Blast guts 4 stores

By Leonard Poger
editor

A botched arson job resulted in an explosion that destroyed four of six businesses on Warren Road east of Middlebelt early Saturday morning and injured a 17-year-old, said Westland Fire Chief Lane.

The blast gutted a building housing Dominic's Pizzeria, Snoop Sisters Family Closet clothing business, Rima's Salon and Red Carpet Keim Real Estate on the Westland-Garden City boundary.

Lane said he and the Westland police department expect to charge three people Tuesday with arson.

The chief reported Sunday that the blast, which happened between 1:30 and 2 a.m. Saturday, resulted in substantial burns to a 17-year-old pizzeria employee who confessed to trying to set the business on fire. He implicated two others.

The youth also had gasoline on his clothing when interviewed in the Henry Ford Hospital room where he is recovering from his burns, the chief reported.

The pizzeria was closed at the time of the explosion.

Lane concluded that the explosion was probably caused when the youth was pouring the gasoline, with the fumes igniting a pilot light in the pizzeria.

THE TEEN, whom Lane declined to identify until he is formally charged, was burned on the front of his body from just below the knees to the top of his head, Lane said.

The chief said the fire department didn't know about the fire until Fairlane Clinic in Dearborn called to report the burn injury.

The teen was later transferred to Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, for treatment of his burns, Lane said.

The 7Q party store and an adjacent dry cleaners, which had a window damaged in the blast, were the only businesses remaining in the building on the north side of Warren Road between Haller and Garden, opposite the Eagle's Nest restaurant. The blast destroyed the interior and the roof.

Suit weighed for 2 expelled in gun affair

By Ted Schneider
staff writer

An attorney representing two Wayne-Westland junior high school students expelled from the district after a gun incident last spring said Thursday a lawsuit would be filed seeking their reinstatement.

"We think a lawsuit is appropriate at this stage, that would be our next legal step," said Ann Arbor attorney Nancy Francis.

Francis said a December appeal on behalf of the students to the state Board of Education had become "bogged down" and apparently wasn't effective. "We had hoped they could be back (in Wayne-Westland) in time for the second semester, but that obviously hasn't happened," Francis said.

No deadline has been set for filing the lawsuit, but Francis said she hoped to file it "soon."

The suit would seek the reinstatement of former Franklin Junior High School students Tyson Morgan and Theodius Hawkins.

The Wayne-Westland school board voted 6-1 last August to expel the seventh graders. Parents of both boys had asked that they be allowed to transfer to another school in the district.

Dennis O'Neill, Wayne-Westland superintendent, said he hasn't had any contact with the state education department since the state first took the case two months ago.

The state asked if there was any room for negotiations, and the Wayne-Westland district stood by its original decision to expel the two boys, O'Neill said.

If there is a civil suit initiated, it would be turned over to the school board attorney. He declined to comment further on the issue since no

Voc/tech centers told to confront change

Ford Center chief says be prepared

By C. L. Rugenstein
staff writer

Keeping up with technology and changes in the job market is critical for the survival of vocational/technical schools, said Edwin N. Ferguson, principal of William D. Ford Vocational/Technical School.

But, however vital it is, change is also difficult, he noted.

"The only person who likes change is a wet baby," Ferguson told the center's advisory committee in his state-of-the-center speech Friday.

Success in educating young people and preparing them for the job market "depends on how well we manage change. If we don't manage it, it will manage us," he said.

Ferguson outlined two planned programs, one of them the first of its kind in the state, that the center on Marquette near Carlson will implement next September to help students manage change.

One program is the business technologies cluster, combining programs in data processing, secretarial, accounting and computing and photo-typesetting (or desktop publishing) to meet the needs of the exploding information services industry.

Students in the program will "enroll in one program as a major but will study in all the others," Ferguson said. "That's why it's called a cluster." They will rotate through the different classes on an "as needed" schedule, he added.

THE PROGRAM isn't new to the state, but reflects future trends in the explosion of knowledge and the importance of the information services industry, he said.

It took 150 years for knowledge to double, from 1750 to 1900, Ferguson explained. And with changing technology, it has doubled with increasing frequency.

"Futurists say that knowledge will double every 11 months by 1991," Ferguson said.

The automated manufacturing technologies program reflects the predicted growth of another service industry. It combines electronics, computer-aided manufacturing (CAM) and its other side, computer-aided drafting.

The stress is on service technology, Ferguson said. Students would learn how to operate and service hydraulic, pneumatic and electro-magnetic machinery for automated manufacturing. Planned equipment for the program even includes a seven-axis programmable robot.

"It's part of the automated training," Ferguson explained. "It just transfers objects from one machine to another." Ferguson would like to get a computer-operated manufacturing (CIM) center going, to work with the robot, but "I'm not sure we can afford it."

'The only person who likes change is a wet baby.'

Ferguson said cost equipment and renovations for the new automated manufacturing programs would be about $400,000. Money for the programs comes through a $12.9 bond program approved by voters one year ago, and federal grants.

The business technology program will be getting some new IBM computers and a renovated classroom. Cost will be about $130,000.

While the business technologies program is not new, except to the Ford Center, the automated manufacturing technologies program "is unique, and a first" for voc/tech centers in Michigan.

WESTLAND MAYOR Charles Griffin stressed the importance of the center and its role in turning around a potential economic disaster for the city when the GM Leaseway company moved out.

The center, which serves as a facility for the Wayne-Westland, North Allen Park, Melvindale, Crestwood and Northville school districts has a job training partnership program which provides training for "unemployed and underemployed people," Ferguson said.

And it was part of the reason Westland was able to attract a big new company, the Van Dresser Corp., to locate at the former GM Leaseway building on Newburgh north of Palmer.

"We have the unique capability to train a new workforce, and retrain those who've been displaced," said Griffin in his comments after Ferguson's talk.

In talking about how the staff had had to adjust to change, Ferguson

Principal returns to an old subject: Fund-raising 101

By Leonard Poger
editor

Jamieson Hawley, former Garden City and Wayne-Westland school district elementary school principal, just can't stay away from school.

Although he retired 18 months ago, Hawley continues to return to handle a chore many of his counterparts and teachers shy away from — fund-raisers.

Hawley admitted he always liked student assemblies held to explain the fund-raisers when he was a building principal.

Now that he is on the other side, Hawley said he likes to continue building positive attitudes for kids.

He frequently tells students at the assemblies:

"You are going to be a sales manager," with the youngsters recruiting their relatives to sell candy or other items for them, Hawley said.

In that way, the kids avoid having to sell articles door-to-door, he said. Actually, sales presentations are nothing new for Hawley, who will be 60 next month.

"Sales is one of my loves," he said, noting that he began his sales career right out of college before changing directions and going into education.

He was with the Armour Corp.'s soap division in Dayton, Ohio, after getting his bachelor's degree from Olivet College and a master's from Eastern Michigan University.

A year later, Hawley switched careers and started teaching elementary school youngsters.

HE BEGAN his new career 31 years ago at the nearby new Memorial Elementary School in Garden City. Three years later, he was promoted to assistant principal and later principal at Vogel Junior High School.

Twenty years ago, Hawley moved three miles away when he became principal of Stottlemeyer Elementary School in the adjacent Wayne-Westland school district.

After 12 years, he was switched to Washington Elementary and then moved to Marshall Junior High as assistant principal before closing his career as a classroom teacher at Jefferson Elementary.

He returned to sales when he retired in mid-1987 and was looking for part-time work. Hawley contacted L&M F fund raising, one of the fund-raising firms that came to Marshall Junior High several years before when he was an administrator.

"In my first year, a Cub Scout pack had its highest sales figure," Hawley said. "In another, P.D. Graham Elementary School in Westland raised about $54,000."

In that benefit, 16 youngsters each had $500 or more in sales, winning a color TV set or an entertainment center.

Another big benefit was the one held by the Marshall band in which eight won major prizes, Hawley said.

IN GARDEN City, Hawley helped organize a Santa Shop at Henry Ruff Elementary School.

That effort generated other side benefits for Hawley. He resumed contacts with some of his former colleagues, such as Gerald Gould and Phil Jameson, former school administrators now in the classroom.

He also returned to two of his former schools, Stottlemeyer and Marshall, for benefits.

In handling the fund-raisers, Hawley stresses to students that the first three letters in "fund" spell out "f-u-n."

Helping Hawley as a part-time assistant is another familiar school name — Marlene Wenner, former long-time Wayne-Westland school district secretary.

One thing that most parents and students remember about Hawley's days as a principal was his use of a movie camera for school projects — a forerunner of today's video camera.

HE NOW uses video cameras to tape his school presentations so he can evaluate them.

Tips he uses for the presentations are "keep it short and give out instant prizes" to get and keep kids' attention.

"Sometimes, I give out $1 bills."

"My job is to make those kids happy," Hawley said, smiling — and he doesn't have any discipline problems to handle.

265 attend dinner-dance

An estimated 265 seniors enjoyed a Valentine dinner and dancing Wednesday afternoon at the Dyer Seniors Center.

The annual event concluded with the crowning of kings and queens from the Tuesday and Wednesday Senior Clubs, sponsored by the Wayne-Westland school district.

Representing the Tuesday club were royalty Virginia Laremore and Frank Pontone. King and queen of the Wednesday club were Ed Boron and Emily Kolesnik.

The Avalons band provided for the dancers while Jim Buckingham sang love songs for the audience.

About 15 to 20 persons who had birthdays in February were also honored at the event, said a Dyer Center spokeswoman.

The oldest person received a floral bouquet while the others each took home a flower and cupcake.

mentioned that teachers had to get used to having adults in some of the daytime classes, as a result of the retraining program.

But, he said, "They rallied to the challenge and did very well with the change."

Also attending the event were Wayne-Westland school board president Andrew Spisak and district Superintendent Dennis O'Neill.

suit has yet been filed. The boys are now attending classes at the Westland Attention Center, a program administered by the state Department of Social Services for wards of the state.

THE INCIDENT which led to the expulsion was the first involving a handgun in the district, according to school officials.

Tyson had brought an unloaded .22-caliber handgun to school, and Theodius had kept the gun and two bullets in his locker.

The two boys were suspended from classes April 28.

The boys' educational environment is a big concern, Francis said. "This (the Attention Center) just isn't really appropriate for these two kids," she said.

The parents of the boys tried but were unable to enroll them in another school district last fall, according to Francis.

Richard McHugh, a second attorney involved in the case, and Ruth Zwelfer, a representative from the Ann Arbor-based Student Advocacy Center, made appeals to the state board Dec. 13.

The center is a private, non-profit, organization which works to assure equity and excellence for all Michigan public school students. It became involved in the case as part of its effort to promote outreach programs for expelled students under 16.

The board sent Zwelfer a letter last month indicating that it felt Tyson and Theodius were receiving an adequate education, according to Eugene Cain, state assistant superintendent for communications.

Cain said the state board will hear a presentation this week on the need for continued education for expelled public school students in Michigan.

Dads, daughters delight in dance

Bob Allen pins a corsage on the dress of daughter Melissa, 8, while her sister, Sarah, 10, looks on.

IT WAS a big night for hundreds of Westland fathers and their daughters Wednesday and Friday nights.

A record 127 people attended the Wednesday daddy-daughter dance, with at least 105 registered for Friday, said MaryBeth Jones, a recreation department supervisor who coordinated the events.

It was the first time that the department needed two nights for the valentine event, she said.

Jones felt the increase in attendance was due to the improved publicity, which included fliers with a message inside a heart and printed in valentine red distributed throughout all local schools.

The youngest girl at the Wednesday night dance was Stacy Abraham, only 1 month old.

One dad brought his three daughters while an uncle came with five nieces, Jones said.

Square dance caller was Michael Brennan.

Calling it a night are Rick Walakonis and daughter Lisa, 8.

Stacey Abraham, 19 months, was the youngest daughter at the dance. She and dad Joe Abraham registered at the event, which was held in the Bailey Center.

Schools get $160,000 for 9.2-acre land sale

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools district will add $160,000 to its coffers after selling 9.2 acres it has been acquiring in segments for more than two decades.

The school board Monday unanimously approved an offer to purchase the land made by the Bell Construction Co. The developer plans to build a subdivision of 38-40 single-family homes.

The vacant parcel is on the north side of Cherry Hill, east of Newburgh. It is adjacent to an apartment complex and other single-family homes.

A competing developer, Arbor Farms Development, offered $20,000 more for the parcel, but district officials recommended the Bell bid based on its terms. Bell also will put up a non-refundable, $35,000 deposit.

"Based on the substantial deposit and the fact that the company has completed several past projects in the district we feel they would be in a better position to complete the deal," said Tom Svilkovich, associate superintendent for communications and finance.

THE TERMS of the deal provide for a 21-day period in which to close the sale.

The rejected offer from Arbor Farms included a 90-day closing period. Also, the sale would have been contingent on the developers receiving a zoning change from the city to permit construction.

Bell Construction would forfeit its deposit if it fails to obtain the zoning change.

Money from the sale will be added to the district's surplus fund balance, now at about $3.5 million, down nearly $1.5 million from 18 months ago.

Svilkovich said the land had been acquired by the district "in bits and pieces going back to the 1960s."

Some lots were purchased outright by the district, some were purchased through tax forfeiture sales and some lots were donated, Svilkovich said. The final two parcels were transferred from the city to the district earlier this month.

"We're sure the city will be glad to see the entire parcel back on the tax rolls," said Andrew Spisak, school board president.

cop calls

A DAIRY MART party store employee reported that an unarmed man robbed the store of $48 in cash early Wednesday morning.

The clerk at the store, 32915 Warren Road, told police that a white man, 5 feet 5 and thin, demanded that she "give me all your money. This is a holdup," he said.

At first the clerk thought the man was joking. A moment later, the bandit said he "meant business" and grabbed $48 from the cash register.

The clerk said the man fled on foot toward a nearby apartment complex.

A CLARK gas station at 542 N. Wayne Road was broken into early Thursday morning, with someone stealing 46 cartons of cigarettes.

A station employee said quantities of anti-freeze and windshield washer fluid may have also been stolen.

A WOMAN in the city's southeast corner received a surprise and some injuries when she returned home early Wednesday morning.

She told police she found her boyfriend in the home with her girlfriend.

An argument quickly ensued, with the man punching her several times in the face and knocking her down, hurting her back.

Officers said the woman was taken to Westland Medical Center.

3 Stevenson juniors win in essay contest

Three Stevenson Junior High School students have been named local winners in the 20th annual America & Me Essay Contest.

Melissa Thompson was named a first-place winner. Melissa's essay will be judged at the state competition this spring, from which the top 10 essays in Michigan will be selected.

Kelly Hamrick and Erin Crilley were named second and third-place winners, respectively.

All three Stevenson students were awarded certificates for their achievement. Melissa's name will be engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school.

The annual contest, sponsored by the Farm Bureau Insurance Group, drew several thousand entries from eighth graders from 500 schools in Michigan. The topic for this year's contest was "My Dream for America and How I Will Help Make It Come True."

IMAGINE DYING FROM A DISEASE YOU NEVER KNEW YOU HAD.

Eleven million people in the U.S. have diabetes. But almost half of them don't know it.

Untreated, diabetes can lead to heart disease, kidney disease, blindness and gangrene.

And for 150,000 people each year, it leads to death.

That's why you should be aware of the symptoms of diabetes: blurred vision, excessive thirst and frequent urination are just some of the warning signs. Because the sooner you find out if you have diabetes, the more likely you are to get it under control, before complications set in.

Finding out you have diabetes can be scary. But not finding out can be fatal.

U presidents: Inflation-plus bucks needed

By Tim Richard
Staff writer

Despite the public's anti-tax sentiment, state university presidents say Lansing needs to hike their appropriations 3-3.5 percent faster than the level of inflation.

Their goal is to restore universities' losses of the 1979-83 recession. "We're fairly pleased with the priority Gov. Blanchard gave higher education in his proposed 1990 budget," said Joseph E. Champagne, president of Oakland University.

"There were rumors we might get a negative appropriation. Many of us made budget cuts in preparation.

But he proposed an increase of 4.8 percent — a little over 3 percent for operations and 1.8 for capital."

CHAMPAGNE WAS interviewed after presiding last week at the Economic Club of Detroit's annual panel of three university presidents.

Everyone's theme was the same: Michigan needs to increase its "investment" in state universities not just at the rate of inflation, but several percentage points higher.

"The Presidents Council proposed that, to achieve a rating of 15th in the nation (in terms of state appropriations per student), it would take inflation plus 3.5 percent more a year for five years," Champagne said. "It would start this year with 5.5 percent and then inflation plus 3.5 percent in the future.

"We're quite pleased he came out at 4.8 percent for the first year. He couldn't give all of it, but he certainly seemed to respond."

AREND LUBBERS, for 20 years president of Grand Valley State University, told the business audience that the buying power of universities is actually down 4.5 percent in the last decade.

"Currently we rank 31st among the states in appropriations for public universities as a percent of tax revenue.

"And we rank 26th per student enrolled in public institutions of higher education.

"This is not where Michigan used to be," said Lubbers, who announced the goal of raising Michigan to 15th in five years.

ONE AUDIENCE questioner challenged the notion that university costs had to rise faster than the rate of consumer price inflation.

But University of Michigan president James Duderstadt said, "I do not believe costs are out of line." He said higher education costs have increased at the same rate as personal income in the United States — a rate that would include consumer price inflation plus improved productivity.

Michigan State University President John DiBiaggio added, "There was a time when class assignments were heavier."

But he said universities ask more of faculty today — research ... public service ... knowledge has exploded. The average faculty member puts in 55-60 hours a week in teaching, preparation, grading papers, public service and research."

DUDERSTADT HIT hardest at public attitudes, saying the enemy is "in the mirror."

"Who's to blame? ... Our own personal priorities ... not our elected public officials," he said, citing their "Herculean efforts" to be the "education governor, the education party or the education president."

But the former engineering professor who has been at U-M's helm since mid-1988 said public officials

Declining state appropriations

Blanchard's '90 budget

Here is what Gov. James J. Blanchard has recommended in state appropriations for public universities for the 1990 fiscal year beginning Oct. 1:

- All 15 higher education institutions — $1.1 billion, up 3.6 percent.
- Oakland University — $33 million, up 4.4 percent.

- University of Michigan-Deerborn — $16 million, up 3.1 percent.

- U-M-Ann Arbor — $241 million, up 3.9 percent.

- Michigan State University — $243 million, up 3.4 percent.

- Wayne State University — $166 million, up 3.1 percent.

face "formidable constraints: the voters' desire for less crime, more prisons, no cuts in national defense, no cuts in welfare and no more taxes.

"Numerous studies, commissioned by state government and people throughout the state, have suggested that Michigan is seriously underinvesting in its knowledge infrastructure by as much as 30-40 percent relative to other states," Duderstadt said.

But the U-M chief finds the public "paralyzed" in coming to grips with school finance reform.

DIBIAGGIO, a former dentist who has been at MSU's helm since 1985, said business needs to appreciate "the pursuit of science, not just the pursuit of technology."

He quoted former MSU President Walter Adams, an economist, as finding that one effect of a corporate leveraged buyout is that "research and development budgets soon get cut.

"That can be the policy of a given corporation needing instant infusion of technology, but it must not be public science policy."

WSU's Adamany: state budget good

Wayne State University president David Adamany said budget proposals of Gov. James Blanchard will strengthen research and improve Michigan's universities.

"Gov. Blanchard's 1990 budget once again gives a high priority to higher education, and it will help Michigan to maintain one of the leading university systems in America.

"Some tuition increase will be required by all of our universities next year, but the governor's overall budget proposal will help avoid tuition increases that are excessive," Adamany said.

He said special provisions in the budget would help research programs and campus physical facilities.

"All universities welcome Gov. Blanchard's increase from $16 million to $21 million to help renew classrooms, laboratories and libraries that are seriously deteriorating on many campuses throughout our state."

SULFASALAZINE - ANOTHER NEW ARTHRITIS DRUG
I want to bring to your attention a new drug for arthritis: sulfasalazine.

This medication was developed in the 1930's as a medication to deal with chronic inflammation of the intestine, Crohn's Disease. As the drug included a form of salicylate, several investigators speculated that the medication could help individuals with rheumatoid arthritis, just as aspirin, acetylsalicylic acid.

Use of sulfasalazine in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis began in the 1940's. Between the events of W.W. II and the post war evaluations of gold therapy, penicillamine, cytoxan and methotrexate, physicians overlooked the work on sulfasalazine.

When these other compounds proved to be of limited long term value, rheumatologists renewed their interest in sulfasalazine.

The drug has toxicities similar to its predecessors: lowering the white count, a possible dangerous drop in platelets, and intestinal irritation leading to nausea and loss of appetite.

Like the other new drugs for arthritis, sulfasalazine is possibly helpful to some people and potentially dangerous to others: the outcome depends on whether the drug's efficacy outweighs its toxicity.

Editor learns change is constant

A full-time electrical engineering student at Lawrence Technological University in Southfield, Galea is editor-in-chief of the university's newspaper, the Tech News.

Galea also is president of the student chapter of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, and holds a part-time job as a computer analyst.

Galea himself sometimes doesn't know where he finds the time, but he does.

"Charlie is one of those rare individuals who can do many things simultaneously and do them all well," said Bruce Annett, director of university relations and an advisor to the student paper.

Since January 1988, Galea has been editor-in-chief of the Tech News, a bimonthly publication serving Lawrence Tech's 5,500 students. When first named editor the staff consisted of himself, a photographer, and a business manager.

"Originally I had to do everything—writing news articles, editing, layout, and even delivery of the paper. Eventually I started to delegate responsibilities by recruiting more editors, writers, and photographers," said Galea, 20, of Livonia, a graduate of Livonia Stevenson High.

Today the Tech News staff has grown to more than 20 students. Galea estimates he works 25 hours a week on the paper.

THIS YEAR Galea improved the paper's content, appearance, and public relations effectiveness.

At the same time he cut publishing cost in half by converting the entire publishing process to desk-top publishing using his initiative and skills.

Through desk-top publishing, all production aspects of the Tech News are handled on the computer, ranging from the writing of a story to designing the paper.

The biggest challenge, aside from motivating and increasing the Tech News staff, has been configuring the different computer systems and making them compatible. The ultimate realization of someone's article from a mere thought to final print is an amazingly complex process," said Galea.

Galea has represented Lawrence Tech on a radio talk show, at the Detroit Athletic Club as a guest of Dr. Richard Marburger, president of Lawrence Tech, at the Detroit Economic Club, and at the private Carail Museum owned by Richard Kughn.

COMPUTERS ARE the one aspect of modern-day society that have helped Galea in many aspects of his life.

"I use computers as an effective means of accomplishing specific tasks, whether it be the Tech News, work, business, or school. But computers, like any tool, are only as good as the one who uses them. I've been cautious about letting them do the thinking for me.

Galea said his knowledge of computers led him to his job at AAA headquarters in Dearborn where he works more than 30 hours a week as a computer analyst.

"AAA has a number of mini-mainframes, large central computers, that I am responsible for. I handle hardware and software problem diagnosis, communication links, and system back-ups. Working with field engineers when problems arise has allowed me to develop an effective hands-on approach to problem solving."

Last summer Galea was offered a summer internship at Chrysler Corporation's headquarters in Highland Park.

"The atmosphere at Chrysler was inspiring. I learned a great deal about the concept/development life cycle of cars. Some of the futuristic prototype models were just unbelievable. Any spare time was spent meeting new people in different departments and just getting the big picture."

GALEA IS chairman of the LTU chapter of the IEEE, a group that primarily attracts electrical engineering students but is open to all engineering students.

Chapter activities include conference trips, lectures by practicing engineers, technical paper contests, technical film presentations, tours of electronic and electrical manufacturing plants and utilities, and participation in the university's open house.

With such a busy schedule, Galea said he finds being organized is essential to reducing stress.

He first discovered the necessity of being organized as a high school junior when he started his own business after playing varsity soccer at Livonia Bentley High.

"Right after the soccer season was over, I started working part-time. When I was paid I would calculate a host of percentages and forecasts about my financial status.

"It's funny to look back and think how unnecessary all those calculations were for a high school student, especially when my friends took their check straight to the bank and forgot about it.

"But doing all those calculations led me to write a program on my computer that would make the analysis fast and accurate. Then it struck me that there are probably many other people who could benefit from such a practical, time-saving program. So I started a software business called Data-Logic.

"I registered the name, obtained a post office box for the company, and took out $150 in ads in a national computer magazine. I still remember how excited I was when I received my first order and check. The program was called 'Income Analysis,'" said Galea who, since beginning college closed his firm because of lack of time.

"Making a profit was important but the thrill of being the boss and managing all aspects of the business is what really motivated me. What I learned from running that business probably will help me for a long time."

IN ADDITION to his busy life, Galea said maintaining a good grade point average is a priority.

Galea has made the dean's list and recently was inducted into Eta Kappa Nu, a national electrical engineering honor society.

To relax, Galea enjoys working out in Lawrence Tech's athletic center where he plays racquetball and works out in the weight room. He also enjoys traveling.

"My parents are both from Malta, a small island in the middle of the Mediterranean Sea. I've been there three times and nothing is done by the clock. It's very laid back—paradise!"

"I was born in Michigan but until I was 5 years old I could only speak Maltese, using a little English to lay with friends down the street. All of a sudden, kindergarten came around and I learned to speak English.

"My friends and I have been to several places in the U.S. and currently we're planning a biking tour of Europe, which of course will include Malta."

Galea said he chose Lawrence Tech because it stresses both theory and practice. "In the labs we're designing circuits, in student projects we're designing Formula SAE cars, and through student organizations such as IEEE we're applying the knowledge we learn in the classroom. Many of the professors are from industry and they bring with them real-world experience."

What about life after LTU? "Probably complete a master's degree in electrical engineering and an MBA while working in industry. And perhaps eventually start my own firm."

"I certainly want to stay in the engineering field. All too often engineers are promoted to management positions that require them to 'push paper' and do little else. I admire the managers who can delegate a specific project and yet talk to the engineer on a technical level. In other words, managers who truly are managers."

The FBI has released this photo of a man leaving with money taken by the bank's security camera during Thursday's holdup of Comerica, 39901 W. Eight Mile Road.

Bank heist suspect surrenders to FBI

A photograph of a bank robbery suspect distributed Friday by the FBI led to the surrender Sunday of a Westland man.

"His attorney called us at 11:30 p.m. Saturday," said FBI spokesman John Anthony. "Arrangements were made to have him surrender to the FBI and Northville Police at 2 p.m. Sunday. He was arraigned at 5 p.m."

The arraignment of James Calvin Newman, 30, of Windham Street on two bank robbery charges took place before a U. S. magistrate.

Newman has been charged with the Feb. 6 robbery of Comerica Bank, 39475 W. 10 Mile Road in Novi, and the Feb. 16 robbery of the Comerica Bank, 39901 W. Eight Mile Road at Haggerty in Northville Township.

Anthony said Newman surrendered to the FBI after seeing a photograph of himself in the local media Saturday.

The photo, taken Thursday inside the Comerica Bank, showed a man wearing a plaid shirt leaving a cashier's window with a fistful of money.

At 11:30 a.m. Thursday, a man walked into the Comerica bank, on the south side of Eight Mile west of Haggerty, and handed a cashier a threatening note.

The man held his hand in his pocket, implying he had a gun, Anthony said.

After the cashier handed over an undisclosed amount of money, the robber ran off toward the Meljers Thrifty Acres store on Haggerty Road immediately south of the bank.

Anthony said Newman was temporarily jailed in Westland because he "failed to appear in Westland on several traffic charges."

Jail control not primary issue for area police

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Area police say they don't care who runs the Wayne County Jail as long as there is enough jail space for the criminals they catch.

Within one month, the jail could be under new management. Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara was appointed jail receiver Thursday. McNamara will assume control of the jail March 16, unless an appeal by Sheriff Robert Ficano is upheld.

Wrangling over jail control, however, doesn't bother area police as much as lack of space at the county facility.

McNamara was appointed jail receiver in a ruling announced Thursday afternoon by Chief Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman. In the 92-page ruling, Kaufman said McNamara's appointment would be the final step toward bringing the jail in compliance with provisions of a 1971 lawsuit filed by county inmates. (For details on the issue's long history, see related story.)

According to the judge, McNamara was chosen because he was familiar with the jail and already held review power over Ficano's jail budget.

"The appointment of Mr. McNamara will merge most of the fiscal and operational control of the jail," Kaufman wrote.

Because of those circumstances, Kaufman wrote, McNamara appeared more likely to force rapid improvements than would previously-appointed jail monitor Vincent Nathan. Nathan, a Toledo-based jail management expert, was the only other candidate considered for the post.

Though designed to answer why a monitor was appointed and why McNamara was chosen monitor, the Kaufman's ruling also heavily criticized Ficano.

"The sheriff's mismanagement or

Judge Richard Kaufman took county jail supervision from the sheriff Thursday and gave it to the county executive.

County executive Edward McNamara will assume control of the jail March 16 under Kaufman's order.

Sheriff Robert Ficano has vowed to fight the jail control ruling in the state appeals court.

Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro said area police chiefs were more concerned with jail space than who was operating the jail.

Relations between Kaufman and Ficano were strained even before Thursday's ruling. The sheriff sought to have Kaufman and all other county judges removed from the case last year. At the time, he alleged comments Kaufman made in chambers showed the judge had decided to appoint a monitor without fully hearing evidence in the long-running court battle. The state appeals court subsequently denied that motion.

Kaufman later held Ficano in contempt, charging the sheriff was deliberately withholding information from court-appointed monitor Nathan. The judge, however, later withdrew the contempt citation. Ficano said his withdrawal proved his department had been fully cooperating with the jail monitor.

Ficano seeks an immediate stay of execution from the appeals court, blocking McNamara's appointment as receiver. "We want them to stop this action, then take time to review the case," he said.

In contrast, Kaufman and McNamara have enjoyed a more cordial relationship. Both men made a joint appearance at Observer-Newspress offices in Livonia last summer to drum up support for the county's new 1-mill jail tax. Voters approved the jail tax during the August primary.

The county is now in the process of building a new jail. Ficano said he was unsure whether Thursday's ruling would eliminate him from the jail-building process.

"We don't know what that effect would be," he said.

lack of management, has prevented substantial compliance," Kaufman wrote.

"The sheriff has chosen what he considers to be good politics over good government," Kaufman continued. "The result has been substantial and continuous mismanagement of the jail."

The judge declined to take reporters' questions on the ruling.

A visibly angry Ficano promised he would "immediately" appeal the ruling.

"There is no mismanagement at the jail. He (Kaufman) has never set foot inside the jail," the sheriff said, addressing reporters inside the jail's exercise room. "There is no precedent for this ruling."

Ficano pointed to new exercise equipment as one sign jail conditions had improved. The sheriff, who has led reporters on tours of the jail, also cited elimination of triple-bunking and new stainless steel toilet facilities as evidence inmates were receiving more humane treatment.

Other changes, the sheriff said, include a declining inmate suicide rate and improved mental health counselling.

The judge, however, said both the old and new county jail buildings were "plagued by inadequate maintenance and poor sanitation". In addition, he said the old jail was poorly lighted and featured inadequate heat, ventilation and plumbing and was infested with cockroaches.

Mental health care continues to be inadequate, Kaufman ruled, with inmates requiring psychiatric counseling frequently locked in their cells round the clock and denied visits from family members.

Kaufman also found fault with standard medical care provided inmates, as well as a far-reaching number of other items ranging from laundering of inmate uniforms and bedding to deficiencies in the way inmates are assigned to certain sections of the jail.

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara

THE NEW WAYNE COUNTY

In two years, Wayne County government has been turned around. Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara explains how this was accomplished and speaks to issues vital to all county residents.

KEEPING PRISONERS IN JAIL. Wayne County is building a new jail to stop the premature release of 2,000 prisoners a year.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. In two years since County Executive McNamara took office, the county's total valuation has increased by $3 billion and the number of people holding jobs has increased by 34,000.

HEALTH CARE. County Executive McNamara is ensuring that the people of Wayne County receive adequate health care services. At the same time, cost-cutting measures have been taken to stop unnecessary expenditures.

BALANCED BUDGET. For the first time in 20 years, Wayne County has a balanced budget. The County has eliminated a $200 million deficit and become a cost-efficient model government.

AIRPORT MODERNIZATION. Wayne County has received a $100 million airport modernization program at Metro Airport. This will cut delays of airplane take-offs and landings and inconvenience to passengers.

QUALITY OF LIFE. Executive McNamara will detail plans to restore the parks of Wayne County and to continue the cleanup of the Rouge River.

Jail dispute weaves long history

The Wayne County Jail controversy weaved a long, troubled path through the county court system and is expected to now move on to the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The crux of the matter: the county court believes improvements ordered as far back as 1971 still haven't been made.

Chief Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman included a history of the long-running controversy in Thursday's opinion on the jail. Here are the highlights:

- January 1971 — A class action suit was filed on behalf of six Wayne County Jail inmates alleging their civil rights were violated due to crowded and unsanitary conditions as well as inadequate medical care and absence of protection from attacks by fellow inmates.

- May 1971 — A three-judge panel ruled in favor of inmates and ordered the county to adopt a correction plan within 30 days.

- Aug. 4, 1971 — The Wayne

County Circuit Court appointed a jail monitor to supervise changes. Wayne County Commission, then the chief agency responsible for the jail budget, challenged its loss of control, but the original ruling was ultimately upheld by the Michigan Supreme Court in 1974.

- 1975-76 — Hearings on jail's suicide prevention plans concluded deputies lacked proper training and the jail lacked adequate mental health care staff and programs. The court blocked commissioners' attempt to eliminate 20 jail workers, including three directly related to providing remedies for past problems. Sheriff William Lucas was found in civil contempt as inadequate health care and personal hygiene among prisoners continued to be found at the jail.

- 1980 — Wayne County adopted a new charter, calling for an elected county CEO. Among the executive's duties: reviewing the jail budget.

- 1983 — Robert Ficano was appointed sheriff, elected one year later and re-elected in 1988.

- 1985 — The county opened a new jail in downtown Detroit in an attempt to ease overcrowding but Oct. 13, inmates filed another motion alleging jail abuses were continuing. Nov. 7, now-County Executive William Lucas claimed in a court filing the problems are caused by mismanagement on the part of his successor — Ficano.

- 1988 — Edward McNamara was elected Wayne County's second executive, replacing Lucas.

- April 9, 1987 — By now, the lawsuit had passed to Kaufman. He became the seventh county judge to hear the case. Kaufman issued a "final judgment" on jail, appointing Toledo-based jail expert Vincent Nathan jail monitor — over McNamara's objection.

- July 10, 1987 — In a preliminary report, Nathan found prisoners lacking adequate recreation. Weight machines, video games were subsequently provided.

- Oct. 5, 1987 — Kaufman issued remedial orders for the jail.

- Feb. 16, 1988 — Contempt charges were sought against both McNamara and Ficano by inmates who alleged they weren't moving to implement court-ordered remedies. The issue was subsequently resolved when all parties agreed to a timetable for improvements.

- March 1988 — Nathan's final report on jail found "widespread non-compliance" with Kaufman's April 1987 final judgment.

- Aug. 16, 1988 — Arguing he could do a better job than Ficano, McNamara filed to be appointed jail administrator.

- Sept. 1, 1988 — Inmates filed for a receiver. McNamara withdrew his motion 12 days later.

- Feb. 16, 1989 — Kaufman ruled in favor of inmates and appointed McNamara jail receiver. Ficano immediately announced he would appeal the ruling.

Seats available on S'craft board

Nominating petitions for the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees are available 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays in the president's office.

One four-year and three six-year terms on the seven-member board will be filled at the regular college election of trustees Monday, June 12.

Candidates must be residents of the college district and registered voters.

Candidates also must submit a nominating petition with no less than 50 nor more than 200 signatures of qualified voters. College officials ask that candidates circulate petitions so that all those signing any one petition are residents of a single school district.

The Schoolcraft College voting area includes the school districts of Livonia, Plymouth-Canton, Clarenceville, Garden City and Northville.

There is no filing fee. Schoolcraft board positions are unpaid.

Petitions must be returned to the secretary of the Schoolcraft Community College District, 18800 Haggerty Road, Room A-190, Livonia, by 4 p.m. Tuesday, April 25.

Sheriff vows appeal on jail's loss

As receiver, McNamara would assume control for all jail operations, supervise all jail staff and exercise other jail duties currently carried out by the sheriff. McNamara will receive one year to bring jail into compliance. He must provide Kaufman with quarterly progress reports.

The move doesn't eliminate the need for a sheriff, Kaufman ruled.

"The appointment of a receiver would not 'remove' the sheriff from office (because) the jail is not the sheriff's sole function," the judge said.

In March 1990, Kaufman will review inmate conditions at the existing jail. At that time, he could return the jail system to Ficano's jurisdiction, retain McNamara as receiver or appoint another receiver.

Charging Ficano wasn't doing enough to improve jail conditions, attorneys representing jail inmates filed for a receiver on Sept. 1. McNamara had earlier filed to be appointed jail administrator but withdrew after the inmates' motion.

The executive continues to seek a county corrections department, assigned to his office, to operate the county jail system.

Leave a clean trail.

WINNERS CIRCLE
 BY LAURIE KIPP

A lot of readers wrote for more details on the "Fame & Fortune" instant game and weekly TV show. This column answers some of those questions.

Q. If my name, address and phone number don't fit on the TV entry ticket, can they be attached on a separate sheet of paper?

A. Do your best to fit them in the designated spaces on the ticket. But also print them clearly as a return address on the mailing envelope. These are kept to assure accuracy.

Q. If you can't make the taping or prefer not to appear, can someone else play for you?

A. Yes, you can designate a stand-in. This also is a choice for anyone with a physical disability that might make an appearance difficult.

Q. Once new contestants and home partners are drawn, are remaining entries held for later drawings?

A. No. Each drawing includes only the entries received in the preceding week.

Q. What are the odds of having your entry drawn?

A. The odds for scratching off a "TV entry" ticket are 1 in 50. The odds for being drawn as a contestant or home partner vary with the number of entries received each week. There were about 27,000 of these for the first drawing.

Q. How long will "Fame & Fortune" be sold?

A. Unlike previous instant games which lasted only eight or nine weeks, "Fame & Fortune" will remain on sale indefinitely.

Q. If the two parts of the ticket become separated, will sending in one half serve as an entry?

A. Only if it is the half showing the three TV symbols with your name, address and phone number clearly written on the back.

Q. Do contestants really ride in a limo?

A. On the morning of the taping, they are picked up at the Omni International Hotel by a VIP limousine. This is used for their travels throughout the day, including a visit to The Whitney restaurant for a special luncheon.

Q. How does the Lottery contact winners to give them instructions for being on the show?

A. Soon after the drawing, a Lottery representative calls the number printed on the entry until contact is made. An Express Mail package containing full details also is mailed on Friday evening to each new contestant.

For submitting the first question leading to this column, Joe Ventura of Redford Township is receiving 50 "Fame & Fortune" instant game tickets.

If you have a lottery question not yet covered in these monthly columns, send it to: "Winner's Circle," Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

Already, he dotes on oats

Pick up just about any journal of medicine or health-style magazine nowadays and you will undoubtedly notice much is being touted about the benefit of oats.

New cereals are "sprouting" (excuse the pun) weekly on supermarket shelves, telling the consumers these are toasted, crackled, puffed, flaked, and all really taste great.

Oats are oats (and dole doats...)

There isn't much out there, barring the use of tons of sugar, honey and assorted nuts that will make me respect oats anymore.

As far as I'm concerned, oats as in oatmeal is one of those breakfasts you eat on a sub-zero morning when you finally realize you promised to take the kids tobogganing. In all fairness, I must admit that I use oats in other circumstances that really taste good. It's what I mix with them that makes them taste so good.

SUCH AS MY recipe for Corny Banana Oat Muffins. Include in that list meatloaf. (I love meatloaf, especially cold on a sandwich, and when you raid the fridge at 2 a.m. for a sandwich, isn't it great knowing you're eating something healthy?)

In 1980, more than three billion bushels of oats were produced in the world. That's a lot of oats. Oats belong to the grass family. They have a fibrous root and stalk that can grow from two to five feet. At the top of the stalk, there's something called a panicle which contains about 10 to 75 little things called groats (oat kernels).

Interestingly enough, almost 50 percent of the worldwide oat crop is used not for grain but for straw and/or pasture. Now if life wasn't confusing enough, were you aware there are more than six different types of oats? There are common oats, common wild oats, cultivated red oats, large naked oats (hullless), side oats and wild red oats. Remember this at your next trivia convention. Like wheat, common oats (those most produced in North America) are broadly classified into spring and winter types.

The oat kernel itself has a very fibrous hull, which is inedible to humans. The goal in milling oats is to remove the outer hull and any extraneous matter that might affect the flavor in processing. First, when milling, the oat kernels are cleaned, then they are dried and roasted. This process develops flavor, improves quality and facilitates the separation of the hull from the groat.

After roasting, they are cooled before the hulling procedure begins. The hulling machine separates the groat kernel from the hull. The groats, flour and unhulled oats are separated by air aspiration and screening. The choicest and plumpest groats are then used to make packaged rolled oats while the less choice groats make bulk or feed oats. All broken kernels are used for livestock feed.

AFTER THE HULLING process, the groats are then cut which produces uniform granules. After the cut, the granules are then flaked between large steel rollers to produce simple dried oatmeal.

I guess the main reason folks like oatmeal is that it is palatable, can be quite filling and is generally low in calories (it's the brown sugar and honey that make it a killer calorie-laden breakfast) with only about 150 calories per cup. Oats are also loaded with

4 winners give soothing recipes

By Ethel Simmons

COMFORT FOODS — those foods that remind you of warm childhood memories and/or soothe you when you're down — inspired a lot of readers of the Taste pages.

Nearly 100 recipes were submitted to our contest for readers' favorite comfort foods, after an article by Larry Janes appeared in Taste, describing his own choices in comfort foods.

The panel of judges decided that because of the great variety of recipes offered, a winner would be chosen in each of four categories: soup, main course, vegetable and dessert. The four winners will be awarded $20 gift certificates to Kitchen Glamor.

You probably won't want to eat all these comfort foods at the same meal because, if you did, you might not feel too comfortable. But each recipe should tempt you when you, your family and friends need a little pampering. Comfort foods are especially good for these cold winter days when you might be suffering from the midwinter doldrums, otherwise known as the February blahs.

Entries came from the 12 readership areas of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. These were the recipes chosen for prizes: Italian Sausage Soup, from Rae Bruder of Redford; Mom's Meat Loaf, from Robin L. Womack of Farmington Hills; Scalloped Potatoes from Katherine M. Pokorny of Plymouth; and the Best Rice Pudding from Marian Bliznik of Farmington Hills.

ALTHOUGH THE readers' comments weren't taken into account in the judging, many of the writers seemed to take great pleasure in recalling early memories, or describing reasons they favor particular comfort foods.

One of the winners, Robin Womack, wrote, "After reading your article on comfort food, I thought of my mom's meat loaf. As a child it seemed as though we had it for dinner about every week. My sister Susan and I sort of made it a family joke.

"When I married many moons ago, I swore to my husband I would never make meat loaf. But, a couple of years ago, with two little girls of my own now, I figured what the heck, I'll make some meat loaf for dinner.

"I was so tired of making all the 'latest' trendy foods. It was a hit. And it tasted so good. It brought back a lot of memories... Thank you, Mom!"

Reached by phone, Womack said of the meat loaf, "I had it quite often as a youngster growing up — that and tuna casserole." She hastened to add, "My mom's a good cook. She didn't always make meat loaf."

Womack herself is "a full-time mom." She said she used to teach home economics and that the family moved to the Farmington Hills area from Chicago 2½ years ago.

HUSBAND RICK is a district sales manager for Tektronix in Farmington Hills. Their children are Caroline, 6½, who attends Gill School, and Kelly, 2½, whom she takes to Mom and Tot class at Alameda children's center.

More than one reader submitted a recipe for rice pudding, but the judges and a tasting panel decided that Marian Bliznik's the Best Rice Pudding was indeed the best.

Bliznik wrote that her recipe "is soothing and reminds me of times past. It takes a little bit of nurturing to make — feels good going down and afterwards. Satisfying and comforting!"

Bliznik teaches third grade elementary school in Milford. Husband Richard is a real estate broker who owns a Century 21 office in downtown Farmington.

Informed she was a winner, Bliznik said by phone, "I love to cook. I cook a lot. I have a wonderful collection of cookbooks. It's a real creative outlet for me."

She said she likes to entertain at theme parties and small dinner parties. Bliznik has taken a lot of cooking classes, at Kitchen Glamor, and at the Farmington Community Center where she studied Chinese cooking and ethnic cooking. "I had a paelia night with sangria," she said.

Bliznik got the rice pudding recipe from her mother "who got it on one of her travels. Bliznik passed the recipe on, and everyone that I've given the recipe to really likes it."

CHEF LARRY Janes, who made the recipe for the judges' sampling, said that he would cut the amount of water given in the recipe, because it was too soupy. However, Bliznik said hers never comes out soupy. "Maybe I cook it a little longer."

Katharine Pokorny wrote of her winning recipe for Scalloped Potatoes, "Talk about yummy — this one, in particular, will make even the gloomiest of days glisten. As you will note, I (and suggestions from a friend who spends equal time in the kitchen) took the basic scalloped potato ingredients, then added some of my favorite ones."

"I am certain your readers will get enjoyment from just a glance at the mouth-watering ingredients. Guaranteed to warm the soul."

She generously declared, "However, if my recipe isn't selected to be published in Taste, feel free to save for your own friends and family (tell them it's your own concoction)."

'It is a good hearty soup. People usually like soup when it's cold (outside).'

Pokorny, who is divorced, has a daughter Vanessa, 5, in kindergarten at Roosevelt Elementary School in Redford. She works full time as a secretary at Casco Products Corp., a sales office in Southfield.

"To me cooking is like therapy," she said on the phone. "It's real soothing and it's quiet. I'm real creative. I usually pull a recipe out and convert to something gourmet. I usually do desserts. Chocolate are my favorites. I also do cheesecakes and tortes."

"FOR MY BROTHER'S wedding in June, I did a dessert table. I took two days off work and just went to town in my kitchen. My dream is someday to open a bakery and make chocolate desserts."

Rae Bruder, who is a homemaker, let her recipe for Italian Sausage Soup speak for itself. Her husband, Albert, is retired from Fruehauf in downtown Detroit.

"My husband lost 63 pounds last spring," Bruder said. She explained he blamed his overweight on her

"He said, 'If you weren't such a good cook...'"

The couple enjoys camping trips, where they exchange recipes with friends. "Food is the bane of our existence," she said. "I like the goodie stuff. I've a sweet tooth."

Bruder said the sausage soup recipe was brought back by her mother, when she visited her sister in California. "Once I made it, that old recipe sure has traveled. I give my sister full credit. It is a good hearty soup. People usually like soup when it's cold (outside)."

Bruder and her husband belong to the Family Motor Coach Association, a motor home group that is international (the United States and Canada). The Michigan chapter put out a cookbook of quickie recipes for cooking on the road.

"I do things ahead of time that are simple," Bruder said. Recently, she baked ahead crescent rolls. She also mixed ahead, for cocktail time, a spread combining a cheese mixture and chopped raw vegetables. "It's called Veggie Wedgies. That was a success," she said.

Already, he dotes on oats thiamin and Vitamin E. And if that wasn't enough, the back of the old round box (that still makes a great rattle and drum for little kids) says that there are no additives, also it's high in fiber, low in sodium, has no cholesterol, is 100 percent natural with no sugar added and, last but not least, is considered a wholegrain.

Of course, all these benefits are questioned when you make a batch of Momma's homemade oatmeal cookies that contain sugar, eggs, salt and butter.

In all honesty, I love 'em. Sure, they're great as an occasional sweet treat when made into cookies, but when they're sneaked into meatloaf, most of you would never know the difference. These incredible Midwestern mornings and wind chills certainly deserve something as nurturing and nutritious as good old-fashioned oatmeal. Bon Appetit!

MOMMA'S OATMEAL COOKIES

- 1 1/4 cups butter/margarine
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- dash salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon fresh grated nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon cardamom
- 3 cups oatmeal (regular or quick)

Beat butter with both sugars until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Set aside. Sift together all the dry ingredients except the oats. Add to margarine mixture and mix well. Stir in oats. Drop by rounded tablespoonfuls on an ungreased cookie sheet and bake at 350 degrees for about 10 minutes. Store in a tightly covered container for a chewy cookie.

CORNY BANANA OAT MUFFINS

- 4 medium ripe bananas, mashed
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 1/2 cup honey

- 2 eggs
 - 1 cup oatmeal
 - 1 cup whole wheat flour
 - 1/2 cup cornmeal
 - 1/2 cup wheat germ
 - dash salt
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon fresh gried nutmeg
- Combine all ingredients and mix well. Pour into muffin cups and bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes.

YOU'D NEVER GUESS YOU WERE EATING TURKEY MEATLOAF

- 2 pounds ground turkey
- 1 cup tomato juice
- 1 cup oatmeal
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Press into a loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Allow to stand for 10 minutes or so before slicing.

Hearty muffins healthful

Here's a recipe from an article, "The Weekend House Party Survival Guide," in the February issue of Bon Appetit.

Using electric mixer, beat bran cereal mixture until thick. Beat in pear and jam.

POWER PEAR-OAT MUFFINS

Breakfast for the '80s: satisfying fruits and packed with whole grains, fruits and high-fiber yams. The muffins freeze beautifully. Serve with scrambled eggs. Have whole grain cereals, assorted fruit juice and fresh fruit on hand, too.

- Makes 12.
- 3/4 cup whole wheat flour
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons firmly packed dark brown sugar
- 1/4 cup finely chopped pitted dates
- 1/4 cup raisins
- 1/4 cup rolled oats
- 1/4 cup sunflower seeds (unsalted), toasted
- 3 tablespoons oat bran (available at natural foods stores. Rolled oats can be substituted.)

- 3 tablespoons toasted wheat germ
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ground all spice
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon shredded oil
- 1/2 cup bran cereal (such as All-Bran)
- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 large pear, peeled, cored and finely chopped
- 1 cup grated peeled yam or sweet potato (about 4 ounces) first 13 ingredients in medium bowl. Combine oil, bran, cereal, eggs and vanilla in large bowl. Let stand until bran absorbs liquid, about 3 minutes. Using electric mixer, beat bran cereal mixture until thick. Beat in pear and yam. Fold in dry ingredients; do not overmix (batter will be thick and lumpy).

Divide batter among prepared muffin cups. Bake until tester inserted in centers comes out clean, about 25 minutes. Serve warm. (Can be prepared ahead. Cool completely on rack. Wrap tightly and refrigerate 3 days, or freezeup to 1 month. Rewarm in 350 degree oven.)

Recipes for relaxing relationship Polenta offered with vegetables

Recently, I received the following letter in the mail:
 Dear Gundella,
 You keep giving out recipes to seduce men, and put them into a romantic or sexy mood. I don't need any aphrodisiacs. I don't have any trouble getting all the lovemaking I want.
 What I need is something to make him spend time with me doing other things, like just watching TV together, or playing Scrabble, or working a jigsaw puzzle.
 I want a little friendship, and a relaxed relationship when we aren't making love.
 How about some recipes to make him comfortable, and content just to hang around when there's nothing exciting going on? Do you have any of these?

kitchen witch
Gundella

Well, dear reader, it just so happens that I do.
 Don't ask me why, but desserts made with breakfast cereals will do the trick.
 Here are several recipes for cookies, cakes and pies using both hot and cold cereals.
 The Cream of Wheat cake, the oatmeal cake and the apple crisp pie are my favorites. They really work.
 Caution to mothers: These are great to feed your children and teenagers, and to keep them happy at home. But don't serve them any after they are 18 years of age, or they will never leave and get out on their own.

BREAKFAST COOKIES
 (This recipe makes approximately 100 cookies)
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup solid shortening
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cup nut meats
 1 cup Rice Krispies, corn flakes or other crisp cereal
 1 cup chopped dates or raisins (optional)
 1 cup brown sugar
 1 cup vegetable oil
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 1 teaspoon cream of tartar
 3/4 cup flour
 1 cup coconut (flaked or shredded)
 1 cup quick oatmeal (uncooked)

Frosting
 (I think this cake is great without frosting, but if you want to frost it, use this recipe.)
 1 cup brown sugar
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 1/2 to 2 cups powdered sugar
 1/4 cup milk
 2 tablespoons solid shortening

Boil milk and brown sugar together until syrupy. Cool thoroughly, and add vanilla and shortening. Stir in powdered sugar until spreading consistency. Spread on cake after it has cooled.

FLAKE-NUT COOKIES
 1/4 cup shortening
 1 egg
 3/4 cup flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 cups Wheaties, corn flakes or other flaked cereal
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 2 teaspoon vanilla
 3/4 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 cup coarsely chopped nut meats

Mix ingredients together in order, and drop by spoonfuls on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for approximately 10 minutes.

Blend sugar, shortening, oil and egg. Beat well. Add remaining ingredients. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 10-15 minutes.

CREAM OF WHEAT CAKE
 (This cake contains no shortening and no flour)
 1 cup Cream of Wheat
 1/2 cup sugar
 2 teaspoon vanilla
 4 cups milk
 4 eggs
 bread crumbs

Cook Cream of Wheat and milk together until well thickened (approximately 20 minutes). Add sugar. Beat eggs, and add them to the Cream of Wheat mixture, blending well. Add vanilla.

Grease a cake pan (9-by-13), and line it with fresh, soft bread crumbs. I use about two slices of white bread, and crumb them in the blender.
 Bake at 350 degrees until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool and cut into squares. This cake may be eaten as is, or served with a hot or cold applesauce or lemon topping.

APPLE CRISP PIE
 1 unbaked bottom pie crust
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon ground cardamom (optional) sliced apples (enough to fill the pie shell)
 1/2 cup white sugar
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 2 tablespoon flour

Toss apples with lemon juice, sugar, flour and spices until all slices are lightly coated. Place in unbaked pie shell, and cover with topping mixture.

TOPPING FOR APPLE PIE CRISP
 1/2 cup quick oats
 1/2 cup flour
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1/4 cup brown sugar
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 cup butter, margarine or butter-flavored shortening

Combine dry ingredients, cut in butter, margarine or shortening, and add vanilla. Sprinkle this mixture over the apples, and bake the pie in a 350-degree oven 45 minutes, or until done. Serve hot or cold, with ice cream or milk.

If you have any questions about these, or any other recipes, call Gundella direct at 427-1072 or write her at Box 434, Garden City 48135.

CREAMY POLENTA WITH GRILLED VEGETABLES
 4 cups chicken broth
 3/4 teaspoon salt
 1 cup yellow cornmeal
 3 tablespoons unsalted butter, cut into pieces
 1/2 cup freshly grated Parmesan
 12 baby carrots, blanched for 2 minutes, drained, and patted dry
 12 baby eggplants, halved lengthwise
 18 scallions, trimmed olive oil for brushing the vegetables and the grill pan

In a large heavy saucepan bring the broth and 2 cups water to a boil, add the salt and the cornmeal in a slow stream, whisking constantly, and cook the mixture over moderately low heat, whisking constantly, for 15 minutes. Stir in the butter, the Parmesan and salt and pepper to taste and, if necessary, whisk in enough water to thin the polenta so that it will just fall from a spoon in a continuous stream.

 Keep the polenta warm, its surface covered with a round of wax paper. Brush the carrots, the eggplants, and the scallions with the oil and season the vegetables with salt and pepper. Heat a well-seasoned large, ridged grill pan or cast-iron skillet over moderately high heat, brush it with the oil, and in it grill the vegetables, covered, in batches for 5 to 7 minutes, or until they are crisp-tender, transferring them as they are grilled to a plate. Divide the polenta among 6 plates and arrange the vegetables on top of it. Serves 6.

CLEAN WATER
 The Duvrier Clean Water Maker from Nikkal Industries is designed to improve the taste, quality and appearance of tap water, as an alternative to bottled water or in-line home filtration systems. Tap water may be poured directly into the pitcher. Water passes through the cleaning filter and flows into the pitcher below. Fluorides, needed to protect tooth enamel, and minerals that give water a fresh, vitamin-rich taste are not filtered out.

 The water maker stores in most refrigerators but can be used for table-top display. Filter replacement is made by removing the used filter and inserting a new one. Each filter has a life of up to 25 gallons (average family usage requires monthly replacement). The new product, available at all K Mart stores, retails for $24.95, and additional filter cartridges are $9.95 each.

Bus ridership up in suburbs

More people are riding commuter buses since SEMTA became SMART. Average weekday bus ridership increased 4.4 percent and weekend ridership a combined 14 percent over the same period one year ago, according to figures recently released by the Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation.

SMART, serving Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties, replaced the former Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority last month. The highest gains were reported in Oakland County, with Wayne County second. Routes to Northland and Oakland Mall set monthly records for the number of passengers served.

"Weekend service climbed partially because of favorable weather, which made our service to shopping malls very popular," SMART General Manager Albert Martin said. "Also, in the past year, we have continued to shift our service to better meet rider's needs, particularly in the suburbs where employment has increased."

Music club plays benefit concert

The Schoolcraft College Music Club will present "An Evening of Light Classics" 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 24, in Livonia City Hall. The concert is the music club's second annual fund-raiser. Featured performers are scheduled to include marimba player Laurence Kaptain, coronet player Jean Moorhead and pianist Michele Cooker.

Kaptain has appeared in concert with orchestras and symphonic organizations throughout the world. He is a member of the music faculty at Stephen F. Austin State University, Nacogdoches, Texas. Moorehead, a faculty member at the Oberlin (Ohio) Conservatory of Music, has been principal trumpet with the Singapore Symphony Orchestra.

Cooker has performed at chamber music concerts through the country. She is a faculty member at the Institute of Music and Dance, Detroit. General admission is $8. Admission is $4 for seniors and children. The Livonia City Hall auditorium is at 33000 Civic Center Drive, northeast of the Five Mile/Farmington intersection. Additional information is available by calling 462-4400, Ext. 5045.

Canton woman joins SC nursing staff

Deborah Vendittelli, a Canton Township resident, has joined the nursing staff at Schoolcraft College, Livonia. Vendittelli holds a master's degree in critical care nursing and administration from the University of Texas and a bachelor's degree in nursing from Lake Superior State College.

She has been an instructor of nursing and emergency medical technicians at Madonna College and Lake Superior State. Vendittelli has also been nurse manager of the Sinai Hospital emergency room, head nurse of the emergency center, endoscopy and intravenous therapy departments of Memorial Northwest Hospital, Houston, nursing outreach program director, M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, Houston and charge nurse of the general surgical unit St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

S'craft foundation awards grants.

Schoolcraft College's biology, electronic and robotic, purchasing and plant departments and Radcliff and Women's Resource centers will all benefit from recently announced Schoolcraft College Foundation grants. Foundation trustees recently awarded nearly $35,000 in grants to college programs.

The biology department will receive a microvideo system to allow microscopic images to be displayed before large groups of students. The Radcliff center community room is scheduled to receive a lectern with built-in amplifiers. Electronic laboratory equipment will be given to the college's electronic and robotic department.

Tuition grants will be awarded to Women's Resource Center volunteers. The career planning and placement center will receive a portable VCR unit. The purchasing and physical plant departments will receive information boards to provide information to students and the general public.

Workshop focuses on aging parents

Coping with aging parents is the focus of a workshop program sponsored by Adult Well-Being Services, Detroit. Six two-hour workshop sessions will be held 10 a.m. to noon Mondays, beginning March 6, in Crowell Recreation Center, 16630 Lahser,

Detroit. Workshops are designed to help adults cope with guilt, anger and resentment prompted by their parents' growing physical and emotional needs. The sessions offer a supportive, non-judgmental environment to discuss feelings and aging-related topics. A follow-up support group is also available. There is no participation fee, though agency workers said voluntary contributions would be appreciated. AWB Services is a Torch Drive agency.

Applicants sought for S'craft scholarship

Applications are being accepted for the Maureen O'Callaghan Scholarship, a $500 grant awarded through the Schoolcraft College Foundation. The scholarship is awarded each year to a Schoolcraft student who transfers to a four-year college or university. O'Callaghan, a Northville resident, is a community college graduate. She credits the community college experience with helping her prepare for future education and employment.

The application deadline is Saturday, April 1. Applications are available in the college financial aid office, counseling office, women's resource center and institutional advancement office. Additional information is available call 462-4417.

CC sets date with Southwestern

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Bernie Holowicki wants to savor the moment as long as he can. The Redford Catholic Central coach won his sixth Catholic League basketball title Sunday, as his Shamrocks downed Bishop Borgess of the A-B Division title Sunday at the University of Detroit's Callhan Hall, 65-56.

All five CC starters scored in double figures, led by senior center Ray Richards' 16 points.

But, now awaiting Holowicki and his 12-7 team is Detroit Public School League champion Detroit

Southwestern (17-1). The two teams will meet in Friday's Operation-Friendship final at 7 p.m. Borgess (11-8) will meet PSL runnerup Detroit Cooley (17-1) in first game of the doubleheader at 5 p.m. (Both games are at Callhan.)

"I'm trying not to think about it (the next game), I want to think about this one," said the CC coach. "But Southwestern is a really good defensive team. They go to the boards with six people. It's every man for himself. They (the PSL) are in another world. They're athletic and talented."

CC SHOWED some athleticism of its own, particularly in the third quarter when they outscored the Spartans 20-8 to take a commanding 48-31 lead.

Borgess then made a fourth-quarter run, cutting the deficit to six, 51-45, on a three-pointer by Shawn

Respert. (The junior guard led all scorers with 23 points.)

But the Shamrocks repelled the charge with six unanswered points to gain their first A-B crown since 1983.

"We stressed all week that we wanted to weather their challenge, because we knew at some point in the game they would do that," said Holowicki, who has never lost a Catholic League final. "Our four seniors played 'senior ball.' They played smart."

Senior point-guard Terry Boykin, who has come on of late, added 12 points, as did captain Scott Haunch-er and Jeff Schaner. Sophomore forward Steve Whitlow contributed 11.

THE SPARTANS trailed by only five at the half, 28-23, but something was missing.

Forward Randy White, a 6-4 senior and the team's best defender, sat out the game with a possible fractured foot suffered a week earlier in a game against UD-Jesuit. (Rashawn Sumler, a 6-5 sophomore, started in his place, scoring six points.)

"I don't want to blame it on that (White's absence)," said Borgess coach Mike Resmer. "For the first three quarters I didn't think we had any organization on the floor. We were playing with five guards a lot of the time and they just didn't mesh right."

"They (CC) looked big and intimidating inside. We made a good effort to get the ball into Rashawn and Carl (Woods), but we just couldn't do it."

Artie Brown, who got hot down the stretch, added 12 points for the Spartans. Charles North chipped in with 10, but was not quite himself with his long-range shooting.

"We're just happy to get here," Fusco said.

And as for Cooley?
"That's going to be a tough one," said the Borgess coach. "They were No. 1 in the state (Class A) for how long?"

Mistake by Hedwig gives Aggies crown

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

The game Redford St. Agatha had pointed toward all season was decided before the Aggies even set foot in Callhan Hall Sunday.

History will indicate that St. Agatha won its first-ever Catholic League C-D Division championship by a lopsided 60-23 margin over Detroit St. Hedwig. What won't be recorded was that the Knights had to play the game with a mostly junior varsity lineup of only five players.

The Aggies, who split two games with St. Hedwig during the regular season, were assured of victory when the Knights played a meaningless, non-league game against Detroit Caldwell Friday. They beat Caldwell, but in so doing violated a Michigan High School Athletic Association rule that limits schools to playing two games from Monday to Monday.

ST. HEDWIG coach Donald Didlake misinterpreted the rule, thinking it was from Sunday to Saturday. Sunday's championship game, combined with their win over Hamtramck St. Florian last Monday in the C-D semifinals and Friday's game against Caldwell, put the Knights over the limit.

"I felt terrible," said Didlake, who is also Hedwig's athletic director. Throughout the game he was under fire from St. Hedwig fans seated behind his bench. "All season they cheer you, and then they do that."

basketball

The mistake certainly hurt the St. Hedwig players more than St. Agatha's. But there was no recourse; according to the MHSAA's Fred Sible, there would have been "long-term ramifications" if a waiver had been granted.

'I'm glad we won but not real happy about the whole thing. These kids deserve better.'

—Jim Murphy
Aggies coach

As for delaying the game for a day, that option was ruled out.

"We had a hard time keeping our kids up for Sunday, going a whole week without a game," said Aggies coach Jim Murphy. "They were bored to death in practice. Asking them to wait another day wouldn't have been fair to them. We followed the rules. Why should we be punished for their mistake?"

"I feel sorry for their coach. He must be feeling some pain. I really feel for them."

He wasn't the only one who felt terrible. "That's a helluva way to win," said Murphy, whose team improved to 16-2. "I don't think (my players) are real happy. We won, but not the way we wanted to win. We were really looking forward to playing them."

"I don't even feel happy. I'm glad we won but not real happy about the whole thing. These kids deserve better."

TO LOOK at the Aggies after the game, it would be hard to tell they were the winners. "We practiced all week to play their varsity," said senior guard Matt Haran, who played almost two quarters, the most of any starter. "It's a shame it had to come to that, but rules are rules."

The Knights JV (only John Appling was on the varsity roster) was, not surprisingly, overmatched, even though Murphy substituted freely and used everybody on his bench. No one played more than two quarters and the Aggies did not press on defense. They made one-of-nine first-quarter shots and two-of-11 in the second. St. Agatha had a 13-2 lead after one and was up 30-10 at the half.

For the game, St. Hedwig made nine-of-44 shots (21 percent). St. Agatha was 25-of-60 (41.7 percent).

Ed Haran and Matt Haran led the Aggies with 12 points apiece. Keith Straughter's nine points topped St. Hedwig, which slipped to 15-5.

Murphy summed up the travesty by saying, "We'll never know who the real champion is."

Gateway to state

Erik Meyer of Redford Catholic Central finished eighth in the slalom event at the boys ski regional last week at Mount Brighton. Meyer has qualified for the state meet Monday, Feb. 27, at Nubs Knob near Harper Springs along with teammate Jeff Turnas, who finished seventh in the giant slalom. CC finished third in the regional team standings behind first place Brighton and Milford Lakeland.

Lady Ocelots gain slice of league pie

The Schoolcraft College women's basketball team clinched first place in the Eastern Conference Wednesday, beating Flint Mott, 65-58 at home.

The Lady Ocelots (11-3 in the league, 22-3 overall) overcame a 23 percent first-half shooting and a 34-27 halftime deficit. Schoolcraft has been champion or co-champion of the Eastern Conference of the Michigan Community College Athletic Association five of the last six years.

"Because we had seven freshman, I'm very pleased the way it worked out," SC coach Jack Grenan said. "This team has worked hard for six months."

Schoolcraft, which got a game-high 20 points from Barb Krug, shot 63 percent from the field in the second half. Four others scored in double figures for Schoolcraft, led by Lisa DePlanche's 15 points.

Michelle Dykinski had 14 points, nine rebounds and four assists, while Darlene Bazner scored 10 points and dished out five assists.

Krug, Dykinski and DePlanche combined for 32 of Schoolcraft's 38 second-half points.

Shannon Loesal led Mott with 16 points.

Madonna outshoots St. Mary's

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

It was about time. At least that's what Glen Donahue argued.

All about time. Madonna College's mens basketball team, which hosted Donahue's St. Mary's College team Thursday, had all sorts of clock problems, and that took the luster off a very big 101-94 win for the Fighting Crusaders.

"We lost the game ourselves, but we'd like to play a full 40-minute game," said Donahue, whose team dipped to 14-16. Madonna is 13-14 and was still alive in the race for an NAIA District 23 playoff berth.

Three times the clock malfunctioned during the game, and each incident sent Donahue rampaging. The first mishap occurred at the end of the first half, when the shot clock sounded when it shouldn't even have been on.

Then the clock operator apparently started the clock too soon with St. Mary's down 95-92 and 45 left. The game clock started before anyone in-

Madonna had touched the ball, wasting approximately a half-dozen seconds. The same thing happened again with :01 left.

CONFUSION REIGNED throughout the final 2:00, so much so that Madonna's Brian Daniel took just one of two free throws allotted him with :01 left. Too bad, because Daniel — and perhaps the timer — had been the difference in the game.

The 6-foot-2 senior forward was unstoppable in the pivot. He came off the bench to score 31 points and — more importantly — helped put three Eagles (Mike Moroney, James Lakes and Kevin Nicefield) on the bench after fouling out trying to guard him. A fourth, Jerome Washburn, finished with four fouls.

"We're not playing well right now," conceded

Donahue, whose team (now 14-16) has lost six of its last seven games, all on the road. "Madonna played well because our defense let them play well. We did not play well on Daniel in the post."

St. Mary's, which trailed 48-40 at the half, rallied in the second half behind James Curtis. The 6-1 senior scored 12 points in a 26-8 run that took the Eagles from a 53-46 deficit with 17:14 left to a 72-61 lead seven minutes later. He finished with 24, 20 in the second half.

But it took the Crusaders just three minutes to even the score at 78, with Daniel netting 12 points in a 17-8 run. The game was close the rest of the way, until Madonna's 12-5 scoring spurt in the final 2:00.

"We wanted to beat them fair and square, not because the clock screwed up," said Madonna coach Bob Whitlow. "This kind of clouds the win."

Terrence Bell had 22 points, and Anthony Strickland and Shaun Hayward netted 21 each for Madonna, now 13-14 overall. Lakes led St. Mary's with 26. Washburn added 12.

Franklin pulls surprise in playoffs

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Livonia Stevenson had city rival Franklin's number until Thursday night when the Patriots pulled off a mild upset in the first round of the Western Lakes Activities Association basketball playoffs, winning 73-67 in overtime.

The Spartans were at home again after beating the Patriots only two days earlier in their own gym, 59-58.

But senior guard Roy Hall (29 points) keyed the Franklin victory with some clutch baskets down the stretch, including the final six at the end of regulation and six of eight in the overtime.

"Roy is one of our key players and one of our most experienced," said Franklin coach Rod Hanna, whose team will take an 11-7 record at home Tuesday against Lakes Division champ Plymouth Salem. "Good players shine in pressure time. Most every team has a guy like an (Jeff) Elliott from Salem."

Hall's three-pointer with only 1:20 left tied the game at 65-all.

The Patriots then forced a Stevenson turnover with 1:02 left and played for the last shot, but failed to convert.

THE PATRIOTS got rolling in OT when Hall stole the ball and fed Craig Overalls (14 points), who was fouled going to the basket.

The junior guard converted a pair of free throws and Hall scored the next six, including four straight from the free throw line. Meanwhile, Stevenson managed only one basket in overtime by 6-8 junior Glenn Seeman.

Franklin's John Shea, a 6-2, 148-pound swingman, also contributed heavily to the win, scoring 11 points to go along with 10 rebounds and seven assists.

Forward Mark Donehue added eight points and 12 rebounds.

But it was free throw shooting that proved to be a decisive factor.

The Patriots made 23 of 30, while the Spartans were only 11 of 16.

"We had to get to the free throw line because on Tuesday we made only four of seven, but tonight we were able to penetrate and get the ball in," Hanna said. "And the other thing is that we stopped their transition game. Stevenson is well-trained to get out on the break and score some easy baskets. They're talented and they have some good athletes."

NOTHING CAME EASY for the Spartans on this night.

They trailed 35-25 at the half before rallying in the third quarter, outscoring the Patriots 24-15 as senior forward Chris Naselli got untracked, tallying 13 of his team-high 19 points.

The Spartans then took the lead with exactly five minutes to play, 57-55, on a basket by Scott Kosikowski (15 points), but they couldn't stand prosperity, even with a three-point lead with 1:48 remaining after a hoop by Eric Schwedt (13 points).

Stevenson coach Jim McIntyre knew going it that it would be tough to beat the Patriots for a third time. "It took us until halftime to get our kids to relax," said the Stevenson coach, whose team is 12-6 overall. "In the third quarter we came out relaxed and cut into that 10-point lead."

"I think the kids wanted to win as much as Tuesday, but you weigh this differently because it's do-or-die when you should just think of it as another ballgame."

McINTYRE CITED a couple of causes which led to his team's undoing.

"They (Franklin) went right through our first press," said the Stevenson coach. "We didn't press on Tuesday because we wanted to give them a different look. We had been successful with it (the press) against Salem and Farmington (both wins)."

"Our guard didn't rotate back on the defensive transition. And our guards were not taking the shots they normally take."

The playoffs, meanwhile, may have sparked the Patriots to a higher level of play. They have to be considered a Cinderella team.

"This is something to shoot for," Hanna said. "We've worked hard to be where we are."

CC rules regional mats

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Redford Catholic Central left no doubt it has the best wrestling team in Observerland.

The Shamrocks defeated the other possible contenders for that honor Wednesday while winning the regional team tournament at CC.

The host squad dominated Plymouth Salem, ranked No. 2 among area teams, 46-17 in the first round and whipped No. 3 Westland John Glenn 50-24 in the championship match.

"They've got five state qualifiers, we've got two," Glenn coach Tom Buckalew said. "The kids wrestled well; we just got beat by a better team."

CC, the defending Class A champion, will wrestle East Detroit at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the quarterfinal match at Harper Woods Notre Dame.

LAKE ORION IS the only major power the Shamrocks, 18-4 in dual meets, haven't wrestled, and CC could meet up with the Dragons in the semifinals at 8:30 p.m. Friday at Kellogg Arena in Battle Creek.

"We're going to run into some opposition over at Notre Dame," CC coach Mike Rodriguez said. "Nobody is going to come out and lie down for us."

But in wrestling where upsets are rare, the Shamrocks rate as the favorite in their half of the bracket, and the top contenders on the other side are Lansing Sexton and Temperance Bedford, a traditional rival that beat CC in a December dual.

"That kinda woke us up," said

Chris Rodriguez, the team's 152-pounder. "We were thinking about last year when we were unstoppable. That was an eye opener. It won't happen again."

"We seemed too fired up before the match even started. We have to keep our heads on. If we wrestle like we did tonight, I don't think they'll touch us."

Should the Shamrocks get to Saturday's final at 5:30 p.m. in Kellogg Arena, they will undoubtedly need the kind of results they achieved Wednesday when CC wrestlers recorded 11 pins. A string of falls in each match enabled the Shamrocks to distance themselves from the competition.

LEE KRUEGER AT heavyweight, Maunda Martin (125), Jay Helm (140) and Rodriguez had two pins apiece. Matt Helm (130) and Jose Tandoc (135) pinned Salem opponents, and Brian Tulley (145) had a pin in the Glenn match.

"That's how you win championships," coach Rodriguez said. "You can't have guys going out there and winning matches by one or two points."

"That's what won the (Shamrock) invitational for us. That's also how we know we can win the state, because everybody will be up there (at Battle Creek) was here at our invitational."

It was thought Salem, under the right circumstances, could give CC a contest, and the Rocks made a spirited effort despite the eventual lopsided outcome.

Salem was designated as the home team and, therefore, had to commit itself by putting its wrestler on the mat first at each weight class.

"It was a factor because we wanted to go around some of those kids," Salem coach Ron Krueger said. "And we thought we could beat some others but didn't get to do it."

"THE VISITING team is able to jockey and is going to have the advantage — not that they needed any advantage. It's definitely a disadvantage being the home team."

Craig Richardson's pin at 112 kept the Rocks within 13-6, but CC won the next six bouts, including five pins, to build a 46-6 lead.

Salem won the last three with Pete Israel (160), Steve Burlison (171) and Brian Burlison (189) wrestling up a weight. In the best contest of the match, the latter won a 4-3 decision from CC's Lou Yeager, scoring a pair of escape points and a two-point takedown late in the third period for a 4-1 lead.

"He did a real nice job," Krueger said. "Yeager is a good, strong athlete and so is Brian. There weren't many bright spots for us, but that was one."

It was Martin's pin at 125 that got the Shamrocks fired up, according to Rodriguez. The sophomore, who had been out with an injured shoulder, was taking the injured Mike Gentile's place in the lineup.

Martin "came off his back" to reverse a desperate situation and pin his Salem opponent. That was the first of four straight for CC.

"IT JUST ELECTRIFIED us," Rodriguez said. "It's like your No. 1 quarterback gets hurt, and your second-stringer is throwing TD passes."

Despite the score, the Western Lakes Activities Association champions contested the CC juggernaut every step of the way as expected, Rodriguez said.

"I knew they were going to give us a run for our money, because we're in the same backyard," he said. "They weren't going to give us anything for free."

"(Krueger) has a good squad. He's got spots in his lineup where he's young, and he's going to have an awesome team next year."

Glenn's Derek Tharp (189) pinned two opponents, and teammates Rob Matigan (135) and Garnett Woody (171) also had two wins, including pins against CC.

Matigan's fall trimmed CC's lead to 26-12, but the Shamrocks picked up three straight pins from Jay Helm, Tulley and Rodriguez to make it 44-12.

Buckalew said he was pleased with 112-pound DeJohn Connors, who had the first of four Rocket wins in the final. In the most exciting match which went back and forth with both wrestlers close to planning the other several times, Connors scored a fall over Mike Sherman with only three seconds left in the match.

Churchill meets Stevenson for ice title

Livonia Churchill tuned up for this week's Suburban Prep Hockey League showdown with city rival Stevenson by blasting winless Southfield on Thursday, 22-1.

The Chargers, now 11-1 in SPHL play, will meet the Spartans (11-1) for the SPHL title at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Livonia's Edgar Arena.

Joe Ahmet and Russ MacDonald each had the hat trick and one assist in the rout. The visiting Chargers led 7-0 after one period and 17-0 after two.

Mike Kneiding and Mike Ivaslie each added two goals and four assists. Troy Henderson and Jack King also scored twice.

Goalie Jason Devlin's shutout was ruined by Southfield's Tom Silwa at 5:53 of the third period.

STEVENSON 6, WYANDOTTE 1: Livonia Stevenson raised its overall record to 12-7-1 with an SPHL victory Wednesday over the Bears (8-5 in the league) in a game played at Edgar Arena.

The Spartans won without three regulars, two of whom were ill. Another was serving a two-game suspension.

"Our forwards did an extra good job of coming back on defense," said Stevenson coach Matt Mulcahy. "We could have folded the tent and we knew we were going to be short, but all 15 of them did extra sprints and some of the drills all at the same time (in practice), and it seemed to bring them together."

The Spartans led 2-0 after one period and 5-1 after two.

Josh Clark collected three assists, while Kevin Kubitsky added two.

"This was as good a win as we've had under the circumstances," said Mulcahy, who shifted forward Brian O'Meara to defense along with captain Paul Tustian, Brian Eglington and Nick Sata.

FRANKLIN 6, MILFORD 2: In the nightcap of a double-header Wednesday at Edgar, Livonia Franklin, ranked among the state's top 10 teams in Class A, ran its overall record to 16-2-2 with a non-league win over the visiting Redskins.

Charlie Olschanski paced the victorious Patriots with two goals and one assist, while Bob Hayes (game-winner), Rob Ingersoll, Matt Sharkey (short-handed) and Brian Slover contributed one goal apiece.

Scott Lorenz collected three assists, while Ingersoll and Sharkey added two each.

Goalie Dan Murray, who gave up both Redskin goals playing in the first and third periods, combined with Greg Donnan, who came on in the second period, combined for 17 saves.

REDFORD CC 12, LAKELAND 1: The Shamrocks (12-7-1) struck for 10 unanswered goals in the second and third periods Wednesday to clip the Milford Lakeland Eagles in a non-leaguer at the Redford Ice Arena.

Scott Lock paced Catholic Central with three goals and three assists, while teammate Mark Zwarych contributed three goals and one assist.

Others joining the CC scoring parade included Paul Pirronello, two goals and three assists; Kris Slocum, one goal and two assists; Gary Fennelly, one goal (short-handed) and two assists; Jason Archibald, one goal (first of year); and Scott Kelly.

RU overcomes Cougars' standout

Garden City's Mark Dowd won two events, including a school-record performance in the 100-yard butterfly, but it wasn't enough Thursday as host Redford Union sank the Cougars in a Northwest Suburban League dual meet, 97-76.

It was Dowd's fifth school-record breaking performance this season. He also holds records in the 50, 100, 200 and 500 freestyles, as well as the 400 freestyle relay along with Pete Duncan, Willy Austin and Jerry Denning.

Dowd eclipsed his own mark in the butterfly (set last year) with a time of 1:02.0. He also captured the 50 freestyle in 24.7.

Other GC individual winners included Kurt Hardie, diving, 167.05 points; Duncan, 100 freestyle, 56.5; and Darrin Miller, 100 breaststroke, 1:10.5.

RU, meanwhile, was led by senior Keith Turnbull, who captured the 200 freestyle (1:59.4) and 100 backstroke (1:05.0). He also teamed up with Herb Gaylord, Bill Henriksen and Chris Roeseler to win the 400 freestyle relay in 3:46.3. The Panthers also took the 200 medley relay, as Dave Keys, Rick Hammond, Ken Podina and Henriksen finished first in 1:56.4.

Brad Nester added a win in the 200 individual medley (2:25.1), as RU increased its overall record to 7-4 and 1-2 in the NSL.

Garden City is 4-8 overall and 1-3 in the league.

REDFORD CATHOLIC CENTRAL grabbed 10 of 11 events Friday to swamp Dearborn St. Alphonsus, 47-16, in a meet at Farmington Hill Mercy High School. Troy Shumate figured in three first-place finishes for the Shamrocks, now 8-3 overall.

swimming

He captured the 100 butterfly (54.45) and 500 freestyle (5:01.31), while teaming up with Mike Hoeflein, Andy Jacobs and Jim Kovach to win the 200 medley relay in 1:45.88.

Mike Patrick added wins in the 200 IM (2:21.69) and diving (153.95 points), while Sean Senecal took the 50 freestyle (25.1) and 100 backstroke (1:06.56).

Other CC individual winners included Joe Wing in the 200 freestyle (2:07.27) and John Brogan in the 100 freestyle (55.92).

LIVONIA CHURCHILL was no match Thursday for Plymouth Salem, falling to the host Rocks, 112-60.

Respert's 26 sinks Ravens

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Redford Bishop Borgess scored the last nine points of the third quarter Thursday and the Spartans went on to defeat Detroit Benedictine, 55-43, in a Catholic League A-B Division semifinal playoff game at the University of Detroit's Calihan Hall.

Borgess trailed 29-28 midway through the third quarter, but the 9-0 run gave the Spartans a 37-29 lead entering the fourth quarter.

Artie Brown's 18-foot jump shot as time expired in the third quarter capped the rally. Shawn Respert led Borgess with 26 points and Brown added 14. Rashawn Sumler, Borgess' sophomore center, contributed nine points.

Omar Ahart had 11 for Benedictine (14-4).

Respert was the primary reason the Spartans trailed only by two, 25-23, at halftime, scoring 15 first-half points.

BROWN, WHO has become more of a scoring threat late in the season, scored 10 of his 14 points in the second half. The junior guard also made an important steal with less than five minutes left in the fourth quarter when Benedictine had cut the Borgess lead to six, 39-33.

Brown stole the ball and passed it to Respert for an easy basket and the Spartans scored the next four points to build the lead to 12, 45-33.

"This was one of Artie's better games," Borgess' coach Mike Fusco said. "He's a really neat kid with kind of a hyper personality and he displays that personality when he plays."

A fight involving a group of fans in the northwest corner of the arena broke out near the end of the game, but Lt. William Porter of the U-D's Department of Public Safety would not comment Friday on the incident.

A spokesman from the 12th Precinct in Detroit said Friday that no arrests were made at that precinct in regards to the alleged fight at Calihan Hall.

Boykin on fire in semifinal win

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Terry Boykin was gathering his belongings Thursday inside the Redford Catholic Central locker room when a visitor passed along some impressive statistics.

Boykin, who finished with 18 points, made his first six shots from the field for CC, leading the Shamrocks to a 66-55 win over Orchard Lake St. Mary in a Catholic League A-B Division semifinal basketball playoff game.

"Did I really (make my first six shots)?" asked Boykin, before admitting he'd feel better Thursday than on most game days. "I felt loose in warmups and ready to play. I'm a senior and this is my last time around, so I wanted to set the tone and be a leader out there."

Boykin's play made a lasting impression on the Eaglets, who fell to 15-2 overall. It wasn't a memorable night otherwise for St. Mary, which trailed 8-0 before the game was two minutes old and 21-10 after one quarter.

THE SHAMROCKS doubled the Eaglets' scoring output by halftime, 40-20, and led by as many as 26, 50-24, midway through the third quarter.

St. Mary's junior guard Joe Jefferson made the score respectable, scoring 14 of his game-high 22 points in the second half on a variety of shots. Jefferson made only nine of 24 shots, however, and as a team, St. Mary's shot 31 percent (20 of 65) from the field and got outrebounded 34-24.

Ray Richards, a 6-foot-5 center who doesn't always stand out in the scorebook, scored a team-high 19 points and hauled down 10 rebounds for CC. Guard Jeff Schaner duplicated Boykin's 18-point effort for the Shamrocks, who shot 51 percent (26-51) from the field.

"Terry Boykin was excellent at running the show tonight," St. Mary's coach George Porritt said. "CC came out and established themselves, we couldn't get our up-tempo game going until the end and by then it was too late."

"I don't know how many times we've been down in the first half and have had good third and fourth quarters. Joe Jefferson did a super job bringing us back. It was an 11-point difference, but it could have been 25."

Rockets launch bid with 79-77 OT win

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Five minutes before tip-off, Plymouth Canton basketball coach Tom Niemi said what concerned him most was which Westland John Glenn team he was about to face.

Just two minutes into the game, he had his answer.

Not that his Chiefs folded their tepees and went home without a fight. Not even after the Rockets hit their first five shots to take a 12-2 lead with 5:57 still left in the opening quarter. Canton kept scrambling back, finally tying it on Gordie Risbridger's three-pointer with :34 left in the fourth quarter.

But the Rockets survived each and every uprising. They scored the first six points of overtime to advance to the Western Lakes Activities Association playoff semifinals with a 79-77 overtime win at Glenn.

Casey Killingbeck's basket, followed by Eric Spencer's two free throws and Chris Poplin's bucket, put the Rockets up 79-73 with 1:21 left in the extra session. The Chiefs got two free throws from Troy Waldron and a basket from Brian Paupore in the final :19, but that was all they could manage in the extra session.

"WE'VE BEEN up and down," admitted Glenn coach Bob Killingbeck. "But we've been more consistent the last few games. We never trailed in the second half (against Canton)."

Canton quickly overcame the Rockets fast 12-2 start. Paupore drilled a three-pointer just :14 after a triple by Glenn's Bobby Lawrence's to start the Chiefs on their way to scoring 14-straight points for a 16-12 lead. By the end of the quarter Canton led 22-18.

When Paupore — who played the first half wearing a facemask to protect the broken nose he suffered against Farmington Harrison Feb. 3 — drained a triple with 5:01 left in the second quarter, Canton had its biggest lead of the game, 29-20.

It didn't last long. Glenn scored the next 10 points (four each by Greg Anderson and Spencer) for a 30-29 lead. Anderson finished with eight points in the quarter.

Glenn made nine-of-17 shots while Canton was just three-of-17 from the floor in the period, a good reason why the Rockets had a 36-33 half-time advantage.

PAUPORE DISCARDED his mask for the second half, and it made a difference. The 6-foot-5 senior sharpshooter hit his first shot of the third quarter and three others, as well as four-straight free throws, to score 12 points. He added seven points in the fourth period and two in the overtime to finish with 31 for the game.

Still, the closest the Chiefs could get was two in the third quarter and one in the fourth — until Daryl Margreta fouled out with :53 left. Risbridger came off the bench and — :20 later — rolled in his only basket of the game, a triple that tied the game at 73.

Glenn set up for a final shot, but Casey Killingbeck's attempt with :02 left was blocked by Waldron — capping his quarter quite well. Waldron, who scored 20 points, had 11 of them in the fourth. Geoff Allen and Fernando Johnson added eight points apiece in the game.

"We got good balanced scoring," said Niemi. "But we sure couldn't get the one we needed in overtime."

Title in sight Hebner, Rumble draw Zebras closer

Wayne Memorial moved within one game of clinching a share of the Wolverine A League boys basketball title Friday by cooling off host Trenton, 69-53.

The Zebras, now 14-4 overall and 10-3 in the league, can gain a share of the crown this Friday with a win over Wyandotte.

Wayne came out of the gate fast, making 12 of 15 from the field to take a 27-10 lead first-quarter advantage.

But the Trojans cut the deficit to 38-35 at the half. It was 48-45 after three quarters before Wayne ran away in the final period with a 21-8 scoring surge.

Chris Hebner, a 6-foot-6 senior center, had 11 of his 19 points during the surge. Senior guard Tony Rumble also added eight of his 19 in the final period. Kevin Hankerson contributed 10 points and seven rebounds.

Mike Chaffin and Mike Van Riper tallied 15 and 14, respectively, for the Trojans, now 7-11 overall and 7-6 in the Wolverine.

SALEM 62, CHURCHILL 48: Jake Baker, a 6-5 sophomore center, made his presence known Friday, leading Plymouth Salem (16-2) to an opening-round Western Lakes Activities Association playoff win over visiting Livonia Churchill (5-13).

Baker scored 20 points, grabbed nine rebounds and blocked four shots to pace the Rocks. Jeff Gold and Jeff Elliott contributed 10 and nine points, respectively. Jeff Jagacki added 11 rebounds.

Salem took advantage at the free throw line, making 24 of 29, compared with only eight of 15 for Churchill. Matt Kluccevek and Jason Belaire tallied 11 and 10, respectively, for the Chargers.

"Eric Osen and Kluccevek did a nice job on Elliott," said Churchill coach Fred Price. "I thought our kids played extremely hard and deserve some credit."

THURSTON 63, KENNEDY 42: "The defense was real strong in the third quarter, we trapped them a little and made some steals and got some turnovers," said Redford Thurston coach Mike Schuette, whose team outscored the visitors from Taylor 19-3 before going on to an easy Tri-River League win.

Thurston is now 14-4 overall and 11-2 in the league, while Kennedy dipped to 8-10 and 4-9.

Senior center Fernando Merida paced the winners with 15 points and 14 rebounds. Mike Lucy and Matt Farris chipped in with nine points each. Lucy also grabbed 12 rebounds.

Thurston also made 20 of 29 free throws, while Kennedy converted only four of seven.

Mike Giacomantonio scored 11 in a losing cause.

REDFORD UNION 70, GARDEN CITY 68: In a Northwest Suburban League encounter Friday, the Panthers (9-3, 3-4) held off the host Cougars (3-15, 3-4).

Four RU players scored in double figures including Steve Nowak (21), John Burdick (15), Joe Deligauw (13) and Dan Lezotte (10).

Junior center Bud Barnett led GC with 23. Joe Gorak and Rick Morton added 13 and 12, respectively.

Jason Wynn's three-pointer cut the deficit to 70-68, but Barnett's game-tying shot did not fall before the buzzer had sounded.

RU hit 20 of 35 free throws, while GC made 12 of 19.

TEMPLE 87, TAYLOR BAPTIST 61: Brennan Figurski and Jeff Weiss poured in 22 and 20 points, respectively, leading Redford Temple Christian (9-10) to a victory Friday over visiting Taylor Baptist Park.

Temple made 25 of 37 free throws, while Baptist Park was 22 of 33.

Tim Walters and Maurice Little contributed 16 and 11 points, respectively, for the Patriots. Little also recorded nine rebounds and five assists. (Walters hit a length-of-the-court shot earlier in the week against Ypsilanti Calvary.)

John Caldwell and Tim Kowalski each tallied 14 points for Taylor Baptist.

LUTHERAN NORTH 50, CLARENCEVILLE 45: A 15-6 first-quarter spurt Friday carried visiting Mount Clemens Lutheran North (7-11, 6-7) to a Metro Conference victory over Livonia Clarenceville (4-12, 4-9).

Ron May paced the victorious Mustangs with 16 points.

Derrick Herr and Kendrick Harrington tallied 14 and 10, respectively, for Trojans. Rich Roy added eight points, eight rebounds and six assists.

LUTH. WESTLAND 59, YPSI CALVARY 53: On Friday, Lutheran Westland (3-15) held off visiting Ypsilanti Calvary Christian (7-11) behind 14 points, seven assists and six steals by senior guard Kevin Geerin.

Sophomore forward Chris Habitz added 13 points, while junior forward Mike Hardin added 13 points and nine rebounds for the victorious Warriors.

Tim Hyslop and Paul Lammers each notched 12 points in a losing cause.

G.C. UNITED 68, NOVI CHRISTIAN 60: Minus one starter and two top reserves (all gone because of winter vacations), Garden City United Christian (14-8) still had enough to beat Novi Christian (9-8) in the semifinals Friday of the Metro Christian Conference Tournament at the Inkster Recreation Center.

G.C. United outscored Novi 23-15 in the decisive fourth period.

Tim Blatter picked up the slack with 28 points, while teammate Ted Dillow contributed 16 points and 19 rebounds. Pat Avery and Chris Smith contributed 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Dennis Leech paced Novi Christian with 23. Mark Rowe added 11.

Future holding new vision

What will bowling be like in the year 2000?
Imagine all of the possibilities that lie ahead with the high-technology era upon us! Perhaps a part of it already is here with the advent of the new Brunswick system. Even though there is only one unit in operation, there are plans to expand slowly into other markets.

The product is called BowlerVision, the wave of the future. You will have to go to Woodridge, Ill., to try it out, but it soon will be introduced to other sites around the country. The BowlerVision has a console with two video, one for the game scoring and one to advise the bowlers of the speed of the ball, the angle at impact, and the ball's position at various spots down the lane.

It also will show the odds on making a spare based upon that bowler's average. This is to show the participant exactly what their ball is doing, and may indicate why they are not getting strikes more frequently.

It will give the bowler a chance to make adjustments based on precise information. These machines will work in conjunction with the new plastic coated lanes, another indication of things to come about in the 21st century.

The pins were flying and the scores soaring this past week at Woodland Lanes on Plymouth Road in Livonia. In the Friday night Strikers League, Ken Kubit led the way with a 254 game and 264 series and John Lalik had a 670 total. The Kings and Queens (Friday mixed) featured Mark Cumbo with 244-258-673, Ed Dobrick 625, Howard Clark, 620 and Walt Smith, 677.

In the West Chicago League, Kubit again performed well, rolling a 676 series. In the very active Bators Bar League action with 18 teams competing, 16 hot shooters were Don Deptula (258-648), Larry Hreben (246-669), Ed Winkowski (248), Jeep Newton (614), Ruddy Smith (604), Ed Dobrick (620), Mark Cumbo (610), Jeff Wolber (605) and Paul Pelachyk (241-810).

In the junior house league, Dave Myers rolled a 270 score with a series of 683. In the Delco Tuesday men's league, Ted Kowalski wound up 187 pins over average with a 658 series. In the Kings & Queens League, Howard Clark Sr. pitched a 288 game and 728 series. Lou Pirroello rolled a 269 game in the Family Four-some league. In the Saturday Youth League, 15-year-old Tom "Klyde" Hill registered a 653 series. Scores in the Men's Trio League: Joe Gumbis (268-716), Bobby Thompson (686), Ed Barnett (695), and Ery Watson (877). The Senior House League saw 35 different 600 series per-performances, led by Bob Adamczyk's 698 and Dave Myers' total of 691.

Some of the ladies were bowling well at Oak Lanes on Middlebelt Road, as shown by the 239 score from Jeri Toer and a 230 from the arm of Cindy Lang in the Monday night ladies league. Cindy has the season's high series with a 601.

At Mayflower Lanes in Redford Township, the Night Owls League, bowling on Wednesday nights, Cheryl Wolfe finished with a 210 game, her first 200 game ever. Anne Shields came through with a nice 192 game for the second high score of the night. Earlier in the day, the Swinging Seniors took to the lanes, and Wayne Wirick rolled a 616 series on games of 169, 201 and 246.

Merrit-Bowl in Livonia is well-known for the high scores and last week was no exception as Larry Haag turned in a 704 series and Chris Elliott rolled a 247 game in the Sav-Mor men's League Monday. In the Wednesday men's senior house, Ken Nikkila bowled a 223, 259, 299 for a 780 series, Randy Smith a 734; Gary Krause, 279; and Ron Fron, 278.

The K of C State Tournament is going strong at Cloverlanes in Livonia with a recent 299 game from the arm of Steve Gorham, of Ionia. His series was a nice 750. This tournament runs every Saturday and Sunday through April 2.

Westland Bowl on Wayne Road was the scene of some fine scores, including a 289 game from Dan Kingsbury in the Tuesday Night League. In the Westside Senior House League, Terry Tesars rolled a 278 game and 733, while Dave Kalszewski duplicated the scores. Some of the scores in the senior house league: Paul Myers, 288; Fred Page, 277; Dave Kowalszewski, 289; and Don Haase, Jr., 278.

In the Sunday Sleepers, a 300 game was rolled by Frank Briscoe, while Craig Mezegec scored 279 and Tony Cilia Jr., a 277. Steve Fedulchak came in with a 276 game while Mark Konopatchki turned a 723 series, Douglas Walls, 716, and Bobby Williams, 705. Westland Bowl will host the Coca Cola Open Team Tournament on Sunday, March 19 at 1:30 p.m. There are still openings. First place is worth a $1,500 team prize, and the entry fee is $100 per team. Call Chuck or Gordy at 722-7500 for details.

Beech Lanes on Beech Daly near Five Mile Road has started up a new "Bumper Bowling" program for children ages 3-5. They bowl Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday afternoons. Last Wednesday, 4-year-old Tiffany Rose and 5-year-old Jeffery Plasencia each bowled 101 games, and this was the first outing ever for each. In the Regular Kid Stuff League, 9-year-old Chris Beal cranked out a 154 game. This league still has some openings, as does the Bumper Bowl program. For more information, call Beech Lanes at 531-3800 and ask for Valerie.

Tip of the week: The word this week is practice. If you are serious about improving your game, find a bowling center with some open bowling available for you and get in some meaningful practice. By meaningful, try different shots, experiment to see what works best for you, and also shoot at the spares that give you the most trouble. If you find something that seems to work well, repeat it over and over so it will become natural to do. When you practice, do not worry about your score, just try to improve the delivery and your scores will get better as a result.

Ladywood beats Mercy for Catholic League title

Livonia Ladywood will wear the Catholic League A-B Division volleyball crown for another year.

The Blazers (34-4) captured their second straight title Wednesday with a 16-14, 15-6 victory over Central Division rival Farmington Hills Mercy in the finals at Riverview Gabriel Richard High School.

The win qualifies the Blazers for the Operation-Friendship championship match at 7 tonight against Public School League champion Detroit Henry Ford. (The match will be played at Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher.)

With the score tied at 14-all in the first game against Mercy, Stacey Gjrard recorded a dink and spike to give Ladywood the victory.

In the second game, Dana Domanski served the first 11 points to give the Blazers a commanding lead before coasting home.

Sarah Adzima was Ladywood's top hitter with 13 kills. Domanski and Peggy Knittel combined for 13 digs, while Kari Domanski served three aces and had 22 assist kills in 45 sets. Sophomore Rebecca Willey added two solo blocks and four block assists.

"Our key was that we had a good amount of teamwork," said Ladywood coach Tom Teeters. "Our rotation is starting to settle in. The strength of this team is serving."

GARDEN CITY lost a four-game match Wednesday to Northwest Suburban League foe Dearborn Edsel Ford, 15-5, 15-10, 14-16, 15-11.

Despite the loss, the visiting Cougars boasted four girls with outstanding kill shot ratios including Tina Emory (50 percent), Tracy Thompson (45), Doreen Malone and Diane Allison (44 each).

Carolyn Shanks was the team's top server with five aces.

LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE locked up second place in the Metro Conference Wednesday with a 15-10, 4-15, 15-12 triumph over visiting Harper Woods Lutheran East.

Clarenceville is 8-6 overall and 5-2 in the Metro. Mount Clemens Lutheran North leads the Metro at 6-1.

Joann Zebari served the final three points against East to gain the victory.

Angie Stevens was the team's most consistent server, while Tara Riedl added some timely sets.

Clarenceville returns to action Wednesday at home against Dearborn Heights Crestwood, followed by the Metro Conference journey on Saturday (site to be announced).

LIVONIA CHURCHILL remained unbeaten in Western Lakes action Wednesday with a 15-11, 15-7 Western Division victory over visiting Walled Lake Western.

The Chargers, now 22-3 overall, were led by hitters Jenny Sproul, Carrie Blanchard and Julie Rieder.

SILENT... BUT DEADLY

High blood pressure and elevated cholesterol levels are silent killers that can rob you of your health, your hopes, and your dreams.

As many as 58 million Americans have high blood pressure. If left undetected, damage can occur to your body's organs, causing kidney problems, an enlarged heart, or heart failure. Elevated blood cholesterol levels (over 200 mg/dl) can increase the risk of atherosclerosis ("hardening of the arteries") leading to stroke, heart attack and other organ damage.

If you have not had your blood pressure or cholesterol checked recently, come to MedStop on Wednesdays. We will be screening for high blood pressure and elevated cholesterol levels. Let us help you beat these silent killers.

The Ghoul, who is Ron Sweed, 40, was the self-declared king of Detroit Saturday night television for more than 10 years.

The Ghoul and other things that go bump?

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

In most cities, a guy with a fright wig, wearing a pair of sunglasses with one lens poked out and a blue lab coat would draw stares.

In Cleveland, they ask for an autograph.

"How about a 'Stay Sick,'" said the man in the get-up, dutifully signing his name for a teenager on Euclid Avenue. "All right, overday."

A crowd swells around the person known as The Ghoul. He has been off the air in his hometown of Cleveland for two years and since 1983 in Detroit.

Yet in his heyday, The Ghoul was synonymous with Saturday night television in Detroit. In the 1970s and early 1980s, he was a horror movie host on UHF stations WKBD-TV Channel 50, WXON-TV Channel 20 and WGPR-TV Channel 62.

His show was pure madcap slapstick. There was no script. His zaniness often stretched the boundaries of acceptable standard television like gooey taffy.

Busting watermelons with a sledgehammer? The Ghoul was blowing up pumpkins (not to mention model cars) with M-80 firecrackers before Gallagher's hairline went south.

And David Letterman's stunts as a human bowl of Rice Krispees? The Ghoul once was a human hamburger — covered with ketchup and mustard (actually red and yellow paint) along with onions — when Letterman was probably still a weatherman in Indianapolis.

AND THAT Mr. Bill character on "Saturday Night Live"? The Ghoul was terrorizing a toy frog named "Froggie" before Chase, Belushi and Ackroyd were making it big on TV.

"Does Johnny Carson grab a bottle of Cheez Whiz and put gobs of it under his arms?" asked Dave Ivey of Ferndale, an art director on The Ghoul's show. "You don't see that everyday on TV."

The Ghoul's stunts reaped in the ratings, but didn't endear him to station managers along the way. He said one station had the show removed after two letters complained he was making fun of Polish people and the mentally retarded.

In light of today's trash TV, Ron Sweed can only laugh at the irony of it all.

Sweed, 40, is a Ghoul without a show. He attends Cleveland State University, finishing his degree in English, TV and film. He does occasional personal appearances and writes a column for an alternative newspaper in Cleveland.

Sweed is busily trying to get The Ghoul back on the air. There is talk of him returning to Cleveland TV by the fall. He hasn't pitched the show in Detroit for awhile.

Even he appears to have some doubts. And this is a person who, during his height in popularity, received three and four bags of mail a day and sold 400 to 500 Ghoul T-shirts and sweat shirts in one week in Detroit alone.

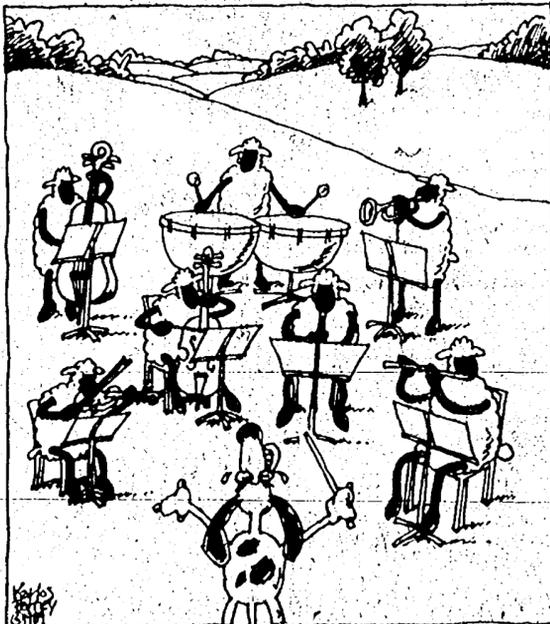

"IT'S BEEN awhile," said Sweed, gluing on his phony beard near a stairwell in a Cleveland shopping arcade. "Many people don't remember."

Apparently, they do. As The Ghoul poses for some photos, shoppers walk by and point to him and whisper to one another. A few people call out his name. A man who looked in his 30s shouts, "Still crazy after all these years."

Cleveland: More than Cheez Whiz, architecture

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Cleveland in February? Surely, you jest.

But, hey, would we pull your leg? Don't let that post-Depression architecture fool you. Behind those cold, gray buildings is a happening city.

When we asked The Ghoul to be our Cleveland tour guide, we thought he'd take us to the Cheez Whiz factory.

Then he led us inside The Arcade. Outside it appears to be just another old building. But inside it is an ornate masterpiece of brass and copper, not to mention shops and restaurants.

The Arcade was built in the 1870s and looks as sharp now as it probably did then. Which sums up

MARK SCHWARTZ/Cleveland Convention Bureau

And this stuff about Cleveland being a mistake on the lake. Well, somebody must've had a big eraser.

"That's ancient history," said Bob Ulas, communications director for the Convention and Visitors

Bureau of Greater Cleveland. "People are shocked when they come here for this first time."

ONE OF the main stops is The Flats, a development area near the Cuyahoga River with 30 riverfront restaurants and lounges. Warehouses have been trans-

Hey, need a place to eat? Well, The Ghoul himself took us into one of his favorite haunts, Shorty's.

Shorty's is a nostalgia trip. A vintage Coca-Cola machine sits in the corner, a black and white TV broadcasts shows from the 1950s, and the waitresses dress in high school sock hop garb and dance on the tables to the hits of that era. The food, your basic fare of ham burgers and fries, is quite reasonable.

Across the way is Nautica, featuring even more clubs on the west bank (of the Cuyahoga River), such as Shooters, Club Coconuts, Nautica Stage and the Boardwalk.

BUT THE Cleveland agenda is not all eat and drink. This city has culture, 500 square miles of it, in fact. University Circle features both the Cleveland Museum of Art and the Cleveland Museum of Natural History, both highly rated in the country for their exhibits.

Of course, another exhibit hall in the works is the Rock 'n' Roll Hall of Fame and Museum.

For information, call the Convention and Visitors Bureau of Greater Cleveland at (216) 621-4110.

'True Believer': Law and order, justice at a price

Imagine William Kunstler for the defense and George Bush for the prosecution and you've got James Woods' new legal thriller, "True Believer," (B+)(R) 105 minutes.

Eddie Dodd (James Woods) is a '60s-style liberal, crusading attorney noted for defending radicals. But he's gone sour and claims government prosecution of drug-dealers is endangering the Bill of Rights and constitutional freedom. So every low-life pusher is a potential client.

His youthful enthusiasm and the injustice done Shu Kal Kim (Yuji Okamoto) reawakens Dodd's liberal

In the exciting process, Dodd tangles with Manhattan D.A. Robert Reynard (Kurtwood Smith) who bears some resemblance to President Bush — that's what got me going on the William Kunstler versus George Bush track.

The film postulates justice at any price versus law and order at any price — a scary thought but that may be where it's at these days. At least it's well done and entertaining.

Sheryl Lee Ralph was in town promoting "The Mighty Quinn" (C-), (R) 90 minutes, which would be a lot better movie, if she were more evident and if someone had troubled to write a decent script.

Ralph has an exciting presence that isn't apparent — except for two songs — in this slow, cliched story of Xavier Quinn (Denzel Washington), police chief of a remote Caribbean island and his friend, Maubee (Robert Townsend). Murder, money and spies are jumbled up and don't help much.

Scenery, music track and Ralph are terrific, but Quinn ain't so mighty.

"The 'Bubs" (D) (PG) 95 minutes — are blobs in this absurd, slow and misplaced attempt to satirize horror films.

They use it all up in the first 20 minutes with some pretty decent slapstick, introducing Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peterson (Tom Hanks and Carrie Fisher) who live on Mayfield Place in suburbia USA.

Neighbor Mark Rumsfeld (Bruce Dern) is a Vietnam vet whose head is still in the jungle. Peterson, Rumsfeld and a third neighbor, Art Wel-gartner (Rick Ducommun), are suspicious of new neighbors, the Klopiks, who live in an "Adams Family" type of house.

James Woods is Eddie Dodd, a lawyer who uncovers wrongdoing in high places when he re-opens an old murder case in Columbia Pictures' "True Believer."

Even if you stick with this one, you probably won't care what's in the Klopiks' basement. Bruce Dern and Corey Feldman turn in credible performances, but Hanks seems up-tight. Reviewed by Kim Brown.

"Bill & Ted's Excellent Adventure" (B-) (PG) — Bill and Ted face a problem. They must earn an A+ on their final history report.

No problem, dudes, just create a time-traveling extravaganza, featuring eight legendary historical figures. Along the way, we see Genghis Khan trade his club for a baseball bat and Napoleon in his skivvies.

Alex Winter's Bill and Keam Reeves' Ted plan the most awesome band of all time except they don't know how to play any instruments. Well, don't let reality get in the way. This is a movie about good times, big dreams and rock 'n' roll.

Winter and Reeves acquit themselves nicely, even if the "valley boy" talk gets old much too soon. George Carlin in a cameo, leads the boys into their time-traveling phone booth with a certain new wave panache.

The problems in this film will be recognizable only to people under 18, which is fine, because "Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure" is pitched in their direction. Reviewed by Sue Fichem.

"The Accidental Tourist" (C+) (PG) 120 minutes. Slow-paced family melodrama.

"Beaches" (A+) (PG-13) 120 minutes. Bette Midler and Barbara Hershey in fine show of friendship.

"Cosmos" (A-) (PG-13) (115 minutes). Charming romantic comedy about life, love and marriage.

"Dangerous Liaisons" (C+) (R) 115 minutes. Even lush images and good acting can't overcome the non-cinematic quality of this boring story of pre-Revolutionary French decadence.

"Dirty Rotten Scoundrels" (B+) (PG) 100 minutes. Super-slick con men on the Riviera are lots of fun.

"Her Alibi" (B-) (PG) 90 minutes. This murder-mystery-spy-defector-detective-writer story is well-done but too much.

"I'm Gonna Get You Socks" (C+) (R) 85 minutes. Slow-paced satire of B-movies from the black point of view.

"The January Man" (B) (R) 95 minutes. Cliched but slick detective story with big-name cast.

"Mississippi Burning" (A+) (R) 130 minutes.

Brilliant political film about human greed, fear and cruelty. A

"My Stepmother Is an Alien" (B+) (PG-13) 108 minutes. When extra-terrestrial Kim Basinger touches down, this comedy takes off.

"Naked Gun" (D) (PG-13) 90 minutes. Overly broad farce never gets off the ground floor of the police squad room.

"Oliver and Company" (A) (G) 70 minutes. Disney animation at its best.

"Physical Evidence" (C) (R) Burt Reynolds is a cop with a nifty attorney, Theresa Russell.

"Rain Man" (A+) (R) 130 minutes. Tom Cruise and Dustin Hoffman star as brothers in every sense.

"Scrooged" (B+) (PG-13) 90 minutes. Updated romp through Dickens' "A Christmas Carol."

"Tap" (C+) (PG-13) 105 minutes. Nice dancing, but trite story with Sammy Davis Jr. and Gregory Hines.

"Tequila Sunrise" (B+) (PG-13) 115 minutes. Slick, glib production gets lost trying for high-concept, high-tech look in an old-fashioned, hard-boiled detective story.

"Three Fugitives" (A-) (PG-13) 95 minutes. Touching comedy about a tough guy, a little misfit and his cute daughter.

"Torch Song Trilogy" (B) (R) 122 minutes. Sensitive, touching but questionable look at homosexuality.

Sheryl Lee Ralph stars in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's murder mystery, "The Mighty Quinn."

VIDEO VIEWING

"Never So Few" — a 1962, unrated epic (PG and C+ by today's standards) — runs for 125 minutes and takes its title from Winston Churchill's praise of the RAF during the Battle of Britain. Filmically, we might amend Churchill. Never have so many participated in so much to such minimal effect.

Recently released on video cassette, "Never So Few" doesn't fulfill the promise its star-studded cast suggests, but it's fun nonetheless. Where else can we see how all our aging favorites looked 27 years ago, cavorting behind Japanese lines in early World War II Burma?

Captain Tom Reynolds (Frank Sinatra) — with his good friend, English Captain Danny DeMortimer (Richard Johnson) — leads a band of Kachin guerrillas harassing the Japanese from the jungle. The Kachin leader, Nautang, is played by then well-known actor Philip Ahn.

Directed by John Sturges, "Never

So Few" resembles many big-budget war movies with star-laden casts. Sinatra's guerrillas include Sergeants John Danforth (Charles Bronson) and Jim Norby (Dean Jones), Corporal Bill Ringa (Steve McQueen) and Captain Grey Travis (Peter Lawford). Brian Donlevy is General Sloan. All essentially play themselves in personal cameos for these under-developed roles.

But the film is only marginally about World War II. It's really about Hollywood's competition with television.

In the former category, Hollywood in the '50s and '60s tried to recapture its media market share from television by doing what television couldn't. That meant wide-screen, color and spectacular images. Television in those days was black and white and, as always, small.

"Never So Few" fits the formula with lush, exotic scenery and a big romance as Sinatra woos the stock character, "mysterious foreign woman," Carla Vessari (Gina Lollobrigida), with only occasional forays into battle. Carla keeps company with the wealthy, but shadowy Nikko Regas (Paul Henreid).

Surprisingly, the big-screen images translate fairly well to the home screen although nothing beats an 80-foot expanse of Lollobrigida in Burma.

"Never So Few" also represents a happy, plastic moment early in the Kennedy era when Korea was forgotten and Vietnam as yet unknown.

"Never So Few" may not match the quality of Sinatra's other early '60s film, "Manchurian Candidate," but it is interesting and entertaining in its own slow grandeur. After all, kooky lines and corny setups from the old days are fun.

Where else can you hear Sinatra say, "I got the message. I kissed you, lady, and you kissed me back."

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

'Bombay': Persuasive expose

By Anne Sharp
special writer

The dark side of childhood seems to be a major theme at the Detroit Film Theatre this season. The vice-ridden brat in "Murmur of the Heart," the abused farm boy in "Pelle the Conqueror" and the apartheid-weary South African youths in "Voices of Sarafina" are all touching in their tragically-premature knowledge of the rotten ways of the world.

Add to this list "Salaam Bombay!" a sad, affecting portrayal of childhood as it shouldn't be lived — but unfortunately is — on the streets of urban India.

"Salaam Bombay!" is the story of Krishna, a small boy learning to fend for himself in the city after being cruelly cast out of his family home. Like "Pelle the Conqueror," he is handsome, brave and good-hearted. Unlike Pelle, he has no one in the world who cares about him, and no hope for escape into a better life.

Krishna scrapes by selling glasses of tea in the red-light district where he lives. He makes friends with Chillum, a pathetic adolescent dope peddler hooked on his own product, and Manju, the neglected little daughter of a prostitute.

He gets a crush on a pretty little girl recently bought by a local brothel and watches in dismay as she is transformed from a frightened virgin into a compliant whore.

OVER AND OVER, innocence is violated and shiny exploitation profit by it. The film is very tender toward the plight of its young protagonists. You might call it sentimental, if you were heartless enough.

If the institutions and characterizations are a bit melodramatic, even overly familiar, it's all for a good cause. This is a persuasive expose of a social system that allows children to be used and disposed of, like help-less domestic animals, at the whim of adults.

It's an indictment that's disturbingly close to home. The grimy cityscapes inhabited by Krishna and his cohorts look distressingly familiar. There's no exotic Third World aura to distance us; these events could easily be taking place in New York or Los Angeles.

There's outrage expressed in this film, but it's laid on with a gentle hand. Although Krishna's life is unpleasant, it's not made to seem completely unbearable. Director Mira Nair shows glimpses of the things that make street life tolerable — the gaudy luxuries enjoyed by the young prostitute, and Chillum's joyous hashish binge in a graveyard.

Nair makes effective use of location settings and a cast of mostly non-professional actors, many of whom were actually living the life she depicts. It would be nice to think movie stardom has bettered their lot, but that's apparently not the case. Shahid Syed, who plays Krishna, has reportedly returned to his previous existence as an ordinary child laborer.

GRITTY REALISM aside, this is a gorgeous film. Sandi Shreef's cinematography recreates a child's eye view, giving a sense of freshness and wonder to Krishna's world of alleyways and back streets.

What ties it all together is Indian jazz master L. Subramanyam's super raga-funk score, which combines traditional Eastern instrumentation and melodic lines with a rousing back beat that throbs pleasingly against Western eardrums.

"Salaam, Bombay!" will be shown at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Feb. 24-25 and 5 and 7:15 p.m. Feb. 26 at the Detroit Film Theatre, Detroit Institute of Arts, Detroit. All seats are $5. Call 832-2730 for information.

Don't let the 'Sensitive' fool you

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Hey, Sensitive Big Guys, let's watch TV. Wanna watch Geraldo? Not sensitive enough?

OK then. We could watch Phil Donahue, or better yet, there's M*A*S*H reruns with Alan Alda.

"We're into anything Alan Alda is into," said Rob Varney of Livonia, lead singer and songwriter.

Sensitive Big Guys, surrrree. Their music sounds anything but tender, caring, compassionate.

This stuff is as subtle as a bag of nails thrown into a cement mixer. Dinner music? Sure, if the super happens to be on the beam of a construction site.

Need we say more? Of course, we do.

The Sensitive Big Guys have been in operation for nearly 1 1/2 years, forming in November 1987. The product is strictly Livonia, except for guitarist Bryan Rossell who lives in Westland. "I live right on the border," Rossell said.

He also went to Livonia Franklin High School as did bass player Steve Bauer. Drummer Rob Paul and Varney went to Livonia Bentley where they played in numerous bands, which may be filed under obscurity.

SO, AT a concert awhile back, they all decided to join forces. Their Livonia roots put them into company with other fine area musicians such as Bootsey X, Dave Feeny of Orange Roughies, Chris Richards of Hippodrome, Mike Murphy of the Moonmen, etc.

Yet, like the aforementioned people, Sensitive Big Guys are strangers in their own land.

"Nobody has heard of us around here," Rob Paul said. "We play anywhere but here... (the clubs) won't have us. They want us to play 60 percent covers."

The Sensitive Big Guys is strictly a Livonia product, except for guitarist Bryan Rossell of Westland. The remainder of the group includes Rob Varney, Steve Bauer and Rob Paul from Livonia.

As a result, the Sensitive Big Guys have sought fame and fortune elsewhere. The four-member band is a regular on the Hamtramck circuit. Also, they have made the outstate tour to Kalamazoo and, most recently, to Mount Pleasant.

Through all this, Sensitive Big Guys have only headlined on a few occasions. Which is all fine and dandy with them. They just like to play. "We liked to get booed just as much as we like to get applause," said Rob Paul, jokingly.

In that sense, the Sensitive Big Guys are quite refreshing. They are one of the few local bands that don't serve you a line about record label interest or bombard you with cosmic debris of the social significance of their music.

A FEW flaws can be found on the Sensitive Big Guys cassette, "Simply Sensitive." Band members attribute that to the first time being in a recording studio.

Still, there is a certain spark on the nine-song offering that all the studio wizards in the business couldn't hope to reproduce.

"We're a lot better live than we are on tape," Steve Bauer said. Added Rob Paul, "No matter how bad we get, we know we could do worse."

Dreams break out of Athens mold

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

You can take the band out of Athens, Ga. But you can't take Athens, Ga., out of the band.

Dreams So Real is trying. At least with their music anyway.

The three-member band's latest album, "Rough Night in Jericho," (Arista) is a conscious effort on its part to distance itself from the rest of the Athens bands it grew up with. So, R.E.M., B-52s and dB's, take a hike.

"Personally, I think we're representing our own Athens sound," said Drew Worsham, drummer of Dreams So Real. "We're not going to deny we're from Athens."

Unlike most of those from the Georgia hotbed for alternative music, Dreams So Real went for a big sound on their latest LP.

For that, they opted for the technologically proficient studio setting in Los Angeles instead of some backwoods setup.

They snared themselves a big name producer, Bill Drescher, whose past credits include the Bangles and Jules Shear. And they spent three months in the studio, compared to eight days as with their first LP "Father's House."

"WE WANTED something modern sounding that wouldn't be out of place, say, on AOR radio," Worsham said.

"We could have gotten Mitch Easter or Don Dixon to produce it and gone for a more regional sound," Worsham said. "The record company wanted us to return to our own sound... We wanted a big sound. We wanted the album to rock."

For the most part, Dreams So Real succeeded. The melodic rock quality of "Rough Night in Jericho" deems it appropriate for AOR radio play. Are you listening, Arthur P?

Nonetheless, striking out for an identity of its own is admirable, but could have its drawbacks. For one, the fact the band is from Athens alone sparks a curiosity.

With that, though, comes the endless comparisons.

Dreams So Real was open season for comparative analysis, especially after R.E.M.'s Peter Buck produced the band's first single "Everywhere Girl"/"Whirl" (Coyote/Twin-Tone). The psychedelic pop offering quickly became a best-selling single.

Buck was also at the controls of the band's first album, "Father's House." That, too, received critical acclaim.

After pounding the college alternative musical highway, Dreams So Real signed with Arista Records. Suddenly, a dream the band had when it first formed after meeting in a record store was real.

Dreams So Real is trying to distance itself from the rest of the Athens, Ga., bands it grew up with and as a result, has gone for a big sound on their latest LP.

INTENT to make the most of it, the group wanted to do things differently production-wise.

"He (Buck) pretty much knew we were going for a big production on this album," said Worsham, who added that Buck likes the band's latest album. "He knew he wouldn't be appropriate this time."

If things go according to plan, Dreams So Real will be added to the long list of names who have made it big from Athens. Creativity must flow in the water in the relatively small college town.

A film documentary was done, "Athens Inside/Out," which focused on the phenomenon of the music scene there. Worsham is even at a loss to explain it.

"It's weird," he said. "Somehow, cosmically, it all comes together."

REVIEWS

SPIKE — Elvis Costello

The verbal gymnast is back. Elvis Costello's latest offering, "Spike," (Warner) has more twists, turns, flips and flops than a mackerel out of water. Coming on the heels of last month's release by Lou Reed, "Spike" gives fans of tremendous lyrics another reason to push up the volume and pull out the lyric sheet.

Backed by an all-star cast with a wide variety of instruments, Costello shines on "Spike." The music ranges from folk to funk to pop to ballads. The connecting yarn is Costello's ability to weave intricate tales while making keen observations like "They say that travel broadens the mind/til you can't get your head out of doors."

Great Britain's political woes are one of Costello's favorite targets. "Any King's Shilling," a traditional Celtic folk song, paints the Irish struggle in a portrait of a friendship between two opposing combatants. "Tramp the Dirt Down" recalls Bob Dylan's "Masters of War" with its spiteful graveyard scene and rough anti-establishment rhetoric, "When England was the whore of the world/Margaret was her madam."

Costello co-wrote two tracks with guest bassist Paul McCartney. The toe-tapping "Veronica" is a well-crafted piece of pop that, surprisingly enough, sounds like a mix between the late-70s Attractions and mid-60s Beatles. The other, "Pads, Paws and Claws," pales in comparison.

The album's crown jewel is the hilarious "God's Comic," the story of a corrupt priest who has died and fears his final reward. Costello presents a satirical image of God on a waterbed "drinking a cola of a mystery brand," saying, "I've been wading through all this unbelievable junk and wondering if I should have given the world to the monkeys."

With the exception of a couple weak spots, namely "Deep Dark Truthful Mirror" and "Baby Plays Around," "Spike" is solid stuff — another winner to add to a superb track record.

MYSTERY GIRL — Roy Orbison

Roy Orbison's untimely passing ensures this album will become a best seller. The good news is that "Mystery Girl" (Virgin Records) deserves whatever success comes its way.

Here, Orbison succeeds where most other rock legends have failed — creating a new body of work that not only matches past glories, but builds upon them.

Of the 10 songs, only "You Got It," the first single, clings self-consciously to the past. The rest shows Orbison completely at home in the 1980s.

There's a fair share of help from notable friends. Fellow Wilburys Jeff Lynne and Tom Petty each contribute songs, while Lynne and Mike Campbell, one of Petty's Heartbreakers, handle most production duties.

But the spotlight belongs to Orbison alone. Even to the end, his magnificent, soaring voice remained one of pop music's treasures.

The difference between Orbison and other rock vocalists is never more apparent than on "She's a Mystery to Me." Bono's contribution to this bill of fare. While the U2 leader has delivered similar material with man-falling-off-the-cliff despair, Orbison's singing is at once powerful yet beautifully controlled. Despite the desperation and heartbreak always evident in his work, Orbison, the singer, always had clear indication of where he wanted a song to go. Thus, singer and audience don't wallow in their heartbreak — they transcend it.

"The Only One," written by his son, is another example of Orbison's skill with ballads. "In the Real World" and "California Blue" provide further illustration. ("All I Can Do Is) Dream of You," written by T-Bone Burnett, not only makes a cunning reference to past Orbison themes, but shows the singer lost none of his early rockabilly touch.

Even without the sad circumstances surrounding its release, "Mystery Girl" is more than just a comeback. It's a crowning glory from one of rock's most reluctant kings.

TECHNIQUE — New Order

I'm sure that at this stage most everybody knows the history of New Order, i.e. the three remaining members from the breathtakingly powerful Joy Division continuing after the suicide of their frightening and sad lead singer, Ian Curtis, in May 1980.

That band created a phenomenal legacy, which I'm sure is still paying a lot of bills for New Order.

New Order, on the other hand, is experiencing a different kind of phenomenon — that of a hugely successful dance band, popular with swinging "MTV-ites." They are having large record sales worldwide and are slowly being acknowledged/absorbed by the music mainstream.

I mean, they are having records mixed by the same people responsible for Madonna and Pet Shop Boy hits and even "Blue Monday '84" was mixed by Quincy Jones. I can't wait to hear Michael Jackson's version of it.

Anyway, this album is essentially their first new recording since 1986 and it starts off on extremely thin ice with their single, "Fine Time." This is utterly devoid of any redeeming qualities as it is simply comprised of repetitive computer dance rhythms I had hoped for better, and thankfully, I was not let down over the rest of the LP.

While the other guys maintain a certain dance quality, they are solid songs. Nonetheless, they feature New Order's most attractive aspects — vocalist/guitarist Bernard Albrecht's vulnerable vocals and Peter Hook's thundering bass lines.

Don't be put off by the lead off track and give the rest of them a few listens. They're worth it.

STREET SENSE

Dear Barbara,

Could you please describe behavior signs, or warning symptoms of eating disorders (such as bulimia or anorexia). I suspect my teenage daughter may be using the purge part of bulimia to control her weight. Teenage girls seem to have an obsession for thin, thin, thin bodies.

Concerned in Birmingham

Dear Concerned in Birmingham,

How true. The quest for "thin, thin, thin bodies" has become a teenage obsession. However, while it seems that teenagers with eating disorders are solely troubled by an obsession with thinness, that is generally not the case. It may begin that way, but for both bulimics and anorexics, their preoccupation becomes their only method of dealing with emotions and conflict.

Bulimia is a syndrome in which the person eats (usually large quantities of food) and then purges herself of the calories by vomiting and/or using laxatives or diuretics. Bulimics may also use excessive exercise and fasting to keep their weight at a normal level.

Anorexics starve themselves (sometimes to death) in the pursuit of thinness. Because anorexia is a state of starvation, anorexics often binge and purge. However, they won't eat in between and therefore their bodies are not maintained at a normal weight.

Anorexia is generally easier to spot than bulimia. You'll be able to see the inappropriate loss of weight, coupled with the obsession with weight and food. An anorexic often thinks of nothing else. In some cases there is a concurrent avoidance of maturation into womanhood.

The weight loss aids in the goal of keeping the young woman looking like a little girl, arresting her reproductive faculties and retarding breast development.

AN ANOREXIC sometimes takes to wearing baggy clothing and to taking part in strange eating rituals, such as eating only alone or cutting the food into tiny pieces.

Bulimia is more difficult to detect. Bulimics are usually of normal weight and they carry out behavior in secret, so unless the physical symptoms become serious, they can hide it.

If your daughter is running to the bathroom after every meal, you've reason to worry. Other signs that should cause concern are rising grocery bills and food that disappears from the cupboard. Finding emetics, diuretics or laxatives in your daughter's room are more warning signs.

Bulimics can seem very successful in their daily pursuits, but they suffer excessive guilt especially about their bulimia, which leaves little energy for continuing emotional maturation. Many have difficulty with impulse control and are intensely preoccupied with their appearance.

Sometimes there is teeth deterioration and/or swelling of the salivary glands, which creates a "moon" face.

Comebacks: They don't come easy

The Ghoul raises a triumphant fist and said, "You got that right. (Believing like Fat Albert) Hey, hey, hey!" When he jumps down from the pole, he rips his jeans.

From there, The Ghoul leads the entourage out into the blustery January air. He's only wearing his thin lab coat, but the recognition from passersby makes him immuned from the chill.

A group of teenagers asks for autographs. He soon runs out of pictures and begins using a reporter's notebook.

A woman pulls her two small children up to The Ghoul. "Plunk your magic what?," said the mother, puzzled by this character, but nonetheless doesn't want her kids to be left out.

"Do you know who The Ghoul is?" he asked the kid too young to remember him as the 1970s anti-hero of late night TV. "Well, hold onto this because someday soon it's going to be worth something."

A LOT OF Ron Sweed is in The Ghoul.

Sweed as a youth started a rumor in his neighborhood in Euclid, Ohio, that the Beatles' Ringo Starr was going to visit. He bought a Beatle wig and hired a chauffeur.

"The whole neighborhood was lined up because they were so gullible," said Sweed in amazement. "They believed Ringo was actually coming."

Another childhood stunt indirectly led him to TV. Sweed wore a stolen gorilla suit to an appearance by Cleveland horror movie host, Ghoulardi.

Ernie Anderson, who was Ghoulardi, was so impressed by Sweed's moxie he hired the teenager to work as his gofer. Before long, Sweed was Anderson's understudy.

Enough so that Sweed asked the management at WKBF-TV Channel 61, if he could do his own show. In 1971, "The Ghoul" premiered.

In the beginning, Sweed did an exact imitation of Ghoulardi. (He asked Anderson to return, but Anderson, an announcer for ABC-TV, declined). Then Sweed began putting his own touches on the show.

He would cut into the movies and provide sound effects. For instance, if a couple were kissing, he would slip in a heart-resounding belch.

He also held high regard for the films he hosted. "Boy, this movie is really stinkeroo," he would say, spraying air freshener.

THE GHOUL was as kind to the concerned mothers who wrote in complaining about his antics. "Hey madam, why don't you put your false teeth on backwards and bite your throat."

People ate it up. Ratings soared instantly. Soon, The Ghoul was syndicated to other Kaiser Broadcasting affiliates in Boston, San Francisco, Chicago and Philadelphia.

Along with Cleveland, the height of The Ghoul's popularity reached epidemic proportions in Detroit. He recalls being mobbed at an appearance during halftime of a Harlem Globetrotters game at Cobo Arena.

Then things took a nose dive into, as The Ghoul would say, the porcelain receptacle.

Sweed said The Ghoul was set to move to CKLW-TV Channel 9 (now CBET-TV), but Kaiser Broadcasting said it owned the rights to The Ghoul character. A bitter lawsuit ensued that took 1 1/2 years to settle.

After returning to Channel 50 for awhile, The Ghoul started channel hopping. He went to Channel 20. He went to Channel 62 and then back on Channel 20.

Ratings, compared to the cost of producing the show, are some reasons The Ghoul was eventually dropped from the WXON-TV lineup, according to vice-president and general manager Doug Johnson.

"The Ghoul was a following for a certain group of people," Johnson said. "We had him hosting a movie. A couple of times when we just had the movie, there was no significant slippage in the ratings. So that told me most people just wanted to watch the movie."

MANAGEMENT didn't understand The Ghoul, Sweed said. But he admits he had a role in it.

"I became really arrogant for awhile," Sweed said. "I burned a lot of bridges. I'd say 'Screw you I'm The Ghoul. I'll be on forever.' Well, you find out, No. 1, you're not on forever and just because you made a lot of money then doesn't mean you're going to be making it later."

Sweed still thinks The Ghoul could fly today, if given the chance.

He still has a number of fans in the Detroit area, receiving letters from them. Recently, there was a "Bring Back the Ghoul" exhibit at a science fiction convention at the Southfield Hilton.

Selling the concept of The Ghoul isn't easy, though. Sweed is paying the price for his rebellion.

"Why do it?," he said. "I've always been rebellious. If some station said, 'We'll put you on as The Ghoul,' but it was a total whitewash where I was a shadow of myself. I could not sell myself out like that."

Elstner clowns his way to top

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Chas Elstner can boast of being a real clown. He attended Ringling Brothers and Barnum Bailey's Clown School for three months in Venice, Fla., and even toured with the circus for awhile.

or fourth time he's tried out for the show. But, he added, some of today's better known jesters needed seven or eight tryouts before they were discovered on what is the comedic equivalent to the corner drugstore.

Elstner, 30, refuses to quit. That's not to say he hasn't thought about it. But there's always been someone there to give him a push. "In this business you're always asking, 'Why am I doing this to myself?'" said Elstner, who lives in Los Angeles. "This is so hard. Not so much being on stage, but the business of it."

Frequently, Elstner would give himself a month. If things didn't get better, he'd give up comedy.

Then after one show, a person came up to him and told him to stick with it. The person was George Carlin.

Again three years ago, when Elstner was about to call it quits, he received a phone call. Apparently, some hotshot comedian was going to be a regular on "Saturday Night Live." The Improv in Los Angeles asked Elstner to replace Dana ("The Church Lady") Carvey, who left for "Saturday Night Live."

Since then, Elstner hasn't looked back.

DOUBTS HAVE been replaced by determination. He's following through on a goal he's had from the first time he walked into The Improv in New York.

Instead of learning other comedians' styles, Elstner studied the profession. He found that Bill Cosby learned psychology, Steve Martin delved into philosophy and Charlie Chaplin practiced ballet.

Elstner took courses in those subjects at the University of Hawaii and a business class for good measure.

"I noticed most of them make it between the age of 30 and 32," said Elstner, who is at that age. "At 18, I said I have a lot of time to learn and to make mistakes."

Chas Elstner will perform on Wednesday through Saturday, Feb. 22-25, at Joey's Comedy Club, 36071 Plymouth, Livonia. For information, call 261-0555.

Belzer joins media in sizing up Bush

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

A presidential honeymoon period observed by comedians? Sure, especially if you're Richard Belzer.

And the politically observant humorist, somewhat like the media and Congress, is sizing up the Bush presidency in its infancy to see what it will bring in terms of material. As a source of laughs, President Bush has a tough act to follow.

"I think Reagan was easier to do jokes about than Bush will be," said Belzer, who will perform Wednesday through Saturday at Chaplin's in Fraser. "Everything is in limbo right now. Every one is trying to be nice and not face up to the reality of the mess Reagan left the country in."

"Quayle is one of the funniest creations in God's creation. He's a big, slow moving target."

"Bush is a hard one to figure out. He's gone through so many personality changes. He went from being a wimp to Superman. I was hard on him during the campaign. I guess people have short memories."

What's that saying on never talking about politics and religion? Belzer violates that with regularity. Those who make news are targets for his barbs — political, religious or otherwise.

The headliner's material is what he gleans from the headlines. Belzer reads five newspapers a day, including the New York Times, Washington Post and USA Today ("Not for intellectual stimulation," he said of the latter.)

"I'm still alive," he said.

Nonetheless, he's patented a sarcastic brand of humor that has earned him accolades from the top comedians of our time. Said the late John Belushi, "The best I've ever seen working directly with an audience." Added Robin Williams, "Wonderful when he's on the edge. The Marquis de Sade as a gameshow host."

Part of the Belzer success is said to be his spontaneity. He's been noted as one of the few comedians whose routine changes night to night.

Often preferring the quaint setting of small clubs, audiences have been known to become involved. Sometimes Belzer is considered harsh, although reports lately have him mellowing a bit.

"I've been accused of being easier on the audience, but I think that's not necessarily true," Belzer said. "Perhaps I haven't been concentrating on the audience as much because I've had more on my mind. I still talk to the audience quite a bit."

COMEDY IS not Belzer's only vice. He's also an actor, appearing in such films as "The Groove Tube," "Author, Author," "Fame," "Night Shift" and "Scarface."

Many comedians say they were class clowns. But Chas Elstner can boast of being a real clown.

In fact, the Chicago-raised comedian attended Ringling Brothers and Barnum Bailey's Clown School for three months in Venice, Fla. He even toured with the "Greatest Show on Earth" for awhile before moving on to the comedy stage.

And if P.T. Barnum himself said there was a sucker born every minute, the same might be said for sore feet. The 16-hour, six-day a week gruel was a hearty introduction to the world of show business.

"I'm out on the road now, and I hear guys being on the road two months at a time and complaining," said Elstner, who will appear Wednesday through Saturday, Feb. 22-25, at Joey's Comedy Club in Livonia. "I say, This is peanuts."

After 11 years of doing stand-up comedy, things are starting to crack open for Elstner. He's appeared on the Arts & Entertainment Network's "Good Time Cafe," the syndicated "An Evening at the Improv" and Showtime's "Comedy Network."

ON THE DAY of the interview, Elstner was preparing for an audition on "The Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson. It would be the third

The 'King': His memory lives on . . .

By Carolyn DeMarco
staff writer

Elvis may have "left the building," but the fans weren't leaving their seats.

Judging from the numbers who visited "Elvis: A Musical Celebration" last month at the Fox Theatre, "Elvis Lives!" or at least the legend of the King lives on, perpetuated by Kalamazoo sightings and Graceland birthday parties.

Mingling with the opening night hordes at the Fox were people costumed in everything from sequined cocktail dresses and fuxedoos to jeans and flannel shirts. They arrived in stretch limousines, luxury cars, pickup trucks and the city of Taylor senior citizen bus. More than one over-the-hill Elvis impersonator were among the faithful.

We asked a handful of them, "What qualifies you as a true blue, radical, fanatical Elvis follower?" and got varied responses.

JUDY ROCK and her 23-year-old daughter, Jodee Riley, came with two less fanatical friends. Rock had seen Elvis in person nine or 10 times, the last time at Olympia Arena in April 1977 just months before his death. She caught the traditional thrown scarf.

"How did he look then?" we asked.

"Fat," both friends answered.

"A little heavy," Rock contradicted, "but he was precious."

RILEY RECALLED the time she was 9 and a novice Elvis fan.

"My mother dragged me with her to Los Angeles to his home."

"Imagine," her mother said, "I was hanging on the gate waiting for him to come out. His car started coming and Aunt Jan said get out the way, he's not going to stop, but I knew he would."

"He tried to get Jodee to come to the car and I said, 'How about me?' but he wanted the little girl. She went up and touched his hand, but she wouldn't kiss him. I jumped on the hood of the car and got a picture of his chest and the gold chains."

That picture and dozens of others photos, plaques, plates and other memorabilia are on display in the Rock home in Warren.

Riley, newly married, said husband Steve won't let her bring it to their home.

"He's kind of jealous."

SKIP CHAMPAGNE, 38, of Inkster was accompanied by her husband, Bill. Skip, whose brother "gives tributes" (not impersonations) of Elvis, was dressed in a pink satin jacket with burgundy letters that spelled out "Elvis."

"I've got to be part of this," Skip said. "I went to Graceland on his 50th birthday."

While her 50th husband, Tom, shook his head, Jane Smithson of Troy was one of the few interviewed who admitted she owned a blue velvet painting of the King. Tom accompanied her and his sister, Mary Denmark, who first saw the Elvis movie "Love Me Tender" at the Fox Theatre in 1956.

Francis Wolaitis of Detroit sported a pompadour and sideburns in the manner of his hero. He went all the way to Las Vegas to see the Elvismania show, but it was sold out. When tickets went on sale for the Detroit show, he was in line early.

"Elvis is all he talks about," his stepson and brother-in-law said.

POLICE OFFICER Erich Laubert of St. Clair Shores likes Elvis so much, "he imitates him every year at our spring dance in a rented costume," his wife said.

"He does the whole bit with the '2001' opening and the scarves."

"The women screamed," Erich said, a grin on his face.

Jeff Dombrowski of Dearborn has 20 hours of news tapes of the day Elvis died.

"I would have had the whole 24 hours, but I ran out of reel," he said.

Two months after Elvis' death, Dombrowski went to Graceland "to stop by and take a look at the real radicals, the ones crying at the fence," he said.

"Am I a fan?" superfan Carol Campanella repeated. "When Elvis died I got sympathy cards. My boss gave me a day off to attend the funeral, but my boyfriend took my credit card. I only got as far as Woodhaven."

"I LIVE FOR Elvis and he lives for me," said Tanya Church, 25, of Royal Oak.

She went to Kalamazoo when she heard he was sighted at a fast food restaurant, "but I lived in Battle Creek at the time," she said. "It wasn't much of a trip."

Pat Nowasielski, 57, has dedicated one room of her Dearborn home to Elvis, but the memorabilia have spilled over into other rooms, including the bathroom in which a portrait of E.P. dominates. Friends have given her scarves, books, pictures and clocks.

A makeup artist, she saw Elvis at Olympia in '77 and at least 40 impersonators since. She does the makeup for many of them.

Sylvan Lake's John Dent, 26, has an Elvis record collection in the 1957 Wurlitzer jukebox he keeps in the kitchen.

"I try to emulate Elvis," the tall, handsome copywriter said, "especially when I dance. Except Elvis sneered and I like to smile."

NOT ALL members of the audience were pro-Elvis. Jill McCoy, 11, and sister Julie, 10, of Livonia were there with their mother and her best friend. The friend brought her daughters, Jodi and Amy Schwab of Milford.

"Our mothers wanted us to see what they did in the '60s," Amy said. "But we'd rather be at a hockey game."

Pat Patterson of Redford and a dozen other members of the Friends for Elvis Fan Club were at the Fox opening night. The newly formed sanctioned fan club generally meets on the 16th of the month at the Metro Hall, Plymouth and Beech Daly roads in Redford, to hear music and talk about their idol.

They recently held a party for Elvis' birthday (Jan. 8) and hired a local impersonator. Their next big event is a country-western night.

They welcome new followers. If you own a blue velvet picture, can sing all the words to "Kentucky Rain," know which radio station hosts the Sunday morning "Elvis Hour" and can spell Elvis' middle name, write Friends for Elvis, P.O. Box 19554, Detroit 48219.

ELVIS
A MUSICAL CELEBRATION

It's Europe 'a la mode' or doing it your way

By Iris Sanderson Jones
contributing travel editor

Q: We've already done a group tour to Europe. This time we want to go on our own. Please give us some tips on getting around and tell us how you meet local people.

B.C.,
West Bloomfield

A: In France, it was a school teacher who invited us to tour her father's vineyard in the Loire Valley. In Italy, it was the signora who fed us garlic shrimp and wine in the coastal village of Manarola. In Spain, it was the housewife who invited us into her home, where we got a magnificent view of the 17th century bridge in Ronda. In Germany, it was the postal worker who invited us to sit down at his table in an oompapa bar.

None of these small travel experiences were on our itinerary, but they are among our most treasured souvenirs of Europe. In each case we got off the beaten track to meet the ordinary people of an area. We traveled "a la mode." No, that doesn't mean "ice cream," it means having things your own way.

In some cases, we were traveling independently in a rental car. In others, we were on a tour and either defected for a day or stayed on after the tour was over. We have had great fun traveling in groups, but that fun is usually associated with other American travelers rather than the Europeans we came to "visit."

If you too treasure the small travel adventures that occur when you step off the main tourist track in Europe, you should follow some basic travel rules. Plan ahead, but wing it as much as you can after you get there. Go where the Europeans travel. Find out about special events, in case you are in the area when they happen. Learn a few words of a foreign language, but don't worry too much if you speak only English. You will do fine in Europe.

IF YOU plan to rent a car, do your homework in the U.S. Rental prices differ dramatically from country to country because of tax rates. France charges 28 percent tax. Your regular car insurance may include collision insurance on a rental car in North America, but it probably won't cover you overseas.

Collision insurance can add 50 to 75 percent to your rental bill, but there is an alternative. Some credit card companies, especially those that offer "gold" cards, provide free rental car collision insurance overseas to travelers who pay for their

the rental car with their credit card. It takes time to qualify so apply early.

If you are looking for the sun, consider southern Europe, especially the destinations that Europeans choose for their annual vacations. You will find the English, German and other European tourists, but practically no Americans, on the southern coast of Portugal and Spain, and in the Balearic Islands of Mallorca and Ibiza.

The only winter "snow" in the Balearic Islands is created by blizzards of almond blossoms; you can see them as early as January, but the group tour season booms in spring and fall. Most Europeans pick up a hotel or apartment for a week or two and do day trips around the islands.

If you are visiting Spain mid-summer, and you like crowds, the Running of the Bulls takes place in Pamplona July 7. It is part of the Festival of San Fermin. Barcelona is the site of the 1992 Olympics, but you won't see any sign of that yet. You will, however, find great summer music festivals in Santander, Granada and San Sebastian.

AS THE sun moves north into Germany, you can celebrate the 800th anniversary of the Port of Hamburg and the 1,000th anniversary of Bonn this year. The anniversary play at Oertramergau is not scheduled until 1990, but it is not too soon to start planning ahead for that!

Once you have chosen your itinerary, either on a tour or on your own, start digging through guide books and travel magazines in your local library for those wonderful off-road treasures. That's how we discovered the top-rated country restaurant Auberge de L'ill in Illhaeusern, in Alsace a few miles north of Colmar on the French side of the Rhine River. The wonderful meal we had there would have cost us hundreds of dollars in Paris.

You should also explore your in-Europe transportation. Air fares are high, but trains are both reasonable and comfortable. French National Railroads launched its new fast Atlantic TGV train to Nantes in January. In the fall, it will start service to Brittany and in June 1990 to Tours, Bordeaux and the Spanish border. They should be just as good as the fast TGV trains that already run from Paris to Lyon and south.

French National Railways offer a rail-car package. Air France offers air-rail-rental car packages. Air France, like several of the international airlines, are good sources of information for the countries they represent. Check the Automobile Club of Michigan or call the travel department of the Detroit Public Library for tourist office addresses. That will give you the hard facts. For the real travel experiences, take time to wander around, get lost and meet the people who live there.

WE MET the French school teacher because we stopped her on the street to ask a question in halting high school French. It was an unscheduled train trip into an unknown Italian village that led us to the signora. In Ronda, we stayed overnight instead of taking a day tour. After the tourists had gone, it was easy to slow down and talk to a lady tending her garden.

In Germany, where we wandered into a small bar after dinner, the tables were all occupied, but we were delighted to accept an invitation to join a German group. Just last week we got another post card from Adie, the postal worker, we met there. He doesn't speak a word of English and it doesn't matter a bit!

More on mildew

Q: Help! I live in a small cottage in a marshy area with wood paneled closets. Mold, mildew or a sour smell descends on my clothes in my closets if they aren't in zippered plastic bags. Egads, what can I do?

A: It sounds as if a dehumidifier would also be a nice addition to your cottage. Placed close to your closet, it should dry out the air noticeably. Louvered closet doors will allow air circulation, so your clothes won't feel so damp and cold when you put them on.

Finally, silica gels or calcium chloride granules are quite effective in retarding mold and mildew growth. Found in hardware and other stores under various brand names, they have an amazing ability to rid the air of that mildewy smell. Use them in basements in damp spring weather when furnaces no longer dry out the air; cottages, which are closed up for a period of time; or even in your home while you are gone on vacation. Follow instructions carefully.

After some of the above precautions have been taken, wash or have cleaned every article of clothing in your closet and keep only clean items there. Put non-cleanables like shoes in a bright, toasty warm place to air out completely.

When replacing items, make sure they are thoroughly dry and don't pack your clothes too tightly in your closet, so the air can circulate between them. Also remember that synthetic blends tend to retain mildew more than cotton.

By adding dry air and light, you can avoid cold starts in the mornings and your clothes will have a bright future.

Q: Can you help me cut my shopping time? An example: In the middle of other work I'll remember I need a greeting card and when I run out to get it, I end up browsing for other things.

A: Since shopping is usually more fun than work, many people use errands as an excuse to get out of other tasks.

First, consolidate your shopping. This takes planning. Schedule one time to buy all the greeting cards you'll need each month, keeping a few extra cards on hand to avoid emergency trips. If you are young and receive many wedding, baby and shower notices, invest more heavily in those cards. Sad but true, older folks should retain more get well and sympathy cards.

Do weekly meal planning and go to the grocery store only once a week. If you need something in between, add it to your list and adjust your menu, if necessary, instead of making another trip to the store.

Make only a few major clothes shopping trips per year, either when each season's clothes first arrive (when you'll pay premium prices) or during peak sales periods. For odds and ends, shop for specific items but cut browsing time.

One woman used to feel guilty during Christmas shopping forays because she would buy almost as much for herself as for others. Then she realized Fall was her busy period, affording little shopping time. Now she purposely saves winter clothes buying for December without guilt. She found Christmas shopping more fun this year and her time was well utilized by "killing two birds with one stone." Lots of attractive clothes are on sale then, too.

Another shopping tip: Organize your trips by direction. Keep a list of errands, then choose which you will do on a given day according to location. Chart your journey either in a circle or in a straight line. For the straight line, take an expressway to the farthest point, if possible, then work your way back on slower routes. If you run out of time, the unfinished errands will be closest to home.

Finally, schedule errands/shopping for certain days, i.e. always make your trips on Tuesday afternoons and Saturday mornings. When and how much time will vary with individuals, but such a plan will save time and family members will begin to respect that is when, and only when, you will run their errands.

WHAT'S NEW

The product: A smoke alarm that is less than half the size of comparable models on the market.

Manufacturer's claim: That this alarm is based on the National Fire Protection Association's recommendations... that a new smoke chamber provides the same smoke sensitivity as larger models, in half the space... that the model uses advances based on microchip technology... that it results from expressed consumer preferences for less obtrusive and more attractive alarms... that it is part of a program to provide appropriate smoke alarms for every area of the house... and that some models have false alarm controls to help prevent nuisance alarms in such places as the kitchen.

The system is manufactured by Jameson Home Products, 28209 Downers Grove, Ill. 60515.

Builders' show spreads out at new Cobo

The newly expanded Cobo Hall will be the site of the 1989 International Builders Home, Flower and Furniture Show, March 18-26, the largest show of its kind in the United States.

There will be more than 800 exhibition booths in the show, spanning 600,000 square feet — the entire top level of Cobo Hall. The show's nine-day run is expected to attract over a half million people.

This is the first year that the 71-year-old annual show takes on an international flavor, with exhibitors from around the world participating in the event.

Experts in every conceivable area of residential construction, heating and cooling, design, finance and remodeling will be on hand to demonstrate their wares and answer questions from the public.

THE LATEST TRENDS in home furnishings and construction will be exhibited. There will be actual demonstrations on many aspects of home remodeling, sure to be of interest to the do-it-yourself handyman.

The 1989 show will feature more actual model homes than ever. Manufactured homes, custom built modular homes, timber frame homes and homes made from logs will all be on display at the show!

Of course, it wouldn't be the popular "Builders Show" without the thousands of flowers, shrubs and greenery that will transform Cobo into a "breath of spring." An area more than the size of six football fields will be adorned with various landscaped gardens complete with gazebos, fountains, flowers, trees and lots of areas where visitors can sit and enjoy the sights and smells of spring. The flowering plants have been "tricked" into blooming early just in time for the show, using horticultural magic that rivals Mother Nature.

New to the show this year is a traveling pictorial exhibit from the Smithsonian Institute of Washington, D. C.

BACK THIS YEAR by popular demand are an elaborate arts and crafts display, the "House of Nails" contest where the winner gets $20,000, daily Treasure Chest drawing with prizes for the winners, as well as remote broadcasts from several of Detroit's best known radio stations.

Floral arrangements by Allied and FTD florists will adorn the show, and will be auctioned off on the closing day, with proceeds benefiting the March of Dimes.

For more information on the event, contact the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, 737-4477.

Condo auction rules

Q: I read about an auction on condominiums that is taking place in a "conversion." Are there any legal problems that you can think of regarding the "auction"?

A: Having just attended one of these condominium auctions, I can tell you that the developer requires that a successful bidder sign a purchase agreement immediately as the auction is completed and further requests that the purchaser waive the nine-business-day cooling off period which the condominium statutes gives a purchaser when buying a unit from a developer.

In most situations, the purchaser is best advised not to waive the cooling off period so as to be given an opportunity to thoroughly review the condominium documents, the purchase agreement, the disclosure statement, and to otherwise consult with legal counsel.

In the case of an auction, perhaps, you can review the condominium documents and consult with counsel before the auction if you are serious about bidding on a unit.

Another revelation that was gleaned from the auction was that the purchase price ended up not being significantly lower than the asking price for the condominiums which were being offered by the developer before the auction. This was due, in part, to the marketing skills of the auctioneer in enticing people to come to the auction and bidding in at the auction.

The same problems which are attendant with any purchase of a condominium are applicable at an auction with the additional caveat that the purchaser is presumably under increased pressure because of the auction setting and the lack of an opportunity to have the condominium documents reviewed by legal counsel in order to make an informed decision.

queries
Robert M.
Melsner

Keep in mind that an auction is generally a marketing device by the developer to liquidate a significant number of units in the condominium project.

Q: I am a prospective purchaser of a "site condominium" and don't understand really what it is all about. I have talked to a so-called condominium specialist who tells me he doesn't know very much about it either. I thought I would go to the authority and hope you can give me some direction.

A: Site condominiums are a hot item which are being promoted by various attorneys in this community on behalf of their developer clients. The idea is to sell either land or a cubical of space, as defined in the condominium documents, to a purchaser even though no improvements are actually sold by the developer to the purchaser, i.e., what the purchaser is really getting is land and air space.

The purchaser then contracts with his own building contractor for the construction of a unit on the "space" which he has purchased from the condominium developer. Obviously, limitations should be placed upon the type of structure that can be constructed by the purchaser.

The problem with the concept is that various municipalities believe it is a subterfuge for getting around the Subdivision Control Act. Currently, the attorney general is in the process of writing an opinion concerning the propriety of site condos.

You Can Get Into Muirwood FOR $40 A MONTH But Only Through The 24-Hour Manned Gatehouse.

The peace of mind of a round-the-clock manned gatehouse and electronic door entries are only part of Muirwood's abundance.

There's so much light, so many windows, so much room. Windows and eating space in most kitchens. A private balcony or patio. Beautiful window treatments. Lots of storage, huge closets. Covered attached parking.

Then, there's the incredibly large pool with spa. The lighted tennis and volleyball courts. Spectacular Clubhouse with party facilities and a lending library. A private 12-acre nature trail. A pond and rolling hills.

"I finally found a townhome as large as a home."

"I looked long and hard to find a 2000 sq. ft., cathedral ceiling elegant three-bedroom townhome. (Of course, I could have chosen a two-bedroom ranch). With my own two-car attached garage, my own private basement and patio. And luxury touches like deluxe kitchens and whirlpool tubs plus landscaping that I love. Nothing could get me to move from Covington. Nothing."

S U B U R B A N L I F E ' S
MONTHLY ALBUM

Monday February 20, 1989

Just for brides

The Monthly Album is published the third Monday of each month for the announcements of engagements and weddings.

Engagement announcements will be accepted no later than 45 days prior to the wedding. Wedding announcements must be submitted with 60 days following the wedding. All announcements are run on a space available, first-come, first-served basis.

Photos submitted should be black and white glossies, preferably 5-by-7 inches in size. Color photos can be submitted, and will be accepted, but they do not reproduce as well.

Due to the volume of photographs handled, the newspaper will not be responsible for any that may get lost or damaged. Photos can be picked up in the office where the information was submitted after publication. Or, if a self-addressed, sufficiently stamped envelope is received with the photo, it will be returned.

Engagement and wedding announcements pertinent to Livonia, Redford, Garden City and Westland are to be addressed to Sue Mason, Livonia Observer, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Engagement and wedding announcements pertinent to Farmington and Farmington Hills are to be addressed to Loraine McClish, Farmington Observer, 33203 Grand River, Farmington 48024.
