Police: Drive-by shooters had wrong house

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Shotgun bullets sprayed a 28-year-old Westland man's house early Saturday morning, waking him as gunfire shattered windows and pelted his front door.

The man, home alone in the 1300 block of Easley north of Palmer, escaped injury during the 3:15 a.m. incident. Westland police blamed the five gunshots on two men who mistakenly believed they were shooting into the residence of a rival they'd fought with earlier.

Police had made one arrest as of Tuesday afternoon and were seeking a second suspect whom they feared may have fled the city.

Richard Bronson, 21, of Dearborn Heights was arraigned Monday in Westland's 18th District Court on a charge of intentionally discharging a firearm into an occupied dwelling, which carries a maximum penalty of four years in prison. He also could face a mandatory two-year term if convicted on a felony firearms charge.

Bronson remained in the county jail Tuesday on a $20,000 cash bond. He has pleaded not guilty and has been ordered to appear in 18th District Court next Thursday for a preliminary examination to determine if he should stand trial.

A WESTLAND man, 19, was being sought Tuesday as a second suspect, Westland police Sgt. Dan Pfannes said. Police had obtained an identical warrant against that suspect.

Police accused the two men of spraying five bullets into the Easley Street residence. The gunfire struck the door and shattered two picture windows, entering the living room and a hallway, police reports said.

The resident, who had earlier seen a recent model red Mustang drive by his house, told police that he didn't know why anyone would want to shoot him. He didn't recognize the driver of the car.

"He was an innocent part of this whole thing. He doesn't even know these guys," Pfannes said.

A subsequent police investigation resulted in warrants against the two suspects. Some details of the case couldn't be discussed because of the pending arrest, Pfannes said.

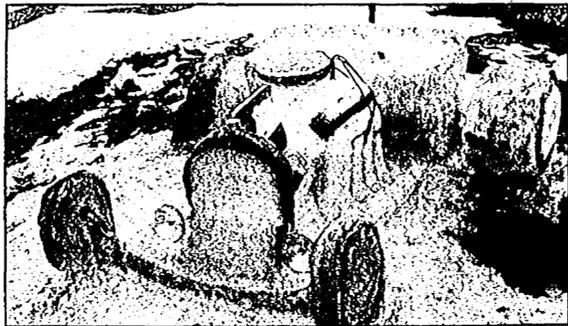

However, he did disclose that the two suspects believed they were shooting at the residence of a rival they had fought with in an earlier clash.

"They shot up the house, and he doesn't even live there," Pfannes said.

3 arrested in cocaine raids

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Drug raids in Westland have led Michigan State Police to three arrests, in what authorities hope could put a dent in the local cocaine trade and lead to more arrests.

Police refused to discuss the raids at length, fearing they might hurt their case. Moreover, MSP Commander Jay Shewell said, "We don't want to jeopardize anybody's life."

He did not elaborate. State police, assisted by Westland police, made the arrests after executing search warrants on Montcalm and Alvin streets Jan. 30, MSP Detective Lt. Jack Gruska said. The raids were made in the early afternoon, he said.

Three people were arraigned Friday before 18th District Judge Thomas G. Smith in Westland. They include Jessie Goins, 33, Robert Ludwig, 35, and Mary Ludwig, 53, according to Smith's clerk.

Goins has been charged with four counts of delivery of cocaine, less than 50 grams. Robert Ludwig faces three of the same counts, and Mary Ludwig faces one. Each count is punishable by up to 20 years in prison.

ROBERT LUDWIG and Goins remained in the county jail on Tuesday, both under a $50,000 cash bond. A jail spokesman said Mary Ludwig's name was not listed, and it was not known at press time if she was in jail.

The arrests stemmed from a five-month investigation by state police involved in the Western Wayne County Narcotics Enforcement Team, or NET. Westland police also assisted in the cases.

Sgt. Timothy Abramski indicated that authorities hope for "large returns" as a result of the investigation. He described last week's raids as "low-key," saying that police didn't have to force their way into the residences.

State police refused to discuss other details of the case. The next step will be for the three defendants to appear in 18th District Court for a preliminary examination to determine if they should be tried on the charges. The exam was expected to be held today.

Gruska described the arrests as "part of an ongoing investigation," though it wasn't known how many more arrests police expect to make in the case.

Man charged with firing gun at mom's boyfriend

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

A shouting match erupted into gunfire early Sunday in southeast Westland. An 18-year-old man has been charged with firing a shotgun at his mother's boyfriend, city police said.

Robert Allan Polgar has been accused of twice firing a .12-gauge shotgun at Franklin Kelly Atkinson, 32, during a 2:20 a.m. dispute in the 2900 block of McDonald, near Middlebelt and Van Born.

Neither bullet struck Atkinson, Westland police Sgt. Russell Nowaczek said. Atkinson lives with Polgar's mother at the McDonald residence, police reports said.

Polgar has been charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, Nowaczek said. If convicted, he could face a maximum prison sentence of 10 years and a $5,000 fine. Polgar pleaded not guilty Monday during an arraignment in Westland's 18th District Court. He is scheduled to appear before Judge Gail McKnight Thursday, Feb. 13, for a preliminary examination to determine if he should be tried on the charge.

POLGAR, A Dearborn Heights resident, remained free this week after posting $500, or 10 percent of a $5,000 bond set by McKnight.

Police said a dispute erupted between Polgar and Atkinson. A shotgun was fired at Atkinson as he fled down McDonald Street.

Atkinson summoned police from a telephone near Middlebelt and Van Born. He then let them search the McDonald residence, where they found the shotgun hidden between bed springs and a mattress, police reports said.

18-year-old accused of threats with pistol

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

An 18-year-old Westland man, believing that an Inkster 17-year-old was among several youngsters who had threatened to kill him, has been accused of using a revolver to try to provoke a fight, Westland police said.

Jeffery Donald Hargis told police he "just wanted to scare" the Inkster youth when he pointed a .22-caliber pistol at him during the 12:45 a.m. Sunday incident in the 2000 block of Christine, north of Glenwood, police reports said.

No shots were fired and no injuries reported. Police arrested Hargis about 25 minutes later as he drove into the driveway of his Avondale residence. He was charged with carrying a concealed weapon after police said they found the revolver under his car seat and bullets in his pocket.

Hargis could face a maximum five-year prison term and a $2,500 fine if convicted. He remained in the Westland jail on a $5,000 bond Tuesday, one day after he pleaded not guilty during an arraignment before 18th District Judge Gail McKnight.

The judge has scheduled Hargis for a preliminary examination next Thursday to determine if he should be tried on the charge.

THE INKSTER teen was with several friends in a parked car on Christine Street when a man pulled up in another vehicle, got out, walked up with the revolver and threatened the 17-year-old, several witnesses told police.

They told police that the man mistakenly believed the Inkster teen was among several youngsters who had earlier made threats to kill him.

The witnesses said they told the man that the Inkster teen "didn't want any trouble," police reports said.

The man then returned to his vehicle and drove off, but then began following the car carrying the Inkster teen when it left the scene and headed east on Palmer. The youngsters pulled into the 7-11 parking lot at Palmer and Merriman, where they sought help from patrol officers who happened to be there.

Police arrested Hargis about 25 minutes later. He told them he had heard rumors that several youngsters had been threatening to kill him because of a 2-month-old dispute in which he kicked them out of a party "for smoking dope," he told police.

But witnesses told police the Inkster youth was not among those making the threats.

Salvation Army plan sparks Norway debate

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Amid fears that Norway "is going to be the poor area of the city forever," Westland Councilman Kenneth Mehl has raised concerns that a newly planned Salvation Army community center won't help the neighborhood rise from poverty.

At a council session Monday, Mehl said, "People in this room have pets that live better than those people down there do."

Mehl warned that for every building that's improved in Norway, "there are probably three or four that should be torn down."

Mehl's concerns that the city has shunned the neighborhood in south

Westland surfaced when he cast the only vote to oppose the planned sale of 1.3 acres of city land to the Salvation Army, which plans a community center on the Venoy site south of Palmer. The Salvation Army currently rents space in a nearby building for its programs.

"Your animals live better than these people are living, and we're not doing anything about it," Mehl told the council.

THE SALVATION Army, which submitted the only bid on the city property, will pay $150,000. The organization plans to build a community center to provide food distributions, youth recreation programs and various counseling and referral services, said Jay Gilbert, Westland's community development director.

The Salvation Army could help compensate for services that many poor people have lost because of state and federal budget cuts, Gilbert said.

But Mehl raised concerns that the Salvation Army hasn't clearly explained the project. Moreover, the community center could make it appear that the city will continue to "condone Norway" and its poverty conditions, instead of trying to improve it, Mehl said.

Mehl also said he fears that the new center might be geared more toward surrounding communities, instead of Westland.

COUNCILMAN GLENN Anderson was among those who disagreed and indicated the center could "be an asset" to the Norway neighborhood, which he also said has been neglected far too long.

"I think the kids in that area — the teenagers — will benefit," Anderson said.

Council member Sandra Cicirelli said the Salvation Army center would help not only Norway, but also a growing number of Westland residents temporarily needing help because of an economic downturn that's caused job cuts.

It wasn't immediately known when the Salvation Army plans to launch the project.

Dispute over; city paves way for parking lot

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

A neighborhood dispute over a parking lot that the owner of a popular Italian restaurant in Westland wants to build has been resolved.

Residents near the Angelo Brothers restaurant on Ford between Venoy and Wildwood had opposed the 108-space parking lot, saying it would encroach on their neighborhood and make it unsafe for children.

But restaurant owner Darlo Tomel, whose parking lot plans comply with city ordinances, said he needed a bigger parking lot to accommodate business patrons.

Earlier, neighbors had flatly opposed the parking lot expansion and urged the city council to reject it. However, Councilman Kenneth Mehl noted during Monday's session that the city could face a lawsuit if it denied the project.

In a compromise, Tomel made certain concessions that made the parking lot more acceptable — though not completely — to his neighbors. He agreed to shave 4 feet from the east side of the lot and to build a wooden fence with cement pillars around it.

NEIGHBORS HAD wanted the parking lot dramatically reduced, but Tomel called the lot deficient and stressed that his proposal complied with city ordinances. To greatly scale back his project "would be foolish," he said Monday.

One neighbor, David Stein, had pleaded with Tomel for concessions and said, "We're all at your mercy."

'For us to sit here and try to take property away from somebody, I don't think it's legal.'

— Kenneth Mehl
councilman

Before Tomel agreed to make his proposed wooden fence sturdier by adding cement pillars to it, Stein, who lives behind the restaurant, said, "Me and my wife are scared to death of a car going through the wall."

Earlier, Mehl raised concerns about a lawsuit if the council rejected Tomel's proposal, saying that would have amounted to taking away Tomel's property.

"For us to sit here and try to take property away from somebody, I don't think it's legal," he said.

The council had postponed approving the parking lot last month after several residents came to a meeting to oppose it. The dispute prompted a Saturday meeting between the Tomel family, the restaurant's neighbors, council member Terri Reighard-Johnson, council President Charles Pickering and city planning director George Wilhelm.

That meeting resolved some issues, such as parking lot lights, and the remaining issues addressed Monday night paved the way for the parking lot.

School jacket policy called biased

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

Two members of Churchill High Band Boosters charged the Livonia school board Monday with discrimination for not letting non-athletes wear school awards on the school's varsity jacket.

Both Band Boosters president Michael Weldon and Churchill student Kristy Benz urged the board to change rules that ban students from wearing non-athletic letters on their school jacket.

The Livonia district covers the northern section of Westland while Churchill serves the northwest corner of the city.

Superintendent Joseph Marinelli told parents and students who packed Monday's board meeting that current rules would be reviewed by his staff.

This review would include an opinion on the legality of the rules, a poll of other districts to see how they handle school awards and letters, and an administrative discussion of the issue.

MEMBERS OF Churchill's marching band want school rules changed so that they can wear their band award letter on Churchill's official school jacket.

"They can wear the jackets but not the academic letters," Weldon said. "This is a discriminatory policy. Some can display their letters, but it excludes others from having the same privilege. It gives the wrong impression to students — athletes are held in great esteem, but band members don't have the same stature."

Calling the rules "ridiculous," Weldon suggested they be changed so that any student who puts time into an extracurricular activity and earns an award can display that award on the jacket or sweater of his or her choice.

Benz called the rules "favoritism."

"Both sides (athletes and non-athletes) put in the same amount of hard work."

STEVEN PEARSON questioned whether the rules are legal.

"The U.S. Supreme Court gave expressive clothing free rein as long as it was not obscene and not disruptive of class," Pearson said. "If athletes wear it, it's obviously not obscene or disruptive."

There is no general district policy governing the wearing of the jackets, said trustee Richard McKnight of Westland. He said each school building set its own rules.

In a written letter to band boosters, Churchill Principal Rod Hosman said band members could wear a varsity jacket to school, but can't wear a non-athletic letter or award on the jacket.

Amy Pachla, who's waged a year-long fight to wear an All-City Orchestra award on her Stevenson High varsity jacket, told the trustees that school athletic directors set the rules, not school principals or administrators.

"I wear my letter with a lot of pride," she said. "It's amazing that principals and administrators don't have the same pride for the letter that I do."

Marinelli said school board policy requires schools to give "appropriate recognition" for student achievements, but leaves it up to the schools to determine what type of recognition is given.

Schools to mark Black History Month

The Wayne-Westland school board has declared February as Black History Month in the school district.

There will be classroom activities, games, lessons and discussions in all schools, the board was told by the administration Monday night.

The resolution adopted by the board points out that Black History Month is being observed nationally; that the month has been designated as a time during which the contributions and achievements of African-Americans will be recognized; that those African-Americans have enriched the country's society and culture and that school staff members and students in the district be informed of the observance and plan appropriate activities.

3,000 compete in district festival

LOCAL MUSICIANS were among 3,000 high school music makers from throughout western Wayne County and southeast Michigan who competed Saturday in the 1992 district Solo and Ensemble Festival of the Michigan Schools Band and Orchestra Association.

The turnout kept things hopping all day Saturday at Franklin High which again this year hosted the district solo and ensemble competition. The previous Saturday Franklin hosted the district event for middle school and junior high school musicians.

The number of high school instrumentalists entering the festival far exceeded last year's turnout and so some 10 extra rooms had to be used in nearby McKinley Elementary so there would be sufficient warm-up areas so all students would get a chance to practice before performing before judges.

Next month students who earned high ratings Saturday will advance to state solo and ensemble competition.

Among the many high schools participating Saturday were Churchill and Franklin, which serve the northern section of Westland, John Glenn which serves most of Westland, Plymouth-Canton Centennial Educational Park, Ladywood, Southgate, Taylor, Romulus, Dexter, and Temperance-Bedford.

The performances were scheduled between 8 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Saturday. Students and band booster members from Franklin worked 12 hours both Saturdays to host the competition. Some 50 Franklin students competed.

The brass trio of Brian James (left), Daniel Voletti and Chris Chapman await the judges comments after playing.

Westland youngsters involved in an emergency situations will get help in easing their fears — a free stuffed animal to take along for the ambulance ride and keep afterwards.

The stuffed animals, part of the "Helping Hugs" program, were donated Friday morning by the Westland Target store to Mayor Robert Thomas and Fire Chief Larry Lane.

The 36 animals to be given youngsters involved in an EMS hospital run to hold are meant to ease the fears of youngsters who are either a patient or going along for the ride when a parent is injured in a car accident.

The stuffed animals will relieve the anxieties of kids and parents, said Lane, referring to the numerous emergency rescue squad runs to the sites of auto accidents.

52.01 DEFINITIONS.

For the purpose of this chapter the following definitions shall apply unless the context clearly indicates or requires a different meaning.

"BIOCHEMICAL OXYGEN DEMAND (BOD)." The quantity of oxygen utilized in the biochemical oxidation of organic matter under standard laboratory procedure, five days at 20 degrees C expressed in terms of weight and concentration (milligrams per liter (mg/l)), as measured by standard methods.

"DOMESTIC SEWAGE." Sewage derived principally from sanitary conveniences of dwellings, business buildings, institutions and the like, and does not exceed the limits of normal strength sewage.

"DEPARTMENT." The City Department of Public Services.

"EXCESS SEWAGE." Quantities of Sewage and Wastes delivered to the Wayne County Interceptor which exceed the quantity of potable water purchased from the City of Detroit. Excess Sewage is normally the result of infiltration of ground water and inflow of storm water into the Wastewater System.

"FOG." Fats, oils, or grease in the waste expressed in terms of milligrams per liter (p.p.m.).

"INDIRECT DISCHARGE." The discharge or the introduction of non-domestic pollutants from any source regulated under Section 307 (b) or (c) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, P.L. 92-500, as amended into the public wastewater system.

"INDUSTRIAL WASTE." Any liquid, solid, or gaseous waste or form of energy or combination thereof resulting from any process of industry, manufacturing, business, trade, or research, including the development, recovery, or processing of natural resources.

"mg/l." Milligrams per liter.

"NORMAL STRENGTH SEWAGE." Sewage or wastes, the concentration of which does not exceed BOD of 275 mg/l, SS of 350 mg/l, phosphorus of 12 mg/l, and fats, oils, and grease 100 mg/l, which have a pH between 6.5 and 9.5 and which do not contain a concentration of other constituents which will interfere with the normal sewage treatment process.

"P." Phosphorus in the waste expressed in terms of milligrams per liter (p.p.m.).

"PERSON." Any individual, firm, association, public or private corporation, or public agency or instrumentality.

"POLLUTANT." Any dredged spoil, solid waste, incinerator residue, sewage, garbage, sewage sludge, munitions, chemical wastes, biological materials, radioactive materials, heat, wrecked or discarded equipment, rock, sand, cellar dirt or industrial, municipal, or agricultural waste discharged into water.

"PREMISES." Each lot or parcel of land, building, or premises having any connection to the water supply or sewage disposal systems of the city.

"PUBLIC SEWERS." A common sewer controlled by a governmental agency or public utility.

"SEWER - DEBT SERVICE CHARGE." The charges levied to customers of the wastewater system which are used to pay principal, interest, and administrative costs of retiring the debt incurred for construction of the system. The debt service charge shall be in addition to the user charge.

"SEWER SERVICE CHARGE." The sum of the applicable sewer user charge, surcharges, and debt service charges.

"SEWER USER." The recipient of services provided by the Wastewater System, including premises which are connected to and discharge Sewage or Wastes into the System and shall consist of the following classes:

- "Residential User." A User whose premises (i) are domiciles for single or multiple family use and (ii) discharge only Domestic Sewage.
- "Government User." A User whose premises (i) are publicly-owned facilities performing government functions (e.g. government office building, post office, library, school) and (ii) discharge only Domestic Sewage.
- "Commercial User." A User whose premises (i) are privately owned and used to perform and/or sell services and/or products for profit (e.g. retail and wholesale stores, restaurants, motels, gasoline stations) and (ii) discharge primarily Domestic Sewage.
- "Institutional User." A User whose premises (i) are owned by a non-profit organization pursuant to Section 541 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (e.g. churches, hospitals) and (ii) discharge primarily Domestic Sewage.
- "Industrial User." A User whose premises (i) are privately owned and are used for manufacturing a product from raw or purchased material and (ii) discharges wastewater used in any way in the manufacturing process in addition to Domestic Sewage.

"SEWER USER CHARGE." A charge based on thousands of cubic feet, or fractions thereof, levied on Users of the Wastewater System for user's proportionate share of the cost of Operation and Maintenance (including Replacement) of the System.

"SEWER USER SURCHARGE." A charge imposed on a User of the Wastewater System who discharges Sewage or Wastes in excess of Normal Strength.

"SUSPENDED SOLIDS." The total suspended matter that floats on the surface, or is suspended in, water, wastewater, or other liquids, and which is removable by laboratory filtering as measured according to standard methods.

"WASTEWATER OR SEWAGE." Spent water which may be a combination of the liquid and water-carried wastes from residences, commercial buildings, industrial plants, institutions, or other land uses, including drainage water inadvertently present in said waste.

"WASTEWATER SYSTEM OR SEWER SYSTEM." Any part, or all, of the property, structures, equipment, sewers, materials, or appurtenances used in conjunction with the collection and disposal of wastewater, including the publicly owned treatment work (POTW).

"WASTEWATER OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE." All costs, direct and indirect, inclusive of all expenditures attributable to administration, replacement, treatment and collection of Sewage or Wastes, necessary to ensure adequate treatment and collection of Sewage and Wastes on a continuing basis in conformance with the NPDES Permit, and other applicable regulations.

"WASTEWATER REPLACEMENT COSTS." Expenditures and costs for obtaining and installing equipment, accessories, or appurtenances which are necessary during the service life of the Wastewater System to maintain the capacity and performance for which the System was designed and constructed.

52.02 BASIS OF CHARGES.

A. All water service shall be charged for on the basis of water consumed as determined by the meter installed on the premises of the water supply or sewage disposal customers by the Department. Sewage disposal service shall be charged for on the basis of water consumed as determined by the above metered meter. No free water supply or sewage disposal service shall be furnished to any person.

B. Rates and charges for the use of the wastewater system of the city shall be based upon the methodology in the user charge system approved by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Revisions to the rates for total sewer service charges are to be established by resolution of the City Council which shall be enacted apart from the published ordinances and necessary to ensure sufficiency of revenues in meeting operation, maintenance and replacement costs, as well as debt service.

- User charges for operation, maintenance and replacement shall be subject to the annual review of the user charge system. User charges shall be the same for all customers of the system regardless of geographical boundaries.
- All customers of the City Wastewater System will receive an annual notification, which will show the breakdown of the sewer service charge into its components for administration, operation, maintenance and replacement and for debt service.

52.04 SEWAGE DISPOSAL RATES

D. Industrial waste surcharge. Commercial and industrial users who discharge wastes into the public wastewater system in excess of the strength of normal sewage shall be charged a surcharge which reflects their equitable share of the costs of wastewater treatment. Such surcharge shall be determined as follows:

- Purpose and objective. This section has as its purpose the protection of public health and safety and because of the widely varying quality characteristics of the sewage discharged by different users of the public sewer and the publicly owned treatment works, it is the objective of this section to impose sewage charges which reflect the cost of treating sewage strength factors as well as sewage volume. These charges to commercial and industrial users will be in the form of a payment called a surcharge and will reflect industries equitable costs of wastewater treatment in excess of the strength of the domestic sewage. Sewage charge will be based on a volume rate and surcharge based on volume of discharge and the strength of BOD, suspended solids, phosphorus, fat, oils and grease or other pollutants present in the wastewater. In the event other pollutants are required to be surcharged under this subchapter, authorized variances, or by special arrangements with the owner of the publicly owned treatment works, the rules and regulations adopted herein will apply. Said rules and regulations being on file with the City Clerk.
- Authority. This section is adopted pursuant to and in accordance with the requirements of Federal Law - Clean Water Act, 33 USC Section 1311 et seq, and applicable Federal Regulations, the requirements of the Settlement Agreement in United States of America v. City of Detroit, et al, Civil Action No. 77-71111.
- It is declared that the Schedule of Industrial Waste Pollutant Strength Surcharges is hereby adopted and made effective for users of the wastewater system of the city. Said surcharges to be computed as follows:

COMPUTATION OF INDUSTRIAL WASTE POLLUTANT STRENGTH SURCHARGE

The industrial waste pollutant strength surcharge shall be computed in accordance with the following formula:

WHERE:

- SC = Pollutant strength surcharge fee in dollars for the billing period.
- V = Volume of waste discharged in the billing period in MCF (1000 cubic feet).
- "BOD" = Five-day biochemical oxygen demand of the waste expressed in milligrams per liter (ppm).
- "TSS" = Total suspended solids in the waste expressed in milligrams per liter (ppm).
- "P" = Phosphorus in the waste expressed in milligrams per liter (ppm).
- "FOG" = Fats, oils and grease expressed in milligrams per liter (ppm).
- a, b, c, d = Surcharge rates, $/pound for treating BOD, TSS, P, and FOG respectively.
- 0.0614 = Factor which converts MCF to MM lbs.

4. In accordance with the basic service agreement between the City of Garden City, the County of Wayne, and the Wayne County Board of Public Works or other properly designated agent of the County of Wayne named pursuant to Public Acts 248, 1939, and 184, 1937, this section provides that any person, firm, or corporation discharging wastewater into the publicly owned sewer system shall comply with the standards, rules, and regulations controlling the quality of quantity of discharge of wastewater into the system. The standards, rules, and regulations shall be established from time to time by the county or its designated agent.

Validity, Severability, Conflict. The provisions of this chapter are severable, and if any of the provisions, words, phrases, clauses or terms, or the application thereof to any person, firm or corporation, or to any circumstances, shall be held invalid, illegal, or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such decision or findings shall not in any way affect the validity, legality or constitutionality of any other provision, word, phrase, clause or term, and they shall continue in full force and effect. All laws and parts of laws, all ordinances, codes and regulations which are inconsistent with or in conflict with or in violation of any provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed not to apply, provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the adoption and enforcement of a law, ordinance, code or regulation which is more restrictive or establishes a higher standard than those provided in this article.

EXCEPT AS HEREIN MODIFIED, THIS SAID CODE SHALL REMAIN IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT.

THIS AMENDATORY ORDINANCE IS DECLARED TO BE EFFECTIVE UPON PUBLICATION AS REQUIRED BY LAW.

New plans save Ford, Pursell - Levin's not so lucky

By Wayne Peat
staff writer

Veteran congressmen William Ford and Carl Pursell probably won't face each other this fall.

A Ford-Pursell face-off, long predicted, would not result from either of the congressional redistricting plans filed last week by state Democrats and Republicans.

Instead, Rep. Sander Levin, D-Southfield, will face at least one fellow incumbent, as well as losing all or part of his western Wayne County constituents.

Democrats and Republicans each filed redistricting plans Friday. Almost immediately, each party challenged the other's plan in federal court.

Population losses dictate Michigan will lose two of its 18 Congressional seats. While final district boundaries await a judicial ruling, several matters already appear clear.

Ford, D-Taylor, is likely to hang on to the bulk of his western Wayne constituents, while seeing his 15th District expand west to Ann Ar-

'I represented many of these communities in the state Legislature. Many of these people are already familiar with me.'

— Carl Pursell
Republican

The balance of districts currently represented by Levin and Hertel would be joined even under the Democratic plan.

But Democrats say the GOP also targets Bonior by including a large portion of his Macomb County-based district as well.

Levin is "absolutely" running again.

"The Democratic plan was regrettable but responsible," he said. "We all knew going in that we'd have to give up a seat. But the Republican plan is just a blatantly political move."

Hertel, whose current district includes Sterling Heights and parts of Warren and Detroit, is also running again.

"He has a lot of respect for Sandy Levin, he's known him for a long time, but Dennis is running for reelection," Hertel press secretary Mary Conklin said.

The Democratic plan would place Hertel's Harper Woods hometown in the district of Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Detroit, though the balance of his bor — an area currently represented by Pursell.

Pursell, R-Plymouth, is likely to keep his Plymouth/Livonia base, while adding communities in Oakland County, Farmington Hills, Novi and — possibly — Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills are among the communities he would gain, depending upon which plan is adopted. Pursell would lose the balance of his current district, in Washtenaw and Hillsdale counties, under both plans.

This week, Pursell was already meeting with potential Oakland constituents.

"I REPRESENTED many of these communities in the state Legislature," Pursell said. "Many of these people are already familiar with me."

Ford, too, said he was happy — but with conditions.

"As far as I'm concerned, I feel pretty safe," he said. "But the Republicans are trying to lump three incumbents together and that's just not right."

The three incumbents are Levin, Rep. Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, and Rep. David Bonior, D-Mount Clemens.

You Only Need ONE Credit Card

A VISA Or Mastercard With Your Interest In Mind

Credit Union ONE has reduced the interest charged on its VISA/Mastercard to 14.8% A.P.R.* That's 2% lower than our previous rate, and more than 4% lower than the national average of 18.9%. **

Pay Off Your Current Balance At A Lower Rate

If you don't have a VISA/Mastercard account at Credit Union ONE, you still can benefit from the low rate. Merely apply for a VISA/Mastercard and upon approval, pay off your current credit card balance. For example, if you owe $1,000 on your current card, which charges 18.9% interest, you can pay off your balance immediately with your Credit Union ONE VISA/Mastercard. Subsequently, your balance would remain $1,000, but you'd be paying 14.8% in interest. That's nearly 22% less in interest payments!

Retired analyst defends U.S. autos

By Wayne Paal
staff writer

It's easy to picture Ray Windecker as an automotive Don Quixote, riding into battle with a hubcap for a shield and a briefcase full of statistics as his weapon.

Think American automobiles are vastly inferior to those made in Japan? Windecker will hit you with a Florida "lemon index" showing fewer claims against GM cars than any other models.

Then, he'll whip out another survey showing 1.64 complaints from every 100 Pontiac owners compared with a near-equal 1.6 from those who own a Nissan.

Then, he'll a quote from another survey.

Since retiring 2½ years ago as a Ford Motor Co. research analyst, Windecker has waged a one-man campaign in defense of U.S. automobiles from his Livonia home.

From a newly-made office, he runs American Autodatum — an information service billed among the world's most accurate when it comes to auto specifics.

"I had the extra room and I thought, why not," he said.

Since then, he's written columns for various newspapers and automotive publications — and woe be to any reporter whose research is less painstaking than Windecker's own.

"HE'S THE kind of guy who'll call up a newspaper reporter and call him an S.O.B. right over the phone," automotive columnist Dan McCosh said. "But as far as his own figures, I've never had any problem with them."

Windecker takes pride and no small pleasure in his reputation as a debunker.

"He's a real iconoclast," said McCosh, who has known Windecker for more than a decade. "His statistics always go against the grain of what is being accepted as common knowledge."

Once, that meant refuting claims of rival U.S. automakers. Today, that means attacking whole-hearted acceptance of Japanese automotive superiority.

Satisfied Honda, Toyota and Nissan drivers may scoff, but Windecker's basic premise is that U.S. automakers — while hardly perfect — can compete if only given the chance.

Nearly 15 years ago, Windecker compiled a detailed history of the Japanese market, showing, he said, how that nation's automakers built their markets at foreigners' expense.

The 1930s exclusion of GM and Ford from a once-viable Japanese market, he argued, cost U.S. automakers the chance to learn from Japanese breakthroughs even though pre- and post-war Japanese automakers toured U.S. plants freely.

"I sent it to dozens of newspapers and only one, the Toledo Blade, expressed any interest at all," he recalled.

Today, Windecker is getting more media attention — he recently wrote an editorial page opinion piece for the Detroit News — but he worries the battle may already be lost.

"ALL THIS Buy American stuff, it will fade," he said. "That's because most Americans are economically illiterate. This isn't just about the automotive business but about business, period." Economic literacy — at least according to Windecker — stems from an understanding that foreign-made "bargains" actually rob the domestic economy.

"For every $10,000 you buy from a non-reciprocal country, it costs U.S. taxpayers $3,000," Windecker said, citing balance of trade figures, declining domestic operations and, ultimately higher property taxes to cover their loss.

The key is opening the Japanese market to U.S. goods, though Windecker said President Bush's recent trip did little to bring that about.

"Don't listen to George Bush, listen to what the Japanese are saying," he said.

While some might doubt his figures, or call him a Japan-basher, there is little doubt Windecker practices what he preaches.

His home computer isn't Japanese-made, nor are the eyeglass frames he wears.

"There may be only two U.S. frames in the store, compared with 200 frames from Taiwan and every place else," he said. "But I'll buy the American pair."

Automobiles have been his life. Starting as a mechanic, Windecker has risen from auto salesman to marketing official to corporate spokesman, serving Hudson, Studebaker and Ford — and butting heads with countless other opinion makers — along the way.

Though a Ford Aerostar van is his current transportation, Windecker is also lovingly restoring a 1953 Studebaker, while his cherished 1968 Mustang is saved for good-weather-only driving.

Though an iconoclast, he isn't exactly an outsider.

"When he was at Ford, it was my impression he was very much an insider, very much in the loop," McCosh said.

But why keep fighting now? With a large portion of the domestic market share lost, seemingly forever, and Japanese markets difficult, if not impossible, to open, why not retire to a less stressful life of gardening or golfing? Married 42 years, and with two adult sons, maybe it's time to slow down.

Windecker considers the question.

"I know my doctor wants me to slow down. I've got ulcers and, sometimes, I can't sleep thinking about the auto industry," he said. "But if I've talked a thousand people out of buying an imported product, or saved 20 U.S. jobs, then I've done all right."

JIM JAGDFELD/staff photographer

A self-described "debunker," Ray Windecker of Livonia has been studying the domestic and Japanese auto markets for years, issuing position papers often at odds with prevailing industry thought.

Parties file redistricting plans, issue goes to court

District would be included with Levin's home base in Southfield.

THE BATTLE centers on representation in Macomb County, including Warren, Sterling Heights and Shelby Township — but Redford residents would also see changes.

Under the Democratic plan, north Redford residents would be part of the Levin/Hertel battle. Those living south of I-96 would be placed in a district with Pursell.

Republicans, meanwhile, would put north Redford in the 1st District, currently represented by Conyers, and southern Redford in the 13th, home of Rep. John Dingell, D-Trenton.

Dingell blasted the GOP redistricting plan in a statement released Tuesday afternoon.

"You may pick the word to describe the Republican plan," Dingell said. "The word could be outrageous, egregious, ruthless, overreaching, self-serving or myopic."

The Democratic plan, however, would pit Pursell and longtime congressman William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, against each other — though Pursell said such a showdown wasn't likely.

"Anything could happen, but I know two of the three judges (reviewing the case) are Republicans," he said.

Levin said he expected the judges' decision to be based on fairness, not party politics.

"To expect anything else files in the face of a long judicial tradition in Michigan," he said.

A ruling is expected by mid-March.

BROOMFIELD, who also seeks re-election, was also unconcerned about a potential showdown with Pursell.

"It's all up in the air at this point," Broomfield aide Jack Sinclair said. "Judges could adopt one plan, they could adopt the other or they could draw a plan of their own."

Ford's relative safety could be attributed to his new status as chair of the House Committee on Education and Labor. But he noted the GOP plan gives him a more Democratic district than the plan drafted by his own party.

"I do understand where they (Democratic district drafters) are coming from," Ford said. "We do want districts as fairly drawn as possible when we go before the judges."

Whatever happens, Michigan will lose two of its current congressmen. That choice is now in the hands of the courts — and voters.

Staff writer Tim Richard contributed to this story.

Ford is likely to hang on to the most of his western Wayne constituents, while seeing his district expand west to Ann Arbor — an area currently represented by Pursell.

Livonia, Garden City, Redford face change

Change is a subtle thing in western Wayne County when it comes to U.S. Congressional redistricting.

Redford could be divided among as many as four different districts. (See below for details.) But most local communities are likely to retain their current representatives, at least going into this year's elections.

The 15th District, currently represented by William Ford, D-Taylor, is likely to retain Canton and Westland.

The 2nd District, now represented by Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, is likely to retain Plymouth and Plymouth Township. In a change worth noting, the district is now likely to include all of Livonia, taking southern Livonia neighborhoods out of Ford's district and placing them in Pursell's.

Garden City resident may experience change, too — but only if the GOP redistricting plan is adopted. Democrats would leave Garden City in the 15th District, while Republicans would place it in the 16th, now represented by John Dingell, D-Trenton.

Here's a community-by-community list of the changes that would occur under each plan:

- Canton: Current district: 15th. New district: None, will remain in the 15th under both plans.
- Garden City: Current district: 15th. New district: None, will remain in the 15th under both plans.
- Livonia: Current district: Split between the 2nd and the 15th. New district: 2nd, under both Democratic and Republican plans.
- Plymouth: Current district: 2nd. New district: None, will remain in the 2nd District under both plans.
- Plymouth Township: Current district: 2nd. New district: None, will remain in the 2nd under both plans.

'Whole language' is topic of meeting

"The Whys and Wherefores of the Whole Language Approach" will be the focus of the Thursday, Feb. 13, of the Metro Area Gifted Information Consortium (MAGIC).

The meeting is set for 6:45-9 p.m. in Gaudior Academy which is housed in the educational wing of Village United Presbyterian Church, 25350 W. Six Mile Road, Redford.

The whole language method is a new and widely acclaimed means of teaching reading and language arts to children. It involves integrating all aspects of language skills from a very early age. The teaching team at Gaudior will discuss this method and how it is used in a classroom setting.

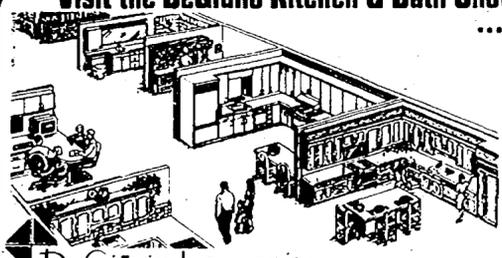

MAGIC is a non-profit support group for parents and educators of gifted children. The group offers monthly meetings and information exchanges on a variety of topics. Meetings are held at various locations throughout the metro area. Opportunities for sharing of ideas and concerns with other parents and guest speakers are provided.

A donation of $3 is requested at the door for nonmembers.

To make a reservation, call 451-0623.

Plawecki will seek appeals court seat

District Court Judge Edward Plawecki is a candidate for the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Plawecki, 38, seeks the First District seat, including Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, Monroe, Lenawee and Jackson counties. He will be a candidate in the Aug. 4 primary.

He lives in Dearborn Heights with his wife and daughter.

Plawecki is currently chief judge for the 20th District Court, Dearborn Heights. He served on the Wayne County Commission from 1983-89, including two terms as board vice chairman.

As a county commissioner, Plawecki helped create the county alternative work force. He also implemented the program in the 20th District Court. Alternative work force assigns offenders to community service projects instead of jail.

He is presently a member of the Wayne County Detention Committee which addresses the issues of jail overcrowding and early release of prisoners and was formerly a municipal prosecuting attorney.

Plawecki is a cum laude graduate of Central Michigan University with a bachelor's in teaching. He holds his law degree from Detroit College of Law. He has taught in the Wayne Westland school district and is currently an adjunct professor of public administration and municipal law at the University of Michigan.

Plawecki was formerly in private practice as a senior partner in the law firm of Plawecki & Ghanam from 1987 to 1989 and a partner and attorney with the firm of Berry, Hopson, Francis, Mack & Seifman from 1980 to 1987.

From 1982 to 1984, Plawecki served as a member of the board of directors of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA).

He is currently a member of the legislative committee for the Michigan District Judges Association, Wayne County District Judges Association and numerous bar associations.

County urges state to install computer

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners is urging the state not to "renew on its promise" to install a new computer system this year that would speed service to Friend of the Court clients.

The county board adopted the resolution, introduced by commissioner Maurice Breen, R-Plymouth, Jan. 30.

Breen introduced the resolution after hearing that the computer installation was to be delayed from 1992 until 1995, according to the chief administrator of the Wayne County Circuit Court. The Friend of the Court is a division of circuit court that is 90 percent funded by the state and supported by Wayne County through staff only.

Breen said that delaying installation of new computers would greatly add to problems expected from the scheduled closing on Feb. 20 of the Westland annex of the Friend of the Court.

"Closing the annex seems unavoidable because of state budget constraints, but it will only compound problems already existing in the Friend of the Court," said Breen, whose district includes Plymouth, Livonia and Northville.

"The further tragedy is that it will cause hardship for those of limited financial means, the lowest-income people who can least afford inconveniences in the system," added Breen.

Breen said he received many telephone calls with complaints of long delays and slow delivery of child support payments and that most complaints are directed against the county by people unaware that the Friend of the Court is under state, not county, jurisdiction.

"The 'Wayne County' in the Wayne County Friend of the Court is a geographical reference, not administrative," Breen explained.

Breen's resolution also requests that all state legislators, the state Department of Social Services and state Supreme Court administrator's office be contacted and asked to advance installation of the new computer system.

Computer students learn from the classes offered at the Ford Voc-Tech Center, which will hold a technology expo next Wednesday.

'Second to none'

Ford Vocational-Technical Center draws up expo

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Amid job layoffs and employer demands for increasingly technical skills, area adults and teenagers alike are turning to the William Ford Vocational-Technical Center for help, school officials say.

This year's enrollment of 2,100 high schoolers and adults marks an increase of nearly 300 students over last year, center principal Greg Baracy said.

To draw attention to programs that are luring students, a "Technology Expo" is being planned 7-9 p.m. Wednesday at the school on Marquette, between Carlson and Newburgh. It's free and open to the public.

Potential students and parents can learn about 24 programs, such as electronics, business technology, culinary arts, graphic design, desktop publishing, manufacturing and computer-aided drafting, among others.

"They'll find state-of-the-art technology in all programs," Baracy said. "We are second to none in Michigan."

THE OPEN house will include program displays, tours and an opportunity for parents and students to meet with the voc-tech center's staff. The school also will offer half-hour seminars on dressing for success, job interview skills and preparing a creative job resume.

Many adults who've lost their jobs or need better ones have turned to the voc-tech center to be retrained or upgrade their skills, Baracy said. The school also has helped high schoolers who don't have college plans prepare quickly for what can be a highly skilled, well-paid job, he said.

The voc-tech center this year launched programs that let students transfer credits to Schoolcraft College and Henry Ford Community College.

"The center will help prepare students with the academic and technical skills necessary to become successful in the workplace and college," Baracy said. "Our programs reinforce academics through application."

Between 50 and 98 percent of students in each voc-tech program are able to find good jobs after they complete their studies, said Baracy, who calls the center Wayne County's "best-kept secret."

Call the center at 585-2135 for program information.

School club nets tourism awards

The Livonia school district's Career Center's Tourism and Lodging DECA Club may be new, but it's making a name for itself by sweeping the hospitality and tourism marketing event two years in a row. The center serves the northern section of Westland.

This year five students qualified for the State DECA Career Development Conference to be held March 13-15 in the Dearborn Hyatt Regency Hotel.

DECA is an academic games club for high school students interested in careers in marketing and business management.

TO QUALIFY for the state conference, students must place with the top eight of their chosen occupational category at district conferences.

In the hospitality and tourism marketing event, four of the eight finalists were from the career center on Newburgh north of Joy.

Some 23 school districts in District V (five Southeastern Michigan counties) entered about 300 students among 13 occupational categories.

Each competitor was required to take a written examination in economics and one specific to their chosen occupational area, and an oral examination for a simulated business case problem. At the state conference students will compete for recognition and college scholarships.

INDIVIDUAL RESULTS of district competition follows:

• Hospitality and tourism marketing:

Katie Hocking of Churchill High, first overall, first in competency exam;

Angela Bachnak of Stevenson High, second overall, first in occupational exam, third in competency test;

Julie Reefer of Stevenson, third in occupational exam, third in role play event;

Peggy Burns of Franklin High, regional finalists;

• Full serve restaurant management: Toby Self of Franklin, regional finalists;

• Food marketing: Frank Lacaiono of Franklin, first place in role play event.

Franklin serves the northeast corner of Westland while Churchill has students from the northwest corner.

The award-winning students at the state conference will advance to the national conference to be held April 6-10 in Anaheim, Calif.

Oakwood Health Center plans Medicare paperwork sessions

Does Medicare paperwork confuse you? Need a little help? Individuals with questions regarding Medicare paperwork can stop by the Oakwood Health Information Center for a free informational program.

If you knew a healthy, happy baby had died suddenly without reason, you'd want to help. There are over 7,000 babies who die from a cruel, mysterious killer. It's called AIDS: Sudden Infant Death Syndrome.

Perhaps you've heard AIDS referred to as "Crib Death." But maybe you didn't hear that AIDS is the number one cause of death in infants from one week to one year.

babies of all races and religions. And it's not hereditary.

Skills over $ School leaders aren't cheap

WAYNE-WESTLAND school board members — and the community — should realize that the importance of picking a new school superintendent is the same as selecting a good family doctor. Money shouldn't be the difference.

That point came through loud and clear at a school board meeting last week when the consulting firm hired to help with the superintendent selection process said that the district should be prepared to pay at least a $100,000 a year in salary for the next superintendent.

That may sound like the equivalent of auto sticker shock for those who are out of work or working for a little more than minimum wage.

But the reality is that the top administrators of an organization with a budget of nearly $80 million get at least the near-$100,000 salary now paid to Superintendent Dennis O'Neill.

For comparisons on what other districts are paying their superintendents, let's look at the Carmen-Beecher community on the edge of Flint and the closer-to-home Southfield school district in Oakland County.

THE CARMEN-BEECHER board hired a new superintendent several years ago at a $100,000 salary even though the district is only one-third of the enrollment of Wayne-Westland.

The Southfield superintendent, hired last year, also receives $100,000 to administer a district with half the enrollment of the Wayne-Westland district.

The Wayne-Westland school board clearly needs an effective superintendent who can deal with the issues of voters' unrest based on rising taxes and declining academic test scores and conflicts among board members.

The bottom line is that money shouldn't be an issue in picking a new school leader. The district — its students, residents and employees — deserve someone someone who can be an effective communicator, leader and problem solver.

Vote Monday

Students need equipment

ON MONDAY Livonia school district residents will go to the polls to vote on a $62.1 million bond proposal.

Two-thirds of the debt will be spent on computer hardware and software and to make physical changes in buildings to adequately house that technology.

The remaining third will be spent on renovating buildings, to make them handicapped accessible, to improve classroom lighting, to renovate science labs, and to comply with building codes.

The Observer endorses a "yes" vote on the bond issue because it is an investment that must be made if our students are to be competitive in today's world, because the debt incurred by selling bonds will not result in any millage increase for most local taxpayers, and because bond interest rates are very favorable now and contractors looking for work will offer more competitive bids.

The proposal asks voter approval to borrow $62.1 million through a bond sale which would be paid off by a debt retirement levy of 1.05 mills over 30 years.

The Observer urges readers to go to the polls Monday and vote "yes" on the bond issue request.

Black eye

Next primary needs revision

HERE'S FAIRLY good news: Both Republicans and Democrats will allow voters to declare party affiliation at the polls March 17 in Michigan's presidential preference primary. You won't have to declare 30 days in advance.

Democrats generated the fuss when their national party rules said national convention delegates had to come from a "closed" system, either primary or caucus, in which participants at least declared themselves Democrats. No more George Wallace crossovers for them.

In 1988 Michigan used a caucus system, but both parties had miseries: Democrats had an invasion of Jesse Jackson supporters, Republicans of Pat Robertson newcomers.

SO THEY CUT a deal in the Legislature: a primary where voters had to declare an affiliation. It backfired. A mob of people, both with Democratic and Republican preferences, were enraged at the thought of revealing their party preferences 30 days prior to the primary. It didn't matter that many other states require a party declaration. Michigan's tradition of "open" primaries is very strong.

Democrats responded by using party rules to allow same-day declaration.

Republicans in the Senate passed a bill for an "open" primary, but House Democrats sat on it. Gov. John Engler did the only thing he could, asking the Republican State Committee to pass a same-day rule like the Democrats'. The RSC will meet Feb. 11, and the odds are it will be adopted.

That's where it stands: To vote March 17, you have to declare a party preference. That's not all bad. It will help the parties identify their supporters. Stronger political parties will reduce the power of single-issue zealots, special interest groups and political action committees.

But once again Michigan has a political black eye because of a presidential primary mess. We hope Michigan politicians are embarrassed enough to come up with a more palatable system in 1996.

Rouge

Plans give river hope, new life

THINGS ARE looking up for the Rouge River, that meandering, usually muddy, sometimes polluted set of streams that drain 42 communities in southeastern Michigan.

Johnson Creek, a western tributary, is about to become a trout stream. At the urging of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, the state Department of Natural Resources intends to plant trout fingerlings in the creek, which runs through Salem Township in Washtenaw County, Northville and Plymouth townships.

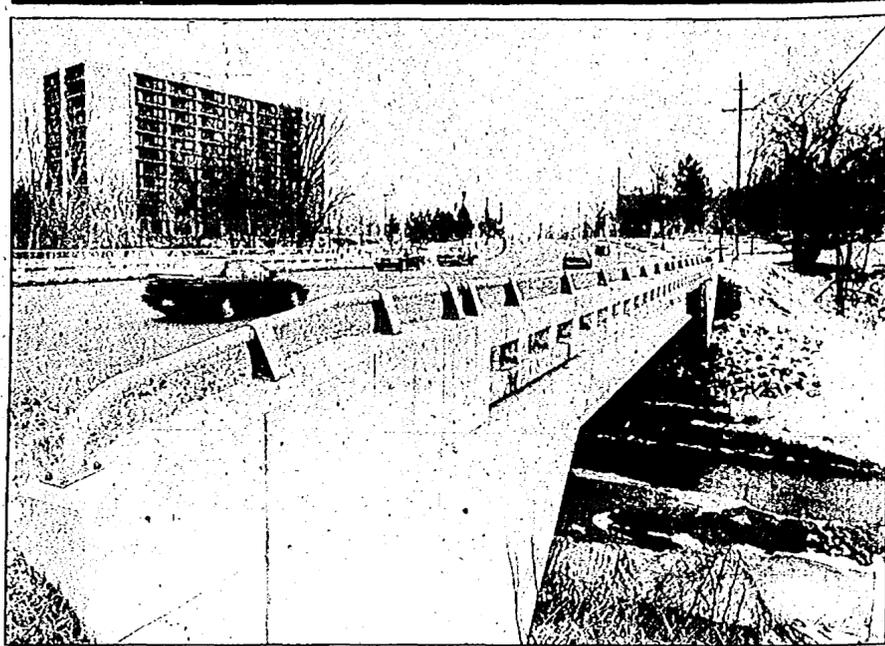

Trout were planted in the Middle Rouge in the late 1960s to provide a temporary fishery after part of that branch was killed off. Perhaps Johnson Creek, running through hillier terrain, will flow swiftly enough to support this most desirable of gamefish. Thanks to WWCCA's Bob Latch and the DNR for giving it a try.

Southfield and the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation have gone a step further than keeping the nine miles of the Rouge jam free in that town. The group installed "wing wall deflectors" along a portion of the River from Telegraph to Hooper Road.

The deflectors — rows of broken concrete set at an angle to the banks — protect against erosion while scouring the bottom of the river and sending silt and sediment downstream. "Areas of the river that were six inches deep all the way across now hold three, four, and five feet of water," said Bill Zikewich, of Southfield's parks and recreation department.

The program has won the city honors, including the Michigan Outdoor Writers Clean Water Award in 1989. But the project isn't stopping there. About 40 "juvenile" small mouth bass were planted in the river in fall 1991, according to Zikewich, and the wing wall deflector system will be extended north in the spring.

The state House has voted to put a constitutional amendment on the ballot to allocate part of the state's land trust money to rebuild CSOs — combined sewer overflows. In CSOs, stormwater and sewage run together and overflow into the Rouge in periods of heavy rain. The Senate and the voters also must say yes. The money will go into a revolving loan fund. Ending CSOs will be a massive, years-long job, but the starting line is in sight.

Another world

Below the Civic Center Drive bridge east of heavily traveled Telegraph Road in Southfield lies the cleaner, more rapidly flowing Rouge River which has been stocked with small

mouth bass. For an editorial on what's being done for the river in southeastern Michigan, see the lower left hand corner of this page.

Judges to rule in high stakes redistricting plan

THE BIGGEST, highest stakes game in Michigan politics takes place only once every 10 years. And 1992 is the year.

It's called redistricting, the process by which the political system (which in practice means the courts) redraws boundaries for various election districts in order to accommodate population changes as measured by the census.

This year in Michigan, an entirely new map will be drawn for all seats in the U.S. House of Representatives as well as the entire state Senate and House.

Drawing the districts cleverly (i.e., to your party's advantage) is complicated, mathematical and heavily influenced by the constitutional requirement of "one person, one vote" and by the Voting Rights Act, which requires maintaining minority districts.

The process also ends political careers and determines things like control over legislatures.

No wonder most political people are walking around these days looking more than slightly preoccupied.

FRIDAY was the deadline set by the U.S. District Court for both political parties to submit their competing plans for new congressional districts.

A three-judge panel — including James Ryan, a distinguished jurist and longtime Redford resident who is a former Michigan Supreme Court justice and now a U.S. Court of Appeals judge — has the job of picking a plan.

Practical deadline is May 12 — the last date to file petitions for the Aug. 4 primary — to pick one plan or impose their own. The judges have indicated they want to finish their work by the end of March.

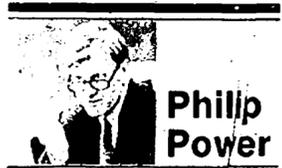

This won't be easy. Michigan's congressional delegation will drop from 18 to 16 because the state gained only 33,000 residents in the census, far less than the population gain in other states. So the big question is not only who gets to run in what district but which incumbent congressman will be forced to run against another incumbent.

This is too bad, because Michigan's representatives in Congress from areas served by these newspapers have been a pretty able and responsible bunch.

IN ORDER of district, here's who's at risk:

If the Democratic proposal is adopted, 2nd District Republican Carl Pursell of Plymouth might have to run against 18th District Republican William Broomfield of Lake Orion. That's too bad because both have been effective, moderate Republicans. Although Broomfield is coming to the end of a career dating to the Eisenhower years, his Oakland constituents have received outstanding service.

In the 15th District, Democrat Bill

Phillip Power

Ford of Taylor has represented western Wayne County since the '60s, and the odds are that he will keep his base while adding more of Washtenaw County. One of the most powerful members of the Michigan delegation, Ford is chair of the entire Education and Labor Committee, one of the most important in Washington.

Under both parties' plans, Democrat Sander Levin of Southfield will almost certainly have to run against Democrat Dennis Hertig of Harper Woods in a new 14th District. Levin has been very active in sponsoring legislation designed to bring down the Japanese trade surplus with the U.S. and in working to help Michigan's auto industry.

Whatever finally happens once the judges rule, some very able and good Michigan representatives in Congress will be out of a job come November.

Phil Power is chairman of the company that owns this newspaper. His award-winning column will appear periodically.

from our readers

They're for Tom Harkin

To the editor:

On Jan. 30, several friends and neighbors gathered in our home to watch a video response by Sen. Tom Harkin to the President's State of the Union message as part of his campaign for the Democratic party presidential nomination.

Part of the discussion centered around a series of articles in the Philadelphia Inquirer which showed how dramatically the U.S. economy has deteriorated since 1980.

The supporters of Harkin feel that we need strong leadership to stop the economic free fall we are in under President Bush and that Harkin can provide that leadership.

The president didn't even recognize the bad economic news until he got bad political vibes from New Hampshire.

His only response so far is to propose more of the "trickle down" philosophy that has been the cornerstone of national economic policy during the Reagan and Bush years.

Ironically, Bush correctly labeled these policies as voodoo economics in 1980 but embraced them after winning a spot on the Reagan ticket.

Harkin's specific Five-Point Plan for Economic Growth makes him the pro-growth, pro-business candidate for president. His economic plan is plain and simple: Invest our resources in American workers, our schools, our infrastructure and then the economy will grow.

Harkin is aiming his policies at bringing relief to the middle class which has been squeezed and re-squeezed in the last 11 years. Harkin also believes in fair trade policies and in supporting a program that will create jobs at decent wages and with basic benefits. That's why we support Tom Harkin.

The stakes are too high not to get involved in the March 17 Michigan presidential primary.

Governor Engler has job plans that will get Michigan moving and back to work. He is sending a powerful message that Michigan is open for business again. I am convinced that in 1992 Governor Engler will continue to provide the changes he promised the voters in 1990.

Only athletes have status?

To the editor:

Only athletes have status. Or so it seems the Livonia school board would have students believe, with their policy permitting only athletes to wear varsity letters on their jackets.

The school board should facilitate the recognition of excellence in all endeavors, not just athletics. Those who excel in academic achievement, music, or any other discipline deemed worthy of a varsity letter, should be allowed to wear the letter with pride.

Let's create an atmosphere that encourages and rewards intellectual development.

Keep school letter issue simple

A COLLEAGUE of mine recently wrote that Birmingham business people, faced with competition in Troy and empty storefronts, are learning that doing business as usual threatens the future of that shopping district.

The same is true in education, where educators are making out lists and asking voters to fill their carts with the latest in modern technology, sometimes to be paid for with a new millage or bond issue.

Some aren't too lucky. Oakland Schools recently had to delay start up of a new high school for the sciences because the economy forced hoped-for corporate sponsors to delay support.

In Birmingham, a controversial operating millage was approved Monday, with money to be set aside for facilities, a depleted fund equity and a teachers' pay raise the district was tied into three years ago.

The Plymouth Canton district voters approved a bond issue in the fall for high tech equipment, including computers and new buildings.

Sandra Armbruster

LIVONIA SCHOOLS face their own uncertain future. Voters Feb. 10 are being asked to approve a $62.1 million bond issue for computer hardware and software, renovating school buildings, renovating science labs, improving lighting and bringing buildings up to code.

But all the money and all the equipment in the world won't allow our students to compete on an equal footing with those in other countries until our attitudes toward what constitutes a good education change.

Nowhere was that more evident than at Monday's Livonia School Board of Education meeting, where parents and students lined the aisles, spilling out into the hallway.

The issue wasn't that huge bond issue; it was a matter of whether students other than athletes would be allowed to wear earned school letters on varsity jackets.

Students and parents alike talked about constitutional issues like freedom of expression. Amy Pachla, a member of the all city orchestra, said it "appears athletic directors in the high schools are controlling the varsity letter policy, not principals or students."

IF THERE were any athletic directors or athletes in the audience, they didn't speak on the issue. It makes one wonder if they really care, or if this nebulous "policy" is merely a throwback to an earlier generation when if you weren't a jock you were a nerd.

Superintendent Joseph Marinelli was polite, noting that "contributions and hard work that go into being a band member" were appreciated. He also conceded the need for "appropriate recognition."

But he pointed out that the high schools are allowed to set their own policies. He said he would ask the staff to study the issue, would seek a legal opinion and would talk with those who had expressed concerns. Finally Marinelli noted the issue could always be appealed to the board.

It all seems so complicated, now that the superintendent is involved.

The issue is simple: Our young people need a shopping cart full of positive experiences to carry through their lives. Telling them they are somehow less than adequate to wear a letter on a varsity jacket leaves something missing from that basket.

You really do only go through high school once, and whatever it takes — a favorite subject or participation in music or sports — will help keep those school storefronts filled until graduation.

Don't spend money for a legal opinion. Your students gave it to you straight Monday night.

Hoop heroes without egos

IF YOU GET off watching Isiah Thomas play basketball, you should see Patty Robak, Eric Taylor, Jennifer Golen and Marjo McIntosh.

As hoop heroes go, they're even less well known than the Democratic presidential candidates. They'll never:

- Appear on the cover of Sports Illustrated.

- Be on the Olympic hoop

- Refuse to play until their contract is renegotiated.

- Spit on little girls in the stands like Charles Barkley.

- Overdose on cocaine like Len Bias (and die).

- Or peddle their services all over the league like so many prostitutes. (See Morris, Jack).

ROBAK, TAYLOR, Golen and McIntosh play Division II basketball for Oakland University, which is to say in abject obscurity. The cost of seeing their games is $4, usually a doubleheader. In comparison, the cost of attending a Pistons game is almost enough to buy a home in West Bloomfield. That's what it takes to pay a seven-foot-tall malcontent with a pot full of traffic violations like in excess of $1 million a year like William Bedford.

In ancient times, when pro athletes were paupers like us, they were easier to relate to. Nowadays, Joe Fan is to Joe Superstar what Spam is lamb. It ain't easy.

Although I entered puberty many super bowls ago as much a fan as anyone, my proclivity to admire pro athletes decreased proportionately with the rising bile of multi-million-dollar salaries, contract negotiations, mid-season strikes, felony convictions and the boorish behavior of hedonistic egomaniacs.

As parents, we talk about the importance of not spoiling our kids, but as fans we often fawn over these athletic mercenaries like hypnotized suppliants. Is it any wonder their hat sizes grow to John Merrick proportions?

YET THE FETID stench of Division I college athletics makes pro sports seem like a particularly fine perfume.

The NCAA disciplines the minions of big-buck college athletics about as well as our representatives in Washington control the federal disgrace, er, I mean deficit. We preach the value of education to our children, approve millage increases for our schools and call education the biggest problem facing the United States. Then we tune in the college basketball game on net work TV and salivate over the feats of ambulatory eclat perpetrated by young men who would find this sentence incomprehensible.

But in Division II sports, you'll find the hustle on the basketball court, rather than in the treatment of the athletes or the assertion that they are real students.

AS A FORMER sports editor of the Oakland Post, I'm in a relatively good position to tell you that, at Oakland, the term "academic standards" isn't a perverse euphemism for tackles or assists. In fact, Oakland's academic standards are higher than most of its contemporaries. Ergo, the Pioneer hooperster can look at the scoreboard and actually tell if they're ahead or behind.

It's sort of a paradox, what Oakland inadvertently values athletics more than big schools because it can't afford to pour enough money into them to bring the corrupting influence of acclaim into play.

Hence the school's arena should more properly be called a gym. Spartan though it may be, you can easily sit close enough to clearly hear Jennifer Golen holler "ball, ball, ball," as she frantically waves her arms in the face of a harried guard. Then watch coach Bob Taylor yell like a drill sergeant with his stentorian baritone voice, "Patty! Patty! She's left handed!"

And after you see Eric Taylor, Mario McIntosh and their mates systematically disassemble a well-guarded opponent in the second game, you can be sure the hoopsters will have little time for celebration, because they've got a 10 o'clock Renaissance Literature class the next morning.

Handling of Haitians tarnishes image

THE STATUE OF Liberty is yesterday's paper. "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free." These words, immortalized in the folklore of our country, tell of the Great Melting Pot, an amalgam of different peoples, different cultures melded together to form a cohesive whole. But... the Statue of Liberty appears a false prophet.

When persecution reared or the land failed, immigrants came from England, Poland, Germany, Ireland, Scotland across the water in droves. They became our craftsmen and builders and farmers. These immigrants became the backbone of the great land known as the United States of America.

Somewhere along the way, however, the image began to tarnish like nickle-plated silver. If you were right-looking, you could assimilate and achieve the heights; if not, don't bother knocking at the Door of Opportunity.

The Statue of Liberty is leaning from a heavy wind. Why can't the Haitians immigrate? Give me your tired, your poor... but we've grown tired, I think, and afraid, too tired to think of huddled masses, too afraid to consider what it must be like to risk pirates, sharks and dehydration in leaky, floating coffins in order to "breathe free."

WHY CAN'T the Haitians immigrate? As they try to answer the question, the Bush administration keeps 10,000 men, women and children in a squalid, festering concentration camp in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Coast Guard crews patrol the waters off Miami in the Cuban Corridor, shouting through bull horns "Go home. We can't handle it."

Harried doctors rush hither and yon spouting one piece of contradictory explanation after another. "They're not political prisoners" says one; "It's humanitarian" says another. "We're sending them back to discourage new refugees."

Now the Supreme Court has rubber stamped the Bush decision, and the military will begin the torturous job of sending thousands back to the waiting hell of torture, persecution and possible execution.

Why can't the Haitians immi-

grate? The Statue of Liberty sinks deeper under the weight of the deafening silence this outrage against its principles has provoked. Where is the media frenzy that would occur if 10,000 Poles or Russian Jews or Irish Freedom Fighters were denied entry to this country, detained on an off shore island, then turned around sent packing with a stiff kick in the rump and a "Tell your friends we don't want you here?"

Demands would come from every sector to delay, to rethink, to compromise. Yet in the case of Haitian immigrants, fleeing one of man's most vile oppressive regimes, silence is the sound most heard. Silence from the clergy, silence from the media, silence from the politicians.

WHY CAN'T the Haitians immigrate? Some said people believe they carry the AIDS virus. Another thought they would turn criminal, like the infamous Mariel Boat Exodus. One person guessed that it would set a precedent. Someone else whispered it's because they're black.

We're in trouble, folks. If in fact we've bought into all the media myths about blacks and people of color, then the Statue of Liberty is yesterday's paper. And if we discard the principles on which this still great country was founded, then we must also throw out our hopes for the future.

"A house divided cannot stand," said Abraham Lincoln. This nation must close the Great Divide growing ever wider which separates black and white or face chaos. If the real reason the Haitians can't immigrate is because they are black — then the Statue of Liberty is hurting indeed.

Skills over $ School leaders aren't cheap

WAYNE-WESTLAND school board members — and the community — should realize that the importance of picking a new school superintendent is the same as selecting a good family doctor.

Money shouldn't be the difference. That point came through loud and clear at a school board meeting last week when the consulting firm hired to help with the superintendent selection process said that the district should be prepared to pay at least a $100,000 a year in salary for the next superintendent.

That may sound like the equivalent of auto sticker shock for those who are out of work or working for a little more than minimum wage.

But the reality is that the top administrators of an organization with a budget of nearly $80 million get at least the near-$100,000 salary now paid to Superintendent Dennis O'Neill.

For comparisons on what other districts are paying their superintendents, let's look at the Carmen-Beecher community on the edge of Flint and the closer-to-home Southfield school district in Oakland County.

THE CARMEN-BEECHER board hired a new superintendent several years ago at a $100,000 salary even though the district is only one-third of the enrollment of Wayne-Westland.

The Southfield superintendent, hired last year, also receives $100,000 to administer a district with half the enrollment of the Wayne-Westland district.

The Wayne-Westland school board clearly needs an effective superintendent who can deal with the issues of voters' unrest based on rising taxes and declining academic test scores and conflicts among board members.

The bottom line is that money shouldn't be an issue in picking a new school leader. The district — its students, residents and employees — deserve someone someone who can be an effective communicator, leader and problem solver.

Vote Monday

Students need equipment

ON MONDAY Livonia school district residents will go to the polls to vote on a $62.1 million bond proposal.

Two-thirds of the debt will be spent on computer hardware and software and to make physical changes in buildings to adequately house that technology.

The remaining third will be spent on renovating buildings, to make them handicapped accessible, to improve classroom lighting, to renovate science labs, and to comply with building codes.

The Observer endorses a "yes" vote on the bond issue because it is an investment that must be made if our students are to be competitive in today's world, because the debt incurred by selling bonds will not result in any millage increase for most local taxpayers, and because bond interest rates are very favorable now and contractors looking for work will offer more competitive bids.

The proposal asks voter approval to borrow $62.1 million through a bond sale which would be paid off by a debt retirement levy of 1.05 mills over 30 years.

The Observer urges readers to go to the polls Monday and vote "yes" on the bond issue request.

Black eye

Next primary needs revision

HERE'S FAIRLY good news: Both Republicans and Democrats will allow voters to declare party affiliation at the polls March 17 in Michigan's presidential preference primary. You won't have to declare 30 days in advance.

Democrats generated the fuss when their national party rules said national convention delegates had to come from a "closed" system, either primary or caucus, in which participants at least declared themselves Democrats. No more George Wallace crossovers for them.

In 1988 Michigan used a caucus system, but both parties had miseries. Democrats had an invasion of Jesse Jackson supporters, Republicans of Pat Robertson newcomers.

SO THEY CUT a deal in the Legislature: a primary where voters had to declare an affiliation. It backfired: A mob of people, both with Democratic and Republican preferences, were enraged at the thought of revealing their party preferences 30 days prior to the primary. It didn't matter that many other states require a party declaration. Michigan's tradition of "open" primaries is very strong.

Democrats responded by using party rules to allow same-day declaration.

Republicans in the Senate passed a bill for an "open" primary, but House Democrats sat on it. Gov. John Engler did the only thing he could, asking the Republican State Committee to pass a same-day rule like the Democrats'. The RSC will meet Feb. 11, and the odds are it will be adopted.

That's where it stands: To vote March 17, you have to declare a party preference. That's not all bad. It will help the parties identify their supporters. Stronger political parties will reduce the power of single-issue zealots, special interest groups and political action committees.

But once again Michigan has a political black eye because of a presidential primary mess. We hope Michigan politicians are embarrassed enough to come up with a more palatable system in 1996.

Rouge

Plans give river hope, new life

THINGS ARE looking up for the Rouge River, that meandering, usually muddy, sometimes polluted set of streams that drain 42 communities in southeastern Michigan.

Johnson Creek, a western tributary, is about to become a trout stream. At the urging of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, the state Department of Natural Resources intends to plant trout fingerlings in the creek, which runs through Salem Township in Washtenaw County, Northville and Plymouth townships.

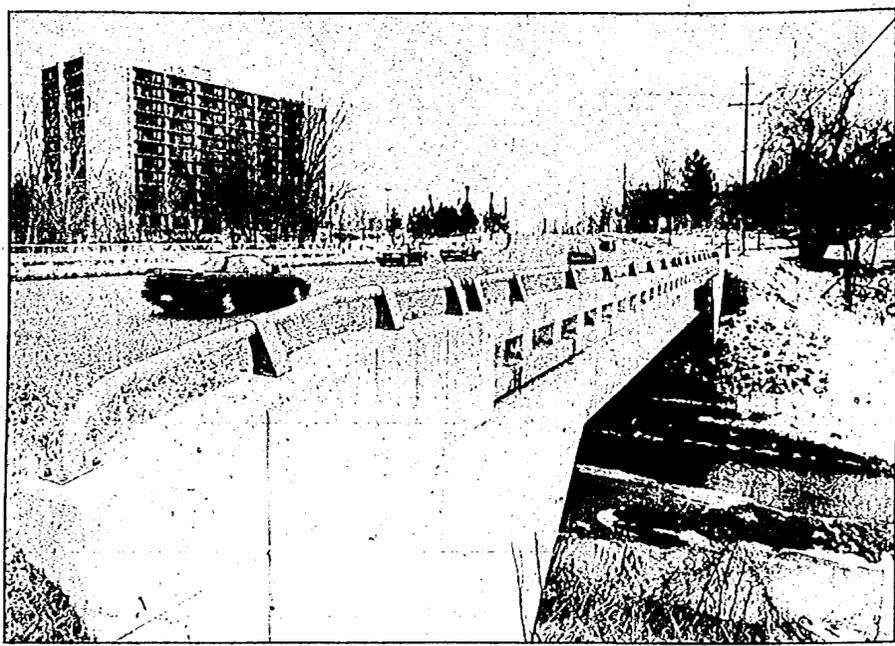

Trout were planted in the Middle Rouge in the late 1960s to provide a temporary fishery after part of that branch was killed off. Perhaps Johnson Creek, running through hilly terrain, will flow swiftly enough to support this most desirable of gamefish. Thanks to WWCCA's Bob Latch and the DNR for giving it a try.

Southfield and the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation have gone a step further than keeping the nine miles of the Rouge jam free in that town. The group installed "wing wall deflectors" along a portion of the River from Telegraph to Hooper Road.

The deflectors — rows of broken concrete set at an angle to the banks — protect against erosion while scouring the bottom of the river and sending silt and sediment downstream. "Areas of the river that were six inches deep all the way across now hold three, four and five feet of water," said Bill Zikewich, of Southfield's parks and recreation department.

The program has won the city honors, including the Michigan Outdoor Writers Clean Water Award in 1989. But the project isn't stopping there. About 40 "juvenile" small mouth bass were planted in the river in fall 1991, according to Zikewich, and the wing wall deflector system will be extended north in the spring.

The state House has voted to put a constitutional amendment on the ballot to allocate part of the state's land trust money to rebuild CSOs — combined sewer overflows. In CSOs, stormwater and sewage run together and overflow into the Rouge in periods of heavy rain. The Senate and the voters also must say yes. The money will go into a revolving loan fund. Ending CSOs will be a massive, years-long job, but the starting line is in sight.

JERRY ZOLYNSKY/staff photographer

Another world

Below the Civic Center Drive bridge east of heavily traveled Telegraph Road in Southfield lies the cleaner, more rapidly flowing Rouge River which has been stocked with small mouth bass. For an editorial on what's being done for the river in southeastern Michigan, see the lower left hand corner of this page.

Judges to rule in high stakes redistricting plan

THE BIGGEST, highest stakes game in Michigan politics takes place only once every 10 years. And 1992 is the year.

It's called redistricting, the process by which the political system (which in practice means the courts) redraws boundaries for various election districts in order to accommodate population changes as measured by the census.

This year in Michigan, an entirely new map will be drawn for all seats in the U.S. House of Representatives as well as the entire state Senate and House.

Drawing the districts cleverly (i.e., to your party's advantage) is complicated, mathematical and heavily influenced by the constitutional requirement of "one person, one vote" and by the Voting Rights Act, which requires maintaining minority districts.

The process also ends political careers and determines things like control over legislatures.

No wonder most political people are walking around these days looking more than slightly preoccupied.

FRIDAY was the deadline set by the U.S. District Court for both political parties to submit their competing plans for new congressional districts.

A three-judge panel — including James Ryan, a distinguished jurist and longtime Redford resident who is a former Michigan Supreme Court justice and now a U.S. Court of Appeals judge — has the job of picking a plan.

Practical deadline is May 12 — the last date to file petitions for the Aug. 4 primary — to pick one plan or impose their own. The judges have indicated they want to finish their work by the end of March.

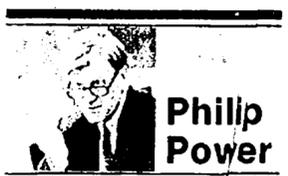

This won't be easy. Michigan's congressional delegation will drop from 18 to 16 because the state gained only 33,000 residents in the census, far less than the population gain in other states. So the big question is not only who gets to run in what district but which incumbent congressman will be forced to run against another incumbent.

This is too bad, because Michigan's representatives in Congress from areas served by these newspapers have been a pretty able and responsible bunch.

IN ORDER of district, here's who's at risk:

If the Democratic proposal is adopted, 2nd District Republican Carl Pursell of Plymouth might have to run against 18th District Republican William Broomfield of Lake Orion. That's too bad because both have been effective, moderate Republicans. Although Broomfield is coming to the end of a career dating to the Eisenhower years, his Oakland constituents have received outstanding service.

In the 15th District, Democrat Bill

Philip Power

Ford of Taylor has represented western Wayne County since the '60s, and the odds are that he will keep his base while adding more of Washtenaw County. One of the most powerful members of the Michigan delegation, Ford is chair of the entire Education and Labor Committee, one of the most important in Washington.

Under both parties' plans, Democrat Sander Levin of Southfield will almost certainly have to run against Democrat Dennis Hertz of Harper Woods in a new 14th District. Levin has been very active in sponsoring legislation designed to bring down the Japanese trade surplus with the U.S. and in working to help Michigan's auto industry.

Whatever finally happens once the judges rule, some very able and good Michigan representatives in Congress will be out of a job come November.

Phil Power is chairman of the company that owns this newspaper. His award-winning column will appear periodically.

They're for Tom Harkin

To the editor:

On Jan. 30, several friends and neighbors gathered in our home to watch a video response by Sen. Tom Harkin to the President's State of the Union message as part of his campaign for the Democratic party presidential nomination.

Part of the discussion centered around a series of articles in the Philadelphia Inquirer which showed how dramatically the U.S. economy has deteriorated since 1980.

The supporters of Harkin feel that we need strong leadership to stop the economic free fall we are in under President Bush and that Harkin can provide that leadership.

The president didn't even recognize the bad economic news until he got bad political vibes from New Hampshire.

His only response so far is to propose more of the "trickle down" philosophy that has been the cornerstone of national economic policy during the Reagan and Bush years.

Ironically, Bush correctly labeled these policies as "voodoo economics" in 1980 but embraced them after winning a spot on the Reagan ticket.

Harkin's specific Five-Point Plan for Economic Growth makes him the pro-growth, pro-business candidate for president. His economic plan is plain and simple: Invest our resources in American workers, our schools, our infrastructure and then the economy will grow.

Harkin is aiming his policies at bringing relief to the middle class which has been squeezed and re-squeezed in the last 11 years. Harkin also believes in fair trade policies and in supporting a program that will create jobs at decent wages and with basic benefits. That's why we support Tom Harkin.

The stakes are too high not to get involved in the March 17 Michigan presidential primary.

Lois and Aldo Vagnozzi, Farmington Hills

She's betting on Engler

To the editor:

It was encouraging to hear Governor Engler's State of the State message and learn of the good things he has done for Michigan this past year and the good things he plans to do during the next year.

We never hear about these things from the media. They only emphasize the negative things. Governor Engler's plan to provide a $1,000 tax credit to any employer who hires a Michigan worker who has been out of work for more than six months and has participated in state job training programs is an innovative idea.

Governor Engler has job plans that will get Michigan moving and back to work. He is sending a powerful message that Michigan is open for business again. I am convinced that in 1992 Governor Engler will continue to provide the changes he promised the voters in 1990.

Eleanor Whitson, Bloomfield Township

Only athletes have status?

To the editor:

Only athletes have status. Or so it seems the Livonia school board would have students believe, with their policy permitting only athletes to wear varsity letters on their jackets.

The school board should facilitate the recognition of excellence in all endeavors, not just athletics. Those who excel in academic achievement, music, or any other discipline deemed worthy of a varsity letter, should be allowed to wear the letter with pride.

Let's create an atmosphere that encourages and rewards intellectual development.

Keep school letter issue simple

A COLLEAGUE of mine recently wrote that Birmingham business people, faced with competition in Troy and empty storefronts, are learning that doing business as usual threatens the future of that shopping district.

The same is true in education, where educators are making out lists and asking voters to fill their carts with the latest in modern technology, sometimes to be paid for with a new millage or bond issue.

Some aren't too lucky. Oakland Schools recently had to delay start up of a new high school for the sciences because the economy forced hoped-for corporate sponsors to delay support.

In Birmingham, a controversial operating millage was approved Monday, with money to be set aside for facilities, a depleted fund equity and a teachers' pay raise the district was tied into three years ago.

The Plymouth Canton district voters approved a bond issue in the fall for high tech equipment, including computers and new buildings.

Sandra Armbruster

LIVONIA SCHOOLS face their own uncertain future. Voters Feb. 10 are being asked to approve a $62.1 million bond issue for computer hardware and software, renovating school buildings, renovating science labs, improving lighting and bringing buildings up to code.

But all the money and all the equipment in the world won't allow our students to compete on an equal footing with those in other countries until our attitudes toward what constitutes a good education change.

Nowhere was that more evident than at Monday's Livonia School Board of Education meeting, where parents and students lined the aisles, spilling out into the hallway.

The issue wasn't that huge bond issue; it was a matter of whether students other than athletes would be allowed to wear earned school letters on varsity jackets.

Students and parents alike talked about constitutional issues like freedom of expression. Amy Pachla, a member of the all city orchestra, said it "appears athletic directors in the high schools are controlling the varsity letter policy, not principals or students."

IF THERE were any athletic directors or athletes in the audience, they didn't speak on the issue. It makes one wonder if they really care, or if this nebulous "policy" is merely a throwback to an earlier generation when if you weren't a jock you were a nerd.

Superintendent Joseph Marinelli was polite, noting that "contributions and hard work that go into being a band member" were appreciated. He also conceded the need for "appropriate recognition."

But he pointed out that the high schools are allowed to set their own policies. He said he would ask the staff to study the issue, would seek a legal opinion and would talk with those who had expressed concerns.

Finally Marinelli noted the issue could always be appealed to the board.

It all seems so complicated, now that the superintendent is involved.

The issue is simple: Our young people need a shopping cart full of positive experiences to carry through their lives. Telling them they are somehow less than adequate to wear a letter on a varsity jacket leaves something missing from that basket.

You really do only go through high school once, and whatever it takes — a favorite subject or participation in music or sports — will help keep those school storefronts filled until graduation.

Don't spend money for a legal opinion. Your students gave it to you straight Monday night.

Hoop heroes without egos

IF YOU GET off watching Isiah Thomas play basketball, you should see Patty Robak, Eric Taylor, Jennifer Golen and Mario McIntosh.

As hoop heroes go, they're even less well known than the Democratic presidential candidates. They'll never...

● Appear on the cover of Sports Illustrated.

● Be on the Olympic hoop squad.

● Refuse to play until their contract is renegotiated.

● Spit on little girls in the stands like Charles Barkley.

● Overdose on cocaine like Len Bias (and die).

● Or peddle their services all over the league like so many prostitutes. (See Morris, Jack).

ROBAK, TAYLOR, Golen and McIntosh play Division II basketball for Oakland University, which is to say in abject obscurity. The cost of seeing their games is $4, usually a doubleheader. In comparison, the cost of attending a Pistons game is almost enough to buy a home in West Bloomfield. That's what it takes to pay a seven-foot-tall malcontent with a pot full of traffic violations like in excess of $1 million a year like William Bedford.

In ancient times, when pro athletes were paupers like us, they were easier to relate to. Nowadays, Joe Fan is to Joe Superstar what Spam is lamb. It ain't easy.

Although I entered puberty many super bowls ago as much a fan as anyone, my proclivity to admire pro athletes decreased proportionately with the rising bile of multi-million-dollar salaries, contract negotiations, mid-season strikes, felony convictions and the boorish behavior of hedonistic egomaniacs.

As parents, we talk about the importance of not spoiling our kids, but as fans we often fawn over these athletic mercenaries like hypnotized suppliants. Is it any wonder their hat sizes grow to John Merrick proportions?

YET THE FETID stench of Division I college athletics makes pro sports seem like a particularly fine perfume.

The NCAA disciplines the minions of big-buck college athletics about as well as our representatives in Washington control the federal disgrace, er, I mean deficit. We preach the value of education to our children, approve millage increases for our schools and call education the biggest problem facing the United States. Then we tune in the college basketball game on network TV and salivate over the feats of ambulatory eclat perpetrated by young men who would find this sentence incomprehensible.

But in Division II sports, you'll find the hustle on the basketball court, rather than in the treatment of the athletes or the assertion that they are real students.

AS A FORMER sports editor of the Oakland Post, I'm in a relatively good position to tell you that, at Oakland, the term "academic standards" isn't a perverse euphemism for tackles or assists. In fact, Oakland's academic standards are higher than most of its contemporaries. Ergo, the Pioneer hooperster can look at the scoreboard and actually tell if they're ahead or behind.

It's sort of a paradox, but Oakland inadvertently values athletics more than big schools because it can't afford to pour enough money into them to bring the corrupting influence of acclaim into play.

Hence the school's arena should more properly be called a gym. Spartan though it may be, you can easily sit close enough to clearly hear Jennifer Golen holler "ball, ball, ball," as she frantically waves her arms in the face of a harried guard. Then watch coach Bob Taylor yell like a drill sergeant with his stentorian baritone voice, "Patty! Patty! She's left handed!"

And after you see Eric Taylor, Mario McIntosh and their mates systematically disassemble a well-guarded opponent in the second game, you can be sure the hoopers will have little time for celebration, because they've got a 10 o'clock Renaissance Literature class the next morning.

Ralph R. Echtenaw is a reporter for the West Bloomfield/Lakes Eccentric.

Handling of Haitians tarnishes image

THE STATUE OF Liberty is yesterday's paper. "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free." These words, immortalized in the folklore of our country, tell of the Great Melting Pot, an amalgam of different peoples, different cultures melded together to form a cohesive whole. But... the Statue of Liberty appears a false prophet.

When persecution reared or the land failed, immigrants came from England, Poland, Germany, Ireland, Scotland across the water in droves. They became our craftsmen and builders and farmers. These immigrants became the backbone of the great land known as the United States of America.

Somewhere along the way, however, the image began to tarnish like nickle-plated silver. If you were right-looking, you could assimilate and achieve the heights; if not, don't bother knocking at the Door of Opportunity.

The Statue of Liberty is leaning from a heavy wind. Why can't the Haitians immigrate? Give me your tired, your poor... but we've

WHY CAN'T the Haitians immigrate? As they try to answer the question, the Bush administration keeps 10,000 men, women and children in a squalid, festering concentration camp in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Coast Guard crews patrol the waters off Miami in the Cuban Corridor, shouting through bull horns "Go home. We can't handle it."

Harried doctors rush hither and yon spouting one piece of contradictory explanation after another. "They're not political prisoners" says one; "It's humanitarian" says another. "We're sending them back to discourage new refugees."

Now the Supreme Court has rubber stamped the Bush decision, and the military will begin the torturous job of sending thousands back to the waiting hell of torture, persecution and possible execution.

Why can't the Haitians immi-

Jeffrey Miller

grate? The Statue of Liberty sinks deeper under the weight of the deafening silence this outrage against its principles has provoked. Where is the media frenzy that would occur if 10,000 Poles or Russian Jews or Irish Freedom Fighters were denied entry to this country, detained on an off shore island, then turned around sent packing with a stiff kick in the rump and a "Tell your friends we don't want you here?"

Demands would come from every sector to delay, to rethink, to compromise. Yet in the case of Haitian immigrants, fleeing one of man's most vile oppressive regimes, silence is the sound most heard. Silence from the clergy, silence from the media, silence from the politicians.

WHY CAN'T the Haitians immigrate? Some said people believe they carry the AIDS virus. Another thought they would turn criminal, like the infamous Mariel Boat Exodus. One person guessed that it would set a precedent. Someone else whispered it's because they're black.

We're in trouble, folks. If in fact we've bought into all the media myths about blacks and people of color, then the Statue of Liberty is yesterday's paper. And if we discard the principles on which this still great country was founded, then we must also throw out our hopes for the future.

"A house divided cannot stand," said Abraham Lincoln. This nation must close the Great Divide growing ever wider which separates black and white or face chaos. If the real reason the Haitians can't immigrate is because they are black — then the Statue of Liberty is hurting indeed.

School punishment bill sparks debate

By Tim Richard
staff writer

A bill allowing teachers to use force to maintain order is headed for the state House of Representatives after a long committee battle.

"This issue is tearing this committee apart," said Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, chair of the House Education Committee.

Keith's panel reported out its version of the Senate-passed bill on a 12-1 vote with five abstentions and a lot of legal questions.

"It's terrible," said Sen. Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor, author of the 1988 law prohibiting corporal punishment in schools.

SENATE BILL 338 amends Pollack's law by spelling out conditions under which school personnel can use physical force.

Pollack cast the only "no" vote when SB 338 sailed through the Senate last fall. She's putting up a stiffer battle in the House.

Area members supporting SB 338 were Keith, Justine Barns, D-Westland; James Kosteva, D-Canton; Georgina Goss, R-Northville; and Tom Middleton, R-Ortonville.

"I wanted to pass it for the day (postpone)," said Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Livonia, who abstained. "There have been all kinds of amendments, but there wasn't an attorney in the room to clarify them."

"The bill is better than when it came from the Senate," said Keith. The bill will go to the House floor next week. If passed, it will have to Keith said the issue is tearing his committee apart.

"It's terrible," said Sen. Lana Pollack, author of the 1988 law prohibiting corporal punishment in schools.

be returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments.

Teachers in the Michigan Education Association prompted Sen. John Schwarz, R-Battle Creek, to introduce the bill in attempt to clarify their power to quell disturbances.

POLLACK SAID SB 338 "clearly invites" use of force in three ways.

First, current law prohibits corporal punishment by school personnel for punishment or penalty. It broadly defines corporal punishment as "physical pain by any means."

SB 338 would amend the definition to list "hitting, paddling, spanking, slapping or any other physical force."

Pollack said the bill's narrower definition would allow punishment by "uncomfortable body positions," such as standing on one leg.

Second, SB 338 tells authorities that "deference shall be given to reasonable, good-faith judgments" of teachers and school employees.

"That gives the teacher's word the benefit of a doubt," said Pollack, fearing the student's word would be disregarded.

Third, SB 338 allows reasonable force to "maintain order," which Pollack said is too close to using it for discipline.

"This was written for the MEA. They have clout," said Pollack.

THE HEART of the bill allows teachers, bus drivers, volunteers and contractors to use "reasonable physical force upon a pupil as necessary to maintain order and control" under these circumstances:

- To remove a misbehaving pupil who has been warned from class or a school-related activity.
- "For self-defense or the defense of another."
- "To prevent a pupil from inflicting harm on himself or herself."
- "To quell a disturbance that threatens physical injury to any person."
- To confiscate a weapon or dangerous object.
- "To protect property."

IT PROTECTS school personnel from civil liability when they have used force properly.

Some officials said the bill is premature because there are no court cases under the current law.

But educators said that without the bill they would be powerless to halt disruptive behavior or violence. They cited widespread parental concern about school violence and the propensity of kids to tell teachers to "go to hell" and get away with it.

Michigan Eyecare Institute At The Forefront Of Ophthalmology

The Michigan Eyecare Institute is known for its pioneering breakthroughs. Staffed by specialists who have developed and refined the latest medical techniques, the Michigan Eyecare Institute specializes in treating and eliminating disabling eye disease.

As founders of The Michigan Eyecare Institute, Dr. William Myers and Dr. Mark Rittenstein have been at the forefront of Ophthalmologic breakthroughs. They were the first Ophthalmologists in the state to develop or utilize:

- YAG laser surgery for treatment of secondary cataracts
- Nova Curve lens, designed especially for the YAG laser surgery
- Excimer laser surgery for treatment of glaucoma
- Radial Keratotomy for correction of nearsightedness

These laser surgeries are fast, virtually painless and they require no hospital stay or recovery time.

The founders of Michigan Eyecare Institute conduct courses in surgery and have lectured on their state of the art surgical techniques to other physicians throughout North America, Europe, Russia and the Far East. If you are nearsighted, farsighted, or suffer from cataracts or glaucoma, Michigan Eyecare Institute can help.

New Morning hosts parent discussion

New Morning School, the only preschool through grade 8 parent cooperative in southeastern Michigan, will hold a parent discussion night Tuesday, Feb. 11, at the school, 14501 Haggerty, Plymouth.

Interested families are invited to tour the school, speak with teachers and students. The discussion night is planned for parents, however, middle school students (grades 6-8 in the fall), are encouraged to attend with their parents. All students are invited to visit during a school day at a later date.

The school has openings in the preschool, early primary and middle school programs for the 1992-1993 school years.

To register for the meeting, call 420-3331.

As part of its commitment to fostering an interest in science at an early age, the school is presently offering the World In Motion program, created by the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE), to upper elementary and middle school students.

Anticipating a shortage of engineers by the year 2000 the World In Motion program was created by SAE to promote science literacy. Five engineers from Ford Moto Co. are volunteering their expertise and time at the school during the course of the program.

Students are busy working like engineers in The Skimmer Regatta unit. Each of six design teams are exploring physics concepts of forces and motion and are applying their knowledge to the development and design of their skimmers.

Rotary seeks host family

The Dearborn Heights Rotary is seeking a host family for its exchange student, Alberto Ocampo of Argentina.

Ocampo currently lives with a host family in Livonia and attends Churchill High School.

SC Invite field strong

A record 32 teams have entered Saturday's 19th annual Schoolcraft Invitational Volleyball Tournament. Pool play begins at 8:15 a.m. with the elimination rounds scheduled to start at 4:30 p.m. Twelve teams, two in each pool, will advance to the elimination brackets.

Livonia Churchill (20-3 overall) is the defending SC Invitational champ. The Chargers also went on to win the state Class A championship.

Among the ranked teams (coaches poll) entered in the field include Class A No. 3 ranked East Kentwood (34-6-2), No. 6 Temperance-Bedford (31-8-6), No. 9 Grand Rapids Forest Hills Central (26-13-6) and No. 10 Livonia Ladywood (20-3-4).

Other contenders may be Churchill, Livonia Stevenson (29-5), Fenton, Flint Atherton, Walled Lake Central and Plymouth Salem (22-6-7).

All-day admission is $3 for adults and $2 for students (with valid I.D.).

All concession proceeds will go toward the Schoolcraft College Athletic Department.

Here are the pool pairings:

Court No. 6 (A): Livonia Ladywood, Dearborn, Garden City, Northville and Wayne Memorial.

Court No. 5 (B): Grand Rapids, Forest Hills Central, Monroe St. Mary's Catholic Central, Dearborn Fordson, Farmington, Madison Heights Bishop Foley and Livonia Franklin.

Court No. 4 (C): Temperance-Bedford, Birmingham Marian, Dearborn Edsel Ford, Livonia Clarenceville, North Farmington and Plymouth Salem.

Court No. 3 (D): East Kentwood, Walled Lake Central, Harper Woods Regina, Grosse Ile and Howell.

Court No. 2 (E): Livonia Stevenson, Fenton, Grand Blanc, Plymouth Canton and Redford Thurston.

Court No. 1 (F): Livonia Churchill, Flint Atherton, Anchor Bay, Lansing Catholic Central and Farmington Harrison.

Churchill zaps Stevenson in 3

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Livonia Churchill won last year's state Class A volleyball championship, but lost virtually its entire starting lineup to graduation.

So how could one explain the Chargers' 20-3 overall record thus far and 5-0 start in the Western Lakes Activities Association?

Some may say coach Mike Hughes is doing it with mirrors, but whatever the reasons, the Chargers pack more than a smoking gun following Monday's 15-11, 15-9, 15-13 impressive win at highly-touted Livonia Stevenson.

"It (the championship run) makes a big difference in the way we play," Hughes said. "We have four seniors off that team from last year and they feel that they can win."

"We're not as quick as last year's ballclub, but we do some other things well."

Always formidable Stevenson couldn't hold a 9-1 advantage in the first game. And when Churchill rallied to win, it pretty much set the tone for the rest of the match.

"The Churchill girls have an attitude that they really want to beat Stevenson and we don't have that same attitude," Stevenson coach Lee Cagle said. "A lot of it has to do with the heart, and whoever goes at it the hardest and longest."

volleyball

eight points, Chargers suddenly elevated their game against their taller opponent.

Andrea Zawislak came off the bench to deliver a pair of critical hits to spearhead the first-game Churchill comeback drive.

"Andrea's only 5-foot-3, but she can get way up," Hughes said. "She's really come on the last week-and-a-half."

Churchill led the entire second game, putting it away behind the hitting of seniors Julie Campau and Ellen Lessig.

The Chargers also jumped out to an 11-4 advantage in the third game before Stevenson rallied to tie it, 13-11, on ace serve to Alicia Smith.

But the Spartans could not get over the hump, misfiring down the stretch.

"It's 13-13 and we miss a serve," said Cagle, whose team dropped to 29-5 overall and 3-2 in the WLAA. "We didn't play intelligently and our passing was poor. It reflects on our inability to play in the big game."

Both teams lost key players during the action to ankle injuries.

Stevenson sophomore Angie Piippo went down midway through the match and Churchill junior Chrissy Daly followed shortly after.

"I THOUGHT Aimee Cousino played outstanding defense when Daly got hurt, and Daly is our best defensive player," Hughes said. "I also thought we served fairly tough, which made it hard on their middle hitting kids."

"And one of the things I appreciated was the hustle defensively, which I like. I'm pleased with how hard the kids played."

It was pretty much a team effort for the Chargers, who also received strong performances from setter Kristi Szymanski, along with designated server Vicki Lucas and reserve Rachel Hackman.

Julie Martin, a 6-foot-1 junior, continued her solid hitting for the Spartans, but overall Cagle was not pleased with the final result.

"We played exactly like this in the Walled Lake Central match (a loss)," Cagle said. "It was a mere image. We just don't run all over the place trying to keep balls in play. And our blockers didn't respond. We had a couple of big blocks, but on a number of deflections, we don't recover."

Hughes, meanwhile, knew his club was ready to play.

"It's city competition and it's a natural," he said. "You don't have to say anything to get our kids fired up. Stevenson is a fine volleyball team and I'm sure we'll see them again sometime down the road."

Chargers riding high in Howell win

Livonia Churchill did not lose a game en route to its second invitational volleyball title of the season.

The Chargers captured the 14-team Howell tournament Saturday with a 15-13, 15-4 victory in the championship over Saline. Ironically, Churchill's other invitational crown occurred Jan. 4 at Saline.

Julie Campau had eight blocks to pace Churchill in the opening game, while teammate Kristi Szymanski served eight points to help close out the second game and the match against the Hornets.

In pool play, Churchill posted victories over Berkley (15-5, 15-7), Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard (15-0, 15-2) and Fowlerville (15-9, 15-6).

In a 15-8, 15-13 win over Birmingham Groves, Aimee Cousino served nine points to spur the Chargers.

Churchill then earned a trip to the finals with a 15-4, 15-5 semifinal victory over Westland John Glenn.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN won its Western Lakes Activities Association encounter Monday at Farmington Harrison, 10-15, 15-13, 15-3, 5-15, 16-14.

The Rockets, now 2-3 in the WLAA and 10-10 overall, were led by hitters Nikki Wojcik (25 kills) and Kristi Zimmer (21).

Glenn's Heidi Socia connected on 18 of 19 serves, including three aces. Teammate Becky Ursem contributed two aces with only one error in 20 attempts.

The Rockets' Nikki Nagel was 12-for-12 serving and 20-of-26 on digs.

Glenn clinched the final game behind the setting of Michelle Henry and Ursam, along with the digging of Nagel and Zimmer.

On Saturday, Glenn took third place in the Howell Invitational, beating Woodhaven in the consolation match, 16-14, 18-20, 15-8.

The Rockets were ousted from the winner's bracket by eventual champion Churchill (see above).

Glenn split two matches in pool play — Coldwater (14-16, 15-8), Northville (15-12, 11-15) — while beating Ypsilanti (15-2, 15-8) before losing to Woodhaven (15-5, 15-6). In the quarterfinals, Glenn defeated the host Highlanders, 15-5, 15-4.

Glenn's top spikers on the day were Zimmer (43 kills, 87 percent), Wojcik (40 kills, 71 percent), Leighann Dunlap (21 kills, 86 percent) and Dana Nowicki (eight kills, 73 percent).

Henry set at a 90 percent clip.

The team's top servers included Nagel (10 aces, 95 percent), Henry (12 aces, 92 percent) and Ursem (91 percent).

LUTHERAN HIGH WESTLAND, plagued by poor serving, lost a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference match Tuesday to visiting Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest, 15-6, 15-9, 15-10.

Northwest, unbeaten in the MIAC at 4-0, was led by 6-footer Allison Guetzkow.

Meanwhile, senior Kristi Clark was a bright spot for the Warriors in the back row defensively. Trailing 14-1 in the third game, Clark served six points to keep her team alive.

"We hung in there with her serves, she kept us going," said Lutheran Westland coach Sue Speirs, whose team is 3-7 overall and 1-3 in the MIAC.

Meanwhile, Gretchen List paced Lutheran Westland's offensive attack at the net.

Naumcheff returns

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Steve Naumcheff is the man who will try and turn around Livonia Churchill's football fortunes.

No stranger to Observerland football, the 47-year-old Naumcheff was named head coach for the Chargers earlier this week. He succeeds Herb Osterland, who resigned late last year after going 28-46 in eight seasons.

Churchill is currently riding an 18-game losing streak.

Naumcheff previously coached six seasons at Livonia Bentley, going 21-33 overall with a 6-3 record during his final season (1984) prior to the school closing its doors in 1985. His team's at Bentley developed the familiar motto: HHHQ ("Hustle, Hit and Never Quit").

"Steve is a highly qualified coach

football

and a proven commodity from the Bentley experience," Churchill athletic director Don Albertson said. "Bentley was not a big-time winner when he came to their program and he turned them into a contending team. When he was there they had a lot of spirit in the school. He's enthusiastic and he loves football. He's also in our building, which is important to us."

NAUMCHEFF teaches two business courses at Churchill. He's also been Livonia Education Association president since 1988.

"We'll be here with our hands stretched out," Naumcheff said. "All

I want is for people to give us an opportunity to prove our worth. And given a chance to do that, I'm going to go out and beat the bushes.

Calling himself a "cliche monster," Naumcheff has come up with a new motto for Churchill football.

"I've borrowed something from Bill Curry (University of Kentucky coach) and we're going to be the 'Red and Black Watch,'" said Naumcheff, who plans to have shirts made up in school colors bearing the Scottish motto in reference to protecting and defending honor.

However, Naumcheff's immediate task is to form a coaching staff.

It appears that he'll ask members of Osterland's staff to remain aboard.

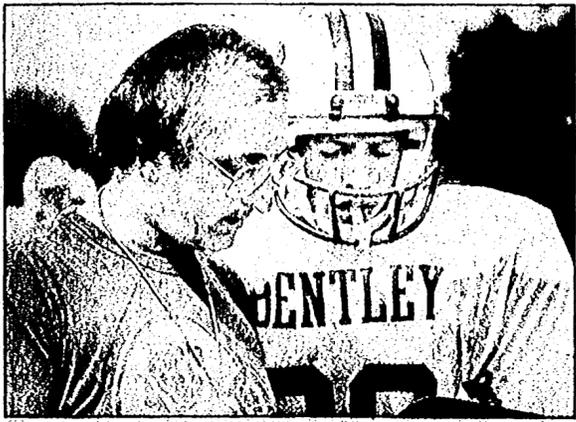

"The rest of the staff is intact, but it's up to the head coach to meet with them and see where the pieces fit," Albertson said. "We have some young and enthusiastic coaches and I would hope they would stay with the program."

An Ann Arbor native, Naumcheff graduated from Pioneer High School. He went on to receive a bachelor's degree from Ferris State, as well as a master's from Eastern Michigan University.

HE SPENT six seasons as an assistant at Bentley, with stints along the way at Redford Union and Garden City East. Last season he coached the linebackers and special teams under John Osborne at Novi High.

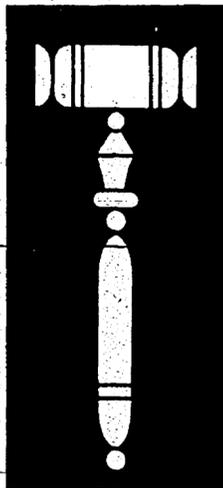

Naumcheff and his wife Jan reside in Livonia. They have two sons.

Brett, a Dearborn Divine Child grad, was a long snapping specialist at Central Michigan, while brother Trent, an All-Observer linebacker, is currently a red-shirt sophomore on scholarship at CMU.

World Cup's nearly reality

GEEZ, LET'S NOT get carried away. Okay, so everything was near-perfect Sunday. The crowd. The game. The media attention.

Still, it's no reason to go overboard: Or is it? Maybe I'm being unfair. After all, U.S. Soccer Federation president Alan Rothenberg said long ago, long before the U.S. national squad defeated the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS, formerly the Soviet Union) for the very first time, that every single World Cup game in 1994 would be a sellout.

Can you imagine? That's like saying every single World Series game for the rest of this century would be sold out. Or that every University of Michigan football game would continue to draw over 100,000 fans for the next 20 years.

I mean, you know it's likely, but if you're the guy in charge you might not want to say it out loud when there are media types lurking about. Rothenberg has. "He's been saying that all along," said Jim Duggan, the World Cup Michigan committee's executive director.

NOW, DUGGAN is the cautious type. He'd rather have had newspapers write prior to Sunday's game that the crowd was expected to be 25,000 instead of the 40,000 predicted by one paper. His reason: The potential for disappointment if the crowd is closer to the former than the latter.

But here was Duggan dumping his conservatism as he sized up Rothenberg's statement. "The more time goes by, the more I believe him," were his exact words.

What if it's a match between Gabon and Gambia? Or Bhutan and Botswana?

Even those, Duggan insists, will bring a crowd. "It doesn't matter," he said. "To draw 35,000 to a game like (Sunday's), an exhibition, that's amazing."

Also, the pre-sale of World Cup tickets doesn't guarantee certain matches. And thousands of ticket-buyers worldwide will gobble up all sorts of ticket packages, to whatever games.

C.J. Risak

Sure, the stadiums for the lesser matches may not be filled, but he believes the tickets will be sold. And considering the larger size of the American stadiums still in the running for games, the '94 Cup figures to draw more people than any in history.

WHICH BRINGS us to the Silverdome, one of those 19 finalists. With everything so perfect Sunday, how could it be left out of the World Cup?

The crowd was a state-record for a soccer match: 35,248. That had to impress Rothenberg and Hank Steinbrecher, the U.S. Soccer Federation's executive director, both of whom were present.

The game went off without a hitch, and the outcome — a 2-1 U.S. victory (even though the game-winning goal resulted from a penalty kick awarded after a dubious call), the first in seven matches with CIS and its predecessor, the Soviet Union.

Then there's the media: television coverage from England and nationally on cable, and color photos in both daily papers. Quite impressive.

Even the players liked it, although they voiced disapproval over the artificial turf. That's not a problem, since grass will be imported and replanted on a wooden platform over the field. The only other criticism came from U.S. team coach Bora Milutinovic; he said the temperature might have been a little high.

STILL, THERE is a possible problem regarding Michigan's bid. There's talk of using only eight venues, not 12. Does this concern Duggan?

Hardly. He figures, after last weekend, that the Silverdome now should be rated among the top-eight anyway.

That's a long way from where the committee was just a few months ago, praying to make the list of finalists. But optimism is running rampant. "We had a plan we set out with last June, and we followed it," said Duggan. "I don't think we could have done any more."

STEPHEN CANTRELL/staff photographer

Marcelo Balboa here heads the ball over Sergel Mandreko of the CIS; later, Balboa scored the game-winning goal on a penalty kick, the U.S. team's first win over the CIS.

"We worked really hard to make the game a success, and it was."

Such confidence. But there's no doubting the World Cup Michigan committee has labored to make the Silverdome as attractive a site as possible. Sunday's game was the icing on their bid. Even the weather cooperated; there were no snow-storms to foul moods and lessen the crowd.

I still have my doubts that the World Cup will fill every seat of the Silverdome for six (maybe more, maybe less) matches. They may sell every seat, though.

Anyway, what do I know? I thought it was highly improbable someone would actually consider tearing up the 'Dome, putting up a platform and transplanting some grass just for a few soccer matches. But it seems they will — in just a couple of years.

Turnovers, shooting doom Ocelot men

Better shooting, more rebounds — and still, Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team couldn't win.

The reason for Saturday's 85-74 loss at Mott CC in Flint? Turnovers. SC committed a whopping 34 of them.

That's why, even though they converted 51 percent of their floor shots to Mott's 37 percent, they lost. SC only totaled 59 shots; Mott took 82. Both teams had 30 baskets, but the Bears had nine three-pointers to SC's three.

SC's problems at point guard have been disastrous — and frustrating, since the Ocelots' inside game is so formidable. Against Mott, Jarvis Murray and Scott Meredith combined for 45 points and 22 rebounds, making 18-of-25 of their shots. Unfortunately, no one else scored in double-figures.

SC TRAILED just 35-32 at the end of the first half, but fell victim to Mott's outside shooting at the start of the second. The Bears drilled five three-pointers — three by Mark Herron — in a 15-5 spurt that increased their lead to 13.

The Ocelots pulled to within six, but their 15 second-half turnovers kept them from getting closer.

Murray finished with 26 points and 10 boards, while Meredith had 19 points and 12 rebounds. Gamal Ahmed finished with six points and 10 rebounds.

Mott was led by Kenyatta Payne's 23 points. Herron scored 21 (including five threes) and Ledges Glover had 14.

The loss left SC at 3-8 in the Eastern Conference. Mott is 6-4 in the conference, 9-12 overall.

ON TUESDAY, SC traveled to Hillsdale College to play its junior varsity. Like the Charger varsity, the JV team did a lot of shooting from beyond the three-point arc in rolling past the Ocelots 97-83.

Hillsdale made 15-of-43 threes (34 percent) in burying SC.

Meredith and Murray again paced the Ocelots, scoring 26 and 24 points respectively. Murray had 11 rebounds, Meredith seven. However, neither was in at crunch time; Meredith fouled out with 5 1/2 minutes left and Murray did the same with 1:30 to play.

Schoolcraft sports

Five Chargers reached double-figures in scoring: Bill Wyply (20), Leonard Addams (19), John Deal (16), Adam Gtersonke (14) and Gary Yarberry (13).

The loss left SC at 10-15 overall.

SC WOMEN: One can only hope the streak has bottomed out. Now comes the rebound.

It didn't happen Saturday at Mott CC. The Lady Ocelots suffered their sixth-consecutive loss, all in Eastern Conference play, 76-65.

A three-pointer in the final seconds gave Mott a 33-29 halftime lead. SC stayed close for a while in the second half, but tired at the end.

The problem, according to coach Jack Grenan, is a lack of personnel. Four of his 10 players are either out of action or nursing injuries.

Katie Balogh is gone for the season after having arthroscopic knee surgery and Vickie Adkins is sidelined with a severe foot sprain. Sis Guth (sprained ligament in her foot) and Stacie Smith (sprained thumb) are playing despite injuries.

"The kids have played very hard and played very well," said Grenan. "But at times, late in the game, they get mentally tired."

"We're not losing games from lack of effort. We're focusing on mental mistakes (at practice), the three or four plays a game that can make a difference."

Grenan pointed out that they have not been blown out of any of the games in their losing skid. Still, the Lady Ocelots are losing; finding a formula to help reverse that is the challenge.

"It's not an excuse," Grenan said of the injury problems. "People just have to step up. In a situation like this, mistakes are magnified."

Against Mott, Guth collected 19 points and 10 rebounds and Donna Galli totaled 16 points and 12 boards. Nicole Dapprich finished with 10 points and eight rebounds.

Crusader women only half good

Well, at least. Madonna University's women's basketball team won the second half.

Unfortunately, only the final score counts. The Lady Crusaders didn't come close to posting the best numbers there Saturday; they absorbed a 68-49 pounding at Aquinas College.

"We looked good in the second half," said Bill Potter, Madonna's coach. "We went to a half-court press and that seemed to bother them a little bit. And we just executed better and started making our shots."

The Crusaders outscored Aquinas 30-26 over the last 20 minutes, but it was too little and too late. The Saints — unbeaten in NAIA District 23 play — had romped in the first half and led 42-19 at the break.

Madonna sports

"We just missed our shots," said Potter of his team's dismal first half. "We couldn't get into our rhythm. We tried to go inside and that didn't work. We tried to go outside and that didn't work."

Jill Burt's 14 points and five rebounds topped Madonna. Lori Creten added 12 points and Kim Kibbey had nine. Aquinas got 19 points from Ann Hayward, 15 from Sue Butchett and 11 from Heather Woodcox.

What bothered Potter was his team's lack of rebounding, something the Crusaders have done well this season. The Saints had a commanding 40-19 advantage on the boards.

CC derailed

U-D Jesuit stops 1st place Shamrocks

Score two upsets Tuesday night for the University of Detroit: One for the college and one for the high school.

At the college level, the University of Detroit-Mercy nipped Notre Dame, 72-70, while on the high school scene, the University of Detroit-Jesuit rallied to defeat visiting Redford Catholic Central, 64-53. The loss snapped an eight-game CC winning streak and was the first suffered by the Shamrocks in the Catholic League's Central Division.

CC is 10-2 overall and a game ahead of second place U-D at 6-1 in the Central Division. U-D, which lost the earlier meeting between the two teams, improved to 9-4 overall and 5-2 in the Central.

It really was a strange game as CC jumped out to a 19-9 lead after one quarter before being outscored, 26-10, in the second eight minutes to trail 35-29 at halftime. Seniors Bob Kummer (26 points) and Chad Varga (19 points) combined for 45 of the 53 Shamrock points.

"They (Kummer and Varga) didn't get any support and we didn't do a very good job handling their pressure," CC assistant coach Greg Williamson said. "U-D got quite a few steals and got some easy baskets."

Rashed Roland scored 23 points to lead three U-D players in double figures. Herman Jenkins had 15 points and Daryn Kaigler contributed 11 for the Cubs.

FRANKLIN 58, FARMINGTON 39: Livonia Franklin used a 17-6 first-quarter advantage to help win a WLAA crossover game rather convincingly, Tuesday at home.

Franklin improved to 7-4 overall and 3-3 in the WLAA Farmington slumped to 3-8 and 1-5.

The Patriots held a commanding 29-11 halftime lead and never looked back.

"We shot better tonight and made good decisions," Franklin coach Rod Hanna said. "We pressured them and it hurt them. We moved the ball, hit the open man and got good shots."

basketball

Senior guard Keith Roberts scored a game-high 14 points for Franklin and senior forward Russ Koberly contributed 14 points.

Farmington's senior forward Steve Gallagher scored 13.

HARRISON 69, JOHN GLENN 45: Farmington Hills Harrison dominated the second half, extending its six-point halftime lead Tuesday in winning the WLAA crossover game at home.

The win moved Harrison to 10-2 overall and 5-1 in the WLAA. Glenn fell to 6-5 overall and 4-3 in the league.

Seniors Mike Pesci and Dan Hight led the Hawks with 14 points apiece. Pesci scored six of his points in the fourth quarter when Harrison outscored Glenn, 19-10, and Hight had six in the third when the Hawks enjoyed a 22-13 point advantage.

Senior Andy Fitzpatrick also scored six points in the third quarter and finished with 10 points and 10 rebounds, while Duante Anderson contributed eight points and nine rebounds.

Glenn received a team-high 11 points from John Miller and eight from Kevin Tomaszewski.

W.L. CENTRAL 65, CHURCHILL 50: For three quarters Tuesday, host Livonia Churchill stayed close enough to perhaps upset an up-and-coming Walled Lake Central team.

But the Vikings' depth ultimately prevailed.

Central, which led 48-42 after three quarters, outscored Churchill, 17-8, in the final eight minutes to win the WLAA crossover game.

The win improved Central to 9-2 overall and 5-1 in the conference. Churchill fell to 2-9 overall and 1-5 in the conference.

"We succumbed to Central's pressure," Churchill coach Tom Lang said. "We stayed with them for three quarters but because of foul trouble I had to make substitutions and our subs couldn't handle their pressure the way our starters did."

Central's Eric Leaf led all scorers with 21 points and teammate Ron Thompson added 16 points. The Vikings' Steve Rabaut added 10 points, including three shots from three-point range.

Brian Johnson scored 17 points for Churchill, while teammate Mark Rutherford added 7 season-high 13 points. Marcus Sarnovsky contributed 10 for the Chargers.

LUTHERAN N'WEST 70, LUTH. WESTLAND 55: Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest led 48-46 after three quarters Tuesday and outscored visiting Lutheran Westland, 22-9, in the decisive fourth quarter to win the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference game.

Junior center Brad Ohlrich scored half of his 22 points in the fourth quarter for Northwest, which improved to 7-4 overall and 1-3 in the MIAC National Division. Lutheran Westland fell to 3-9 overall and 0-4 in the division.

Junior forward Rich Mobley scored all of his 13 points before halftime for Lutheran Westland.

Junior guard Matt Russian added nine points for Lutheran Westland and senior teammate Matt Grams collected seven points, seven assists and six rebounds.

LUTHERAN EAST 100, CLARENCEVILLE 50: Harper Woods Lutheran East managed to double Livonia Clarenceville's output Tuesday in an impressive Metro Conference win on the road.

Lutheran East is 11-0 overall and 8-0 in the Metro Conference. Clarenceville falls to 6-5 overall and 2-4 in the Metro.

Clarenceville was led by John Kalaj's 19 points. James Barnhard scored 10 for the Trojans and Dan Nunery added nine. Mark Kalaj led all Trojan rebounders with seven.

Senior guard Mike Johnson paced Lutheran East with 25 points, despite not playing the fourth quarter.

Teammates George Powell and Berto Cejas scored 14 and 12, respectively, for Lutheran East which had 11 of 13 players in the scoring column.

Spartans smacked in lackluster effort

By Brad Emons
staff writer

The Plymouth Canton boys basketball team continues to push all the right buttons.

On Tuesday, the Chiefs earned their sixth-straight victory with an easier-than-expected 59-44 Western Lakes Activities Association win over visiting Livonia Stevenson.

"Our kids are really playing together as a team, we have great chemistry right now," said Dave Van Wagoner, whose team is 8-3 overall and 6-0 in the WLA. "I don't have all the answers, but I know if you play good defense, rebound and play unselfishly, you're going to win basketball games."

Once again, 6-foot-5 senior forward Hal Heard paced the Canton offensive attack with a game-high 16 points, 14 coming in the opening half as Canton jumped out to a 28-22 advantage.

Tony Coshatt, a 6-8 senior, then picked up the slack in the second half, scoring 11 of his 13 points to go along with 12 rebounds.

But the team's unsung player on the night was 6-6 senior point-guard Mike Brennan, who triggered the Chiefs' defense, while setting up the offensive attack.

Brennan has emerged as the team's leader, to the delight of Van Wagoner.

"MIKE BRENNAN is the single-most reason we've turned the corner," Van Wagoner said. "He played good defense and took care of the basketball. He's doing a good job of breaking pressure. We're getting great leadership from all our seniors."

The Chiefs started slowly, turning the ball over on their first five possessions. They found themselves down 8-0 at the outset.

"Our guys didn't come fired up and ready to play," Van Wagoner said. "With two minutes to go (in the quarter), we decided we wanted to beat this team, and it's a good team. We had to start playing with intensity."

Stevenson led 14-11 after one period thanks to four 3-pointers, including a pair by 6-4 senior Tony Coshatt (13 points).

But it was all downhill for the Spartans from that point.

Canton's Mike Stafford made a 3-pointer to tie it at 14-all with 6:28 in the half and Coshatt's subsequent free throw put Canton ahead for good.

"We started to go about our plan, but then we did our best to go completely away from it," said Stevenson coach Jim McIntyre, whose team slipped to 6-5 overall and 2-4 in the WLA. "We were very disappointed, yes, on Friday (a double-overtime loss to Farmington), but this one we didn't give ourselves a chance of winning."

THE SPARTANS simply couldn't shoot straight against Canton's combination of zone and man-to-man defenses.

Stevenson made only 27 percent of its shots from the floor (16-for-59). Canton recorded 13 blocks, including six by Coshatt. The Chiefs were also responsible to altering several other Stevenson attempts.

Stevenson's top scorer, 5-11 senior point-guard Matt Grodzicki (11 points), shot an uncharacteristic 4-of-17 and found himself mismatched against the long-armed Brennan.

"The kid we wanted to stop was Grodzicki because he's the glue to that team," Van Wagoner said, "and I thought Brennan did a heck of a job."

"Our game plan was good solid defense with a hand up on every shooter, and make sure you block out your man."

Those simple rules were followed to the letter as Stevenson's four other starters shot a combined 9-for-32.

"We felt we could pose some problems inside and get the big kid (Coshatt) in foul trouble," McIntyre said. "The first quarter we did what we planned, but the trouble with our three inside kids is that we didn't go at them. We folded at both ends when our outside game didn't get it done."

CANTON PUT the game away with a 16-7 run in the third quarter as Brian Paupore scored seven of his nine points.

The Chiefs opened up a 20-point cushion midway through the fourth before coasting home.

"The strength of this team is its post-up play, and that we're unselfish," added Van Wagoner, who hopes the current trend continues.

Ypsi's Williams blocks state-ranked Zebras

By Ray Sellock
staff writer

It's lonely at the top — just ask Wayne Memorial boys basketball coach Chuck Henry.

Wayne took a 12-1 record and state-ranking into Ypsilanti Tuesday, hoping to steal one from the Braves, who were losers of three straight.

But when the final horn sounded, Ypsilanti recorded a 55-52 non-league win.

"It's funny how teams just come right at you," Henry said. "Ypsilanti probably said to themselves 'We have as much talent or more than Wayne, but yet they are ranked and we're not. We have them in our gym, so let's beat them,' and they did."

The Zebras struggled with Ypsilanti's full-court pressure throughout the game, turning the ball over numerous times in transition.

"We did a poor job of attacking their pressure," Henry said. "I thought that was a key to the game."

Wayne also had difficulty stopping highly touted center Shannon Williams, who scored 23 points, grabbed 17 rebounds, blocked four shots and had three dunks.

"NOTHING HE did surprised us," Henry said. "We really didn't try to do anything different defensively on him. Our defensive scheme is good at fronting big people, so we just did what we normally do defensively. He's a heck of a player."

Wayne held Williams to just four points in the opening half, but Ypsilanti did an effective job of getting him the ball late in the game.

"We were getting him the ball in the first half, but not in very good position," Ypsilanti coach Bob Rowley said. "I told them to get Shannon the ball closer to the basket in the second half and they did."

Williams tallied 11 points in the final quarter, including a reverse dunk to finish the game.

The teams battled to an 11-all tie after the first quarter.

Ypsilanti took a 19-15 lead midway through the second period, but a layup by Rick Barnes and a three-pointer by Andre Graves put Wayne ahead 21-19. The Zebras led 27-23 at halftime.

Wayne increased its lead to 31-26 early in the second half, but Ypsilanti finished the third quarter with a 13-5 run and led 39-36 after three quarters.

THE ZEBRAS got the lead back with 5:16 left in the game. A layup by Lee Williams and dunk by Romarco Fletcher put Wayne up 45-42.

Ypsilanti then went on a tear, outsourcing the Zebras 13-7 in the final four minutes. In that time the Braves also managed three dunks, two by Williams and one by senior forward Johnny Epps.

Epps contributed 14 points and seven rebounds for Ypsilanti.

Lee Williams paced Wayne with 12 points. Fletcher and Barnes chipped in with 11 each.

"Wayne is a good team," Rowley said. "But when you've lost three in a row like we have, it doesn't matter how good the team you beat is, just as long as you win. But obviously it was nice to defeat a good team like Wayne."

Cashing in big can be taxing

THERE ARE BOWLING tournaments going on throughout the year. These are for the amateur league bowlers and in many instances, there is a considerable amount of money to be won. It is quite possible that an amateur could win more money than many of the pro bowlers.

10-pin alley
Al Harrison

Tournament entry blanks usually can be found posted at bowling centers. There is a blank space on the form for the entrant's Social Security number, and that deals with our subject for today.

If you are fortunate enough to cash in a tournament, don't just rush out and buy that new car just yet. Remember that the Internal Revenue Service will issue a form 1099 to anyone who wins $600 or more in any organized tournament.

What can you do to ease the pain from your gain? Actually quite a lot, according to Daryl Rollins, an accountant and an excellent bowler. You may deduct tournament expenses, but be sure to document everything. Get a notebook and keep records of all expenses.

TAKE DOWN the mileage for travel to and from the event. You can deduct 27 1/2 cents per mile. Record your entry fees and even the ABC/WIBC sanction fees. Your equipment and supplies are deductible (balls, bags, shoes, wrist devices, etc.) and keep receipts from the pro shop when you have work done.

If your tournament takes you out of town, work done such as re-drilling a ball. If your tournament takes you out of town, use your Hotel/motel receipts, airline tickets, car rentals parking fees and even your meals while away from home up to $25 a day. If you combine a bowling tournament with a vacation trip you can deduct only that portion of the number of days actually involved in the event. If you travel with a companion, only the bowlers expenses can be deducted.

Other deductible items would include: phone calls, postage, subscription to a bowling magazine, coaching fees, bowling video tapes and even the fees paid to a tax adviser. Of course, before you can actually use any deductions you have to win the money.

LET'S EXAMINE a typical scenario: "Pinbuster Pete" earns $32,000 per year in his job. He gets lucky and wins $25,000 in a tournament. He now has an income for the year of $57,000, which puts him in a 28 percent bracket.

I would hope he is aware of the possible deductions from his tournament expenses so his tax burden would be lighter. And let's not forget Gov. Engler, who wants 4.6 percent of the winnings and he didn't even throw a ball!

What about those jackpots and mystery-games in your league? Sometimes there is a nice lump of money involved. These are generally not reported, nor is a 1099 form issued.

In all situations, if you do receive a 1099, you are responsible for taxes. The IRS will eventually match up all 1099's and go after you if it has not been reported as income.

If "Pinbuster Pete" or anyone else has any questions about taxes from bowling prizes, feel free to call Daryl Rollins of Kelman, Rosenbaum, Rollins and Quayhack of Farmington Hills, phone 855-6640.

• Oak Lanes will have a Valentine Day No-Tap Singles Tournament at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 11.

3-sport standout Sarno to Virginia

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Teresa Sarno
Virginia bound

Excuse Teresa Sarno for having a Cavalier attitude the next four years.

The talented three-sport athlete from Livonia Stevenson signed a national letter-of-intent Wednesday in volleyball with the University of Virginia - nicknamed the Cavaliers.

"It's a great school academically and I think I fit well with the girls already there," said the 5-foot-10 Sarno, an All-Oberverster first-team pick in track, basketball and volleyball. "The coach (Karen Uhler) is great and they have a young team. I'm glad to be associated with a program that's on its way up."

Sarno is projected to be a middle hitter for the Cavaliers, who finished second last fall in the Atlantic Coast Conference. She impressed Virginia coaches with her strong performance Jan. 25 in the Stevenson Invitational.

A number of schools showed interest in the Stevenson honor student.

She turned down offers from Virginia Commonwealth, Indiana, Indiana State, Southern Illinois, Ohio University, Tulsa, Charleston Southern (S.C.) and Winthrop (S.C.).

VIRGINIA is considered one of the top academic institutions in the east.

"Virginia has a very good reputation, obviously they played a big part in my decision," said Sarno, who plans to pursue the fields of chemistry and secondary education.

Volleyball is Sarno's first choice even though she also excels in basketball and track.

As a member of the 14-7 Spartan basketball team last fall, Sarno averaged 16.2 points per game. She scored 834 career points (in 69 games).

In track, Sarno led the area in the shot put with a personal best toss of 37 feet, 4 1/2 inches. She finished fourth overall in the state Class A meet. The Stevenson standout also ranked second in Observerland in the discus (behind teammate Debbie Wroblewski) with a throw of 121-1.

Stevenson sets 4 Canton pool records

Livonia Stevenson set four pool records while dominating host Plymouth Canton 121-65 in dual-meet swimming Tuesday.

The Spartans won nine events and set records in the 200-yard medley relay, individual medley, backstroke and 400 freestyle relay.

Aaron Rieder, Alex Goecke, Gordie Gatewood and Bryan Morrison won the medley relay in 1:41.43. The freestyle relay team consisted of Morrison, Gatewood, Rieder and Goecke and finished the race in 3:18.92.

Gatewood won the IM with a record swim of 2:01.72, and Rieder was first in the backstroke at 55.89.

"They're awesome," Canton coach Hooker Wellman said of the Spartans. "(Stevenson coach Doug Buckler) has great depth. He's going to run away with the conference meet. He's got the big guns - Morrison, Goecke, Gatewood, Rieder, (Ryan) Freeborn. He's just tougher than nails all over."

Morrison and Rieder were double individual winners. Morrison won the 200 freestyle (1:51.41) and butterfly (56.58), and Rieder's first victory occurred in the 100 freestyle (51.35).

Gatewood also won the 500 freestyle (4:58.14), and the team of Freeborn, Jeff Buckler, Greg Priede and Mike Gravina combined to win the 200 freestyle (1:36.45). Canton won three events. Jeff Clark went 23.20 in the 50 freestyle, Nick Atwell scored 249.05 points in diving and Craig Steshetz swam the breaststroke in 1:07.18.

The Chiefs are 2-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 4-2 overall.

REDFORD CC 63, U-D JESUIT 22: Redford Catholic Central produced a pair of state qualifying times while routing the University of Detroit-Jesuit Tuesday in a Catholic League Central Division meet.

The Shamrocks are 6-1 overall and 3-0 in the Central Division.

Randy Teeters and James Leslie had state cuts in the 200 freestyle. Teeters won the race in 1:48.47 and Leslie came in second place at 1:48.64.

Teeters also won the 100 butterfly (55.77) and swam the front leg of the winning 200 freestyle relay (1:32.53). Teeters had a 22.92 50-yard time and was followed on the relay by Devon Fekete, Paul Magoulik and John Brogan.

Other winners for CC included: Steve Reinke, 200 IM (2:04.65); Brogan, 50 freestyle (22.93); Fekete, 100 freestyle (51.34); Kevin Markell, 500 freestyle (5:15.52); and Leslie, 100 backstroke (54.84).

Reinke, Chris Teeters, Chris Meck and Magoulik won the 200 medley relay (1:49.02) and Markell, Brogan, Fekete and Randy Teeters won the 400 freestyle relay (3:42.79).

Martin paces Spartan Aquatic in Indy

Matt Martin of the Livonia Spartan Aquatic Club was the Boys Open top point-getter in an age-group swim meet held recently in Indianapolis, the site of the 1992 Olympic Trials.

Martin took first in the 200-, 500- and 1,650-meter freestyles, 100- and 200 backstrokes and 200 individual medley. He also added a second in the 100 butterfly and 400 IM, as well as a fourth in the 200 butterfly.

Teammate Julie Kern took second overall in the Girls 10 and under division, placing first in the 200 IM and 100 freestyle; second, 100 butterfly and 200 freestyle; third, 100

CC clips Pioneer

Five goals from five different sources - and Redford Catholic Central's hockey team needed them all Saturday to beat Ann Arbor Pioneer.

The final score was 5-4, in favor of the Shamrocks. In the Michigan Metro West Division game played at Redford Ice Arena.

"They were a much better team, much improved," said CC coach Jack Gumbleton of Pioneer. "The last time (we played them), we really outplayed them. This time it was pretty even."

Indeed, the shots on goal favored Pioneer - 23-16. But Shamrock goalie Mike Brasseur was able to turn most of them away.

CC led 2-1 after one period, getting goals from Mike Seiler and Mike Giordano. Joe Blaznek and

hockey

Pat Casey each put the puck in the net in the second period, increasing the Shamrock lead to 4-2.

The Pioneers scored first in the third period, trimming CC's lead to 4-3, but the Shamrocks' Jeff Wollschlager got the eventual game-winner with 8:56 left. Matt Gorski and Tom Denton assisted on Wollschlager's goal.

Mike Kasper added three assists for CC, which improved to 9-3-1 overall and 6-3 in the division. Pioneer fell to 2-9 in the division.

Trojans vault over foe

Livonia Clarenceville won its sixth dual meet against two losses in girls gymnastics Monday, defeating Farmington 117.3 to 114.4 at home.

Joey DeWater and Sherri Hochstadt of Clarenceville took first place on the vault and uneven bars, respectively. DeWater scored 8.35 and Hochstadt 7.85.

The Clarenceville duo also got third and fourth place in the all-around scoring. Hochstadt had a $0.6 total and DeWater $0.55.

Farmington had the top all-arounders, with Nicole Gerwatowski scoring 31.0 and Suzy Takla 30.8.

DeWater also was second on bars (7.75), tied for fifth on the balance beam (6.75) with teammate Tamara Teets and was fourth on floor exercise (7.7). Hochstadt tied with Farmington's

gymnastics

Nicole and Maureen Gerwatowski for third on vault (8.1), and she was fourth on beam (6.85) and third on floor (7.8).

Nicole Gerwatowski was tied for third place on bars (7.45) with Teels, second on beam (7.6) and second on floor (7.85). Takla scored 7.7 and 8.0 to win the beam and floor competitions, respectively, and was second on vault (8.2).

Clarenceville's Jennifer Lay was third on beam (7.25), and Farmington's Maureen Gerwatowski was fifth on bars (7.35) and floor (6.9).

● PAYNE IN ACTION

Livonia heavyweight Craig Payne will put his 5-0-1 professional record on the line Saturday in a six-rounder against Tennessee native Mike Williams (4-1 with four KOs) as part of a six-bout card at the Lansing Civic Center.

"This guy (Williams) is a well-built, muscular fighter who is going to be a test for me," said Payne, who also has an eye on a possible March 21 bout for the Michigan State Heavyweight crown. "Williams is a different caliber fighter and I've got to be ready. I've been doing a lot of road work."

Payne has also been sparring heavily at the Livonia Boxing Club against the likes of Kelvin Jones, Kady King, Darryl Loving, Don Ryan and Darwin Jewels.

● LIVONIA SKIER 1ST

For the second time, Livonian Cheryl Chipman has captured the Mountain Man Winter Triathlon in Vail, Colo.

The win occurred Saturday when Chipman, who won the '87 title, covered the 11-mile cross country ski, 5.1 snow-shoe and 12.4 speed skating course in five hours, four minutes.

● CARDS-N-CARDS

Madonna University will stage a card show (9 a.m. to 3 p.m.) and Vegas night (6:30 p.m.-1 a.m.) Saturday, Feb. 22. The school is at Levan Road and I-96 in Livonia.

Admission is free to the card show. A spending spree raffle will be held at 10 a.m., noon and 2 p.m. along with hourly door prizes.

Vegas night admission is $2 (includes cash prizes, black-jack, beat-the-dealer, 50/50 raffles, roulette money-wheel, $500 limit and cash bar).

● MICHIGAN SPORTS SHOW

A preview of the 1992 sporting goods lines will be on display from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 22-23 at the Embassy Suites, 19525 Victor Parkway, Livonia (I-75 and Seven Mile Road).

Items scheduled to be on display include sporting goods equipment, clothing and shoe lines, licensed products, computerized embroidery equipment, and heat machines.

For more information, call 462-6000.

● AMBASSADORS MODEL

Members of the Detroit Computer Ambassadors, Detroit's entry in the Ontario Hockey (Junior A) League, will appear in a men's apparel fashion show from 1-3 p.m. at the stage near Crowley's at the Livonia Mall, located at Middlebelt and Seven Mile roads.

The show is being presented by the John Casablanca School of Modeling and the Career Center.

For more information, call Bill Checks, Livonia Mall marketing director, at 476-1166.

Valentine treat

Barbershop chorus sings old-fashioned love songs

The Detroit-Oakland Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America performs 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 14-15, at Schmidt Auditorium in Clarenceville High School, 20155 Middlebelt, south of 8 Mile in Livonia. Tickets $10, all seats reserved, call 562-1989.

"All of the songs will be sweetheart songs. We've got songs for sweethearts of all ages.

— Bob Rock

If the song "Sweet Adelines" comes to mind when you're uttering sweet nothings in your sweetheart's ear, treat her to "A Musical Valentine," presented by the Birmingham-based Detroit-Oakland Chapter of the Barbershop Harmony Society.

Even if you've never heard of "Sweet Adelines" you're sure to enjoy the Gentlemen Songsters Chorus and the fun loving, energetic singing style of "Gas House Gang" one of three champion quartets that will be performing.

"All of the songs will be sweetheart songs," said Bob Rock, ticket chairman. "We've got songs for sweethearts of all ages."

"The Gas House Gang" ranked among the top three barbershop quartets in the world at the International Competition in Louisville, Ky. in 1981.

Other featured quartets include "Swing Street," and "Stay Tuned". The distinctive sound of "Swing Street" has captivated their audiences from the onset. This exciting quartet brings barbershop harmony to life in traditional favorites from the rich heritage of American popular song.

With a style reminiscent of the Andrews Sisters, and the Boswells, this outstanding foursome puts barbershop "in the swing" every time they take the stage.

In competition in San Antonio, Texas in October 1991, "Swing Street" captured the International Quartet Championship and are the reigning "Queens of Harmony" of Sweet Adelines International.

"Stay Tuned" four veteran quartet performers who got together in February 1991 to determine how well their individual voices might blend singing in the barbershop style, went on to win the District Championship in October 1991. They will represent the Pioneer District of Michigan at the International Competition in New Orleans in July 1992.

The Detroit-Oakland Chapter rehearses 7:30 p.m. Mondays, in Birmingham. For membership information call, Robert Sillman, 569-7517.

The Wayne County Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America is practicing new music for their upcoming annual show "Tin Pan Alley Goes to War," Friday and Saturday, March 6-7, at Mercy High School Auditorium, 29300 11 Mile Road, Farmington Hills.

Matthew Coombs, director of the Cascades Chorus of Eugene, Ore., has been called by the Wayne County Chapter of the Barbershop Harmony Society to direct its award-winning Renaissance Chorus, said Ken Casey, president of the Livonia chapter.

Coombs, 35, directed the chorus several years ago, until he left to join Disney's MGM Studio complex in Orlando, Fla. He worked in special effects, and was assistant director of the Orlando barbershop chorus.

He left to take over directorship of the Eugene chorus for two years.

When Coombs previously directed the Renaissance Chorus, the group numbered up to 60 men and regularly ranked at or near the top of competition in the Pioneer District of Michigan and southwestern Ontario.

Casey and Coombs invite all men who like to sing "the old songs" to practice with the chorus 7:30 p.m.

Tuesdays, at Newburgh United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, east of Newburgh Road in Livonia.

No previous 'barbershop' or chorus experience is needed. "Just be able to carry a tune," said Casey.

For more information, or tickets for the March 6-7 shows, call Ed Wojtan, 425-2727.

'Company' very entertaining

Performances of the St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook production of "Company" continue through Feb. 15 at the playhouse, 400 Lone Pine Road between Lahser and Cranbrook Roads in Bloomfield Hills. For ticket information, call 644-0527.

Who needs marriage, anyhow? Everybody does according to the Stephen Sondheim musical "Company," which takes a highly critical look at marriage, but concludes in favor of it. The current production by St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook features strong vocal talent in a lively, very entertaining show.

"Company" consists of a series of vignettes and musical numbers that view marriage through the eyes of Bobby (Gary Jones), a perennial bachelor in his mid-30s, and the five couples who adore his company, fuss over him endlessly, and try to get him married.

AS EXPRESSED by the chorus of husbands singing "Sorry-Grateful," Bobby's friends send him mixed signals about wedlock. Beneath their joyous poses each couple hides frustrations and disappointments. Yet the play makes it clear that even though marriage has plenty of shortcomings, it is still preferable to any alternative.

"We all need somebody, not some body," says Amy (Duffy Wineman), one of Bobby's friends who is herself reluctant to commit to marriage.

Bobby fears it might be too late for him; all the good women seem to be already taken. Of his current girlfriends, neither kinky Marta (Kimberly Brown), nor dizzy-blond April (Julie Miller) seems quite right.

Jones plays Bobby in an unusually laidback manner, but he has a winning smile and powerful voice that delivers fine renditions of the solos "Someone is Waiting" and "Being Alive" as well as contributing to many ensemble numbers.

Wineman is wonderful as Amy, the bride-to-be who gets cold feet at the last minute. She delivers the difficult patter song "Getting Married Today" at frantic speed and with good comedic flair.

Some good performances in 'Night of the Iguana'

Performances of the Birmingham Village Players production of "Night of the Iguana" continue through Feb. 8 at the playhouse, 752 Chestnut, Birmingham. For ticket information, call the box office at 644-2075 anytime.

Like the captured iguana scuffling at the end of its tether, the main characters in "The Night of the Iguana" are lost souls dangling at the end of their ropes.

The Birmingham Village Players' current production of the Tennessee Williams drama features some good performances but is generally uneven.

"IGUANA" IS a difficult play, somewhat murky and convoluted in its message, and certainly not Williams at his best.

Set in a seedy hotel in a small Mexican tourist town in 1940, the protagonist, the Rev. T. Lawrence Shannon (Tim McGee) is locked in battle with his private demons while the audience is periodically reminded of the larger war raging worldwide.

Locked out of his church years ago for preaching heresy, Shannon now escorts tour groups in Mexico. As the play opens he is sick with fever, at bitter odds with his current tour group, and seemingly on the edge of a recurring nervous breakdown.

On opening night, Jan. 31, McGee began flat and unconvincingly except during occasional outbursts of anger. By the second act he warmed to the role and improved tremendously, his impassioned torment became more believable.

At the hotel, two women begin a tug-of-war over Shannon's soul. The hotel owner, Maxine Faluk (Ann Weisman), is an impoverished widow who has capitulated to the simple pleasures of sex and alcohol. She wants Shannon to accept his failings and join her in a life of hedonism.

A PENNILESS traveler stranded at the hotel, Hannah Jelkes (Leisa Marie Pulico), sees Shannon as a kindred spirit and wants him to keep fighting to survive as she must do for herself.

Weisman is appropriately full of bonhomie and has a boozey, laidback delivery, though her Texas accent never quite sounds right. Pulico is excellent as Hannah, a complex character who displays both a soft empathy and the world-weary toughness of someone who must perpetually scramble to survive.

Hannah travels the world with her very elderly grandfather Nonno (Howard Beer), a one-time minor poet. To earn their keep, the old man recites poetry to hotel guests while Hannah tries to sell them sketches and watercolors.

JOAN REDDY is very credible as Miss Fellowes, the no-nonsense spinster who leads the tour group's insurrection against Shannon after he has seduced a young girl in her charge.

Among the supporting cast, Boris Sellers is good as Jake Latta, the tour guide sent to replace Shannon though he's a little seedy around the edges himself.

Having the quartet of German tourists repeatedly goose-stepping across the stage seems ludicrous and detracts from the impact of their lines as they delight in the progress of the war.

While director William McCall gets uneven results from his cast, the production is very good visually and technically.

Sid Britton's set design is lushly tropical. The thunder and lightning effects are exceptionally realistic, and the impressive wall of water for the tropical storm at the end of Act One merits the round of applause it receives. Even a real live iguana is used.

Barbara Michals is a retired Southfield English teacher. A theater critic for the last 17 years, she is an inveterate playgoer who regularly catches up on all the New York productions.

Brown is outstanding when Marta sings "Another Hundred People," a plaintive reminder of the loneliness of modern urban life, while perky Miller is winsome and wide-eyed adorable when April sings "You Could Drive a Person Crazy" and "Barcelona" in a high-pitched voice.

AS THE ultra-cynical Joanne, now bored with her third marriage, Fran Hayes captures the bitchiness in "The Little Things You Do Together" but does not quite do as well with "The Ladies Who Lunch."

Jim Andres as David and Laurie Miller as Jenny are very funny in the "pot" scene, and Jeri Leigh Spina is convincing as sweet, Southern-accented Susan. The remainder of the cast are competent, but do not give as much dimension to their characters.

Under director Isabel Himelhoch and musical director Barbara Anne Gowans, the ensemble singing always sounds fine and everything is well-paced. Himelhoch also designed the simple but effective set.

St. Dunstan's has chosen to set this 1970 musical in the present, which only serves to make bits and pieces of the show seem more dated than if left in their original year.

Nevertheless, "Company" is a well-executed, thought-provoking show that focuses on external truth: Marriage is a rocky road, but worth the trip.

Barbara Michals is a retired Southfield English teacher. A theater critic for the last 17 years, she is an inveterate playgoer who regularly catches up on all the New York productions.

New law has business wondering

By Doug Funke
staff writer

The Americans with Disabilities Act, signed into law more than a year and a half ago, may be one of the most far-reaching pieces of federal legislation no one has heard about.

Or understand when they do. The law requires that public places must be made accessible to people with physical impairments if modifications are readily achievable.

Employers must make reasonable changes in the workplace to allow an impaired person to do the job unless the changes result in significant expense or financial hardship.

The public accommodations section took effect last month, public employment provisions in July.

The law — considered civil rights legislation for some 43 million Americans with physical or mental disabilities — applies to restaurants, stores, offices, museums and libraries. It ultimately will apply to employers of at least 15 people.

The big rub for many people is they don't know what the law really requires. The requirements seem vague — just what is reasonable — and the measure depends on individual complaints for enforcement.

"WHAT WE'RE receiving at this point is mostly questions," said Rich Studley, vice president of governmental relations for the Michigan

Chamber of Commerce. "In some ways, one of the biggest challenges we face now is there is a lot of confusion."

"In many ways, it's too early to tell how costly this will be," Studley added. "The biggest concern for business is the potential for litigation that's costly and time consuming."

Richard Meier, a Troy attorney who specializes in employment law, advises business owners and employers not to worry about incurring crippling financial costs or complying immediately.

"The act is not designed to necessarily penalize business," Meier said. "What it's designed to do is sort of change the philosophy of individual businesses in the accommodations area."

"Essentially, the act is triggered not so much where someone has an affirmative duty. It's triggered when someone makes a complaint."

"(The) implementation date is not a deadline for retrofitting existing structures," Meier said. "However, if a facility is currently undergoing modifications . . . or if the owners or employers plan to make such changes, architectural barriers must be moved at the same time."

MARCY COLTON, director of Community Services for the Hearing Impaired, Oakland Family Services, maintains that it wouldn't take much money to comply in many cases.

"I don't expect if you pull in $30,000 a year in business to make $50,000 in improvements," she said.

But Colton wouldn't find it unreasonable to require hotels to install special TDD telephones for the hearing impaired in a couple of rooms at $350-$400 per phone.

She doesn't believe it would be unreasonable to require doctors, lawyers or accountants to bring sign interpreters into their offices for the rare occasions they're needed.

"We have a number of people who don't speak or write English well, whose native language is American sign language," Colton said.

Earl Benson, enforcement manager for the Detroit District of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, said simple things like changing a work station may serve to comply.

"For someone in a wheelchair, you may raise a desk up by putting it on a platform," Benson said.

"THERE WAS the situation where a company revamped a keyboard on a computer so someone with poor muscle control could operate it," he said. "It cost $150, and it (keyboard) comes off so any other employees can use the regular keyboard."

Some retail complaints may be resolved simply by changing aisle configurations, Meier advised.

"They (owners) have got to change their sensitivities," he said. When they think about putting a new door up, they should start thinking and ask an architect, 'Is this good for the handicapped?' You want to sit down and move — that's the key — move all barriers.

"If this (ADA) is typical of other acts, people who have taken a hard line will get bit hard," Meier said.

Others agreed.

"If I'm advocating on behalf of a deaf person and they (business owners/employers) say, 'Let's work on it,' to me that's a good start," Colton said.

"We want to focus on an educational, informational and cooperative effort to do what's right," Studley said. "I think there's a lot of confusion out there."

"WE'RE HOPING most of this will be voluntary to a large extent," Benson said.

People born with physical impairments aren't the most likely beneficiaries of the measure, Benson said.

"In presentations we've had out there, a lot of people have been focusing on the new hire. People in advocacy groups are saying that's not where we'll find it. The majority are already actively working, and they may become disabled as a result of an injury."

Other state and federal measures have addressed discrimination in employment and public access for people with physical and mental impairments.

However, none have addressed the problem to the degree of the Americans with Disabilities Act, those familiar with the measure said.

Eastern Michigan University, through its Labor Studies Program, offers workshops on the ADA ranging from half-day to 1½-day programs. They can be tailored to each organization and are offered on-site or at EMU. For more information call 487-0005.

Attorney Richard Meier: "The act is not designed to necessarily penalize business. What it's designed to do is sort of change the philosophy of individual businesses in the accommodations area."

Corporate's bankruptcy won't impact franchisees

By Doug Funke
staff writer

The financial future of American Speedy Printing franchisees will hinge on their own resources, not on the fortunes of the corporate parent that filed for bankruptcy protection earlier this week.

That's the word from several franchisees, individual store owners who pay a fee and percentage of sales to use the American Speedy name and receive support services like advertising, educational seminars and trouble-shooting.

And even in a worst-case scenario — the corporate parent eventually goes under — franchisees say they could spin off like grown children to make it on their own.

American Speedy Printing Centers, the corporate franchiser headquartered in Bloomfield Hills, filed a Chapter 11 bankruptcy petition that enables operations to continue while attempts are made to restructure debt.

Franchisees can be found in almost every Observer & Eccentric community from Rochester to Canton.

"Each Speedy (franchise) is a separate corporation from the parent corporation itself," said Don Girodat, president of a cooperative of 70 franchisees in metro Detroit.

"IT DOESN'T mean anything to us as far as operations go," Girodat said of the bankruptcy filing. "We'll continue on a day-to-day basis as usual."

Donna Spiteri has owned an American Speedy franchise in Livonia for three years. "We have built up our customer base. We offer a good enough service we could stay in business with no problem," she said.

Bill Greenman has owned a Livonia franchise since 1984. He described business as "great."

"If you can print anything distinguishing franchisees from the problems of corporate, it would be appreciated," Greenman said. "The public has difficulty distinguishing between the two."

Stuart Glasier, a Troy franchisee, was concerned that franchisees would be unfairly tarnished by happenings at corporate.

"We have nothing to do with what corporate does, and we're perfectly solvent," he said. "I'm so busy I don't want to talk to you. Last year was my best year in seven years in the business."

GIRODAT, WHO now has franchises in St. Clair Shores and East Detroit, said he's made a profit each of the seven years he's been in business. Sales were up 18 percent last year, he said.

Corporate officials acknowledged in a brief press release that their problems shouldn't be imputed to franchisees. Sales last year increased an average of 13 percent per franchise, corporate noted.

Specific financial data wasn't disclosed, and corporate officials weren't available for comment.

Barbara Rom, a bankruptcy lawyer not directly involved with developments at American Speedy, confirmed that franchisees couldn't be drawn into bankruptcy by the corporate franchiser's filing.

"Theoretically, franchisees may become creditors depending on what the franchiser should be doing for the money it's getting back," Rom said.

Franchisees said that they may buy equipment and supplies from whatever vendor they choose.

Franchise royalties, which include payments to the corporate franchiser for operations and national advertising, as well as a co-op fee for additional local advertising, range from 5-7 percent of paid sales, Girodat said.

Girodat said he paid a franchise fee of $42,500 for his second store two years ago.

All of the 650 American Speedy Printing stores in the United States are owned and operated by franchisees.

Shriving interest rates have down side, too, investors find

By R.J. King
special writer

While the decline of interest rates over the last six months was designed to put more money in the hands of conservative consumers, the move has proven to be dire for many people who hold savings accounts.

Savings account holders are confronted with an unhappy choice: whether to accept skimpy interest of 4 percent or less on their principal, or, in the quest for a decent yield, put their money into investments that entail more risk.

Consider that a year ago the Commerce Department reported the average six-month bank certificate of deposit (CD) was paying 7.14 percent. Now it is 4.46 percent.

In interviews with area economists, bankers and brokers, many said to earn a positive return today, one that marches ahead of inflation, individuals must accept some risk — but not so much that they're up at all hours poring over daily stock returns.

"Individuals should start with themselves, and what they need and when. They need to develop a plan," said Gordon Follmer, president of Follmer, Rudzewicz & Co., one of the state's largest independent accounting firms, which has its headquarters in Southfield. "It's where we start with every single client."

"Which investment to choose all depends on your goals — what you want to accomplish — and the level of risk you want to take," he said. "If your needs are longer term, say a retirement 20 years from now, there will be other criteria to consider."

IF INDIVIDUAL investors are concerned by playing the stock market, for instance, mutual funds may be the way to go, as professional portfolio managers make the selections.

As a general rule, stocks, despite short-term volatility, provide a greater total return over longer periods, in price appreciation plus yield, than other investments.

"People have to do their investment homework, but you can see what's happening," said Jerry Jahn, branch manager of Paine Webber Inc. in Troy.

"Someone who retired 10 years ago with $100,000 invested in CDs, would have earned an annual return of $15,000. Today, the same principle would have an annual return of less than $5,000. That's why we're seeing a lot of our established clients come in to change their investments."

With the ability to invest funds anywhere in the world, Jahn said many clients were being advised to consider investing in money-market funds outside the United States.

The firm's June forecast projects three-month, money-market yields will be 5 percent in the United States, but 6.5 percent in Australia, 8.5 percent in Canada, and 15.2 percent in Mexico.

In contrast to past recessions, the interest paid on savings accounts has fallen much more rapidly than rates on auto loans, credit cards or home mortgages.

"There were a lot of real estate deals that went sour during the 1980s, and charging higher rates on credit cards and auto loans is one way the banks can get some of that money back," said Follmer. "Lower yields on savings accounts is another way."

Still most advisers are telling investors to act cautiously.

"What I'm telling my clients is to continue to invest in CDs, but on a short maturity basis, six months or less," said Louis Allen, a private banker with the Bank of Bloomfield Hills and former president of Manufacturers Bank in Detroit.

"I'm telling my clients to stay in a liquid position because we feel there will be an improvement in the economy later this year or early next, and we will see those interest rates come back up again."

Life during the 1930s: People sharing, caring

By Sue Mason
staff writer

RISING CONSUMPTION AND EASY credit fuels an economic boom that goes bust with the Stock Market crash. Fortunes made on margin vanish as stock prices plummeted. Banks, overextended on credit and unable to meet obligations, begin to fail. Unemployment soars as credit dries up. Consumption declines.

Sound familiar? It's a description of the Great Depression, but it could be mistaken for the 1990s except for one thing — a catastrophic drop in agricultural prices.

In 1932, at the deepest point of the Depression, 12 million Americans were out of work. The country's bread basket was a Dust Bowl. Families were losing their life savings and their homes. Those who had helped those who had nothing.

Times were tough. "It's the way we lived until things got better," said Leo Krozenowski of Westland. "You had to look out for yourself and for others."

He was 18 at the time. He remembers walking along the railroad tracks near his home in Detroit to collect pieces of coal and wood that had fallen from cars.

He remembers going to Kroger's to crawl through the trucks after they were unloaded, picking up scraps of vegetables that had fallen from crates. The scraps were turned into soup by his stepmother.

He remembers going to the slaughterhouses, where butchers would give away the liver, lungs and sometimes the hearts — "what they felt like giving."

"We always managed to get something without stealing," said Krozenowski, 79. "All our days were good and bad days."

For the Krozenowski family, hard times hit when his father was laid off from his job in 1929. It worsened when he died a year later. With the only income coming from Krozenowski's brother, who earned 40-50 cents a day selling newspapers, the mortgage on the family home on Junction in Detroit didn't get paid. Neither did the taxes.

To ease the strain, the Westland resident's younger sister left home to live with his older sister, and an older brother had struck out on his own after getting married. The two brothers' resourcefulness kept the remaining family fed, but it wasn't until FDR's New Deal that they were able to get a loan and stave off losing the house to back taxes.

THE SAME WAS TRUE for 77-year-old Cecilia Elbanowski of Westland. A Federal Housing Administration loan helped her family hang on to their eight-acre fruit farm outside Ann Arbor.

Her father had bought the property in 1928, taking out a mortgage with the local bank to build a home on it. In 1932, in need of money, the bank sold the mortgage to an individual who then notified her family they would "have to get out."

"That's what stands out in my mind . . . the letter saying we would have to get out of our home," she said. "If it weren't for FDR, we probably would have been put out on the street like they are doing today."

Her father was a butcher by trade and learned how to grow fruit. The family would harvest the fruit and vegetables from a one-acre garden and sell them at the farmer's market in town. A part of the farm was outside the city limits and it was there that her father built chicken coops so her mother could raise chicken and ducks.

"We ate a lot of chicken," Elbanowski recalled. "My brother hunted rabbits, so we'd have rabbits for a change."

The three youngest children helped pick the neighbors' gardens and the money they earned went to help pay the mortgage. Her older brother, unable to find a job, enlisted in the Navy for four years and an older sister cooked for university professors, so there were two fewer mouths to feed.

After graduating from high school in 1932, Elbanowski got a job at a dry cleaners, pressing clothes. They were "about the only kind of jobs open," she said.

There are lessons to learn from the Great Depression

By Sue Mason
staff writer

Experts are in agreement. What happened then can't happen now. There are, they say, too many safety nets in place to allow a second Great Depression.

It's a comforting thought considering that the current recession is the longest and the deepest since the Great Depression. That the percentage of Americans who own homes dropped during the 1980s, the first time since the Great Depression.

But statistics show current discomfort is nowhere near what it was 60 years ago, the bleakest and lowest point of that four-year period.

"I think what sticks with me the most is the sheer agony of it all and the indomitable spirit of the people," said Sidney Fine, a history professor at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. "People were robbing the dog pounds for scraps of food; they were rummaging through garbage cans. People scrounged and did the best they could."

"And a lot of it was the poor helping the poor."

In the time between the Stock Market Crash and 1932, the gross national product contracted 30 percent; income derived from wages and salaries plummeted 42 percent; and residential construction shrank by 95 percent.

More than 24 percent of the civilian labor force was unemployed and many of those people lucky enough to have jobs were working "short time." In the Detroit area, unemployment was staggering, up to 50 percent at times," said Fine.

THE TRIGGER for the free fall of the U.S. economy started with the October 1929 Stock Market Crash. There were, according to Fine, too many weaknesses in the economy and the crash exposed them.

"Productivity was up in the 1920s, but wages hardly went up at all, so people couldn't afford to buy things," Fine said. "Had wages gone up and prices come down, there wouldn't have been a depression. It was a decline in demand triggered by an imbalance in the economy."

The impression that the country went from people jumping from windows because of financial losses to selling apples on street corners is a bit off the mark. The economy steadily worsened, with the winter months of 1932-33 the hardest for the country.

The unemployed may have fared a bit better in Detroit than in other parts of the metropolitan area. While charities cared for the unemployable (those people unable to work because of mental or physical problems), the city's Department of Public Welfare doled out funds to the unemployed.

When the money dried up, then Mayor Frank Murphy lobbied the private sector and put pressure on the federal government to do something about it. It was that latter effort that led to the formation of the National Conference of Mayors, Fine said.

BUT AS glowing as that may sound, there was still plenty of misery. People scrounged and did the best they could. Many went hungry. Neighbors helped neighbors; families helped each other — if they could. And people shared.

"People would rap on our door looking for food," said Fine who was a teenager during the depression. My mother would make us take them food. We didn't have much, but my mother said that anyone who would humiliate themselves like that deserved something. It was very common."

The economic thinking at the time was that a harsh dose of deflation and balanced budget as well as a reduction in the surplus was what was needed. But Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal trashed that thinking.

That's why Fine calls the period "the most important domestic event in terms of the changes in the political, social and economic map of the country."

"What you have to remember is that they really didn't know what to do then; they had a lot smaller federal budget to stimulate the economy," Fine said. "FDR was a budget balancer at heart, but he spent money to get the economy going. He went into deficit spending, something that was unheard of then."

The spending was the New Deal, a package of welfare legislation, public works programs and agricultural aid, to jump start the economy.

The New Deal was devoted to re-inflating the economy, but it also built safeguards into it. Because of the New Deal, today we have unemployment insurance, welfare and Social Security to soften the blow.

"IT WAS the great reform movement of the country.

The attitude toward government decidedly changed to that of a government that can help solve the problems," Fine said. "The role of government became magnified because of the direct beneficial relationship between the people and the government."

"The New Deal built safeguards into the economy to prevent a downturn from becoming a route. Things that are flowing out now weren't there then to arrest the decline."

Up until the New Deal, foreclosures were commonplace, but under it, 25-30 percent of mortgages were refinanced, helping to restore people's confidence. Programs like the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) and the Works Project Administration (WPA) not only provided work, but put money in the pockets of the poor and unemployed.

The National Youth Administration helped high school and college students stay in school while providing job training.

The WPA helped rebuild the country's infrastructure, while the CCC provided 2½ million young boys with work and education. The latter made $30 a month with $22 of it going to their families, Fine said.

IT WAS revolutionary for its time and accomplished a lot more than dragging the country out of its economic nightmare. People began to feel that government cared about them and such feelings translated into votes at the polls.

"People felt their vote made a difference," Fine said. But such feelings aren't that apparent today.

America "lacks the will, the sense of social responsibility developed with the New Deal" to handle today's problems, according to Fine.

"We have to come to grips with what needs to be done, but we lack the will to do it," Fine said. "We're great at waging war, but we have kids graduating from high school that can't read and write. Our whole future hinges

graphology

Lorene Green

I have been following your column with great interest and find it fascinating. I would appreciate being one of your graphology candidates.

Today, we are examining the handwriting of a woman who has a long memory for past experiences. This includes the happy as well as the sad ones.

At the time she wrote this letter, our writer was living with considerable stress in her life. There are things here that she is not able to talk about. Irritation is here, too, and much of it is aimed at herself. She appears to be making a brave struggle against depression. There is also concern and/or apprehension with something that may be happening.

She is hyper-sensitive to criticism of her personal appearance. Having been on the receiving end of too much criticism in the formative years, she tends to suspect people of trying to hurt her in this area. Love and acceptance would be kinder and more helpful to her.

Our writer is a serious woman. She plans her work and activities and is often precise in handling them. Some of her goals require that she challenge herself. However, her approach seems to be on a higher plane of thought than she shows once involved in the pragmatic aspects of her projects.

Logic is employed to work out her ideas. Her thoughts are connected and she can see the whole of things rather than the parts.

She wants to be in control of her own balliwick. I do not believe she would appreciate anyone coming in and telling her what, or how to do things.

I can detect manual dexterity in her handwriting which should be a real asset in any type of hand work she chooses to do. She strives to be original and stand out from others.

I think our writer would find understanding and help if she consulted with a trusted adviser, religious leader, or found a support group. Help is there for the asking. Don't feel that you are alone.

BPW to pick career woman

Career women between the ages of 21-34 (as of July 31) are invited to participate in the Garden City Business and Professional Women's Organization Young Career Woman (YCW) Program Thursday, Feb. 20.

The program is BPW's way of recognizing the accomplishments of successful young career women while introducing them to the ideals and standards of the national federation.

Women ages 21-34 who have been employed in business or a profession and have at least one year of full-time work experience are eligible. Candidates may be outstanding in scholastic work, community service and/or church work and must support the goals and objectives of the national federation of BPW.

BPW is an organization open to women and men. It is the world's oldest and largest organization dedicated to elevating the standards of all working women and extending opportunities through education. BPW promotes equity and economic self-sufficiency for working women.

YCW candidates need not be a member of BPW.

Participants will complete a application outlining educational, employment and community service activities. Candidates will present a three-minute speech on their goals and accomplishments at the Feb. 20 group meeting.

A three-member panel of judges will review the applications, interview each candidate and select the woman who will represent the Garden City BPW in district competition set for April.

Young career women interested in participating in the program should contact, Susan Rosiek at 953-2149 during business hours for an application.

Applications must be returned by Monday, Feb. 10.

The 1930s: Looking out for yourself and others

JOSEPHINE TEAHEN, 84, WAS one of the luck ones. She worked throughout the Depression. But to work, Teahen had to leave her native Stratford, Ont.

Teahen came to the Detroit area in 1926 in hopes of landing an office job (she had attended business college), but spent her first two months working at a dime store.

She found office work, making $60 a month and stayed with it for 2 1/2 years before finding another job "for a little more," the Westland resident said.

She stayed with an aunt and with her wages was able to pay room and board and have some money for herself. Her boyfriend, whom she eventually married, didn't fair as well.

"My boyfriend had a hard time finding work," she said. "A year after we got married he got a job with the Detroit Creamery and that was a good steady job. I was only off one month, during a bank holiday, because I didn't have my citizenship papers. At the time you had to pay a head tax and you had to pay it to even work."

The Teahens dated for five years before marrying in 1933. Their first apartment cost $25 a month — furnished. They stayed for six months before buying furniture and moving into an unfurnished unit. They stayed there for 2 1/2 years and two children before putting $500 down on a home they bought for $5,500. They rented out the upper flat, which helped out with the mortgage payments.

WINNIE GLASER DIDN'T WORRY about the Depression. It didn't affect her life in the copper country of the Upper Peninsula.

"We didn't have anything to begin with," said Glaser, remembering how it was in her teen years. "There weren't any jobs."

Her father was a painter and a fisherman. With a lack of work, he built his own boat and headed out to catch fish. Glaser's family ate a lot of trout and white fish then "and a lot of oatmeal."

"To this day, I can't eat oatmeal," said the 76-year-old Westlander.

In her small community, no one lined up to get food, they grew their own. Everyone had a garden plot, even her family.

The youngest of three children, Glaser remembers that everything was handmade. Nothing was bought. There weren't movies, so families made their own entertainment.

The "good times" came when FDR started the Works Progress Administration and the Civilian Conservation Corps, according to Glaser. She managed to take a state civil service test after finishing high school and in 1935 landed a job with the state. She worked for the unemployment compensation program, making $80 a month. She was later asked to relocate in the Detroit area and did in 1938.

"People took it (the Depression) stoically; it was just one more thing to get through," she said.

JOE PAUS, 71, WAS LIVING in a small town in central Illinois. Like Glaser, the Depression didn't have that much effect on the family because they didn't have all that much to begin with.

His father was a coal miner and carpenter. When steady employment dried up, he did odd jobs, even worked for the WPA putting in city streets. The city's first sewers were dug by WPA.

Paus was nine years old when the Stock Market crashed and he vividly recalls his mother cooking with kerosene and the kerosene lamps that lit their home. Heat was by coal and wood. Coal, for those who could afford it, was cheap at $3 a ton "because we had mines in the area."

With no jobs available, the city became a farming community. Everyone had a garden and some people raised chickens and rabbits, others had cows. With no money, families resorted to bartering to get what they needed.

Both of the town banks closed, and in a lot of cases, mortgage holders allowed families to stay in their homes and pay only the interest on the loan, he said.

"It was no use foreclosing because there was no one to buy the houses," Paus said. "My parents kept their property by paying just the interest."

The family home is long gone; it was torn down years ago. But Paus still owns the lot. It may be for sentimental reasons, but the lessons learned there still linger.

"People were prone to help one another," he said. "People helped people because they were all in the same boat."

The Depression: Lessons learned

on the quality of public life and that's declined in my lifetime.

"There's a failure of nerve to deal with the big problems."

While a 1990s New Deal may not be the answer to the current economic woes, Fine believes the FDR version may offer some answers. With the current infrastructure "in terrible shape," a government-sponsored WPA may be what's needed, he said.

"America was built on confidence in the future, so it's kind of dangerous to see it erode," Fine said. "We have to look to something like the New Deal for some answers. The state of intelligence about economics is much greater than in the '30s, but I'm not sure if we're politically willing to apply it."

Religious life means lifetime service

Retirement needs: concern for many

By Arlene Funke
special writer

Each school day, Sister Mary Dominic patrols the hallways of Ladywood High School in Livonia. At age 92, Sister Dominic may be the oldest — and most cherished — lunchtime monitor. Few people know that her family name is Sieja. To students, she's simply Sister Mary Dominic — a soft-spoken Felician nun who has served her order for 75 years. "I am very satisfied and happy," said Sister Dominic, a former history teacher. "I have my health. I'm thankful to God for so many years, and for helping me." Monsignor William Sherzer, 71, retired in 1989 as pastor of St. Valentine Catholic Church in Redford. He now assists at St. Michael's parish in Livonia, serving at Mass, hearing confessions and handling other duties.

"YOU REALLY retire from administrative responsibility — but not from being a priest," said Sherzer. "I help out in any way I can. Most retired priests are available and do help out."

Sister Marguerite Niedzwiecki, 69, a Servants of Jesus nun, is a former teacher and registered pharmacist. Now she does clerical work in the parish office of Our Lady of Loretto Church in Redford Township.

"I'm very fulfilled," said Niedzwiecki. "The people are so kind. They give me a lot of respect."

When these three people entered religious life, there were many priests and nuns to staff churches, schools, hospitals and missions.

Times changed. Many religious gave up their vocations. Fewer men and women are entering religious life today.

Those who remain are increasingly older, their ministries have adapted to changes.

Some nuns have branched out to pastoral work in local parishes. Their duties include visiting the sick and homebound, developing religious education for both children and adults, and counseling engaged couples.

Other nuns work with the homeless or poor, organize retreats and teach workshops.

The Immaculate Heart of Mary order, a traditional teaching order based in Monroe, Mich., has 875 sisters in Michigan and Ohio. More than half are over age 70, said Sister Evelyn Booms, director of an IHM outreach project.

"MANY OF OUR sisters are still active," said Booms, 57, of Kaleidoscope: IHM Resources, which provides speakers and workshop leaders.

"We look at what needs aren't being addressed," Booms said. "Although the numbers are declining, women religious are a very hopeful group."

The Felician order has been a powerful local force since it moved to Livonia from Detroit in 1936. The Felicians specialize in health care and education.

In Livonia, the Felicians operate Madonna University, St. Mary Hospital, a hospice for terminally ill and the 500-student Ladywood High School.

The order is developing a 20-unit apartment complex for elderly priests of the Archdiocese of Detroit. It is scheduled for occupancy in August.

Each apartment has one bedroom, a kitchen and dining room. One full meal is provided daily in a communal dining room.

The $750 monthly rent includes weekly cleaning and use of a chapel and exercise room.

The Felician order, with 3,000 members worldwide, has approximately 320 professed sisters in the Livonia province. A birthday party was held recently for three 100-year-olds.

Around 85 Felicians live in the Livonia motherhouse, and 55 or so receive care in its infirmary.

THE ARCHDIOCESE of Detroit has 125 senior priests — those who no longer are in full-time pastoral work.

Figures provided by Monsignor John Gordon, director of the archdiocese's office of pastoral ministers, indicate that 84 senior priests are aged 70 to 79 years, and 33 are more than 80 years old.

Priests are urged to retire at age 70, and are required to do so by 75.

Sister Mary Dominic patrols the hallways of Ladywood High School in Livonia. The former history teacher, who is 92, continues to work at the school.

The Felicians are developing an apartment complex for elderly priests of the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Sister Mary Dominic has never stopped serving. A history teacher at Ladywood, she retired and then spent 12 years working at the motherhouse.

She returned to Ladywood, spending several years managing the school's bookstore part time. She now serves as hall monitor at the all-girl school.

"She is a big help to us," said Sister Mary Alexander Mikolajczyk, Ladywood's principal. "She is always smiling. She is a wonderful example to the girls."

Niedzwiecki, a nun for more than 50 years, used to teach school. She then worked as a registered pharmacist at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, and the Old Wayne County General Hospital in Westland.

Seventeen years ago, Niedzwiecki was hired to work in the office at Our Lady of Loretto, a 950-family parish with a grade school.

"I chose to go into parish work because I missed contact with people," Niedzwiecki said.

FINANCES AND housing continue to be important issues for older religious.

Pensions, retirement funds and Social Security benefits are possible sources of income. An annual fund-raising drive in parishes is designed to help those elderly religious with meager incomes.

Niedzwiecki, who hopes to cut back to part time, lives in a convent at St. Sabina parish in Dearborn Heights. Each month, she meets with members of her order to discuss issues, including financial planning.

Sherzer lives in the rectory at St. Michael's.

The Rev. John Castelot, 75, is a retired instructor from the St. John Seminary in Plymouth Township.

Castelot, who gives talks on the Scriptures and works part time at St. Edith Church in Livonia, prefers to live in a condominium with his favorite companion, his Yorkie dog named Tiger.

What do younger religious face? Sister Carol Juhasz, an IHM nun who took her final vows two years ago, is upbeat.

"I feel God does provide," said Juhasz, 40, pastoral associate at Our Lady of Loretto. "The reality is that the numbers are dwindling. Religious life is in transition."

"I'm very grateful to God for my vocation," she added. "I don't think religious life is ever going to die out."

Kaleidoscope: IHM Resources is an outreach project which provides speakers on topics such as spirituality, stress reduction, time management and dream interpretation. For information, write to 22851 Lezington, East Detroit, Mich. 48021, or call (313) 777-5336.

We should be builders of bridges, and not of walls

I have always been fascinated by bridges and walls. They are among the most fruitful and inspiring symbols of human speech and thought.

Walls have a definite value and purpose in human life, providing us with shelter, security, privacy. They carve for us out of unlimited space a smaller area which we can subdue to our needs. They enclose us in a manageable world which we can master.

Walls and fences define for us beyond doubt and dispute what is ours and what is our neighbor's. The poet once said: "Good fences make good neighbors." In the building of such walls for protection and privacy, there can be no objection. They are part of the necessary elements of civilized life.

But there are other walls which we erect which serve no such good purpose, but, on the contrary, are harmful to the best interests of society.

PREJUDICE, INTOLERANCE, racial and group hatred are tragic walls which people build around themselves. Our age has unfortunately witnessed the erection of many such forbidding walls — walls that divide, separate, and alienate the peoples of this earth.

Sometimes even good and respectable citizens build walls around themselves, which are effective barriers to mutual understanding and good will. They build walls of social exclusiveness and snobbery. They segregate themselves in some illusory eminence and hug to their bosoms the delusion that they are somehow better than the common run of humanity.

In the sight of God, there are no moral perspectives

Rabbi Irwin Groner

first families, no aristocrats, no distinctions of rank — only children of the earth whose brief careers may be made brighter by the cultivation of the heart and mind, who may find a measure of happiness in life by helping one another in goodness and love.

There was a time when the invisible boundaries of religions were as great walls of partition between peoples, as rigid as the physical boundaries of states. People of different religions, living in the same cities, or even in the same communities, never came together for common counsel and action.

They viewed each other with suspicion and distrust. They regarded each other as alien and, therefore, as rejected. These walls are being overcome by the bridges of mutual tolerance and respect.

THE NOBLEST and the most enduring of all the bridges ever devised is the statement in the Book of Leviticus which has entered the religions of Judaism, Christianity and Islam as a central and supreme ideal: "Love thy neighbor as thyself." During this month, we remember the greatness of Abraham Lincoln and recall his words "With malice toward none, with charity for all." He built a bridge across a river of blood and civil strife.

We must be builders of bridges. For there are walls that divide us today, especially the wall of callousness. Slums, poverty, unemployment and deprivation characterize the lives of millions who live in the blighted sections of America's urban centers.

In this time of recession, the privileged and advantaged dare not ignore the discontent and agony of the underprivileged and the dispossessed. Those who live with second-class housing and inadequate education, and lack of opportunity, become the breeding ground for bitterness, rebelliousness and resentment.

We need to build bridges of social justice and economic opportunity, working for a society that will provide employment and education and social services, bridges which will lead to a land of promise, at least of hope, for those who dwell on the rim of insecurity and want.

We have so much to do together for the common good. We have such great and sacred tasks to perform. We must stand together to become the human bridge that joins man and his brother.

Rabbi Irwin Groner is with Congregation Shaarey Zedek in Southfield.

Michigan's original soil is there, somewhere

Sometimes we take for granted the granite below our feet. In Michigan the granite gravel we see came from Canada originally. During the last glacier, which receded about 12,000 years ago, rock debris carried by the mile high wall of ice was deposited across Michigan.

Glacial deposits from four separate glaciers covered older bedrock deposits. Those bedrock deposits were laid down in the manner of stacked saucers. The oldest on the bottom is about 406 millions years olds. Toward the center of the state is the youngest of the pre-glacial foundation. It is from the upper Pennsylvanian about 280 millions year old.

Various rocks and minerals that make up both the old bedrock and the younger glacial till deposited on top serve as the foundation for soil. Soil is actually the combination of those rocks and minerals plus organic, or once living matter. In concert with minerals and moisture plants with different nutritional requirements grow where the conditions are suitable.

Plants in turn serve as the foundation for all living things in the area and are the basis of our various habitats. Beech-maple forests, tamarack swamps, or a fen are all unique habitats. Each habitat in turn has different animals which rely on the plants for food, either directly or indirectly.

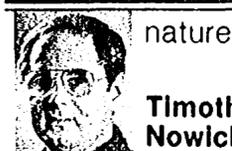

AT THE Eddy Geology Center in the Waterloo Recreation area just west of Ann Arbor, Michigan's geologic past is outlined. Several stations trace the formation of the "saucer" foundation later covered by the glaciers. At each station are rock and mineral specimens to complement the discussion.

There are many hands-on displays which allow one to touch or examine with a magnifying lens. An extensive mineral collection is also on display inside, and outside are some large specimens of rocks often seen in Michigan.

In addition to the displays there is a gift shop area with reasonably priced specimens for a beginners rock and mineral collection. Throughout the year there are programs sponsored by the center on a variety of topics. In February and March programs on wildlife rehabilitation, flintknapping, and maple sugaring are planned.

Follow I-94 west from the Detroit area to Exit 157, and follow the signs to the center. Waterloo is a perfect setting for the center because the rolling terrain and various habitats reinforces the main theme of the center and the interconnectedness of the natural world.

Tim Nowicki is a naturalist at Independence Oaks County Park in Oakland County. He lives in Livonia.

Diamond, dog dinner date is set

The Detroit Chapter of Women in Communications Inc. (WICI) will name the winners -- or losers -- of its "Dogs and Diamonds" awards Feb. 10 at The Rattlesnake Club in Detroit.

The award highlights those who encourage or hinder the advancement of women in the workforce in a spirit of goodwill and fun. Michele Edwards, WICI national president, will help present the awards.

Nominees for "Diamonds" are: ABC TV's sports department, Affiliated Models, Crain Communications Inc., Donna Cox, University of Illinois National Center, Operation Able, 1940s Chop House, Stroh Brewery's Old Milwaukee Beer, Swedish Bikini Team, Twelve Oaks Mall and Vivarin.

Last year, General Motors Corp. received a "diamond" for its special-leave programs for dependent care for men or women. "Dog" recipient was Parker Bros. for "Careers for Girls," a game that WICI said encourages negative stereotyping.

WICI meetings are open to non-members. Cost is $30 for members; $25, students and retirees; $35, non-members. Reception at 6 p.m. is followed by dinner at 7 p.m., program at 8 p.m. To reserve, call (313) 791-1277.

WICI is a national, non-profit organization representing women and men in diverse communications fields, including journalism, broadcasting and public relations.

SC, Livonia to sponsor fire academy

Schoolcraft College is accepting registrations for an eight-week basic fire academy class to be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays beginning Monday in Station 6 of the Livonia Fire Department.

The course is designed to prepare students to perform fundamental fire suppression tasks. Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be eligible for Firefighter II testing and certification.

The course complies with the requirements specified by both the Michigan Firefighters Training Council and the National Fire Prevention Association.

Cost is $900. For more information, call the college's continuing education office at 462-4448.

Chinese-style cooking taught

Classes in Chinese gourmet cooking and pastries are being offered by Schoolcraft College's culinary arts department.

Chinese gourmet cooking is a one-day workshop from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 22. Techniques to plan and cook a five-course meal with ease will be demonstrated and cultural information about China will be presented. Fee is $45.

"Pastries for Everyone" will offer practical demonstrations of elegant, yet simple desserts. Use of pastry creams, fresh fruit, chocolate, pastry doughs and unique serving suggestions will be included, as well as ideas for individually plated desserts. The five-week course meets 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 18. Fee is $90.

To register or for more information, contact the continuing education office at 462-4448.

Schoolcraft is at 18600 Haggerty, between Six and Seven Mile roads.

Art Beat

Artbeat spotlights vignettes from the suburban creative arts scene. Send Artbeat leads to: Artbeat, Creative Living, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Include a contact name and daytime phone number.

For details and reviews of musical performances, please turn to the Entertainment section.

There's a new art gallery in Observerville.

The Art Store, which opened Feb. 1, will give artists the chance to take their art from concept to reality. It provides art supplies, classes, framing and the walls on which to hang their work.

The concept is new. Until now, businesses aimed at artists tended to be highly specialized, offering one or two services like art instruction and supplies.

Art classes now run six nights a week, including an oil painting class Thursday nights with Canton wildlife artist Donna Enders.

Macek also carries drafting supplies.

Artists, novice or professional, interested in learning more about Macek's art concept can drop by the gallery at 42727 Ford Road or call 981-8600.

In the winner's circle...

For the second year, a Creative and Performing Arts student of teacher Barb Demgen at Churchill High in Livonia has won a Scholastic Art Awards Hallmark Honor Prize in regional competition.

Nichole Herrick, a senior in the CAPA program, won the highly coveted Hallmark for "Alicia," a Prismacolor pencil portrait of a fellow student.

"It's incredible, two kids in two years," Demgen said.

The purpose of the competition, now in its 65th year, is to encourage creative arts students and to give them recognition they deserve.

Livonia Public Schools deserves recognition for encouraging students in the pursuit of the arts. CAPA, now in its sixth year, provides visual and performing arts students with a one-on-one classroom situation.

Five of Demgen's senior art students enrolled in CAPA submitted eight pieces of work each to the competition.

Herrick's portrait, along with the works of hundreds of Gold Key and certificate winners, will be exhibited Feb. 9-28 at Summit Place Mall, Waterford Township.

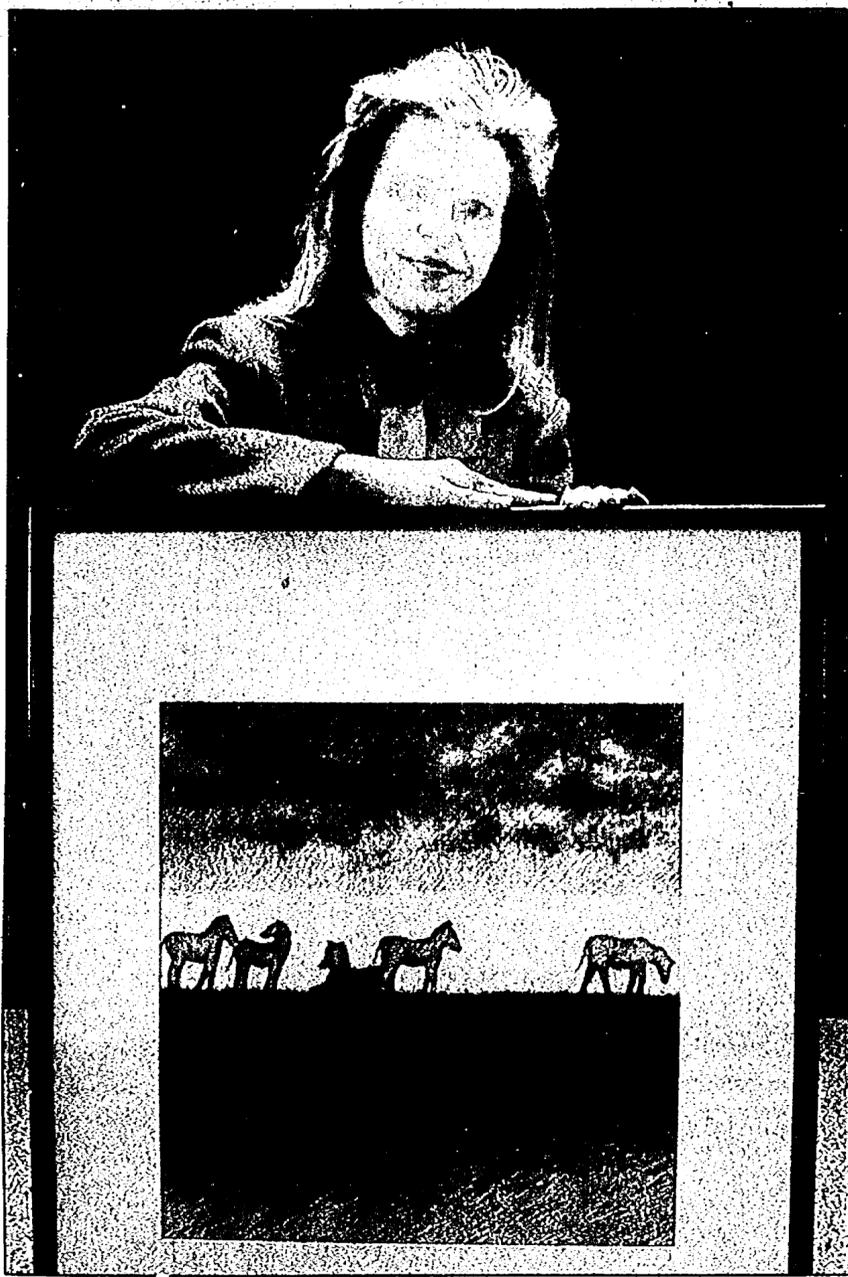

Herrick will receive her Hallmark Feb. 9 at an awards ceremony at the mall.

Old Abe will draw the spotlight at the Plymouth Historical Museum, 155 S. Main.

Farmington Hills resident Weldon Peitz will discuss "Images of Lincoln" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 13, in the Plymouth Historical Society-sponsored event.

The museum will feature an exhibit of Lincoln memorabilia called "1000 Images of Lincoln."

Gwen Dietrich of Canton displays "Magical Horses," one of more than 40 pieces of art in her exhibition at Livonia City Hall. The retrospective spans 15 years of pastel and colored pencil drawings.

Sensitive vignettes

Artist creates 'world unto itself'

By Linda Ann Chomin

GWEN DIETRICH'S drawings dream of other worlds where inner smiles and peacefulness prevail, untouched by man.

The Livonia Arts Commission and the city of Livonia have teamed up to present an exhibition of Dietrich's world in "Animal Antics," a 40-piece retrospective spanning 15 years of pastel and colored pencil artwork.

The one-person show runs through Feb. 28 in the lobby of Livonia City Hall, Farmington Road at Five Mile.

A graduate of Parsons School of Design in New York, Dietrich studied with Paul Giovanopoulos, Lorraine Fox and Maurice Sendak.

Her proficient draughtsmanship and design skills, along with strength of statement and color sense, combine to create sensitive vignettes portraying situations from life, many of them tinged by whimsy.

Whether she renders magical blue horses, black and white spotted dalmations or little French girls, the end result is an intensely colored, far-away land overflowing with rich detail.

"Animal Antics," one of her most recent works colored with vibrant, pure pigment of pastel focuses on a dog, cat and mouse. The first two are separated from the last by a wood fence.

"It (the idea behind the picture) happened with a photograph I'd seen a long time ago that sparked my imagination of a dog peering over a fence," Dietrich said. "I wanted to create an interesting situation having interaction between three characters."

Photographer earns plaudits from his peers

Owner of LaMoore Photography Studio since 1981, Morpew specializes in portrait and wedding photography. His winning prints were culled from actual customer assignments obtained through his Livonia studio.

"I love what I do. It's a love of photography, creating images," Morpew said. "We do a lot of people-oriented work. We get to deal with happy people all day long."

A five-member panel of master photographers judged prints submitted by professional photographers from the metro area and Windsor.

Competitors were allowed to enter a maximum of three prints taken within the last 24 months. Judging was divided into four categories: portrait, wedding, unclassified and commercial.

TWO OF Morpew's prints won blue ribbons in the wedding category. The third print won a blue ribbon for portraits.

"Innocence," a portrait of Royal Oak resident Leigh Richards, taken at Mill Race Historical Village in Northville, found favor with judges for its strength of statement.

"The photo of the little girl had impact," Morpew said. "It was done with all natural light. Mill Race is a nice spot because it has a gazebo."

Besides impact, judges awarded ribbons based on lighting, exposure, print quality and mounting.

"There has to be pre-visualization of concept," Morpew said. "The setting, the sunlight, posing — it all has to work together just right. And you have to print it deep and dark for print competition, darker than you normally would."

Morpew won Best of Wedding with the print of bridal couple Krystin and Patrick Manning, posed outside Academy of the Sacred Heart Church in Bloomfield Hills.

Douglas Semivan, assistant art professor at Madonna University in Livonia, will discuss prints from the exhibition, "An American Master: The Prints of Martin Lewis," Sunday, Feb. 9, in the Schwartz Graphic Arts Galleries at the Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward.

Semivan, an artist with work in the DIA collection, will lead a walking tour through the exhibition while speaking from his printmaking experience in a 2 p.m. talk entitled "A Printmaker's Perspective on the Work of Martin Lewis."

"I think it's important to have an artist's viewpoint. I'm going to discuss some of the techniques he used, his choice of ink, choice of paper, the tools he used, his notebooks, how it all contributed to the works," Semivan said.

"I discovered Martin Lewis in the

Graveyard sparks insightful peek into Redford's past

ON ROLLING land at the edge of a major highway, amid tall trees and weathered sandstone, lies a revealing silver of history, Redford Cemetery.

It's fitting a state historical marker stands sentry at the 160-year-old burial grounds, now open only to descendants of Redford pioneers.

But that marker didn't just sprout one day in 1988. It resulted from a two-year push by the Redford Cemetery Association, a close-knit, private, nonprofit group governing the pioneer graveyard.

I became intrigued while driving by and spotting the gold-lettered, green-backed historical marker at Telegraph and Puritan, on the Redford-Detroit border.

As a misty rain fell, I opted to stop, read the marker, scan the epitaphs and listen to the quiet.

From the marker, I learned just how special this 2,000-plot cemetery is. Among those buried there are two veterans from the Revolutionary War, Ephraim Daines and Darius Smead, as well as veterans of the War of 1812, the Toledo War, the Mexican War, the Civil War, World Wars I and II and the Korean War.

THE MARKER relates that in 1831, Israel Bell, a commissioner in what then was called Pekin, gave one acre to the village for a cemetery.

The graveyard originally was called Bell Branch Cemetery — for the Rouge River branch named after the settlement Bell founded in 1818. It was renamed Redford Cemetery after Pekin became Redford Township in 1833. The township adopted its name in tribute to the mighty Rouge flowing through it.

Interestingly, some western Wayne County townships originally had Chinese names because of increased trade between the U.S. and China in the 1830s and because the U.S. government decreed all new townships avoid names of an existing post office.

By 1883, Redford Cemetery had grown to 10 acres. "A wrought iron fence was built for the cemetery in 1888 with money contributed by Redford Township citizens," the historical marker tells us.

The cemetery is a peppercot for history buffs.

"If you're interested in very early Redford history, walk through the cemetery, read the names — Bell, Blue, Green, Hendry, Lyon, Perrin, Pierce, Prindle, Smith, Wilmarth — and you've got the beginning," says Lois Carpenter, Redford Township Historical Commission secretary.

The Redford Cemetery is a peppercot for history buffs.

"My family has five generations buried there," says Helen Gallagher, a Redford Cemetery Association trustee.

GALLAGHER TEAMED with her mother, Olive Hopp Swanson, fellow trustee Lois Harrison and others to document to the Michigan Historical Commission why the cemetery should be designated a state historic site.

"My mother got the idea for the marker but she didn't live to see it," Gallagher said. "She died in 1988 and, of course, is buried in Redford Cemetery."

land in Europe and this was the land of opportunity. They had very little resources but they could buy land cheaply and expand as they earned money.

"Working the farm was their whole life," she added. "My other grandfather, Henry Hopp I, who was of German descent, farmed at Telegraph and Plymouth."

By day, the men worked the fields to scratch out a subsistence while the women made meals from scratch to feed their family.

At night, by lamplight, the men made household improvements or repairs while the women darned torn work clothing.

"It was a very hard life," Gallagher said. "It's amazing how a chance stop at an old graveyard can shed so much light on a community's past."

HER DESIGN experience, culled by day as a graphic designer/illustrator for A.R. Brasch Advertising in Southfield, shines in this whimsical scene dominated by strong horizontal and vertical lines that echo the triangular placement of the characters, emphasizing the tension between the three.

Dietrich's strength of design is evidenced again in "Magical Horses," where she uses line, space and color to communicate the head for far-away places to lurk in our minds.

"I wanted to create a world unto itself," Dietrich said. "A mystical place where they couldn't be touched by man. A place where I wanted to be, tranquil — alone."

"The horizontal bands came because I wanted sky, I wanted earth to close in on the subject matter to draw attention. By leaving white space, it enforced the shapes of the horses, by that use of negative white space, it becomes positive, a part of the picture itself. The dark colors aided in the mysticism."

Dietrich begins a work with a certain color in mind, laying it down lightly on 100-percent rag board.

"This shows me my basic color relationship and tells me if they're going to work or not. From that, I progress to building and layering color. Colors and color relationship come very naturally to me. I think it's very intuitive, my color selections. I never have to plot and plan. It's very spontaneous," Dietrich said.

SCRUTINY OF black spots on Dietrich's white dalmations provides the viewer with an illustration of her color philosophy in action.

"Although I start with a certain color in mind, it's made out of many, many colors. A brown would have blue, gold, yellow, red — a full palette."

Dietrich began working more than 15 years ago in colored pencil but switched to pastel because she values its versatility, spontaneity and the enjoyment of putting pure pigment, undiluted by oil or water, on paper.

"I switched to the pastels because I needed a more vibrant palette, a more spontaneous medium to work with. It's important to sit back and analyze your work," Dietrich said. "That's what I did when I chose pastel. I wasn't that happy with the (colored pencil) medium any more."

The creative idea for "La Petite Fille," a pastel in the collection of Dr. Richard and Janice Zimmer of Bloomfield Hills, came about when Dietrich exhibited work at the Scarab Club in Detroit.

It was at that time, Janice Zimmer saw the graphite drawing

"Innocence," a sensitive portrayal of a wide-eyed little European girl. Inspired by that first image, she commissioned Dietrich to create one in full color.

"I first saw the drawing two years ago at a show Gwen did at the Scarab Club," Janice Zimmer said. "I'd been carrying that image in my head ever since then."

THE VIBRANT palette evidenced in "La Petite Fille" jointly works with lyrical line and well-designed composition to create a portrait following a tradition of photo-realism.

Although Dietrich's palette is different than Monet's, the techniques used in the background are similar to ones employed in landscapes by the French impressionist.

"I like the French countryside," Zimmer said. "I like the feeling I get when I look at the little girl. It's a peaceful feeling. It brings out the European influence in our home."

"I like the color. I also like how it looks so real to me, the eyes, the facial expression. It doesn't look like a picture of a picture. She did a wonderful job."

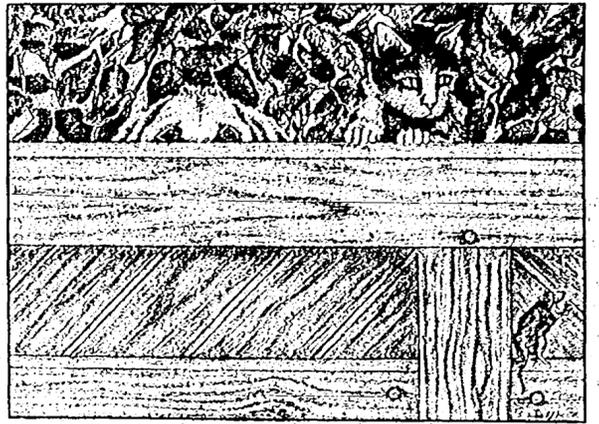

While she said the ability of art critiquing is not within her realm, Zimmer asks — "Is it pleasing for me to look at?"

A week ago, she commissioned Dietrich to create a second pastel, this one of a French countryside.

Compelled by an inner spirit, Dietrich's pastel paintings and colored pencil drawings communicate to the viewer another place lost in time, a world with blue skies, birds and animals untouched by man.

couple is posed deep in reflective thought. The image's strong horizontal line is provided by the earth and the bride's wedding gown train, trailing upon it.

THE SECOND print to win a blue ribbon in the wedding category, "Puttin' on the Ritz," was of bride Lisa Mawditt-Thompson taken at the Ritz Carlton Hotel in Dearborn.

The photo plays off a row of overhead chandeliers receding into the background. "I like the excitement of getting on film the way I envisioned it in my mind," Morphew said.

Although the three winning prints will go on to compete on the state and national level, Morphew's rewards are reaped daily while at work in his local studio.

"I'm out to have fun and make a living while doing it," Morphew said.

The public may view the award-winning prints at LaMoore Photography Studio, 33680 Five Mile, Livonia, through February.

American master's prints focus of discussion

"Chance Meeting," a 1941 dry point, is one of Martin Lewis' first prints to deal with night. It showcases his dramatic lighting effects.

early '80s. I was astounded by his technical abilities. He was primarily self-taught and relatively unknown. The exhibition includes 95 impressions of Lewis' known prints along with working proofs, drawings, printing plates, artist's tools, letters, photographs and notebooks.

"THIS COLLECTION is a master set of at least one every impression he did," Semivan said. "Everything he did from 1915 to 1953. It shows the chronology."

Lewis, an Australian-born artist who sailed to America in 1900, is best known for his scenes of New York City. His work captures in black and white the transitory soul and energy of pre-Depression Manhattan complete with skyscrapers and flappers.

"In the 1930s, it would be difficult to do what he did," Semivan said. "The audience for black and white isn't there. It's an important lesson for the lack of confirmation for the use of color."

After living in San Francisco, where he worked on murals for the second McKinley presidential campaign, Lewis moved on to New York City. In 1910, he traveled to England. From 1920-22, he headed his way across Japan. But in the end, it was New York that inspired him and eventually became home.

'In the 1930s, it would be difficult to do what he did. The audience for black and white isn't there. It's an important lesson for the lack of confirmation for the use of color.'

— Douglas Semivan

"When he was in his thirties, Lewis worked in New York as a commercial artist. He achieved success as a printmaker in his late 40s. In his 50s, Lewis' work lost favor in contemporary art circles. In 1934, he established the short-lived School for Printmakers."

"MARTIN LEWIS was one of the first artists to deal with night as an effect," Semivan said. "He used dramatic lighting effects."

From 1944 to 1951, Lewis was an instructor for the Art Students League. In 1962, he died, relatively unknown.

The complete collection of Lewis' prints is a gift to the DIA from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Katzman in honor of Sidney and Betty Katzman and their children, Ellen and Laura.

"We're extremely grateful to the Katzmans," said Sarah Hufford, DIA assistant education curator. "It's a major acquisition. This makes us the major archive for the works of Martin Lewis, a master American printmaker."

When the exhibition was being planned over one year ago, Hufford began thinking about programs that the DIA Department of Education might host.

"We had very little budget. Knowing how Lewis is a marvelous technician, I thought it would be a good idea to have a series of talks that could be found in the collections of the Toledo Museum of Art, Brooklyn Museum and the Museum of Modern Art in New York."

"Although Semivan's work is abstract in comparison to Lewis's New York architectural realism, he creates lithographs, intaglios and mezzotints as did Lewis."

"Semivan's profound printmaking experience makes him a valuable lecturer on the master set of Lewis' prints."

"Our perspective as artists has nothing to do with admiration for what another artist does," Semivan said. "It's important because it records a particular time in history. It gives a historical perspective of the 1920s and '30s. It shows Martin Lewis' achievements as a print artist."

HER DESIGN experience, culled by day as a graphic designer/illustrator for A.R. Brasch Advertising in Southfield, shines in this whimsical scene dominated by strong horizontal and vertical lines that echo the triangular placement of the characters, emphasizing the tension between the three.

Dietrich's strength of design is evidenced again in "Magical Horses," where she uses line, space and color to communicate the need for faraway places to lurk in our minds.

"I wanted to create a world unto itself," Dietrich said. "A mystical place where they couldn't be touched by man. A place where I wanted to be, tranquil — alone."

"The horizontal bands came because I wanted sky. I wanted earth to close in on the subject matter to create a sense of tension."

"I switched to the pastels because I needed a more vibrant palette, a more spontaneous medium to work with. I chose pastels with the color."

"Innocence," a sensitive portrayal of a wide-eyed little European girl. Inspired by that first image, she commissioned Dietrich to create one in full color.

Although Dietrich's palette is different than Monet's, the techniques used in the background are similar to ones employed in landscapes by the French impressionist.

"I like the French countryside," Zimmer said. "I like the feeling I get when I look at the little girl. It's a peaceful feeling. It brings out the European influence in our home."

"I like the color. I also like how it looks so real to me, the eyes, the facial expression. It doesn't look like a picture of a picture. She did a wonderful job."

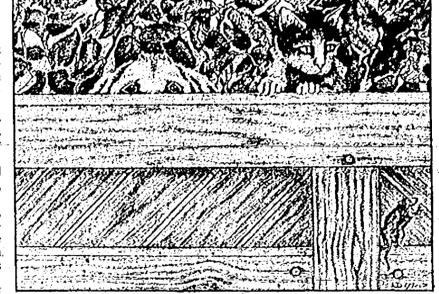

While she said the ability of art critiquing is not within her realm, Zimmer asks — "Is it pleasing for me to look at?"

A week ago, she commissioned Dietrich to create a second pastel, this one of a French countryside.

Compelled by an inner spirit, Dietrich's pastel paintings and colored pencil drawings communicate to the viewer another place lost in time, a world with blue skies, birds and animals untouched by man.

Gwen Dietrich will discuss her work 6-9 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14, in the lobby at Livonia City Hall.

"Animal Antics" focuses on three common characters captured in an uncommon time frame. Tension created by the artist's triangular placement of the characters echoes the strong horizontal and vertical lines of the fence the cat and dog peer over.

American master's prints focus of discussion

Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts

"Chance Meeting," a 1941 dry point, is one of Martin Lewis' first prints to deal with night. It showcases his dramatic lighting effects.

early '80s. I was astounded by his technical abilities. He was primarily self-taught and relatively unknown."

The exhibition includes 95 impressions of Lewis' known prints along with working proofs, drawings, printing plates, artist's tools, letters, photographs and notebooks.

"THE COLLECTION is a master set of at least one of every impression he did," Semivan said. "Everything he did from 1915 to 1953. It shows the chronology."

Lewis, an Australian-born artist who sailed to America in 1900, is best known for his scenes of New York City. His work captures in black and white the transitory soul and energy of pre-Depression Manhattan complete with skyscrapers and flappers.

"In the 1990s, it would be difficult to do what he did," Semivan said. "The audience for black and white isn't there. It's an important lesson for the lack of confirmation for the use of color."

After living in San Francisco, where he worked on murals for the second McKinley presidential campaign, Lewis moved on to New York City. In 1910, he traveled to England. From 1920-22, he hiked his way across Japan. But in the end, it was New York that inspired him and eventually became home.

'In the 1990s, it would be difficult to do what he did. The audience for black and white isn't there. It's an important lesson for the lack of confirmation for the use of color.'

— Douglas Semivan

When he was in his thirties, Lewis worked in New York as a commercial artist. He achieved success as a printmaker in his late 40s. In his 50s, Lewis' work lost favor in contemporary art circles. In 1934, he established the short-lived School for Printmakers.

"MARTIN LEWIS was one of the first artists to deal with night as an effect," Semivan said. "He used dramatic lighting effects."

From 1944 to 1951, Lewis was an instructor for the Art Students League. In 1962, he died, relatively unknown.

The complete collection of Lewis' prints is a gift to the DIA from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Katzman in honor of Sidney and Betty Katzman and their children, Ellen and Laura.

"We're extremely grateful to the Katzmans," said Sarah Hufford, DIA assistant education curator. "It's a major acquisition. This makes us the major archive for the works of Martin Lewis, a master American printmaker."

When the exhibition was being planned over one year ago, Hufford began thinking about programs that the DIA Department of Education might host.

can be found in the collections of the Toledo Museum of Art, Brooklyn Museum and the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

Although Semivan's work is abstract in comparison to Lewis' New York architectural realism, he creates lithographs, intaglios and mezzotints as did Lewis.

Semivan's hands-on printmaking experience makes him a valuable lecturer on the master set of Lewis' prints.

"Our perspective as artists has nothing to do with admiration for what another artist does," Semivan said. "It's important because it records a particular time in history. It gives a historical perspective of the 1920s and '30s. It shows Martin Lewis' achievements as a print artist. And although he worked in watercolor, he will be most remembered for the prints."

Douglas Semivan's lecture is free with museum admission. The exhibition "An American Master: The Prints of Martin Lewis" runs through March 22. Museum hours are 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday-Sunday. Call 833-7900.

FEATURE WRITING

Cranbrook P.M. is sponsoring a six-week feature writing course with Corinne Abatt, well known for her work with the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers for 21 years.

The course will meet 7:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesdays, Feb. 12 to March 18, in Gordon Hall No. 47 at Cranbrook School, 550 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills. Fee is $85. For information or to register, call 645-3635.

The workshop is designed to help aspiring writers, as well as those more experienced, to develop skills in feature writing, the short non-fiction article suitable for newspapers and magazines.

Topics will be interviewing, writing, style and content. Each two-hour session will focus on a specific aspect of feature writing. A celebrity press conference will be scheduled as part of the seminar and book lists will be given in class.

Cranbrook P.M. is a program of continuing education and outreach. Proceeds benefit the Cranbrook Schools financial aid program.

Cranbrook Schools are a division of the Cranbrook Educational Community, which also includes the Cranbrook Academy of Art and Museum and Cranbrook Institute of Science.

BLACK HISTORY

During February, the Detroit Institute of Arts commemorates Black History Month with events designed to celebrate the achievements of black Americans.

One such event will be at 2 p.m.

Sunday, Feb. 16, in the museum's Prentiss Court. Robert B. Jones will lead a discussion of "The Blues and the Spirit."

Jones, producer and host of WDET-FM's "Blues from the Lowlands" program, will focus on the blues as a secular form of spiritual release and will investigate a range of expression that falls outside the realm of the black church. The discussion is free with museum admission.

The DIA is open 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday-Sunday. Recommended admission is adults $4, children $1, members free. For more information on Black History Month activities, call 833-7900.

POETRY DEADLINE

The Academy of American Poets annual college poetry contest deadline for submission of manuscripts is Feb. 17. Winners will be announced in the spring.

A $100 prize will be offered for the best poem or group of poems submitted to the English department at Wayne State University.

Every five years the academy publishes an anthology of selected prize winning poems, edited by a prominent American poet. The academy expects to compile its next anthology for publication in 1994.

For more information, call the English department at 577-2450.

ORIGINAL DESIGNS

A showing of original, one-of-a-kind furniture designs, maquettes and interior design models by students at the Center for Creative Studies will be hosted by Zelsing Associates at the Michigan Design Center in Troy Feb. 27 through March 31.

An opening preview reception for invited guests, industry professionals and media representatives will take place 5:30-7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 27. For information, call 872-3118; Ext. 284.

The Detroit-based CCS serves as an anchor for arts education in southeastern Michigan and a focal point nationally and internationally for excellence in the applied, performing and fine arts.

The CCS-College of Art and Design is one of the nation's leading private, degree-granting visual arts schools. More than 1,500 students are involved in programs in industrial design, graphic communications, fine arts, photography and crafts.

The college is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and by the National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

CULTURAL PORTRAITS

An exhibition of black and white photographs and accompanying documentation displays the significant loss to German culture with the forced emigration of many of Germany's leading Jewish intellectuals before and during World War II.

"Survival and Success: Jewish Cultural Portraits from Central Europe" continues in the Janice Charach Epstein Museum/Gallery, in the Jewish Community Center, Maple and Drake, West Bloomfield, through Feb. 27.

The artist, Herlinde Koelbl, whose home and studio are in Germany, traveled around the world to photograph and interview more than 80 Jewish people who are internationally prominent in the cultural arts.

Exhibition hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Wednesday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday.

The museum will sponsor "Grand Influence" noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 9. Children may bring a grandparent or special older person for a photograph and interview session.

Locally prominent photographer Monte Nagler and Marcia Boxman and Elaine Yaker of the Pierce Street Gallery in Birmingham will photograph the child's "grand influence," and the youngster will conduct an interview about his or her guest's Jewish heritage.

The photos and interviews will be made into an exhibition and displayed, with an opening reception, Feb. 9. Pre-registration is required. Cost is $18 per photograph session.

The museum and the Goethe Institut of Ann Arbor will conduct a symposium addressing the history of Jews in Germany before and after World War II Saturday-Sunday, Feb. 8-9.

The symposium will consist of several lectures, a viewing of "The Exiles" and a panel discussion about the status of Jews in Germany today.

For information about the events, call 661-1000, Ext. 470.

OCC art exhibited

Unique in Canton

"Select Student Art Show," an exhibition of drawings, paintings, ceramics and sculpture by Oakland Community College students, runs through Feb. 17 in the Smith Theater Art Gallery on the Orchard Ridge Campus, Orchard Lake Road at I-696, Farmington Hills.

"I wanted to promote the excellence in our students, highlight their work," said Kegham Tazian, art department chairman for the Orchard Ridge Campus.

Tazian ended up with 30 pieces by 12 students from the Royal Oak, Auburn Hills and Orchard Ridge campuses, selected on the basis of excellence. The Highland Lakes campus did not participate.

Local artists included in the show are Gwen Dietrich of Canton, Karen McDavid of Farmington Hills and Dana Willard of Birmingham.

Hours for the select show are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday-Friday.

Romance novelist gets down to business

Shelly Thacker, 28, may be a romance novelist, but there's nothing romantic in her approach to the business of writing.

Shelly Thacker

Maybe that's why her first novel, "Falcon on the Wind," published last year, sold to Avon in record time (less than a week), why it went on to exceed, by 100 percent, Avon's sales predictions, why they bought her second historical romance, the just-released "Midnight Raider," sight unseen, why she's just signed a new contract for three more books with what most consider the creme de la creme of romance publishers.

"I really do think that romance writers are more businesswise than a lot of other writers," says the Redford-based author. "We're very organized and well-educated in terms of market needs and the fact that publishers are in this business to make money. If you can help them make money, you're going to have a successful career."

Before writing her first novel, the pragmatic aspiring writer studied writers' guidelines from many different romance publishers and read all of "the most popular, bestselling romances of the day."

"If you're serious about selling, you really need to be aware of what different publishers want. Sometimes there are vast differences," she said.

AS TO the writing itself, Thacker, who has a degree in English and French from Albion College, says she has learned most of what she knows about putting together a romance novel from local published authors who critique her manuscripts at workshop meetings of the Romance Writers of America Detroit chapter.

"Romance writing is not something you can just dash off, send out and expect to be published," she said. "It's something that takes a great deal of work and time. And one of the most important steps you can take as a writer comes when you learn that every word you write is not golden."

Thacker completed the award-winning "Falcon on the Wind" in a little over two years and wrote "Midnight Raider" in about a year, all from the computer-equipped, at-home office where she still works. She gets up each morning in time to have breakfast and do a round of eye-opening aerobics before getting down to work at 9 a.m. sharp and then works straight through until 5 o'clock, taking an hour for lunch at noon.

IT'S A schedule she has forced herself to adhere to, she says, since she sees it as absolutely necessary to her success as a published writer. But for Thacker, who once worked full-time in a public relations office, it hasn't come easy.

"When I was working in public relations, I always thought I was so self-motivated and self-directed," she said. "Then I quit my job and started freelancing and found out how really undisciplined I was."

Though "Falcon on the Wind" was set in 13th-century France and Scotland, "Midnight Raider" in 18th-century England and her upcoming romance, "Silver and Sapphire," in 18th-century India, Thacker has done no on-the-spot research for any of her novels, except for a brief stay in France several years ago.

She has spent many hours pouring over historical collections at Wayne State and Oakland University and also at the main branch of the Detroit Public Library, though. She can also often be found studying travel videos from local libraries.

Even when the hard-working author isn't busy at her desk or out conducting research, she's still writing, in a sense, because she's always looking out for ideas she can use in her work.

She carries a notepad with her wherever she goes and jots down thoughts, snippets of scenes, bits of dialogue, information on characters. In her office, she keeps numerous files that contain the notes, referring to them often.

"I'VE KNOWN since I was a kid that I wanted to be a novelist," Thacker said. "But I've come to realize that there's no magic book fairy who's going to leave a completed manuscript under your pillow some night. A few years ago, I finally acknowledged that I was going to have to be the one to make it happen. I was going to have to apply seat of the pants to seat of the chair — and just do it."

"Even after your book is published, you still have to get out there and get noticed," she added. "There's something like 500 new paperbacks published every month. If you expect your one little book, no matter how great it is, to stand out in that competition, you've really got to put some of your own effort into it."

Thacker will be putting in some of that effort by autographing copies of "Midnight Raider" at the following locations in February:

- Saturday, Feb. 8 — B. Dalton, Wonderland Mall, Livonia, 1-3 p.m.
- B. Dalton, Oakland Mall, Troy, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

- Sunday, Feb. 9 — B. Dalton, Tel-Twelve Mall, Southfield, 2-4 p.m.
- Wednesday, Feb. 12 — B. Dalton, Livonia Mall, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

- Sunday, Feb. 16 — Sweet Afton Tea Room, Plymouth, 1-4 p.m. Along with Utica novelist, Luch Taylor, Thacker will discuss reading, romance, and writing at a luncheon and tea. The program will be repeated Sunday, Feb. 23, at the same time. Tickets are $15. For reservations, call 454-0777.

Victoria Diaz of Livonia tracks the books and literary industry.

SCARAB CLUB

Thursday, Feb. 6 — "The View from Draper Hill: An Exhibition of Original Drawings by Detroit News Editorial Cartoonist Draper Hill" will run on Feb. 28. Opening reception 5-7 p.m. Thursday. Hill will present two Thursday lectures in conjunction with the show, "The Urge to Caricature" Feb. 6 and "Making Faces" Feb. 13, 7-9:30 p.m. both days. Hours are noon to 5 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday, 217 Farnsworth, adjacent to the Detroit Institute of Arts, 831-1250.

THE COMMUNITY HOUSE

Friday, Feb. 7 — Caren Nederlander of Franklin is the Artist of the Month for February. Special reception 5:30-7:30 p.m. Friday, with light refreshments and champagne. Call Nederlander at 358-4480 for reservations. The exhibit showcases Nederlander's newest collection of 20 "impressionist" photographs. They are presented in diptychs, each assembled in floating lucity frames. This format defines the portrayal of both impressionism and abstraction. Hours 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekends, 380 S. Bates, Birmingham, 644-5832.

DETROIT ARTISTS MARKET

To Feb. 7 — The Detroit Artists Market announces its 60th anniversary with the "Select 5 Collect" exhibition by Michigan photographers John Carney, Joanne Leonard, Bill Sanders, Michael Sarnacki and Carl Toth. Pieced work by Dusty Fleming, Cynthia Greig and Carole Zuk in the upper gallery. Gallery hours 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 1452 Randolph, Detroit, 962-0337.

DETROIT FOCUS

To Feb. 8 — The gallery presents Group II from the Review Committee Selections. Two of these Michigan artists — Marcia Freedman and Jacquelyn Ruttinger — placed work on the wall. Works by the other two — Pi Benio and Tzufen Liao — were installed.

Hours are noon to 6 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday, 743 Beaubien, Detroit, 962-9025.

U245 GALLERY

Thursday, Feb. 13 — "Illusion in Fabrication," with drawings and/or painted sketches for textile designs by Katherine Kording and photography by Charlotte L'Esperance, will continue to March 6. Opening reception for the artists 4-6:30 p.m. Feb. 13. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday-Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday-Sunday, in the student gallery at Center Galleries in Suite 107 of the Park Shelton Building, 15 E. Kirby, Detroit, 874-1995.

GALLERY IV

To Feb. 13 — "Women in Art 1880-1970." The gallery offers the collector, the decorator and the museum a potpourri of antiques and art, including vintage posters, oil paintings, watercolors, etchings, ceramics, glass, bronzes, estate jewelry, rugs, vintage watches, lamps, sterling silver flatware and rare coins. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, 6447 Inkster, one block north of Maple in Bloomfield Hills, 932-1888.

URBAN PARK

Friday, Feb. 14 — A series of new exhibitions continues to Feb. 29. Reception to meet the artists during Urban Park's gala grand opening 7-10 p.m. Feb. 14.

"The Voice Within" features the works of John Shannon, Karen Hanson and Mary Ellen Croci, three Detroit painters whose expressionistic style provides stunning commentary on the human condition in the late 20th century. All three attended the Center for Creative Studies in the early 1980s and exhibited at the 55 Peterboro Gallery in Detroit's Cass Corridor.

"Silence of the Things" features abstract, computer-generated images by Zuhair Sha'aouni, whose work has been shown in Baghdad, Washington, D.C., and locally.

Other featured artists are Carl Butler, who completed his bachelor of fine arts in painting from Wayne State University in 1991 and who executes paintings in a neo-expressionist style; Fred Ward, exhibiting recently completed self-portraits and figure

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Know debt limits before applying for mortgage

With interest rates at their lowest level in more than a decade, and housing prices not appreciating as rapidly as in the past, housing is more affordable today than at any time in the past 12 years.

Finding the right house may seem like the easy part when compared to arranging the financing for it. Here's some tips from the Mortgage Bankers Association of America on shopping for a mortgage.

Talk with your real estate agent or broker. Real estate professionals are normally in the best position to learn about financing opportunities.

Lenders regularly call agents to alert them to financing packages. Agents are motivated to help obtain financing for their buyers because without a suitable loan, a sale can't proceed.

Shop for mortgage quote rates by telephone. Call five to 10 lenders for rates and terms on fixed and adjustable rate mortgages.

One of the first questions asked is how large a mortgage a lending institution will offer. That depends on your income and the cost of your new house. Lenders use certain guidelines to determine the mortgage amount that they will lend.

The two guidelines used are housing expenses and long-term debt. LENDERS GENERALLY say that housing expenses (including mortgage payments, insurance, taxes, and special assessments) should not exceed 25-28 percent of the homeowners gross monthly income. For Federal Housing Administration (FHA) loans, this figure is not to exceed 29 percent of the buyers' gross monthly income.

With loans guaranteed by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), lenders measure homebuyers with "residential income" or the monthly income minus expenses. The remainder is then measured against geographical and family size data to qualify the borrower.

One way to evaluate loans, is by examining the annual percentage rate. The APR can help you compare different types of mortgages. It indicates the "effective rate of interest" paid per year. The figure includes points and other charges and spreads them out over the life of the loan.

While the APR provides you with a common point for comparison, look at the whole product before deciding which mortgage to get. Pick the one with the rate, payment schedule and other terms that suit your particular situation.

Contract provision protects association

You recently suggested that the management agreement should designate the person at the management firm whom the association wishes to attend the meetings and to service the association so as to ensure that if that person does not do so that allows the association to terminate the management contract at its discretion.

It is clear that every contract must have some latitude with respect to performance by the respective parties. But the thrust of my answer in a previous column centered upon the fact that in some instances a management firm may be bought out by another management company with an entirely new staff of personnel but without changing the legal entity with whom the association has contracted.

where a management company was bought out by another management company without a change in the name of the company, and the association was saddled with the responsibility of dealing with an entirely new cast of individuals without the latitude to terminate the management agreements.

Also, there have been situations where one person representing a management firm makes a proposal and promises to attend the meetings and then delegates the responsibility to someone else when the contract begins. My intent in recommending that a contractual provision provide some protection to the association is to ensure that the person designated by the management company will make reasonable efforts to attend meetings on a regular basis absent legitimate excuses or unforeseen circumstances. It is for the protection of the association that the management person be designated to ensure that it gets the benefit of its bargain that was represented to it by the management company to induce the association to enter into a management agreement.

Our management company wants to include an indemnification clause in the management agreement. I have some vague notion of what it is but our attorney has also done work for the management company. Having represented it, he says he doesn't want to be involved in the management agreement unless the board says it is OK. What should we do? I am a new director.

An indemnification clause generally provides that if the management company is sued or is found liable as a result of its acts or omissions on behalf of the association that the association will have to pay the bill, so to speak, including perhaps, attorney fees and costs. This is basically a blank check given to the management company in terms of potential liability it may incur that will ultimately be the responsibility of the association.

If the association is willing to run this risk, it should ensure that it has adequate insurance coverage to deal with the indemnification clause. If the association's attorney is also affiliated with the management company, obviously the association's attorney is not in a position to give advice on this issue without being involved in a conflict of interest. You should engage independent counsel to review the management agreement on behalf of the association as well as other matters.

Wolfe sponsors seminar

Thomas Ervin, syndicated real estate columnist, and CPA Richard Ecksholt will speak at a free real estate seminar on "Buying and Selling in '92," sponsored by The Prudential Harry S. Wolfe Realtors.

Seating is limited for the seminar to be held 2-4 p.m. Saturday and again 7-9 p.m. Monday at the Wolfe office, 32398 Five Mile, east of Farmington Road, Livonia. To reserve a seat, call 421-5660.

Wolfe, begun in 1925, is believed to be the oldest business still operating in Livonia. The city comprises 43 percent of the company's total sales volume, an increase over last year, according to Gerald Wolfe, associate broker and grandson of the founder.

Wolfe operates three offices with 47 agents in the city. It became affiliated with The Prudential in 1989.

PAUL HURSMANN/staff photographer

Robert R. Jones, a custom builder, has been selected as one of the best in the industry nationally in terms of overall business excellence. He is pictured here in the Oak model of his Knorrwood Hills subdivision in Rochester Hills.

Robert Jones brings home the gold

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Robert R. Jones of West Bloomfield isn't like most residential builders.

He prefers to finance his work with profits from previous jobs rather than construction loans. He copyrights his designs. He doesn't negotiate prices. He keeps his demonstration models for several years even if he receives purchase offers specifically for them.

No one in Jones' family preceded him in the construction business. And if you phone the office with a problem or question after regular business hours, the call will transfer to his residence.

Jones, 55, recently was selected as a gold medal recipient in the Builder's Spotlight Business Excellence Awards. Only three gold medals were presented in the program sponsored by the National Association of Home Builders, Builder Magazine and Marvin Windows.

"The judges were impressed that he (Jones) was able to do so much on low volume — bring in consultants, have a customer service truck — and employ so many good, qualified people," said Gerry Donohue, an editor for Builder Magazine.

The awards were established to recognize overall excellence in design, marketing, customer service and financial success.

Thomas W. Richey, a national building consultant in Houston, nominated Jones for the award.

"Among the builders I work with, I think he has the best management system and quality control," Richey said. "He has designs in keeping with the times. I know that Bob shops all over the country to get the best possible products."

JONES WON in the small builder category. In business for himself since 1979, he has custom built as few as eight and as many as 17 houses in a year.

He is quick to credit his full-time staff of 13 for his company's success.

"I have my name on the door. Everyone else is responsible for the award," Jones said. "I don't think we could have a more dedicated staff. This is a very creative business. You're blessed when you can see the results of what you do."

Jones, a native New Yorker, was stationed here while in the Army in 1959. He decided when discharged two years later that he wanted to go into the building business even though he had no experience in the field.

"I was a liberal arts major and felt liberal arts majors could do anything," Jones recalled with a laugh.

"Being young and full of zest and not knowing the real world, I took a job with Herman Frankel as an executive trainee. I expected at that time to have a corner office. The tool I got, I think, was a shovel."

JONES WAS first assigned to customer service and warranty work; he has never forgotten the lessons he learned there. That's why he has a full-time customer service person and why he takes calls at home now.

Jones stayed with Frankel for 18 years, eventually rising to vice president of operations before striking out on his own. "I think it was a case of wanting to create on my own and create an organization," he said.

Frankel, a West Bloomfield builder, still has high regard for Jones.

"He was always a very committed, competent, honorable man," Frankel said. "He always worked hard and was ambitious. He was like a sponge — he learned. He was always a very directed person. I always knew he would do well and he has."

Jones has developed a couple of interesting business philosophies over the years. Like not borrowing to build. Instead, he banks money from previous sales to fund current and future projects.

"We don't like debt and that's putting it succinctly," he said. "In real estate, it's always popular to be leveraged, to use someone else's money. I've always believed you have to have things under control. Debt permeates a lot of things."

PRESSURES to lower prices or sell a model when you don't have another available can arise. Jones does neither.

"We don't negotiate our prices," he said. "We're saying we think we have a value and think you would make a good investment. We don't have the pressure of when a buyer comes in we say, 'Gosh, we've got to sell this.'"

But there is a consequence to avoiding construction loans.

"The other side of being cautious, prudent, conservative is that it does impede growth," Jones said. "You have to move more slowly, more carefully."

While conservative in financing matters, Jones has been a pioneer in design. He said he doesn't know of another builder in the area who owns a computer aided design system. Kevin Fox, his designer, has been with him almost from the start.

Jones takes a team approach to design. He talks with his own sales associates and consults with outside designers before finalizing plans. Then he copyrights his plans and legally challenges infringements.

"This protects our efforts," he said.

JONES CONCEDED that he can be tough when it comes to business.

"I'm considered in some areas to be very hard-nosed," he said. "We're very aggressive in terms of cost working with contractors and suppliers. But we do what we say we do. We pay our bills. Contractors can depend on us."

Pat Hansen has worked as a sales associate for Jones for six years.

"He's fair, very disciplined," Hansen said. "He works very hard and expects the same of everyone else. I'm the same personality. We get along."

Donald Pratt, a Troy builder and immediate past president of the Michigan Association of Home Builders, also had good things to say about Jones.

"Bob's a fantastic builder. He thinks things out thoroughly," Pratt said. "He knows the customers, knows the competition. To be a success today, and Bob is a success, you have to have an all-around knowledge and background of the business place."

"His designs capture what buyers want. Frankly, I'm sometimes envious of him," Pratt said.

Jones serves on the board of trustees for St. Bonaventure University, his alma mater, in Olean, N.Y., and on the quality assurance committee for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. He's also active in local, state and national builder associations.

Carole Lynn, Jones' wife works in the financial end of the business on sales closings and accounts payable.

Son Bobby also is learning the business as an assistant superintendent. Other children are Michelle, a school counselor, and Julie Smith and Steven, both students.

Architecture struggles against economic realities

By R.J. King
special writer

Architects both here and across the nation are feeling the ripple effect of a sour economy, but the financial picture is just one of many culprits.

As far back as 1986, when Congress passed the Tax Reform Act, which greatly altered qualifications and tax breaks, specifically for individual retirement accounts, a key source of revenues for banks to finance developments, the architectural profession was bracing itself for red ink.

Combine this with the savings and loan crisis, which caused severe downturns in the development markets of the South and Southwest, leading to foreclosures, and now resales at half price, and it's not difficult to see why the architectural profession is suffering.

So argues Robert Ziegelman, chairman of Luckenbach/Ziegelman and Partners in downtown Birmingham, who was recently selected president of the Detroit Chapter of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), typically a one-year term.

"In 1986, 30 percent of our firm's revenues came from office buildings and shopping centers which were built without a specific buyer or primary tenant in mind," said Ziegelman. "But after passage of the Tax Reform Act, that end of our business was wiped out overnight."

Robert Ziegelman encourages 'art' in architecture

tional financing used for those developments, and the savings and loan crisis dumped billions worth of real estate on the market at half price. Given that scenario, why would anyone build when they can buy at half price?"

AND SO THE THEORY follows, if there is little need for new buildings, there is little need for architects. By AIA estimates, the architectural industry has seen its annual revenues decline between 30 and 50 percent from the years following 1986, and in some markets, close to 25 percent of architects are said to be out of work.

So how have architectural firms survived? Many smaller firms haven't, and the trauma of pink slips and red ink has forced firms remaining to rethink the way they do business. One noticeable result is that small jobs architects may have politely declined in the past are no longer passed by.

"The architectural firms that are holding their own today are here due to diversification, or are deep into educational and health-care facilities, which are doing well," Ziegelman said, noting the firm recently completed design work on a 200,000-square-foot expansion of the Graduate School of Business Administration at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

"For our own firm, we've been able to increase our design work on very expensive homes in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. We've also stepped up work on light-industrial projects such as tech centers, and on the corporate end as well. But because of the economy, many projects are stretched out due to one reason or another."

WITH BANKS SHARPLY curtailing their real-estate lending, Ziegelman said many developers likewise have begun to eschew daring leaps of faith in favor of build-to-suit projects for a specific buyer or primary tenant. The result is something of a hybrid — the custom-designed office building, which, unlike similar projects of the past, often boasts separate entrances, lobbies and elevator banks by the lead tenant, or for clients who find the financing, buildings of their own.

Recent examples of this trend within Luckenbach/Ziegelman's portfolio includes the Michigan National Corp. headquarters in Farmington Hills, Westview Park in Southfield; part of the American Center master plan, and the corporate headquarters for the Handelman Co. in Troy, a large distributor of software, records, and audio and video tapes.

But while the industry is suffering from a host of outward pressures, many of which it did little to contribute to, Ziegelman said the profession is beginning to recognize the benefits of first-rate architecture, not only in the human factor but as a strong marketing tool as well.

Etkin paired with minority firm in mentorship role

A.J. Etkin Construction, Farmington Hills, has agreed to participate in a mentoring program sponsored by New Detroit's Partnership Plan.

Etkin will be paired with the minority-owned A-Mac Sales & Builders, a general contractor. The partnership formalizes a relationship between the two companies whose principals know each other.

Tom Landry, Etkin president, said he sees the mentoring program as "a means of insuring that the competition can compete successfully and fairly. It makes for a healthier industry."

A-Mac is headed by Andrew McLemore who said he hopes the partnership will help his company develop more private sector business.

Matt Schwanitz

Trerice Tosto has appointed Camille Cleveland of Bloomfield Township associate broker in its commercial office division. She will be responsible for tenant representation and lease negotiations for the firm's commercial office clients. She is the former managing attorney/assistant general counsel for Ellas Brothers Restaurants and prior to that was in private practice.

Matt Schwanitz of Bloomfield Township has been named a principal in the Rochester Hills firm of Giffels-Webster Engineers. His responsibilities include marketing, management of land planning and private developments, and wetlands and landscape architecture projects. He has been with the firm since 1989. Prior to that, he was managing partner of a Texas development company.

Brent Furniture, 1914 Telegraph, Bloomfield Hills, will host a seminar on leather 6-9 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 19, at the store. A factory representative will discuss how to buy leather furniture, determining quality in leather, what different grades mean, and care of leather furniture. Reservations must be made by Feb. 17 by calling 338-7716.

The Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan will conduct several seminars in February.

Representative from Catherine McAuley Health Systems and the law firm of Miller Canfield will discuss substance abuse in the work-

Darin Powers, president of the Powers Group, will address enhancing company growth and profitability by making the business customer driven from 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 13, at Penna's of Sterling Heights.

Construction procedures for single-family dwelling will be discussed by Chuck Breidenstein, director of construction technologies education for NCI Associates, 8:30-11 a.m. Friday, Feb. 14, at the Radisson Plaza, Southfield. His topics will include site selection, planning, surveys, permits, excavating, footings and foundations, floors, wall framing, roofing, insulation and dry wall for single family homes.

Plywood applications graded

Since 1905 when plywood was developed in St. John, Ore., it has changed little — but its use in house building has changed the design and structure of houses radically.

Here's a review to help you understand the types and applications of plywoods that are available:

Softwood-veneer plywood is most widely used in construction and industrial applications. It's made by cross-laminating an odd number of wood veneers such as pine, spruce, fir, and hemlock. Running the wood grains at right angles to each other gives plywood its strength. It comes in 4x8-foot panels with 1/2-inch, 3/4-inch, and 1-inch common thicknesses.

During manufacture, wood veneers are bonded together with an adhesive under a hot press. Depending on the adhesive used, the plywood is graded for interior or exterior use. Interior-grade plywood is made with moisture-resistant glue. Exterior-grade uses 100 percent waterproof glue.

Plywood is graded by the quality of the veneer used on the face and back surfaces, as well as by the type of adhesive.

The highest quality veneer grades are N and A. These have smooth, defect-free surfaces. Grades C and D are the lowest.

N-grade natural finish is all sapwood or heartwood free of open defects and with no more than six well-matched wood repairs per panel. A-grade is similar with no more than 18 neatly made repairs parallel to the grain.

B-grade has a solid surface with circular repair plugs and tight knots permitted to 1-inch diameter and minor splits allowed. C-grade (plugged) permits synthetic repairs, splits up to 1/2-inch wide and knotholes up to 1/2-inch diameter. C-grade (regular) allows tight knots and knotholes to 1 1/2-inch diameter plus synthetic repairs and defects that do not impair strength. D-grade permits knots and knotholes to 2 1/2-inch diameter, synthetic repairs and stitching repairs.

Some plywood and reconstituted panels are performance rated by the American Plywood Association. These are stamped with a number such as 24-16, which means they can be used in walls over studs on 24-inch centers and floors over 16-inch centers.

Hardwood-veneer plywood is a quality interior panel for furniture and cabinet construction. The face and back plies are hardwood such as birch, oak, lauan mahogany, walnut and ash with softwood interior plies.

Lumbercore plywood is the highest quality, with hardwood face and back laminated to a center core of hardwood strips. It's used for desk and table tops and comes in 4x10-foot panels 1/2-inch, 3/4-inch and 1-inch thick.

Medium-density overlay (MDO) is exterior plywood veneered with an opaque resin-treated fiber overlay suitable for painting. It's used for exterior signs and soffits as well as kitchen and bathroom cabinets. MDO exterior plywood siding is also available.

High-density overlay (HDO) is similar to MDO but tougher and more abrasion-resistant. It's used to build concrete forms and for counter tops and work benches. Both MDO and HDO come in 3/4-inch, 1-inch, 1 1/2-inch and 2-inch thickness.

Construction expo at Silverdome

Buyers of equipment, materials and supplies have the opportunity to keep current on changing technology in the building industry during an exposition Feb 12-13 sponsored by the Construction Association of Michigan.

Expo '92, CAM's eighth annual show, will take place 1-9 p.m. Wednesday and 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday at the Pontiac Silverdome.

"It's attended by anyone who will buy equipment or products that are necessary for construction — owners, developers, architects, engineers, contractors, suppliers and individuals looking for specific types of tools and equipment," said Brenda Zimmerman, spokeswoman for the association.

Tickets for the exposition can be obtained free in advance through CAM (567-5500). Tickets at the door will cost $10.

Upwards of 12,000 are expected to attend.

Several seminars also will be available at an additional charge of $35 for CAM members, $45 for non-members. Topics include tax strategies, contracts, quality control, surviving current economic times and lien laws. Again, specific details are available through CAM.

"With the economy so uncertain, people are looking for discounts and bargains on equipment and materials that are essential to their business," said Jim McLaughlin, director of expositions for CAM.

"Generally speaking, exhibitors offer reduced pricing during trade shows in order to close more deals in less time. For attendees, that translates into dollar savings," he added.

Ten projects voted by CAM members as outstanding examples of quality design and construction craftsmanship also will be displayed during Expo '92.

A.J. Etkin Construction of Farmington Hills, R.E. Dailey & Co. of Southfield, Payne-Hickey of Livonia, TMP Associates of Bloomfield Hills, Coquillard/Dundon/Peterson & Argenta of Southfield, and Hubbell, Roth & Clark of Bloomfield Hills were involved in some of those projects.

New products, ideas gleaned at show

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Serious convention-goers do more than socialize and party.

Just ask area builders and developers who recently attended the annual gathering of the National Association of Home Builders in Las Vegas.

Seminars on issues affecting the industry and exhibits of product lines were the big attractions.

"A big part of my time is land development," said Gary Shapiro, president of Ivanhoe Building Co. in West Bloomfield. "I met with national planners to talk about environmental issues — wetlands, woodlands."

"It was interesting looking at case studies on a national basis. It's very important for me now and in the future," Shapiro said. "The key to more affordable housing is higher density. To do that with environmental constraints is more difficult."

Paul Levine, president of The Irvine Group of Farmington Hills, said he was especially struck by a new soft bathtub on the market.

"Most tubs today are cast iron or steel," he said. "The new product isn't rubber, but if you push on it, it compresses and comes back again."

"It keeps water hot a lot longer and it's safer if a child were to fall in," Levine said. "It installs the same as a regular tub and it's the same price as a fiberglass whirlpool."

SEVERAL THINGS caught the attention of John Bolland Jr., vice president of a Troy building company.

"A lot of home automation was very strong this year — sound systems, intercom systems, heating and cooling systems," he said. "Some companies were even showing systems to control draperies."

"Another thing becoming important is closet systems. Some systems didn't even allow you to slide your clothes all the way across a hanger bar. Now there are some neat systems with hanger bars back. You can pretty well design a closet any way you want now."

Arthur Gerish, president of a Plymouth building company, said he was more interested in product, figuring that he could get tapes of the seminars.

"It seems like I always find new products out there that certainly will be serving the industry if not today, (then) tomorrow or the near future," he said.

"A LOT OF times, I'll see these exhibits and they might be a couple of years ahead of themselves. Manufacturers sometimes put out prototypes that aren't even in production yet."

Gerish said he was drawn to architectural features of some Pella windows and the attractiveness of Kohler plumbing fixtures.

Two seminars he did attend — designing houses at the more affordable end and builders saving for their own retirement — proved instructive, Gerish added.

Carol Lee, president of Five Star Construction of Livonia, said conventioners seemed to mix more this year in Vegas, probably do to the gambling element, than at last year's show in Atlanta.

"I talked to people from all over the country," she said. "People talked about things being down, but nobody made it seem as bad as everyone is saying," she said.

"The products, even though nothing sticks in my mind, it's good to see new things," Lee said. "Just so you know what's in the market."

Shapiro summarized, "It (convention) makes you focus on things you're doing. You pick up an idea here, an idea there."

Architecture suffers as business, as art

"I see two forces pulling on the industry today — one being the financial drain and the savings and loan crisis, and the other the undying cry for quality."

"Design is becoming much more important now that there's less work, and architects have time to really apply their craft."

AS A WAY OF a personal challenge during his term in office, Ziegelman said he would encourage colleagues to view the profession from the eyes of Europeans, who see architecture as one of art and event.

"So many people who travel to Europe are drawn not only by the designs of the past, but the present as well. The expansion of the Louvre (in Paris) is a classic example of that."

Still, Ziegelman, who has spent more than two decades within the profession, and at one time apprenticed under Minoru Yamasaki and Eero Saarinen, said in the last few years, American architecture has started to draw from European strengths, where office concrete and glass are being replaced with marble, bronze-fixture lobbies and carefully thought-out connections.

And he ruled against architects, as much as possible, basing designs on compromise and barter.

"Architecture in America today is a struggle that mirrors a client's double-edged role as a supporter of the arts and the financier of a cost-effective setting for their endeavors. My only wish is that we would embrace more of the former."

As for when the buildings might again rise with profitable regularity, and in turn renew growth within the architectural industry, Ziegelman projected a conservative estimate of between three and five years.

"It's really tough to say because you don't when the buildings left from the savings and loan crisis will be absorbed."

F A S H I O N A B L E WEDDINGS

Although couples have a 1-in-12 chance of tying the knot in any given month, June is the most popular month for nuptials, followed by August, May and July.

The fewest weddings take place in January, February and March, a national survey found.

So with the time at hand to round out plans for the height of the 1992 wedding season, the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers today presents this special bridal section.

We've taken a lively look at fashion trends that promise to help make the big day memorable.

Fashions help make fantasies come true

By Denise Lucas
special writer

In 1965, it was Julie Andrews who inspired brides-to-be with her regal bridal splendor in the Academy Award-winning film, "The Sound of Music."

Captivating Bo Derek became the silver screen "Bride of the Year" in the 1979 romantic comedy, "10."

This year's Hollywood bridal sweetheart is Kimberly Williams, co-starring with Steve Martin in the remake of the 1950s "Father of the Bride."

Every bride is the star and director of her own wedding dreams come true. Every fantasy the enamored bride has imagined from early childhood to shared secrets with her best friends in college will soon become a treasured reality.

According to Kris Bach, owner of The Bridal Basket in Livonia, carrying bridal apparel for the complete bridal party, "We're back to more traditional formal looks . . . black tuxs and tails, more attention to detail, cathedral trains, a very formal, classic look. This is because brides are older, better educated and have more spending dollars."

REFLECTIONS OF individual style are distinctively expressed as the betrothed maiden selects her wedding dress. Choices of traditional Renaissance gowns, romantic Victorian looks, understated sophisticated styles and dramatic contemporary gowns give the '90s bride a variety of choices to express her timeless beauty and magical dreams.

Selecting your gown style is a matter of personal preference. It should also reflect the location and mood of your wedding (formal, informal, cathedral, garden, chapel, historical site, lake side or gazebo), with a strong emphasis on a gown that will complement your figure and body proportions.

You may also want to consider this year's bridal trends. Bridal fashion for '92 is significantly influenced by current couture designs. Many of the haute couture designers are now crossing over the bridal threshold . . . Bob Mackie, Carolina Herrera, Scassi and Victor Costa, to name a few.

Laura Rubin, director of Alvin's Brides in Birmingham, reports, "Our store is experiencing this year a much more elegant, less fussy bride . . . with less beading on the gown. We're seeing simple, elegant, yet romantic gowns.

"Also, a lot of tulle (that fairy tale, Tinkerbell, Good Witch of the North look). Lace, beading and pearls are detailed more on the veil, while headpieces are moving from the forehead to the crown or back of the head."

BRIDESMAIDS ALSO are making new strides down the aisle.

"The bridesmaids' choice for '92 is the sophisticated, formal two-piece suit . . . a look that can be worn again," said Debbie Pollak-Zimberg, co-owner of Pollak's Bridal in West Bloomfield and Rochester.

Fashions help fulfill dreams

And what should 1992's fashion conscience wedding co-star be donning?

"New for '92, black satin, shawl collar, double breasted, black tuxedo with a basic wing tip tuxedo shirt and a tie and cummerbund of choice . . . perhaps royal blue, fuschia or purple solids, paisley or color-splashed black," said Deanna Pascaretti, manager at Russell's Tuxedos in Southfield.

"Color me important" is the fashion statement the mothers of the bridal couple will be making this year.

"Butterscotch yellow, peach, crystal aqua, open blue, light sashet, ming green, violet, coral, French rose, mauve and buttercup are on the color palette, as tea-length chiffon dresses (three inches below the knee) will be worn by the mother of the bride (and groom)," suggests Lena Suggs, of Lena of Troy. "Also, georgette, brocade, chiffon skirts with brocade jackets, and mushroom-pleating accented with pearl or rhinestone buttons."

LIKE SELECTING a lifetime mate, choosing a reputable bridal salon is consequential. Know your stores. Ask for recommendations from friends and research the store's reputation. Bridal gowns must be selected, ordered, fitted and altered. You must feel confident you will receive the friendly, competent service you need while planning your unforgettable day.

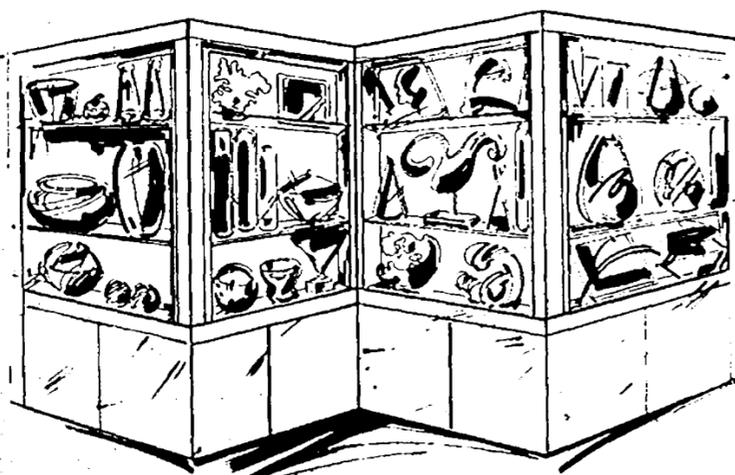

"What's most important is not what you buy, but where you buy," says Kris Bach of The Bridal Basket. "You're not buying a blouse off the rack, you're entering a six-month to one-year relationship when you order your bridal gown."

"Soothing frayed nerves, determining priorities and assisting with important details are just a small part of wedding preparations," added Kitt Spoelstra of Jacobson's.

Remember, a marriage made in heaven also can be the wedding from hell if proper planning and details are not attended to.

Whether your celebration of love will be an intimate occasion or a grand affair, you and your fiance are not only the billboard stars of this spectacular production, but you also write the script.

Wedding insights

● GOLDEN ADVICE

Bride's & Your New Home magazine interviewed six couples who have been married longer than 50 years for their tips for a long, happy marriage. Sincerity, kindness, trust and honesty were mentioned most often, although two husbands said it helps to let wives have their way.

● TIMELY TRENDS

Weddings are keeping up with the times in a lot of ways. More women are popping the questions. Invitations are embellished with computerized calligraphy, and co-ed shower parties are the rage. Regional food is being served up at receptions, from New England clamcakes to Cajun feast.

● POP THE QUESTION

The tradition of a suitor on bended knee — with ring in hand — asking for his beloved's hand in marriage is fading fast, according to a Korbel Champagne survey. Only 10 percent of men drop to their knees these days; 36 percent have the ring in hand.

Custom gowns increase choices

By Debbie Wallie Landau
special writer

CUSTOM BRIDAL salons as well as quality fabric stores can assist a bride-to-be with designing and creating the dress of her dreams.

Debbie Pollak-Zimberg of Pollak's Bridal in West Bloomfield and Rochester, believes "there's the right dress out there for everyone. Some women are more articulate about describing what they want. Often we can suggest something, a particular design or perhaps just one change in a design they have seen to better flatter their figure and their skin tones."

Her salon, which offers both retail and custom dresses, doesn't charge for consultations. "We urge brides to allow us four to six months for custom orders. If an engagement is shorter, we can alter or change a dress that is on one of our racks."

POLLAK'S DEALS with fabric houses out of New York and Paris as well as Michigan. Custom dresses start in the $800-$1,000 range. The retail line ranges from as low as $300 on up to about $3,000.

Pollak-Zimberg and her mother, Madge Pollak, who is co-owner, specialize in the couture look. The salon's own line of bridal gowns is called "Creations by Pollak's."

"What we strive for are designs that are lovely and chic with beautiful detail. That doesn't necessarily mean heavily beaded," said Pollak-Zimberg. "It can be a very understated, sophisticated look."

Stewart Fabrics in Birmingham has many pleased customers not only in Michigan, but Ohio, Indiana and Ontario.

"They know we will send fabric swatches and large orders," said Rod Grifford, proprietor. "We do a lot of special orders, so future brides can rest assured that if a desired lace or satin or silk is not in the store in the right quantity, we will get it for her."

Stewart has been assisting bridal parties for decades, not only with quality fabrics in every price range but with a referral list of local dressmakers who can do the actual custom work. It also has a sewing room on the premises for brides who want to sew their own dresses or make parts of their own dresses or headpieces.

"WE CAN assist brides with widely varying price ranges," Grifford said. "If a young lady loves lace but is on a tight budget, we can steer her to a lovely domestic lace. Or, contrarily, we can offer French Alencon, too."

"What I would like to stress to brides," Grifford said, "is to be openminded. If you love the look of silk, know that you can also obtain it with, for example, a good tissue taffeta. If you're looking for satin for bridesmaids' dresses, you can purchase fabric for $5.98 or jump to peau de soie for $36."

Stewart regularly conducts seminars on creating headpieces and bridal gowns. Sewing classes to make them are offered, too.

TOBY HABERMAN, of Haberman Fabrics in Royal Oak, urges brides considering a custom dress "to try on different styles at the very best bridal salons and come in with pictures. Everyone working in our store is a seamstress, and we can offer woman creative perspectives on designs they like but might need to modify."

Changing a neckline, a color or a waistline can make a big difference in suiting a dress to an individual, she said.

"What's wonderful is you don't have to be an heiress to have a custom bridal gown. There is such an infinite variety of fabrics to choose from that no woman has to feel she has compromised her 'dream dress.'"

It's possible, for example, to recreate a gorgeous $2,500 or $3,000 designer gown for about $1,000.

"Don't get misled by fabric names," Haberman said. "Whether you want a romantic Southern Belle look or a sleek contemporary design, there are fabrics in your range to accomplish your goal."

LIKE STEWART Fabrics, Haberman Fabrics offers various programs to educate brides about the wide choices and styles available to them.

For example, Haberman Fabrics offers bridal headpiece classes. "In the first week, different techniques are demonstrated. In the second session, students bring in materials and work on them," Haberman said.

Dominant right now is the tiara look. The contemporary look of a headband with floral sprays sporting beads and/or lace is also popular.

"We sell parts to make flowers for a spray," Haberman said. "We can show you to gather up veiling to get the look you want."

IN THE five years since Kathleen Kolacz and Michele Merrifield, both dressmakers, opened Specialite de Bridal in Plymouth, Kolacz has observed, "You can't talk a bride out of what she wants. But if you don't drastically change her vision, she will be receptive to slight modifications."

"We can do an informal dress for several hundred dollars," Kolacz said, "or an elaborate design for thousands. The main thing is the bride should allow us a good four months — from creation stage, through beginning and final fittings."

In silk satin, an off-the-shoulder gown detailed with rosettes, a fitted bodice and full skirt extending to a chapel train. Note the covered buttons down back of train. $1,200 made to size specification. At Pollak's Bridal, West Bloomfield and Rochester.

LINDA AKOUR

Specialite de Bridal in Plymouth offers this custom satin gown (about $1,500 to $1,700). The gown includes a detachable train, heavily beaded sequin and Alencon lace and poul sleeves. The lace-covered headpiece (about $225), made of the same fabric, features fabric roses. It includes a fingertip veil.

"Most brides come to us because they can't find what they want in ready made bridal gowns," Kolacz said. "We also make dresses for attendants and mothers of the bride and groom. The latter emphatically do not want an 'old lady's dress' made of chiffon. Bridesmaids want a dress they can wear again. One way we accomplish this is creating a more tailored, two-piece look that will carry them through future special occasions."

In addition to being able to modify designs brides have seen elsewhere, a good custom salon will be able to advise on appropriate colors and styles, Kolacz added.

*Your Taste is Impeccable...
Ours is Unforgettable!*

Traditionally, Wedding Cakes have been nice to look at but nothing special to eat. Our Wedding Cakes put an end to that!

Tantalize your guests with flavors such as chocolate mousse, strawberry, kahlua, lemon, chocolate Chambord torte, or one of our many cheesecake flavors.

Our Wedding Cakes are made from the finest chocolates, butter, fresh fruits and creams. To enhance the subtle flavors, we frost your selections with lightly sweetened fresh whipping cream.

We extend an invitation to the bride and groom to make an appointment for a private wedding consultation and complimentary sample tasting.
