THE WESTLAND

Stingers are going to be playing some real road games this spring. The local teen hockey players will travel to Helsinki, Finland and Leningrad March 27, for a 10-day series of exhibition games with teams from those two countries.

"Other American teams have gone to the Soviet Union for exhibitions, but I think this is the first time a youth team has been invited to represent our country," coach Bob Valeri said last week.

Valeri said Soviet athletic officials were impressed with the way the team played "an American style game."

Families of the 14-15-year-old hockey players are paying their own way, Valeri said.

But the team hopes to raise money for several players who can't afford the trip.

The Stingers, whose home base is the Westland Sports Arena, have won 19 tournaments in the U.S. and Canada during the past five years.

IF YOU HAVEN'T already received it, check the mall box.

Some 20,000 city calendars were mailed to Westland homes and businesses last week.

Meanwhile, the Westland City Council Tuesday approved an additional $7,558 to pay for the 1989 calendar, bringing the total printing cost to $28,465.

The calendars are paid for with grant money obtained by the city's CATV-community relations department. The funds can be used for any project promoting the city.

PAUL KRARUP has been confirmed by the Westland City Council for reappointment to the Board of Review.

Krarup, who was elected to Westland's first council in 1966, previously served on the board filling the unexpired term of Al Kula.

The board is responsible for hearing appeals of property tax assessments and deciding to decrease them.

IT'S TIME to dust off those dancing shoes.

The event of the winter social season is fast approaching.

We're talking, of course, about the annual Mayor's Ball.

This year's gala is set for Saturday, Feb. 18, at the Hellenic Cultural Center, on Joy between Wayne Road and Newburgh.

The evening will include a cocktail/hors d'oeuvres reception, dinner and dancing to a full orchestra.

Tickets are $40 each and are available from Mayor Charles Griffin's office and the city clerk's office. For tickets or information call 467-3267 or 467-3196.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT week in Westland is being celebrated today through Friday.

The Junior Achievement organization helps acquaint teenagers with the free enterprise system and encourages involvement in the city's business community.

LEO DINNAN of Westland will retire Friday from his post as director of the Wayne Oakland Library Federation.

Dinnan has been director of WOLF, a 60-member public library cooperative serving southeastern Michigan, since 1971.

During a library career that stretches over several decades, Dinnan has worked for the Wayne County Library, the Oak Park Library, the Detroit Public Library and the public library in Painesville, Ohio.

City, police agree on chief

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

Paul Schnarr became Westland's fourth police chief Thursday, as Mayor Charles Griffin removed the "acting" designation from Schnarr's title and the threat of a costly legal battle with the union representing supervisory police employees at the same time.

A Livonia attorney representing the Westland Police Lieutenants and Sergeants Association said all legal actions regarding the chief's appointment would be dropped.

Schnarr said he was pleasantly surprised by the appointment. "It still hasn't sunk in yet," he said.

"The job is a great responsibility, and I can only say that I'm going to try and give this city the best police department in the area," Schnarr said.

Schnarr had been serving as acting chief since Jan. 2 when Fred Dansby retired to accept the job of Romulus public safety director.

A DISPUTE over who would be named to the permanent position developed after the appointment though.

The union filed three separate legal actions against the city Jan. 12. The union charged the city with breach of contract, filed an unfair labor practice charge with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission and filed a lawsuit in Wayne County Circuit Court compelling the city to immediately promote Schnarr to the chief's job.

The actions were based on the union's staff that the current eligibility list, which was less than two years old at the time of Dansby's resignation, should have been used to fill the department's top job.

Schnarr was the only person on the list.

Griffin said Thursday his decision to promote Schnarr was made after rethinking his original plan to ask the civil service commission for new testing of candidates.

"I've felt all along that competition for the job was important," the mayor said. "But after I saw the support for Paul Schnarr within the association and after I discussed the situation again with my advisers, I felt that this would be the best way to handle things."

But the mayor didn't completely back off from his original plan.

"After talking to the city attorney, I feel strongly that if we went to

... After I saw the support for Paul Schnarr within the association and after I discussed the situation again with my advisers, I felt that this would be the best way to handle things.

—Mayor Charles Griffin court over this, the city would have won," he said.

FRANK GUIDO, the attorney representing the association, said he thought the mayor "did the right thing" by naming Schnarr chief.

"All too often, when the battle lines are drawn, people just don't back down even if that's the best thing to do," Guido said.

"It would be easy for me to say the mayor saw the handwriting on the wall as far as winning the case, but I won't second guess his motivations."

Griffin said he felt Schnarr would make an "excellent" police chief. He cited the new chief's 30 years of law enforcement experience and his leadership ability.

As the department's second in command, Schnarr had filled in for Dansby several times during the last two years.

SCHNARR SERVED for eight years as a public safety officer in Oak Park before becoming a charter member of the new Westland police force in the fall of 1966.

He finished second to Dansby in written and oral examinations for the chief's job in early 1987.

Schnarr said Thursday he would make the safety of local residents his top priority.

He said he would push for additional officers or a redistribution of manpower that would "put more officers on the streets and make them more visible, particularly in high-crime neighborhoods."

The new chief said he would like a bigger role for the crime prevention bureau, put into place by Dansby in April 1987.

Schnarr said the dispute over the chief's job had "done some damage" within the department, but he didn't see that as a long-term problem.

"I think I have the full support of patrol officers and the commanding officers," he said.

Matzo to head DPS

Robert Matzo has moved from the city assessor's post to become director of the Westland Department of Public Services.

Bill Schmidt has been hired to replace Matzo as city assessor.

Schmidt, 41, comes to Westland from Eaton County, near Lansing, where he was deputy director of equalization.

The new appointments were effective Jan. 3, according to Mayor Charles Griffin.

Art Wittala, who came out of retirement to serve as acting DPS director when Ralph Tack resigned last May, has now made his retirement permanent.

Robert Matzo

Griffin said he decided to ask Matzo to take the DPS job last month because "it's been my experience that it's a lot easier to find an assessor than it is to find a good, qualified DPS director."

Matzo has held a number of administrative posts in 14½ years with the city, including the DPS director's position for 18 months in 1980-81.

"He (Matzo) has been around here for a long time and has good management skills," Griffin said.

MATZO SAID last week he is comfortable with his new position and knows a number of department employees from his previous stint as director.

With 65 employees, the DPS is the second largest department in the city. The police department has about 90 employees.

DPS workers are responsible for maintenance of city buildings, streets and sidewalks, the water and sewer system and other parts of Westland's physical infrastructure.

Schmidt held the Eaton County job for seven years. He spent eight years as assessor for the charter township of Lansing.

He said moving into the assessor's job during what is traditionally the most hectic time of year (just before taxes are due) would be "challenging."

"But having been an assessor before, I think I know what to expect," he said.

Schmidt has a bachelor's degree in history from Michigan State University.

He is married to Janice Schmidt. The couple has one son, 18.

MEAP sparks concern, action

Related stories, 2A, 3A, 5A

By Pat Murphy
staff writer

When area teachers talk about science proficiency, sooner or later the conversation turns to MEAP, or the Michigan Educational Assessment Program.

In one form or another, MEAP has been in most public and some private schools for almost two decades, giving tests to more than a million elementary, middle and high school students.

Thus, in September, when the national science report card concluded that students were not getting adequate training in science, administrators in Oakland and Wayne counties were not particularly surprised.

In Oakland County two years ago, 37 percent of 13,635 10th-grade students could not correctly answer half of the test's objectives.

In Wayne County, more than 60 percent of the 10th-grade students could not answer correctly on half the objectives.

On a statewide basis, about 44 percent of 119,247 students scored at comparable levels.

The results were cause for concern, educators said, because MEAP tests are intended to measure "minimal" or "essential" science knowledge. The questions weren't as difficult nor as challenging as those on the SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test) or ACT (American College Test) required for admission in most colleges.

science: an educational MELTDOWN

But MEAP did more than provide a statistical handle on a complex problem. MEAP tests — especially the relatively low science scores — sent shock waves throughout much of the educational community.

IF THE 1986 MEAP science test had been an earthquake, it would have measured about 6.0 on the Richter scale — not potent enough to cause serious damage generally, but strong enough to shake things up.

"The MEAP tests got people up in arms," said M. Cherie Cornick, consultant to the Michigan Department of Education. "Before the tests came out, people seemed more concerned about the football team — or the marching band. But when the test results came out, they started thinking about science and math."

Not everybody had that reaction, of course. Some educators complained the test was inappropriate and didn't accurately measure what students knew in science.

The director of science curriculum for the Troy School District, for example, noted that many schools have switched to a "hands-on" emphasis on science, while MEAP tests still measure information learned by rote, or from lectures or books.

"MEAP doesn't really measure what youngsters learn with the 'hands-on' approach to science," said Barbara A. Berthelsen, who also teaches biology in the Troy district.

"I do not consider the MEAP tests to be a valid measure of what students know."

Criticism similar to Berthelsen's has been expressed in many parts of the state at different levels of the educational community. Students,

Private schools call MEAP too easy

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

Only a small percentage of private schools choose to participate in the Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) tests. According to administrators of many private schools in western Wayne County, the tests are too easy for their students.

"That's absolutely true. That's one of the reasons a lot of schools stopped taking it. What does it mean when all your students score 99?" said John Klipp, superintendent of the 64,000 students in the Catholic schools of the archdiocese of Detroit.

"One of the purposes of testing is to show you who needs help. But if everybody scores 99, what are you learning? The test is not discriminating enough," said Klipp.

The MEAP tests are mandatory for fourth, seventh and 10th graders in public schools. They are optional for the state's private schools. Of the more than 313,000 students who took the tests last fall, only about 9,200, or 2.9 percent, were in private schools.

And of the 106,500 10th graders who took the test, only 1,500 (1.4 percent) were in private schools.

Locally, of the 25 private schools contacted, just five took the MEAP tests. All 25 took part in other standardized tests such as the Stanford Achievement Test, Iowa Test of Basic Skills, PSAT, SAT, ACT and the preliminary ACT.

All Catholic schools must participate in the spring in tests of first, third, fifth and seventh graders by American Testronics. Individual schools can choose to add other tests, such as MEAP.

OVER AND OVER, administrators at private schools say that MEAP is too easy for their students.

"They don't fit in with the testing program we've initiated here," said Ross Stueber, principal of 260 students at Westland Lutheran High School. "MEAP only tests minimal objectives. We prefer to use higher standards here. And other tests give us more data."

"Kids here just sail right through that test. They just go right through it like it's nothing," said Phil Heyer, head of counseling at Catholic Central in Redford Township. "It has very little use for us. Our kids are mostly college prep and that test isn't geared for them."

"We did participate (in MEAP) once previously, but the results weren't particularly relevant to us," said principal Carol Heldt of Hosanna-Tabor Lutheran, which has 240 students from preschool through eighth grade.

Private-school administrators say that part of the problem with MEAP is the way the test is scored. Questions are lumped into three-question categories known as objectives. On the science portion, for example, there are three questions on light as a form of energy, and three questions on the measurement of matter.

You are given credit for achieving an objective if you know two of the three answers. You don't get any more credit for three answers than you do for two.

Theoretically, you could score 100 on the MEAP test by answering correctly only two-thirds of the questions.

"Is that really mastering something, to be wrong on a third of the questions?" asks Klipp.

PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN Academy in Canton Township is one of the few private schools locally to participate in MEAP. The school scored significantly better last fall than the state average of the previous year, and the school scored better than the Plymouth-Canton schools — in all subjects (math, reading and science) and in all grades (fourth, seventh and 10th).

At Christian, 65.2 percent of the fourth graders scored at least 75 percent in science, with 48.3 percent scoring that well in seventh grade and 35 percent in 10th grade. At Plymouth-Canton, the respective percentages were 56.2, 38.4 and 32.2.

"We're a little more homogenous, and a little more selective in who we take in," said Tom Hovermale, principal at Christian. "We come out looking good, but the comparison is unfair."

The other local parochial schools to take the MEAP tests were St. Genevieve Catholic grade school in Livonia, St. John Bosco Catholic grade school in Redford, St. Matthew's Lutheran grade school in Westland and New Morning grade school in Plymouth.

Elaine Yagla, principal at New Morning, said only 3-4 students in each of the fourth and seventh grades took the test. She declined to release the results. "We don't use them to pat ourselves on the back, even when we should," she said.

School principal Tom Pfeiffer was out of town and unavailable to discuss St. Matthew's results. Results at St. Genevieve and St. John Bosco were unavailable.

Bishop Borgess officials say they notified the state last spring that they wanted to take the MEAP tests but that state officials never responded.

Mayor, council pay would rise under proposal

Westland's mayor and city council members would get modest pay increases for the next two years under a plan being studied by the Local Officials Compensation Commission.

If approved by the council, the raises would take effect March 1 and be retroactive to Jan. 1.

The commission met Tuesday to discuss the pay plan, said the Rev. Jack Spitz, commission chairman. A second meeting has been scheduled for 7 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 31, at city hall.

Following that meeting, the commission is expected to make its recommendation to the council, said Al Gais, the city's labor relations director and liaison to the seven-member group.

Gais declined to release exact figures for the amount of the proposed increases but said they would be "below the current rate of inflation."

BASED ON price index figures for December, the inflation rate in 1988 was 4.4 percent nationally and 5.1 percent in metropolitan Detroit.

Mayor Charles Griffin's current salary is $86,000. The mayor has a $4,000 expense account limit.

Six of the seven council members received a salary of $9,755 each in 1988. The council president receives an additional $1,000. The council position is considered a part-time job.

The commission bases its recommendation for the mayor's salary on a percentage of the salary set by the state for local district judges. Council members receive one-seventh of the mayor's salary.

City officials were the target of criticism two years ago when the council accepted the commission's recommendation to boost the mayor's salary by 35 percent and council salaries 61 percent.

Man charged in 5 station robberies

A 27-year-old Romulus man arrested two weeks ago in Wayne has been charged with the armed robberies of five gas stations in four cities, including Westland and Garden City.

The robberies occurred over a one-week period beginning with the Jan. 2 robberies of Qwik Stop, 120 Middlebelt, in Garden City, and Total station at Cherry Hill and Venoy, Westland.

John Crevier has been arraigned on one count of armed robbery in Canton, Wayne and Garden City, and two counts in Westland. Crevier, a former Garden City resident, is currently being held on bond in Wayne County Jail.

He was arrested Jan. 7 in Wayne after a robbery of a Michigan Ave. Clark Gas Station, police said. Crevier was carrying a plastic replica of a 9-mm. automatic handgun when arrested, police said.

At a preliminary examination in Wayne's 29th District Court last week, Crevier requested a psychiatric evaluation be done to determine if he is fit to stand trial.

CREVIER'S PRELIMINARY examinations in Garden City and Westland, scheduled for Jan. 30, and Canton Jan. 27, may be delayed.

"None of them are going to be held until the forensic is complete," said Wayne police Sgt. Donald Campbell.

Authorities said typically the suspect walked in to the gas stations and, after waiting for customers to leave the store, approached the cash register, showed a pistol tucked in his waistband and demanded money.

Crevier is also charged with the Jan. 7 robbery of a Total station at Cherry Hill and Venoy, and the Jan. 4 robbery of a Canton Total station at Ford and Canton Center.

cop calls

A MAN who threatened to kill the lone clerk on duty escaped with an undetermined amount of money after robbing the Speedway gas station, 7139 N. Wayne Road, Tuesday night, police said.

The man never showed a weapon and the clerk wasn't injured in the incident, police said.

The clerk told police she was headed back inside the station at 11:05 p.m. after locking the ice machines when the man grabbed her from behind and pushed her through the doorway.

After telling her she would be "a dead woman" if she didn't cooperate, the man locked her inside a storage room, the clerk told police.

He then emptied the contents of the cash register and fled the station, police said.

The clerk described the bandit as a white man approximately 30 years old, 6 feet tall and clean shaven. He was wearing a green Army-style jacket, blue jeans and a blue, knit cap, the clerk said.

A MAN in the process of moving into a home on the 28800 block of Hanover told police that someone broke into the unoccupied house Wednesday and stole an electronic keyboard valued at $1,500.

The incident occurred between 9:30 a.m. and 3:15 p.m., the man said.

He said the keyboard was in an upstairs bedroom and there weren't other valuables or much furniture in the house.

Police said there were no signs of forced entry, but the front door to the house was loose enough for someone to get inside without a key.

A HOMEOWNER on the 700 block of Filbert reported that someone stole his customized 1988 Ford pickup truck from his driveway Tuesday.

The truck was stolen between 4 and 7:30 p.m. while nobody was home, the homeowner said.

He said the truck had oversized tires and a chrome roll bar.

Results of MEAP spark school concern, action

teachers and administrators question the validity of MEAP tests.

One administrator said MEAP may have inadvertently contributed to low science scores by not emphasizing that discipline years ago, rather than within the last five years or so.

NOTING THAT EARLY MEAP examinations omitted science, Don Griffin, consultant to the Wayne County Intermediate District, said perhaps state officials sent the wrong message by initially testing for math and reading, but not science.

Griffin was referring to the fact that MEAP tested for math and reading skills for more than 15 years before 1986, when officials first tried to measure science proficiency on an all-pupil basis.

Last fall was only the second time that MEAP tests tried to assess science proficiency on an all-pupil basis.

Arson cause of fire at Riverbend

Arson was blamed for Wednesday's major fire at the Riverbend Apartments, Westland fire Chief Larry Lane said Friday.

He said investigators uncovered evidence of flammable liquid spills in the apartment where the fire started.

Nobody was injured in the fire, which caused an estimated $650,000-$700,000 worth of damage to 10 units in one building. Lane said that figure included approximately $500,000 for the building exterior and interior and $150,000 in lost or damaged contents.

Questions that stump our kids

Life Science

Objective: The learner will know simple food chains.

Put the pictures in the right order to show a food chain.

- A. 3, 4, 1, 2 C. 2, 1, 4, 3
B. 1, 2, 3, 4 D. 4, 2, 1, 3

Physical Science

Objective:

The learner will know the measurement of mass, length, and volume.

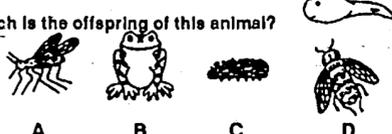

A centimeter is about the size of the

- A. length of your foot.
B. length of your arm.
C. tip of your finger.
D. width of your hand.

Life Science

Objective: The learner will know that the offspring resemble their parents.

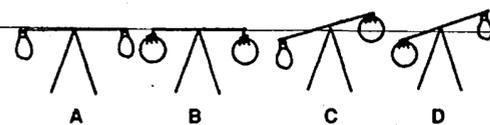

Which is the offspring of this animal?

Earth Science

Objective: The learner will know the composition of air.

Which balance shows that air has weight?

Answers: 4th Grade A. 3, 4, 1, 2 C. The tip of your finger B. The frog D.

7th Grade D. A. Add heat to the matter. A. 30 millimeters

7th grade

Life Science

Objective: The learner will know that organisms have adaptation which enable them to survive.

Which picture is an example of a bird beak adapted to eating hard seeds?

Physical Science

Objective: The learner will know that energy interacts with matter to produce changes.

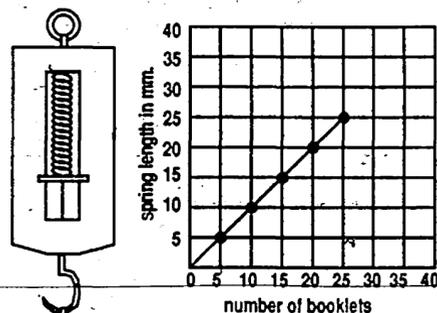

In order to change matter from a liquid to a gas, you must

- A. add heat to the matter. C. freeze the matter.
B. remove heat from the matter. D. melt the matter.

Science Process

Objective: The learner will read information correctly from a graph.

A boy used a spring scale to weigh some identical booklets. He made this graph showing the spring length as more booklets were added. From the information give below, what will be the length of the spring with 30 booklets attached?

- A. 30 millimeters B. 40 millimeters
C. 35 millimeters D. 20 millimeters

10th grade

Life Science

Objective: The learner will know the differences between typical plant cells and animal cells.

The diagram below is of a typical plant cell. Use this diagram to answer the following questions.

The structure labeled with the number 4 is called the

- A. nucleus. C. chromatin.
B. vacuole. D. cell wall.

Physical Science

Objective: The learner will know the difference between elements, compounds, and mixtures.

When salt water is dried out, salt remains in the dish. This is evidence that salt water is

- A. a molecule.
B. a mixture.
C. a compound.
D. an element.

Science Process

Objective: The learner will examine the data collected in any investigation and select the sets of data which appear to be related.

Use the following data to decide which statement is the best generalization.

		Handedness		Totals
SEX	Boys	2	10	12
	Girls	3	11	14
Totals		5	21	26

- A. Girls are more likely to be left-handed than boys.
B. Boys are more likely to be right-handed than girls.
C. There are more right-handed people than left-handed.
D. There are more left-handed girls than right-handed boys.

By Pat Murphy

Ford has a better idea to encourage careers in science.

While schools and educators may have the primary responsibility for encouraging science, the Ford Motor Co. offers Saturday morning classes to help students learn about their practical application.

Ford is by no means the only Detroit area company concerned. The Automotive Division of ITT, for example, offers two engineering scholarships for minority students at Oakland University.

Ford started its High School Science and Technology Program nearly five years ago to encourage future engineers and scientists by demonstrating practical science at the company Engineering and Research complex in Dearborn.

Since the fall of 1984, hundreds of students have been involved in demonstrations on cryogenics, lasers, vacuum science, computer programming, atmospheric chemistry and other topic areas, said program director John L. Bomback.

"The program has evolved gradually," he said. "In the first year (1984) there were 24 students attending the Saturday classes. Now we have more than 200."

THE PROGRAM ALSO includes a summer internship program for good students to get further involved in practical science, he said. Students are hired for six weeks to work with staff researchers involved in real projects.

"Ford hired 20 interns last summer paying them about $650 for four weeks work, or about what they

Starstruck: Kids wowed by astronomy wizard

Dr. Clyde Tombaugh was still in high school on his family's Kansas wheat farm in the 1920s when he began making sketches of planets he observed through a home-made telescope.

By Pat Murphy
staff writer

About 700 students in Wayne County had a rare opportunity to meet with the man credited with discovering the planet Pluto.

Dr. Clyde W. Tombaugh, 82, was the main attraction at a one-day meeting in November at Bentley High School in Livonia. The meeting was put together by the Wayne County Math and Science Council, an informal group of teachers, with help from entities like the Livonia School District and the Michigan Department of Education.

State officials cited Tombaugh's appearance as an excellent example of learning by doing.

"Teachers and students had the chance to meet with somebody of extreme stature," said M. Cherie Cornick, consultant to the Michigan Department of Education.

They got the chance to ask questions and hear what he had to offer. They followed up with small workshops where youngsters could do some hands-on experiments. Most had to do with astronomy, but some of the workshops dealt with other earth sciences.

Tombaugh was remarkable, said Richard B. Braun, science coordinator for Livonia schools.

SCIENCE TEXTBOOKS note that Tombaugh was still in high school on his family's wheat farm in Kansas in the 1920s when he began making sketches of planets he observed through a home-made telescope. Some of those sketches were detailed enough to include the polar caps of Mars and the moons of Jupiter.

When Tombaugh sent some of his sketches to the Lowell Observatory for comment, officials responded by offering him a job.

Tombaugh was hired in 1929 without first being interviewed, according to reference books — to conscience: an educational MELTDOWN

Fourth-grader Danielle Sockoloski said she enjoyed Tombaugh's discussion of how comets are similar in makeup to a "dirty snowball."

perturbations were caused by gravity of a large object nearby, possibly an undiscovered planet.

Tombaugh estimated that he observed and photographed some 90 million stars using the calculations of Lowell before discovering the planet in February of 1930.

The discovery was heralded as a triumph for the process of discovery by prediction. It was announced in March 1930, in conjunction with the 75th anniversary of the birth of Percival Lowell and the discovery of the planet Uranus.

TOMBAUGH KNEW he was making history and reportedly told colleagues that he intentionally looked at his watch so he could later declare that Pluto was discovered at "a few minutes of 4 p.m." on Feb. 18, 1930.

The astronomer talked about the discovery to groups of youngsters, answering questions as young minds were stimulated. One group, fourth graders from Cass Elementary in Livonia, made the following observations about meeting with Tombaugh and the accompanying workshops.

Tombaugh talked about building his first telescope (about six feet long), said Greg Hnatluk. "His next telescope was about two stories high."

Nancy Staffend said Tombaugh discussed how the orbits of Pluto and Neptune would change. "He (Tombaugh) put a lot of time and effort into finding Pluto," she said. "That shows that hard work pays off."

Danielle Sockoloski said she enjoyed Tombaugh's discussion about the composition of comets, and how comets are similar in makeup to a "dirty snowball."

Steve Snabb said he enjoyed Tombaugh and the discussions on astronomy. But he also enjoyed the workshop he attended because he and others could touch or handle toads, snakes and lizards.

Ford's better idea: encourage careers in science would make at a hamburger stand," Bombback said. "We're expanding the program this year to include seven teachers (who will earn about $2,850 for six weeks)."

Summer interns are selected from those who participate in Saturday classes and are recommended by their teachers. "We're interested in those students motivated enough to roll out of bed on their day off," said Bombback. "We also require a 2,500-word paper on one of the topics we covered at the Saturday classes during the year."

Some Ford staff personnel were initially skeptical about the students, Bombback said. "They were concerned about the added work and responsibility. But after seeing what the students could do, those same people were looking for ways to keep them on."

land, is a former intern who now works about 12 hours a week at the Ford Engineering and Research Center.

BOTH THE intern program and the part-time jobs give students "a look at real-life science," said Holdeman.

At her part-time job Holdeman, who will study civil engineering under a joint program sponsored by Central Michigan University and Michigan Technological University, works with a cryo-ultramicrotome to slice polymer for analysis under a transmission electron microscope.

She slices polymer, a plastic-like synthetic, to about 1/100th the width of a human hair or piece of paper, Holdeman said. Samples are then put under the microscope that transmits electrons through the polymer for analysis of the internal structure, she explained.

"It's demanding work," said her boss, H. Kiel Plummer, research scientist. "It's tedious and demands patience and attention to detail. I believe about one in 100 students could do that work."

While the ultimate goal is to encourage students to go into science or engineering, Bombback said there is more immediate gratification.

"There's the reward of seeing somebody's face when the light goes on and they begin to see what it's all about. It's very rewarding."

Not every student responds as openly, Bombback said. "Some students take notes like crazy while others don't seem to be interested. But they come back time after time. We just hope some of what we're doing rubs off."

Science bewilders adults, too

National and international report cards suggest that students are scientifically illiterate.

But public opinion polls suggest their ignorance may be reflective of a general lack of scientific knowledge among the public.

A 1985 survey by the Public Opinion Laboratory at Northern Illinois University, for example, reported that more than 400 adults, or about 21 percent of those responding, said the sun revolves around the earth.

About 7 percent, or 140 respondents, said they didn't know.

Other findings reported from that survey include:

- Some 39 percent of the adults questioned said they thought astrology is scientific. About 7 percent said they sometimes change their plans after reading their horoscopes.

- About 41 percent of the adults responding agreed with the statement, "Rocket launchings and other space activities have caused changes in our weather."

- About 43 percent of adults agreed with the statement, "It is likely that some of the unidentified flying objects that have been reported are really space vehicles from other civilizations."

- About 29 percent of the adults questioned responded "true," when asked if lasers work by focusing sound waves.

All of the above statements are false.

The lack of science knowledge is also evident among groups that are supposedly educated. In response to a questionnaire mailed by an Oberlin College biology professor to newspaper editors, only 51 percent said they disagreed strongly with the statement: "Dinosaurs and humans lived contemporaneously." Some 37 percent said they agreed or had no opinion.

When is the Best Time to look for a Physician?

No matter how healthy you are, anyone can fall victim to an unexpected accident or sudden illness. When that happens, it's nice to have a personal physician you can turn to. Someone who knows your medical history and can promptly respond to your medical needs.

Finding the right physician isn't easy. That's why St. Mary Hospital established a no cost, no obligation, physician referral service. Our representatives can help you find the right physician specialist near your home or work, who has convenient office hours and accepts your insurance plan. If you desire, you can even be connected to the physician's office for an appointment. Best of all, the physician is affiliated with St. Mary Hospital of Livonia. St. Mary has been providing quality care to area residents for over a quarter-of-a-century.

So, before you look for a physician in the yellow pages, or compile a confusing list of names and telephone numbers from friends, call

ST. MARY HOSPITAL PHYSICIAN REFERRAL SERVICE 464-WELL

Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. At other times you may leave a message and the representative will call you back the next business day. Remember, the best time to look for a physician is before you need one!

When in doubt

For information, start at top

YOU NEVER have heard of Henry Hesling or Paul Wahl, but you are about to. For that matter, you may not have known that there is a city in California named Delano — all lower case, please — but there is. Hesling and Wahl both are employed there, Hesling as city manager and Wahl as managing editor of the city's twice-weekly newspaper, the Delano Record.

through bifocals

town a visit.

My curiosity about this town of some 20,000 has been growing for many years. For some reason I knew it's pronounced as we pronounce the family name in Michigan, De-LA-no, whether a capital "I" is used or not, disdaining the effete DEL-ano favored by FRD's Hyde Park-on-the-Hudson branch.

It's a dateline which has appeared many times in the nation's press, usually because of some pronouncement by the United Farm Workers' Caesar Chavez, who long has headquartered in this San Joaquin Valley community at the heart of one of the most agriculturally productive regions in the world.

I also wondered how it got its name. If you have a municipal namesake somewhere, perhaps you are equally curious. I wondered if some forgotten ancestor once owned all these rich acres, and I wondered if I could claim a couple of sections for myself. So last week I paid the

ONE of the first editors I worked for many years ago always told his neophytes that when in quest of information, start at the top. Thus, city hall was my first port-of-call and when I asked to see the city manager I half expected to be told he was on a coffee break with the city clerk and DPW director. But not Henry Hesling, a former law enforcement officer who looks the part and still is on the sunny side of 50.

The hospitality he extended was terrific. When I walked out later in the morning it was with an armful of materials extolling Delano's progress, including a 30-minute video tape and a 268-page hard cover book on the city's history since its founding in 1873.

It was from this book that I learned the town was named for a man named Columbus Delano, who was secretary of the interior from 1870 to 1875 in the cabinet of President Ulysses S. Grant. Only those who have read my family's genealogy know that Grant's name, as well as FDR's, is on one of the limbs of the family tree, so I sense that dear cousin Columbus knew of their patronage long before it popped into my own mind.

STATISTICS from Hesling on growth in population, housing and employment were impressive and of course I liked it when he said doubling the size of the present city-owned nine-hole golf course is being considered. But I also remembered something else I had been told as a cub reporter long ago: to wit, if you're new in town, after talking to the politicians, get verification from the local editor. That took me to Wahl's office.

He's another youngish guy. Both he and Hesling were new to Delano in the '80s and both see great opportunities ahead.

On the very day I was there, it was announced by the State of California that a $200 million construction project had been approved for Delano, bringing smiles to the faces of civic leaders contemplating what that would mean in jobs and community payroll.

It's the sort of thing people in the background like city managers and editors don't always get credit for fostering, but I didn't have to be told where the incentive originated. And actually I didn't have to look for it in California. There have been many such instances at home in Michigan.

If, like me, you ever were a student (not necessarily scholar) at the University of Michigan, you know I had to ask Paul about the name Wahl, which for generations was connected with one of Ann Arbor's best known book stores. I asked if he were related.

He admitted he did not know, but added, "I do have relatives in Tecumseh, Michigan, and have visited there; so maybe I am."

As salesmen for their town, Hesling and Wahl were tops. They wondered if I could get back for the annual Wine and Harvest Festival. I said maybe so, if I can work it in with such rivals as Farmington's Founder's Festival, the Livonia Spree and Plymouth Fall Festival. Whether it was a compliment or not, I don't know, but I also was told that mine is a name they can never forget.

Fred Delano is a freelance writer. He lives in Plymouth when he's not on the road.

King Day should help 'rap' misperceptions

IT'S PERFECT. Rap music is everything essential to drive parents up the wall. It's loud, raucous, anti-melodic, crude, vulgar and stupid when it isn't insidious.

My kids love nothing better than to pop a rap tape into the player and watch mom go into a tizzy or watch dad rip it out and insist on listening to his old "hippie" music.

My wife and I understand this, of course, but still react in the expected way. After all, your brain can only stand so many minutes of a rapper expounding on his sexual prowess and his skill with a razor. You can listen to the repetition of two popular four-letter words only so many times without becoming insensate. You can put up with the whirl of sirens and the rat-a-tat of gunfire only so much.

I READ somewhere, a few years back, that rap music was the new people's music. Anybody could do it. Musical talent was irrelevant, if not counterproductive. The best rappers were "street poets" who told it like it is. After listening to rap over the years, I don't believe that rap is any kind of poetry or honesty.

Rap is the old talking blues with a slightly different beat. It does convey some of the ugliness of life but in an inane, blunt and inept way. It rarely has the humor of the blues. It rarely has the heart.

What all this is leading up to is a comment on Martin Luther King Day.

Dr. King was killed 20 years ago. The civil rights movement for which he was the cyclone roaring across a long neglectful nation was already gasping for breath when he was assassinated.

It was time to stop marching and take stock. Much was accomplished. Universities were integrated, public accommodations were opened to all, barriers to employment were eliminated. Actions were altered, but minds were harder to change.

MY KIDS live in a very white section of a mostly white suburb on the edge of a black city. Despite their liberal parents and the Cosby Show and their adulation of the Detroit Pistons, my kids have a very negative or at least wary view of blacks.

We go into the city fairly often for suburbanites. They see once elegant houses run down and boarded up. They see pimps, drug pushers and prostitutes plying their trades in full view of the world. Drive down Michigan, Woodward, Warren, Grand Boulevard. The atmosphere becomes oppressive when you pass Wyoming.

They read the newspapers. It seems that every day someone is getting killed in the city, usually someone very young with a gun or a knife. Drugs are always involved.

We try to explain. It's poverty that grinds people down. It's generations of poverty that kill hope. It's Reaganomics that have left more people in poverty even while others gain in prosperity. The distance between rich and poor grows.

"What do you mean? They sell drugs and make thousands a week. They're only 15 years old and they got Mercedes."

You want to scream that they also end up dead. You want to say that real profits go to government officials, Mafia dons and drug companies with back doors.

BUT MY kids listen to rap music and watch the movies and TV. They aren't fooled by what I say. The city has winners and losers. The losers live in slums because that's what they want or they're too lazy to do anything else or they're strung out on drugs. The winners supply them with drugs, drive fancy automobiles, have women serving them and live in the high-rise apartments on the river.

Trying to explain how most black people try to struggle through the day, work hard jobs, try to hold their families together and work to keep up substandard or dilapidated houses on small incomes goes into deaf ears. Trying to explain redlining and racial steering by real estate companies gets blank looks. Trying to tell them that most victims of crime are innocent black people like the little girl caught in a crossfire makes them shrug.

Instead of giving people the day off and making a mockery of a great man, Martin Luther King Day should be used to tear up and rip down all these partial perceptions, these half-truths, these living rap songs that continue the core of racism. Every school in this area should be devoted to programs that challenge and destroy every lie.

Thanks for MADD help

To the editor: We would like to thank Steve Barnaby, managing editor of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, for the article he wrote on our Red Ribbon Campaign.

We are glad that Mr. Barnaby realized how doing such a small thing as tying a ribbon to the antenna or handle of a person's car or truck could be such a great public awareness act.

With drunk driving crashes (not accidents) being responsible for the deaths of approximately 24,000 people annually in the United States, we appreciate all of the media support that we can receive. The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers have been most helpful in helping us spread the word that combining driving with drinking is no longer going to be socially acceptable.

WALKING WITH DIFFICULTY WHEN TO SEE A RHEUMATOLOGIST

If faced by vexing medical problems, you may decide to forgo an evaluation by your personal physician and on your own, seek out a specialist. If the matter involves difficulty walking, how can you decide if you should see a neurologist or a rheumatologist?

When the problem is weakness, or the impairment includes loss of coordination, such as placing one foot in front of the other, then neurology consultation is in order. The presence of numbness or of a pins-and-needles feeling when the leg is at rest also is indicative of a neurological problem.

If you note pain on walking which is relieved by rest, or a swollen knee occurs, or the pain is aching and sharp and radiates little or not at all, then a rheumatologist is the appropriate specialist.

Certain problems, such as give-way collapse of the leg, pose a difficult decision. Is the cause weakness in the muscle, or anticipated pain in the joint? In these instances, you may find it best to call the specialist you are considering before arranging an appointment. Discuss with him if his specialty is the appropriate one to evaluate the matter.

Police were special help

To the editor: Now comes a Livonia resident who would like to share my personal feelings about our Livonia Police Department.

It all started about August 1985 when my son ran away from home. When he was eventually found, Department of Social Services contacted me. They connected me with the youth department at the Livonia Police Station, where I met officer Julie Worden.

Things were quiet until April 1986. That's when the Livonia Police Department became a part of my life.

In three years I've probably come in contact some way, shape, or form, with just about every police officer that there is at the Livonia Police Station. I always got a squad car when I felt that I needed one. I'm sure they were always tired of hearing my name. I would like to take this opportunity to commend the Livonia Police Department for everything they have done for me.

Now things have quieted down for me. At this time I would like to thank the Livonia Police Department for their support and understanding. And a special thanks to officer Worden for not just being a police officer but for being a very special person—and a very special lady. And to let you know that I have a very special place in my heart for everyone at the police station who helped me.

Sheriff seeks more money for department

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Wayne County should seek, help from Lansing, if necessary, to obtain more money for sheriff's department road patrols, Sheriff Robert Ficano said Thursday.

Saying department financing is reaching a crisis point, Ficano called on county commissioners to endorse a plan that would alter the way drunken driving court costs are distributed.

"RIGHT NOW, when a ticket is issued, officers have a choice: whether it should be issued under a state or local ordinance. Most often, they check local so the money goes locally," Ficano said. "We'd like money to come to the county."

Ficano said money was needed for new department cars and vans, as well as to add road patrol deputies.

The proposal would also include parking tickets issued at Metro Airport. It would only affect tickets issued by sheriff's deputies assigned to road and airport patrol duties. It wouldn't involve tickets issued by city or township departments.

Though sheriff's department road patrols generally aren't conducted in western Wayne County, deputies issue tickets along Hines Drive in Plymouth Township, Livonia and Westland.

Drunk driving is a misdemeanor. Those found guilty, or who plead guilty, can face fines and court costs totaling as much as $500, court sources said.

Distribution of penalties, however, is complex. Fines generally account for half the total penalty. The rest involves court costs, including cost for processing cases. Additional $5 penalties may also be added. These penalties are used to provide police training and to bolster the state's general fund.

Ficano's proposal involves court costs. These costs are normally returned to the community in which the ticket was issued. Instead, this money would go to the county to, among other things, help finance sheriff's road and park patrols.

"WE'RE HELPING everybody, and yet we haven't been able to benefit financially," Ficano said.

The proposal could add as much as $500,000 to the sheriff's department

There are currently five road patrol deputies. Though county commissioners originally authorized as many as 22 deputies under the new county budget, they scaled that figure back in a compromise with county Executive Edward McNamara.

The road patrol provides back-up police duties in Ecorse, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Inkster and River Rouge.

The sheriff's department needs more than $300,000 to replace vans used to transport prisoners to state prisons, Ficano said.

The sheriff encouraged county commissioners to press legislators for changes in state law allowing the county to receive court costs.

He added, however, that the county may already be able to do so. "There's some question over

'Right now, when a ticket is issued, officers have a choice: whether it should be issued under a state or local ordinance. Most often, they check local so the money goes locally. We'd like money to come to the county.'

whether Wayne County already has this right as a charter county," Ficano said.

A spokesman for Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara's office said money would be found for the transport vans.

"We think there's a need, obviously safety of the deputies is the top priority," deputy county executive Michael Duggan said.

But the executive's office doesn't agree road patrols need to be expanded.

"The funding level was set by the commissioners," Duggan said.

Olive oil shining at the deli

Have you been in any good gourmet delis lately?

If you have, one look around and you will surely notice that there seems to be an abundance of shelf space given to something as plain and mundane as olive oil.

When I was growing up, momma always had a small jar of domestic olive oil hidden in the back of the cupboard. I honestly can't say I ever remember her using the oil in a specific recipe but I do remember watching her search out the jar whenever one of the Janes kids had an earache. Call it folklore medicine, but a warm teaspoonful of olive oil poured gently into an aching ear, accompanied with a cuddle and a finger-nail backrub, always got rid of my earaches.

Today, however, olive oil is experiencing a resurgence in the kitchen as the oil. It has no cholesterol, and when used properly, can really bring out the flavor of many dishes.

But getting back to that deli, a recent trip to the deli-de-rigueur of the Janes gang found more than 15 different varieties, some with inexpensive price tags of around $6 per liter while others towered in the $30-per-liter range. At 30 bucks per crack, that works out to about 80 cents per tablespoon. Needless to say, you better know and be able to appreciate what this kind of money can buy.

FIRST OFF, anyone will notice that there are three basic varieties of olive oil on the market today. The best are the extra virgins, defined by Italian laws as having an acidity content of less than one percent.

Common sense will dictate that the higher the acidity level, the lower the quality. The best extra-virgin olive oils vary in color from a deep green to gold. As a rule of thumb, the greener the oil, the fuller the flavor, but beware of manufacturers bottling lesser-quality oils in bottles with a green hue.

The secret here is the key words extra virgin. Oils of this quality should never be greasy or oily, and upon opening will yield an aroma or bouquet like a fine wine with a fragrance of fresh olives.

The next variety you will notice on the shelves is the first cold-pressed oils. These oils have been around for many years in health stores and are used in herbal body lotions as well as the kitchen. For first cold-pressed oils, the olives are pressed by stone mills using no additives, chemicals or heat. This is a very expensive and time-consuming operation.

All extra-virgin oils are first cold pressed. Again, the buyer should be aware of the key words here being first cold pressed. With today's market taking off faster than a jet at Metro, many large manufacturers are using steel pressed instead of stone, which creates friction when used. This friction causes heat which, in turn, lowers the general quality of the oil.

LAST BUT NOT least are the pure olive oil varieties on the market. While the name pure sounds tempting, beware of these products, as most have higher acidity levels accompanied by little or no flavor. Even though the oil says pure, these oils are pressed a second or third time, some enhanced with chemicals that, when heated, can extract all possible liquid from the olive.

All extra-virgin and first cold pressed olive oils should best be appreciated when at room temperature. Therefore, these oils should be stored in a cool, dark corner of your cupboard or pantry. Olive oils stored in tin will eventually pick up a "tinny" taste and are best stored in glass jars. Once a bottle of oil has been opened, it should be used within one year.

It is recommended that you never cook with these oils but use them instead on salads, sprinkled over tomatoes, soft cheeses, fresh

Yo-yo a no-no

Why you eat is important to what you eat

By Louise Okrutky special writer

WITH THE NEW YEAR still young, many holiday overeaters embark on weight programs with grand expectations of dumping extra pounds faster than you can order a triple fudge chocolate sundae. Many lose determination instead of weight.

Instead of switching to the next fad diet, they need to examine the reasons they eat too much, experts say.

Some find themselves caught in an unending circle of dieting, overeating and dieting again. After a six-week regimen of low-calorie meals, dieters often fall back into the same poor eating habits that caused them to gain weight.

"I dieted for years," said Lorraine Stefano, founder of the Troy-based Think Trim program. The social-worker-turned-diet-counselor conducts classes in Birmingham, Farmington and Livonia.

"I WAS A CLASSIC yo-yo person," Stefano said. "I yo-yoed trying to lose the same 60 pounds."

"Statistics have shown that 95 percent of the people on diets regain their weight. If this is the same 10 pounds you lost last year, maybe you ought to look at why you eat," Stefano said.

Many habitual dieters eat in response to stress, according to Ann Greer, a registered dietician at Crittenton Hospital, Rochester. Greer teaches a six-week weight-loss class sponsored by the hospital.

"They need to identify stress and resolve it in another way instead of adding to poundage (due) to stress," Greer said.

People associate food with different activities. Watching a football game on television might automatically mean munching on potato chips followed by a beer. Parties, especially holiday celebrations, serve as another excuse to eat for the sake of eating.

"SOMETIMES, THE TURKEY isn't the only thing that's stuffed," Stefano said.

Boredom, sadness, depression and, by contrast, happiness may lead to overeating. Snacking serves as a way to procrastinate beginning a task.

"You may not be hungry but you associate food with watching television. You have to know when you're hungry," Greer said.

It's just as important to know when to push away from the table. "You have to learn to leave things on your plate. Stop when you're satisfied," Stefano said.

Typical holiday weight gain of seven to 10 pounds can slowly be dropped by eating when physically hungry and avoiding desserts and alcohol, experts suggest.

Some programs, such as Weight Watchers, recommend dieters sweep through their kitchen cupboards and discard cakes, cookies, breads and other calorie-packed goodies. Don't buy favorite snack items. If you must, Greer recommends, buy small packages. Instead of a one-half gallon of ice cream, buy small Dixie cups of ice cream.

Don't eat anything out of the bag. It's easy to lose track of how much has been consumed. Portion out all foods on a plate.

FOR THE GROWING number of people who don't eat at home regularly, there are strategies to guide them through restaurant menus.

Order baked potatoes with the sour cream on the side. Ask about daily specials that are broiled or baked, not fried. When ordering fish or grilled steak, request that it be prepared without butter sauce. That alone saves 100-200 calories, Greer said.

Scientist on alert against pesticides

By Sherry Kahan special writer

Lawrie Mott believes that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration are doing a poor job protecting Americans from food containing pesticides.

In a recent talk in Ann Arbor's Rackham Building, she gave both agencies a tongue lashing. Senior scientist with the Natural Resources Defense Council, an environmental organization, Mott is co-author of the book "Pesticide Alert."

As she covered the pesticide picture, Mott also laid out specific hazards involved in eating foods containing residues of pesticides, an umbrella word used today to include insecticides, herbicides, fungicides and rodenticides. In addition, she warned that foreign produce can be more dangerous than domestic. Her suggestions for solving the problem called for consumer pressure to turn the EPA and FDA into better watchdogs, and buying food grown without these chemicals.

It is ironic that just as consumers began to warm up to fresh produce for the sake of their health, word filtered out that they might be unsafe. To many the first news that pesticides could actually penetrate a fruit or vegetable came in 1985 when California recalled its entire watermelon crop. Some of the melons had been treated with the herbicide, Temik.

"WITHIN TWO to 12 hours after eating the contaminated watermelons, people experienced nausea, vomiting, blurred vision, muscle weakness and other symptoms," Mott told an audience of about 200. "Fortunately no one died, though some of the victims were gravely ill. Reports included grand mal seizures, cardiac irregularities, a number of hospitalizations, and at least two stillbirths following maternal illness."

About 2.6 billion pounds of pesticides are used every year in this country, and not just on food products, the speaker continued. "They are sprayed on forests, lakes, lawns, city parks and playing fields, and in hospitals, schools, offices and homes. They are also used in shampoo, shower curtains, shelf paper and mattresses."

Some of the chemicals used on food are applied solely for cosmetic purposes. Mott mentioned a study indicating that from 60-80 percent of pesticides applied to citrus are used only to make the fruit look good.

The risks in pesticides are considerable, according to Mott. She referred to a National Academy of Sciences report in 1987 that noted the potential risks posed by cancer-causing pesticides in food may lead to more than one million additional cancer cases in the United States over the next 70 years. The EPA has identified 66 out of 300 chemicals as being carcinogenic, and a 1987 report by the agency ranked pesticides in food as one of the nation's most serious health problems. Mott added that pesticides can also cause birth defects, miscarriages, sterility, impaired fertility, nerve damage and changes in genetic material.

MOTT ALSO WANTED her listeners to be aware of the greater hazards in imported food. "Imported fresh fruits account for 25 percent of the total U.S. supply, foreign vegetables for six percent," she said.

The use of pesticides on food grown in other countries is not governed by U.S. regulations. Furthermore, pesticides banned for use here may still be used overseas. DDT, banned here in 1972 due to its carcin-

Yo-yo dieting not the way to keep body weight down

Eat vegetables plain and always avoid sauces, she said. Check with the waiter to see if a restaurant's soup is prepared with whole milk or salt. Both should be avoided, she said.

Salads, with a wrongful reputation for automatically carrying low calories, pose a problem. Order salads with the dressing on the side. Always order diet dressing.

Salad bars serve temptation. Avoid bacon bits, garbanzo beans and those tasty-looking extras. Before filling the plate with fruit, ask if the restaurant serves fresh or canned goods. Canned fruit packed in syrup means extra calories.

Other foods popularly believed to be low in calories really pack unwanted calories. Count cottage cheese and tuna the same as a meat item, Greer said.

FOLLOW THE GUIDELINES, but don't expect miracles. "Most people make the mistake of overwhelming themselves. Resolutions are nice but for most people it's too much change all at once. They should make a resolution to be trim and healthy and take it step by step," Stefano said.

Avoiding certain foods must be followed by choosing the correct foods. Eat three meals a day without any snacks, suggests Greer. She recommends 1,200 calories per day for women, 1,500 a day for men. Weight Watchers comes in lower on its recommendations. It suggests a minimum 1,000 calories a day for women, 1,200 for men.

Plan every meal, even if it means writing out menus for the week before grocery shopping, Greer said.

Everyone recommends consulting a doctor before starting an exercise and/or weight-loss program. No matter what plan is used, it's important to be sensible. Don't skip breakfast and lunch and then stuff yourself at dinner. That usually means you're eating more than 1,200 calories in one meal, Greer said.

Exercise should accompany a sensible eating program, most experts say. However, if the exercise program is meant to last only six weeks or until 10 pounds are shed, you may be wasting your time and effort.

"Weight loss doesn't happen automatically with exercise," said Dr. Fred Stransky, director of the Meadow Brook Health Enrichment Institute at Oakland University, Rochester Hills.

WALKING ONE MILE burns about 100 calories. For those sort of results, it might be just as effective to skip eating fast-food hamburgers, he said. "Walking an extra mile a day, as a New Year's resolution, isn't unrealistic," Stransky said. "For a 130-pound woman, that can mean almost 11 pounds lost throughout the year (down to 119 pounds). But it's a way of life. Short term doesn't do it."

Most weight-loss experts recommend walking as an exercise that's easy to do, requires little special equipment and can be easily integrated into a dieter's lifestyle. Malls open their doors early to walkers. Call ahead for information on time, access and registration.

Low-impact aerobics is also recommended by Greer. She cautions that participants make sure the instructor monitors students' target heart rates.

As in dieting, the key consideration in exercise is a person's ability to make the new practice a permanent part of his or her lifestyle. "Get away from the idea that you've got to go through a 1 1/2-hour routine. Know your lifestyle and be honest with yourself," Stefano said.

Try to keep a positive attitude while dieting. Weight Watchers suggests rewarding yourself for achieving a goal with a non-food item.

"Picture yourself in the spring in the body you want," Stefano said. "Focus on the positive aspects of your body. Don't wet-noodle yourself."

Recipes for a tasteful diet

In nine-inch skillet heat oil, add chicken and cook, turning once, until browned, two-three minutes on each side. Transfer chicken to plate and set aside.

In same skillet heat margarine until bubbly and hot; add vegetables and garlic and saute, stirring frequently, until onions are translucent, four-five minutes. Add sherry and bring to a boil; stir in water, mustard, lemon juice, and broth mix. Add potatoes and chicken to skillet and return mixture to a boil. Reduce heat, cover, and let simmer until chicken is tender and, when pierced with a fork, juices run clear, 15-20 minutes.

Each serving provides: three protein exchanges, one bread exchange, two vegetable exchanges, 1 1/4 fat exchanges, 20 calories optional exchange.

Per serving: 320 calories; 30 grams protein; 8 grams fat; 27 carbohydrate; 55 milligrams sodium; 66 milligrams cholesterol.

OPEN-FACE DILLY CRAB SANDWICHES

Makes two servings, two open-face sandwiches

2 ounces thawed and thoroughly drained frozen crabmeat, chilled
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon reduced-calorie mayonnaise
1 tablespoon sour cream
1 teaspoon chopped fresh dill
1/4 teaspoon each lemon juice and dill mustard
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon peel
4 slices pumpernickel cocktail bread (1 1/2 ounces)
2 lettuce leaves, cut into halves
Garnish: 2 lemon slices, halved, and

4 dill sprigs

In small mixing bowl combine crabmeat, mayonnaise, sour cream, dill, lemon juice, mustard, and lemon peel and stir until thoroughly combined.

Top each slice of bread with a lettuce leaf half and then spread 1/4 of crab mixture over each. Top each portion with lemon slice and dill sprig.

Each serving provides: one protein exchange, one bread exchange, 1/4 vegetable exchange, one fat exchange, 15 calories optional.

Per serving: 129 calories, 8 grams protein, 5 grams fat, 13 grams carbohydrate, 69 milligrams calcium, 318 milligrams sodium, 35 milligrams cholesterol.

Scientist on alert against pesticides in food

nogenically and environmental hazards, was legally used in the 1980s in several foreign countries including the United Kingdom, India and the Philippines."

She added that the FDA has detected pesticide residues in 64 percent of imported food and in 38 percent of domestic food. About 23 percent of domestic tomatoes contain residues while 70 percent of imported tomatoes have them. Thirty percent of domestic cucumbers have residues, 80 percent of imported cucumbers have them.

What troubled the speaker in regard to the role of the EPA and FDA regarding pesticides in food is that their research is scanty, not up to date and EPA's tolerance levels are too high.

About the FDA, she said, "The FDA samples less than one percent of this country's food supply. Its enforcement against food with residues in excess of tolerance is ineffective."

ABOUT THE EPA she reported, "The lack of health effects data on pesticides means that the EPA is regulating pesticides on the basis of ignorance rather than knowledge."

She observed that between 1982-85 the FDA detected pesticide residues in 48 percent of the most frequently consumed fresh fruit and vegetables.

"Yet this figure probably understates the number of pesticides in food because half of the chemicals applied to food supplies cannot be routinely detected by FDA lab methods," she said. "Approximately 40 percent of pesticides identified by the FDA as posing moderate to high health hazards, including carcinogens, like daminozide, benomyl, alachlor and EBDGs, cannot be identified in its lab tests."

A majority of pesticides now available were licensed before the EPA established requirements for health effects testing. "In 1972 Congress directed the EPA to re-evaluate all 600 older pesticides by modern testing, in recognition of the serious consequences posed to public health," noted Mott. "Through re-registration, the EPA would fill the gaps in required toxicology tests and have better information on how to evaluate and regulate pesticides."

The speaker paused. "But by 1987 the EPA had completed a final safety statement for only two of those 600 pesticides," she said.

About 400 pesticides are registered for use on food, she declared. "The EPA acknowledged that 390 are undergoing registration review. In other words, for 390 of them, there is an inadequate toxicological data base with which EPA could register these pesticides," Mott explained.

"TO MAKE MATTERS worse, scientists are now uncovering new toxic adverse effects caused by chemicals. For example, a few pesticides have been found to damage components of the immune system, the body's defense network."

"Testing for this toxicity is not part of the routine safety evaluation for pesticides. Furthermore, the EPA now acknowledges its battery of tests to evaluate neurotoxicity is inadequate."

Consumers could have an important role in improving the pesticide situation, according to Mott, who offered a variety of suggestions on how to deal with them.

- Wash all produce with water to decrease exposure to pesticides. Some will be removed but not all.

- Peel produce. Some residues cannot be removed by water.

- Grow your own food without pesticides.

- Buy locally and in season. If food is shipped long distances, pesticides are often added to prevent spoiling.

- Beware of perfect-looking produce. Many pesticides are used just to enhance its appearance. Brown spots do not reduce nutritional value or affect taste. A glossy appearance may signal produce that was waxed for cosmetic reasons. Wax can't be washed off, and it seals in residues in food.

- Buy organic food. (Mott favors a farm bill that would financially aid farmers willing to make the transition from using pesticides to not using them.)

- Write to supermarket managers or meet with them to ask them to stock organically-grown produce. If possible, help them locate sources of this food. Kroger's indicated to the Ann Arbor Ecology Center that it may soon stock organic food as an alternative.

- Write your congressional representatives stating your opposition to pesticides. In the next few months Congress will consider legislation to strengthen the EPA's regulation of pesticides in food. Attempts will be made to revise its tolerances based on new methods and safety data. Also urge Congress to consider children when tolerances are set. They consume more food per unit of body weight than adults and need lower tolerances.

cooked pasta, steaks or seafood. If you have a recipe that calls for cooking with olive oil, a simple, less expensive domestic brand will suffice.

Last but not least, if you are really into these types of oil or know someone who would appreciate them, shopping around the various markets will have you noticing vintage olive oils. These are from the smaller producers with exceedingly high standards and, of course, with the territory comes exceedingly high price tags. True gastronomes will surely appreciate the difference, but folks like you and me probably would have difficulty discerning it.

So if you are into olive oil, a trip to some neat delis and gourmet shops will entice your palate and pocketbook. Bon Appetit!

North winds blow Borgess' way

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Charles North was standing in the Redford Bishop Borgess locker room Friday night, not far from Kareem Carpenter's old locker.

North, who scored 23 points in Borgess' 58-48 win over visiting Redford Catholic Central, talked about how much he'll miss Carpenter, a 6-foot-4 junior. Carpenter's family moved from Detroit to Ann Arbor last week and he has transferred to Ann Arbor Huron.

Carpenter was the Spartans' leading rebounder and best inside offensive player, but Friday they missed him more in the locker room.

"We'll miss him in the locker room, because he's real funny," North said. "He has everybody laughing. Sometimes it will be real intense and he'd always crack a joke."

"We have to keep our heads up. Kareem got half our rebounds. We just have to put our minds to it."

THE SPARTANS' win means both teams are tied at the top of the Catholic League's Central Division at 5-1, with four games left. The Spartans are 7-4 overall and the Shamrocks fell to 6-5.

There's nothing funny about that, according to CC coach Bernie Holowicki.

"We've got some tough games ahead and anything can happen," Holowicki said. "I don't see them losing any more games so that means we have to win the rest of ours to keep pace with them."

Borgess coach Mike Fusco would like to have Carpenter for the final month of the season, but he'll have to do without him. Carpenter's name was still taped to his locker Friday. Maybe he expects him back?

"It's been a tough couple of days," he said. "I don't want to admit it (that he's gone), because he kept track of things inside. We miss that."

"Three of our last four games are on the road. It'll be a dogfight."

It was Borgess's smaller players that gave CC trouble Friday.

CC WAS UNABLE to keep up with the quicker Spartans, especially during the second quarter when the Spartans outscored the Shamrocks 22-2. Borgess trailed 13-9 after the first quarter, but opened up a 31-15 lead at halftime. CC made only one of nine field goals in the second quarter, and its biggest threat, Ray Richards was scoreless in the first half.

Reshawn Sumler, a 6-4 sophomore, replaced Carpenter in the starting lineup and finished with a respectable six points and five rebounds.

The real difference came from the backcourt, where North and Shawn Respert combined to score 36 points and make seven 3-point shots. North made six 3-pointers, including three in the decisive second quarter.

"I just told myself tonight's the night to win," North said. "I'm not going to hold anything back. Every time I got the ball I felt I had to put the team ahead."

CC made a run at Borgess in the second half and trailed by only four, 48-44 with 3:05 left in the game.

BORGESS SCORED the next five points on a 3-pointer by North and two free throws by Dwayne Hayes, to open up a 53-44 lead with 1:34 remaining.

Richards did his best to keep CC close, scoring all 16 of his points in the second half. Jeff Schaner added 11 for the Shamrocks and Terry Boykin, who spent most of the night in foul trouble, scored nine. Boykin fouled out with just more than a minute left.

"Terry was out of sync tonight," Holowicki said. "He didn't set the tone and show good leadership. Still, he's a young man and that happens sometimes."

Fusco praised Sumler, who had some awfully big shoes to fill.

"He's coming along," Fusco said. "He's going to be a fine player once he gets more strength. I talked to Rashawn and told him I wanted him to be our rebounder. And I told our whole team to be physical. The first time we played them they outlasted us, and I didn't want that to happen again."

Monarchs overhaul Schoolcraft

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Madonna won college basketball bragging rights Thursday in Livonia, scoring a 97-91 victory at Schoolcraft College.

It was the fourth victory in five games since the holiday break for the Monarchs (6-11), a four-year school embarking on its first inter-collegiate schedule under coach Bob Whitlow.

Wayne Memorial High product Anthony Strickland, who recently became eligible, led Madonna with 22 points. He was coming off a school-record 46-point performance earlier in the week against William Tyndale College.

Strickland, who spent time at Michigan Christian, Concordia College and Orchard Lake St. Mary's, led a balanced Madonna attack.

Five others reached double figures including Shaun Hayward (17), Terance Bell (15), Ron Griffin (13), Bryan Daniel (12) and Eric Campbell (10). Marcus Lowe, a freshman from Westland John Glenn who started at point guard, added eight.

Campbell, a product from Redford Temple Christian High who recently became eligible after transferring to Madonna from Grand Rapids Bible, hit eight of 10 free throws, including some key foul shots down the stretch.

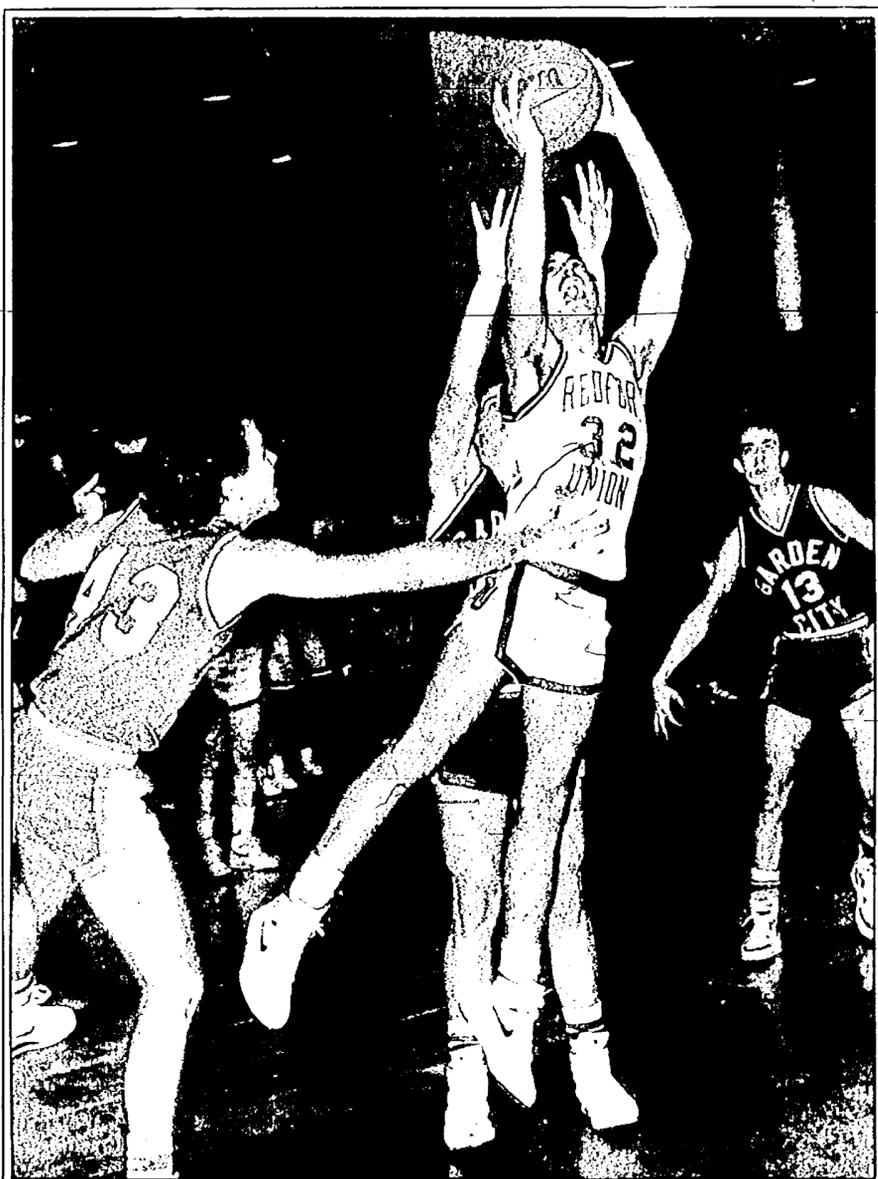

"WE'RE GETTING better, and we're working together a lot better," said Whitlow, a former center with the Detroit Lions (1961-65). "But Schoolcraft made it tough. They kept playing hard. Their defense gave us a lot of pressure, but we were able to get the ball inside when we had to."

Schoolcraft played an inspired first half, walking off the floor at intermission with a 51-47 lead.

But the Ocelots got careless with the basketball, a season-long problem that has contributed to their 5-15 overall record.

"Right at the start of the second half killed us," said SC coach Dave

Spartans crushed under Rocks, 82-68

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Plymouth Salem stayed ahead of the posse Friday, outrunning visiting Livonia Stevenson in a Western Lakes Activities Association boys basketball encounter, 82-68.

The Rocks, now 9-1 overall and leading the Lakes Division of the WLA with a 5-0 record, got 29 points from senior forward Jeff Elliott and 18 from sophomore center Jake Baker.

"We knew it would be an up-and-down game and I think that was to our advantage because we have a good group of athletes," said Salem coach Bob Brodie. "We're a fast-break team and early we were successful at doing that."

Salem, behind Elliott's 14 first-quarter points, jumped out to a 27-17 advantage, but the Spartans fought back to take a 38-34 lead with 1:37 left in the half when senior center Chris Nazelli, who scored a team-high 22 points, converted a three-point play.

BUT THE ROCKS got baskets from Tim Noonan and Jeff Gold just before intermission to knot things up at 38-all.

In the third quarter, Stevenson came out flat and the Rocks took advantage, outscoring the Spartans 8-0 at the outset.

That run helped Salem maintain a comfortable eight-point heading into the final quarter. The Rocks then put on another spurt, building an 18-point cushion with 3:33 to play on Elliott's third 3-pointer of the night.

"In the second quarter we were not scoring in transition and Stevenson was able to come at us with their zone," Brodie said. "But in the third quarter we did a better job of recognizing it and we got the ball inside."

Baker scored 12 points in the second half and it's his inside play which has catapulted the Rocks to the top of the standings.

"Jake's the player we go to inside, he's a rebounder and a scorer," said the Salem coach. "He's really our only inside guy, but he can shoot the 15- to 16-footer, but we don't ask him that much. He can also run the floor."

THE SPARTANS, who have changed to an up-tempo game since losing their top scorer, 6-6 center Mike Vrooman to a broken foot, played well offensively.

But their defense was nonexistent, according to coach Jim McIntyre.

"Salem was aggressive and did a nice job of attacking our press," said the Stevenson coach, whose team slipped to 6-4 overall and 2-3 in the Lakes. "But we did nothing at the other end as far as denying the ball. Our course, they often had a three-on-one and two-on-one advantage, but we didn't do anything when it was one-on-one. That's why we had to pull the press off."

McIntyre, however, was encouraged by the inside play of the 6-2 Nazelli, even though he made only 12 of 21 free throws.

"This was his best job as far as aggressiveness and being into it," said the Stevenson coach. "He took the shot when it was there. Overall, I think we've done a good job preparing without Vrooman. We have more quickness, but then we're not able to go inside as much. We're kind of caught in between right now."

Three other Spartans notched double figures, including three-point bomber Rick Laven and Scott Kosikowski, who added 12 each. Ron Baran chipped in with 11.

Meanwhile, Elliott has made a smooth adjustment from point-guard to forward for the Rocks, while Scott Hale (10 points) has also adapted to coming off the bench and playing up-front.

"Jeff's the guy we look to and he's been hot," said Brodie. "He likes to play inside. But we've got other people who can shoot it like (Craig) Marshall (10 points) and (Jeff) Gold. They've come on strong and that's allowed Hale and Elliott, who have been guards all their life, to play their natural positions."

Thurston hockey idea skating on thin ice

HIGH SCHOOL hockey at Redford Thurston?

The idea sounds noble enough.

John and Cheryl Degroat, along with friend Joe Carlton, have started a grass roots drive to bring hockey to the South Redford Schools, either as a varsity or club sport.

Recently they've taken their case to both the school board and the Thurston Booster Club.

But they've been put in the penalty box. Money is the obstacle.

"I would love to have a team, but it would be a tremendous financial burden," said Thurston athletic director Jim Urlick. "I play hockey four to five nights a week myself. I play on three teams. I love hockey, but it's hard to justify. If we had another $25,000, it would go to educational needs."

Part of the Degroats' motives for starting a program rests with their son.

"Playing for his high school team would give my kid incentive to get his grades," said Cheryl Degroat. "It would help keep other kids off the street, too."

WITH COOPERATION of the Redford Parks and Recreation Department, specifically the Redford Arena, along with fund-raising efforts by the parents, the Degroats believe a varsity program could be launched without putting the district in financial hardship.

They presented their plan last October to the South Redford school board. On Wednesday, they met with members of the school's booster club.

"Finances are still the big stumbling," John Degroat said. "We were told by Mr. Urlick that they (the schools) would have to provide all the equipment because the state mandates that all students must adequately be protected."

"But I told them most of the kids have been playing hockey for years would already own their own equipment. The parents would absorb many of the costs."

Urlick agreed that the costs could be cut almost in half once a program is started.

"I've priced everything out, moderately, and it would cost $25,000 to start and then maybe $15,000 or so a year thereafter," said the Thurston AD.

Brad Emons

GATE RECEIPTS often make high school hockey programs self-supporting.

"We'll clear $1,500-2,000 for a (Livonia) Stevenson-Churchill game," said Roger Frayer, athletic director at Stevenson.

How much does it cost to outfit a player?

Frayer said the district provides Stevenson's 20 players these items: travel (carry-all) equipment bag ($20), three jerseys ($25 each), three sticks ($10 each), socks ($7), pants ($25) and helmets ($30). "Most kids like to buy their own skates, which run anywhere from $185 to $215," Frayer said. "I provide three sticks, but my son (who plays for Churchill) likes a special stick that runs about $18, so he buys it himself. Most kids provide their own shoulder pads ($40), elbow pads ($20), shin pads ($30)."

The cost of renting ice normally runs $65 an hour. It could run a team anywhere from $240 to $320 a week. Schools would also have to provide crowd control personnel and pay for police supervision. Hiring two coaches is another expense.

"We've had super cooperation with the Redford Hockey Association and the Redford Arena," said Cheryl Degroat. "They're more than willing to work with us. They said they'd only charge $55 an hour."

BUT DESPITE THE proposed cost-cutting measures, Urlick rightfully has concerns about who will continue fund-raising efforts once this group leaves, who will be responsible for fan behavior (crowd control) outside school boundaries, and who will provide liability coverage.

But despite some of those obstacles, the bottom line is still money, or lack of it, according to Urlick.

"We just don't have enough resources to go into a program like that," he said. "My total budget for 38 (athletic) teams is $25,000," he said. "I have to divide that up amongst 38 teams."

Thurston, a member of the Tri-River League, would have to go outside its conference for scheduling.

But some districts recently started prep hockey programs and joined leagues, such as Southgate Anderson, currently the state's No. 1-ranked team in Class A.

I'd hazard to guess that Thurston would be pretty competitive in high school hockey. Two Thurston grads have played in the NHL including Dave Playmster (ex-Chicago Blackhawks) and Gordie Roberts (St. Louis Blues).

South Redford is a hockey hotbed. It wouldn't surprise me that this Class B school could be highly competitive in a short period of time.

BUT WHAT I am concerned about before we introduce hockey is the status of Thurston's other athletic programs, such as football, track and girls basketball. What direction are these programs headed? Last year Thurston could not come up with a ninth-grade football team.

The school also launched a varsity soccer program two years ago, and the jury is still out on whether this was a wise decision on the part of the South Redford Schools.

Participation is low in many current varsity sports, but with a relatively new principal (Stewart Schauder) and AD (Urlick), their ideas and direction need time to take shape.

But let's face it, Schauder and Urlick can only make suggestions, present the facts and make recommendations.

"I HAVEN'T GIVEN up," said John Degroat, who had a meeting Friday with the principal. "We'll see what he has to say and go from there."

It's too bad Thurston couldn't have started a program back in the early 1970s when the sport became popular. That was about the time when the Livonia schools implemented hockey.

It's too bad somebody like the Degroats weren't around back then. Their chances were better then they are now.

Trojans, Blazers, Glenn gain loop wins

Livonia Clarenceville won two more Metro Conference volleyball matches last week, but coach Mary Hursley isn't satisfied about the total picture.

Clarenceville (4-1 overall) ran its Metro record Thursday to 3-1 with a hard-fought 15-13, 15-4 win over visiting Hamtramck. On Wednesday, the Trojans also struggled in the first game against Lutheran West, 15-10, before taking Game No. 2, 15-5.

Hursley would like to see better first-game performances from her players.

Debbie Owens helped save Clarenceville Thursday in Game No. 1 against Hamtramck, serving five points and clearing the net on all nine of her serves. The Trojans trailed 10-12 in the first game, when Hursley had seen enough and called a timeout.

"The first game we were real shaky, and I can't say anything good about it," Hursley said. "We finally came around in the end. We settled down and got more serious. We've got to jump on them right away. We can't afford to do what we've done the last few matches."

Clarenceville had an easy time in Game No. 2 behind the hitting of Joann Zeabari, Angie Stevens and Karl Watson. Each collected five kills.

LIVONIA LADYWOOD knocked off Redford Bishop Borgess Thursday in three games, 15-11, 12-15 and 15-11.

The Blazers improved to 3-1 in the Catholic League's Central Division, while the Spartans evened their record at 2-2.

Ladywood led the final game 10-4, but Borgess fought back and trimmed the deficit to one, 12-11. Dana Domanski served the last four points for Ladywood, and two of the serves were aces.

Sarah Adzima added six kills and no errors in 15 attacks during the third game. Stacey Girard recorded five kills and likewise had no errors in the final game.

Coach Tom Teeters moved Adzima from outside hitter to middle hitter in order to get the senior more involved in the offense. Rebecca Willey and Kelly Haegar also swapped positions, with Willey going to middle blocker and Haegar playing right-side hitter.

"Putting Sarah in the middle gave us a lot more variations to attack," Teeters said. "(Setter) Karl Domanski adjusted well to the new attack."

For the match, Adzima had 16 kills and 18 digs. Girard finished with nine kills and Dana Domanski had three. Karl Domanski, a setter, finished the match with seven digs, no errors, one ace and three kills. Peggy Knittel had 13 digs.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN opened the Lakes Division schedule impressively Monday, beating Farmington 15-3, 17-15.

Christina Hoffman finished with eight kills for Glenn and teammate Sandy Ramirez had five kills. Bianca Smiley had six service aces and setters Tracy Martin and Michelle Myers also came up with fine performances.

Glenn resumes Lakes play at 8 tonight against visiting Livonia Stevenson.

IN OTHER MATCHES Wednesday, North Farmington beat Livonia Franklin, 15-7, 15-1; Northville topped Livonia Stevenson, 7-15, 15-11; Dearborn Edsel Ford downed Redford Union, 15-12, 15-10, 15-3; and Rochester Lutheran Northwest edged Lutheran Westland, 15-13, 17-15.

Patriots top South Lyon

Six players scored Friday as Livonia Franklin ran its overall season record to 11-1-1 with a 6-4 hockey victory Friday over non-league opponent South Lyon in a game played at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The Patriots broke a 4-all tie in the final period on goals by Brian Stover, the game-winner from Matt Sharkey, and Charlie Olschanski (unassisted).

Franklin took a 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Mike Zajdel and Rob Ingersoll. (Olschanski and Rob Hayes assisted on the second goal.)

But the Lions (5-5-1) tied it in the second period when sophomore Kurt Pietila scored twice. But Dan McKay, on assists from Scott Lorentz and Stover, gave the Patriots a 3-2 lead.

In third period, Franklin upped the lead to 4-2 when Sharkey scored on a power-play with an assist from Zajdel, but the Lions fought back on goals by Pietila, his third of the night, and Don Moody.

Greg Donnan started in the nets for Franklin. He was relieved in the third period by Dan Murray.

hockey

STEVENSON 12, LAHSER 3: Matt Cichey scored three goals and added two assists as Livonia Stevenson routed Suburban Prep Hockey League opponent Bloomfield Hills Lahser in a game played Friday at Edgar Arena.

Stevenson is now 6-1-1 in the SPHL and 6-5-1 overall.

Mike Morrison and Josh Clark scored two goals each for the Spartans. Chris Wiegell, Kris Johnson, John Brodhub, John Fenech and Kevin Kubitskey added one each.

Morrison had four assists, while Clark and Brodhub had two each.

Mark Piccini led the Knights with two goals and one assist.

On Wednesday, Morrison scored five goals and added two assists as the Spartans bombed Southfield in a game at Edgar, 15-0.

Johnson, Fenech and Kubitskey scored two each, while Brodhub, Cichey, Jason Ellsworth and Paul Tustian had one each.

In the assist department, Fenech led with four. Cichey had three. Nick Sata and John Labodie had two each.

Goalie Paul Rice gained the shutout.

PISTONS KIDS CLINIC

The Detroit Pistons will conduct a free basketball clinic for boys and girls ages 7-14, beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 26, at Schoolcraft Community College gym, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. The clinic is sponsored by Health Alliance Plan.

Pistons general manager Jack McCloskey, along with players John Salley and Adrian Dantley, will drill youngsters on the fundamentals of the game.

There will be a random drawing for free tickets to a Pistons game at the Palace in Auburn Hills. Free pennants, along with photos of the players will also be awarded.

To register for the clinic, eligible youngsters should be accompanied by a parent or guardian (parental permission is required). Registration begins at 6 p.m.

Boys 11-12: Greg Tracy, Ted Burmeister, John Reed and Steve Scario — sixth, 200 medley.

Girls 13-14: Megan Holmberg, Jennifer Knapp, Teri Juhasz and Jamie Anderson — second, 400 medley.

Hoeflein, Kovach star in Shamrocks' victory

Mike Hoeflein and Jim Kovach each won a pair of individual events and were part of winning relays as Redford Catholic Central opened its Catholic League season with a 49-34 dual-meet win over Harper Woods Notre Dame Friday at Farmington Hills Mercy.

Hoeflein's wins came in the 200-yard (1:52.12) and 500-yard (5:11.85) freestyle. Kovach was first in the 200 individual medley (2:10.13) and 100 backstroke (1:01.96).

Hoeflein anchored CC's winning 400 free relay (3:31.79), which included Dave West, Troy Shumate and Alan Afsari. Kovach swam on the victorious 200 medley relay (1:50.72), with Randy Teeters, Andy Jacobs and West.

Shumate also bettered the state qualifying cut in the 100 butterfly, finishing first in 53.73.

The Shamrocks are 3-1 overall. They host Livonia Churchill (at Mercy) at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Redford Union tames Cougars, 76-60

According to Redford Union basketball coach Tip Smathers, the Panthers "had two good quarters" against visiting Garden City Friday. Those two proved to be more than enough.

RU exploded to a 24-12 lead after one quarter and 50-26 at the half, handing the Cougars their ninth defeat in 10 games by a 76-60 score.

"We kind of coasted in the third quarter, and I played the substitutes the whole last quarter," said Smathers, whose team improved to 6-3 overall, 2-1 in the Northwest Suburban League. GC dipped to 0-3 in the NSL. "It wasn't that they were playing that bad, we just played well."

Particularly in the first half, Steve Nowak poured in 20 points for RU, including four three-pointers. Chris Warzecha added 11, Joe Delfgaw netted 10, and Lee Tappy got nine points and eight rebounds.

The Cougars were paced by Joe Gorak with 12 points, Rick Morton with 11 and Steve Wallace with 10.

ST. AGATHA 72, MT. CARMEL 55: Redford St. Agatha pulled away in the second and third quarters, outscoring Wyandotte Mt. Carmel 16-10 in the second and 27-12 in the third, to turn a close game into a rout Friday at Mt. Carmel.

Senior guard Matt Haran poured in 18 points to lead the Aggies, who improved to 6-1 in the Catholic C-D League and 9-1 overall. Senior center Galen Walker added 13 points and 12 rebounds, and Mike Boyle had 13 points and 11 boards. Sophomore forward Brian Kutch sparked the third-quarter rally with eight points and five offensive rebounds.

Greg Kaznierski led Mt. Carmel with 26 points.

JOHN GLENN 61, W.L. CENTRAL 50: The final 11-point margin made what was actually a lopsided affair seem respectable. Westland John Glenn (5-6 overall, 3-2 in the Western Lakes' Lakes Division) led 18-9 after one quarter, 37-19 at the half and 51-27 after three quarters Friday against visiting Walled Lake Central.

The closest Vikings (0-11 overall, 0-7 in the Lakes) got was nine points — 59-50 in the game's closing moments. The Rockets were up 12-1 to start, a basketball

Greg Anderson three-pointer gave them a 23-9 lead with 3:00 left in the first half. Central outscored Glenn's subs 23-12 in the final quarter to make it semi-close.

Bobby Lawrence's 13 points was best for the Rockets. Chris Poplin and Eric Spencer added 10 each. Derk Wallace notched 13 for Central.

WAYNE 74, WYANDOTTE 40: Wayne Memorial set the tone for its Wolverine A League game against visiting Wyandotte Roosevelt in the first quarter, outscoring its foes 25-8 en route to a one-sided result Friday.

Tony Rumble topped the Zebras (8-2 overall, 5-2 in the WAL) with 19 points. Kevin Hankerson scored 15 and Leonard Wade had nine. Don Lipinski led Wyandotte (2-7 overall, 1-6 in the WAL) with 15 points.

Wayne led 35-19 at the half and 57-27 after three quarters.

THURSTON 75, ANNAPOLIS 64: Fernando Merida hit for 21 points and Matt Farris chipped in with 20 as Redford Thurston battled back in the second half to knock off Dearborn Heights Annapolis Friday at Annapolis.

Thurston, which improved to 9-2 overall and 7-1 in the Tri-River League, was up 13-6 after one quarter. But Annapolis (6-5 overall, 5-3 in the TRL) surged ahead in the second, outscoring the Eagles 32-18 to take a 38-31 halftime lead.

"In the second quarter, everything they threw up went into the basket," said Thurston coach Mike Schuette. "At halftime, we regrouped."

It showed in the third quarter, which the Eagles owned by a 27-14 margin. The final period was more of the same: Thurston 18, Annapolis 12.

One reason for the victory was an Eagle defensive adjustment against Kevin Barboff, who hit five triples and scored 15 points. "We really got on his case with the entire defense in the second half," said Schuette. Mark Cifaldi added 14 points for Annapolis.

Joining Merida (who also had 13 rebounds) and Farris in double-figures in scoring for Thurston were Keith Wojkowski with 12 and Jason Muller with 11.

CANTON 67, CHURCHILL 50: Livonia Churchill couldn't keep pace with Plymouth Canton Friday at Churchill. The Chiefs (7-4 overall, 3-2 in the W.L.A.'s Western Division) led 11-10 after one quarter, 30-22 at the half and 50-37 after three periods.

Brian Paupore netted 18 points for Canton. Troy Waldron added 17 and nine rebounds. Nobody scored in double-figures for the Chargers (3-8 overall, 1-4 in the Western Division). Mike Picha and Ryan Polay had eight points apiece and Mike Juodawikis had six. Picha and Juodawikis each had six rebounds.

Canton hit 21-of-26 free throws to nine-of-16 for Churchill.

GREATER LIFE 65, G.C. UNITED 62: Garden City United Christian has lost twice in Metro Christian Conference play, both times in the last week, and both times to Pontiac Greater Life.

The second setback, Friday in Garden City, ended in frustration for GC United when two three-point shots in the final seven seconds both missed. Tim Blatter's 18 points led United, which slipped to 10-5 overall and 5-2 in the MCC. Chris Smith had 17 and Jason Cavin 12 and 13 rebounds. Ted Dillow added 16 rebounds and Chadd Presnell nabbed 13.

Roland Baker's 19 points paced Greater Life (11-2 overall, 7-0 in the MCC). Tom Reyes added 14.

W.L. WESTERN 52, FRANKLIN 50: Mark Kocis sank a 15-foot jumper with 45 seconds left Friday to give host Walled Lake Western (4-7, 2-3) the W.L.A. Western Division win over Livonia Franklin (5-5, 2-3).

Mark Donehue scored a game-high 20 points in a losing cause. Teammate John Santil added nine. Chris Sobleck paced the Warriors with 11.

LUTHERAN EAST 58, CLARENCEVILLE 50: Harper Woods Lutheran East overcame a 24-20 halftime deficit Friday to beat visiting Livonia Clarenceville in a Metro Conference encounter.

Jason Larson and Derrick Herr scored 17 and 11, respectively, in a losing cause for the Trojans, now 3-6 overall and 2-3 in the Metro.

Brite Ware and Chris Williams paced the Eagles, now 6-5 overall and 4-1 in the Metro, with 12 points apiece.

K'zoo's Grazulis plays new tune

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

college sports

One night two years ago at Central Michigan's Dan Rose Arena, Mario Grazulis thought he'd seen it all.

Then a member of Western Michigan's basketball team, Grazulis watched more than 6,000 frenzied CMU fans blanket the floor with toilet paper after the Chippewas' first basket.

"There was a sheet of toilet paper on the floor in a second," recalls Grazulis. "That was neat."

Neat, maybe, but Grazulis had yet to meet the "Stingers," Kalamazoo College's answer to Central's "Toilet Paper Terrorists."

Grazulis, a 1984 graduate of Westland John Glenn, transferred to Kalamazoo, Western's neighboring school, after the 1986-87 season and he's the starting center for the Division III Hornets. Kalamazoo doesn't get more than a couple hundred fans to its games, but the "Stingers" get involved.

THIS SMALL group of fans make the CMU followers look passive.

"I've never seen such animosity," said Grazulis. "They dress in orange and black and harass the other team. They really do a job. They're a small group, so the only way they're heard is if they're obnoxious."

That kind of enthusiasm helps make life at the Division III level fun for Grazulis.

Grazulis was enrolled at Western his first three years out of high school, but spent only his junior year on the Broncos' roster. When Joe Haklin, then an assistant under Vern Payne at Western, accepted the head coach's position at Kalamazoo, Grazulis went with him.

Grazulis rarely played for Western, but he's an important part of Kalamazoo; now 11-2 overall and 1-0 in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Grazulis averaged 11 points and eight rebounds last year and this year he again leads the team with 6.8 rebounds a game. Grazulis might still be at Western were it not for Haklin.

"THAT'S WHAT really made it a smooth transition — basketball wise," Grazulis said. "I wouldn't have come here without him."

Said Haklin: "It's been a happy marriage. I felt he had the ability and work ethic to be successful at Division III, and he saw the opportunity for a lot of playing time."

"It was a nice deal for Mario, because Western and Kalamazoo share a common border — West Michigan Avenue. It's a long way from the Division I philosophy, but he's been able to keep his old friends at Western and make new ones at Kalamazoo."

Grazulis isn't scoring as much as last year, but the Hornets have a better record this winter and his ego isn't boosted by scoring averages, anyway. Grazulis' idol is NBA bruiser Kurt Rambis, which might explain his lack of interest in scoring.

"Most people don't associate Kurt Rambis with having a lot of talent," Grazulis said. "He's a hard-nosed type player and I associate myself with that type of player."

"I AVERAGE about one charge a game. That's my big thing."

Grazulis comes from an athletic family. Grazulis' younger brother, Andy, plays basketball at Siena College in New York and his sister, Laura, plays volleyball at Tulane. Older brother, Paul, played at Eastern Michigan.

Grazulis' other talents lie in music and academics. A 3.56 student in high school, Grazulis is studying political science at Kalamazoo and will graduate in June.

Grazulis studied music his first two years at Western, and he is an excellent cello player.

"That's just a side hobby right now, and it will be that way the rest of my life," he said.

Madonna cagers stymie Ocelots

Bogatay, whose team scored only eight points during a nearly nine-minute span. "We missed some inside shots. I'm talking 10 feet and in. And we got a little stupid by fouling 94 feet away from the basket."

The Ocelots, however, fought back on a three-point basket by Mike Mercer, a steal and layup by Ken Fuster followed by a free throw from Mark Koronka who tied the game at 89-all with only 1:24 remaining.

BUT THE MONARCHS, helped by a silly foul and an ill-advised shot, responded by making eight straight free throws, four by the 6-3 freshman Hayward, to put the game away.

Mercer, out of Southgate Aquinas, turned in his best outing of the season, making four shots from three-point range. He finished with a game-high 23 points, but he missed all three of his free throws, including two crucial attempts with only 57 seconds left.

SC women keep unbeaten record

After a slow start, Schoolcraft College's womens basketball team got rolling, right past Siena Heights by an 84-66 margin Tuesday at Siena Heights.

The victory was SC's 18th-straight without a loss. The Lady Ocelots are atop the Eastern Conference with a 7-0 mark.

Michelle Dyksinski hit nine-of-15 shots and led SC with 18 points. Barb

Schoolcraft sports

John Moran (Allen Park Cabrini) and Koronka (South Lyon) added 21 and 14, respectively, while Al Hudson (Romulus) contributed 12, Bernard McGee (Detroit Benedictine) 11 and Fuster (River Rouge) 10.

Bogatay has noticed an improvement in both rebounding and defensive intensity.

"The last four games is the kind of effort I can live with," said the SC coach. "If we had that kind of effort from the beginning of the year, then we wouldn't be where we are."

"Now we have to learn to play intelligently, as well as playing hard."

WHITLOW, IS ALSO encouraged by his team's play of late. "Defensively, we've picked it up better since the break," he said. "If we're going to beat teams on our schedule such as Northwood (Saturday) and Orchard Lake St. Mary's (Wednesday), we've got to pick things up on the defensive end. We're going to see if we can play."

The hard-fought game took its toll on both teams.

McGee and Daniel were ejected for fighting with seven minutes to go.

The Monarchs may have also lost center Tom D'Angelo, who suffered an elbow injury in the first half. The 6-8 freshman, who played at Plymouth Salem, recently gained his eligibility after serving a stint in the army. "Daniel has had a respiratory problem and this is the first game he's been able to play for us since last month," said the Madonna coach. "When he went out, that hurt us."

Schoolcraft, meanwhile, was also hurt by the seven-minute absence of McGee, but the Ocelots can regain Livonia bragging rights by winning the rematch Monday, Jan. 30, at Madonna.

A defense against cancer can be cooked up in your kitchen.

There is evidence that diet and cancer are related. Follow these modifications in your daily diet to reduce chances of getting cancer.

1. Eat more high-fiber foods such as fruits and vegetables and whole-grain cereals
2. Include dark green and deep yellow fruits and vegetables rich in vitamins A and C.
3. Include cabbage, broccoli, brussels sprouts, kohlrabi and cauliflower.
4. Be moderate in consumption of salt-cured, smoked, and nitrite-cured foods
5. Cut down on total fat intake from animal sources and fats and oils.
6. Avoid obesity.
7. Be moderate in consumption of alcoholic beverages.

No one faces cancer alone. AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

No one is immune.

"My kid using drugs? No way..."

At Catherine McAuley Health Center's Chemical Dependency Program we've heard it over and over again. Alcohol and drug abuse only happens to someone else's kid. Well, it's time you heard the truth: no one is immune.

We suggest you take the following test to help you see if your child may have a problem. While it isn't always easy to separate typical adolescent behavior from chemically induced behavior, most teenager alcoholics and drug abusers exhibit many of the following signs.

Check the symptoms you see in your child. Remember, these can develop over a period of many months. If you observe some of the following or if you know something isn't right with your child, we recommend you take action.

- School
- Skips classes, whole days or drops out
 - Drop in grades
 - Drug-related graffiti on notebooks, papers

- Behavior
- Has money but no job
 - Extreme mood swings (euphoria, depression, hostility, oversensitivity)
 - Talks about suicide, spirit world, devil
 - Loses interest in hobbies or sports
 - Drastic change of friends

- Physical Evidence
- Displays obvious drunkenness or red eyes, drooping lids, "thick" voice
 - Paraphernalia among belongings such as pipes, roach clips, cigarette papers, glass vials, film containers or seeds.
 - Increased or frequent use of eye drops

- Family Impact
- Parents argue more about child's behavior
 - Home situation becomes increasingly angry and volatile
 - Child's moods determine the mood of the family
 - Doesn't keep curfews

There is hope. You may have taken the first step already by recognizing there is a problem. Call 572-4308 now for an adolescent assessment. Let's work together to beat drug abuse.

WRITE IT AND REAP!

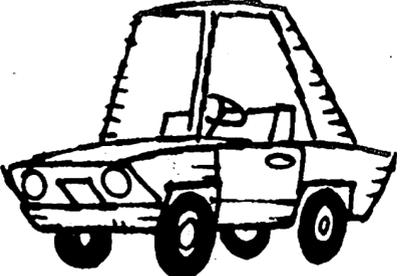

Writing a classified ad that gets results—whether it be for real estate, employment, the personals, transportation, or merchandise— is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

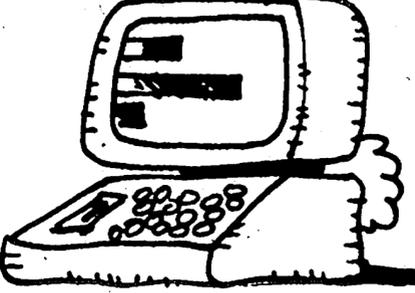

1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!

2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall) tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.

4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.

For awhile it looked pretty grim for the residents of Jamaica. Hurricane Gilbert had literally wiped out its crops and put a healthy dent in its tourist industry. But the island country has made a speedy recovery and now, more than ever, is telling vacationers to "Come back to Jamaica." See Page 6D.

STREET SCENE

Getting 'real' about loops and twirls

By Sharon Dargay
staff writer

The closest I ever got to joining the Ice Capades was a tap dancing recital in a neighbor's basement during the second grade.

In crepe paper costumes and paper plate tiaras, we shuffle-kick-kick-shuffled before an audience of squirming siblings and applauding parents, a dozen Shirley Temples in synchronized step.

I was in a subterranean tap dancing class because the clikky patent leather shoes and linoleum were easier on weak ankles than steel blades and ice.

My skating debut had ended in disaster a year earlier. While my classmates stroked effortlessly around the glassy surface of the playground, I had wobbled two blocks home in a friend's over-sized skates.

I quit tap dancing before my costume needs expanded from plain paper plate to flashy Chinnet, still dreaming of skating stardom.

I outgrew my dance shoes, but grew into a pair of skates. Tightening my laces until I felt like a bound oriental princess, I learned to skate forward, backward and on one foot as a teen.

As I cut jaggedy figure three into the ice at a neighborhood rink, I could hear the distant voices of ABC Olympic commentators.

"A half-tumble and spin out on the ice in the rump position! She is in rare form for this program tonight, Dick!"

"You know Jim, she may not jump or spin or turn or even stop like other professional skaters, but her choreography is unquestionably creative."

"I REALLY like the way the sparkles on her Chinnet tiara catch the light."

"Watch this move — a toe pick stumble, into a flailing arm spin and stomach dive around the hockey players. Brilliant."

At 34, I have given up dreaming and enrolled in group lessons.

After a dozen half-hour classes, I can do one of those ballerina-in-a-jewelry box spins without the need of Dramamine. I have mastered a wobbly one-foot spin, several graceful turns and a variety of jumps to almost-jumps to my-feet-never-leave-the-ice jumps.

It looks easy, but it's hard work, requiring four to six hours of practice a week. And sometimes it's a little scary.

"Adults are cautious, but they can do it. I'm like the rest of them. I'm not ready to break a leg," said Beverly Griffin, a teacher at Livonia's ice arena.

"It takes a lot of determination. Adults are starting to come out of their shells and compete. It seems to be a desire some people have. They watch ice skating and say, 'gosh, I'd like to do that.'"

Griffin was no no different.

She longed to figure skate, but didn't start lessons until she was 12. The opportunity came along to join a club, followed by private lessons, competition and a three-year stint with an ice revue.

But Griffin says most adults take up skating because they enjoy the exercise — "It's at the top of the list for burning calories." Or they want to learn a few dazzling moves on the ice. Some simply think skating is fun.

"IT DOESN'T take adults long to learn forward, backward and edges. For freestyle moves, it depends on their ability and whether they care if they fall down.

"A lot of people take private lessons to better their skills. I have some adults here at six in the morning before they go to work," she said. "Most adults will skate a lot during the week. If they work, they'll look for other arenas where they can get ice time."

Adults who have mastered some basic moves can join the Livonia arena's precision skating team.

No freestyle competitions are available for adults, although Joyce Herron, coordinator of adult classes at the Detroit Skating Club in Bloomfield Hills, said the concept is "beginning to take off."

"Once adults see that they can compete and not feel embarrassed, they'll participate," she said. "But you've got to offer them the opportunity."

The Ice Skating Institute of America, a group dedicated to recreational skating, held its first international competition this year. Herron hopes it will encourage more adult competitors.

That's what Clela Jarmon of Royal Oak is aiming for.

Jarmon heads for the Birmingham Ice Arena during lunch breaks from her job as a physical therapist at William Beaumont Hospital.

At 29, she has tackled her first eight-week session of group classes, with an eye toward mastering a "routine with technicality."

"I want so badly to be able to skate elegantly, to be able to do all of this fun stuff," she admitted. "When there's a skating show on TV you can't pull me away."

AFTER A semester of classes, Jarmon is perfecting her one-foot spin and several jumps.

"I pick up on things quickly, but I don't get it down perfectly. I have to work on it. I have a fear of falling, so I don't get a lot of height to my jumps," she said. "But my advice to adults is don't be afraid. Get out there and try. You may fall down, but you can get back up and try again."

Karen Van Elslander, 19, of Warren, did just that.

"I tried skating when I was a kid, but couldn't even stand up. I was 18 when I put on skates again. I was surprised. I could skate forward and backward," she said.

After about 15 sessions in the rink, she tried executing a few fancy moves, slipped on a crack in the ice and broke her leg.

"I started skating again in July. I just love it. I can't believe I can do some of these moves."

Van Elslander, a Wayne State University accounting major, spends about six hours on the ice every week, including a half-hour group lesson.

When she began skating again last summer, she upgraded her skates from off-the-shelf to professional models.

Griffin and Herron say good equipment can make the difference between a mediocre and good skater.

"It has to fit well and be well-sharpened," Griffin said. "Skates should fit like a leather glove. You don't have to pay $500 for a pair, but you'll probably pay $100 or more."

ADULTS TEND to buy oversized skates. But correctly fitted boots generally run one size or more smaller than street shoes. Boots should fit snugly with tights or thin socks. Blades are purchased separately.

The padded, stiff boots are a must for properly executing jumps with ease.

"Adults who are 30 to 40 years old can learn to jump," Herron stressed. "They wouldn't join an ice show — you have to have stamina coming out of your ears for that — but they can learn to jump."

Darn. I knew the U.S. Olympic Team was out, but I was hoping for a spot in some traveling ice extravaganza.

That's especially true when it comes to figure skating.

Half-hour weekly lessons can give adults the how-to's of spinning and jumping, but don't allow enough time for mastering the moves.

That's when open skating periods come in handy.

Adult sessions are 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. Monday through Friday at the Eddie Edgar Arena, 33841 Lyndon, Livonia; 11 a.m. to 12:50 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Redford Arena, 12400 Beech-Daly; 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9:10-10:30 p.m. Sundays at the Birmingham Ice Arena, 2300 East Lincoln; and 8:30-10 p.m. Wednesdays at the Beech Woods Arena, 22200 Beech, Southfield.

Oak Park's Ice Arena, 13950 Oak Park Blvd., also offers a late-night adult session from 10:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Fridays.

Here's a schedule of half-hour adult classes:

- Birmingham — Classes cost $45 for eight weeks, beginning Jan. 23.
- Detroit Skating Club — Sessions cost $35. Registration began Jan. 9.
- Garden City — Classes cost $17.50 for eight weeks, beginning Feb. 20, at the rink, located on Cherry Hill just east of Merriman.
- Livonia — Classes cost $18 for eight weeks beginning Jan. 30.
- Plymouth — Classes cost $22 for eight weeks, beginning Jan. 23, at the rink, located in the municipal cultural center.
- Redford — A seven-week session costs $25. Current session began Jan. 17.
- Southfield — Classes cost $20 for a five-week session.
- Westland — Adult classes cost $26 for seven weeks. Classes began Jan. 7 at the rink, 6210 Wildwood.

Chilly challenge: Outdoor skating

Skate outdoors? In the cold? On a homemade rink or frozen pond?

"It's great," said Beverly Griffin, a teacher at Livonia's ice arena. "I grew up on outdoor ice, and there are few of them left. Outdoor skating is absolutely marvelous."

But there are drawbacks to outdoor skating, too.

Skaters can take some pretty nasty falls, if they glide into cracks or icy bumps on a natural surface. And because rough ice can nick or dull blades, skate sharpening is a must after use on an outdoor rink.

Most figure skaters who enjoy the sport outdoors keep two pairs of skates, wearing the best equipment indoors.

"This generation doesn't know much about outdoor skating. But those who do it love it," Griffin said. "When my kids were young, we made a backyard ice rink every year. We put out flood lights, skated and had a great time. Then we'd come inside and have hot chocolate and marshmallows near the fireplace."

If you're longing for a similar experience, fill the thermos, don ear muffs and mittens and head for these outdoor rinks when the weather becomes snowy and cold:

BIRMINGHAM — Some residents head for Qupton Lake when the temperature drops. The city doesn't clean snow off the lake or maintain it as a rink, but skaters can shovel it clear themselves when the ice is safe. The lake is just north of Maple west of Southfield Road.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS SCHOOL DISTRICT — The district will flood two areas in its outdoor education center for skating this year. One will be available to hockey players and the other for figure and leisure skaters. Both will be open only to district residents.

CANTON TOWNSHIP — The township will flood an area at Flodin Park on Saltz between Sheldon and Lilley.

FARMINGTON HILLS — Skaters use Heritage Park on Farmington Road between 10 and 11 Mile roads.

LIVONIA — The city maintains rinks at Algonquin Park, Henry Ruff and Lyndon; Dooley Park, Lyndon and Harrison; Kingsbury Park, Levan and Westbrook; and Sheldon Park, Plymouth and Loveland.

HURON-CLINTON METRO-PARKS — Skaters can cut a fancy figure into the ice on Stony Lake in Stony Creek Park, in Washington,

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP — Skaters head to Wilcox Lake at Hines Drive and Northville roads.

ROCHESTER AND ROCHESTER HILLS — Skaters use the pond adjacent to Rochester City Hall, on Woodward north of Walton, or the lake in Thelma Spencer Park on John R, north of M-59, in Rochester Hills.

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Skaters use the natural pond at the civic center on Walnut Lake Road just west of Orchard Lake Road, or they head for Dodge Park No. 4 on the northern edge of Cass Lake.

'Torch Song' looks at subject of homosexuality

RECENT RELEASES:

On the assumption that you haven't had time to screen last week's eight new movies, the distributors only released two films this week — "Torch Song Trilogy" and "Full Moon in Blue Water," starring the ever-popular Gene Hackman, currently appearing in "Mississippi Burning."

Hackman shares with Michael Caine the distinction of "busiest actor in town." In recent years, each has appeared in six or more films. In an industry where they soon forget your name on the marquee is the name of the game.

At press time, no screenings had been scheduled for "Full Moon in Blue Water" but it is described as an R-rated comedy about the complicated relationships of four people whose lives revolve around the Blue Water Grill. Can it be "Mystic Pizza" with guys?

In addition to Hackman, the film stars Teri Garr, Burgess Meredith and Elias Koteas.

"Torch Song Trilogy" (B) (R) 112 minutes, has received wide coverage in the press. In case you haven't been reading the entertainment sections, this is Harvey Fierstein's sensitive discussion of homosexuality in our society.

Based on his award-winning Broadway play, Fierstein wrote the screenplay and stars as Arnold Beckoff, a homosexual who believes closets are for clothes as he deals openly with his sexual preferences.

Matthew Broderick's appearance in the New York production led to his successful career in films. This time he plays Alan, a successful model who becomes Arnold's lover. There's also Arnold's bisexual lover, Ed (Brian Kerwin).

As for family, only Arnold's mother (Anne Bancroft) makes any impact — father and brother are just there. Ed's wife, Laurel (Karen Young) has some influence. Arnold does well as a female impersonator and the film's best moments are musical sequences in the club where he works as Virginia Ham, a singer of the blues, those torch songs of the title.

Marvelous faces people this show of female impersonators, particularly the fat face of the "mistress" of ceremonies. The complete naturalism of these scenes is compelling and that genuine quality pervades the film's open attitude toward homosexuality.

With this unaffected naturalism, the club scenes reek of "Cabaret" and the decadence of German Expressionism in the '20s, save one thing. Smoke and dim lights notwithstanding, it's all too slick, too clean and neat, as are the back rooms where the boys go for a quickie.

Seldom do film characters look at the camera; that breaks the illusion of realism upon which film depends.

But twice in "Torch Song Trilogy," Fierstein turns to the camera and speaks directly to us. In particular, the opening monologue in his dressing room effectively and touchingly describes the plight of homosexuals in a heterosexual world that is, at best, only tolerant.

Besides the unnaturally tidy scenes of decadence, the film has several other jarring inconsistencies, notably Arnold and Alan's choice of neighborhood after receiving approval to adopt a young boy.

While my legal expertise doesn't cover such situations, I'll assume that homosexuals are allowed to adopt homosexual boys, despite the lack of any explanation in the film. Certainly, the apartment to which they move seems out of place for the neighborhood. But, then, that's New York.

"Torch Song Trilogy" presents itself as a plea for acceptance of homosexuals. It's done well enough — at least until the last half hour — so that it stands as an appeal for tolerance for all outsiders. However, the film's basic premise breaks down under careful scrutiny and the last 30 minutes drag and begin to grate on the nerves.

The assumption of "Torch Song Trilogy" is that homosexuality is natural and society is at fault for not accepting it. No generative force for Arnold's homosexuality is presented, just his several statements that he always knew — plus a gratuitous opening scene where Ma discovers the "Young Arnold" (Benji Schulman) in drag.

Her face quickly registers surprise, understanding and acceptance. That, taken with the film's refusal to present causation for Arnold's homosexuality — in fact, there's considerable testimony that the family scene couldn't have been better — and Arnold's constant plea for openness and acceptance, leaves the clear indication that society is wrong for discriminating against a natural inclination.

My clinical standing is even lower than my legal, but it seems to me that there's a problem with that assumption. While society has an obligation to guarantee the rights of all members — no matter how they chose to deviate from the norm, providing they don't harm others — that doesn't mean that everything is within the natural order of things.

Style reinforces concept and one way "Torch Song" proves that society is at fault for not accepting homosexuality is the curious way in which Anne Bancroft and Harvey Fierstein sound so much alike.

That similarity may be appropriate for mother and child, despite the gulf that separates them. But Bancroft's performance is forced and harsh, almost a caricature of the New York Jewish mother, despite testimony to a fine family life. The vocal similarity just doesn't work and becomes irritating.

Hidden in Bancroft's performance is a split personality who either is or isn't responsible for her son. You can't have it both ways, and the film gets murky when Bancroft becomes the villain for not accepting Arnold as he is.

With the two of them yelling at each other with roughly the same vocal qualities, it rubs harshly on the sensibilities and approximates being forced to watch what goes on in other people's bathrooms.

The message we get from all this is mixed. The film makes a profound plea for tolerance of those who do not meet the norm. That and its fine music, fast-paced cutting, upbeat style and entertaining comedy are to its credit.

However, the premise that homosexuality is normal is a little hard to take. Given problems in the last 30 minutes, "Torch Song Trilogy" probably will only play well to sophisticated, big-city audiences and the coverage it's been receiving won't be matched at the box office.

STILL PLAYING:

"The Accidental Tourist" (C+) (PG) 120 minutes.

Slow-paced family melodrama.

"The Accused" (C+) (PG) 130 minutes.

"Beaches" (A+) (PG-13) 120 minutes.

"Child's Play" (B-) (R). Horror story about possessed doll given as birthday present.

"Crossing Delancey" (A) (PG) 95 minutes.

"Dangerous Liaisons" (C+) (R) 115 minutes.

Even lush images and good acting can't overcome the non-cinematic quality of this boring story of pre-Revolutionary French decadence.

"Deceitful Sir" (B) (R).

"Dirty Rotten Scoundrels" (B+) (PG) 100 minutes.

Super-slick con men on the Riviera are lots of fun.

"Gleaming the Cube" (B+) (PG-13) Skateboard stuff.

"Hellbound — Hellraiser" (R). A cast of unknowns in torment and terror.

"I'm Gonna Get You Sucka" (C+) (R) 85 minutes.

"The January Man" (B) (R) 95 minutes.

Clichéd but slick detective story with big-name cast.

"Lair of the White Worm" (R). Ken Russell's out there with the archeologists uncovering a strange skull with a bizarre past.

"Land Before Time" (A) (G) 75 minutes.

"Mississippi Burning" (A+) (R) 130 minutes.

"My Stepmother Is an Alien" (B+) (PG-13) 108 minutes.

When extra-terrestrial Kim Basinger touches down, this comedy takes off.

"Naked Gun" (D) (PG-13) 90 minutes.

Overly broad farce never gets off the ground floor of the police squad room.

"Oliver and Company" (A) (G) 70 minutes.

Disney animation at its best.

"Rain Man" (A+) (R) 130 minutes.

Tom Cruise and Dustin Hoffman star as brothers in every sense.

"Scrooged" (B+) (PG-13) 90 minutes.

Updated romp through Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

"Talk Radio" (B) (R) 110 minutes.

Talk-show host keeps his listeners attention by offending and attacking their beliefs.

"Tequila Sunrise" (B+) (PG-13) 115 minutes.

Slick, glib production gets lost trying for high-concept, high-tech look in an old-fashioned, hard-boiled detective.

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

August balances good, grim in 'Pelle'

By Ann Sharp
special writer

"Pelle the Conqueror," a Danish film by director Billie August, is a quiet sort of masterpiece. Nothing shows about it. All its exquisite, craftmanlike elements of acting, scripting, cinematography blend unostentatiously into an engrossing piece of storytelling.

The story it tells is one that seems increasingly popular with filmmakers in recent years. Like "Pixote" and "Salaam Bombay," it's a coming-of-age drama about a child who isn't permitted much of a childhood, because he is poor and must fend for himself in a cruel, unfeeling world.

"PELLE" IS taken from a series of novels, written by Danish author Martin Anderson Nexø at the turn of the century. It's about a young Swede who rises from humble beginnings to become a powerful labor leader. From what we learn of Pelle's boyhood in this film, it's no wonder he grew up to be a radical.

The film opens with Pelle, about 10 years old, arriving with his elderly father in Denmark. The father as-ures Pelle that they've come to a wonderful place where there's plenty of good things to eat and drink and fathers earn so much money their children can just play all day.

It soon becomes apparent that Pelle's father doesn't know what he's talking about. Within a few hours, these two hapless, hungry immigrants have signed on at a Stone Farm, a horrid sort of slave labor camp where both children and parents work like dogs, and the only nice thing to eat is the fruit of the strawberry plant. Pelle's father brought over from Sweden.

In Pelle's world, there is no room for innocence, only ignorance. Pelle is spared nothing. He is mentally and physically abused and forced to witness unspeakably ugly, violent events. Because his cowardly, weak-witted father isn't up to the job, he must be his own parent.

IN LESS skillful hands, "Pelle" might have been an unbearably depressing film. But August finds the right balance between the grim aspects of Pelle's life and its happier, more hopeful ones.

There is much wisdom here and a quiet sort of humor. August presents the story's often tragic and horrific occurrences in an admirably low-key manner, making them comprehensible rather than shocking.

Max von Sydow is so often type-cast as a stoic pillar of Nordic machismo. It's delightful to see how convincing he is as Pelle's kindly, but sadly simple-minded father.

As von Sydow plays him, he makes you wonder how poor Pelle has survived so long under his care. Nevertheless, the genuine love he conveys for the boy, a role well acted by Pelle Hvenegaard, is evidently the very thing that enables Pelle not only to survive, but to conquer.

Good news, international film fans. The Park Theater in Windsor has tentative plans to reopen Feb. 1. Call (519) 971-9983 for details.

Just jammin'

'Sunday Night' finds its musical niche

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

The set on "Sunday Night" doesn't include a rake or a garden hose. But the spirit of the garage jam session is certainly there.

Since its debut in October on NBC, the hour-long music show (seen at 1 a.m. on Channel 4) has found a niche in terms of diversity. Tired of watching Billy Idol shadow box his way through a video or listening to an artist endlessly plug their album on a talk show? "Sunday Night" might be the answer.

Musical acts — both established and new — are featured along with archive film clips of great artists. Also, there's a first-rate house band that includes Marcus Miller and Hiram Bullock on guitar, Omar Hakim on drums and Philippe Saisse on keyboards.

But one of the most interesting parts of the show is when musicians from differing styles get together. Past segments have included Paul Simon producing Eddie Palmieri Band and James Taylor performing Latin American music with Milton Nascimento.

"I would like to get Ray Charles on with someone you wouldn't expect like, hmmm... Talking Heads," said Holland, in a telephone interview from New York. "Now that would be a good show."

EVEN HOLLAND and fellow host, David Sanborn, are from different musical perspectives. Sanborn is a highly acclaimed saxophonist, working with the likes of David Bowie, James Brown, The Eagles, Bruce Springsteen and Roger Waters of Pink Floyd.

Holland is keyboardist with the often-praised British pop band, Squeeze. The TV stage, though, is quite different than the musical one.

"There's a lot of sex and violence on television," he said. "So, obviously,

Co-hosts of "Sunday Night," which debuted in TV, Channel 4, are Jools Holland (left) and David Sanborn.

The zany English popster is no stranger to television. In fact, he fronted a music show, "The Tube," in Great Britain.

"The Tube" offered quite an array of musical acts. Then again, that might be attributed to Holland's vast tastes that include jazz, boogie-woogie, ska and funk.

Both Holland and Sanborn have been involved in selecting guests for "Sunday Night." The philosophy is fairly basic — avoid the commercial flash-in-the-pans and stick with those who've had a profound impact on contemporary music.

"There's a uniformed pattern in the people we've chosen to be on the show in that they're all good at what they do," Holland said. "We're not just going to have someone on just because they have the sexiest bottom at the moment."

As musicians, Holland and Sanborn have an added insight to the business. Holland said it can be an advantage with guests.

BUT HE quickly adds that he's careful things don't become too technical for those of us who think a chord is something you plug into a wall and fret is what you do at tax time.

The spontaneity of live music is what Holland believes will sell the show in the long run. Already, there's been plenty of that since October.

"When we had Squeeze on (Sunday night), Hiram Bollack filled in at rhythm guitar," he said. "He put some things into the music we hadn't heard before. That lifted the whole thing and made it exciting."

By taking a different path, Holland is expecting overnight success. Though he does expect the "Sunday Night" audience to grow steadily.

"I think people are underestimated," he said. "People have more intelligence and a broader sense of taste than they are given credit for."

Hopefully, we're introducing them to people they've never heard of before."

Strange Bedfellows: It's a 'marriage' made in music

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

To the naked eye, there might not be a sheet big enough to cover Strange Bedfellows.

The makeup of the six-member band has more potential for divisions than General Motors. First, there is the married couple of Jan and Jim Blaschak. Then there are the two guys and the four women.

But the real powder keg is trying to pair two lead singers, which Strange Bedfellows accomplished in the beginning. Experiments like that usually end in an exchange of gunfire.

But animosity between singers Missy Gibson and Beth Yates? No way, right?

"I think there was at first," said Gibson, whose charming, yet powerful voice fronts Strange Bedfellows. "I think we were threatened by one another. We weren't mean to each other or anything. One day we all sat down and sorted it out."

So, the plan is to have Gibson sing lead. Yates follows with harmonies, fronting the band on a couple of numbers. The rest of the group backs up the vocals with some polished musicianship and everyone will live happily ever after.

"It's a happy medium," said Yates, 22, of Birmingham.

EXCUSE US, Strange Bedfellows. While you're at it, there's the Middle East conflict and the troubles in Northern Ireland to solve.

Ironically, Strange Bedfellows was the end result of a split in another band, Of All Things. Some of those members went on to form Walk the Dogma. Jan Blaschak (bass) and husband, Jim Blaschak, (guitar) put together their own group that includes Shawn Scannell (keyboards) and Syndi Bauer (drums) along with Gibson and Yates.

In a short amount of time, Strange Bedfellows has been able to head off any potential rifts and laid the foundation for some rather heady music.

Gibson writes most of the songs and performs them in a delicate manner. She is a theater major at Wayne State University, a trained opera singer and a self-professed poet.

On stage, Gibson exudes a warmth without being smarmy, a perkiness that doesn't induce vomiting.

"I don't want to come on too strong," said Gibson, 21, a Birmingham native. "I want people to like me for what am. I'm a simple person. I love people."

Love might be too strong, but one can easily take to Strange Bedfellows. At a recent performance at the Hamtramck Pub, a five-week layoff was apparent in terms of rustiness. Also, one member was felled by a migraine headache and another was suffering with bronchitis.

Silly, the band shone. The sound is a sweet mix of past and present.

"I grew up listening to the music of the 1960s and 1970s," Yates said. "I see our band having roots in that. But I feel we're polished in a new music sound."

Strange Bedfellows includes Jan Blaschak (bass), husband Jim Blaschak (guitar), Sean Scannell (keyboards) and Syndi Bauer (drums) along with singers Missy Gibson and Beth Yates.

BAND MEMBERS are busily polishing up a six-song cassette that will be released within the next couple of months. The tape is being recorded at Tempermill Studios in Livonia. Plans include to play live at least twice a month and concentrate on writing material.

For Jim and Jan Blaschak, who live in Southfield, Strange Bedfellows is a dream come true. Both — they met while waiting for a SEMTA bus at Wayne State — had played in a number of cover bands before Of All Things came about.

Differences in direction split that group (Jan Blaschak said the break up was amicable), but she feels Strange Bedfellows has a better chance for survival.

"Being in a band is like being married anyway," she said. "You either make it or you don't."

REVIEWS

TRINITY SESSIONS

Cowboy Junkies

This took me by surprise. Such an innocent-looking album cover masking a powerhouse of emotion. This is the second LP from the Cowboy Junkies, a Canadian band. Their first consisted mainly of cover versions of other people's songs, so this LP gives the first taste of their original work, and boy, what an appetizer!

We are introduced immediately to the haunting vocals of Margo Timmins when she sings the first song, "Mining for Gold," a cappella. Her voice is velvety smooth and lulls the listener into a melancholy trance. Upon hearing her gentleness, it is easy to miss the harsh realities of the lyrics.

The album then rolls into second gear when the rest of the band joins in discreetly for "Mia Guedes Angel." With Margo Timmins' brother, Michael Timmins, on guitar, we hear her direct the song to her family members, trying to convince them that the man she has chosen to love is right for her. With the overwhelming air of sadness with which the song is delivered, I believe her!

This sadness is the predominant mood of the entire LP. It's perfect for listening to, if you just want to wrap yourself up in self-pity, and fall into a corner with your favorite bottle of whiskey.

On a slightly technical note, it's worth mentioning that this album was recorded in a church using only one microphone. This is particularly remarkable because of the fine quality of the sound and especially the beautiful balance of the diverse instruments used, backing vocals and, of course, bass and drums.

NEW YORK

— Lou Reed

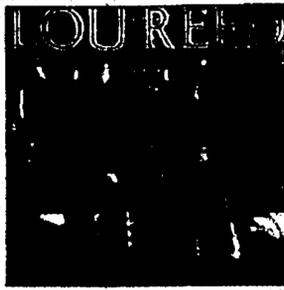

The Reagan Revolution is said to have left debt, homelessness and a wide gap between the rich and the poor.

Also it has left Lou Reed quite cynical.

That is certainly evident on the former leader of the Velvet Underground's latest offering, "New York" (Sire). Reed leaves no 1980s stone unturned, addressing topics such as AIDS, toxic waste, extinction of whales, Vietnam vets and Kurt Waldheim.

His picture of this decade is not a pretty one, but it's real. It's one thing to ramble in vague generalities about current times, but nothing can quite stack up to the way Mr. Reed can sum up the experience.

As the album progresses, Reed gets more wound up. He doesn't take a job at money-grabbing politicians and racist preachers, he slays them. Friend of the liberal, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, even takes some heat along with the Pontiff on "Good Evening

Mr. Waldheim." "If I ran for President and once was a member of the Klan/Wouldn't you call me on it the way I call you on Farrakhan."

Despite his obvious disdain for the 1980s, Reed doesn't leave without looking into the future. The bluesy "Beginning of a Great Adventure" reflects an artist who, if anything, is uncertain about lies ahead.

Aside from the lyrical content, the musicianship of Mr. Reed is excellent. His down-and-dirty guitar style ranks right up there with Keith Richards at times.

—Violent Femmes

The Violent Femmes use a wash tub and a couple of acoustic guitars to relay their musical message. What is there in the end is, well, a wash tub and two acoustic guitars.

"3" (Slash/Warner) is the Milwaukee trio's first LP in nearly three years and hardly ranks as a grand musical statement of these times.

Perhaps the Femmes are a classic example of how the changing trends in music can make you out-dated very quick. The Violent Femmes, for all their phoned, sound like a very ordinary band here.

This time out, the Violent Femmes took a baroque approach into the studio. Overdubs didn't take place nor did a lot of session accompaniment. The idea was to come as close to their live sound as possible without putting out a live album. Spontaneity is at the forefront of the VF sound.

In the beginning, the Femmes succeed. A certain crispness exists when Gene begins to sing the opening track "Nightmares." And, yes, it's quite likeable.

But then things take a turn down repetitive avenues. Supplementing is the only way to describe Gene's composition "Pat." The cure of the number is about wanting a former girlfriend to get fat so "she'll take me back." Deep stuff, there.

Then there is the piano stricken number "Nothing Worth Living For," which drowns in its own male-dic self-pity.

What "3" needs is direction. It neither steps nor goes. A few cuts off this disc certainly are heeppies. But for the most part, "3" is wayward bound.

STREET SENSE

Got a question? Schiff has the answer

Starting this week, Street Sense has some good advice for you, thanks to psychotherapist Barbara Schiff.

Schiff "always wanted to write an advice column," and now she is.

Besides a desire to write, she brings to the task years of experience as a counselor and therapist in private practice and as a school psychologist in Utica and Detroit.

"I provide a lot of marital therapy in my private practice, but it's really very eclectic, and I expect the column will be, too," she said. "Street Sense seems to attract a lot of younger readers, and many of the problems the column deals with will probably reflect that — getting along on a new job, dating, getting started in marriage."

Newspaper advice columns are hardly a substitute for therapy, but Schiff sees her new forum as something substantial, something more than just human interest reading.

"There are people who have problems, but can't ask anybody about them," she said. "There is something cathartic about saying what you're thinking. The column is sort of an intermediary step. If they can write down a problem and mail it in, they might take some advice, might go see somebody."

AN ANCIENT piece of advice recommends a healthy mind in a healthy body, a prescription that describes Schiff's resume.

Besides her private psychotherapy practice in Birmingham, she is co-owner of the Workout-Co., an aerobics and fitness salon, also in Birmingham.

"I started running when I was 27," Schiff said, "and I was teaching aerobics at the Y 17 years ago before it was popular."

Schiff, who holds a master's degree in psychology from the University of Michigan, appeared a number of times on Sonia Friedman's TV show when it originated from Channel 4 in Detroit, and also has appeared on Channel 7's "Kelly & Co."

She lives in Birmingham with her husband, an attorney, and teenage stepson. Another stepson attends Oakland University, and her son is enrolled at the University of Vermont.

Dear Barbara,

I am a 38-year-old woman with a 6-year-old daughter. I was divorced five years ago and since then have developed a very close relationship with another woman. We are together all the time. She is wonderful with my daughter and helpful around the house.

My problem is that my mother doesn't like her. She, my mother, is nice enough to her when she is with me, but behind her back accuses her of trying to control me and "lead me around by the nose." None of this is true, but I am disturbed and confused because my mother said it.

My mother wants to leave her out of a party we are giving. What should I do?

Joan

Dear Joan,

Invite her. Your problem is that you are unsure of what to do. Someone is controlling you, if not your friend, then your mother. Why, otherwise, would a woman your age even consider listening to such a request from her mother or anyone else.

Find a nice way, or a not so nice way, if you prefer, to tell her to mind her own business. If she can't, you would be better off to make your own party preparations without her.

While your question seems innocuous enough, delving into it opens a Pandora's box. You sound like an extremely dependent woman for whom these conflicts must often arise.

There must be many situations in which you don't know what to do and question your instincts. That's what happens when our need for others' approval outweighs our need to find and develop ourselves.

crossed my mind for an instant that he only owed me $140, but I said $200.

He caught me. He said didn't I have a due bill for $60 and was only owed $140. "Oh," I said, "I forgot." The matter was dropped.

I am so embarrassed that I tried to steal $60 from my father. Our relationship has never been a good one, but certainly, that doesn't justify stealing. It also makes me worry. Would I have ignored the whole incident, if I hadn't been caught, and am I stealing at other times and not aware of it?

Do you think I need counseling? As I said at the beginning, I do need some advice.

Justin

You sound like just this sort of person and the older you get the more exaggerated this problem will become, because while others have taken some chances at being rejected to find out who they are and what they feel, you have stayed safe, but underdeveloped.

This has a cumulative effect. Take a look at yourself — possibly you could take some disapproval, if you could feel stronger as a result.

Barbara

Dear Barbara,

Even writing this down embarrasses me, but I must get an answer. The story is long, so bear with me.

My brother bought a large quantity of meat for our mother, but when it was delivered, either it had not been properly wrapped or had been frozen too long and was bad. I told my brother I would return it and I got a due bill for it. My mother reimbursed my brother, so now I really owed my mother the money, $60.

A few months later, my father asked me to pick up an expensive belt for him in New York. I bought the belt — it was $200 — and gave it to my father. When my father called to ask how much he owed me, it

Dear Justin
First, to answer your question — do you need counseling — I don't know enough about you to make a recommendation. The problem you describe in your letter does not, by itself, indicate such a need. In fact, your self-awareness makes you the kind of person who could achieve self-growth without therapy.

The issue of lying and stealing and our society's attitude toward money in general is a complicated one that is often two-faced. While we say honesty is best, it is not the honest, but the rich that we adulate. Thus, one must have an independent spirit to live honorably rather than greedily.

The other question that you ask is about whether you are not sometimes unaware of this deviant streak in your behavior. Without more information, I cannot answer, but again, that you're asking it shows that you are motivated toward admirable goals.

Once read that there must be tension between who we are and who we want to become for growth to occur. I hope that the tension you feel will work positively for you.

Barbara

STREET WISE

On your mark

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan is keeping its fingers crossed that there's snow on the ground Saturday.

The Blues is sponsoring a series of cross country ski circuit races, which kick off Saturday at the Glenn Oaks Golf Course in Farmington Hills.

The "Ski for Health" circuit races for beginners and experienced skiers are being held in cooperation with the Detroit, Oakland County and Farmington Hills parks and recreation departments.

The other races will be Feb. 4 at Independence Oaks Country Park in Clarkston and Feb. 11 at the Billy Rogell Golf Course in Detroit.

Participants can register on site for meets up to one hour before race time. The races will be held in two heats — one in the morning for experienced skiers of all ages and one in the afternoon for novice skiers of all ages.

Race distances are 7 to 15 kilometers for experienced skiers and 4 to 12 kilometers for novice skiers.

The races at Independence Oaks will be at 9 a.m. and noon, while the races at Glen Oaks and Rogell will start at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

For more information, call the Farmington rec department at 474-6149, the Oakland County rec department at 858-0906 or the Detroit rec department at 935-5331.

Close to home

Closer to home, you can chase away the winter blahs at a Goombay Festival Sunday, Feb. 5, at the Key Largo Restaurant in Walled Lake.

Goombay festivals are celebrated each summer in the streets of the Bahamas. Colorful costumes and rhythmic, pulsating sounds dominate the festivities.

The tropical party — 4-9 p.m. — is a benefit for the Children's Center, an agency providing mental health services for children and their families.

Bahamian dancers and the music of The Tropical Connection steel drum band will be the featured entertainment. There will be plenty of prizes given away, including a Bahamas vacation from Keytours.

Guests are encouraged to add to the spicy atmosphere by wearing tropical attire. There will be Caribbean hors d'oeuvres and special desserts.

Tickets cost $45 per person, or $90 per couple, and are available from the Children's Center by calling 831-5535.

A premiere

The Theater Company of the University of Detroit will stage the Michigan premiere of Australian playwright Ron Elisha's "Two" Friday, Jan. 27, through Sunday, Feb. 12.

Set in 1948 Germany, "Two" is a provocative drama that uses language and music to explore the nature of good and evil. "Two" mixes poetry, philosophy, mystery and intrigue in an attempt to understand man's role in the world — past, present and future.

Anna, a German woman wishing to emigrate to Palestine, seeks out Rabbi Chaim Levi to learn Hebrew. Levi is a rabbi without a congregation who earns his living teaching music.

Teacher and student soon discover they share a love of music, of language and of dialect.

Tickets cost $7 — $5 for students and senior citizens. For tickets, call 927-1130.

Hemphill: Homing in on laughs

By Bob Sadler
special writer

The Comedy Store of Hollywood. Class of '74.

People would probably pay good money to see the 15-year reunion of all the comics who grabbed their first limelight back then.

David Letterman could be the host of such an event, or he could share the chores with Jay Leno, who went on to some late night hosting chores of his own.

Marsha Warfield, better known as Rox from NBC's "Night Court," would be there. So would Robin Williams, probably the best improvisational comic in the business today.

And certainly not lost in the shuffle would be Shirley Hemphill. Her work at The Comedy Store that year would be noticed by producer Norman Lear and his partner Bud Yorkin, which led to her role as Shirley the waitress in the late '70s sit-com, "What's Happening."

She remembers those early days at The Comedy Store quite well.

"We were all struggling at the time. Freddie Prinz (the late co-star or "Chico and the Man") and David Brenner were getting all the prime time back then," she said. "We were all after the big stars — just before the placed closed.

"When I started there, Jay Leno was at 1 a.m., David Letterman was behind him. I was behind him. Marsha (Warfield) was in there. And Robin Williams was always the last one — because he'd go on forever. Nobody would get behind Robin, or else they'd be backstage screaming 'get him off!'"

HEMPHILL FIRST made the trek to Hollywood from her hometown of Asheville, N.C., at the insistence of Flip Wilson, who was still riding high with a successful television show.

"I sent him some jokes on a tape," she recalled, "and they were the worst! He plays them back whenever I get a big head."

Once in Hollywood, Hemphill picked up some odd jobs to support herself. She had worked as a medical receptionist in North Carolina. Eventually, Wilson intervened again and moved her in the direction of The Comedy Store.

"I just sat there for a couple of weeks," she said. "My money started running low. I found out if you went there on a certain night and made a fool of yourself, you could get in free. The manager said that if I did well, he'd give me a slot."

She did well and joined the list of future comedy superstars on the roster. A couple of years later, a television opportunity knocked, but Hemphill almost didn't answer.

"I'd just come off and there was a man backstage asking me if I wanted to do television," she said. "At The Comedy Store then, it seemed like everybody had a card, was a producer and was doing a pilot. So I told him I wasn't interested."

"Later that night, Jimmy Walker (then starring in "Good Times") asked why I was telling Norman Lear I wasn't interested. I didn't even know who he was."

Hemphill went back to Lear and rectified the situation enough to get a screen test.

"I'D NEVER seen a script before, but I lied because I wanted to get in."

She wasn't originally chosen for the role of Shirley, the waitress at the neighborhood hangout of main characters Raj and Rerun of "What's Happening." An illness in the cast forced a reshuffling of female roles and, in Hemphill's words, "they panicked and called me."

"They asked if I could start Monday and who my agent was. Agent? I didn't have an agent! So I went to the phone book and called the first name."

"What's Happening" went on to a very successful three-season run on ABC, pegged nicely on Friday nights behind "Welcome Back, Kotter." Syndication followed for the show, and its unusual popularity led to a reunion of the cast for three more seasons in first-run syndication under the title "What's Happening Now" during the mid-'80s. Between stints on "What's Happening," she starred in the short-lived sit-com, "One in a Million."

Hemphill, now 41, said she'd like to get on television again in the future. However, in the interim, she's back out practicing her first love — stand-up comedy.

On stage, she keeps it simple, with a straight-forward observational brand of humor that has endeared her to audiences across the country.

"It looks like I'm out of control on stage," she said, "but I know what I'm doing."

"I use my observations of my family and relationships. Growing up, when all the little girls were out chasing boys, I was watching TV. Now that I'm an old lady, I'm saying 'where'd those little boys go?'"

HEMPHILL THINKS that audiences in the country's comedy clubs are much more sophisticated than they used to be, attributing it to the huge upsurge in the number of clubs and the influx of comedy programming on cable television.

"It's not as easy now, and there's so much competition," she said. "Regardless of who you are, if you aren't any good after 10 minutes, they want you off. That's why you have to work hard and not take anything for granted."

When asked what inspires her, Hemphill unabashedly responded, "money. I'm greedy."

She was kidding and corrected herself: "Actually, I just love doing comedy."

Shirley Hemphill will appear at Chaplin's Comedy Club, 34244 Groesbeck Hwy., Fraser, Wednesday through Saturday. Showtimes are 8:30 p.m., with an additional 10:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday. For reservations, call 792-1902.

JAMAICA

Dunn's River Falls near Ocho Rios is popular with tourists, who pay the park admission, which is less than a dollar, and for another dollar hire a native guide to lead them on a 20-minute climb up the waterfall.

Come back to a paradise renewed

You can find everything, including hammocks, for sale in the open air craft markets, where bargaining can cut the price of the item in half.

One thing Hurricane Gilbert did was bring plenty of sand ashore, adding to existing beaches like the one at the Sandals Resort at Montego Bay.

Photographer Micky Jones toured Jamaica in mid-December with the Travel Journalists Guild in order to get a first-hand view of post-hurricane conditions along the north coast.

By Micky Jones
special writer

Four months after being devastated by Hurricane Gilbert, Jamaica's north coast resorts are back in business and better than ever.

Tourists are once again climbing Dunn's River Falls, rafting rivers lined with exotic flowers, riding party trains through mountain valleys lined with banana plantations and coffee groves, visiting historic houses and botanical gardens, and relaxing on the golden beaches at Jamaica's famous couples hotels.

There is little evidence of the terrible storm that killed dozens of people Sept. 12, when Gilbert ravaged the entire 150-mile length of this lush tropical island, collapsing pool bars and flower-covered villas at resorts with names like Sandals, Couples, Eden II and Hedonism II.

Winds up to 135 miles an hour ripped sheet metal and shingled roofs from buildings in villages and north shore resort towns from Port Antonio to Negril, allowing torrential rains to pour in and add to the devastation. The capital city of Kingston and other south coast towns were also severely damaged.

Flying debris and uprooted trees smashed windows, telephone booths and 80 percent of the island's street lights. Electric power was out for a month. Salt water and sand poured through resort lobbies, bars, dining rooms and bedrooms, ruining carpets, furniture and plants. Telephones won't be completely restored for several more weeks.

GILBERT HAD a silver lining, however. It swept enough new sand ashore to enlarge some beaches. Most resorts took advantage of the two- or three-month forced closures to reline swimming pools, modernize dining rooms, renovate lobbies, and complete other projects that had been postponed so as not to inconvenience guests.

The hurricane's most devastating economic blow was the total destruction of Jamaica's agricultural crops. All banana, orange, grapefruit, sugar cane, pimento, mango and breadfruit plants were totally wiped out. While the loss cannot be recovered, the crops are making a comeback.

Three months after the storm, new banana plants were seven to eight feet high and will produce a crop in June. Orange trees that were totally stripped of leaves and fruit miraculously blossomed out of season and are now bearing fruit.

Those who have visited Jamaica before might notice that a few landmarks are missing, including the famous Evita's Restaurant that was totally destroyed in Montego Bay. Owner Eva Myers is looking for a new location.

Shopping areas, city craft markets and major tourist attractions are back to normal. Hotel occupancy was very low in December, but Jamaicans hope that the tourism volume will return to normal during the prime season months of January, February and March.

Unlike many Caribbean islands, where beaches and in-hotel activities are the principal tourist attractions, Jamaica has dozens of activities and attractions to keep you busy and broke, especially along the north shore.

DUNN'S RIVER Falls near Ocho Rios is the most popular. Park admission is less than a dollar, and for another dollar a native guide leads young and old on the 20-minute climb up the stair-like waterfall, telling jokes and taking your picture with your own camera.

Garden lovers stroll among the exotic tropical plants and flowers, birds and waterfalls, in botanical gardens, such as Shaw Park, Carriacou Gardens, Athenry Gardens, Fern Gully and Somerset Falls.

For about $35, a couple can ride long bamboo rafts down the fast-flowing Rio Grande River, near Port Antonio or the Martha Brae River near Montego Bay. This isn't the white water danger of the Grand Canyon, but a safe two-hours on a two-passenger raft, with a "captain" navigating with a long pole.

Torch-lit canoe rides on the Great River near Montego Bay culminate in dinner and floor show under the stars. You can do the same thing on the White River near Ocho Rios, but only on Sundays.

Or try the Admiralty Club Resort on a small island near Port Antonio; Errol Flynn owned the island during his wild tropical days. Tour Noel Coward's small house near Port Maria.

As you drive the winding pot-holed roads along the coast and up into cloud-shrouded mountains, you get a wonderful panorama of gaily painted wooden shacks, stucco mansions, huge coconut palms, dogs, kids and women balancing bundles or baskets on their heads.

Town sidewalks are crowded with vegetable stands; soft drink carts, food wagons and souvenir stalls. Neatly dressed children in school uniforms are everywhere. Native voices have an English lilt. By late afternoon, shoppers and office workers jam the streets.

AND THEN there are the party trains, which run through the majestic mountains south of Montego Bay. The seven-hour journey includes an open bar, buffet lunch, village stops and tours of limestone caves and the Appleton Rum distillery.

As you ride through spectacular views of valleys, tunnels, banana and coffee plantations, you will notice that each contented cow beside the track is escorted by a white egret.

The adult fare, including transportation to and from your Montego Bay hotel, is $44, $35 after April 15. The passenger cars are clean, air-conditioned and comfortable; crew members make sure you have fun.

There are lots of other north shore attractions for the active vacationer — golf, tennis, horseback riding, sailing, deep sea fishing and scuba diving. History lovers can tour the great houses that once dominated vast sugar plantations.

Restored Rose Hall near Montego Bay is supposedly haunted by Annie Palmer, "the witch of Rose Hall." Annie murdered three husbands, many slaves and several friends, before being murdered by a servant.

For shoppers, craft markets are full of light clothing, batiks, straw products, paintings and wood carvings. Bargaining with the vendors will often cut your cost to half the original asking price.

In recent years, two trends have developed among Jamaica's north coast resorts — "couples" hotels and all-inclusive hotel rates that include room, meals, snacks, bar drinks, wine, recreation, fitness facilities and tips.

SOME ALSO include airport transfers, beauty treatments, golf green fees, sight-seeing tours and room taxes. Winter rates are about $300 per day for two people, 10 percent less after April 15.

Couples resorts accept only traditional male/female couples and specialize in honeymoons. (For an extra $150 they will stage your wedding right on the premises and invite everyone in the hotel to attend.) Some offer nude beaches in small secluded coves.

The better known couples resorts are the three different Sandals resorts as well as Eden II, Carlyle on the Bay and Couples. Conventional resorts offering all-inclusive packages include Negril Inn, Hedonism II, Boscobel Beach, Jamaica Jamaica, Sans Souci, the Plantation Inn, Jack Tar Village, Sea Garden, Casa Blanca and Club Americana.

Cut inane details

Q. A relative I'm forced to see at family gatherings goes through long boring accounts of what he has done, explains details I don't care about and recites like, "And then he told . . . and then I said," etc. Help!

A. I refer to such time-wasters as "cluttered speech" in my time management classes. People tend to engage in this form of boring communications when horizons are limited and time isn't important. It is fine for two people who both enjoy talking that way, but for most, times have changed. The momentum of our society has increased so dramatically that time is now too valuable and interests too broad to wallow in useless details.

This is a lesson of particular import to people in the workplace. It is incumbent upon them to get to the point in business conversations. Few career people are interested in hearing verbatim the lecture you gave your kids last night or the technicalities of solving a problem.

Vibrant people are also irked by long lists of activities. When Jane recites, "First I went to the drug store to pick up some acne medicine for Brian and then I had to go by the cleaners to pick up Joe's suit because he spilled wine on it the night before and then I had to get gas because I had used it all up when . . ." No one cares but Jane. An important aspect of these recitals, however, is that the teller is often feeling pressured and looking for approval of how hard he or she has worked. A verbal pat on the back like, "I'll bet you were really tired" could make their day.

For readers who recognize themselves in this scenario and are not as popular as they wish, being "half safe" with the wrong under-arm deodorant may not be the problem. Perhaps they tell more inane details than others want to know.

Two minutes is the maximum time the average listener maintains interest without his own input. Thoughts should be organized by concentrating on the "bottom line." What is the point to be made? Ask, "Therefore . . ." which helps sort out the pertinent facts. Jane could unclutter her speech and be more interesting by condensing: "I spent four hours running errands today, which really wore me out."

queries
Robert M.
Melsner

Q. Our condominium association was talking about levying a substantial assessment with six figures for renovations. They called a meeting and asked for comments from the homeowners. Supposedly, there was to be a ballot disseminated regarding the special assessment and I have not heard anything since. What should we do?

A. Look at your condominium bylaws to determine the procedure for levying a special assessment. It sounds like your association did not follow that procedure and/or has abandoned its attempt to levy an assessment for renovations. I would write the association president and inquire as to the status of the so-called special assessment so as to confirm whether it has been abandoned.

Carnegie Park: characteristics of private home

By Joan Boram
special writer

GARY SHAPIRO beams like a new father when he discusses the Carnegie Park apartment complex.

"I worked on the plans for two years," says the young president of the Ivanhoe Cos. "The architect would send them to me, and I would think of improvements and send them back for revision. This was one of the best sites left in the Southfield-Farmington area, and I wanted not only the same quality that characterizes our custom homes and our condos, but I also wanted a design that was unique, not run-of-the-mill." Shapiro got what he wanted.

On 11 Mile between Inkster and Franklin roads, Carnegie Park is beautifully landscaped both by nature and by design. Pebble Creek meanders through a wooded one-mile nature trail on the edge of the property, and eventually will merge into a 25-acre city park. Picnic tables are scattered along the nature trail, as well as in other locations on the grounds.

"It has always been a company policy to save any trees that are on our properties," says Shapiro, a third-generation builder. "In addition, we have planted fir trees on the grounds that are much larger than required by the city." For the holiday season, the trees were draped with tiny white lights that will remain through the winter for the festive look they lend. In the spring, Shapiro himself plants lavish quantities of annuals to give the appearance of a large private garden.

The design of the three-story brick buildings is indeed unique for apartment building developments. The first and second floors are stacked; each unit is accessed by its own royal blue door. The third-floor penthouses have a private express elevator, and no elevator is shared by more than 12 people.

ONE-BEDROOM UNITS average 950 square feet, two-bedroom units 1,100 square feet, and the penthouses are a whopping 1,200-square-foot, with additional storage space on another floor.

There are eight 1,500-square-foot units with two bedrooms, two baths and library. All eight are leased.

Every detail has been planned to give each spacious unit the character of a private home.

Each unit has a roomy entrance hallway, at least one picture window with vertical blinds, and a front and back door. All have a covered porch or patio, and the penthouse has a 20-foot wrap-around balcony. Every unit has a washer and dryer, a microwave oven, separate furnace and hot water heater, and at least one walk-in closet.

"While each unit has a formal dining area, we realize that it's homier to have a place in the kitchen where you can grab a cup of coffee and a bagel in the morning, so we made sure that every kitchen could seat at least two people," says Shapiro.

Every penthouse and some two-bedroom units have a wet bar, and all penthouses have majestic cathedral ceilings and wood-burning fireplaces.

"We used decorator-angled walls to make the space more versatile," explains Shapiro. "Instead of being stuck with just a box-like living room, the angled walls make it possible to divide the space into two areas, allowing for a private space for reading or maybe just gazing out the window that wouldn't otherwise be possible." Carnegie Park has an oversized pool under a cathedral ceiling, where "people love to do laps."

IN WARM WEATHER, French doors open onto a sun deck overlooking a wooded area. There are saunas and whirlpool baths, and, for serious fitness freaks, an exercise room with state-of-the-art equipment, and an aerobics room complete with video where you and Jane can sweat together. These amenities are housed in the community center where there is also a social room complete with kitchen. There is an outdoor tennis court.

Carnegie Park is just minutes away from Northwestern Highway's "Golden Corridor," offering the finest in shopping and restaurants.

The first three buildings, with 120 units, became available in June 1988. They were immediately filled with an eclectic mix of tenants: empty-nesters, single professionals, young couples with children.

All units have rented at the same rate — no single size has proven more popular than the others. Rents start at $625 a month for a one-bedroom. A standard penthouse is $830. There are three main units, and 35 alternative, upscale units.

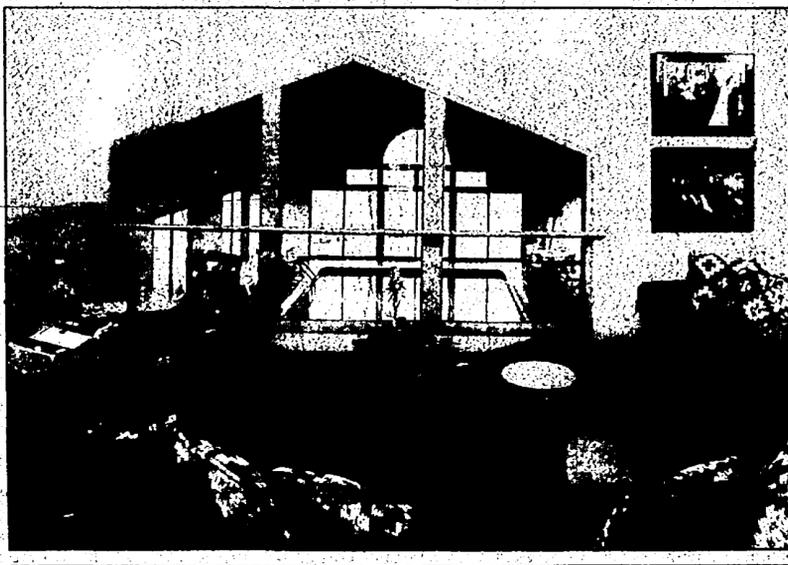

The second, final, phase of Carnegie Park is about to become available. To introduce this luxury apartment complex, there will be a grand opening Jan. 27, 28, and 29, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Anyone signing a one-year lease during the grand-opening weekend will receive a free weekend for two in the Bahamas. Carnegie Park is at 28601 W. Carnegie Park Drive, Southfield. For further information, call 355-2211.

Scenic Lake has an offer that you ought to see. Not only are the apartments phenomenally value-priced, each one comes with your choice of a gift worth hundreds of dollars. The location's ideal half way between U of M and EMU. The setting is rolling and peaceful. The heat is free. And the best surprise happens when you see it all for yourself.

Quality and Service provided by Mrs. Kathy J. of course.

Career Openings In Retail Management

Immediate openings for college graduates to train for our Retail Management Program.

Earnings history for those qualified individuals who completed this program and were assigned as Manager, averaged over $18,000 in their first year of management, between $21,000 and $23,000 at the end of the second year and over $25,000 by the third year, as Manager.

Because of the above, our compensation plan guarantees, for those who stay in the program, a minimum of $17,000 total earnings for the first full year as Manager and $19,000 the second year.
