Mayor Robert Thomas postponed a press conference Monday that was scheduled to announce a plan to keep all four Westland fire stations open continually, ending the periodic closing of one or two stations for up to 24 hours at a time.

But the president of the Westland Firefighters Association said Friday that the plan - as presented to him by Thomas last week isn't likely to get union support and could face a legal challenge if implemented.

Thomas had scheduled a press conference for 2 p.m. today at city hall, but postponed it Monday morning. The announcement may be made in about 10 days, his executive secretary

Asked if he intended to put forward a proposal to keep the city's fire stations open continually. Thomas said that "might be a good guess, but I can't really say.'

THOMAS SAID he has had several meetings to discuss the fire station closings with administration officials and Fire Chief Larry Lane since taking office Jan. 1.

He said talks have included the union "to a certain degree."

The periodic fire station closings were an issue in last fall's mayoral campaign, in which Thomas defeated incumbent Charles Griffin. Thomas vowed during the campaign to find a way to keep all city fire stations open continu-

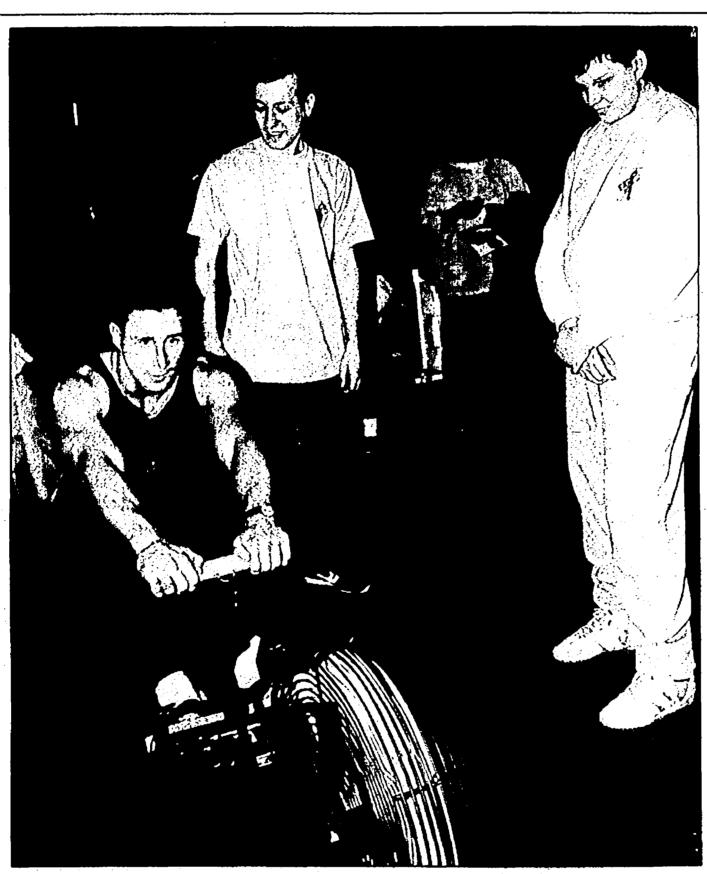

Kevin Riley, union president, said Thomas' proposal would have as a minimum a rescue vehicle operating continually out of all four stations — at Ford and Carlson (the main station), Newburgh and Palmer, Merriman and Ann Arbor Trail and Palmer west of Merri-

The plan doesn't call for hiring additional firefighters, Riley said.

"The union is not real happy with it," Riley said of the proposal. "Our main concern is that this will come at the expense of the minimum manning agreement we worked out (in 1988)."

Impaired students get help to stay fit

A quick glance at all the brand new exercise equipment might lead you to confuse this Wayne Memorial High School classroom for the main gym at Vic Tanny.

But the people using the rowing machine and exercise bikes aren't your typical health club clientele. And that, says teacher Lisa Colucci, is exactly the point.

'We saw a need for this because many impaired kids don't get a lot of physical activity," Colucci said.

The fitness room for TMI (trainable mentally impaired) students at Wayne Memorial opened Thursday. The room is the result of a $5,000 grant secured by Colucci, Robert Lynn and program director Jack Martin last year.

Peter Nielsen of Farmington

7-10 percent turnout for tax vote seen

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

A voter turnout of 7 to 10 percent in Thursday's Wayne-Westland millage election was forecast last week by Eleanor Harrington, elections clerk for the school district.

"I really haven't had much of an indication that it's going to be different than the previous few years, Harrington said.

Harrington said there are just over 68,000 registered voters in the district, meaning anywhere from 5,000 to 7,000 will vote on three millage-related proposals.

About 7 percent of the district's registered voters cast ballots to approve a $12.9 million bond issue in January 1988. The bond issue and a millage increase were on the ballot in April 1987 when 7,100, or 10.8 percent turned out at the polls.

Proposals on Thursday's ballot call for: • Renewal of 2.75 operating mills scheduled to expire in June. • Approval of a 4.9-mill increase for a two-year period. • Override the district's current Headlee rollback of slightly over half mill.

HARRINGTON SAID she had sent out about 500 absentee ballots through Wednesday. That number was "typical" for the week before an election, she said.

Absentee ballots can be picked up from the district anytime before the

Murder victim not abducted — police

By Joe Bauman staff writer

Police investigators have all but ruled out the possibility that a Livonia school district custodian murdered Jan. 26 in Detroit was abducted from Livonia prior to his slaying.

Instead, Detroit homicide detectives believe that 60-year-off Frederick Tyler, who worked at Emerson Middle School, may have been the victim of a random theft/homicide.

Emerson, on W. Chicago east of Middlebelt, serves the northeast section of Westland.

TYLER WAS shot in the back shortly after 8:40 p.m., just moments after visiting a convenience store in the 16600 block of Lamphere, near Six Mile and Grand River. He was rushed to Mt. Carmel Hospital, where he died later that night in the emergency room.

Reports following Tyler's death suggested he may have been abducted from an area mall where he was known to walk in the evening, but a Detroit homicide detective said that scenario is inconsistent with infor-

District to roll back tax rate, but tax bills will rise anyway By Marie Chestney

For the third year in a row, Westland homeowners in the Livonia school district can expect a school tax rate reduction. But property tax bills will continue to rise because property values have increased.

a tax rate reduction, the only question will be, 'how much?'" said finance director Michael Furlong.

In 1989-90, the district trimmed Its tax rate from 35.4 to 33.25 mills, or a cut of 3.5 percent. But tax bills went up as assessments rose an av-

"If this thing goes as planned we'd be spreading manpower real thin," Riley said.

Another concern is that the proposal could force firefighters to choose between taking an EMS rescue vehicle or a fire truck on some runs, but not both, Riley said. "What happens when we get into a situation where there's a fire and somebody hurt?" he salda consider the union concerns over the weekend before announcing the plan, Riley said.

The union would consider going to court to block the plan if no changes are made, he added.

The union negotiated a minimum manning clause into its contract with the city in February, 1988, after failing to gain voter approval of a charter amendment to increase the minimum number of on-duty firefighters the previous fall.

The contract required that a minimum of two firefighters per vehicle respond to every call. Firefighters say the provision is necessary to ensure firefighter safety and adequate response to fire calls.

To fulfill the minimum manning requirement, the city periodically closes fire stations on a rotating basis for up to 24 hours at a time.

The current union contract expires June 30.

A John Glenn High School senior won first runner-up honors in the Michigan Junior Miss/Young Woman of the Year program in Marshall, while a classmate won first place in two categories.

Jill Szukaitis, who was the first runner-up in the Wayne-Westland Junior Miss program last November, won the same honor in the state event during the Jan. 27-28 weekend and was awarded $1,000 in scholarship money.

The 1990 Wayne-Westland Junior Miss, Shelly Bialo, won the talent portion of the contest, with a costumed dance routine to a song from the musical "Cats," and the poise/ evening gown segment of the program. She was awarded $600 in scholarship money.

In the state program, Szukaitis was second only to winner Catherine Keckler, representing Kalamazoo Valley.

DURING THE stay in Marshall, the contestants had tours of the community and attended a workshop, a Disney costume party and special dinners in their honor, said cochairperson Lisa Lehman.

"We are proud of our girls," said Tony Rosati, the Wayne-Westland co-chairman. "They won three of the eight major awards this year from a group of 24 outstanding young ladies from around the state of Michigan."

Continental Cablevision videotaped the program, which will be shown this month on Channel 11 in the Westland cable system.

Harris, formerly a western Wayne County resident, was recently named vice president of new business ventures for The Family Channel, an offshoot of the Christian Broad Ronald Harris casting Network.

"It's a completely different entity." Harris said. "The principles are the same, however - wholesome family entertainment."

He'll direct expansion of the cable channel globally and develop network ventures in the United States and abroad, Family Channel president Tim Robertson said.

THE Family Channel already bears Harris' stamp, however.

He created the "on-air" look the whole image for the new cable

"That means all the graphics, animation, theme music - what's projected across the TV screen and the mood it creates," Harris said. "Everything between programming and paid advertising . . . done to establish a viewership."

Before his stint at CBN, Harris had been vice president for advertising and promotion over three cable networks owned by Ted Turner -CNN, Headline News and the TBS Superstation.

His responsibilities there included strategic positioning, planning and production of all print and video marketing for the three channels.

· IT'S A far cry from what he started out to do. Harris said in a phone interview recently from his Virginia Beach, Va., office.

Utility growth sparks 12,800 posts

More than 12,800 jobs were created in 1989 by new and expanding major businesses and industry in Consumers Power Company's lower Michigan service area, according to information compiled by the utility.

The company's economic development statistics show 116 new plants and major businesses opened in its 27,800-square-mile Lower Peninsula service area last year while another 85 enlarged their operations.

These new and expanding businesses meant more than 12,800 new jobs and more than 11,800 square feet of construction in Consumers Power's market area.

"Michigan's economy continued its diversification and growth during 1989, with plant additions and new plants in not just the transportation industry, but also in pharmaceuticals, office furniture, industrial machinery, plastics and other businesses," said Frederick W. District to cut tax rate — not taxes

if assessments rise more than infla-

Without the rollback, taxes could have risen up to 10 percent without a vote of the taxpayers.

WITH ASSESSMENTS expected to rise about 10 percent in Westland this year, and the cost of living running about 5 percent, the district should lower its tax rate even more, · Furlong said.

One thing the district won't do, Furlong said, is seek a Headlee waiver from voters. A waiver would allow property taxes to rise faster than the rate of inflation.

The district will set its tax rate at a Truth in Taxation hearing in May, about the same time it completes its budget for 1990-91. The current budget is $86.5 million.

LIKE MANY out-of-formula districts around the state, Livonia is fearful that the state next year might force out-of-formula districts to pay the employers' half of Social Security taxes.

The state currently pays this bill, which for Livonia's 2,000 employees amounts to $4 million. Whether this shift is made has a big bearing on how much of a taxrate cut Livonia residents can expect in 1990-91, Furlong said.

"There's a very strong discussion going on about this," Furlong said. "The state's funding is tight, and they're looking at ways to fund informula school districts. This is the biggest unknown factor in our new

Through the schools' newsletter "Dialogue," residents are being reminded to seek a reduction in their 1989 taxes by seeking a Homestead Property Tax or "circuit breaker" credit from the state on their 1989 income tax.

"There are some people in town who are unaware of their eligibility and don't file," Furlong said. "Some people think it is only a low-income credit.'

In 1989-90, the district's fund equity balance was $10.2 million.

Water rates going up

But not every consumer will feel pinch

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Water rates are going up for area communities and for most - but not all - homeowners.

The Detroit Water and Sewerage Department last week announced plans to raise rates charged to its suburban customers. Rates for Western Wayne communities will generally increase 7.5-8.5 percent. (For individual rates, see accompanying chart.)

Not all communities plan to pass the increase along to consumers.

"We've looked at it but it doesn't appear there'll be a rate increase at this time," said Doug Pakkala, Livonia public utility manager.

Livonia is one of the Detroit system's biggest customers, buying water for industrial and home use. While each local community has its own water department, all buy water from Detroit. Local rates. however, are set by city councils and township boards. Many area communities haven't yet decided on 1990 water rates.

"IT'S UP to the the township board to decide, but we haven't passed an increase on to the consumer in five years," said Ron Carvl, superintendent of Redford's water department.

'In Westland, city officials won't decide until the Detroit system holds a public hearing on the new charges

"I plan to go, then afterward I'll get together with our mayor and a we'll discuss what to do," said Westland water superintendent Douglas Tredinnick.

Garden City also hasn't yet decid-

Some communities have already announced increases.

Plymouth Township rates will rise July 1, but not necessarily because of the Detroit increase.

"Because we're going in with Ypsilanti on sewer treatment we sold bonds through the Western Townships Utility Association," said township spokesman Tom Hollis.

The $86 million bond issue also includes Canton and Northville town-

Water rates in the city of Plymouth will also be going up as of July 1, a city spokeswoman said.

Plymouth, one of the area's smallest consumers buys about 500 million gallons of water each year. In contrast, Westland buys about three trillion gallons.

Canton's projected increase ,-2.05 percent — is well below that for other communities. Township officials said the substantially smaller increase occurred because Canton recently paid off a 30-year-old water

"ESSENTIALLY, our increase is less because our base rate is less," said chief township financial officer John Spencer. "We were paying on a line we put in along Cherry Hill in the early 1960s and that contract just expired."

The average increase for all Detroit water customers is estimated at 8.8 percent, said system financial manager Trent Hicks. Suburban customers are also bracing for increased sewer charges but many said they didn't know what those increases would be.

Capital improvements and rising worker salaries and benefits were given as reasons for the increase Increases are subject to Detroit City Council approval. While suburban leaders can speak at the public hearing, they cannot' veto increases for their communities.

The Detroit system is one of the nation's largest, pumping water throughout much of southeastern Michigan.

Distance from Detroit is one of a number of factors used to determine local charges, Hicks said, but it isn't necessarily the most important fac-

"That (distance) is one of the things we consider, but we also consider elevation, peak use and other factors," he said.

Suburbs pay Detroit for water - up goes the bill

DAVID FRANK/graphics editor

The Detroit water system is raising rates for the suburban communities it serves. While most communities expect to pass the increase along to consumers, homeowners' individual increases might not be known for several weeks.

Bill calls for deposit on batteries

AP - Consumers would have to pay a $6 deposit on every car battery they buy under a bill to control the dumping of batteries in Michigan's landfills.

Legislation imposing the surcharge was approved last Tuesday by the House Conservation, Recreation and Environment Committee.

The $6 deposit on lead acid batteries would be refunded when a used battery is returned. Anyone who improperly disposes of a battery would be fined $25.

Proponents of the Senate-passed legislation say batteries can contaminate the environment by leaking their heavy metal content or through incineration.

About 80 percent of the automotive batteries already are recycled, said the bill's sponsor, Sen. Vernon Ehlers, R-Grand Rapids.

"The issue is not whether to take them out of the waste stream, the real issue is how to deal with them," Ehlers said.

The bill doesn't address most household batteries, such as nickel cadmium rechargeable batteries and mercury batteries, which are believed to be two of the most hazardous for the environment.

A task force will study how to deal smaller batteries.

with those batteries and report to the committee before Dec. 31.

Some lawmakers expressed concern that going ahead with the lead acid battery portion of the legislation would endanger eventual passage of a more controversial nickel cadmium agreement.

"If the industry doesn't come up with a mechanism in that time, then we'll come up with a mechanism they don't like," said Rep. James Middaugh, R-Paw Paw, vice chairman of the conservation committee.

Ehlers said the committee would review having a deposit on the

REASONS FOR THE VARIABILITY OF ARTHRITIS

One of the most certain aspects of arthritis is its unpredictability! One day you will hurt in the wrists and hands, and the next morning find that pain is gone, replaced by irritable shoulders and ankles.

Much of this variability has an explanation. You may take the same medi cine daily, but you cannot be sure that the same amount is reaching your joints each day. For example, episodes of diarrhea or constipation may change the absorption of medicine; food or drugs may have the same effect. Once in the body, arthritic drugs are broken down by enzymes whose changing activity can lead to a substantial variance in drug concentration.

Also, there are swings in the stress you place on your joints. While each day may seem the same to you, your joints may be experiencing marked changed in strain as they are confronted by rain, ice, high van steps, and low chair or car seats.

In addition, joint inflammation may make its presence known after periods of seeming inactivity, when in fact there was a slow build up of increasing irritation. Thus, what may appear to you as quirky changes in joints usually is the result of related events in the body's response to inflammation.

Task force eyes ways to boost the use of recycled newsprint

AP - Saving landfill space by boosting the use of recycled newsprint will be the goal of a joint effort of the Michigan newspaper industry and state government, Gov. James Blanchard says.

The governor will chair a task force that will try to more than triple the amount of recycled newsprint used by the state's papers.

"Michigan is a national leader in reducing and recycling solid waste. We must do more to encourage recycling and create new markets for recycled materials," Blanchard said last week in a speech at the winter meeting of the Michigan Press Association.

Newspapers use about 7 percent recycled newsprint. The task force's target is to boost that to 24 percent by 1995.

Publishers said meeting that goal depends on their ability to obtain recycled newsprint that's competitive in price, quality and sup-

Members of the task force are: Richard Aginian, president of Suburban Communications Corp., the parent company of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers; Malcolm Applegate, publisher of the Lansing State Journal; Jim Brown, president of Inco Development Corp., Benjamin Burns, publisher of the Macomb Daily and the Daily Tribune; Leif Christensen, president of Manistique Papers Inc.; Robert Giles, publisher of The Detroit News; James Grisso, publisher of the Gaylord Herald Times; David Hales, director of the De-

Allen Wamsley, publisher of the Huron Daily Tribune, and F.T. Weaver, publisher of the Jackson Citizen Patriot.

On other subjects, Blanchard said this year's legislative session still can be productive, but he expects to see a lot of jockeying on the budget.

Some observers expect this year's session to become bogged down in battling between Blanchard, a Democrat who's expected to seek a third term, and Senate Majority Leader John Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, who plans to announce next month that he'll oppose Blanchard.

The governor said he expected the main battling to be on the budg-

"Even though revenues will be tor.

up $300 million, demand for those !dollars will be upwards of a billionand everyone will promise everyone they'll get more," he said.

Blanchard also said: • A maximum effort must be made to make sure every Detroit, citizen is counted in the new census and keep the city's population from dropping below a million, which would mean a loss of millions of dollars in federal revenues.

• State drug czar Donald Reisig, a former prosecutor and for-, mer judge, has a better grasp of the drug problem and possible solutions than national drug czar Wil-. liam Bennett. He said that meant no disrespect to Bennett, but recognized that Relsig had a better background for the job.

• Drug czars deserve an "A" for effort, but a "D" for results. "We've built a lot of prisons, but if that's all you do, we'll never get a handle on it."

• Michigan State University officials and backers should work to overcome the furor generated by the appointment of football coach George Perles to be athletic direc-

Piano class for elementary students

Here's a roundup of what's new with the Continuing Education Services division at Schoolcraft College. For information, call 462-4448:

• Tomoko Mack of Plymouth will be teaching an 18-week class for beginning elementary school-age piano students. Enrollment is limited to 10. The class meets for an hour Saturday mornings, with students receiving 30 minutes of individual training during the week.

Orientation and registration will be Feb. 10. at noon in room 301 of the Forum Building.

• A course is being offered on how to choose a business computer system for your office. Topics include analyzing hardware and software, working with vendors, terminology and implementing a system. The course fee is $37 and is taught 6-8 p.m. Thursdays for eight weeks beginning Feb. 8.

 A series of courses is offered in February and March for improving old business skills or developing new ones. Classes include introduction to Wordperfect, Wordperfect features, using PC-DOS on the IBM microcomputer, fundamentals of finance and accounting, managing and resolving conflict, tax-deferred investments, attaining financial security for retirement, sales techniques and real estate investment.

• An overview of General Motors' supplier requirements will be taught at a workshop from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 15. The fee is $95 and includes lunch.

Topics include assessment, problem reporting and resolution, supplier performance indicators, parts certification and on-site assessment.

Bill calls for deposit on batteries

AP - Consumers would have to pay a $6 deposit on every car battery they buy under a bill to control the dumping of batteries in Michigan's landfills.

Legislation imposing the surcharge was approved last Tuesday by the House Conservation, Recreation and Environment Committee.

The $6 deposit on lead acid batteries would be refunded when a used battery is returned. Anyone who improperly disposes of a battery would be fined $25.

Proponents of the Senate-passed legislation say batteries can contaminate the environment by leaking their heavy metal content or through incineration.

About 80 percent of the automotive batteries already are recycled, said the bill's sponsor, Sen. Vernon Ehlers, R. Grand Rapids.

"The issue is not whether to take them out of the waste stream, the real issue is how to deal with them." Ehlers said.

The bill doesn't address most household batteries, such as nickel cadmium rechargeable batteries and mercury batteries, which are beheved to be two of the most hazardous for the environment.

A task force will study how to deal with those batteries and report to the committee before Dec. 31.

Some lawmakers expressed concern that going ahead with the lead acid battery portion of the legislation would endanger eventual passage of a more controversial nickel cadmium agreement.

"If the industry doesn't come up with a mechanism in that time, then we'll come up with a mechanism they don't like," said Rep. James Middaugh, R-Paw Paw, vice chairman of the conservation committee.

Ehlers said the committee would review having a deposit on the smaller batteries.

REASONS FOR THE VARIABILITY OF ARTHRITIS

One of the most certain aspects of arthritis is its unpredictability! One day you will hurt in the wrists and hands, and the next morning find that pain is gone replaced by irritable shoulders and ankles. Much of this variability has an explanation. You may take the same medi cine daily, but you cannot be sure that the same amount is reaching your joints each day. For example, episodes of diarrhea or constipation may change the absorption of medicine; food or drugs may have the same effect.

Once in the body, arthritic drugs are broken down by enzymes whose chang-Ing activity can lead to a substantial variance in drug concentration. Also, there are swings in the stress you place on your joints. While each day may seem the same to you, your joints may be experiencing marked changed in strain as they are confronted by rain, ice, high van steps, and low

In addition, joint inflammation may make its presence known after periods of seeming inactivity, when in fact there was a slow build up of increasing Irritation. Thus, what may appear to you as quirky changes in joints usually is the result of related events in the body's response to inflammation.

Task force eyes ways to boost the use of recycled newsprint;

AP - Saving landfill space by boosting the use of recycled newsprint will be the goal of a joint effort of the Michigan newspaper industry and state government, Gov. James Blanchard says.

. The governor will chair a task force that will try to more than triple the amount of recycled newsprint used by the state's papers.

"Michigan is a national leader in reducing and recycling solid waste. We must do more to encourage recycling and create new markets for recycled materials," Blanchard said last week in a speech at the winter meeting of the Michigan Press Association.

Newspapers use about 7 percent recycled newsprint. The task force's target is to boost that to 24 percent by 1995.

Publishers said meeting that goal depends on their ability to obtain recycled newsprint that's competitive in price, quality and sup-

The newsprint recycling task force has as its members publishers, printers, recycled newsprint manufacturers, and representatives from the state Departments of Commerce and Natural Reproduction director of Booth Newspapers, Alan Lenhoff, special projects director for the Detroit Newspaper Agency; Larry Meyer, director of the Department of Commerce; Ray Pike, publisher of the Mount Pleasant Morning Sun; Karen Spang, publisher of the Hamtramck Citizen; John Stafford, publisher of the Greenville Daily News, H. Allen Wamsley, publisher of the Huron Daily Tribune, and F.T. Weaver, publisher of the Jackson Citizen Patriot.

Members of the task force are: Richard Aginian, president of Suburban Communications Corp., the parent company of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Malcolm Applegate, publisher of the Lansing State Journal; Jim Brown, president of Inco Development Corp.; Benjamin Burns, publisher of the Macomb Daily and the Daily Tribune; Leif Christensen, president of Manistique Papers Inc.; Robert Giles, publisher of The Detroit News; James Grisso, publisher of the Gaylord Herald Times; David Hales, director of the Department of Natural Resources;

On other subjects, Blanchard said this year's legislative session still can be productive, but he expects to see a lot of jockeying on the budget.

Some observers expect this year's session to become bogged down in battling between Blanchard, a Democrat who's expected to seek a third term, and Senate Majority Leader John Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, who plans to announce next month that he'll oppose Blanchard.

The governor said he expected the main battling to be on the budg-

"Even though revenues will be up $300 million, demand for those :dollars will be upwards of a billion. and everyone will promise every-vi one they'll get more," he said.

Blanchard also said:

• A maximum effort must be made to make sure every Detroit, citizen is counted in the new census and keep the city's population from dropping below a million, which would mean a loss of millions of dollars in federal revenues.

• State drug czar Donald Reisig, a former prosecutor and former judge, has a better grasp of the drug problem and possible solutions than national drug czar Wil-. liam Bennett. He said that meant no disrespect to Bennett, but recognized that Reisig had a better background for the job.

• Drug czars deserve an "A" for effort, but a "D" for results. "We've built a lot of prisons, but if that's all you do, we'll never get a handle on it."

• Michigan State University officials and backers should work to overcome the furor generated by the appointment of football coach George Perles to be athletic direc-

Turn-offs

Threats of cuts can backfire

EVERY POLITICAL campaign has a personality of its own.

It doesn't matter if the campaign involves partisan candidates fighting a legislative position or groups supporting a ballot proposal without opposition.

Millage elections pose a different type, of campaign and, involve a set of dynamics that is sometimes hard for the typical voter to comprehend. severly slashed without the new Voting patterns across the Detroit money. area usually reflect the contrasts of the personalities of campaigns.

For example, Bloomfield Hills school district voters last week rejected a building program to be financed by bonds. Some residents may have merely felt that the money and building proposal wasn't needed.

But the city commission in that district publicly opposed the building proposal because the four elements were lumped together in one ballot question instead of being separated so voters would have the chance to support or oppose them on their mérits.

In typical millage elections, parents who are usually supportive of tax proposals to improve the local education programs get turned off many times because their youngsters come home from school bearing tales of teachers who warn of dire program cutbacks if the millage increase isn't approved.

THE TEACHERS, so say the kids, are saying that sports, debate, the school musical and other extra-curricular programs may be dropped or Never mind that the youngsters may have misunderstood the teachers' comments or garbled the misinterpretation when relaying them at the dinner table.

Voters typically decide elections on their perceptions, not cold, hard

Another set of dynamics depends on the personality and communication skills of the school official making a millage or bond issue presentation at a parents' group.

IN SOME instances, the official gets defensive, turning off his/her audience. In other cases, the school officials clearly communicate the district's problems without letting the audience being forced into feeling guilty if parents feel inclined to vote against the ballot proposal.

Other dynamics concern the political history of the community.

If recalls have been successful in the past, voters feel they have the upper hand with the public officials feeling defensive and sometimes afraid to demonstrate a strong backbone.

In one Oakland County community, three members of a five-member city council were dumped at re-election time because voters didn't like the way a new city hall was financed. In reality, the building was paid with budget surpluses accumulated over the years. Since the building was paid in cash, there was no borrowing or interest charges. From a financial view, it was the only way

BUT VOTERS in that town felt that they should have had a voice on whether a new city hall should have been built in the first place, regardless of the way it was paid for.

Memories have since faded, but for many years, council members in . that community were deathly afraid of making any major capital improvement expenditures for fear of being recalled or losing a re-election bid.

Logically, there is no reason for that community to hold a grudge forever, dooming future projects needed by the city's residents. But emotionally, the political atmosphere was spoiled for many years.

ON THE other hand, Garden City school officials were successful in getting a $12 million building program approved by a 3-2 margin in June of 1987.

The dynamics of that campaign was that most of the money would be earmarked for the high school, a 37year-old structure. The last major academic addition to the building was 30-years-old. Most of the building was antiquated and not effective for a curriculum being planned for students who would graduate in the 21st century.

Campaign leaders stressed the lack of improvements at the school in the previous three decades and invited parents to tour the school to get a first hand look.

It worked.

tion published a booklet for school boards and local teachers' unions years ago on how to run a successiu millage or bond campaign.

The bottom line is that each campaign is as different as individual persons and that the campaigns should be tailored to what the voters' needs are at the moment.

If the local history is ignored, then the ballot proposal is doomed.

Problem goes beyond those red ribbons

COMING OUT OF Detroit, heading west on the Jeffries, doing about 60 miles an hour — five miles over the limit.

Everybody else is passing me. One guy in particular, driving a big black sedan, cruises by in the inside lane. He's doing at least 70, maybe 75.

Later, moving east on Cherry Hill, trying to stay on the road. It's covered with slush and ice and when I pump the brake a quarter of a block from the stop light, I start to slide sideways, Whoops. Take it easy.

I keep checking my rearview mirror, keeping an eye on the jerk in the BMW who's been tailgating me for the last two blocks. I hope neither one of us has to stop suddenly. Somebody's gonna get bashed.

And still later, sitting in the car on the Target parking lot, waiting for my son to finish his shopping so we can go home, I'm watching this woman trying to park. There's plenty of room in the parking space she's going for, but someone has left a shopping cart near the front and right of the spot.

If she'd just pull in straight, she'd have no problems. But she's coming in at an angle. She pulls in, straddling the yellow line between the spaces, brings the front end of her car to within a inch or two of the cart and stops. She's parked. Not very well, but she's parked. Then she starts to back up and cuts her wheels to the left. Her car bumps the shopping cart, which spins around, starts rolling and smashes into the car in the next spot. She shuts off the engine, gets out and goes into the store. Doesn't even look at the cart sitting against the other

Three incidents typifying life in the Motor City and its environs.

BUT ALL OF these drivers had one thing in common: They had red ribbons displayed prominently on their cars. The guy roaring along the Jeffries had four of them - one on each of his two radio antennas and two more attached to the door han-

The ribbons, of course, for the benefit of Punxsutawney Phil and anyone else who has been hibernating all winter, have been distributed by Mothers Against Drunk Driving and various other organizations (including this newspaper) as a part of the 'Tie One On'' campaign.

They're supposed to remind people not to drink and drive. That's good.

But some of the drivers who tied them on seem to have missed the point. Or maybe they just took the message too literally.

By their actions they are saying it's OK to drive like a jerk as long as you're a sober jerk. I've got a problem with that.

The problem goes beyond watching clowns with red ribbons flying from their cars driving like idiots. The problem lies with what such actions represent. It's the mindless bandwagon effect at its worst.

TODAY IT'S "in" to be against many things - drugs, ugly signs, underage drinking, smoking, racism, soft porn, hard porn, overdevelopment, drunk driving, fur coats, ad infinitum. Some of the causes are noble, some are questionable. Almost all are complex issues with no simple solutions.

But too many people take the simple-minded approach. Too often they join the cause just because it's popular. They don't consider the complexity of the issue. If pornegraphy offends them, they're ready to close the newsstand that sells it. If racism is perceived, make it illegal to utter ethnic slurs. If drugs are a problem, just say no.

It's stupid and dangerous and illegal to drive when you are drunk. It's also stupid and dangerous and illegal to drive like a lunatic when you are

The people and organizations passing out those red ribbons recognize this. They are trying to make a specific point against drunk driving. But reckiess driving can be just as

And it's even more stupid to drive like a jerk if you're flying a red ribbon from your antenna. You're sending a message, but it's the wrong

Senate amendment jeopardizes asbestos inspections in state

By Tim Richard staff writer

The state Senate is tied in knots over bills to keep asbestos inspectors on the job.

Deadlocked senators this weeek will try again to pass the bills amid charges that Michigan's asbestos removal rules are too strict.

"The state shouldn't have higher standards than the federal government," complained Sen. John Schwarz, R-Battle Creek. He tried to amend the package to lower Michigan's standards to the federal level — an amendment that would have thrown the bills into a timeconsuming conference committee.

Schwarz was joined by Senate majority leader John Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, whose gubernatorial campaign will emphasize deregulation of business.

THEY WERE opposed by Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, who was guiding the bills through floor debate. The bills would impose 1 percent fees on asbestos removal contractors to pay for the Public Health Department's inspection program.

"We're tying up this package and eliminating the inspectors," said Dillingham, whose Senate Human Resources Committee reported out the bills.

"We're going to have no one out there protecting the public for three or four months. To tie-bar (Schwarz's amendment) to the fee bill destroys the whole package," Dillingham argued.

REPLIED SCHWARZ, a physician and surgeon: "It's irresponsible for the state to rush pell-mell into a situation."

Much asbestos insulation, he lungs. We are developing a cottage tos.'

industry - asbestos removal because there's so much government money in it.

"Over 90 percent of asbestos does not contain cancer-causing compounds. It's time for us to back off this thing and not throw away millions of dollars."

Added Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville: "The federal government has a screwball rule that is wasteful of money and health."

SCHWARZ'S AMENDMENT was adopted, but Dillingham won 16-15 approval of a procedural move to send the package to the Appropriations Commmittee.

Supporting Dillingham were Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills; Richard Fessler, R-Commerce, and George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn.

Supporting Schwarz were Doug Cruce, R-Troy, and Geake. William Faust, D-Westland, and Rudy Nichols, R-Waterford, had excused absences. The package included House Bills 4222 through 4226. "These fees would raise about $500,000." Dillingham said. "Six asbestos inspectors are due to be laid off Feb.

"The whole budget is predicated on passage of these fee bills.

Rep. Ford to get key post

By Wayne Peal staff writer

U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, is scheduled to become chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, a move seen as strengthening the 25-year representative's power base.

Ford, whose district includes southern Livonia, Westland, Canton and Garden'City will become chairman with retirement of Rep. Augustus Hawkins, D-Cal., at the close of Congress this year.

To do so, Ford will give up his current post as chairman of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, though he will retain his committee seat.

"They don't want you to wear too many hats around here," said Ford, who added it would have been "page one news in Washington" if he declined the Education and Labor post.

"OBVIOUSLY, Education and Labor is one of the most important committees in the Congress," he

With Michigan expected to lose two House seats by 1992 as a result of post-census redistricting, acceptance of the post is seen as strengthening Ford's chances of maintaining his district.

It is also seen as boosting his chances for re-election in this year's Congressional race.

His predecessor, Hawkins, 82, is considered one of the House's oldline liberals, perhaps best-known for sponsoring the 1978 Humphrey-Hawkins Full employment Act with former Sen, Hubert Humphrey.

Ford said his philosophy won't vary much from Hawkins'.

"Gus and I have been pretty close over the years," Ford said. "Sometimes, he would emphasize one issue more, sometimes I would, but basically there was much agreement."

Ford, 62, has been chairman of the Subcommittee on Postsecondary Education and is considered an expert in the field. Job training has been one of his priorities and the Wayne-Westland Schools' vocational education center bears his name.

Though grappling with major issues such as minimum wage and child care, the committee failed to deliver minimum wage and parental job leave bills to the House floor in 1987 or 1988 - a major disappointment for organized labor interests.

Also in 1988, committee suggestions for overhauling the nation's welfare system never made it out of the sub-committee level.

At present, Education and Labor and the powerful Ways and Means Committee are locked in a fight over . child care legislation.

Ford has he favors new child care programs, not tax credits as proposed by the president.

When is price right?

Did you ever stop and wonder why a bottle of apple juice at grocery store "A" sells for 97 cents while the same exact bottle at store "B" sells for $1.39?

Just exactly how much difference is there in a can of Campbell's Chicken Noodle Soup, especially when one store has it 39 cents and when you take a walk around the corner to another grocery, there the same can sits for 48 cents?

I know there are more important questions in this world to be asked, but when you think about how many cans of Campbell's soup pass through cash register scanners nowadays, doesn't it make you wonder?

We're not talking pennies here, folks. Do a little comparison shopping and see for yourself. Or are the major grocery chains expecting us to get our soup from store "A," our juices from store "B" and our paper products from store "C"?

PERSONALLY, I LIKE to shop at one local grocery, not necessarily for the prices but for the simple fact that I'm always no further than second in line and what's probably more important, to have a cashier personally say, "Thank you," rather than hearing it from a computer.

From what I can garner, fewer than 10 percent of us use grocery coupons when shopping for groceries. It almost makes me want to say, "Na-na-na-na-na," when I observe the person in front of me buying many of the same basic items but the difference is the bottom dollar. With coupons, I pay less.

I'll even go so far as to say the person behind me in line probably has even more coupons, and deep down that person's little voice is echoing the same verse because I only saved 25 cents on my toilet paper while that individual has a 35-cent coupon.

So does this mean that coupons are to blame for the 42-cent difference in bottled apple juice between store "A" and store "B"?

Now that I have the old cynical -juices flowing, something else has my curiosity piqued about grocery stores. What do they do with all the leftover meat, fish and poultry that doesn't sell by the expiration date? Do they grind up the T-bone steaks into hamburger? Is it true they repackage the fish and put it in the freezer for some poor unsuspecting dolt to come by and pay top dollar for five-day-old frozen fish?

FREQUENTLY I SEE a shopping cart full of mushrooms that belong in a petrie dish along with black bananas and bruised apples, but when was the last time you saw a rib-eye steak marked down 50 percent?

I think it would be a good idea for the grocery stores to lay off a few of those bluish-gray-haired women who pass out samples of prune danish and liverwurst and incorporate an information booth in the center of the store between dog food and cereals so that folks like you and me can ask these questions.

Nothing unnerves me more than to stop by the manager's booth and have him/her look down on me from behind a 15foot wall saying they have no control over the store's pricing policies, Personally, I think all grocery store managers are four-foot midgets who hide behind these managerial booster walls, just waiting for the moment to get on the loudspeaker and tell some poor 18-year-old bagger to go out in two feet of snow and bring in more baskarts.

Let Gorbachev worry about Azerbaijan and let Bush deal with arms reduction. I'll let you know if I get any response from the store managers or food dealers.

Americans have long loved rice

By Irene H. Burchard special writer

ICE, THE STAPLE food for hundreds of millions in Asian countries, has been part or the traditional American meal since it was first grown in the United States more than 300 years

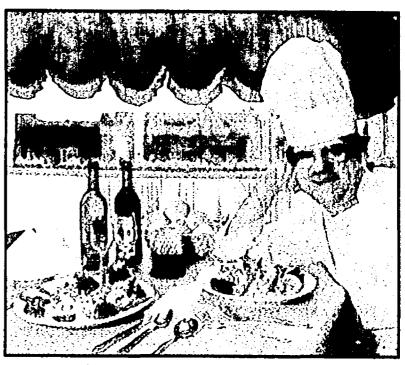

The history of rice in North America began with colonization of the new land. During America's colonial period the Carolinas were considered to be the most fertile land. By 1726, the Port of Charleston, S.C., was exporting nearly 4,500 metric tons of rice annually and during the next four years rice exports doubled.

Fifty years later, after America gained its independence, rice had become one of the country's major agricultural businesses.

From its scanty beginnings in South Carolina, rice has become a major agricultural product of the

Thais serve rice with every meal

By Janice Brunson staff writer

Rice in Thailand is comparable in importance to potatoes in Bolivia or bread in America. It is the mainstay of nearly every meal, served morning, noon and night to balance other foods and fill hungry stomachs.

"People in Thailand eat rice or rice noodles, actually more rice than rice noodles, like people here eat bread," said "Randy" Chanyawa-tanakul, owner of Siam Spicy, a restaurant featuring Thai food that opened in Royal Oak eight months

Until then, Chanyawatanakul had been an architect, arriving in the United States from Bangkok in 1974 to study at Wayne State University.

"I always wanted to get into the restaurant business, for a long, long time. I love cooking and tasting food. So, I just decided to do it," Chanyawatanakul said in English gently laced with a Thai accent.

Accompanying each entree served at Siam Spicy is a bountiful bowl of rich steamed rice, special sticky or semi-sticky varieties containing additional starch that are grown in Thailand and exported as Riceland throughout the Far East.

The Cooker scene: American regional

Some down-home Southern dishes - as well as a range of regional entrees from Yankee pot roast to Hawaiian steak - are cooking at the new Cooker restaurant in Livonia.

The restaurant, first of a Nashville-based chain to locate in Michigan, has a menu that would appeal to almost anyone - and an atmosphere for which that is true also. It's noisy - so beware - but the noise coming from conversations bouncing off the tile floor and wood booths is more like background music that will absorb the cries of a baby or provide privacy for an intimate conversa-

Upon first glance, the Cooker Bar and Grille looks like a trendy place a la Friday's. But the night we visited, the restaurant was filled with older couples, young families and everyone in between. Even on a week night, it was crowded, surprising because the restaurant relies only on word-of-mouth advertising.

Or maybe that's not so surprising given the fact that the menu is anything but dull, and the prices are exceptionally reasonable. Though it offers the expected selection of burgers and salads, it has an excep- en dishes are boneless, this was on tional array of "regional American" dishes. We tried the lime chicken ($7.95) and Hawalian steak ($8.95) and found both to be very well prepared and tasty.

THE LIME CHICKEN is one of Cooker's specialties and features a half chicken marinated in lime, garlic, while wine and honey before being grilled. The combination of seasonings made for a very delicious dish and the marinade definitely penetrated the meat - instead of just resting on the skin.

Though almost all the other chickthe bone but was moist enough to cut off easily. Only fault with this dish was that a pre-packaged moist towel was unappetizingly served on the dinner plate.

The Hawaiian steak was cooked as ordered and pleasantly flavored with a teriyaki sauce. The steak came with onion strings - a version of onion rings where the rings are slivered.

Both entrees were served with a small broccoli-cheese casserole. which was a little mushy for our taste. Next time we will try the green beans cooked with bacon. The seasoned french fries were delicious. A la carte side dishes also include squash, baked potato and baked cinnamon apples.

The soups were good, including a vegetable cheese soup that was a little cool on arrival and a very warm potato cheese soup that featured chunks of potatoes and a tasty blend of cheeses.

When to use which rice? It is a matter of personal preference because there are no hard, fast rules. Be creative and experiment to see which type you prefer. Choose brown rice in dishes like pilaf, or long grain for paella. 'Chili Joe' cooks up a prize-winning dish

I have found that certain meals tend to elicit a particular sort of response from my three sons.

For example, they don't eat chili the same way that they eat meatloaf. In fact, they don't eat anything that has a bean in it without launching into one of their all-time favorite songs, "Beans, beans, the musical fruit

But all songs aside, beans are an important source of protein, carbohydrates, several B-complex vitamins and minerals.

THIS WEEK'S winner dinner includes a recipe for cooking pinto beans that is simple and very eco-

Combined with a prize-winning chili recipe sent in by "Chili Joe" Wnuk of Westland, and served with Chippewa Corn Bread and a refreshing Fruit Bowl Dessert, this dinner promises to spice up your life.

Wnuk works as an automotive engineer for United Technologies in Dearborn, but when he comes home from work he trades in his coat and tie for an apron and chef's hat.

First bitten by the chili bug 10 years ago, Wnuk is a regular participant in chili cook-offs and has earned lots of trophies for his ef-

A year and a half ago, he started doing a cooking show for Omnicon Studios. He has just completed a cookbook, containing more than 40 different chili recipes, called "Chili Today, Hot Tomale" that should be available in bookstores next year.

Wnuk's four children have been enthusiastic sous chefs, and his wife has helped by designing aprons for his television shows.

AN AVID Tiger fan, Chili Joe is eagerly anticipating opening day at Tiger Stadium.

Loyal fans will be able to find him cooking up 60 quarts of his special Tiger Chili on the corner of Michigan Avenue and Trumbull for radio station WLLZ.

Thank you, Chili Joe, for sharing your special recipes with us, and congratulations on being our Winner Dinner Winner of the week. Here's

At each, cuisine is prepared by chefs who are trained by Maria Shaffran, using family recipes she has specially tailored for use in the restaurants.

"I know a lot about the kitchen." she said, in accented English, of the array and variety of offerings.

Shaffran is particularly knowledgeable about rice, a staple food served prior to most meals in Acaponeta, the city near the Pacific Ocean in Nayarit, Mexico, where she was born and raised. She arrived in the United States in 1957 as a new

"WHENEYER YOU SIT down to eat in Acaponeta, a small bowl of consomme is served, followed by a serving of rice. Then the entree. It's nothing special," she said of the long-standing custom.

She washes the rice thoroughly, first in cold water, followed by a comprehensive warm bath that transforms beige-colored kernels into snow white specimens. She then sautes the rice for 30 minutes in "very hot" oil that has been seasoned with chopped onion. The kernels turn into browned, transparencies ready for steaming.

The rice is simmered to full richness in chicken broth seasoned with Saffran's special tomato sauce laced

Originally from Naples, Bassonatti studied the art of cookery some 25 years ago in Switzerland, shortly before arriving in the United States.

RISOTTO, LONG a traditional dish throughout Italy, remains a mystery to many American diners.

To be genuine, risotto must be firm, a variation on pasta that, when prepared correctly, is eaten with a fork, according to Bassonatti.

It should never, ever be served as a soup with a spoon, as too often happens, he said.

To create a pefect risotto, Bassonatti relies on short-grain rice, an Italian variety named Baretta that is noted for its flat contour and hard-

"Baretta cooks slowly and never gets mushy," dual absolutes for scrupulous chefs preparing proper risotto, Bassonatti said.

TO MAKE the dish, Baretta, a rice that resembles Uncle Ben's in color and variety, is browned with minced onion in butter.

It is then set to simmer in rich. broth, or "real stock" prepared from soup bones that have simmered for hours with slices of celery, onion and

The stock is gradually added to the rice, until it fully puffs and all the liquid is absorbed.

"The rice has to be loose and dry and not be sticky or mushy," Bassonatti said.

THE FINAL product is seasoned with a grating of fresh Parmesan cheese and "a nice chunk of butter."

Amid the neutral tones of winter both green and red show up vividly.

Even in summer when the lush green foliage predominates, red can be seen readily. In fact, many animals use red as a warning color just as humans do. Red feathers are often hidden until the need to demonstrate agression.

In winter, red is one of the first colors to catch the eye. Male cardinals can be seen at the opposite end of your yard because of their bright red color.

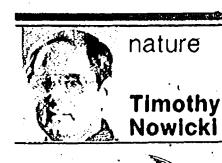

Not many animals are as brightly colored as the cardinal, but several plants, or berries of plants, rival the brilliance of the cardinal.

One such plant with scarlet red berries hugging the branches is the winterberry, or Michigan holly. Unlike the holly that most people think of with evergreen leaves, Michigan holly loses its leaves in fall. Bright red berries persist on the branches however, until birds eat them or until they fall off naturally in midwinter.

Winterberry grows in low wet areas and can often be seen in large clusters. Dense colonies of plants laden with berries are very striking when contrasting with the dark grey bark of the surrounding tree trunks and branches.

Another red berry that likes wet areas is the high bush cranberry. This bush produces red berries that form drooping clusters. Like the bog cranberry that we enjoy at holiday dinners, the high bush cranberry is also edible, though not as preferred. Even birds do not eat the berries until other choice berries are gone.

Wet areas seem to be the best place to find red in the plant world. Growing along with both of the plants mentioned above, one can find the red-stemmed, or red-osier dogwood. One can find the red stems of this dogwood all year, but they seem more noticeable when

The cardinal illustrates how red stands out in drab winter scene.

In forested areas you may be lucky to find a cluster of red berries on the end of a stalk about a foot off the ground. These berries came from one of the jack-in-thepulpit plants you saw in the spring. Their berries often do not last long because they are enjoyed by mice and birds.

Elderly can take steps against crime

Dear Jo:

Would you please give your readers some hints on protecting themselves against pickpockets and purse snatchers? The elderly population are prime targets for this type of crime. I am sending you some literature that we distribute to our senior citizen centers - please pass it on to your (larger) readership.

Dear Sergeant H.: Thank you for your letter and the information - which I have edited.

Older people are more vulnerable to this type of crime because of the changes that go along with aging decreased strength and slower reflexes - and because they often

Before leaving home, it is wise to plan where you'll be going and what in the line of cash and credit cards you'll need. Never carry more than the necessities.

Men should never carry their wallets in their back pants pocket. Pickpockets are so skilled that their victims seldom know that they have been robbed until it's too late.

Pockets are often picked during. diversions, Pickpockets usually work in pairs; one bumps you and the other makes the grab. A popular diversion these days is the "ketchup spill" whereby someone eating a hotdog with copious amounts of ketchup on it spills it on the victim. Salem rock and rolls on Spartans

By Brad Emons staff writer

Livonia Stevenson tried to get a piece of the Plymouth Salem Rocks on Friday, but all the host Spartans could find was a terminated policy.

Salem kept rolling by winning its 11th basketball game in 12 starts this season — burying the Spartans.

The 27-point victory gives the Rocks a little more protection in the Lakes Division race in the Western Lake Activities Association.

Stevenson, which took the Rocks to overtime before losing 76-74 in a game played last month, nearly eliminated Itself from contention with the loss. Stevenson fell to 8-5 overall and 4-3 in divisional play.

"This is a big one, but we need another one, we can't overlook any of them," said Salem coach Bob Brodie, whose team is 6.0 with four games left to play in the division.

Salem, which had control from start to finish, took advantage of the absence of 6-foot-9 Stevenson shotblocker Glenn Szeman, who sat out the game with the chicken pox.

THE ROCKS zipped in-and-around Stevenson's half-court trap, scoring layup after layup. In the final quarter, the Rocks shot 100 percent from the field (14-for-14). For the game they hit 65 percent (38 of 58).

Eleven of 12 Salem players scored with five netting double figures led by senior forward Ryan Johnson's 20 points.

Other scoring contributions came from junior center Jake Baker (15). senior guard Tom Noonan (13), junior forward K.C. Kirkpatrick (11) and junior reserve forward John Hoffmeyer (10).

Junior center Cliff Lee, who had

basketball

eight off the bench, squandered a chance to be the sixth Salem player to score in double figures when he missed a dunk.

"You're going to shoot a good percentage when you're shooting from two feet and in," said Brodie. "But we made some nice passes inside and we were very unselfish. We made some nice decisions on the floor. When you execute the press breaker well, you'll get some layups.'

STEVENSON content to fire away from outside, found itself down 20-8 after one quarter and 43-33 at the on one of Ron Baran's five 3pointers, but Salem went on a tear at the end of the period, going up by 18 on a pair of three-pointers from Mike Mulder.

The fourth quarter was all Salem. The Rocks got just about everybody into the act, outscoring Stevenson 34-25.

"We never got in sync," said Stevenson coach Jim McIntyre. "Every time we got within nine (points), we never took charge to make it a ball

Baran, a senior guard, and Steve Leonard, a 6-5 senior forward, scored 25 and 20, respectively.

But overall the Spartans could only make 20 of 67 shots from the floor for 29 percent. Stevenson's three guards - Baran, Rick Laven and Matt Grodzicki - hit a combined total of eight for 35.

"We never shot as many balls that didn't have a chance to go in, it was total team effort," McIntyre said. "But Salem played well. They executed when they had to get it done. Give them credit."

BRODIE WAS pleased with not only the way his team shot the ball, but with the way they played, de-

"We had a hand in the face and they didn't get too many second shots. That's critical against Stevenson," he said.

The absence of the 6-9 Szeman may have had an affect on the lopsided outcome.

"With Szeman back on their halfcourt trap it makes a difference. Once you break it, you're looking to get by him at 6-9. But when you're attacking the basket three-on-one without him back there, it's tough for them to stop," said Brodie.

"It's too bad because he (Szeman) had been coming along and making strides," said McIntyre. "He gives us a different dimension. He makes you pull up and think before you start attacking the basket. There were so many times tonight where they (Salem) just put the head down and drove the basket.

"But tonight, with or without him (Szeman), we were out of sync offen: sively and defensively."

And while Stevenson could not absorb the loss of its key post player, Salem is a team of interchangeable

"This is probably the most depth since I've been coaching the varsity," Brodie said. "So many people are contributing and when everybody works as hard as they have in practice, it makes for a good situation."

Chargers' power-play freezes Pats

By Ray Sellock staff writer

Livonia Franklin's physical style of play didn't pay off Friday at Eddie Edgar Arena, as the Patriots surrendered six power-play goals, losing to Churchill, 8-4.

'We've been working on our power play a lot," said Churchill hockey coach Rudy Varvari. "We switched some things around and it was effective for us tonight.'

Churchill improves its record to 8-6-2, while the Patriots fall to 4-11-1.

"We were improving game by game, but we just took a giant backward tonight," said Franklin coach Terry Jobbitt. "We didn't do anything right in this game."

"If there is one thing which really decided tonight's game, it was the power play," Varvari said. "That whole power-play unit played a strong game.'

THE CHARGERS controlled the momentum, jumping to leads of 4-1 after one period and 7-1 after the second period. Franklin threatened with three goals in the third period, but Churchill managed to halt the Patriots' offensive thrust.

"I think anytime you go into the final period with a big lead, you tend to let up a little," Varvari said. "Franklin made us pay for our lack of work. They shoved it down our throats and we had to swallow it for

King led Churchill's offensive effort, scoring two goals and adding an assist. He was complemented by Gallagher's goal and two assists and Bob Sommerville's four assists.

Perhaps Churchill's best offensive effort came early in the second period, when Bill Durham intercepted a Franklin pass and went the length of the ice to score at short-handed goal.

The Chargers also received a goal from junior Paul Pagnani.

"Our offense was productive tonight," Varvari said. "It was just a total team effort."

BRIAN STOVER sparked Franklin's offense, tallying two goals and an assist. Both scores came in the second period.

Matt Sharkey and Bob Hayes also contributed offensively for the Patriots, each scored a goal. A total of 60 minutes in penalties were called, including three misconducts, two of which went to Durham. He received a 10-minute misconduct and game misconduct after a skirmish with Franklin's Brian Lynch. Lynch also recorded a 10-minute misconduct.

"A majority of our penalties tonight were not necessary," Jobbitt said. "I think our team has to regroup and get back on track."

Andover earns tie, victory

Todd Lansky scored the game-winning goal with three minutes left in the second period, giving Bloomfield Hills Andover a 2-1 Suburban Prep Hockey League victory over Livonia Churchill in a game played at the Detroit Skating Club.

The loss virtually eliminated Churchill from contention for the SPHL title. The Chargers, now 7-6-2 overall and 5-3 in the league, are two games off the pace in the SPHL chase behind first place Livonia Stevenson.

Churchill's Brian Lynch struck first early in the second period before Andover roared back on goals by Brad Zamler and Lansky.

Andover (4-4-1, 5-9-2) was outshot 27-13.

Lady Ocelots rip conference rival

Dan McKay of Livonia Franklin moves the puck up along the boards during Friday's clash against Livonia Churchill.

Schoolcraft College's women's basketball team overcame a slow start with strong second-half defense, limiting Henry Ford Community College to 19 points over the final 20 minutes to record a 69-52 triumph at home Wednesday.

The win left the Lady Ocelots a game ahead in the loss column in the Eastern Conference race with an 8-2 mark (14-4 overall). Oakland CC, Delta CC and Highland Park CC were 8-3. Wednesday's loss dropped Ford to 4-7.

SC started slowly, making just 11 of 35 first-half shots. "It was probably (a lack of) intensity and concentration," said SC coach Jack Grenan. "It shows in the turnovers. We had 13 in the first half."

The Lady Ocelots got that turned around in the second, making just. But she turned it on in the second eight. But as Grenan said, "Our second-half defense was the key."

14:00 left the game was tied at 43, Tracy Osborne turned the tide in bounds, while Laurel Haener and SC's favor with two three-pointers Osborne got 10 and nine points reto put the Lady Ocelots up 49-43.

"That seemed to spark us," Grenan sald. "Everybody dug in. Plus, our full-court pressure seemed to wear on them."

American quarterback ended what who packed the gym. little suspense remained Wednesday afternoon when he verbally committed to Michigan State.

Coleman, flanked by his parents, Millard Sr. and Gloree Coleman, and coach John Herrington at a press conference in the high school gymnaslum, selected the Spartans over Michigan and Colorado — a choice his family supported and everyone expected.

"I wasn't thinking about State when I bought the sweater," Gloree said, "but Mill smiled when I got it home and asked 'Why did you buy that?' He never asked me, but that's where I wanted him to go."

WHILE HIS family let its preference he known in subtle ways, Coleman, a straight-A student who wants to study business, had his own rea-

"They do a lot of things I've done throughout my high school career. They like their quarterback to sprint out, and they have all all-round great program."

Coleman's choice of MSU was a surprise to no one - especially since he has attended its summer football camps since the eighth grade and is most familiar with that program but least of all Herrington.

"I could have told you that when he came here," Herrington said. "He wanted to go somewhere he felt comfortable, where he knew tho coaches and they would give him a chance to play quarterback at his

The question now is whether Coleman is big enough to play quarterback in the Big 10. His detractors say the 5-foot-9, 165-pound Coleman is too small.

"THAT'S somebody who hasn't MSU offers the best opportunity for seen him play," Herrington said: "If you've seen him play, you know he's a quarterback. The sprintout, playaction style suits him, and I think he'll be an outstanding Big Ten quarterback."

Coleman, who was Harrison's starting quarterback for three years after his family moved from Albion, passed for 7,464 yards, making him the career passing leader in Michigan high school history.

MSU quarterback Dan Enos will be a senior next fall, but the Spartans have three redshirted freshman quarterbacks — Jody Dickerson (McKees Rock, Pa.), Matt Eyde (East Lansing) and Jim Miller (Waterford).

Coleman, however, is the only quarterback among 16 seniors who have given MSU verbal commitments this year. Nothing is binding until Wednesday, Feb. 14, the first day high school players can sign national letters of intent.

"So far none of the other quarterbacks have seen action, either," Coleman said. "After (Enos) completes his senior year, the field will be wide open, and all I want is a shot-

Coleman, who led the Hawks to back-to-back Class B titles, is eager to disprove those who say he's too small.

"I ALWAYS felt I could play in the Big 10," he said. "If I let that bother me, I wouldn't have been able to excel like I have.

"I think I can continue to do the things I have done, but I have to step up a level because everybody is as good as I am."

Coleman follows former Harrison great John Miller to MSU, but he said Miller, though he talked to him about it, didn't try to sway his deci-

Coleman's family members, on the other hand, did some politicking on behalf of the Spartans, hoping to be close enough to follow Mill's college career. Coleman won't be alone at MSU, either. His sister, Gina, plans to transfer from Oakland Community College.

"I'm very elated he chose to stay in Michigan," said Millard Sr., who attended MSU in 1965-66 before he was drafted into the U.S. Army. "I always felt he fit into Michigan State's style of offense.

"We've always talked (going to MSU) from Day One . . . We did a lot of subtle things, like buying State' shirts and hats. It was his decision; but we wanted to let him know where we stood."

And everybody knows where Coleman stands, too.

"I feel a big sigh of relief," he said. "Now nobody will come up to me and say 'Mill, where you going?' Now they know."

Ocelots lose to Nemesis

What success the Henry Ford Community College men's basketball team has enjoyed this season - and there isn't a whole lot of it - can be attributed to Schoolcraft College.

SC lost for the third time this season to the Hawks Wednesday. The combined margin of victory in the three games is 10 points. The most recent loss was also the most "lopsided" — 87-82 at Ford.

"Half of their wins have come. against us," noted Ocelot coach Dave Bogataj. His math isn't exact, but it's close: The Hawks improved to just 7-13 overall with the win, 4-8 in the Eastern Conference. SC dropped to 10-16 overall, 3-8 in the conference.

The game was lost for the Ocelots by a lack of execution in the final 21/2 minutes. They battled back from a 14-point, first-half deficit to lead 79-78 with under 21/2 minutes left.

Ford didn't score on its next three possessions, but neither did SC. "We could have pulled away," said Bogataj. Instead, his team was outscored 9-3 the rest of the way. "Down at the end, we did not play smart basketball. We got silly with Size eventually overruled spunk on the basketball court Friday night at Farmington High School.

North Farmington, apparently tired of being pushed around by the smaller Falcons, put its height advantage to good use in the second half of its 67-57 victory.

"The three big kids played well at the end, and that was the difference. We got the ball to some people in the box, and they started scoring," North coach Tom Negoshian said.

The big kids are Eric Carlson, Bill Chwalik and Eric Detter, but Carlson, the tallest one at 6-foot-6, was foremost among them this night.

Carlson racked up a game-high 19 points on seven field goals and 5-of-7 free throw shooting to lead the Raiders, 5-1 in the Lakes Division and 8-4 overall.

BUT DETTER and Chwalik pitched in at a crucial point in the late third quarter and early part of the fourth, scoring most of their eight and seven points, respectively, when it had the maximum impact.

"Carlson killed them inside. "The big guys just played a helluva game," said North guard Matt Hoffman, who played a big role himself with 18 points and eight assists.

Farmington, trailing 27-26 at halftime, jumped in front with a pair of triples by Brian Browne and Chris Schmid, and Greg Bjedov's three layups helped the Falcons create their biggest lead of the game, 41-35, midway in the third period. But that's when North turned it

The Raiders scored the next seven points in little more than a minute to regain the lead, 42-41, but they didn't stop there. North, leading 48-45, after three, posted the first eight points of the final quarter to complete a 21-4 run that put the Raiders on top 56.45 with 61/2 minutes remaining. Hoffman, who sank two triples earlier, made two three-point plays during that stretch. Detter scored six points, Carlson four. Chwalik capped it with a layup and another threepoint play for the Raiders.

FARMINGTON coach Bob Kaump agreed with Negoshian the inside play of Carlson, Detter and Chwalik was the deciding factor.

"Carlson kept posting up on us and, with his size, that was too much," he said. "We talked about fronting him but didn't get that accomplished. Detter really hurt us, too. We weren't expecting anything from him."

The Falcons, who fall to 1-5 in the Lakes and 4-8 overall, have experienced their share of frustrations, playing well but losing tight games. Farmington was averaging 59 points going into Friday's game, according to Kaump, and the opposition 60.

"We start a 6-1 center (Bjedov), and I think my kids have been doing a knockout job of playing with taller teams. We're very small, yet we're working very hard," Kaump said. Guard Brian Browne scored 16 points to lead Farmington, including 7-of-11 free throw shooting. Chris Schmid and Eric Miller chipped in 14 points each, and Bjedov finished Browne got nine of his points in the second half, but only two resulted from a drive to the basket. Keeping him out of the paint was necessary for North to win, according to Negoshian and Hoffman. "MATT HAD to step up and guard Browne, because he was driving in the first half and creating some (layups for his teammates)," Negoshian said. "I knew I had to go up and do something — and put it on the line," Hoffman said. "I knew, if he didn't have the ball, they weren't going to be able to do anything."

Hoffman spent most of Thursday in the hospital after experiencing stomach pains. The tests proved inconclusive, and there was no outward indication that the ailment affected his play Friday.

"It did a little bit," he said. "I struggled on my shot. I had to push it a little harder, and I missed some free throws. I couldn't keep my el-

Farmington got as close as seven points, 64-57, with back-to-back baskets by Schmid, but there was less than 20 seconds left in the game by then.

"We weren't able to hit anything from outside, and they were able to lay off everybody and pack (the defense) inside," Kaump said. "Then we needed some 3-pointers, and they extended their defense and did a good job of pressuring us."

'ON REED'S first game of the night was a 235 and that's pretty good by anybody's standards, but what made this score so special was that Reed followed it up with back-to-back 300 games.

This occurred Wednesday at West Bloomfield Lanes in the Michigan Bell Men's League.

One perfect game (12 strikes in a row) is a difficult feat, but two perfect games is incredible. For Reed, 300 games are no stranger. Wednesday's perfect efforts accounted for his 10th and 11th. Reed's series was 835, thanks to a block of 235-300-300. He converted an amazing 28 strikes in a row.

Reed and his wife Zoe Ann met while competing in Flint a few years ago. They presently live in Redford, where Jon is an accountant for Ameritech Applied Technologies.

Reed carries a 206 average in the Michigan Bell League He also bowls in the Miller Lite Classic League at Plum Hollow Lanes in Southfield, where he averages 229.

• Last week's column mentioned the introduction of a new bowling radio talk show called Oakland County Bowling Round-up. The show will air at 7:30 p.m. each Thursday on WPON 1410 AM. This should be an interesting show, as host Roy Akers will be on location from various bowling centers.

 How about bowling at Bloomfield' Charley's Restaurant on Maple and Orchard Lake Road in West Bloomfield? Not exactly like the real thing, but their newly installed Capcom Bowling video game is interesting.

This is about as close to the real thing as your going to get on a 19 inch video screen. For just one quarter, you can dictate whether or not you want your ball to hook

• One segment close to my heart is the youth traveling leagues. This is the foudation for bowling.

Let's give these kids credit. They bowl at a different location every week This new atmosphere and lane conditions can be puzzling, yet these teenagers keep coming through with excellent

Many of these kids will go on to compete in the area's top leagues and some may even go on to compete in the professional ranks.

The standout league in this area are: Wards Burger King Youth Traveling Originated by Cecil Ward more than 40 years ago, the league is now directed by Bill and Betty Heider. The Sunday Youth Classic is directed by Jim Lhamon and Ed Wright and the Western Wayne Youth Traveling Classic is under the guidance of Norm Kluska and Joyce Zelek.

 Wayne-Westland just completed its Youth Scholarship Tournament. Bill Ladd won the event with a 715 series. which included a 277 game. The effort gave him a $1,000 scholarship to be applied toward his college tuition.

• In the Sunday Youth Classic League at Parkway Lanes, Julie Wright of Farmington Hills rolled 233/580. Other top scorers included Clint Berryman of Redford (236 game), Jill Lhamon of Farmington Hills (210), Robert McDonald of Farmington Hills (248), Lisa Granfeldt of Redford (217), Robbie Lhamon of Farmington Hills (206). Raiders finish strong

Walled Lake Central collected wins in four of the first six matches Thursday, but host North Farmington got six of the final seven and a 44-28 victory to end its dual-meet wrestling season Thursday.

North finishes 8-6 overall, 3-2 in the Lakes Division. The loss drops the Vikings to 1-5.

Of the Raiders' final six wins, four came on pins and a fifth was on a Central void at heavyweight. Matt Thompson started the North turnaround with a pin of Central's Laurence Kerver in 1:30 at 140 pounds.

Jared Lawrence followed with a 5-1 decision over Anthony Snlder of Central at 145. North's Aaron Lawrence then pinned Tom McBride in 4:33 at 152; Rob Jamrog pinned Brad Johnson in 3:46 at 160; and Bob Chika pinned Todd Johnson in 2:14 at 189. Only Ed Holmes' pin of North's Brian Ruby in 3:29 at 171 broke the Raiders' string.

Other North winners were Jeremy Moy, a 3:17 pin of Mike Grissom at wrestling

112, and Lucian Van Cleave, a 19-4 win over Ralph Hale at 130.

Jay Davenport got Central started fast by pinning Dan Cassidy in 1:50 at 103. After Grissom's loss, Soren Murphy pinned Jeff Head in 1:13 at 119; Sean Rock defeated Marcus Brown 14-3 at 125; and Barry Brown pinned Joe Meluzio in 1:58 at 135.

North, which has won five duals in a row, also won the Rochester dualmeet tournament on Saturday, Jan. 27, defeating Birmingham Seaholm 46-28, Clawson 33-26 and Rochester

Moy (112), Van Cleave (135), Thompson (145) and Adam Cook (160) won all three matches, and each had two pins. Cassidy (103), Brown (130), Jared Lawrence (140), Jamrog (171) and heavyweight Steve Psilpoulos had two wins. Psilpoulos also had two pins.

Medical evidence rebuts new theory on cholesterol

Picture a flexible rubber pipe that ment has been voiced in "Heart Failis hooked up to a water source that regulates flow and pressure.

You now begin to run water through it that contains many different elements, including tiny red particles. This process continues month after month, year after year. Periodically, the flow and pressure may increase or decrease.

One day you decide to turn off the water and gaze into the pipe. You note that the insides have a crusty reddish tint, and that the opening for water to flow through has narrowed considerably side the pipe and, in fact, find that they are nothing more than the caked red particles that have been circulating in the pipe for years. Although it seems clear what has happened, you are perplexed by what caused the apparent settling of the particles on the inside of the pipe?

A BYSTANDER appears and attempts to help you resolve the question. After weighing the information that you have provided him, he suggests that the circulating red particles in the water really had little to do with the narrowing of the pipe.

Would you believe his theory? Probably not. Yet, a similar arguure," a new book (Random House, $19.95) by investigative reporter Thomas Moore who also had a recent article in the Atlantic Monthly magazine. Moore suggests that all of the attention given to cholesterol is really based on speculation, not science.

Certainly his contentions have comforted those who have lusted for real butter instead of margarine. whole milk rather than skim, steak in place of fish, and ice cream as an alternative to low-fat yogurt.

Moore charges that the cholester-You now examine the deposits in ol-heart disease link has been perpetuated by clinicians, researchers, government officials and food and drug companies, many of whom have a vested interest in cholesterol research. He also contends that the major clinical trials designed to lower blood cholesterol by either diet or drugs have produced disappointing results, and that the small reductions in cholesterol that have been achieved (averaging 5 to 10 percent) don't improve or extend people's

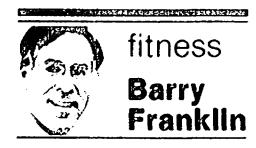

> HE NEGLECTS to point out, however, that the failure to produce more dramatic reductions in cholesterol was, in large part, due to poor patient compliance. Thus, it's not surprising that the anticipated health benefits (i.e., markedly reduced fatal and nonfatal heart attacks) weren't achieved in many of these clinical trials. The potential of such measures can only be realized when the intervention is carefully monitored and adhered to.

Admittedly, Moore isn't alone in these views. The cholesterol theory has had a number of distinguished critics over the years. Nevertheless, an overwhelming body of scientific evidence now supports the belief that a sustained high blood cholesterol can léad to heart disease.

Before you decide to take Moore's advice, and go back to your "burgers and greasy french fries," consider the following facts relating diet, elevated blood cholesterol, and coronary heart disease:

• Persons who have high levels of blood cholesterol also have high rates of heart disease. This relationship has been substantiated in numerous scientific investigations, including the famous Framingham Heart Study, begun in 1948, involving more than 5,000 residents of Framingham, Mass. Furthermore, heart disease is virtually nonexistent in persons whose cholesterol level is below 150.

- Increased cholesterol levels are found among countries where the typical diet is high in saturated fats and cholesterol. People who live in Finland and Australia have even higher average blood cholesterol levels (and heart attack rates) than Americans do Accordingly, they also consume more dietary fat and cholesterol.
- Increased rates of heart disease are found among countries with elevated cholesterol levels. Heart disease is several times more prevalent in the United States, Finland and Australia than it is in Japan or China, where average cholesterol levels are much lower. But Asians who move to America end up increasing their cholesterol levels and heart disease rate.
 - Persons with inborn errors of cholesterol metabolism often develop heart disease at an early age. There are many medical reports of children, teenagers and young adults who have died from heart attacks. Almost without exception, these individuals had blood cholesterol levels in excess of 400. Many had cholesterol levels greater than 600.

• Related high cholesterol diseases are associated with heart disease in laboratory animals. Scientists have known for nearly a century that rabbits raised on milk and eggs develop fatty deposits inside their coronary arteries.

• Atherosclerotic deposits are loaded with cholesterol. Autopsy and pathology reports have shown, unequivocally, that it is the low-density lipoprotein (LDL) cholesterol form that actually deposits in blood vessels. Ultimately, these same blood vessels become clogged by the formation of hardened plaques. In contrast, many health experts believe that high density lipoprotein (HDL) cholesterol actually helps to clear the blood vessel - a human "Drano," so to speak.

In conclusion, it appears that many factors may contribute to the development of heart disease, including heredity, cigarette smoking, high blood pressure, obesity and sedentary living. But a basic fact underlies all of the attention focused on cholesterol: These "risk factors," in and of themselves, do not seem to accelerate the atherosclerotic process unless the cholesterol level is elevated (above 150). Accordingly, some scientists have even gone so far as to suggest that cholesterol is not just a "primary" risk factor for heart disease — it is the only risk

PERHAPS DR. Thomas Chalmers of Harvard's School of Public Health summed it up best when he said: "People who eat high-fat, high-cholesterol diets all of their lives suffer high rates of heart disease. It's as simple as that. A moderate change of diet may not bring instant results, but at worst it's harmless, and it just might save your life.'

Although the mechanisms underlying the atherosclerotic process still are open to debate, there's no longer any questions that too much cholesterol is hazardous to your health.

To buy or not to buy a boat

By Debbie L. Sklar special writer

Ship ahoy, mates!

With the Detroit Boat and Fishing Show going on at Cobo Hall in Detroit this week, it's a good time to consider joining the more than 700,000 registered marine boat owners in Michigan. Hey, if both New York Real Estate aficionado Donald Trump and ex-Miami Vicer Don Johnson can own one, so can you.

But with thousands of boats, yachts and other marine vehicles on the market, where in the world do you begin?

The first thing you have to do is decide what type of boat you want," said Lindy Rymill, coowner of Avon Sailboats Limited in Rochester Hills. "Next, you have to find the right dealer because they can usually help you find the right boat."

Rymill said potential customers should also take the same approach in buying a boat as they do

"Buying a sailboat is like buying a car; there are basic types of sailboats just like there are cars, like an 18-wheel truck, motorcycle or Porshe. They all go down the road, but each is different. And it's the same way in sailing."

Rymill suggest customers take a few minutes to decide what type of sailboat they want whether it's for the family or independent use.

They have to decide whether they want a sailboat that's easy to learn or a sail boat that takes a little bit more work," she said. "The most common way for a person to get into sailing is to buy a small boat to start with.

"BUT THAT'S not the only way. There are sailing programs, schools and clinics to help someone learn the art of sailing."

If the buyer is interested in purchasing a small boat, prices range from $60° to $10,000.

"The majority of our first time customers spend around $4,000 to $5,000 on their first boat. It's not as expensive of a hobby as one would believe."

In regards to sailboats, there are three different categories to choose from - catamaran (two separate hulls with a trampoline in the center), board boats and day sailors.

"Catamarans are generally more sporty, tend to go faster, are more exhilarating and are a lot wetter," Rymill said. "A catamaran is a good first sailboat for a small family to invest in, but it is a little harder to rig up." Prices range from $5,000 to $8,500.

The board boat is a flat type boat which generally has one single sail and tends to be a little more sporty.

"It only sails — you can't take a family of 12 on it or have a party," Rymill said. "It's a very pure way of sailing." Costs range from $600 to $2,000.

The third choice is the day sailor - "By this I mean a day sailboat you use during the day. It doesn't have a cabin in it and generally, it's a drier, speeder, wider and deeper boat that you sit inside or versus on top of."

"A day sailor can be sailed by one, but they usually appeal to either two or more," Rymill said. Prices, depending on the brand, range from $2,500 to $5,500.

NOW THAT you've got the boat, who's going to teach you how to sail the darn thing?

"We do give rigging lessons with everything we sell," Rymill said. "One of the key things that's helping sailing is the offering of fleets - the joining of a group of sailors who are at the same sailing level."

Fleet sailing is an excellent way to learn sailing. You're exposed to a lot of other boats like yours. It's a better way to learn to operate your boat and operate it better, Rymill said.

"Sailing is a very intense sport," she said. "It puts you up against the elements, but there is nothing more rewarding than feeling that wind in your hair as you glide across the cool waters."

But what if sailing isn't your bag and you want something that doesn't seem to take as much work? Maybe a motor boat is more your speed.

According to George Field of Class One Marine in West Bloomfield, there are several different routes that a first time boat owner could embark on.

Filling the intellectual banter void

By Chris Rizk special writer

In a typical day, most adults talk about work, their household and children.

Not very heady stuff says Dr. Harold Mathis, a West Bloomfield psychologist and marriage counselor. When it comes to meaningful, intellectual banter, the void seems impossible to fill, he said.

Mathis thinks he's found however a way past the "yak, yak, yak" and "blah, blah blah" of everyday conversation. A year ago Mathis formed a different kind of self help group.

Called "I Think" it is his idea of rejuvenating an extinct tradition talking.

"I think we're becoming a spectator society," Mathis said. "Faco to face conversations are dying out. We're interacting with computers."

Technology, while providing in-novations that are undeniably making life caster, has inadvertently lessened the need for personal contact for most people, Mathis

HIS GROUP provides a wide forum for discussion of topics such as global dilemmas, books, movies and social implications of living in a technological age. It is not, he said, a therapy group for the lonely,. Mathis calls it instead a "safari into the world of ideas." So far, his safari has been little attended despite the current or provocative themes.

Mathis is not discouraged, however. He attributes the lack of attendance - he usually has between six and 12 people during each weekly session - to the very thing from which his group evolved, advancing technology that prevents face-to-face contact and keeps society too busy to talk.

And then there's that ever present evil, TV, Mathis said.

"Whole households are built around the television set," he said with antipathy. "People have been taught not to talk. TV is a passive medium. With techonolgy comes a reduction of our own humanity," a lack of passion.

He hopes to restore that emotion during his weekly meetings at the West Bloomfield Library. All he asks is that participants attend the meetings with an open mind he said.

The agendas for upcoming meetings read like a college course syllabus, "What Do You Think" Mathis asks in flyers he prepares for his weekly meetings: "Follow your bliss into the abyse" where an examination of personal mythologies that shape our existence or success beyond belief.

JEFFREY CLARK, 36,1s perhaps the youngest male to attend Mathis' group which is composed of people from ages 20 to 60.

A tool and die worker during the day, Clark, of Westland, said he looks forward to sharing ideas and discussing different topics when he meets with the group every Mon-

"Certainly there is more almosphere for discussion when you go to the I Think meetings," Clark said. "It gives you an opportunity to hear other people's views, no matter what the subject."

On Nov. 20, the discussion was about the opening of the wall in East Germany.

Mathls' reasons for forming the group were more an act of survival than a quest to showcase intelli-

After 20 years of counseling, Mathis said he was 'starved' for intelligent conversation.

"I consider myself somewhat of an intellectual," he explained. "I read a lot and have a lot of ... unorthodox ideas. To some extent, I surround myself with people who stimulate me but it's hard to find people who are passionate."

The remedy for a brain dead age may be found he said by filling up on a protein filled "mental diet" and intellectual stimulation, Mathls' group meets at 7 p.m. every Monday at the West Bloomfield Library on Walnut Lake Road. For more information, call 626-5413.

'Flashback:' Bit too much

"Flashback" (B-, R, 105 minutes) is an entertaining bit of fluff that shifts gears too often to fulfill its mission as the definitive statement about the '60s.

Despite some clever, sardonic comments on that vaunted time in America, the movie isn't thoughtful or serious enough to play in the big leagues. Nonetheless, it's worth your time and money.

San Francisco, 1989, is the point from which the film trips back on what turns out to be comical, albeit cynical, nostalgia.

Straight-arrow FBI agent John Buckner (Kiefer Sutherland) is assigned to get a prisoner, Huey Walker (Dennis Hopper), to Spokane, Wash, for trial. Walker has been on the lam for 20 years, hiding out from a charge of malicious mischief when he disconnected Vice President Spiro Agnew's car from the train as it pulled out of the station on a whistle-

The FBI is more concerned, however, with his status as an escaped' prisoner. Their pride suffers when a prisoner escapes.

Films such as "Flashback" have a lot to say about the '60s and, as well, about contemporary times. Unfortunately, most of the message is petty lightweight and the frivolity of Walker's character doesn't match the seriousness of the message his fame is supposed to rest upon.

There's also a buddy-film hiding in all the shenanigans as the enforced comradeship of guard and prisoner leads to the usual complications the menacing local lawman, Sheriff Hightower (Cliff De Young) and the evolution from antagonism to respect and camaraderie between Buckner and Walker.

THERE'S ALSO a few '60s twists - a former flower child, Maggie (Carol Kane) and two aging yupples, Barry and Hal (Richard Masur and Michael McKean). The latter two exhibit great and funny guilt for having rejected their counter-culture youth for middle-age comfort and

FT celebrates animation

By John Monaghan special writer

The new installment of "The International Tournes of Animation" used to highlight the Detroit Film Theatre winter schedule. Lines typically stretch out the door for the sold-out night of contemporary animation from around the world.

This weekend's three-night run of "The Animation Celebration" offers a somewhat more commercial look at 24 animated shorts from a half dozen countries. These were the most popular films at the Second and Third Los Angeles International Animation Celebrations.

Though often radically different in terms of concept and execution, each animated film brings home the same point - cartoons aren't just for kids anymore.

Take Bill Plymptom's brutally funny "25 Ways to Quit Smoking" for example. In a companion piece to his earlier "My Face," a smoker demonstrates fool-proof ways to kick the habit. In a section of self-discipline, the smoker follows each puff with a punch into his impossibly malleable face.

THERE ARE some familiar images to ground a commercial audience. Matt Groeing's "The Simpsons" (who currently have their own half-hour television show) are interspersed throughout the program, as are award-winning TV spots for Yoplait and MTV.

Some cartoons even reflect the spirit of international relations. In the American-made "Propogandance," stereotypical Russian and American dahcers come together in the performance of traditional cossack and '80s break dancing moves. Unfortunately, it's better in concept than in execution.

More interesting is "The Marathon," a touching Soviet tribute to Mickey Mouse in celebration of his 60th anniversary. Moscow student animators show Mickey cavorting on one half of the screen while generations grow up and die on the other, all the while entertained by the cartoon mouse.

The Pixar Studio's "Tin Toy," shown in other festivals, displays just how far computer animation has come in the past decade. Pixar's latest effort, "Knicknack," about a snowman's efforts to break free from his glass prison, makes its debut here.

MY FAVORITE selection is "Umbabarauma." a five-minute whirlwind of color and rhythm set to the music of Jorge Ben. Talking Heads leader David Byrne commissioned the film to promote a compilation of Brazilian music he released last year.

Directed by Susan Young and Mike Smith, "Umbabarauma" uses a number of techniques. - watercolor on paper, ink brush strokes, oil pastels, drawing and cut-outs on film and also conventional cel animation It goes far beyond the average music

Not all of the choices are this good. "Rarg," which starts with an engaging concept of a kingdom that exists solely in a man's dream and will soon be destroyed when he awakes, doesn't live up to its 21-minute running time.

You certainly get your money's worth from "The Animation Celebration." But at 105 minutes, even a party this good goes on a bit too

FRANK ZAPPA fans will appreciate the master's Jan. 31 release of a half-dozen tapes although - with the exception of "The Amazing Mr. Bickford" - I can't imagine who else might, if there are any clues in the portions I watched of "Uncle Meat — The Mothers of Invention Movie." It's 120 minutes of color footage shot over a 20-year period, starting in 1967.

This counter-culture hodgepodge purportedly presents an alternative view of our time - different, that is. from the plasticized caricatures seen on TV. While I hold no brief for television sit-coms, "Uncle Meat" is even less amusing. It represents home movies at their worst, a terrifle lack of discipline and the unmitigated gall to believe that anyone would care to watch two hours of boring nonsense and personal jokes.

"The True Story of Frank Zappa's Live: Does Humor Belong in Music?" are four of the remaining five tapes.

The fifth is one worth your time and attention. Bruce Bickford, aptly billed as "Master of Clay Animation" offers some truly amazing vistas in the little world of clay. Animation is frame by frame photography and in the case of clay, a frame is shot, the clay is modeled slightly, another frame is exposed and so on. Thus the 55-minute tape contains 79,200 separate sequential photographs, each one requiring planning, record-keeping and modeling of clay.

THE "BICKFORD" musical score was by Frank Zappa, with performances by Ensemble Intercontemporlan conducted by Pierre Boulez and The London Symphony conducted by Kent Nagano.

Despite stunning claymation, the images and characters in Bickford's work are always complex and generally hostile. Excretion and violent animal-monsters are major motifs as is the loner versus authoritarian

But the truly amazing animation makes it all worth while, particularly the ways in which forms continually evolve from one another. It's hard to imagine the time, patience and artistic vision required to complete such a project. Nonetheless it will be available for $29.98 on Jan.

A bit of culture Bandits are long on music and on style

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Ken Haas wildly swings his blond mane out from his eyes and kick starts his guitar. Terry Bradley drums along, stripped down to a pair of cutoff sweats and bassist Jason Bowes wears his graying white Doughboys T-shirt like a trophy:

Let it not be said the Culture Bandits lack style.

It's kind of hard to imagine these three musicians once walking down the regimented halls of Catholic Central High School, but they did. All three graduated from the all-boys school in Redford in 1987.

"We were kind of misfits there," said Haas, whô is from Livonia. "Besides ourselves, we didn't have many friends."

This amiable trio, no friends? Naw. These guys are just misunderstood youth.

Haas said he was nearly kicked out for his long hair and Bradley had to sweep the parking lot because he "oppressed" another student.

We took some guy with a broken leg and picked him up by his elbows. We started to take him down to the end of the hall so we could take him outside," said Bradley, who shakes his head.

"They take a dim view of humor there," Bowes added.

They might have the same view for metal pop bands, who are influenced by such unlikely music heroes as the Doughboys, All and Big Drill Car. Nonetheless, the three decided to give it a shot by auditioning for the school's "Battle of the Bands" competition.

They didn't make the cut, further fueling their ambition to become a raucous rock outfit.

If anything, the band might be lauded for tightness. That, again, can be attributed to friendship. One doesn t do without the other.

BEFORE THE band goes on, Bradley joins his two bandmates at a table. He promptly tells Haas he owes for some film he just bought. Haas reminds he just paid the phone bill, so they're even Steven.

"We divide the costs on everything," Haas said. That way of operation applies to other band functions, such as songwriting and material selection. The trio has been visiting White Rose Studios in Ann Arbor, putting together a demo tape.

Like many bands, they've come along way in a short time. Haas reto some tapes the Culture Bandits recorded in their uncultured days. All three admit the band was too loud and too fast for its own good.

TREMOR REVUE — Paycheck's Lounge, Hamtramck

Recently, far too many patrons packed Paycheck's Hamtramck for the second night of the annual Tremor Revue, a smorgasbord of area bands. As always, the format was one of the best things about the show.

With 10 bands on the bill, no band performed for more than 20 minutes. This rendered the show's lesser talents more bearable than they might otherwise have been and forced the better acts to present their finest material.

As might have been expected, the best performances came from two bands which have recently released their debut LPs, the Orange Roughies and the Volebeats.

After four years on the local scene, the Roughies have ironed out most of their undesirable kinks and become the area's finest "art pop/ new music/prog rock" combo.

Guitarist Dave Feeny's technical prowess plowed through his many effects boxes. Lead singer/dancer Rosey occasionally spouted alarming poetry, but he did so with impressive verve and combined this with a startling array of dervish-like stage maneuvers.

The Roughies hit the stage with more force than the other bands and packed a whole set's worth of energy into their four songs.

The Volebeats, a country/folk combo that sounds for all the world like a Hank Williams hangover, maintained the high standard set in recent performances. Owing to fiddle player Rebecca Kaplan's temporary hiatus, the band is performing as a quintet. The reconfiguration emphasized the excellent guitar playing of Mark Niemenski and Matt

On a bill filled with more traditional rock bands, the Volebeats were bound to stand out, but they distinguished themselves through inspired playing in addition to their uncommon sound.

While some bands were a few gigs away from hitting their stride, or a few past their prime, the Revue did feature pleasant surprises.

Bootsy X and his Lovemasters churned out a satisfying and upbeat, albeit uarepentantly "new wave" set. Colorful Trauma, a strippeddown trio, played a promising set of straight-ahead rock with occasional "new music" nods.

Bass player Chris Girard gave excellent performances as part of a quasi-industrial duo and as a member of Cinecyde. In both settings, he managed to pull the bass from its traditional background role without becoming too flashy or overbearing.

Tremor's "Whitman's Sampler" approach to local music is becoming an institution and deservedly so. The bands got on and off stage quickly, played hard, and undoubtedly won a few new fans.

DESERT WIND - Ofra Haza

As "world music" gains popularity, more artists are experimenting with mixing various styles of music. Quirky popster David Byrne went Brazilian and Paul Simon gave his slacking career a major boost when he found the African sound.

Perhaps the strangest combination yet can be found on Ofra Haza's second album, "Desert Wind. This album contains a truly bizarre mix of Middle Eastern traditional music and Western dance music. Haza sings about such atypical dance music subjects as deserts, the Jewish/Palestinian situation and slavery. She incorporates lyrics in English with the ancient Aramic language and chanting choruses like, "Hoo bak oaa eyoo ni hoo bak." Now, imagine this set to a pulsing disco Two of the songs on the album,

"Taw Shi" and "Fatamorgan (Mirage)" were produced by Thomas Dolby. His typical mechanical sound, popularized in the 1980s' new wave hit "She Blinded Me With Science" is obvious as is his love of programmed drum sequences and synthesized sounds.

Whether or not you'll like the dance tracks on this album depends on your opinion of dance music in general. If you listen to Madonna and frequent Clubland, you'll like them — it's techno-pop with a twist. If you don't care for dance music, you won't be very fond of Middle Eastern dance music either. Haza is at her best on songs where she gets rid of the driving back beat and focuses on a more traditional sound. The best of these is the beautiful song, "Slave Dream." In the liner notes, Haza writes that the song was inspired by a visit to a seaport in Bahia, Salvador where ships of the slave trade from Africa used to anchor. She writes, "In my imagination I heard the screaming voices of people turned to slaves by other people. I

Passion Fodder

This record is so horrible, it leaves the listener numb and disoriented. It is impossible to understand how a decision was made to record this material and this band for posterity. Passion Fodder is not just an irritant, it is a powerful argument against Western civilization. The band is made up of men with names like Pascal, Benedicte and Jean-Yves, which suggests that the record springs from the same Gallic pretension that produced Jean-Luc Godard. In fact, the record is in some senses quite similar to Godard's "Hall Mary." It announces itself as art grappling with the great issues of the times while simultaneously forwarding appeals to people's baser instincts. The results is a product that is too pretentious to develop sleaze appeal and too degraded to be mistaken for art. But this is a mole hill, not a mountain. One need only listen to the faux U2 guitars, or the plodding basswork, or the snickering percussion, or the smarmy wobbles of the lead singer, or the lyrics, to be sure that this is tripe. And those last two elements constitute a stunning indictment.

No vocalist deserves to be compared to Passion Fodder's lead singer, but in the interest of greater understanding, Stan Ridgway will be victimized. Fodder's lead singer sounds a bit like the former Wall of Voodoo frontman, but he possesses none of Ridgway's humor, none of Ridgway's twitchy spookiness. And the lyrics consist of namedropping, over-the-counter dada and cautiously twisted religious imagery. That might be too harsh. Maybe there are people out there waiting for a partially educated scam-artist to croon, "I'd sell my soul to God, if they'd give yours back to you/chop the head off my dog, if that's what I had to do/I'd go out and campaign for more acid rain . . . I'd swear off champagne, trout fishing and cocaine/if it would help make you sane, make you whole." Now that's love - making Fido partial to make your lover whole. Later in the song he says he'll knife a kitten for his true love. Makes one nostalgic for the old cherry that had no stone, doesn't it?

HUMAN SOUL — Graham Parker

Graham Parker emerged with the 1976 explosion of new faces, although he was already a favorite on the London club and pub rock scene.

isn't easy. First, you must prove that you've never committed a felony crime. Or If you did commit a felony, you must prove that you had a bad headache at the time, or that you didn't fully understand the difference between concepts like stealing and borrowing, arguing and shooting.

Unfortunately, my computer file showed a few minor brushes with the law — pulling the tags off my mattress, storing eggs with the small end down and robbing Fort Knox.

Once your criminal record is clear, you must justify your need to carry a concealed weapon to the police. The most common applicant is the merchant who must carry a lot of cash in a bad neighborhood. Ironically, I live in a good neighborhood, which means I have no cash left over to carry anywhere. Thankfully, they bought my story about marauding squirrels in the attic.

But why, you ask, did I want a hood-mounted, heat-seeking missile anyway? To rid suburbia of a new kind of sleazeball driving tactic with vigilante justice, that's why.

Here's how it happens: You're stopped at a red light. Across the intersection is a car sitting in the left turn lane. The instant the light turns green, he floors the gas and turns in front of you. Instead of waiting for oncoming traffic to clear, this lab specimen tries to beat it!

THE SHEAR arrogance of this begs for a "Road Runner" cartoon response — like dropping a boulder on his car or making him swallow dynamite. But instead of resorting to violence, I simply push the launch button on my steering wheel and faster than you can say "Top Gun" I drive through a cloud of smoke that used to be a car.

Help for the 'imprisoned' mother

Dear Ms. Schiff,

While reading the Observer newspaper Monday, I came across your column. The column was of interest to me because the letter from the parent of the 2-year-old with cerebrat palsy was so sad and filled with so many misconceptions. I am aware that both the mother's letter and your response may have been edited due to space constraints. If however, neither was condensed, there is much to tell this frustrated and tired

The biggest concerns I have have to do with the mother's statement (and your agreement) that this child will eventually be institutionalized and the lack of direction to the many resources available to this family.

Persons with developmental disabilities are no longer institutionalized in the state of Michigan unless their behavior is such that community living is unsafe. This young girl, regardless the degree to which she has an impairment, will be educated and live in a community, if not with her own family, then with a foster family. As an adult, she may be in a group home or individualized living program.

There are many organizations that can offer this family the support and services they need. I have enclosed brochures of the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Board funded programs for people with developmental disabilities.

I am the director of the Rose F. Kennedy Respite Center, which could provide the mom some of the relief she seeks. There are other resources, if the family lives out of Wayne County. The mom should call United Cerebral Palsy at 557-5070 for support and direction.

Sincerely, Cheryl Betz, M.A.

Dear Barbara, Regarding the Dec. 25 letter from "Imprisoned," please advise her to investigate and try to enter her daughter in the Cloverdale School of the Farmington Schools - on Freedom Road (along side the 108 expressway) between Farmington and Orchard Lake Road. (Does she live in Oakland County? If not, maybe they could move!) If you're unfamiliar with this institution, you should visit it and be educated.

K.B.

To the "Imprisoned" Mother:

I would like to reply to the letter you wrote Barbara about your daughter who has cerebral palsy. I am a special education teacher who has taught children with all degrees of handicaps. The biggest problem I run into is not the children but the parents who blame themselves or don't want to accept reality.

Things happen in life and we as bumans are not always responsible. What we are responsible for is to make the best of things and to continue to love ourselves and others.

The children that I have had the greatest fortune in life to be with (retarded, cerebral palsy, emotionally disturbed, mentally ill, autistic) have taught me more and given me more love than I will ever be able to receive in one lifetime. They do not know their handicap unless we, as "normal" people, let them know it or Feeling guilty only makes them feel guilty for something they had no control of. Giving them love, care and the best you can give is all that is expected. If this means biring help, then do so. You would hire a baby sitter for a "normal" child to relieve yourself of stress! Resentment should not be there!

Ease yourself of pain, guilt and resentment and replace these negatives with love, caring and educational services schools can provide you with.

There are many dedicated people

There is hope and there is help. I don't know if I could help her, but please feel free to give my address to her. I could at least point her in the right direction. Thanks.

D.S.

Dear readers.

These letters were written in response to a plea for help by a mother of a baby with cerebral palsy. Her question was printed in the Dec. 25 edition.

There is both enormous good sense and great kindness in these responses. Intermediate school districts provide support and guidance for disabled youngsters and their families. Parents of disabled youngsters can offer emotional support to each other when it is allowed.

The name and address of the mother who stimulated these caring responses is not available. Hopefully, she will see this column and will be able to use the advice it contains. May I thank these four helpful responders for teaching me and showing me the many ways that people can give to one another. My thanks to all the readers who take the time and energy to write.

Buying a boat? Consider the basics

Class One carries Cobalt and Stingray power boats as well as Yamaha water vehicles, takeoffs of the jet

"They're very attractive and a lot of people are using them as yacht tenders or just for zipping around and having a good time," he said.

Cobalts are the "Lincoln/Cadillac of power boats" while Stingrays "are more of a bread and butter type of power boat," he said. Prices range from $12,000 to $80,000 for the powerboats and $3.600 to $4.200 for the water vehicles.

One of the best ways to get started is to attend a boat show. It's the best way for a new owner to "get a handle on what's out there" and "find everything from a canoe to a 200footer," he said.

"THE POTENTIAL buyer has to decide what type of recreation he's looking for," he said. "Is it sailing or power boating? Do you just want to sail on one of the many lakes or do you want to cruise the Caribbean?"

For general lake use, he suggested a a boat in the 17- to 21-foot range as the best place to start.

"A real popular model is the bow rider," he said. "It looks like a speedboat, but instead of a front deck, it has seating which gives it extra room." Prices range from $10,000 to $38,000, depending on size.

If you don't like the bow rider, you can get a larger boat with a cuddy cabin — a small cabin you can lay in with a bunk and possibly a portable toilet. Prices depend on size.

According to Field, he has the perfect boat for the "yuppie" crowd.

"The Cobalt is a boat that is usually written up in the marine journals as the BMW of boats," he said. "It's a company that is relatively small, but the boat is a quality boat. It takes four times as long to build it and they adhere to various materials and assembly when manufacturing.

"It is very obvious that it isn't your standard marine product. The finished product is beautiful, from top to bottom." Prices for the Cobalt are anywhere from 15 to 35 percent higher than the average boat.

"The marine industry has grown, immensely," he said. "More and more people are buying and the trend that is really emerging is the fact that people are buying larger boats, spending more money the first time around."

And, Field said, trying to get financing for a boat is a lot easier than a car these days.

"YOU CAN finance boats, even small ones for 15 or 20 years," he

At Excell Marine, prices range from $100,000 to $1 million. They specialize in Tollycraft, one of the premiere yachts made today.

Willie Farrell 'loves' to talk to audience

"I started in Des Moines on an amateur night and there were about 300 people in the audience," Farrell said. "I almost backed out, but all my friends were there and they told me I either had to get up on stage or I had to give them all their $3 back."

FARRELL SAID he wasn't the funniest one in his group of friends, but was the one with the talent needed to perform on stage. His favorite thing to do is to improvise, go with whatever the crowd is into.

I did that this morning when I sat in my sunburn around one of sort in Nassau, Bahamas.

Last time I was on Cable Beach where there were a few five- and six-story hotels scattered along a wide strip of sand. Now we have a "mega-resort" rising in pink and purple buildings, with 1,500 rooms full of people cavorting in the sea, in the pools and especially in the casino. There are only narrow strips of golden sands left.

"What's going on here?" my Martian said. He had never heard of a Caribbean beach resort, but he knew about seasons, so I didn't have to explain summer and winter and the tilting of the earth toward the sun. He quickly understood why people who live amid winter snow can be attracted to a warm Caribbean Sea where sun, sea and sand are served up year-round.

"The leisure rich had this place to themselves until cheap air travel allowed middle-class folks like me to jet down here for a week's debauchery," I said.

"You mean that people who live in hot places are more sinful than those who live in cold places," the Martian said.

"No, it just seems that way to those of us who must shovel our driveways before getting on a plane to the tropics."

ONE REASON is that sin is as-the kids of various ages zooming down the great coiled slide into the pool.

I couldn't explain some of this scene to either the Ponce or the Martian - parasails making red and white circles against the blue sky, cruise ships on the horizon, four young men being towed on a banana boat, jet skiers, young bikini-clad woman on a windsurfer, the two couples boiling away in the whirlpool, or the reason that young and old, long-haired, bald and grey, bake like that in the hot is-

This stretch of Nassau is called Cable Beach because a transcontinental hookup was completed when a telegraph cable was laid here in 1892. The beach was an uninhabited crescent of glorious sand, crocheted here and there by the flower gardens of British colo-

The rich and famous joined the exclusive Balmoral Beach Club, now the Royal Bahamian Hotel, in the 1940s, so the sand was full of whispered stories about the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Richard Nixon, and the Beatles, all of whom passed this way when the unrich and the unfamous were getting frostbite.

CABLE BEACH was aging in the sun when package tours brought plane loads of travelers to Nassau, many to the high-rise hotels and casino of Paradise Island, across a toll bridge from downtown Nassau.

"Is that what they used to call Hog Island?" the Martian asked. You never know what extraterrestrials will come up with.

Tourists learn as little as possible about the world in which they travel, but thousands of Americans soon learned that the Bahamas was settled as a British Crown Colony, that a lot of Loyalists fled the American Revolution to settle here, that it became an independent member of the British Commonwealth in 1973.

They learn this while touring the forts, where shots were seldom fired, the English gardens, the Queen's Staircase, Parliament Square, the Changing of the Guard at Government House and the famous straw market. Tourists carry straw home on their heads and carry all those other souvenirs in the straw suitcases crammed into overhead bins aboard homebound airplanes.

Cable Beach slept in the sun until the government hotel corporation committed $120 million to rejuvenate the area in the 1980s, building the $100 million Cable Beach Hotel and Casino as centerpiece and restoring other hotels nearby.

Enter a Texan called Trammel Crowe who managed all these accommodations through Wyndham Hotels and an Israeli-born American called Ted Aaronsen who founded the Carnival fun ships and wanted to get into the easino business. Carnival managed the Cable Beach Casino and eventually began building the mega-resort now spread in high-rise splendor behind what's left of Cable Beach.

Phase One opened when the casino was revamped and the Casino Towers hotel built above it in late 1988. Phase two was completed when Prime Minister Sir Lynden Pindling the ribbon at the grandopening of the four Crystal Palace towers in January.

Paint the whole sprawl pink and purple to tie together the old Cable Beach Hotel, now Rivlera Tower, the Casino, the Casino Towers and the four new towers; edge the balconics with a pallet of colors, set it against the white sand and the emerald sea and you've got a Las-Vegas style hotel/casino wrapped in sea, sun and sand.

"Why do they call Cable Beach the Bahamian Riviera?" the Martian wants to know. I can't explain everything, pal. Ask the Public Relations Department.

How to get to 'Palace'

By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor

Carnival Air Lines is carrying hundreds of vacationers on Thursdays and Sundays to Nassau, where they spend three, four or seven days at Carnival's Crystal Palace Resort and Casino, which had its final grand opening in January.

Early birds got a $299 unadvertised special covering air fare and accommodations. Rates from Detroit through Feb. 11 are $479 for three days, $569 for four days and $829 for a week. Add $30 through

Ask a travel agent about low summer rates. Also check tour companies like Key Tours, Travel Charter and Apple for packages. Prices vary widely on this one; the rates I quote are directly from Carnival. Call toll-free, 800-222-7466.

Those rates will get you and your luggage there on Carnival Air Lines and get you a room in either the older Riviera Towers, formerly Cable Beach Hotel, or one of the four new Crystal Palace Towers. Most of the new Tower rooms have ocean views, but be sure you get what you pay for because a few have only a peek from a back balcony.

MOST PEOPLE buy these packages. I met one woman who paid rack rates, which range from $175 for a standard room to $550 for one of the famous theme suites and $25,000 for a suite called Galactic Fantasy. (No, that isn't a misprint. And it's per

The major costs on this trip are for food. The Crystal Palace offers a wide variety of restaurants, upscale and down, very good food, but they are all expensive. If you plan to eat most meals at the resort, consider buying a meal plan.

The gourmet plan, $156 for breakfast and dinner for three days, covers anything on the menu and includes the meal at the Palace Theater dinner show. Another plan, for $108, has limitations on your order and doesn't cover all restaurants.

Be prepared to pay a 15 percent gratuity and 8 percent tax on the menu price of everything you order on these plans. That's 23 percent on your bill when you check out.

If you expect to buy many meals outside the resort, skip the meal plans, eat lightly for breakfast and lunch and take the 75-cent city bus from outside the hotel to downtown Nassau. Taxi the same distance for $15 to $20.

Restaurants near the Crystal Towers are mostly in other hotels — the Traveler's Rest about four miles away on West Bay is popular.

THE YOUNG people who work in the Crystal Palace find low-priced meals at the Poop Deck or the Ivory Coast, both just east of the mainland end of the Paradise Island bridge downtown, the Three Queens on Wulff Road, all specialize in Bahamian food.

The least expensive is The Shoal on Ponciana Drive — locals call the area "over the hill."

There is a very popular disco called Fanta-Z just off the casino in the Crystal Palace. You can dance downstairs or watch from upstairs. There is an $8 cover charge, but one free admission is included in most tour packages.

Other Nassau clubs include Club Waterloo, which features a local band called High Voltage, which plays reggae and popular music. There is a $15 cover charge that includes two drinks; Thursday is Ladies Night. A similar place, the Ritz, is on East Bay. The Club Mystique offers disco in the Cable Beach Inn half a mile west of the Crystal Palace.

Trio finds plenty to do at resort

By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor

Cheryl Genson and her friends Christina and Linda Stanaj, all of Farmington Hills, recently spent three days at Carnival's Crystal Palace in Nassau.

Chris and Cheryl are both 18, Linda is 19, all three graduated from Farmington High School and currently study at Oakland Community College.

The girls traveled as a group with their parents and other family members but spent most of their time on their own after they got there. They thought it was a great experience, but more expensive than they anticipated to do the things they wanted to do, even though air fare, accommodations and most meals were covered by their parents.

"We met lots of people, on the beach, in the casino, in the disco, and downtown in the music clubs," Cheryl said. "No trouble at all meeting either Bahamlans or tourists. We would spend the day on the beach or in the pool, and of course, that didn't cost anything unless we ordered hamburgers by the pool or did one of the optional activities."

They all had their hair braided by a local lady on the beach — $2 a braid. They tried the jet skis at $25 for 15 minutes, although the promoters sometimes would take a lower fee at the end of the day when business was slow.

FIVE MINUTES on the banana boat costs $5. Snorkeling is $5 an hour, windsurfing $12 for the first half hour, parasailing a minimum of $30.

The parents paid for the Booze Cruise, $28 per person for four hours on a glass bottom party boat, with snorkeling, snacks and all the rum punch you can

"There is no minimum drinking age in Nassau," Christina said. That means that the girls could order drinks on the cruise, in the clubs or in casino, where drinks are free to gamblers.

THE CRYSTAL Palace Casino has a very friendly ambiance, helpful and courteous staff, so most people feel comfortable there. Carnival puts all its staff through special training, and it shows in many places, like the casino and in the slow-but-friendly service in the Crystal Cafe. The training still has a long way to go in some areas of the resort, especially at the front desk and in the Sea Side Buffet.

Overall, I would agree with the three Farmington girls that this is a good vacation for anyone who enjoys a sun-sea-sand resort, sunning or cavorting on the beach or around the pool, playing in the casino or disco at night. Smart travelers learn how to do it without blowing their budget.

Right-brainers are often misjudged

Q. My son has been having emotional difficulties for many years and has been in and out of various theraples. When I read your columns about right and left brain thinking and how it affects your life, it just clicked in my head and I'm sure my son is an extreme right brain person. Do you know of any therapists who specialize in that field?

A. I hope the woman who phoned with this question is reading this, because the next day I learned that Dolores Lamping is such a counselor. In practice at the Farmington Hills Counseling Service, Lamping shared more information on this subject.

people (L/p).

Because the left brain controls the "organizing" aspect of our lives, people who think predominantly with their right brain have trouble "living in a left brain world." Right brain people (R/p) may have their own way of organizing, but it doesn't usually meet the standards of left brain

While L/p think vertically and just naturally tend to hang up their clothes or file papers upright, R/p think horizontally. They tend to lay clothes across the tops of beds, chairs, dressers or doorknobs and stack their papers in side-by-side piles on their desk. L/p are sometimes awestruck when a R/p can reach into a stack and pull out exactly the paper they need.

Unfortunately, well organized L/p often judge the R/p, claiming they are uncooperative, lazy, careless or not conscientious. Such negative feedback can result in self doubts in terms of low self esteem. The R/p may begin to feel that something is wrong with them, that they are inadequate, not good enough or not like other people.

These suggestions sometimes become self-fulfilling prophesies in the sense that the R/p begins to form a concept of him. - or herself as one who is disorganized, unable to meet deadlines, loses items, forgets things and sometimes even begins to act as if they were incompetent.

The cost of land is the key to delivering new houses to buyers for less than $100,000, said Byrne Benson, who specializes in building so-called affordable homes.

Get title insurance for estate property

I am buying some property from an estate and am wondering if there are any unique problems of which I should be aware. I apparently am the highest bidder and the sale is about to be confirmed by the court.

Make sure you have a clear understanding as to what you are getting from the estate. More than likely, you will not be getting a warranty deed. It is important that you obtain title insurance to be sure that you are getting clear and marketable title to the property. Make sure that all of the requirements of the probate court have been met concerning the confirmation of the sale by, presumably, the personal representative of the estate. Make sure that there are no other claims to the property.

I am reading more about the environmental risks and liability in regard to pre-acquisition site assessments. What about the potential liability regarding the purchase of a piece of property on the seller?

Hazardous waste liability and the environment are key considerations for anyone purchasing real estate. There are a number of regulations or statutes in place with respect to underground storage tanks, hazardous waste materials and the like that can bring substantial liability to bear upon the seller and persons in concert with seller. Oftentimes, the buyer may be found responsible for the condition of the sub-soils and an Environmental Protection Agency superfund claim. Your best advice is to consult with an experienced real estate lawyer who has knowledge of the environmental ramifications and who can assist you in obtaining adequate environmental experts so as to avoid being a "potential responsible party" as a result of environmental liability.

Is there a law protecting homeowner association boards in the event of a lawsuit? We are a new subdivision checking into the necessity of liability insurance. Our research shows such rates to be astronomical.

Yes, there is a statute that was passed effective Jan. 1, 1988, that allows for the insulation of the liability of directors and officers of a nonprofit corporation under certain circumstances. You should consult with legal counsel regarding the applicability of the new amendment. On the other hand, that is not a substitute for your obtaining comprehensive liability insurance to the extent that the homeowners association has exposure, as well as officers and directors liability insurance.

New colonials and ranches of 1,100-1,200 square feet in Romulus' Meadowdale Subdivision southeast of Metropolitan Airport are priced at less than $80,000. The houses, constructed by Byrne Benson Homes, include a master bedroom bath, three bedrooms and an unfinished basement.

Building affordable housing

By Doug Funke staff writer

You can still buy a new house for less than $100,000 in metropolitan Detroit.

But it probably won't be in an upscale neighborhood, won't be surrounded by a spacious yard, won't offer oodles of living space and won't have amenities such as built-in appliances, fireplaces and marble fovers.

Forget about Golden Corridors and Miracle

You have to go into into communities like Romulus, Westland, Canton or off the beaten track in Livonia and Farmington Hills.

But new houses can still be had without putting up your first-born as downpayment or facing a mortgage that could have financed a dozen starter homes a generation ago.

Everyone in this market hasn't gone the custom-built route.

• Byrne Benson, president of a Drayton Plains company, is building in the Meadowdale Subdivision in Romulus off Middlebelt south of Eureka.

Houses of 1,100 to 1,200 square feet, ranch or colonial model, with three bedrooms, at least a bath and a half, a basement and an attached, twocar garage can be claimed for $74,000-$78,000.

Upwards of 80 have been built there, with some 80 to go. • Melvin Belovicz, president of Belle Construction, is building 38 ranches in the Van Lawn Park Subdivision in Westland off Cherry Hill, west of Wayne Road. Buyers can choose one of two models of 1,250 or 1,160 square feet containing three bedrooms, at least a bath-and-a-half, cathedral ceilings, attached, two-car garage and basement.

The cost - $82,900 or $88,900, depending on the

• Daniel Ryan, a Keego Harbor builder just breaking into the business, has built a half-dozen houses on scattered lots in Farmington Hills, Livonia and the city of Plymouth.

He has built two off Nine Mile Road just west of Orchard Lake Road that have three bedrooms, two baths or a bath and a half, a two-car attached garage, cathedral ceilings and a basement for

• Stephen Taglione, president of BBC Group of Farmington Hills, is building on 40 lots in the Riverpark Subdivision in Canton off Sheldon, just south of Palmer.

For $99,990, a buyer can acquire a 1,330square-foot ranch with two baths or a 1,400square-foot colonial with 21/2 baths. Both models have three bedrooms, a basement, a two-car garage, a first-floor utility room and a brick facade.

HOW CAN they do it? "First of all, we're not on lots that cost $50,000 to $60,000," Benson said. "The fact is we're on 60foot lots. Another thing is we build smaller hous-

"It's a matter of buying properly," said Taglione. "It's just a matter of us finding lots so we can bring them in for under $100,000. "The toughest thing is finding property," said

Ryan, a part-time real estate agent. "It used to be that 20 percent of the cost of a house went into land. Now, it's 30, 35 percent."

You probably won't find deals on vacant land in places like Rochester Hills, Northville and Plym-Builders might find scattered lots outside of high-rent districts in Farmington Hills and Livonia. Larger tracts may be available in less prestigious zip codes.

"FOR EVERY lot I buy, I probably talk to 30 people," Ryan said of his scattergun approach.

Belovicz likes to buy surplus school property that has been vacant for years. He finds that he usually gets a good price and the land is zoned for smaller-sized residential lots.

Belovicz bought land for Van Lawn Park from the Wayne-Westland schools.

"I'm fortunate to be sitting on some good buys," Belovicz said. "The little guys that want to do this don't have a lot of money.'

Builders who install their own water, sewers and streets say they can reduce prices to individual buyers by dividing those costs among more

But the trend among communities, often demanded by people who live there, is toward larger minimum lot sizes.

"Most municipalities don't want small houses Belovicz said. "They just don't want affordable housing. They want people with higher incomes, the image of a very prosperous area.'

Ryan said it's becoming increasingly difficult to find smaller lots on which to build. Municipal infrastructure requirements and tap fees, on the rise, could make the under-$100,000 house a pipe dream in a couple of years, he said.

Benson said there were pockets in north Oakland County with smaller lot requirements about 18 months ago, but he suspects land values there since have soared. He also wonders whether buyers would want to make a long commute.

SO WHO buys a new house for less than $100,000 nowadays?

Kevin and Mary Jo Baringhaus moved into their first house, built by Ryan, around Thanksgiving.

"We looked at used houses, 15 years old, costing $95,000-$98,000," Kevin said. "With older houses, you have older problems."

A new home with a bathroom in the master bedroom costing less than an existing house swayed the couple toward new.

Deborah and Barry Williams live in a colonial built by Ryan across the street from the Baringhauses. They wanted to buy new and plan to buy up in about five years.
