; athletes looking for a stretching program; those interested in natural healing; experienced Yoga practitioners.

For information on available sessions and fees, call 557-0047.

Remembering 'Ginny'

Redford Baptist Church member Mrs. Don McGuigan gets in the swing of things during "Project Ginny."

Larry Caruso

CLEANING and making repairs at Redford Pioneer Cemetery went off like clockwork for members of Redford Baptist Church who conducted "Project Ginny" in memory of a devoted church member who died last year from cancer.

Funds collected at the time of Virginia "Ginny" Crossley's death were used to carry out a series of good works projects in her honor.

The cemetery cleanup was one project. Basic home repairs and other tasks requested by the elderly and the needy in the Redford were other projects.

About 100 volunteers were involved. Later this month, at a mission night service, members will share a fellowship evening, recalling the summer work experience in Burnsville, N.C., where a helping hand was extended to needy residents, and the "Project Ginny" weekend.

'Project Ginny' participants had to wire brush the rusted areas of the Redford Township Pioneer Cemetery fence on Telegraph Road before painting it.

• HOSANNA TABOR LUTHERAN

Robert Schultz, principal and teacher at Hosanna Tabor Lutheran Church, 9600 Leverage, Redford, will be honored at morning services Sunday at the church. He will be celebrating his 25th anniversary as a Lutheran educator.

Schultz was born in Detroit in 1925 and was confirmed in Grace Lutheran in Highland Park. He graduated from Lutheran High School and from Concordia College in Seward, Neb. He worked as teacher and youth director at Zion Lutheran Church in Detroit. In 1968 he became principal and teacher at Hosanna Tabor.

In addition to his parish duties, Schultz is mission project director for the Lutheran Schools of Michigan, chairman of the Michigan District School Committee and treasurer of the board of directors of the Lutheran High School Association.

• NATIVITY UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST

Dr. Michael H. Carman will be installed Sunday as pastor of Nativity United Church of Christ, 9435 Henry Ruff, Livonia. The celebration will take place at 4 p.m. The choir will perform and the women's fellowship is planning a reception.

The Rev. Eleanor Allen, who is involved in Christian education in the area, will speak.

• KENWOOD CHURCH OF CHRIST

Gary Hawes, executive director of Michigan Christian Campus Ministries, will give a missions presentation at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in Kenwood Church of Christ, 20200 Merriman, Livonia. Michigan Christian Campus Ministries is active on five university campuses in the state.

• NEWBURG UNITED METHODIST

A series called "The Five Gospels — An Account of How the Good News Came To Be" will begin at 9:15 a.m. Sunday in Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia.

The series is based on the text written by John C. Maegher, professor of religion and English at the University of Toronto.

• FAIRLANE ASSEMBLY

The Rev. Morris Williams, Assemblies of God field director for Africa since 1971, will speak at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday in Fairlane Assembly, 22575 Ann Arbor Trail, Dearborn Heights. He directs the ministry of 300 missionaries who work with more than 3,500 national pastors in evangelism and church establishment in Africa.

From 1946-61 he participated in the organization of the Assemblies of God church in Malawi, Central Africa. He helped establish the Malawi Bible School and served as its principal.

• HOLY RESURRECTION ORTHODOX

A neighborhood tea will take place from 1-4 p.m. Sunday in Holy Resurrection Orthodox Church, 36075 Seven Mile, Livonia. Its purpose is to acquaint neighbors with the church.

• MAIN STREET BAPTIST

A showing of the film "Jesus is Victor" is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Main Street Baptist Church, 8500 N. Morton-Taylor, Canton. It is the story of Corrie ten Boom, a Dutch Christian. She and her family saved the lives of hundreds of Jews during World War II.

• CHRIST COMMUNITY

For the duration of the strike by Plymouth-Canton school employees, Christ Community Church of Canton will hold worship services at the Canton Recreation Center at Sheldon and Michigan. Services are at 10 a.m. However there will be no Sunday school until the church can again use Plymouth-Canton High School.

• HOLY CROSS LUTHERAN

The thought of Martin Luther will be explored in a series of classes sponsored by the Institute for Adult Education of local Lutheran parishes starting Wednesday, Oct. 19, in Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 30650 Six Mile, Livonia. The course continues for five weeks through Nov. 16.

First hour classes are from 7:15-8:15 p.m.; second hour from 8:30-9:30 p.m. A $5 registration fee per person or couple will cover attendance at one or both sessions.

To be discussed are major world religions with Richard Lieberknecht and the theology of Martin Luther led by Sue Bergson in the first hour. They will be followed by "Luther: The Kingdom of God — Justice and Peace" conducted by Holy Trinity pastor the Rev. James Spilos, and Letter to the Romans with the Rev. Robert Seltz, also pastor of Holy Trinity.

A two-hour course on systematic training for effective parenting will be presented from 7:15-9:30 p.m.

• WARRENWOODS WESLEYAN

Ben Markley, a baritone singer, will present a concert at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Warrenwoods Wesleyan Church, 6615 Venoy, Westland. During the past 10 years he has performed more than 2,500 concerts in this country, and has recorded with orchestras in London and Los Angeles.

• PLYMOUTH FIRST BAPTIST

A "Christmas in October" dinner will be held at 6 p.m. Saturday at First Baptist Church, 45000 N. Territorial, Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rumohr, on furlough from Zaire, will be guest speakers. Money placed in envelopes on the Christmas tree will be sent to missionaries.

• LAKE POINTE BIBLE CHAPEL

Boys and girls in western Wayne County who are 5-13 are invited to a week-long series of "Happy Night" meetings Oct. 17-21 at Lake Point Chapel, 42150 Schoolcraft, Plymouth. Child evangelist Frank Kierdorf will present a Bible story while Al McDonald will present a Bible story. Balloons, clowns, chalk talks and contest prizes will be part of the festivities. Meetings are at 6:45-8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• ST. DAMIAN CATHOLIC

The film series "His Stubborn Love" featuring Joyce Landorf will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in St. Damian Catholic Church, 29891 Joy, Westland. The series will continue through Nov. 10.

• ST. JOHN EPISCOPAL

Tickets are $4 each or $15 for a table of four. They are available at the door or by calling 464-0080 or 455-4980. Robert Schultz.

Care is bankrupt in a life of busyness

A man walking his dog. A busy executive walking his dog in the fading hours of a fall day. A suburban scene. A common scene.

It was also a father of two children walking that dog. It was really the father's dog and the father was seldom able to be home early enough to take the dog for a walk or play with his children.

I would probably have ignored the connection between the scene on the street in my community and the relationship of the father to his children except for two experiences of recent weeks.

Two young people came to talk. They were forlorn. They were lonely. They were hungry. They were desperate. Their stories were amazingly alike (but then how unique has this pattern come?)

moral perspectives
Rev. Lloyd Buss

Both parents employed. Both parents always busy. Several moves to better neighborhoods. Discipline problems in junior high and senior high. Parents divorced. Dashed hopes of personal success.

An all too-common story. But these two young people, in separate conversations, observed one other fact. "Everyone was hurt except the family dog."

pression of anguish. It was a cry of despair.

And I remember it as I watched the man, busy executive all to infrequently able to be home, a father of two children, walking the dog in the fading hours of a fall day.

What does it take to create a family life where all parties involved are nurtured and supported, encouraged and directed to the fulfillment of life's gifts and purposes?

When Rodin, the sculptor, was asked how to make an elephant out of marble, he answered, "Take a piece of marble large enough to be an elephant, and chip away everything that isn't one."

There is a regard for life in the Judeo-Christian heritage that goes beyond the simple maintenance of flesh and blood. Providing food and clothing and shelter is only the beginning of care that one generation provides to the next one following after.

The bankruptcy of care in a lifestyle filled with busyness, the crushing of spirit and the erosion of hope are as serious an abandonment of responsibility as the failure to feed, clothe and shelter.

Rodin's advice to would-be sculptors might well be applied to the opportunities of life given to us in children. There is more to be cut away from our practice than to be added.

IT WAS a manner of speech. An ex-

Tennessee diary: Chattanooga's Lookout Mountain

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — Chattanooga is a Creek Indian word that means "rock rising to a point." The rock that rises above this green bowl of trees is Lookout Mountain, site of the "Battle Above the Clouds" during the Civil War, site now of Chattanooga's most popular tourist attraction.

There are two points of view about the garish signs that clutter the highway approaches to Lookout Mountain — they are either "Americana" in an old medicine-show sense, or they offend people enough to make them avoid the mountain altogether.

That would be a shame, because the 145-foot underground waterfall and the mountainside rock garden are worth every curving mile up the hill.

Lookout Mountain is one of four mountains looking down on this city beside the Tennessee River. The others are Signal, Elder and Raccoon mountains. Decisive battles of the War Between the States were fought here and on nearby Missionary Ridge (so named because the Indians decreed that this was as far into their territory as the missionaries could go).

1-of-a-kind traveler Iris Jones
contributing travel editor

Lookout Mountain, that rock rising to a point, is the best known mountain because of its distinctive shape and geography. An inclined railway pulls you steeply uphill to the top. Point Park, its edges silhouetted by nineteenth century cannons, gives you a dramatic view of the city. It is hard to imagine up here that a waterfall is cascading 1,120 feet under the ground on which you stand.

RUBY FALLS is named for Ruby Lambert, the wife of the man who discovered it falling in underground darkness in 1928. Leo Lambert was one of the private investors drilling through Lookout Mountain to build an elevator to a deeper, known cave on the 460-foot level.

When the drill found an unexpected pocket of air on the 260-foot level, Leo went in to explore. Seventeen hours later he came out with excited stories about an unexplored cave and a glorious 145-foot underground waterfall.

Today, you walk two-fifths of a mile from the elevator to Ruby Falls, through a tastefully lighted tunnel. The lights highlight draped rock formations with names like "Crystal Chandelier" and "Totem Pole," plus a few that the guides have named "Bloody Nose Boulder" and "Headache Rock."

The only hokey touch is when you approach the falls. A dramatic burst of music, a moment of total darkness and then the lights go on. A ribbon of water cascades down through a chimney of rock. It's worth the walk.

Admission is $4 for adults, $2 for kids 6-12.

ROCK CITY. You've seen lots of rocky mountainsides with sweeping landscapes of rock, and trees tucked into shady hollows, but you've probably never seen one with rock-walled pathways and signs saying "Hall of the Mountain King" and "Fat Man's Squeeze."

For most of us, such landscapes are scenic, but it took Frieda Carter to see this sandstone mountainside as a rock garden. Not the tiny rock garden full of wildflowers that you and I have in our backyards, but a 10-acre garden with rock bridges connecting mountain slopes.

Flowers and trees are skillfully cultivated on wild slopes, and you can lean across a stone balustrade to a magnificent view of the valley below.

Mrs. Carter saw that view for the first time in 1924 when her husband, Garnet Carter, was developing this mountain slope as a housing development. They kept this particular sweep of rock because you couldn't build a house on it anyway.

Frieda Carter marked a path through the landscape unwinding a ball of string as she walked among the rock formations. Then she planted a variety of plants along the string trail.

GARNET WIDENED the trail with flagstone and built stone bridges to make the view more accessible. He was an enterprising man. When he couldn't build a golf course beside a hotel project nearby, he invented miniature golf and called it Tom Thumb Golf.

When Carter went broke during the Depression, he opened his wife's garden to the public and called it Rock City. Barn roofs all over the countryside suddenly bloomed with a three-word sign: "SEE ROCK CITY." Carter painted a farmer's barn free in exchange for the advertising space.

Nowadays, after you've paid your admission ($5.50 for adults, $2.75 for children 6-12), you can walk the stone pathways through mountain tunnels, across the rock bridges and between narrow clefts of rock to fully enjoy the cool, tree garden that the Carters created for you.

Only when you start to see elves tucked in a niche of rock does the garden begin to get "touristy," but that's the best part for the kids. Carter had a lot of elves from his Tom Thumb Golf Courses, so it is not surprising that many of them found their way here or that Fairyland Caverns should have been added in 1947.

The Caverns are fairy tale exhibits visible from a tunnel that was built for another purpose. Garnet Carter was trying to build a miniature railway there when the roof fell in. The Fairyland ends with a huge Mother Goose Village added in 1964.

The 145-foot underground waterfall and the mountainside rock garden are worth every curving mile up the hill.

The tunnel to Ruby Falls inside Lookout Mountain is lined with rock formations. Left: The trip to Lookout Mountain begins with a trip in the incline railway, a ride which is itself an adventure.

Tourist attractions around Chattanooga

Chattanooga calls itself the Scenic Center of the South. It is located at the junction of I-75, I-59 and I-24. There are many other things to do in the area other than the attractions on Lookout Mountain.

The Chattanooga Choo-Choo is a complex of restaurants, shops, model railway museum and hotel in the center of town. I'm saving my story about that for another day.

Civil War buffs may enjoy a private tourist attraction called Confederama on Lookout Mountain. It is a large model with Union and Confederate troops at battle stations and a narrator who uses lights to show the progress of the war.

The Chickamauga-Chattanooga National Military Park is the nation's oldest, largest and most-visited military park, found by following a seven-mile marked trail though eight historic areas.

You might also be interested in the Raccoon Mountain Caverns; riding the one-mile skyride to top of Raccoon Mountain; visiting the Old Mountain Opry on Signal Mountain; riding a raft down the Ocoee River rapids; or visiting one of Chattanooga's museums.

Hunter Museum of Art has a fine contemporary collection, as well as the eighteenth and nineteenth century collection for which it is known. There is an excellent collection of antique glass and antique furniture next door in the Houston Museum. The National Knife Museum is the only museum of its kind in the country.

For information, contact Chattanooga Convention and Visitors Bureau, Civic Forum, 1001 Market Street, Chattanooga, TN, 37402 or telephone (615) 756-2121.

Rail trip set

The Bluewater Michigan chapter of the National Railway Historical Society will sponsor a fall color 500-mile round-trip from Pontiac to Dayton, Ohio, and return on Saturday, Oct. 22.

At Dayton, buses will take passengers for a 3-hour visit to the Air Force Museum at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base where there is an extensive collection of air and space craft.

The Dayton-Flyer, powered by a diesel engine, will have heated coaches, a commissary car and a dining car selling snacks and sandwiches.

The trip starts at 6:45 a.m. and returns at 1 a.m. For information, call 676-1619, 541-5935 or 284-3111.

Thoughts on being older

Dear Jo:
A few days ago I read in our local paper that you were looking for material about older people and how they were coping. I wrote some thoughts on being older a couple of years ago that may be of interest to your readers:
You have time to do things you never dreamed of doing at any other time in your life.
You discover qualities within that have lain dormant until now. Exciting? Yes.
Looking, really looking at the beauty all around you, the flowering trees, roses, holly, even the stark outline of a leafless tree against the sky.
My heart sings "How Great Thou Art."
One day I passed an Injured Monarch butterfly on the sidewalk. I turned back, lifted it gently and placed it on a low bush. I had never done anything like this before. It felt good.
While out walking, I saw a gardener trimming his trees. I told him how much pleasure his garden has given me. He smiled and his face lit up with joy.
Is there anything wrong with saying hi to the school children on the street? They need our approval and friendliness. Or, try tapping a stranger on the shoulder, and say, "You look lovely this morning, has anyone told you so?"

Belonging to a volunteer group in the community has had its rewards with new friends, fellowship, responsibility and worthwhile work. It enables one to have the joy of giving of oneself not to oneself.
Last but not least, when you are older you feel the freedom to write things like this and share your thoughts with others, and that is something pretty special.
Bertha Holt, age 75

Dear Mrs. Holt:
I find the theme of freedom, to write, or do whatever in letters such as yours one of the most fascinating aspects associating with growing older. Thank you.

Dear Jo:
Could you please print the address and cost of the magazine 50 Plus? I plan to give my parents a subscription for the anniversary.
Peter Jebens

Dear Peter:
The address is: 50 Plus, Subscriber Service Dept., 99 Garden Street, Marion, Ohio 43306 and it costs $19 for one year, $36 for two years.

S'craft sports: cost too high?

LET'S PUT A pricetag on sports. That's what this Schoolcraft College controversy is all about, after all. Money. And importance. Are local sports programs, Schoolcraft College's for example, important enough to cough up extra cash for? It's a question with as many answers as an hourglass has grains of sand. If only you have time to listen to them.

Whatever the reasons for or against, don't be surprised if what is happening at Schoolcraft doesn't somehow make it to a vote of the people. Not right away, perhaps. But the fertilizer's spread and the crop it yields may turn up on a ballot.

IN REVIEW of what has happened at our local community college, it seems the college administration is searching for a place to put business offices and a computer center.

One place they are examining closely is the auxiliary gym. It isn't the only option, as school trustees were quick to point out to a crowd of 150 Tuesday night during a study session in Waterman Center.

But as Dr. Conway Jeffress, vice president in charge of instruction, said, the more the problem is examined, the more attractive the auxiliary gym becomes as a possible location.

THE REASON is lack of space. Jeffress said "half the people that want to get into word processing can't" because the school lacks an area big enough to accommodate the computer center. Space has been an ongoing problem at Schoolcraft over the past few years, and not just for a computer center. The school's enrollment is near its peak, more than 9,000, which only adds to the problem.

Four times in the last dozen years, voters have turned down Schoolcraft requests for money to be earmarked for new construction.

NOW, LIKE A NAME from the past that dodges your searching memory, the unfolding scenario seems reminiscent. Somewhere, somehow, all this is familiar.

And you know you'll recall why, sooner or later. What's happening at Schoolcraft is what often happens when school districts are faced with loss of revenue.

The first thing to go is sports. Why? Because it's visible. People turn down tax increases, so district officials cancel high school sports. It doesn't really save much money, but officials can hide behind the "extracurricular" label tagged onto sports when they cut it. Like, "Anything extra must go."

THE PLOY at Schoolcraft fits that modus operandi. There's no loss of revenue at stake here. But with enrollment rising and classroom space shrinking, what better way to jolt the public than to threaten to curtail the sports program?

Why the auxiliary gym? Three reasons, Jeffress said:

- First, the space needed for the new center is about 10,000 square feet. The gym is about 9,000 square feet in size and could possibly be divided into two floors.

- Second, if an area must be converted, it should be handled with the least amount of disruption to the existing program. The auxiliary gym is not used that much for classes.

- Third, it must be cost-efficient. The administrators are studying whether converting the auxiliary gym would be cost-efficient. They are comparing converting the gym with renting empty public schools or converting other buildings on campus.

BE ASSURED cost is the issue here. Jeffress admitted money for new construction would solve many problems, including the current uproar involving conversion of the auxiliary gym.

"We have many needs here," he said. "There are many programs that need new, adequate facilities. Performing arts, a women's resource center, a day care center — there are many needs we just have no space for."

Add a computer center to the list. "We have to look at the resources we have now before we can consider asking the public for construction funds," Jeffress said. "We would be doing them an injustice if we didn't."

AND THAT MAKES the athletic department the sacrificial lamb. Consider what would happen if no more money becomes available and the auxiliary gym is converted.

Those local residents who enjoy certain activities at Schoolcraft, such as the Sunday Health Club or community service programs, would discover the space for such activities curtailed. Large events, like volleyball tournaments, gymnastics meets and wrestling invitational, would be cancelled.

Practices for athletic teams would be hindered. It could cause the cancellation of certain sports. Jeffress does not agree that sports events would be significantly hindered. Any problems incurred would be no worse than other departments are being asked to shoulder.

"They'll have to pull in their belt and share the responsibilities" due to the lack of space, Jeffress said.

BUT IT JUST doesn't make sense, in the overall picture, to de-emphasize the sports program. Dr. Mary Gans, the school's athletic director, has reached out to the community and become a top-notch PR man for the school.

Livonians hit tourney trail

By Paul King
special writer

John Gelmisi pumped in three goals, two in the first half, as Livonia Stevenson powered past Birmingham Groves, 5-1, in a state pre-regional contest Monday at Stevenson.

In another pre-regional contest Monday, Livonia Bentley grabbed a 2-1 lead at the half and made it stand up to beat Dearborn at Dearborn.

Gelmisi's first half goals helped Stevenson take a 4-1 halftime advantage. Rob Costanza and Eric Pence also tallied for the Spartans, with each earning an assist during the game. Doug Solomon got Groves' only goal. Gelmisi's second-half score gave him 22 goals for the season.

Stevenson's next state tournament contest is Oct. 21 against an opponent to be determined.

BENTLEY FELL BEHIND early against Dearborn but quickly regained the momentum for victory. The Pioneers scored in the first four minutes of the contest, but the Bulldogs' Dennis Patchett knotted it on a penalty kick 19 minutes into the game.

Jim Raderdack got the game winner five minutes before halftime on a 35-yard direct free kick.

Creek Park. The CC-Borgess winner will play at Bentley at 4 p.m. Oct. 21.

CHURCHILL 1, FRANKLIN 0: Dave Gluth punched in a short-range shot from out of a scramble in front of the Livonia Franklin net to lift Livonia Churchill to victory at home Tuesday.

It was a defensive game, with the Chargers' Sam Matovski splendid in goal and fullbacks Mike Duckworth, John Spaccarotella and Mike Nordelli frustrating Franklin's offense.

GARDEN CITY 3, OAK PARK 0: Paul Pummill pounded in his 23rd and 24th goals of the season and added an assist as Garden City won for the 11th time in 12 games this season Tuesday at home.

Jeff Felts notched the Cougars second goal of the game. Brian Deal, Ron Kasperek and Bill Hyde added assists. Jeff Guido and Brian Hall combined for the shutout in the nets.

SALEM 3, HARRISON 1: Randy Johnson and Matt Crook each scored one goal and assisted on another in Plymouth Salem's win at Farmington Harrison Tuesday.

Marathoners look forward

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Livonia's Dennis Kurtis achieved his best finish ever in Sunday's Detroit Free Press Marathon, but he failed to meet his personal goals.

The 1972 Churchill High School graduate was sixth overall with a time of 2:24:31. Dave Olds, a teacher at Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills, finished first with a time of 2:16:10.

"My time wasn't good enough to make the Olympic trials and I didn't win," Kurtis said.

To make next year's trials, marathoners must run 2:19:00 or less.

Kurtis has been close this year, running a 2:20 in Duluth, Minn., a 2:21 in Boston and a 2:24 in the British-American Marathon in London, England (which he won).

"I ran in the Montreal Marathon two weeks ago and halfway through I got very sick," Kurtis said. "I had to coast on in and I ran a 2:30."

"I thought I was recovering very well, but I guess I wasn't recovered."

"Everything was going well through 16 miles, but at 21 miles I slowed down. My legs just seemed to give out and I had no energy."

KURTIS, a warm weather runner, plans to give it another shot next month in a marathon in Tampa, Fla.

Within the next two weeks, Kurtis and his wife could be relocating to San Francisco. Kurtis is in the stage of taking a job with Ford Aerospace.

"I hate to move because I've been in Michigan all my life," he said. "It will affect me as far as running."

"It will make me a better runner. The winters are not as cold and I'll be able to train year-round."

Former Schoolcraft College runner George Hudock of Westland was 22nd overall with a time of 2:29:57.

He is a member of the Racquets Unlimited Racing Team of Livonia, which also included women's champ Cindy Barber of Lincoln Park.

"I have a huge blister on my left foot and 'quads' are sore," said Hudock, a sorter at United Parcel Service. "I'm not really satisfied."

"Going in I was not feeling well. I had caught a cold, but the day of the race I felt better."

"COMING OUT of the tunnel my right calf tightened. I was shooting for 2:26 and then I readjusted my goal at seven or eight miles. I guess my time wasn't too bad."

Hudock's Racquets Unlimited teammate, Tobin Jones, also of Westland, finished 97th in 2:42:57.

Jones ran a 31:07 the day before to finish third in the Border Cities 6.2-mile run in Windsor.

Hudock, a 1977 Franklin High School graduate, and Jones plan to run Nov. 27 in a Philadelphia, Pa. marathon.

"Other area standouts included John Gores of Westland, 31st, 2:33:21; Brian Boston of Westland, 87th, 2:42:06; Rex Perrine of Garden City, 171st, 2:48:25; Randy Step of Livonia, 193rd, 2:49:35; D. Sweeney of Redford, 254th, 2:53:58; David Bawulski of Livonia, 300th, 2:56:52; Robert Knapp and Greg Young, both of Livonia, 310th, 2:57:17."

Bentley, Spartans pass tourney tests

The Rocks fired 33 shots at the Harrison net. Kevin Sultana got the third Salem score, while goalie Joe Knoeri was called on to make just three saves.

On Monday, Salem bombed Livonia Franklin 10-0 behind Johnson's four goals and three by Crook at Salem.

Sultana, Evan Nash and Mark Flowers accounted for the other Rock scores. John Geddes, Jeff Neschich and John Kolb had two assists apiece, while Knoeri and Curt Clarke split the goalkeeping duties.

Last Saturday, the Rocks weren't as fortunate, dropping a 3-1 decision to undefeated Toledo St. John's at Salem.

The Titans' Pat Mannion scored the game's only goal of the first half, but Crook tied it 21 minutes into the second half. It didn't stay that way long, however, as Doug Mitchell put St. John's back on top with a 15-yard poke off a crossing pass five minutes later.

Mike Mason added an insurance score for St. John's (13-0-1). Shots were even in the game at 13-all.

CATH. CENTRAL 0, NOTRE DAME 0: Goalkeepers Pat Stocker of CC and Gino Soave of Harper Woods Notre Dame were unbeatable in this Catholic League scoreless tie Tuesday at Notre Dame.

Stocker made 10 saves to nine for Soave. CC must now beat Warren DeLaSalle today to earn a berth into the league playoffs.

On Saturday, the Shamrocks'

soccer

Andy Rama fired in all four CC goals in a 4-0 triumph at Dearborn Edsel Ford.

CC outshot the Thunderbirds, 30-8, with goalie Bob Sinnaeve earning his first shutout of the season. Rama's goal spree ran his scoring total to 25 for the season, with 11 assists.

STEVENSON 10, FARMINGTON 0: John Drouillard and Joe Novak each collected a hat trick and Chris Wigel popped in two goals in Livonia Stevenson's romp at home Tuesday.

Stevenson led 8-0 at the half. Rob Costanza and John Gelmsi also scored for the Spartans and Drouillard had two assists.

NORTHVILLE 2, CANTON 1: Brian Dragon broke a 1-1 deadlock with a blast from 20 yards out 18 minutes into the second half to boost Northville past Plymouth Canton Tuesday at Northville.

Steve Morell scored the Chiefs' goal on an assist from Tom Wright. Northville's Steve Starcevic tied it on a 35-yard direct free kick. Canton goalie Dave Hawkins made 12 saves in the contest.

BENTLEY 1, N. FARMINGTON 1: Jeff Keller's goal gave North Farmington its second tie of the season against no wins and 10 losses Tuesday at Bentley.

Bishop Borgess football coach Gary Cook was concerned about his next opponent after his team upset backyard rival Catholic Central the week before.

But his worst fears were erased Saturday as the Spartans rolled to their fifth straight victory, a 28-0 Central Division triumph over Harper Woods Notre Dame at Garden City Junior High School (Old West).

It was Borgess' eighth straight win and third shutout of the season.

"We played pretty well," said Cook. "I was worried about a letdown, but the kids came out and played well."

Borgess got on the scoreboard in the first quarter on a 13-yard touchdown run by fullback Tim Walton.

That was followed by TD runs of 73 yards by Fred Owens, and 56 yards by Chuck Gregory, giving the Spartans a 18-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Gregory fired a 61-yard TD pass to Fred Portillo. That was followed by a 21-yard field goal by Joe Burns in the final quarter.

Owens, a junior tailback, finished with 123 yards in 15 carries. He has 666 yards on the season for a 9.0 rushing average and six TDs. Cook was pleased by the balanced offensive attack as Walton added 74 and Gregory 54 yards on the ground.

Gregory also hit five of six passes for 128 yards as Borgess racked up 411 total yards.

Defensively, the Spartans held Notre Dame to 197 total yards.

Walton led the way with 11 tackles and Leroy Woods added six tackles, including two sacks. Borgess had five sacks on the day.

Cornerback Gorde Pacheco also had an excellent day, limiting ND's outstanding receiver Brian Graham to two catches.

Borgess returns to action Friday night to meet Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher at Old West.

ST. AGATHA 32, HAMTRAMCK ST. FLORIAN 6: Senior tight-end/linebacker Andy Robertson is becoming the Aggies' "Chief, Cook and Bottle Washer."

He caught TD pass of 22, 23 and 41 yards Saturday in Agatha's 32-6 triumph over Hamtramck St. Florian.

football

Robertson, who finished with five catches for 168 yards, also kicked two extra points and made 11 tackles to lead the team. His other duties include kicking off and returning punts and kicks.

"He's our best player by far," said Agatha coach John Goddard.

Frank Hill threw two TD passes to Robertson, while John Orzech had the other on a 41-yard pitch pass.

Agatha gained 361 total yards. Kevin Bell was the leading rusher, getting 77 yards in nine carries. He scored one TD on a 21-yard run and intercepted one pass. Orzech had the other TD, going 24 yards for the score.

John Schesperkin and Robertson led the defense, which held Florian to 137 total yards.

"Our whole defense played well I thought," said Goddard, whose team is 1-1 in C Bracket play and 2-3 overall.

The Aggies travel Sunday to face C Bracket leader Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, unbeaten in five starts.

"They beat Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard 14-8 and we lost to Richard 14-6," Goddard said. "We think we're capable of beating them, but we can't make mistakes. We should have beaten Richard. We inside the 10 three times and didn't score."

"We're getting seven sophomores and we're starting a little better each week."

Goddard said that Lakes runner Bob Schuster "is a great back" and coach Mike Boyd "is one of the best in the Catholic League."

"They're not big and not that quick," said Goddard of his next opponent. "But they just don't beat themselves. That's why they're rated No. 5 in Class D."

Whise harrier paces win; CC goes to 5-0

Redford Bishop Borgess edged Livonia Ladywood Tuesday in a girls' cross country meet at Cass Benton Park, 26-30, behind Kris Whise's first place clocking of 21:09.

Borgess, now 4-3, also got outstanding performances from Sherry Williams, third place, 22:11; Sue Panek, sixth, 23:20; Kelley Dooley, seventh, 23:23; and Sheri Crank, ninth, 24:00.

Sheri Cordero led Ladywood with a second-place time of 21:46. She was followed by teammates Sue Willey, fourth, 22:37; Carolyn Hesch, fifth, 23:04; Kathy Denhard, eighth, 23:29; Colleen McGillis, 10th, 25:24.

The Borgess boys, meanwhile, fell to Birmingham Brother Rice on Monday, 15-50. Rice put the first 17 runners across the finish line, led by David Thornberry's clocking of 16:58.

Chris Snabes was the best Borgess runner, posting a time of 19:07.

REDFORD CATHOLIC CENTRAL clinched the Central Division with a 15-50 triumph Monday over Warren DeLaSalle at Cass Benton.

The Shamrocks finished their league dual season at 5-0.

CC swept the first seven spots led by Steve Shaver's 15:54. He was followed by teammates Marty Hegarty, 16:19; Pat Isom, Mark Anderson, Jim Caulzilo, Chris Rito and Jim Ransweller, all in 16:57.

GARDEN CITY held off Westland John Glenn last week in a Northwest Suburban League dual at Hines Park, 26-30.

The Cougars are now 4-3 overall. Dave Homann ran 16:12 to lead GC, while Glenn's Jay Hunt was second in 16:45.

Other GC runners included Jim Finetti, third, 17:19; Brian Pritchard, fourth, 17:21; and Tom Anthony, seventh, 17:59.

Glenn's Tod Lilla was fifth in 17:26 and teammate Jim Kolodziej was sixth in 17:51.

LIVONIA STEVENSON'S Ken Dubols was the overall individual winner

Tuesday in the Redford Union Invitational at Cass.

He was clocked in 15:57.

Dearborn Fordson and Dearborn finished one-two in the team standings with 74 and 100 points, respectively.

Farmington was third with 131 followed by Walled Lake Western, 138; Livonia Churchill, 181; RU, 206; Northville and Livonia Bentley, 252; Plymouth Salem, 254; Belleville, 255; Trenton, 301; North Farmington, 308; John Glenn, 313; Plymouth Canton, 314; Stevenson, 319; Walled Lake Central, 335; Garden City, 409; Farmington Harrison, 424; Allen Park, 461; Redford Thurston, 504.

C.J. Risak sports column

He's brought Russian basketball teams and Dutch wrestlers to Livonia. Schoolcraft hosts an AAU All-Star basketball game with the best graduating high school seniors in the state competing. Soccer tournaments, like the Wolverine, attract the nation's top teams.

World National Sports Festival officials still consider Schoolcraft as the site of the volleyball, soccer, field hockey and archery competitions if facilities were not available? Detroit is vying for the 1985, 1986 or 1987 games, and NSF officials have already visited Schoolcraft to determine its feasibility.

MONEY ISN'T the question here. Publicity is. If "Discover Michigan" promoters did as good a job as Gans does, our state would be overrun with tourists.

There's no doubt Schoolcraft athletic facilities attract people to the campus (example: the more than 1,800 who turned out for the Livonia Ladywood-Farmington Mercy girls high school basketball game 10 days ago). Cutting back could only hurt enrollment.

Which leaves us to ponder another type of "publicity." Idle thought or real possibility? Can the auxiliary gym be genuinely considered for something other than athletics?

I think not. I certainly hope not.

Livonia boxers impressive at state championships

By Scott Soucy
special writer

Middleweight Steve Darnell and featherweight Mike Dardini, both of the Livonia Boxing Club, went into the 1983 Michigan Amateur Boxing Federation (ABF) state championships with high hopes of gaining a bid to the nationals in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dardini, however, was sidetracked in his first bout, losing a close decision to an old nemesis, Tim McCalvin of Detroit Johnson.

Darnell, meanwhile, was more successful, defeating Tussand Jewell, a teammate of McCalvin, on an unanimous decision Saturday, Oct. 1 at the Holland Civic Center. He won another bout en route to the finals.

"Mike just happened to draw one of the division's best boxers for his first opponent," said Livonia coach Paul Soucy. "It was a good fight and the decision was close enough that either boxer could have won the nod of the judges."

DARNELL and Jewell started slowly in their match, but by the second round Darnell began to land some punches.

In the third round, Darnell used his superior hand speed and punching power to gain control of the fight.

Darnell followed by winning his semifinal bout last Saturday at Muskegon's Catholic Central High School, outsmarting Doug Anderson, a rugged boxer from Lansing Community College.

"Steve fought a very good technical fight against Anderson," said Livonia coach Dick Quilton. "He didn't let the crowd get to him, and he was in control from start to finish."

"When we saw this guy (Anderson) fight last week, we thought Steve would have his hands full," said Soucy, "but he was never in any trouble."

THE FINALS, held on the same night, pitted Darnell against Olsego's Simon Johnson, who had reached the state title match by winning a controversial decision over Orrlice McGee of Detroit PAL.

Darnell lost on a split decision, much to the dismay of Soucy.

"They switched the judges around before the bout even though the state commission told them not to," said Livonia coach. "And the deciding vote was cast by the wife of Johnson's trainer."

"She gave him all three rounds, even though Steve had won."

The Livonians are protesting the decision, filing a written grievance with the state Boxing Commission to attempt to overturn the verdict.

"They can't take the title from him," said the Livonia coach, "but they could make the two finalists co-champions."

DARNELL, however, still has a crack at the nationals and a spot in the Olympic trials when Michigan team members take on Ohio in the ABF Region VI championships Oct. 29 in Detroit.

Thurston keeps streak going

Redford Thurston keeps rolling along the greens and fairways of high school golf.

The Eagles had the eye again Monday at Western Golf and Country Club, beating Westland's John Glenn for their 13th consecutive dual match win of the season, 208-232.

Mike Maurin fired an even-par 36 to gain medalist honors for Thurston. He was followed by teammates Gary Garris, 41; Jeff Carnahan, 42; and John Pearson, 43.

Eric McDougall was Glenn's top shooter with a 41.

Last week, Thurston turned back Livonia Franklin in another Northwest Suburban League (NSL) match at Whispering Willows, 201-233.

Maurin led the way with a one-over 37. Pearson and Carnahan each shot 39, while Garris and Dan Rokas each carded 43.

Henry Miller shot a 44 to pace Franklin.

Thurston returns to dual meet action today against Garden City, then plays Friday at Hilltop in the Class A region-at tournament, hosted by Livonia Churchill.

The NSL meet is scheduled for Monday at Kensington.

REDFORD CATHOLIC CENTRAL placed third out of 16 teams in the Catholic League championships Monday at Hilltop in Plymouth.

Birmingham Brother Rice, led by Bill O'Connor's 73, won the team title with 312 strokes. Central Division dual champ Harper Woods Notre Dame was second with 323 followed by CC with 328.

Redford St. Agatha shot 373, finishing 13th overall.

Rob Medonis shot a 78 on the par-70 layout to lead the Shamrocks. Teammate Scott Alexander tied Brother Rice's Chuck Christie and Steve Lynch for 10th with an 81.

Bulldogs hold off late Walled Lake bid

Lakes Division leader Livonia Bentley posted an important basketball victory on the road Tuesday night, downing Walled Lake Central, 54-51.

The Bulldogs, now 10-1 overall and 8-1 in Western Lakes Conference play, held off a Viking rally in the final quarter thanks to six points from Bridget Nicol (off the bench) and two crucial free throws by Sheri Wolfe with a minute to play, sealing the victory.

Wolfe led Bentley with 15 points. Lonnie Payne and Laurie Day added 11 and 10, respectively.

Payne fouled out in the fourth quarter, but Day made a key basket on a follow-up shot after an Amy Weber steal and miss.

Patti Fitzgerald paced Central with 16 points, while Pam Fitzgerald and Sherry Strohs added 14 and 12, respectively.

Central led 26-19 at half, but Bentley charged back with a 19-11 scoring outburst in the third period.

"The difference in the first half was that we were called for traveling five or six times on shots we made," said Bentley coach Tom Lang, "and we were only two of 14 from the free throw line in the first half, but seven of nine in the second half."

JOHN GLENN 54, EDESEL FORD 46:

Michele McCullen busted loose for 21 points Tuesday to give the Westland cagers a non-league win over the visiting Thunderbirds.

Darla Bergman, coming off a sprained ankle, added nine points, nine rebounds and four steals. Point guard Julie Pucel contributed nine points, six rebounds and seven assists.

Coach George Sommerer also singled out the defensive effort off the bench by Julie Hysko.

Glenn (8-2) led all the way after jumping out to a 13-8 first quarter lead.

"In the second half we missed some easy shots," said Sommerer. "Tonight we did some good things and some bad things."

"We played a good zone defense and they didn't get inside. But we not finishing the good plays. We made some turnovers and a few fast breaks were not completed."

In an Northwest Suburban League (NSL) played last week, Glenn drilled Redford Thurston, 46-23, behind 13 points from Diana Sommerer and 12 from Cheryl Dozier.

Julie Engle led Thurston (1-9) with nine points.

SALEM 44, FRANKLIN 15: The Rocks outscored visiting Franklin 14-2 in the opening quarter and 18-4 in the final period to post the lopsided non-league win.

Pam McBride and Mary Beth West led Salem (8-3) with 10 points each.

"They came ready to play and we didn't," said Franklin coach Tim New-

GC, RU struggle, but win

Garden City, thanks to 10 points each from Sue Tankersley and Tammy Naramore, evened its record at 5-5 Tuesday with a non-league girls' basketball win over visiting Dearborn Heights Annapolis.

The Cougars won it by outscoring Annapolis 10-2 in the second period.

"We played good defense the first three quarters," said GC coach Jan Moore. "Defensively, we do a good job, but we can't get the ball in the basket. We miss layups."

18-5 surge in the final period, Tuesday at home.

"We played horrendous for three quarters," said RU coach Terri Anthony. "We just had too many turnovers."

"But it was a non-league game, and when you play an 0-10 team you don't get as fired up."

Sophomore center Julie Marchand poured in 21 points and added 21 rebounds for the winners. Kellie Szabo added six points and 11 assists, while sophomore Marie Becker chipped in with six points, all from the free throw line.

Karen Sklar scored 11 in a losing cause.

man, whose team is 7-4 overall. "They played four quarters and we played one."

"That was the lowest amount of points we've scored in two years."

"It's our third loss in a row and we're not playing good basketball. We have to regroup."

STEVENSON 57, FARMINGTON 46: Mary Kay Hussey scored 24 points, grabbed 11 rebounds and had eight steals Tuesday to lead the host Spartans past Farmington in a Western Lakes battle.

Amy Rozman chipped in with 11 points and 11 rebounds for the winners and Lisa Bokovoy added 10 points and seven steals.

They offset the 32-point performance by Farmington's Alyse Fortune. Rhonda Lancaster, meanwhile, added 10 in a losing cause.

Stevenson put the Falcons away with an 18-9 outburst in the third quarter after trailing by one at the half.

"We changed zones in the second half and we were able to hold them to seven field goals," said Stevenson coach Wayne Henry.

Stevenson, now 7-4, came up with 22 steals as a team.

Central captures Western Lakes title

No surprises here. Walled Lake Central and Walled Lake Western, the two Western Lakes Athletic Association Division champs, placed one and two respectively in the league meet last Monday.

Central, the Lakes Division champ, had a team score of 390 which won the match by 10 strokes. Western, the Western Division champs, scored 400.

Western's Brent Kish was the meet's medalist, shooting a 72.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL placed third (410) and Livonia Stevenson (417) was fourth.

Farmington was next with a 418, then Northville followed with 419. Plymouth-Canton (422), Livonia Bentley (430), Plymouth Salem (447), and Farmington Harrison (472), rounded out the field.

Besides Kish, others to make the All-

League team were, Dave Smith, Walled Lake Western, 73; Chris LaFave, Walled Lake Central, 76; Craig Szew, Stevenson, 77; and Greg Davies, Walled Lake Central, 77.

All-Western Division honors went to Bob Pegrum, Northville, 79; John Fournier and Todd Vollick, both shot 79 and both are from Churchill; Chris Semik, Churchill, 81; and Pete Morman, Canton, 82.

The All-Lakes Division team consisted of Harry Youmans from Stevenson, 78; Mark Baily of Farmington, 78; Dan Wood, Walled Lake Central, 79; and Bob Allen, Bentley, 80.

Is buying mortgage life insurance your wisest move?

If you are like most homeowners, you probably have yielded to market pressures and have bought mortgage insurance. This article may help you re-examine your decision.

Mortgage life insurance is simply decreasing term insurance, the most inexpensive type there is. With decreasing term, the face-value — or benefit that would be paid at death — diminishes over the years but premium payments stay the same.

This decreasing face-value feature is appropriate because the balance owed on the loan steadily drops.

THE PREMIUMS are, as a rule, added to the monthly mortgage payments. Medical examinations usually are not required. Policies that cover both spouses are sold.

These are some of the advantages of mortgage life insurance. However, there are several disadvantages as well, as detailed below:

- Your family might have no control over the proceeds. Under the typical policy, the money would go directly to the mortgage lender for retiring the debt.

- Paying off the mortgage might not be in your survivors' best interest. It could be advantageous to invest any finances and you

discretionary money and keep paying on the loan — especially if the interest rate is low.

A loan that is assumable could increase the property's value and make it easier to sell. Also, paying the balance would wipe out the federal income tax deduction for interest.

• The insurance would not pay for taxes, upkeep and other costs of maintaining the home.

• IF YOU WANT additional insurance, you could probably get a better deal by buying decreasing term directly from an insurance company of your choice. The cost could be lower, and you would choose the terms and be able to choose who you want to be the beneficiary.

So the moral is clear: On balance, you are much better off acquiring life insurance as part of an overall plan, rather than buying mortgage life insurance merely to take care of your mortgage loan.

Put differently, you should look at your entire financial requirements and figure total life insurance needs. That is by far a much better alternative than merely to take care of your mortgage loan.

Sid Mittra is president of Coordinated Financial Planning Inc., Troy, and a professor of economics at Oakland University, Rochester.

Star describes play as message of love

By Ethel Simmons
staff writer

ACTOR JOHN AMOS, starring in "Master Harold" . . . and the boys" at the Birmingham Theatre, described the play's message as he sees it:

"It's about love between three individuals when the relationship is jeopardized without outside pressures," he said, during an interview backstage in his dressing room Tuesday morning.

The show opened in Birmingham at a benefit performance hosted by the Oakland County ACLU and civil rights leaders. Its run will continue through Nov. 6.

Wearing a plaid shirt and jeans and a casual hat, Amos strode to the dressing room window on arrival, opening it to the sounds of construction work going on in what formerly was a parking lot behind the theater.

The fresh air outweighed the minor noise disturbance.

THE POWERFULLY built actor, who was at one time a professional football player, has also been a social worker, a stand-up comedian and TV comedy writer before becoming an actor. His many performances include the memorable role of Kunte Kinte in the TV mini-series "Roots."

Amos said "Master Harold," the play by Athol Fugard, is "beautifully written. These are the best words I've ever had to say. I'd read and heard about his work. But it's different when you're acting. You try to give it a little bit extra."

He is pleased with the ensemble acting he shares with Paul Butler as Willie and Brian Backer as Hally. Amos is Sam, who works with Willie in the South African tearoom run by the teenage schoolboy's mother.

"We're fortunate to have Suzanne Shepherd as director," he said. "She knows the play so well. Shepherd has directed the South African company production of "Master Harold." "She and Athol are very good friends," he said.

Amos talked freely about his working relationship with his co-stars. "It's a real relationship between three actors," he explained. "Paul Butler has a son in Yale Law School. I have a 13-year-old boy and a 17-year-old girl. We can see him (young Brian Backer) as parents, being older actors."

HE RECALLED an earlier performance of the play before an audience of some 35 casting directors. "Brian was so terrified. He thought he was going to the electric chair! He showed his sensibilities."

In the play, Sam and Willie talk about a dance competition they are looking forward to. "The two guys have found something to attach joy to," Amos said. Willie uses the analogy of dancers later in the play when he says everybody in the whole world is bumping into each other and causing problems.

Of the theme in "Master Harold,"

Amos said, "I'm talking about the whole world. It's bigger than a race thing. Willie talks about how people are bumping into each other. It's beyond a color thing."

Amos had done some run-throughs of the play in a rehearsal hall but found it especially challenging to fill in for James Earl Jones, who has been starring in the Toronto company of "Master Harold."

"It was interesting to feel the chemistry from the two other actors." Here, the chemistry is "a very unique company," he said.

AMOS HOPES this production will continue beyond the Birmingham Theatre engagement. "I would like to do this more. It's a fine play."

Born in New Jersey, the actor recently moved back there after living 15 years in California. "New Jersey may not be Malibu but I know it's not going to slide into the ocean this weekend," he said.

Amiable John Amos reflects during interview at Birmingham Theatre, where he stars as Sam, a substitute father to Hally (Harold), in "Master Harold" . . . and the boys."

3-man cast matches up to strong drama

Performances of the Birmingham Theatre production of Athol Fugard's "Master Harold" . . . and the boys" continue through Nov. 6 at the theater, 211 S. Woodward, Birmingham. For ticket information call the box office at 644-3533.

"Master Harold" . . . and the boys" is a powerful drama, flawlessly acted by an outstanding cast at the Birmingham Theatre.

South African playwright Athol Fugard hones his messages to sharp barbs, not to prick at conscience but to drive them home like stakes aimed at a vampire's heart.

Set in a dreary South African tearoom in 1950, "Master Harold" examines the fragile relationship between a troubled white adolescent (Brian Backer) and the two black men (John Amos and Paul Butler) employed at his mother's restaurant.

review

Though performed without intermission to heighten the dramatic intensity, this skillfully constructed play divides naturally into three well-balanced segments.

THE FIRST section finds the trio warmly reminiscing. An unhappy child, young Hally would often seek refuge in the servants' quarters with Sam and Willie. Sam, superbly played by Amos, is the more worldly and assertive of the two blacks.

Aware of Hally's pain, he becomes his friend, confidante and substitute father figure. He is well aware of the uniqueness of their relationship and its limitations.

After a disturbing phone call from his mother, Hally's mood starts to vacillate. His high-spirited clowning with Sam and Willie is interrupted by compulsive urges to assert his dominance and superiority. Hally reminds his black friends to "act your age" and quarrelsomely orders them back to their work.

A second phone call confirms that Hally's drunken, crippled father has returned home from the hospital. Hally unleashes his pent-up anger and frustration at Sam, transferring to the black man his love-hate relationship with his father.

In his anguish, Hally slides naturally into the racial slurs that have been culturally engrained. It is a shattering moment for both Sam and Hally, for each has lost something irretrievable.

AMOS IMBUES Sam with great warmth, wisdom and emotional clarity. Like the ballroom dancing contests that attract Sam and Willie, Sam sees his relationship with Hally as a brief dream of "a world without collision." Amos' relaxed, low-key approach in the beginning works wonderfully to enhance the impact of his explosive confrontations with Hally later on.

Backer's Hally is riveting and mercurial, ebullient with good nature one minute, vicious and racist the next. Once the delicate links with Sam are severed, Backer's body English says he is a little boy who knows he has done something dreadful and cannot deal with the consequences.

He sits like a crumpled rag doll, face etched with pain, wringing his hands.

As Willie, Butler's expressive face conveys his fondness for Hally and his hurt and grief at the ugly turn events have taken. Willie is a simple man, resigned to his poverty and the inequities of his society. Butler must spend a good deal of the play on his knees scrubbing the floor, but that submissive position never diminishes his dignity.

Soloists make season opener a success

By Avigdor Zaromp
special writer

Among the many musical events our area is blessed with is a series offered at the Jewish Community Center in West Bloomfield. Last Sunday marked the opening of the 4th season of the series, featuring the Center Symphony Orchestra and talented local soloists.

The person behind this series is Julius Chajes, whose outstanding qualifications include composing, conducting and playing the piano. This event featured the last two categories, but his ability as a composer, judging by previous exposure to some of his compositions, is substantial and impressive. This series operates on a very low budget and relies heavily on individual contribution. While a low budget inevitably poses some problems, Chajes and the musicians don't let these problems bog them down. The quality and standard of most events is uncompromisingly high.

Sunday's program consisted of a harpsichord concerto by Bach, a concerto for three violins by Vivaldi and the celebrated Kreutzer Sonata by Beethoven.

THE SOLOIST in the Bach concerto was David Wilson, a harpsichordist and organist who regularly appears in many chamber events in the area.

The soloists in the Vivaldi concerto consisted of a segment of the Staples family.

Second runs Tom Panzenhagen

"The Drowning Pool" (1975), 8 p.m. today on Ch. 50. Originally 108 minutes.

Paul Newman can play just about anything, from a con man to a lawyer, to Buffalo Bill, but he leaves something to be desired as private eye Lou Harper in "The Drowning Pool," from the novel by Ross McDonald. Private eyes have rough edges, but Newman lost his unwhim image some time after "Cool Hand Luke." And you can't make a sow's ear out of a silk purse, try as Newman might. Even so, mystery buffs ought to get a charge out of this otherwise engaging film. Joanne Woodward co-stars.
Rating: $2.90.

"The Night of the Hunter" (1955), 2 tonight on Ch. 50. Originally 93 minutes.

Charles Laughton directed one film, "Night of the Hunter," and it's a gem. Robert Mitchum steals the show as a psychopathic killer, but Lillian Gish, Shelley Winters and a fine supporting cast all have moments to shine in this brooding thriller of a film.
Rating: $3.20.

"Let's Make Love" (1960), 9 a.m. Sunday on Ch. 4. Originally 118 minutes.

"Charly" (1968), noon Wednesday on Ch. 9. Originally 103 minutes.
Cliff Robertson won a well-deserved

Oscar for his portrayal of Charly, a retarded man who is turned into a genius by scientist Claire Bloom. The film is thought-provoking as well as entertaining as Bloom, and viewers, must reassess the treatment of the retarded in society. But this isn't a message picture primarily — just one fine film.

Monroe and Montand are marvelous together. Tony Randall and Wilfrid Hyde-White co-star in the film by director George Cukor.
Rating: $3.15

"The Greatest Show on Earth" (1952), in two parts at 1 p.m. Monday and Tuesday on Ch. 50. Originally minutes.
Cecil B. DeMille's "Greatest Show" is far from being the greatest movie on earth, but it's fun to revel in C.B.'s garish concepts of (over)acting, scene setting and direction. This is a gaudy picture made laughable at times by the melodramatic performances DeMille wrangles out of Charleton Heston, James Stewart, Cornel Wilde, Betty

Series marks 50th anniversary

The World Adventure Series will begin its 50th season at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 16, in the Auditorium/Theatre of the Detroit Institute of Arts.
The opening program will feature Ray Green presenting "The New Switzerland." Green appeared on the last George Pierrot TV show.
Both season and single tickets are available at the door or by calling the DIA ticket office at 832-2730, 9:30 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. seven days a week.

World Adventures Series was begun in 1933 by the late George Pierrot. The series was on television for 25 years as "The George Pierrot Show" and recently returned to television on Channel 56 and Wayne Cablevision as "The World Adventure Series."

THE QUEST FOR UNITY

American Art Between World's Fairs 1876-1893

American art and American taste changed radically during a dynamic period that produced Whistler, Cassatt, Sargent, Eakins, Frederic Church, Winslow Homer, Louis Tiffany and the American Arts and Crafts Movement.

200 outstanding works by these and other artists are superbly presented in THE QUEST FOR UNITY.

Paintings, sculpture, furniture, silver, glass, ceramics, stained glass and textiles from 98 public and private collections reveal the vitality of this extraordinary transitional period.

New wine bar puts Clarkston on map

Everyone interested in wine knows that the sophistication of a city is determined in part by the number and quality of the wine bars it can support. Meccas of consumption like New York, San Francisco and Chicago boast several each. Classy.

Detroit, however, claims none. The London Chop House asserted a few years ago that it was about to set one up but never did. Wine bars are not easy to find. Check Las Vegas, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Atlanta; you'll find a few.

Check our own Clarkston, however and — since early June — there you'll find one. A most legitimate one at that.

The Cookery is on Main Street in the stylish shopping center that most recently housed Foxy's. It is the creation of Ned Barker, recently of Holiday Inns and the University of Michigan.

"I GOT OUT of the chain restaurant business because they didn't do enough with wine," he said. "I love wine as much as I love food." His restaurant menu reflects that.

The new fall menu (there are to be four each year, changing with the seasons) has just been issued and it contains 24 California table wines. In addition, there are two sparklers and four "house" wines, plus a few beers (including Chelsea's own Real Ale and Stout). There also is a full bar.

The 24 table wines are all kept under nitrogen in a gismo that forces the tasteless gas into the opened bottle under pressure, assuring safe storage once it is open. This machine, which is what makes a real wine bar, is made in Pittsburgh by Wineco. Wholly functional in design, it gets the job done.

Current wine choices include William Hill and Gueñoc cabernet; Alexander Valley and Firestone pinot noir and Devlin zinfandel, along with chardonnay by Wheeler, St. Andrews, Cakebread and Chateau St. Jean; riesling by Edmeades, Gundlach-Bundschu and Zaca Mesa. There are three sauvignon blancs, a chenin and a gewurztraminer.

(Alatera). Lone regional concession is a Fenn Valley vial.

THE HOUSE wines are well selected, leaning on Marlon chardonnay and cabernet ($7.95 the 750-ml bottle) and the Firestone merlot rose.

All wines from the wine bar are available by the glass, half bottle and full bottle. The eager customer also can select one set of five of any flavor for around $10, or he can individually taste a two-ounce portion of any of the 24. Prices are reasonable for such a treat.

Barker draws on a variety of distributors to create his list, not being content to let a single distributor fully "set him up," an all-too-common occurrence in the restaurant trade.

He seeks out foods from a variety of sources as well, always looking for the unusual as well as for quality. A special honey for his duckling ("browns it beautifully"), dried morels and buffalo sausage (in mushroom caps, wrapped in bacon) all come from Petoskey, and he offers, at 95 cents a glass, pure water from Tahquamenon Falls.

ALL BREADS are baked on the premises, and there are tortes, cheesecake, a whiskey pudding and a huge individual, freshly baked apple pie for dessert. Early, limited sampling of the kitchen's efforts are all positive and encouraging. Prices for dinners are $8.50 to $13.50, most reasonable.

"We wanted to do something special to get people to drive out here," hence the wine bar and the unusual focus on regional foods from Michigan, Barker boasts.

And he has company now in the quest to make Main Street, Clarkston, U.S.A., a fine dining area. Just south of the Cookery is an even newer place, McGillacutty's. Owner Jim Kaminski has hewn his basement dining area out of a true Michigan basement. Future plans call for additional small seating areas on the first and second floors and now include patio dining in season.

The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford production of "Star Spangled Girl" continues at 8 p.m. Friday-Saturday and Oct. 21-22 at the playhouse at 15138 Beech Daly Road, just south of Five Mile Road, in Redford. To reserve tickets at $5 call 522-8057.

By Debi Barsamian special writer

You'll be frustrated by the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford's production of Neil Simon's comedy "The Star-Spangled Girl." Some fine elements undermined by basic flaws in original analysis have made this potentially good production a near miss.

"Star-Spangled Girl" is not the best of Simon's high comedies. It's not so much one of his poignant commentaries on the modern-day dilemma as it is an old-fashioned love story. For community theater, however, it should prove an evening of pleasant entertainment. The play presents a crazy love triangle complicated by a conflict between the political leanings of the intended romantic duo.

In any case, it should be noted that dialogue is Simon's main vehicle in revealing character and, in Simon's better comedies, revealing his world view. The humor in the dialogue is dependent on his one-liners being delivered with zest and energy.

Dialogue is, therefore, the one element of any Simon play that should be emphasized.

Director Lois Tobin neglects to stress the importance of line delivery, timing and climax. The quality of the entire production suffers as a result.

THIS ONE oversight in the direction given the performers is unfortunate. There is one strength that does help to compensate for this weakness. Tobin is absolutely precise in character analysis. Her performers present a consistent understanding of their characters' purpose and intent.

John R. Hall is very good as the protagonist, Andy Hobart. He is serious and purposeful. Hall is a solid straight man for the antics of his crazy roommate and business partner, Norman.

Dan Zelazny, in the role of Norman, can be quite entertaining. He can be a believably eccentric and funny genius. I should mention that it does take some time for Zelazny's zany character to evolve. There are also moments when Zelazny doesn't appear to be completely comfortable with his character's craziness.

Judie Rosati portrays Sophie Rauschmeyer, the love interest of the two roommates. The energy level of the entire production increases with her first entrance. She is wonderful. Rosati's enthusiasm is contagious. You'll be thoroughly entertained by her performance.

Rosati does have an idiosyncrasy that is disconcerting. She has a tendency to let her eyes stray. She does not look directly at the person to whom she delivers her line. In a small theater, like that of the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford, it is a particularly distracting habit.

review

ONE ALSO HAS to question the decision that Rosati wear wigs during performances. In "The Star-Spangled Girl," it is essential that Sophie Rauschmeyer be blonde. Rosati is not. In that intimate house, one can never lose sight of those wigs. It's asking too much of an audience to believe those wigs are natural hair.

Fred Button can be congratulated for his set design. The set is functional and effective. More might have been done to imply the radical, political views of its inhabitants. It does, however, lend itself to the action of the play.

One nice touch is that theme music can be heard before the opening, during the intermission and during scene changes. The music is love ballads or patriotic in nature. Some of the selections are rather dull and do not always augment the upbeat nature of the comedy. Its use at the end of the play is great. It adds to an original and creative finish.

As always at The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford, auxiliaries are competent and responsible. One can sense the enthusiasm and support these people provide.

If you're looking for the fast-paced, lively humor a Neil Simon play can offer, you're bound to be disappointed. If you want to see a play produced and presented in a near-professional manner with moments of fine acting, you may be impressed.

Program accents English life

The culture and customs of England will be featured as the fall 1983 Ethnic Enrichment Experience, Oct. 18 through Jan. 12, at the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit.

The program is sponsored by the International Institute and the Daughters of the British Empire. It will introduce students in grades two through five to English culture and customs through participation in storytelling, games, crafts and folk dance.

The program is at 10 a.m. Tuesdays-Thursday for groups of 10-40 in the Institute Hall of Nations. Admission to the program is 75 cents per child.

Teachers should make reservations for their classes at least two weeks in advance, by calling Pamela Stotz at 871-8600.

Turning over a new leaf with wreaths

staff photos/ART EMANUELE

Kay Mollanen, who teaches how to make wreaths, centerpieces and other arrangements in her home, adds more ribbon to another beautiful wreath (above). And with a final snip (right), she completes another wreath that can hang almost anywhere, almost anytime of the year. This one features ribbons, flowers and Spanish moss.

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

Those who think wreaths are for Christmastime, and then only on doors and over fireplaces, may be surprised by a visit to Kay Mollanen's home.

Wreaths are in evidence at Mollanen's Livonia home year round, not only on the door and over the fireplace, but just about anywhere you could imagine as well. They're not just green and red, but every color of the spectrum.

"You can use any color combinations, for Christmas or all year," Mollanen said. "Your imagination can really play an important part of it."

FROM HER home, Mollanen teaches classes on how to make wreaths, centerpieces and other arrangements. She also prepares arrangements for custom orders, weddings and bazaars. Mollanen calls her business "Country Corners."

"Some people who take the classes say they're worried that their arrangements aren't going to look like mine," she said. "But I tell them, 'This isn't a production line.'"

"You cannot make a mistake with these. Everything can be moved or adjusted slightly," Mollanen continued. "About 19 out of 20 people who were worried about taking the class end up happy with what they make."

The popularity of wreaths around the home was rejuvenated with the American Bicentennial, according to Mollanen. She said wreaths were often displayed in homes in colonial times.

A VISITOR to the Mollanen home at any season is greeted with a colorful wreath at the front door.

"I keep a wreath on the front door all year," Mollanen said. "Silk flowers last a long time. So do plastic flowers. The sun doesn't bother them, and if they get wet, that doesn't bother them."

One wreath, with red and plaid ribbons circling a ring of baby's breath, hangs in Mollanen's red kitchen. At holiday time, she adds an angel ornament to her wreaths. Glycerine added to baby's breath preserves it and keeps it soft.

This cheery wreath, fashioned from baby's breath and red and plaid ribbon, goes well with the red walls and country touches in Kay Mollanen's kitchen. At Christmastime she adds an angel ornament to the wreath.

Mollanen obtains her supplies from local wholesalers. She provides all the materials for her classes. Each session features one item and runs between two and three hours. Students pay a fee for each class, ranging from $9 to $30.

"People know that they can come here and make an entire arrangement at one session," Mollanen said.

Mollanen became interested in making wreaths and other arrangements some eight years ago, when she took a class in dried flower arrangements.

"There was a six-month waiting list for one class," she recalled. "I attempted to teach my neighbors what I had learned. I started making my own ideas up and it grew from that."

Mollanen removes dust from her indoor wreaths by brushing them with a soft paint brush or shaking them. She keeps some wreaths out of direct sunlight so their ribbons and flowers won't fade.

Besides grapevines, Mollanen makes the bases for her wreaths out of wire, straw and Styrofoam. Her largest wreaths measure between 2½ and 3 feet across.

"It depends on the overall look," she said. "If the base is going to be covered, I might use Styrofoam or wire."

BABY'S BREATH and Spanish moss are two of the materials Mollanen adds

NOW MOLLANEN keeps busy with her classes, held both in the morning and evening, and filling custom orders.

"It's all through word of mouth," she said. "I don't ever advertise."

Mollanen holds an open house in the fall and spring, at which she displays and sells samples of her work throughout her home.

"The idea is to show them in the setting you would make them for," she said.

This is another in a series of lessons on art and drawing by special columnist David Messing.

He has taught for eight years and operates an art store, Art Store and More, 18774 Middlebelt, Livonia. Messing encourages questions and comments from readers. You may write him at his store or c/o Observer Newspapers, 23352 Farmington Road, Farmington MI 48024.

By David P. Messing special writer

OOPS! is an exclamation you would never want to hear during surgery. Although oops! is one of the exclamations I often hear in my airbrush classes.

You may know by now that there are a multitude of opportunities to goof with an airbrush. At the top of the long list of goofs most common to man (better make that persons) is the "catch your foot in hose" complaint.

This is the most common reason for breaking an airbrush. The six- to 10-foot hose is usually looped on the floor or over your knee and, in the throes of creative expression it is easy to forget about the airbrush.

So you move or nudge or twist or bump however it happens, it is always unexpected and unwanted, but your airbrush somehow gets knocked to the floor.

The first time I knocked my airbrush to the floor, it seemed like it fell in slow motion. Before it hit the floor I thought of how could I afford to fix it when I spent all my money buying it? What was I going to do to finish my painting? How could I tell my wife I broke my airbrush?

Fortunately it was OK and I did the only thing there is to do to make sure that it didn't happen again. I bought an airbrush hanger which cost about 75 cents.

Actually a hanger is only a prevention. I am sure many readers have managed to nudge their airbrush right out of the hanger. I would like to dedicate that last sentence to Heidi, who after making payments on her airbrush, finally purchased her VL Paasche, walked back to my class, hooked up her brush and straightaway dropped and broke it.

NEXT ON the list is the "too much paint in too little space" syndrome or the "centipede city" painter. With a single-action airbrush, it is important to stay the right distance away from the paper or board.

For example, if you are too close, too much paint will collect on the board and the air will blow little rivers of paint out of the excess. This also happens if you do not move across the area fast enough. The result is a line with many little rivers of paint branching out on either side looking much like a centipede.

Artifacts

This is an even greater problem with those owning a dual-action airbrush. For this reason, I have noticed at the outset, those owning a single action seem to have an easier time doing the lessons than those with a dual action.

Here is the cure for "centipede city." Place your second digit on the button rather than your finger tip. It takes a much greater effort to pull your finger back, which seems to give you more "play" with the button. The finger tip is too flexible and gives you too much pull on demand.

I guarantee it will feel awkward at first but I also guarantee it will help. Third in the list of goofs would have to be the "staccato scribble stroke."

This mistake I often hear before I can see. In the class with everyone making long continuous sprays sometimes I will hear a rapid pss . . . pss . . . pss . . . pss . . . this is often accompanied by a nervous scribble-patterned stroke. Remember, depress the button and spray in slow and controlled patterns.

Of course there are too many goofs to list, but some noteworthy mistakes are "chief spray in the face," "splatter on the pants," "dirty tip blues" and "clean it later complainer."

I FEEL that ink is the best medium to use with an airbrush while you are learning. It is thin and gives you no trouble becoming atomized. It is rich in coverage, which is important so you can see what pattern you are spraying.

Ink cleans easily out of the airbrush and usually a quick rinse with water will do. Most inks are transparent, but with airbrush, transparency is of little use. Because of the nature of the spray, even opaque colors take on a form of transparency.

Higgins recently came out with a line of opaque pigmented inks which are my favorite for teaching. Dyes are too expensive to learn with. I remember one father and son to whom I recommended dyes.

The father returned the next day, somewhat heated, and said his son emptied this bottle in about 20 seconds of spraying. It is, of course, true in many areas of life, the less you know the more you waste.

So in the beginning it is more sensible to waste three ounces of ink at $1.55 than to waste one ounce at $1.40.

As you increase your ability it is nice to turn to gouche and/or dyes. With gouche you will encounter the "dirty tip blues" if you fail to thoroughly clean your airbrush after every session.

But I am a realistic person and I know that if your painting turns out great, you snap it off the easel and go show your critics, leaving a loaded airbrush behind.

Likewise, if your painting goes into the circular file or in the bottom of the bird cage, you walk away head drooped, again leaving a loaded airbrush behind. Days later you return to find your color cop is now welded into the airbrush, and Dick the Bruiser couldn't pull the button back.

Good thing airbrushes are hardy and with a sufficient cleaning can be restored to usefulness. Learn to take your airbrush apart and nine times out of ten you will find your own problems and save costly repair bills.

Tradition

Called "A Gathering of Traditions," the exhibit and sale at Temple Beth El of Bloomfield Township from 8 to 11 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday will focus on art related to Judaism. Included will be some 400 works by outstanding North American artists. Shown at left is an example of the items to be sold. The tiles pictured are by Mirjana Mladinor. The event will benefit the temple's fine art fund. Admission is $2.
