Students to march for mills

Plan to take to sidewalks

By Darrell Clem staff writer

Wayne-Westland students will not be allowed to use city streets for a parade in which they hope to win public support for a school tax in-

Students, seeking support for a tax increase that could avert sweeping program cuts, had planned to march along Westland streets during a lateafternoon parade on Friday, June 7.

But their hopes were dashed Monday night, when the Westland City Council told them that they would have to march on sidewalks and avoid blocking streets during the pa-

The move came as the council decided in a 6-1 vote to allow students to proceed with the parade on sidewalks. The parade is designed to win public support for a 7.75-mill tax proposal on the June 10 ballot.

Council member anomas arties cast the sole opposing vote.

"The main reason I voted against it is because I feel that the school administration is using the children, as well as some of the (pro-tax) citizens committees, to support the millage when they (school officials) are the ones who should really be accountable for why there isn't enough money-to run the schools," Artley said.

"They're putting the pressure on the kids to force their parents to go for this miliage, when it has already failed three times," Artley added.

THREE PROPOSED school tax increases have failed since February 1990, and school officials have placed the latest proposal on the June 10 ballot in a last-ditch effort to avert massive budget cuts.

City officials, in denying the students' request to march on city streets, voiced concerns about potential traffic hazards during the parade, planned for 4 p.m. Friday, June 7.

"That would tie up a lot of traffic," Artley said.

budget cuts

By Darrell Clem staff writer

Wayne-Westland school officials Monday slashed 83 more employees from the financially troubled district's workforce, amid continuing budget cuts that one board member called "devastating."

The board approved the layoff of 54 teachers, 10 teaching assistants, 18 paraprofessionals and one secretary during a special session. The layoffs are effective July 1.

"I hate to vote for this," Board Member Kathleen Chorbagian said, noting that some of the workers have been employed by the district for 23

The latest cuts came one month after the board approved the layoff of 44 other workers, including 34 bus drivers, seven custodians and three mechanics.

Monday's action raised to 137 the number of employees laid off since "THIS IS devastating," Chorbagian said, after the board approved the latest budget cuts in a 6-1 vote Mon-day.

Among the seven board members, only Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek voted against the layoffs, saying alternative budget-cutting measures had not been adequately explored. Board President Mathew McCusk

City clears way to expand mall

By Darrell Clem staff writer

A divided Westland City Council narrowly approved an $11.6 million plan Monday to boost commercial development, including a proposed Westland Center expansion. .

Four council members favored a plan to spur economic growth by spending money to expand the mall, widen Central City Parkway as it loops north from Warren to Wayne Road, and install streetlights along several city roads.

Three council members opposed it, falling one vote short of stalling the projects made possible by amending the city's Tax Increment Finance Authority. The TIFA uses taxes collected in a designated district, which includes the mall, to finance projected public improvements.

Council members Kenneth Mehl, Thomas Brown, Charles Pickering and Terri Reighard-Johnson supported the TIFA amendment, while council members Thomas Artley, Ben DeHart and Sandra Cicirelli were opposed.

Candidate Albert "Ed" Turner, a 57-year-old Westland, resident and retired American Airlines worker, agreed that board members should make themselves more accessible, in part by visiting schools once a month and seeking input from teachers and students.

The board also should seek ways to improve communication with parents, who should have more input in school matters, Turner said. "Communication is the whole secret to credibility."

INCUMBENT SHARON Scott, a 51-year-old Westland resident seeking her third term, admitted that school board members lack a solid public relations plan, and she said the board should work on it.

However, Scott stressed that teacher raises should not damage: the board's credibility, even amid a budget crunch, because local teachers received lower pay increases than their counterparts in other

Scott also held out hope that Public Act 25, which will require more citizen input and a building improvement plan at every school, will help the board's credibility,

Candidates agree: Less politics is progress

By Darrell Clem staff writer

Less politics, more community involvement and better school district management would help restore the Wayne-Westland school board's credibility, said six candidates competing for a two-year term. The board has come under public as a lack of credibility - an issue that board candidates seeking election June 10 discussed in interviews with the Observer.

Hagelthorn also suggested that board members must make themselves readily available to the public and find ways to make the district's citizens more aware of what happens at board meetings.

CANDIDATE LINDA Pratt, 43year-old owner of Baker's Acre,again called for a "Chicago-style" approach in which efforts to improve communications would be "a.....

two-way street" between board members and district residents.

Citizens and school employees "need to have ownership in the whole process," Pratt said. Other-wise, she said, "there will be morale problems."

The effort "is going to have to involve a lot of effort on behalf of a lot of people," Pratt, a Westland resident, she said. Candidate Fred Warmbier of Wayne, a 71-year-old retired Detroit Edison worker and former school board member of 16 years, said the

Layoffs, budget cuts 'devastating' to district

However, board members have indicated the only budget area they can cut is among school personnel, which account for about ∠80 percent of the district's budget. The staff cuts were made after school officials met in several sessions with leaders of the Wayne-Westland Education Association, said Bill Taylor, associate superintendent of employee services.

School principals planned to begin notifying those affected by the layoffs on Tues-

The employee group suffering the most layoffs were teachers, who lost 54 positions from the current 947-member teaching workforce, Taylor said.

THE LATEST teacher cuts brought to 124 the total number of laid-off teachers. Seventy already were on layoff - many as a result of budget cuts last year.

The vast majority of the latest teacher cuts occurred at the junior highs and high schools, where program cuts and a reduction of the instructional day have payed the way for layoffs.

Thomas Svitkovich, associate superintendent, also voiced concerns that 70 teachers will be "displaced" as a result of the budget cuts, meaning they will be forced to switch schools or begin teaching different subjects.

Next week, school officials will begin making preparations to reverse many of the layoffs in case the 7.75-mill tax proposal is approved at the June 10 election.

The tax, which would be levied for two years, would cost the average Westland homeowner about $233 a year on a $60,000? house with a $30,000 state-equalized valua-

The tax proposal marks the fourth placed on the ballot since February 1990. Three proposals failed, though the margin of defeat narrowed to a mere 3 percent in the most recent election on March 13.

must become more accountable for its actions if it expects to restore its credibility.

"Accountability goes hand-in-hand with credibility," he said. Hallmark blamed the board's accountability problem on the last three failed millage elections and said the board should "listen to the people" who have spoken loudly against higher taxes.

If board members want more taxes, he said, "they are going to have to explain what the money goes for."

School management campaign issue

INCUMBENT MATHEW McCusker, a 55-year-old Westland resident and Ford Motor Co. employee, was the only candidate who appeared_ satisfied that the board has done what it can to improve credibility at least on a personal level. "I really don't know how I could improve my credibility as a board member," he said.

For 812 years as a board member he has visited schools and sought input from employees at all levels. "And this board has probably been more active in going out into the community than any other board in the history of Wayne-Westland," McCusker said.

But board hopeful Jeanette Leppala, a 35-year-old pizzeria owner, suggested "fresh blood" is needed on the board to restore credibility.

Moreover, Leppala, a Westland resident, said the public needs to better understand the school district and its problems, and she added that the board should consider broadcasting meetings to help educate the public.

Candidate Vicki Welty of Wayne, a 34-year-old part-time instructor at Eastern Michigan University, said board members must begin to "think independently," yet work together to resolve the district's problems. The board also should stop lashing out at its critics, she said.

"We need to get rid of the usversus-them mentality that we seem to have right now," Welty said.

She also suggested that board members spend more time in schools, taking time occasionally to assume the roles of secretary, bus driver and other workers.

CANDIDATE Anne Harbison, 62, of Westland, also indicated that board members need to be more independent because "they simply are rubber stamps of the administrative proposals."

Present board members don't question the administration, said Harbison, a retired secretary and former Wayne-Westland school board member, "People need to know that board members are independent. And the board needs to be more tolerant of people who chair lenge them."

Candidate John Ristau, 27, a freelance writer and University of Michigan student, said improved credibility would come from better management. The 11.9-percent teacher pay raises over two years should not have been approved because many teachers are falling at their jobs, Ristau said. Moreover, Ristau, a Westland resident, indicated that new board members would have more credibility than present members. "With the credibility of the candidate comes credibility on the board," he said. Candidate Kimberly Rowe, 20, a Schoolcraft College student and Crestwood Dodge employee, encouraged more community involvement to help restore board credibility.

Candidate Richard LeBlanc of Westland, a 32-year-old General Motors metrology lab operator, said the board's budget should be put in simpler terms to make it easter for citizens to understand.

LeBlanc also suggested the board consider hiring a different auditing firm than Plante & Moran because "people don't believe that the (district's) money is being used as effectively as it could be."

Moreover, LeBlanc indicated the board's credibility would be improved if votors elect less politically motivated candidates who owe no political favors.

"I don't need to satisfy any affiliation in our community," LeBlanc said. "I don't carry any extra baggage with me."

For the first time in history, officials of every local school building in Michigan must give the public a written annual report on how they are trying to improve.

The report is required under Public Act 25, the massive school quality improvement law passed in 1990. With its statistical tables, it will be like a corporate officers' annual report to shareholders, comparing last year's performance to this year's.

The Wayne-Westland school district has held most of its building improvement hearings this month. The remaining hearings are scheduled for Edison Elementary at 7 p.m., Wednesday, May 29; Jefferson Elementary at 1 p.m., Thursday, May 30, and Adams Junior High at 7 p.m. the same day.

"It will make people aware of, what is really happening in their schools, what they're trying to do, what some of the obstacles are and what some of the successes are," said Dorothy Beardmore, president of the State Board of Education.

PA 25 has teeth: Schools can actually lose 5 percent state aid if they fall to produce a report. They also get an additional $25 per student from the state for performing this new state-imposed duty.

He also indicated the parade would require the city to bring in police officers - some of them on overtime. However, that appears secondary to the greater concern for the children's safety, he said.

Students had planned to start their parade at Wayne Memorial High School and march to John Glenn High School. They had hoped to march north on Wildwood, then west on Cherry Hill, then north on Wayne, then west on Marquette until they reached John Glenn.

City officials stressed that these toads will have heavy traffic during the time the parade is Dom DeBrincat, a John Glenn junior, said the council's decision has prompted students to change their parade route. They now plan to march west on Glenwood, then north on Wayne, then west on Marquette to John Glenn.

WHEN THEY reach their destination, the students are planning a rally in John Glenn's auditorium. DeBrincat said.

Superintendent Dennis O'Neill said Tuesday that, based on safety concerns, the city council's decision may be a good one.

However, DeBrincat appeared disappointed that students will not be allowed to have their parade in the streets.

DeBrincat said the parade will have the "negative" appearance of a protest as students walk along the sidewalks. Marching in the streets would have kept students off of homeowners' properties and would have given a more peaceful appearance, he said.

"We are not protesting," DeBrincat said, adding that students want to use a positive approach in their pro-millage campaign.

ANOTHER TIFA amendment includes spending $2.1 million to widen Central City Parkway to five lanes as it loops northeast from Warren to Wayne Road --- a-move that supporters hope will spur commercial growth along the parkway.

Cicirelli also said she opposes that plan, saying more commercial development is not needed along the parkway.

Yet another TIFA amendment would provide nearly $1 million for streetlights to be installed along portions of several city roads.

PRIOR TO Monday's council approval of the TIFA plan, several residents addressed the council and raised concerns about the projects.

Some wanted more information about the widening of Central City Parkway, while others were concerned about the Westland Center expansion.

Dorothy Smith spoke against the expansion, saying there are indications that Sears — an anchor to the proposed project - is in financial trouble. She referred specifically toa story in U.S. News & World Report magazine about Sears' woes.

The four-member panel issued its findings in a seven-page report submitted Monday to Wayne-Westland school board members. The report emerged three weeks before the June 10 shool election in which voters will decide a 7.75-mill tax increase.

In addressing the board Monday, panel chairman William Mills urged public support for the tax proposal, which he termed "necessary in order to provide the opportunity for a solid education for our children.

"Our audit found no areas of gross mismanagement, over-spending or anything else to indicate a reason to cut off our support of the children of this school district," Mills said, reading from a prepared statement.

AFTER MILLS presented the report Monday, the board voted 6-0 to accept it. Board member Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek abstained after she was told by Mills that committee members didn't examine local school contracts. The report indicates that the panel relied on other studies for teacher salary compari-

"I just felt I couldn't vote for it," Kozorosky-Wiacek said later, though she added that she has "the highest respect" for the committee members.

Other board members lauded the panel's efforts, with member Kathleen Chorbagian saying the committee did "a marvelous job."

Mills had approached Superintendent Dennis O'Neill about forming the panel after the last 7.75mill tax proposal failed in the special March 13 election.

O'Neill agreed to form the committee, which also includes Kevin Beevers, a Wayne businessman, James Lents, a retired Wayne funeral home director, and James Murphy, a Westland insurance adjuster,

IN PRESENTING the report, Mills said the proposed tax, which would be levied for two years, would be sufficient to restore programs cut last year, avert pending budget cuts and provide for increased operating costs through 1992-93.

Without the increase, "there are insufficient revenues available to the district," the report states.

In a review of teacher contracts settled in 32 of Wayne County's 34 districts, the panel found a 21st ranking for Wayne-Westland teachers who have a master's degree and are at the top of the salary schedule.

"Wayne-Westland teachers are not overpaid in comparison to teachers in surrounding districts," the report said, of interest revenue." A one-month delay also won't cause a major upheaval at Schooleraft College.

"We'll have to dig into our reserves," college financial director Adelard Raby said.

But in-formula districts and community colleges aren't happy about the situation. "This is the kind of thing we had with the Milliken Adminstration, living month-by-month," Garden City Schools Superintendent Michael Wilmot said. "The bigger issue, in my mind, is how is the state going to finance education: It stilllooks like they'll lean heavily on property tax payments instead of bellying up to the bar and living up to their responsibilities."

Redford Union and Garden City are western Wayne's only in-formula districts - receiving state: aid for basic classroom expenses.

The state chose to have these districts, and community colleges like Schoolcraft, borrow rather than borrowing itself. "The state did borrow $500 million in March," said Treasurer Douglas Roberts. "To borrow any more would be inviting the rating agencies to downgrade the state's credit rating."

Standard & Poor's gives Michigan a AA rating but has placed the state on "credit watch" status. Moody's rates the state slightly lower, A-plus

"WE COULD legally have borrowed, but we would downgrade (the ratings of) our notes and bonds," said Roberts, who is Gov. John Engler's financial expert. --A downgrading of Michigan'scredit rating would be hooted at by legislative. Democrats. Ex-Gov.

James Blanchard exploited the fact that the credit rating im--proved during his two terms.

Roberts last week announced he would stretch out payments to local schools. Instead of paying them a full $344 million on June 3, he will pay half then and the other half June 24. "There is simply not enough money in other usable funds to manage without delaying payments," he said.

Community colleges will get half their June payments on July

SOME SCHOOL districts have complained that the state's stretching of payments is shifting the burden of borrowing to their shoulders. They asked why the Districts will borrow to meet payrolls Treasury couldn't borrow to maintain its payment schedule.

"A fair question," said Roberts. "Creditors would ask what basis the state has for guaranteeing it can pay back the loars. We would have to pay them back by Sept. 1." Roberts said the state's revehues and cash flow are in trouble because a Court of Appeals decision on how the single business tax is applied cost the state $500 million in lost revenue. The court allowed Michigan companies which invest in other states to take the capital acquisition deduction, thus reducing state revenues.

Legislators are split along partisan lines over whether to remove the capital allowance and raise business taxes (Democrats) or reduce the SBT generally (Republi-

30 day Trial...

If you had walked by a certain yard on the afternoon of August 25th, you might have leard the ground crying. That was the day a man walked into his backyard, dug a hole, and buried six puppies alive. Unable to stop him, a young neighbor girl looked on in horror. Luckily, her mother was also looking on. She quickly called a Michigan Humane Society Investigator. When he arrived, the cruelty investigator found the mother of the puppies chained and lying protectively on a fresh patch of soil. Her sensitive ears could easily hear the cries of her puppies eighteen inches below her. What she couldn't figure out was how to help them. The MHS cruelty investigator got into the dog per and dug the puppies out with his bare hands. Today five of those puppies are alive. And

That was the objective of the Livonia Family Y Try-athlon. The second annual event, held Sunday, was a testament to physical fitness.

Some 98 participants from throughout western Wayne and Oakland counties trained for more than two months for the chance to test their time in swimming, bleyeling and running events.

"Our motto was: challenge yourself," event coordinator Jaye Wells said. "We wanted people to do things they'd never done before."

Sponsored by the Y Wellness Cener, the event promoted good health and healthy living.

"THE GOAL was to get people to improve their cardiovascular realth." Wells said, "One participant told us they lost 20 pounds in the process."

Good health also translated to caring for the environment. Foam cups and plates were banned at the event, as well as at a Saturday night, carbohydrate loading pasta dinner provided for participants.

MEMORIAL DAY 1-9-1

It was a day set aside to honor the Civil War dead.

It used to be called 'Decoration Day.'

It used to occupy one spot on the calendar—May 30th.

But things change.

We take up arms again.

And again.

And again.

And.

Decoration Day becomes Memorial Day.

The working force of America looks forward to a.

Monday Memorial Day (observed) that will stretch their weekend to three days, while the original May 30th date goes by virtually unobserved.

But this year, with another war barely over, our Memorial Days—both the observed and the original—have added meaning.

This year when we gather for the parades and ceremonies, the hot dogs and potato salad, many more of us than before will find a quiet moment to truly remember the legions of men and women who have given their lives to preserve the concept of freedom—not just for our nation—but throughout the world.

Candidates predict money woes

By Marie Chestney staff writer

Two candidates for two seats on the Livonia Board of Education, incumbent Richard McKnight and years of financial struggle ahead for Livonia Public Schools.

Despite being blessed with a solid tax base, the district (which serves cannot be complacent as it faces these financial challenges, said McKnight during a Observer inter-

"We'll be struggling the next few years as finances are cut back," said the 46-year-old Westland attorney. Dealing with the tough financial times ahead, said Watters, will be made more difficult because of a rise in the district's enrollment. "Livonia (school district) is facing uncertain financial times, especially with the tax freeze and enrollment challenger James Watters, both see increases," said Watters, a 42-yearold local businessman and Livonia resident.

THREE MEN, McKgight, Watters the northern section of Westland) and local attorney Dennis Epler, are seeking two seats on the board in the June 10 annual school board election. Epler did not attend the Observer interviews.

Both McKnight and Watters said. past experiences on either the board or in the business world have given. them the skills no tough financial decisions that will have to be made.

After serving four years on Livonla's board, Mcknight said he has faced a "few hostile crowds" over various issues and has learned to listen well and try to strike a balance between opposing viewpoints.

"If we can cut things and not people and programs, that's the first place we should go. But we might not have that luxury in the years ahead. There's no magic answer. We'll have to make decisions that are pretty hard.

"But you make the best decision you can based on the best information you have. The decision has to benefit as many kids as possible. My legal training helps; I try to see both sides of an issue."

As a banker who approves mortgages, Watters said he daily makes financial-decisions that affect the lives of families.

"When it comes to money, I'm conservative. I'm the person who makes the decision whether someone will get a home. I have the responsibility to protect corporate assets, and my employer's money:"

NEITHER CANDIDATE favored the recently passed one-year tax

McKnight believes the freeze ultimately will lead to higher local taxes or cutbacks in the district's budg-

"I understand their (lawmakers') motivation. They want to satisfy the public's desire for the control of property taxes. But the freeze at best merely puts a little salve on the wound. I'd be interested in seeing, after it's been in effect for a year, what it will actually save people. I have a feeling it won't be much."

While understanding taxpayers' concerns, Watters said taxpayers also should look at the total taxes they actually pay after taking advantage of the state's circuit breaker and deductions on the federal in-

Watters, who helped put together the district's newly forged stragetic plan, viewed the plan as one good guide the district can use to improve the quality of its education.

Part of that planning, McKnight sald, must include more emphasis on technology, more help for the noncollege-bound student, and a review of the middle school curriculum ____

If elected, Watters, a member of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce. said he intends to attend business functions and promote a better partnership between business and the schools.

"I don't recall seeing a board member at a business function, and it's rare to see a student at a busi-

Purdue professor wins 1st Glenn alumni honor

Steven R. Bell, a Purdue University professor and known internationally in math, is the first recipient of the John Glenn High School Distinguished Alumni Award.

Bell, who graduated from Glenn in 1972, has a doctorate in his field and recently was awarded the Bergman Prize for his "influential work" in the mathematical area of biholomorphic mappings, said Glenn principal Dennis Connolly in announcing the award

Boll and his colleague, Eva Ligocka, will each receive about $20,000 over the next two years for their research and writings.

Bell was nominated by Frank Higgins, Glenn's first principal and now a superintendent of a Macomb County school district.

The former principal cited Bell's 47 publications along with 23 guest lectures at international conferences in West Germany, France, Sweden and China.

Higgins remembers Bell as an all-A student at Glenn who went onto receive all A's at the University of Michigan. He then went on to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he again earned a 4.00 average and was one of the youngest mathematicians in the history of the university to receive his doc-

"For the next five years he served at Princeton University, commonly referred to in the academic world as the 'think tank'," Higgins sald.

BELL REMEMBERS his years at Glenn "fondly" and recalls that (then) principal Higgins "took special notice of my appetite for math. He arranged for me to meet with some Wayne State math professors and to use some Wayne State computers." Bell is "indebted to Higgins" for his encouragement and was grateful to several teachers while attending Glenn.

"Royce Williams, Ed Phillips, and Mr. (Dan) Waldschmidt, in particular, were exemplary teachers who had a tremendous effect on my intellectual formation," Bell

While at Glenn, Bell participated in extra-curricular activities such as the Ski Club, Symphonic Band, Wind Ensemble, and Pep Band each of his three years in high school. He also played clarinet in the Pit Orchestra and Symphonic Band for two years.

He was a member of the Math Club for two years, the Stage Band for one year, and the National Honor Society for two years, serving as president in his second year

BESIDES HIS teaching, writing, lecturing, and research, Bell continues to keep active in varied interests, among them skiing and playing clarinet and barltone with a group at Purdue.

He shares interests with his wife Karin (Bergman) Bell, herself an alumna of Glenn, who is an artist and is working on her doctorate in archeology.

Bell will be honored at a recepon on June 7 in the John Cleni Media Center.

"It is fitting that Steve Bell should be the first Distinguished Alumnus at John Glenn High School, for he will always be the hallmark for others to follow," said

To be part of the solution, not part of the problem.

Times change. There was once a time when we thought that providing the very best community news coverage was enough.

Today it's not. Today we have a responsibility not only to our readers and advertisers, but also to our environment.

That's why 30% of the newsprint we put on our press has been recycled. This will increase when our other suppliers bring recycled newsprint on line later this year.

Our communities and the entire State of Michigan face a solid waste crisis.

There used to be 624 Type II landfills in Michigan*. The trash from your home, your neighbor's homes and the businesses in your town goes into a Type II landfill. As you read this, there' are only 71 of them still open and licensed to do business. That's 71 in all-of Michigan's 83 counties. Estimates say one-third of these will be out of business in less than five years.

So what can a business like ours do to be part of the solution and not part of the problem?

We're buying and printing your newspaper on recycled newsprint. We're looking for other recycled products to use in our business. We're recycling all of our newsprint and office paper. We're working to increase public awareness and participation. We're encouraging our readers to recycle.

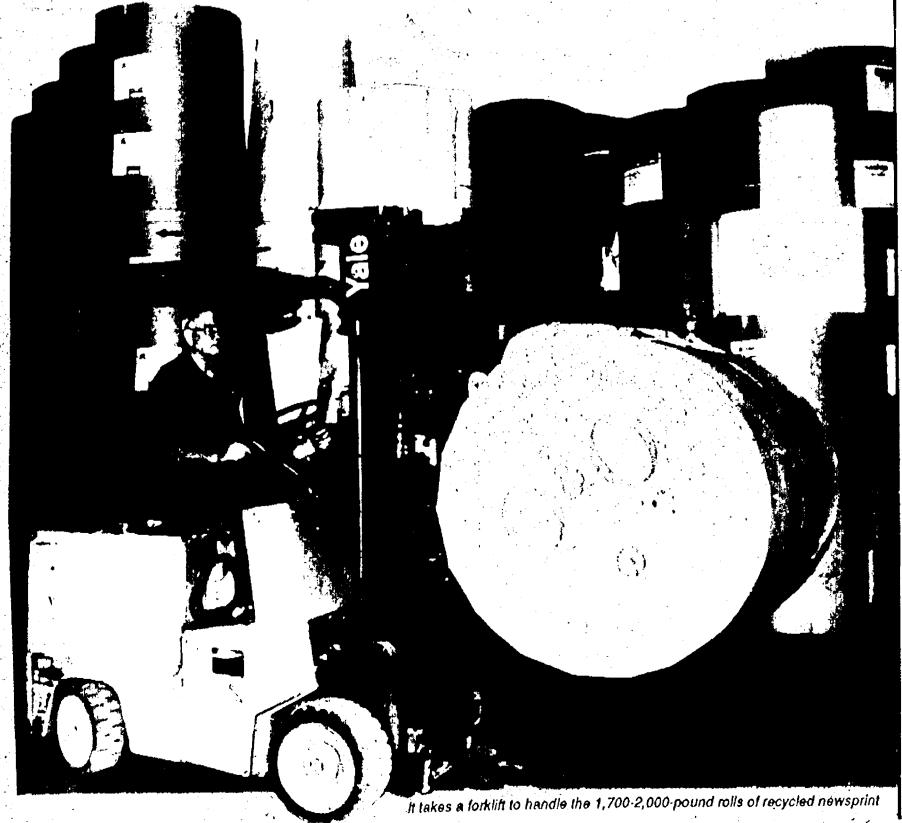

How can you help? Why not begin with this newspaper; recycle it along with others you may have collected. Then start buying recycled products. Spread the word about those landfills and recycle this page by sharing it with a friend.

And if you are already recycling—thank you.

Tax hike needed to avert cuts

HE WAYNE-WESTLAND school district must have a variety of quality programs and services to meet the current and future needs of its students.

As a reality of the community's demographics, the district is forced to offer a wider range of programs and services than other districts because of the varying needs of local students.

Voters will act Monday, June 10, on a 7.75 mill tax rate increase. The Observer urges the community to support the proposal.

One question in the millage campaign is not what the tax rate boost will buy but what programs and services will be eliminated if the proposal is rejected.

The board has already announced planned, massive cutbacks if there is no new money in the fall. Those cuts will include virtually all busing (with the exception state mandated busing for special education students); reduction of the high school day to five hours from six, which would jeopardize the schools' university accreditation; elimination of the expressive arts program already decimated during the past year; continuation of the shortened junior high school day at five hours; and elimination of all sports and cocurricular programs, supported last year on a pay-to-play fee basis.

If the tax increase is approved in 21/2 weeks, the board has promised that none of the administrative cutbacks made last year will be restored, other than those involving the shared principals at four elementary schools.

With the national and state demands for a higher level of educational standards for high dents to cut more into the program.

IT'S ALSO short-sighted for homeowners with or without children now in school - to oppose the millage proposal just to avoid a higher property-tax-bill. Traditionally, major cutbacks quality of educational services. in schools are rarely restored without a tax rate increase. estate values in a community. Communities with deteriorating schools usually suffer from lower home values.

On another issue, many voters are upset with the size of the pay raises given to the district's teachers earlier this year. But the contracts are history and won't be changed, regardless of the June 10 election's outcome.

Voters should be aware that the raises account for $3 million of the $11 million to be generated by the millage proposal and related state aid revenues.

IF THE 7.75 mill proposal is approved, it will mean an annual property tax increase of nearly $233 for the owner of a $60,000 house. For those with modest incomes, there would be a state rebate of most of the tax bill increase.

Many parents are upset about low academic test scores, increasing property taxes and the school graduations, it's suicide for today's stu- loss of community confidence and credibility in the board of education.

Rejection of the June 10 proposal and the resulting deeper program cuts won't help. Actually, they would make it harder to improve the Ever attended a parent-teacher conference and wondered just what was going on in your child's school? Here's the way to find out.

Every school building in Michigan is required by law to give the public a written annual report on its educational progress by July 31. Some schools will be offering the report now, some later this summer.

Like a corporation's annual report to shareholders, with statistical tables showing annual results and management's plans for the future, these reports must contain sections on current educational performance as well as a "school improvement

Elsewhere in today's newspaper you will find information about where and when the annual education report will be presented for your child's school. (Note these reports are not for an entire district; they are specific to each individual school in Michigan.)

THE NOTION of a series of annual reports containing statistical indices of educational achievement together with three- to five-year school improvement plans is simple. Setting out achievements and plans for future improvement in public is a way to put the pressure on from the people that count: the parents of children attending the school as well as taxpayers in the district.

Other, more responsible school officials are anxious to have maximum public involvement because they know that's the way to get the support they need. To the editor:

I am very happy to see that Mayor (Robert) Thomas and Mr. (David) Moranty have now decided to implement some ideas on how to improve the "poorly" organized school system we have in Wayne-Westland. My question is what do we do in the meantime when our children are losing valuable learning time and many other important school programs?

Their suggestions are very good and I believe could be a start in the right direction, but these things take time and in most cases money, and as it has been said many times duting this struggle, our children do not have time, their education is much. too important to be put on hold until these problems have been resolved.'I also know that it took many years to get into the situation we are in at the present time, and common sense only tells us it will take time to get this resolved.

My prayers are that Mayor Thomas and Mr. Moranty will encourage all of us in the community to go to the polls June 10 and vote "YES" for the 7.75 mills, enabling the blue ribbon committee and others at least two years and the funds to begin a start on solving these problems along with giving our children the educational opportunities they de-

Education appreciated

To the editor:

I am a student in the Wayne-Westland district and for months I have been listening to parents blaming teachers for low MEAP (Michigan Education Assessment Program) scores, bad grades, etc. Parents need to support the teachers and work with them.

Recently an article in a local paper gave a negative view of my elementary school and teachers. I found this very upsetting. I went to Vandenberg beginning with kindergarten and completed sixth grade in June

My seven years at Vandenberg gave me a strong foundation for future educational experiences. All of my teachers gave me their best, however they can't do everything alone. They need parent support. What is started in the classroom must be continued at home. My parents have spent endless hours helping with homework and weak areas.

Don't believe them. Give everyone a chance. For example, due to rumors I was scared to death to enter sixth grade. The stories I had heard were frightening. I started sixth grade in August 1989. I was scared. I completed sixth grade the following June as a student with a strong readiness for junior high. I didn't have one horror story to tell about sixth grade.

Rumors will always be there.

I left Vandenberg with a 4.0 grade point average and received the President's Academic Achievement Award. I have kept a 3.8 or above grade point average during my first year of junior high. I feel I am able to maintain these grades due to my elementary learning experiences. Thank you teachers and staff at Vandenberg and thanks mom and dad. Remember, "It takes two" (parents plus teachers).

Good ole boys place sex below race prejudice

SOME OF US good ole boys were standing around the copy desk the other day, discussing the latest essay from one of my fellow columnizers.

(Now no one in the group, understand, considered himself a good ole boy. In fact, if you had labeled him as such, he would have denied it with all the indignation he could muster. But there's a trace of the good ole. boy in all of us, even if we don't e chew Bull Durham or drive pickups with gun racks in the back.)

"Well, he's really gone over the edge this time," one of them said .--"Come out of the closet, that's for súre," said another ... "I'll bet his wife makes him eat quiche for dinner," added a third.

It was the kind of lively, and argumentative, discussion that a column should generate. Then one of the women in the office walked by.

"What's going on?" she asked. Somebody handed her a printout of the column in question.

SHE STARTED reading it and muttering unintelligible things under her breath. I couldn't make out what she was saying, but I thought I caught the word "strangle" and something about a dull knife.

Then another person showed up. He surveyed the scene. "Are you guys picking his column apart again?

"It's insensitive," somebody said. "It's his opinion. He's entitled to

"It's women bashing. And gay bashing."

"No, it isn't. Besides, it's his opin-

GOBs went their separate ways, presumably to think about politics or hunting or fly fishing or whether the Pistons were going to be able to pull off a Threepeat.

For some reason I kept thinking about the question that has been bugging the feminist for a long time

"Why is it," she wants to know, "that it's still socially acceptable to poke fun at women when you'd never... dare make jokes about or poke the same kind of fun at racial minoritles?" The answer, of course, is that the good ole boy syndrome is alive and well, even though it's kept in the closet a lot of the time.

Then I thought about that civil rights bill in Congress — the one that House Democratic leaders are trying to make more palatable to Southern members (the original good ole boys) by setting limits on jury awards to female victims of employment discrimination while imposing no such limits on similar awards to victims in race discrimination cases.

Why is it, the feminist also wonders, that it's considered less serious to discriminate against people because of their sex than because of their race?

I had a vision of her putting that question to one of the congressmen who's supporting the amendment to impose the limits and who (in my vision) bore a striking resemblance to J. R. Ewing, another good ole boy.

I could see him putting his arm around her, giving her a wink and a hug and saying, "Why, that's different, darlin'. Yessir, that's completely different."

Tenure protects teachers' rights

Q: As a parent I am amazed that one high school teacher my children had has tenure. All the kids say he is a joke! It makes me wonder how he got hired let alone was given tenure. I say education should get rid of tenure. Do you agree?

A: No, I don't agree schools should get rid of tenure. I do believe a teacher should be fired if a well-documented case shows that person is damaging kids physically, verbally or is an unprepared, uncaring, lousy teacher. But, even then, winning a tenure case is extremely difficult if not almost impossible.

Indeed, the time, energy and money spent on trying to win a tenure case to fire a teacher often is self-

The decision, by administration, often is, "Is it worth the potential high dollar cost to the taxpayers?" HOWEVER, THE problem really lles in the initial hiring and the probationary period. I've personally (years ago) who would hire a teacher over the phone - no interviews, no background check.

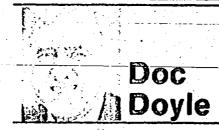

This seldom if ever happens today, especially when there are 4,000 applications on lile in some of our school district personnel offices.

The second problem is the probationary period. The building principal and central office administration have up to three years to evaluate a candidate before tenure.

If a weak, mediocre teacher was given tenure after three years of observation, the question becomes, "Where was the administration during the teacher's probation period?"

Still, some might say, "We miss the good 'ole days when the administration ran the schools, when there was no tenure." Let's briefly look at those days.

TEACHERS HAD a one-year contract written on a half a page. It stated your name, your salary and how many months you would teach and the (many) reasons for which known of some personnel directors you could be fired. It was signed by the superintendent and the president

The "unwritten language" is what got techers fired prior to tenure. Taken for granted was that teachers didn't go to local bars, instead go about 25 miles out of town for a drink. There was no smoking in public or in the schools and you were to go to your room at home and pull the curtains shut. Only women were toteach in the elementary schools and Tenure was long and hard to come by and is really the only protection a teacher has. Let's not go into a time warp and do away with tenure. Let's select and evaluate probationary teachers more carefully.

Voc-tech programs set for review

Two key Democrats in Lansing will lead a "Speaker's Blue Ribbon Commission on Career/Technical Education."

House Speaker Lewis Dodak of Birch Run and Education Committee chair William Keith of Garden City want the 12-member-panel toevaluate vocational programs so that high school graduates have job skills.

"It is vital," said Keith, "that educators work closely with business and labor interests to identify the kind of career and technical training that will be needed."

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again!

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel in the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

Ordinary drain products run bere. --

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Stevenson dominates field events

By Brad Emons staff writer

Livonia Stevenson won a rare girls track regional when coach Paul Holmberg least expected it.

"We've been close a lot of times, but we've always been behind Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor Pioneer," Holmberg said "We were third last year ".

On Friday, the Spartans took the Class A team title at Southfield with 80 points, outdueling Detroit Public School League members Cody (57) and Henry Ford (46). See statistical summary on page 4B.

"I'm kind of surprised," Holmberg said. "On paper, Henry Ford should have beaten us. We did what we advertised. There were no surprises."

Stevenson, led by regional discus champion Debble Wroblewski (112 feet, 8 inches), racked up 43 points in the field events.

The Spartans then opened up the running events by qualifying for the state Class A meet (June 1 in Grand Rapids) in the 3,200-meter relay as Gail_Grewe, Jennifer_Pfander_and Carrie Creehan took second in 9:57.4.

really started," Holmberg said. "That would be enough for any regional (championship)

STEVENSON'S OTHER state qualifiers included Cathy Bacile, who took a second place in the long jump (15-61/4); Teresa Sarno, second, discus (111-0); and the second place 400 relay team of Bacile, Kim Nelson, Michelle Slawski and Debbie Walsh (53.1).

'We scored in every event but the 100 hurdles and the 800 relay where we were disqualified," Holmberg said. "One of our people got knocked down and I thought that would come back to haunt us because I thought those would be big points at the end."

But the Spartans, who went un-"We had 51 points before the meet beaten in eight dual meets this season, won by a comfortable 23-point

"I'm happy to accomplish the things we did this season," the Stevenson coach said. "Before the year I never expected this kind of success

"We went to four different region?" al sites in five years and one point where you don't know where you're going and what you're up against."

The Spartans were up to the task; along with some other Observerland individuals.

Livonia Ladywood's Rebecca Willey qualified for the state meet in two events, taking firsts in both the high jump (5-4) and shot put (35-4%). Teammate Malia Dixon added a second in the 3,200 run (11:43.6) to quali-

Redford Union's Sarah Percy also qualified in two events, winning the 300 hurdles (48.2) and finishing second in the 100 hurdles. Teammate Kellie Watkins finished second behind Willey to qualify in the shot put

Spartans' Godlewski bags 5 goals

The state's top-ranked soccer team in Class A has moved into the district finals at Northville.

Livonia Stevenson (14-0-2) will meet the host Mustangs (11-3-2) for the coveted championship, beginning at 4 p.m. Friday.

In Wednesday's semifinals, Stevenson pounded visiting Novi, 10-0, behind Lori Godlewski's five goals.

Tracy Morrell and Sarah Bouchard each contributed one goal and one assist for the winners. Patty Diamond, Allison Pinta and Sarah Porath also scored for the Spartans.

The match was halted with 11 minutes to play because of the 10goal mercy rule.

In the other semifinal, Northville ousted visiting Livonia Churchill, 2-1, behind Ashley McClain's gamewinner coming near the end of the Churchill bowed out with a 10-5-1 overall record.

"We had tons of changes to score, more than our share, it was one of those days," Churchill coach Nick O'Shea said.

LORI PLACE tallied Churchill's only goal from Andrea Zawislak to make it 1-1.

In first-round action on Monday, Churchill goalie Monia Cervi blanked Livonia Ladywood in a match at Schoolcraft College, 4-0.

Place, Aimee Cousino, Mechelle Brazin and Erin Stacherski scored the Churchill goals. Kris Brazin addi ed two assists.

Stevenson, meanwhile, pulled away from a 2-1 halftime advantage to beat city rival Franklin, 7-1.

Michell Brach and Ragen Coyne each scored twice, while Godlewski, Holly Kimble and Kristin Oswandel added one apiece. Godlewski also collected three assists.

Patty Shea tallied the lone goal for the visiting Patriots, who were outshot 19-4.

Karen Groulx was in goal for the defending state champions.

Where have you gone Detroit Adray Baseball League?

If Simon and Garfunkel were singing a new version to this tune, the answer would be: Livonia Collegiate Baseball League.

With the folding of the Detroit circuit, players ages 20 and under have flocked to compete for jobs in the eight-team LCBL. Competition will be a lot stiffer this summer in the Livonia league, which opens its scason Friday at three different sites.

Friday's double-header at Ford Field pits Wendy's of Ann Arbor vs. Livonia Little Caesars at 5:30 p.m., followed by regular season champify's Plumbing of Livonia against two-time LCBL playoff champion starter this season at Indiana and baseball

Walter's Appliance of Livonia.

"There are going to be larger crowds at the games this year because this will be the only place in the area to see college baseball," -- league. predicts Walter's manager Mike Keller, now in his 10th season.

Walter's has several players returning, including right fielder Jerry Koester, a Westland John Glenn. High product who hit .405 last year. He is joined by holdovers Jason Gabel (Livonia Churchill), a first baseman who led the LCBL in RBI (36) on Fieger & Fieger (formerty Duf- last year; outfielder Joe Sturtz North Farmington), a part time.

Jeff Pendell (Livonia Churchill), a starting infielder this spring for Madonna College.

KELLER HAS also signed several impressive players including University of Detroit Mercy standout center fielder Mike Heard (Wayne High), who may opt to play part of the summer in Cape Cod, Mass.

Heard, however, may go in the prodraft along with Henry Ford Community College shortstop Mark Hribar, another Keller signee.

Last year's regular season champ Duffy's Plumbing, now Fieger & Fieger, returns eight players, including the league's leading hitter, second baseman Todd Fracassi (Livonia Stevenson). He led all batters last summer with a .461 average.

Rob Puckett (Wayne), a standout center fielder for Henry Ford CC's state champion team, also returns along with pair of Western Michigan University hurlers, John Schefka (3-2 and 2.80 ERA) and Bill Flohr.

"The league: should be fun to watch and it will be a chance to see some darn good baseball," Fieger manager Rey Fracassi.

Tom Holzer. Ford, last place in the LCBL in 1990, has now become Delwal of Brighton.

Manager Bob Peterson, with the help of scout Fred Schmidt, has made some major connections with some of the state's top NCAA Division I schools.

DELWAL'S top-name players inlude Leo Hutchinson (Redford Cathille Central), a pitcher at Eastern Michigan; pitchers Mike Wiseley EMU) and Tim Bruce (U-D Mercy); along with outfielder Steve Money (MSU) and infielder Eric Sumpter (MSU). Peterson also has Ron Hollis of Brighton, considered by many as the state's top high school player.

Wendy's, meanwhile, was second In last year's LCBL race. Manager Dr. Brien Lang will rely on MSU's Hirschman brothers -stu, a pitcher, and Steve, an outfleld-

CC breezes to regional title

Nothing unexpected happened at the Class A tennis regional at Dearborn. Redford Catholic Central dominated, as anticipated, winning the title with ease to advance to the state meet May-31-June 2 in Midland.

The victory may have been costly, however. The Shamrocks' top singles player, Paul Bozyk, had to withdraw while trailing Dearborn's Andris Abolins 5-4 in the first set of the No. 1 final due to a pulled groin muscle. His status remains uncertain.

CC won with 27 points, Host Dearborn was second with 18, followed by Dearborn Edsel Ford (14), University of Detroit-Jesuit (10), Dearborn Fordson (seven), Livonia Franklin and Garden City (six each), Redford Union (four), Detroit Mumford (two), Detroit Mackenzie and Detroit Redford (one each), and Detroit Cody and Detroit Cooley (zero).

The top two teams advance to the state final.

CC COACH Bob Miller was optimistic regarding Bozyk's return. "It's looking positive he'll be able to start practice real soon," Miller said. "But I want to know what the doctor has to say. before I throw him into the fire."

According to Miller, Bozyk slightly pulled the have a very strong team," said Miller. "We're muscle during practice earlier last week. By the tournament final, it had worsened so that he could hardly move.

Bozyk's loss, however, dld illustrate just how deep this CC squad is. The Shamrocks were also without Jayson Torres at No. 1 doubles, who missed the regional due to illness.

Mark Shaya, who played No. 4 doubles throughout the dual-meet season, filled in and, said Miller, "He played extremely well. He didn't look out of place at all." Torres is expected to be ready by the state finals.

Indeed, Bozyk's withdrawl at No. 1 singles was the only CC loss. The Shamrocks collected titles at the other six flights, including No. 1 doubles, where Shava teammed with Chris Alonte to beat Dearborn's Travis Furlow and Mike Pernicano, 6-1, 6-1.

"THIS MEET just confirmed the fact that we pretty solid down the line. The meet went the way we expected it to go.

"Because of our previous record throughout the season, knowing we'd played some pretty tough teams led me to believe we'd have pretty solid results. But you still have to go out and

CC played, all right. At No. 2 singles, Paul Thieme handled Geoff Jorgensen of Edsel Ford 6-0, 6-4; at No. 3 singles, Scott Hazlett outdueled German Spiller of Edsel Ford 6-3, 6-4; and Rohit Bhatia completed the CC singles sweep at No. 4 with a 6.0, 6.2 victory over Franklin's Pat McCormick.

In doubles, the No. 2 title was captured by CC's Dave Gallagher and Chris Matson, 6-2, 6-1 over Brian Short and Chuck Saltmarche of Dearborn. The No. 3 crown went to the Shamrocks' Dave Lombardi and William Shade, who shutout Mike Chioni and Marlo Villaba of U-D Jesuit, 6-0, 6-0.

Now all that remains for CC - ranked fourth in the last Class A poll - is the state final. "I'm -just trying to get everyone healthy and gear up for Midland," said Miller, "There are a lot of teams who are pretty much equal. Whoever gets hot is going to win it."

If the Shamrocks can regain their health, they could be that team.

"The director really liked the dog," Rice said. Their dog will be onstage for 10-20 seconds in a hunting scene, along with Molly, a 11/2 year old dog that belongs to their friends, John and Eva Cowhig.

"THE ACTOR walks onstage with them and across the stage to the other side," Rice said. Reading from a clipping from the Stratford Beacon-Herald, Rice said the director, Richard Monette, said the part requires "beautiful, welltrained dogs that have the ability not to become easily distracted." "

'My Fair Lady'

Perfect show for Greek Theatre

By Mary Jane Doerr special writer

TO MUSICAL is probably more fitting for St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook to open its newly renovated Greek Theatre than Lerner and

Lowe's "My Fair Lady."

Based on George Bernard Shaw's play "Pygmalion" the musical belongs in the 75-year-old amphitheater facing the Greek pool and statues. Shaw based his play on the story of a Greek legend of a king who carves an-ivory statue, only to fall in love with it.

In the Greek legend, Aphrodite brings the statue to life and Pygmalion marries her. At Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills, Nancy Brassert is bringing the statues to life, so to speak, as the director for this present-day Pygmalion, "My Fair Lady."

"We are proud of our Greek Theatre," said Brassert. "In Greek theater the saying goes 'less is more.' We don't try to cover up our Greek Theatre, but we have done what had to be done to make this show work."

ON THE floor of the company's "winter" house, the weather-resistant forest-green set was ready to be moved up the hill to the pine forest setting. There are surprises on the set, but Brassert is not telling what they are.

Directing is her second love and perhaps her third, if you count her happy marriage. Brassert says acting is her first love. -

'When I was three I was in a dance recital and each time they played my exit I dld my routine over again. I haven't gotten off the stage yet." She has been active with St. Dunstan's for 22 years.

Brassert comes from a theatrical family. Her grandfather built a movie house back in her home town in Pennsylvania. Her father showed movies and imported talent who stayed in their home. Later, she went on to Sullins College in Virginia, majoring in drama, and then to the University of Virginia to continue her major.

"Once when I was doing summer stock, I went to New York to visit some friends in the theater. I decided there were 20,000 people in New York just as talented as I was and back home a wonderful man wanted to marry me. So I got married."

THIRTY-SEVEN years and no regrets later, she is just as much in love. She spends her weeks as a set dresser for films, and directing and acting in shows. Her husband spends his time at Metamora with his hors-

Director Nancy Brassert goes over scene with Dianne Ryding as Eliza Doolittle in St. Dunstan's Guild production of musical "My Fair Lady," based on Shaw's play taken from a Greek legend.

For her time with St. Dunstan's, Brassert was given the Constance Binney Award, the highest award given by the club for exceptional

In "My Fair Lady" she has cast 45 people from the group's 175 members. Many of them are new to the group. For some, it will be their first time on stage. Nearly 20 outstanding and experienced performers tried out for the eight leads - four excellent Elizas.

"We put demands on ourselves to do as professional a show as possible. That is our responsibility to our audience. This is a special cast. Their enthusiasm is going to spill out on stage."

DIANNE RYDING is Eliza Doolittle, playing opposite Dick Hartle as Henry Higgins. Edgar Guest is Alfred Doolittle, with Bill Everson as Col. Pickering. James Andres has the singing role of Freddy Eynsford-Hill singing "On the Street Where You Live."

Leading a 17-piece orchestra in the pit is classically trained vocalist Jeanne Weston, who has been rehearsing since March. Phil Fox of the Hilberry Theatre has been consulting on the English accents.

The show's 18 scenes have been cut to 13 to keep the pacing even. The ball and the scene in Mrs. Higgins' garden will take place in the grass in front of the theater. The set for the Covent Garden scene is back by the pool.

Like Pygmalion and Henry Higgins, Nancy Brassert has fallen in love with what she is creating with the Shavian characters in this English musical. Her enthusiasm is infectious.

"There is no better high you can get when you are on stage and things are really rolling," said Brassert.

The bottom line here is that the Austins should not necessarily rule out certain colleges and universities from consideration based solely on the cost. It is not too early to begin investigating the financial aid process with high school counselors and college financial aid officers. Position assets, income to maximize college aid

By Dan Boyco and Alan Ferrara special writers

This is the second of a series of articles on financing a college education. This week's story focuses on strategies for reducing assets to decrease the expected family contribution to college expenses. Next week, the series will conclude with a look at financial aid

Last week, we reviewed the situation faced by Mike and Jo Austin, a Westland couple who are trying to plan for their two children's college education costs.

The children, who are in high school, have relatively modest college savings accounts - about $5,000 each. The Austins wonder how they can afford to send their children to private or even public universities without putting themselves in a deep hole financially. This would be a major problem for them because they must provide for their own retirement.

Jo recently received a $50,000 inheritance from her mother. Jo wonders whether she would give $5,000-$10,000 to each child to supplement their current educational funds. We would not reccomend that she do this for reasons we will discuss later-

Assets, and to some extent income, should be structured so as to provide the lowest possible expected family contribution and therefore qualify for the greatest amount of financial aid. The four basic resources are: parental assets, student assets, parental income and student income.

PARENTAL ASSETS: This is one of the biggest areas that the Austins can control. Certain assets must be included in the financial aid formula determining the expected family contribution. Assets such as bank savings, certificates of deposit, stocks, bonds, investment real estate and mutual funds are all included as-

The equity in your home (market value minus mortgage debt) is also an included asset. An "exclusion al-mine the asset base subjected to the financial aid formula. Parents are expected to contribute approximately 5.6 percent of these assets after

- Assets typically not counted in determining family contribution are retirement plans, life insurance cash values, and in many cases, deferred annuities. The obvious strategy here is to have as many assets in the excluded category as possible.

A note of caution: When considering shifts among assets to qualify for financial aid, don't let the tail wag the dog. The financial decision should make good investment and economic sense rather than being solely oriented toward qualifying for financial aid.

THE AUSTINS should consider the following strategies to reduce their assets. They should consider taking out a home equity loan to consolidate their non-mortgage debt. By borrowing the $26,000 to pay off their auto loans, bank loans and charge accounts, they will reduce their equity value of their house and thus decrease their expected contribution by more than $1,400 per year -(5½ percent of $26,000). It is also a good economic decision because the interest rate is both lower and tax Jo's $59,000 inheritance might beprotected by aligning it with their life insurance program or possibly through the use of an investment annuity contract. Mike has a $250,000 universal life contract, which has a very modest cash value. By adding the $50,000 to the universal life contract, the money may be excludable, it would earn a competitive interest rate, and it would grow on a tax-advantaged basis.

This one instance when combining an insurance program (where there is an insurable need) with an investment program can make a great deal of sense. This strategy might reduce the family expected contribution by as much as $2,500. There is a little loss of liquidity because withdrawals can usually be made from a universal life policy at any time.

Remember that Jo's mother spelowance" is then subtracted to deter- cifically wanted the $50,000 to be

They might consider placing their certificate of deposit when it matures into a certificate of annuity. This is a deferred annuity contract that is much like a bank CD except that the issuing institution is an insurance company. A real plus is that the interest is not taxable until withdrawn. Like bank CDs, there is a penalty for early withdrawal, but at the end of the committed time period, the money can be withdrawn.

If the owner of the policy is under age 59½, there is a 10-percent tax penalty on the interest withdrawn. But this is not as onerous as it may first seem. Current interest rates on one-year certificates of annuity are as high as 7.5 percent compared to bank CDs, which currently pay interest of approximately 6 percent. If after one year, the certificate of annuito is eached in the net return is still 6.75 percent (7.5 percent minus .75 percent penalty), which is still better than the bank yield. Again, this makes economic sense as well as good college planning sense.

STUDENT ASSETS: Student assets receive no exclusion allowance. Everything students' own is subject to a 35-percent expected contribution rate. So it is beneficial to minimize the total assets in that student's name.

Jo had been thinking of transferring some assets to her children's accounts. This is an appropriate strategy only if there is little chance of qualifying for financial aid. Because the Austins will likely receive aid, they should avoid placing assets in the children's names as it will significantly increase the family's expected contribution and therefore derease financial aid The Austins might even consider using the $5,000 each child has accumulated for other expenses that would otherwise be incurred by the children. By reducing the children's assets they again increase the potential for financial aid. The only categories of expense for which the Austins cannot use the children's money are food, clothing and shelter.

PARENTAL INCOME: As in parental assets, there are certain allowances excluded from the parents' income. These include such items as taxes paid, certain unreimbursed medical expenses and a family maintenance allowance. The expect--ed-family-contribution-takes 22-47 percent of everything left over.

There are a couple of strategies the Austins might consider to reduce reportable income. First, Mike should increase his contribution to the 401(k) plan at work from 5 percent of his income to 10 percent. This decreases his reported taxable income. Should he need to access these funds to pay for some of the educational costs, the 401(k) plan permits loans for up to one half of the value of this account.

The Austins have stock that Mike bought 10 years ago for $1,500, which is now worth $6,000. With the might want to consider selling in 1991 so that the capital gain is reported on this year's tax return. The first child's financial aid application (to be submitted January 1992) will be based on 1992 income. If there is a capital gain in 1992, this will increase the Austins' expected family contribution.

Jo was thinking of going back to work to generate additional income. After paying Social Security taxes (over 7.5 percent), federal income taxes (28 percent), state and local taxes (5 percent), job-related transportation and meals (approximately 10 percent), 47 percent of everything left (which comes to about 23.5 percent of the total) goes into the financial aid formula as the expected family contribution. Totaling these, would be lost. Many families use this as a time for the at-home spouse to return to school. If enrolled at least half-time in college-level courses, the parent is considered another student in college for financial aid purposes. Again, this reduces the expected family contribution.

items, 74 percent of her job income

STUDENT INCOME: According to the financial aid formula, 70 percent of a student's after tax-earnings are included in the expected family contribution (with a minimum contribution to be made of $700 per year). There are no exclusions here to reduce this expected contribution. There is very little that can be done to impact this number.

These strategies, when taken as a whole, will dramatically impact the amount of financial aid that Jill and Ted might receive. The practical considerations of each suggestion should be reviewed carefully by the Austins with their personal tax and financial advisers to be sure that they fit their situaiton.

Also, some of the strategies might not work at certain colleges, which have their own supplemental financial aid forms, so they should inves-

Scramble sometimes needed to get discount airline tickets

The ongoing spree of airline advertisements offering drastically low fares for flights to the sidewalk cafes of Paris or the tropical islands of Hawaii has brought a triumphant response from would-be travelers.

But amid the rush to take advantage of the low fares, many area travel agents like Marlene DiPonio, manager of Livonia Travel Service in Livonia, had to tell clients that no such fares were available. This bit of news did not sit well with customers. And it did not sit well with DiPonio. But the airlines seemed delighted. "You open the newspaper and see an ad for a $99 flight, but once you figure out all the restrictions, you find out the ticket will cost $299," DiPonio said. "It's like everything now; you really have take things with a grain of salt." The airlines are using a relatively new technique known as "yield management," by which they advertise drastically reduced fares and then limit availability in the hopes that customers who fail to get a discount switch to a higher-priced ticket. "The low fares have always been very limited, but I think this practice has really come to light with all the recent promotions," said JoAnne Noakes, president and owner of Aurora Travel in Troy. "The airlines were really hurt by the Persian Gulf war and the threat of terrorism, and by offering the low rates they've created incredible demand, but that demand has greatly exceeded the number of seats avail-

Based on the principle that the cost of a particular service is never the same for all clients, yield management allows the airlines to maximize revenues and profits by offering discount fares and then juggling the mix of low- and high-priced tickets right up until take-

For example, business travelers who need flights on short notice pay higher fares than vacationers who book their seats well in advance. At the same time, the airlines are well aware that any empty seats constitute lost revenues. So in order to maximize profits, the airlines take seats they anticipate will remain unsold and raise or lower prices to lure just enough bargain fliers to fill a plane -- and no more.

But as the airlines have grown more and more savvy about how to maximize profits while juggling ticket. prices - often relying on the calculating speed of computers -- consumers have found the advertised fares more and more clusive.

"We do'limit the number of seats for discount fares, but we wouldn't be investing large sums of money in advertising if there were no seats available," said Christy Clapp, a spokeswoman for Northwest Airlines In St.

The carrier handles 60 percent of all flights at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

"What we try to do is direct the traffic to the flights that need it the most. A lot of times, if you travel on a Eriday evening, chances are there won't be discount seats available simply because there is so much de-

To take advantage of lower fares, Clapp advised travelers to book themselves on flights scheduled on any weekday except Friday Not surprisingly, the best prices tend to be on off-peak flights, either early in the morning or late at night.

But even as the airlines advertise low fares. Don-Mayer, an assistant professor of management and marketing at Oakland University in Rochester, said it was arguable the discounts were being limited to bump consumers to a higher fare.

"This could be construed as a classic balt-and-switch tactic," Mayer said. "The rule is if you sell an advertised product, don't unsell it. If you advertise a refrigerator for $398, you can't display a banged-up model. and then steer people to a $600 model.

"Whether bait-and-switch is going on in the airline industry is quite arguable. A number of consumer groups have tried to address the problem, but most have met with limited success. Court decisions have also largely been ruled in the airlines' favor."

Many businesses do the opposite to build consumer loyalty and satisfy truth-in-advertising laws. Mayer sald. They give rainchecks. Indeed, federal and state -laws require advertisers of a sale item to set aside sufficient inventory to meet anticipated demand.

. But because the airlines are governed by the U.S. Department of Transportation, a circumstance which came about when Congress deregulated the industry in 1978, other federal and state agencies have so far been unable to challenge the integrity of discount pricing.

Compounding the problem, because of budget constraints, the transportation department has four people

Handwriting reflects her traditional upbringing

Lorene C. Green,

At the age of 67, I am still curlous as to what my handwriting reveals and hopefully just maybe, you would be kind enough to analyze it for me.

Your column is one I don not miss because it is interesting to find just how much the written word can reveal, and you don't miss a thing. I sincerely thank you.

This neat handwriting reflects a woman whose strong foundation is in her traditional upbringing. A sense of responsibility was impressed upon you early in life.

Toward ethics, morality and social responsibility, your attitude is probably on the rigid side. The family may lovingly refer to you as "old fashioned."

Conscientious and thorough describe your modus operandi. You are well acquainted with involvement and hard work. Good organizational skills are suggested here. Little is left to chance. You make plans and then move forward to carry out the planning. Your work is performed carefully, methodically and with determination. And you tend to feel optimistic about your goals.

Logic characterizes your thinking. Your mind tends to focus on your objective to the extent that receptivity to change or readiness to accept new opportunities or developments spontaneously is rather difficult,

In your interpersonal relationships you are sensitive, kind and caring.

Women pick less traditional parenthood—no mate

"You find it's just a developmental thing."

THE OTHER positive aspect of similar circumstance was a client of the organization that drew Brandt

Issues addressed at the monthly. meetings pertain to child rearingand "the same problems every parrent has raising a child."

One area of research data still in the making and of concern to single mothers is how the children will turn out and be able to handle things.

That just hasn't come up a lo cause it's (single mothers by choice) new, it's different," Clements said, "We haven't run into a lot of problems with people not accepting our kids or not accepting us for what we have done."

AS FOR such comments as "You don't have a daddy," "most women have elected to be very open and honest with their children - appropriate information at the proper age," Clements said. "There isn't a set answer (on how to explain to a child) that there is no father."

Clements relies on her daughter to bring up the subject.

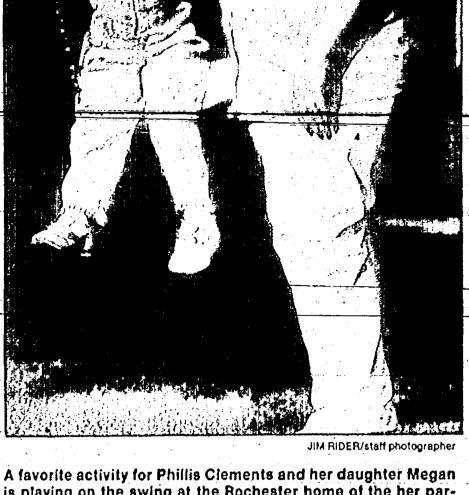

"When she was 2 years old, she" said to me 'I don't have a daddy but I have two kittles,' ?' Clements said. "I thought here it comes, but I didn't have to give any explanation. That's all she wanted to say."

FARMINGTON HILLS sales representative Charise Fulton is expecting her second child through artificial insemination. Two-year-old son Andrew was her first.

"I was getting older with no prospects of getting married and I always wanted a child," the 38-yearold Fulton said. "I had the financial means to have a child and take care of him."

Fulton boasts that Andrew gets all the attention and they do mother-son things whenever they want. She doesn't try to overcompensate for a lack of a second parent.

"Andrew has a godfather and a grandfather who play men sport ac-

Reaching out

Resurrection Church grows in faith and size

By 触.B. Dillon Mil writer

As Canton awoke last Friday morning, quiet dawn gave way to the din of another weekday. Trucks and cars hurtled along township thoroughfares. Workers arrived at their offices, and storekeepers unlocked their shops.

In a small church on Warren near Canton Center, members of Resurrection Roman Catholic Church gathered for a 80 minute liturgy, as they do each Friday and Tuesday morning. Weekday Masses are celebrated at the Faith Community Moravian Church in Can-

The Rev. Richard Perfetto said Mass for seven parishioners, all of whom are friends despite the fact that they've known each other just a few months.

Resurrection was formed less than a year ago to relieve overflow at Our Lady of Good Counsel in Plymouth and St. John Neumann in Canton. The parish also will accommodate families who will live in subdivisions planned for the

The Archdiocese of Detroit has bought 27 acres on Warren between Ridge and Beck for a church, a rectory and possibly a school.

RESURRECTION PARISHIO-NERS - raising money to build their own church - are grateful to those who've made Falth Community Moravian Church and Ploneer Middle School available for Masses. Sunday Masses are celebrated at the middle school in Plymouth Township.

When two newcomers arrived for Friday's Mass, they were warmly welcomed. When it was time to pray the Our Father, Perfelto and his parishioners formed a circle around the altar and prayed together, holding hands. At the Sign of Peace, everyone present was greeted, by name, by everyone

"We really make an effort to get here Tuesdays and Fridays," Sherry Qualkenbush of Plymouth said after Mass, with her arms around her 4-year-old granddaughter,

"It didn't take long to make friendships. I came from a larger parish, and I got to know more people here in the first two months than I knew in seven years in a larger parish.

"I-think it's an excellent parish; it's very community-orientated," said Marge Daratony of Plymouth. So close-knit is Resurrection that if someone doesn't show for Mass, they're missed, she said.

SUNDAY MASS — at 10 a.m. at Pioneer Middle School on Ann Arbor Road - drew about 20 families when the parish was established last August. Attendance is up to more than 100 families now, Perfetto said. "This is really exciting from my perspective to see this parish grow," said Perfetto, Our Lady of Good Counsel's former pastor. "Westarted off with less than a dozen people."

Construction of a church is three or four years off, said Perfetto, who for now is renting a residence near Warren and Beck.

Once a capital fund drive is faunched and completed, "the archdiocese will loan us half of what's pledged," he said. Starting a new religious community is both a "challenge and a lot of fun," he NAMING THE new church "Resurrection" was suggested by a parishioner. He thought it would be a nice way to commemorate one of the Detroit churches closed by Cardinal Edmund Szoka, and Perletto was all for it.

"I thought one parish in the diocese should have the name of the central feast of our faith," he said.

"The tough part is finding out where they meet and how to get in contact with them. We hear there's a core of 15 or 20 people who still meet frequently."

Resurrection, now a Muslim mosque, was near Mt. Elliott and the Ford Freeway.

New gardening books track special interests

FROM THE bookshelf:

Timber Press has just published some books for gardeners with special interests:

• "Lilacs," The Genus Syringa, the Rev. John L. Faila ($59.95), is the result of 10 years of Faila's work with this springtime favorite, Practical growing methods are given in a forthright style. "Give them the four goods' drainage, soil, sunlight and pruning plus attention to pests - and then may you live to see your lilacs blooming to the third and fourth generations with fat lilac buds and heavy bloom around your festive garden." He tells how to propogate them, landscape with them and arrange them for indoor beauty. The history is fascinating. The list of latest classifications is valuable to serious collectors. The photographs show the various shades of the blooms and may make readers want to add a new plant or two to their garden.

• "The Hosta Book," Paul Aden ($39.95, second edition), relates the history (hostas originated In China and Japan), tells how to care for them and design gardens with and around them. Included are descriptions of the many varieties. Instructions for creating stunning flower arrangements are there, too. This book will become a much-used help to all hosta lovers, beginners or established

• "The Chelsea Gardener," Philip Miller 1691-1771. Hazel Le Rougetel (Timber and Sagapress. $29.95), relates the strong impact Philip Miller had in the field of horticulture. From 1731-68, he wrote the Gardeners Dictionary, which influenced many great plantsmen in the 18th Century. His correspondence and friendship with botanists, plant hunters and others (Linnaeus, John Bartman, and Joseph Banks to name a few) makes this book historically significant.

• "The Glory of Roses," Allen Lacy (Stewart Taborie & Chang, $50), is filled with more than 250 photographs of roses in all their guises by Christopher Baker. The history of the rose, the importance that has been accorded it through the generations, (from medical uses, through art and literature) and its symbolism, fosters greater appreciation. Lacy relates his personal experience and offers his opinions about this flower. This coffee-table sized book will make rose lovers appreclate their flower even more.

down to earth Marty

• "Through the Garden Gate," Elizabeth Lawrence (University of North Carolina Press, $19.95), is a collection of her weekly articles written for the Charlotte Observer from 1957 to 1971. Personal and practical gardening advice as well as adventures with other gardeners make this enlovable as well as informative. She has been called the Jane Austen of the gardening world.

. TWO BOOKS from Storey/Garden Way are practical, small, soft-cover ones: • "Roses Love Garlie," Louise Riotte ($7.95), is basically about companion planting. Many plants (and how they affect other things) are listed. Interspersed is diverse information such as recipes for a moth repellent, Hungary Water and earthworms. I wonder if the author strayed a bit from the original intent of the book.

• "Saving Seeds," Marc Rogers ($9.95) will be invaluable for those who prefer to save their own vegetable and flower seeds. The hows and whys are carefully explained.

• The Brooklyn Botanic Garden's new handbook, "Indoor Bonsal" ($6.95), shows new ideas and techniques for this craft. It is clearly written and Illustrated. No. 125. Order from: BBG Order Dept., 1000 Washington Ave., Brooklyn, NY 11225, include $1.50 for postage and handling. Request a list of their many books and gardening videos.

Marty Figley is an advanced master gardener, based in Birmingham. "Gardener's book nook" runs monthly.

• BOTANICAL GARDENS

"Hints of Summer" will be the topic as Matthaei Botanical Gardens docents will lead visitors 2-3:30 p.m. Sunday, June 2. Trail walk participants should register with the receptionist in the lobby upon arrival and meet the docents at the main entrance by 2 p.m. Wear 30. study walking shoes (no sandals) and dress for the weather.

Indoor Conservatory tours also will be given.

This month's topic is "Thhngs That Are Not What They Seen." Even in the plant world, mysteries abound and the unexpected exists. Among these are vines in arid environment, plants that truly mimic stones and a tree that has fruit but no visible flowers.

Tour times are 2 and 3 p.m. Saturdays, June 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29; and Sundays, June 2, 9, 16, 23 and

General Conservatory admission of $1 per person applies. Tours are limited to 30 people per hour. Arrive 10 minutes before each tour. The gardens are at 1800 N. Dixboro, 21/2 miles north of the Coddes intersection, Ann Arbor.

Take care: Shade skin when in sun

HE SUMMER sun adds a new challenge to your skin care regimen, protecting your skin from the harmful effects of the sun. You can enjoy summertime sun without getting burned.

The secret is knowing when and how long you can stay in the sun and choosing the proper skin protection. F&M carries more than 127 suntan products, the largest selection in Detroit, to help consumers choose the products that are right for their skin type.

The key to a suntan product's effectiveness is the sun protection factor or SPF. The SPF indicates that with proper usage, you can stay out in the sun without burning that many times longer than you could with no protection.

A product with an SPF of 15 is called a sun "shade," which provides maximum protection while still allowing a tan; one with a SPF of 30 or higher is called a sun "block" and allows almost no tan. Products with SPFs of less than 6 provide minimal protection.

THIS YEAR, F&M is the exclusive discount distributor of the Panama Jack suntan line. These products are available for 30 percent less than suggested manufacturer prices. You will also find savings from 15-25 percent on suntan products such as Coppertone, Bain de Soleil and Hawaiian Tropic.

"The new trend in suntan products this year is 'sports' products," said Frank De-

F & M carries more than 127 suntan products to help you choose products right for your skin.

Leeuw, F&M suntan product buyer.

"With the new sports lotions premiering at F&M, you only need to apply protection once. The products, like Coppertone's Sun Sense and Bain de Soleil's Sport Lotion, are formulated to stay on longer, even when swimming or perspiring."

Disposable sports towelettes, designed for golfers, and stick formulas are also available this year at F&M.

IF YOU like the look of a tan but are concerned about skin cancer, try a sun-less tan this year. Today's sunless tanning products have come a long way from old products such as Q.T.

Now lotions are available that penetratethe skin and create the chemical reaction that brings color to the skin's surface. These products are available in formulas for light and dark skin.

While you get the appearance of a tan - with these new products, you don't get the skin protection that a natural tan provides. If you're going to be in the sun, you still need to use a maximum strength SPF.

This way, you can be both "tan" and safe. Look for Bain de Soleil's Sunless Tanning Creme or Bronze Tan at F&M.

-Always test a fragrance on your skin before you buy.

&M CARRIES more than 1,300 fragrance items in its 100 stores across the country.

The designer fragrance section is one of the hottest sales growth areas. with year-to-date sales double those of last year.

F&M fragrance buyer Margie DeLor attributes the growth to the retailer's expansion into lines carried by the higher-priced department stores. These fragrances are available at F&M for 10-40 percent off the department store price.

The accompanying table shows the topselling women's fragrances over the past 12 months, based on total sales volume.

F&M customers

ucls for about 30 percent less than conventional drug stores or discount stores.

Beauty — It's more than just skin deep the beauty cake, but women are spending even more time and money on what goes on under the foundation, eye shadow and blush.

- Women now are opting for a whole skin care regimen, said Frank DeLeeuw, skin care products buyer for F&M Distributors.

"There was a time when women used a basic complexion soap and that was about it. We now see customers buying scrubs, masks, toners and moisturizers that help the skin look healthier and more youthful longer."

F&M carries more than 460 types of skin care products to provide the broadest selection of this fragmented product-line.

The typical F&M shopper is smarter and more value conscious, said Patty Braverman, marketing vice president.

At F&M, consumers buy beauty products for 30 percent less than conventional drug or discount stores. As a result, F&M has seen a dramatic increase in its skincare product business.

THE MOST important new cosmetics category is facial moisturizers, especially those that are lighter, less greasy or oil-free. Neutrogena has a new moisturizer that's free of fragrance and mineral oils.

DeLeeuw also likes L'Oreal's Plenitude Action Liposome moisturizer because it contains less oil and delivers moisturizers right to the areas of the skin that need it

Oil-free moisturizers work best when paired with an oil-free foundation, such as Maybelline Finish Matte or L'Oreal's Mattique.

Margie DeLong, F&M's cosmetic buyer, recommends using a loose transparent powder, such as Cover Girl Replenishing Loose Powder, to help set makeup with a sheer finishing touch.

One of the hottest new lines this summer should be Natural Glow by Del Labs. The Natural Glow skin care and cosmetics products are great for summer because they enhance your own coloring and are made with natural ingredients such as fruit and wheat germ oil.

paler matte eye shadows. Look for lighter colors such as Sheer Sky and Clear Seas from Revion.

For lips, muted and rose shades such as Classic Rose and Simply Rose are on the fashion forefront this summer. The popular summer style is to apply these lipstick shades over a waxy lip balm with sun screen such as Vaseline Intensive Care Lip Therapy for added lip protection.

Achieve beauty on a budget As WOMEN look for smarter ways to spend their cosmetics dollars, cream makeup is comparable to Max Fa spend their cosmetics dollars, they are turning from department stores, drug stores and mass merchandisers to deep-discount retailers such as F&M Distributors for the best values in makeup and beauty regimens.

You can see this trend at F&M. one of the largest sellers of shampoos, cosmetics and beauty aids in the country. In the past year, F&M cosmetics sales grew four times faster than the average chain drugstore sales rate.

Patricia Braverman, F&M marketing vice president, F&M has these tips for looking beautiful on a budget:

- 1. Refrigerate nail polishes to lengthen their life.
- 2. As an inexpensive cuticle cream, use any skin cream with glycerin or aloe.
- _3. Test new hair colors at home before committing to a permanent color. Use sheer, temporary colors that shampoo out such as Clairol's Jazzing.
- 4. Don't get hung up on the name of a cosmetic brand. $29 Alexander DeMarkoff cream makeup is comparable to Max Factor's Satin Splendor sold for $7.50 in conventional drugstore chains and for $5.62 at F&M.

- 5. Revion manufactures its own name products but also markets the department store—lines—Ultima—II—and Germaine. Monteil. You can often find the Revion line cosmetics in the same colors at a fraction of the cost at a deep discount cosmetics retailer such as F&M. Cosmair also makes Lancome for department stores and L'Oreal for F&M.
- 6. For an inexpensive way to get rid of hairspray build-up, try Sea Breeze Antiseptic as a final hair rinse every four to six weeks.
- 7. Instead of using an eyeliner and also buying a smoke or kohl-color eye shadow, save money by using your eyeliner as a shadow as well.
- 8. Get all the tools you need to do a home manicure and save yourself $12 to $20 a week on salon manicures.

New bath items and pamper products are the hottest beauty products this

Test out a shower of new bath items

TEW BATH items and pamper products may be the hottest new beauty story of the year.

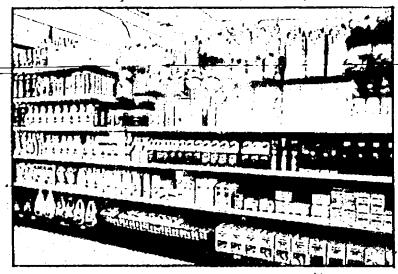

Not only is F&M selling standard bubble bath lines such as Calgon and Vaseline Intensive Care, the 100-store chain has broadened its bath gift item selection to include shower gels from Vita Bath, Fa, Fruit of the Earth, Neutrogena and Rain Bath; the complete Perlier and Sarah Michaels department store bath lines; and the latest in bath products, effervescing bath tablets such as ActiBath.

F&M recently created a bath department with more than 75 bath items in its stores to meet this growing customer demand.

Sponges used to be a basic bath item, but now they've become a fashion statement. Loofahs and natural sponges are fast-selling pamper items.

Bath items are offered at F&M for a fraction of what they cost at department stores. Sarah Michaels is offering a special basket at F&M that will include rose shower gel, bar soap, bath brush, loofah and nail pads for $13.99. The same item would sell for $25.99 in a department store.

Bath items are available at F&M at a fraction of department store costs.

Pamper yourself at bath time

NE OF the few times a mother of a busy family can get a moment just for herself is at bath time. Lock the door. Fill the tub. And use some of these tips to get the most from your pamper time bath:

1. Use bath and shower time to get some good aroma therapy. The latest bath and shower gels not only moisturize and relax, but their herbal fragrances can act as a real spirit lifter. 2 After your bath, pat almost dry with a towel, before putting on your body lotion. The lotion will lock in the moisture and help prevent dry skin.

3. Layer your favorite fragrance, starting-with the bath-gel-or-soap. Then use the body lotion and tale power version of the same fragrance and finish off with a light misting of cologne or perfume at the pulse points. Layering will make fragrance last 50 percent longer.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Realtor's calling card: 'total representation'

Realtors who work for negotiated commissions that average 5.7 percent say they provide an indispensable service for sellers.

Agents use their experience, personal contacts and a variety of prospecting/negotiating techniques - in essence, take on a lot of grunt work most sellers don't want to be bothered with -- to move a property.

And in spite of spending all kinds of up-front money and time to find a buyer, there's no guarantee of payment until a deal closes.

"The primary thing we provide is a professional offering of sub-agency through multiple-listing services," said Carol Frick, president of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Board of Realtors. "We offer to pay a percentage of the commission for cooperative efforts to find

That network of agents and a computer full of listings through a multi-list are paramount to reaching a wide audience. The more agents pushing a house, the more likely a buyer will be found.

"WHAT SELLS houses is exposure," said Joseph Durso, owner of Re/Max West in Livonia. "Within your office, you have a lot of listings, you have a lot of buyers back and forth." "There is more hands on as far as dealings go -- Real estate market rebounds

This is the fifth story in a series detailing how to buy and sell a home in today's market. With the drop in interest rates and the uncertainty about the Persian Gulf war resolved, consumer confidence has rebounded. The Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors report that April sales of existing homes continued to climb, representing nearly a 20percent gain from a year earlier. Sales are running 5 doing ads, taking calls, setting appointments, doing showings - total representation," said Pam King, partowner of Century 21 J. Scott in Garden City.

"We take all the responsibility off the seller, basically," Frick added. "We show the house, we pre-qualify buyers, we do a professional marketing (pricing) analysis using comprehensive data available through the mulpercent ahead of the first four months of 1990.

Today's story focuses on Realtor services. Previous stories dealt with avoiding common mistakes of selling a house; home inspection services; after-purchase expenses; and selling a home yourself with the help of an agency. The series concludes with stories on incentive programs in the real estate industry and tax-related issues.

"WE'RE LEGALLY empowered to handle all documents to a real estate transaction, but we recommend all buyers and sellers show them to their attorneys." Frick said, Realtors have regular tours of their listings for inhouse staff and may tour houses offered several times a week through tours sponsored by realty boards.

Professional showing of property, including negotiations, is another service.

it's a matter of putting a sale together, to get a buyer to put a solid, legitimate offer on paper so it's legal, clear and binding," said Douglas Courtney, immediate past president of the Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors.

"We urge sellers not to be home," Frick added. "Buyers prefer to discuss what they see without fear of offending present owners."

REALTORS WILL tailor sales techniques to specific ; houses in specific markets. Open houses might work well in some areas, but not others. . . Durso said he will sometimes do a directed mailing in : an area where he has a listing just in case a relative or friend of a neighbor want to move in. Realtors can spend several hundred dollars and many hours of time promoting houses via newspapers, home sales magazines and direct mailings with no payoff if a listing expires and the original listing agency doesn't bring a buyer to the eventual sale. But all isn't necessarily lost.

"If you don't get direct results on some, you may get." indirect results," Durso said. "Buyers may not be inter-; ested in one house, so you try to get them interested in -

Experience counts in professional relationships, be it legal services, mechanics, computer technology or real estate, Durso added.

Master deed says 1 thing; reality says otherwise approximately 12 years ago from the original owner who told us that we had two spaces in our garage. When we came to sell our unit, the buyer's attorney reviewed the master deed and said that it shows only one-half of the garage as assigned to us as a limited common element. Apparently, the other part of the garage that is partitioned in the master deed, but not in actuality, is assigned

We bought our condominium unit to another unit owner. Do I have a problem with the title to the garage?

You must look at the condominium documents to see if there is any discrepancy between the site plan showing your limited common element garage space and the first part of the master deed describing what your garage area is. If there is no controversy and if there is not another basis in the condominium documents for the association to assign you a garage area, consider requesting the neighboring co-owner to assign you his limited common element garage space, which presumably he has not been using for many years.

You may also elicit the assistance of the association in an effort to gain its cooperation, particularly if it has the right to provide you with exclusivity as to the garage space in question. Otherwise, you may have to reform the master deed or bring an action to quiet title to your interest in the garage space. Or you may wish to see if the buyer would waive his right to the garage space. I bought a new house subject to the issuance of an occupancy certificate from the township. The inspector did not inspect and detect a leaking and rotting roof and water damage to my house. I believe that the inspector was negligent and understand that gross negligence is a basis by which I might be able to sue a city inspector. Do you have any com-

But in a recent case, the inspector was dismissed from the suit because it was decided that he owed no duty to the plaintiff who bought the house. The reasoning was that the inspector, as a public official, owed a duty to the public.
