School officials question plan

The Wayne-Westland and Livonia school superintendents agree that Gov. Engler's proposal for school reform and financing doesn't address the issue of equity, with some districts spending much more per pupil than others.

BY LEONARD POGER
Editor

Wayne-Westland and Livonia school superintendents, who represent the opposites of the school funding debate, agree that Gov. John Engler's proposed educational reform plan troubles them.

For different reasons, the proposal Engler revealed Tuesday in an address to the state Legislature worries both Larry Thomas, of the Wayne-Westland district, and Joseph Marinelli, his counterpart in Livonia. Thomas, whose district includes most of Westland, said Tuesday afternoon that the proposal "doesn't really help us that much."

In addition, the plan "doesn't resolve the equity problem" of some districts getting more money per pupil than others.

Currently, the Wayne-Westland district spends about $4,200 per pupil, down from last year's $4,800. Main reasons for the drop, he said, were the voters' rejection of a 7.75-mill tax increase last April 5 and the required rollback of the millage rate for operations by another 2.25 mills. He noted that amounts to 10 less mills (or $10 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) for the district, second largest in Wayne County.

The district has a special election scheduled for Monday, Oct. 18, to seek approval of a 6-mill levy for one year.

The current tax rate is $37.12 per $1,000 of SEV, Thomas said.

He noted that the district in one year lost 21 percent of its revenues. Currently, its operating budget is about $73 million, down from $95 million the year before.

Mayor fears cuts

BY LEONARD POGER
Editor

Mayor Robert Thomas liked what Gov. John Engler had to say Tuesday about reforming the state's educational system, but he worries about potential cuts in the city's $6.9 million of state-shared revenues.

The mayor disagrees with the governor's suggestion that cities should ask voters to raise property tax rates if they need more funds to pay for municipal services.

To make sure the state Legislature gets the message about protecting state-shared revenues, Thomas will join with other mayors and Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara Oct. 13 in Lansing to protest any cuts from that source.

Thomas noted that Engler didn't mention state-shared revenues in his address to the Legislature Tuesday afternoon, but he said it's a "wrong idea" to raise city millages as school millages are eliminated.

Engler proposed a 16-mill property tax levy on all Michigan businesses, a 2-cents increase in the state sales tax and a 50-cents-per-pack increase on cigarettes. He specifically refused to consider an increase in the state's personal income tax.

Concerning the educational reform and tax hikes proposals, Thomas said that "at first glance, I have no major problem" and that Engler is "going in the right direction."

The mayor said he always favored a sales tax increase, a part of the governor's school financing plan that must be approved by voters.

"But I don't see why the state should penalize municipalities to fund education," he said in reference to the fear of cuts in state-shared revenues.

"The school plan is good but I want to see the rest of it," the mayor said.

He particularly liked the governor's ideas for reforming schools, such as more competition.

"We shouldn't reward inefficiencies," the mayor said.

Residents rebuild stolen Halloween display

Dawn McDonough didn't let Halloween "creeps" spoil her favorite holiday.

She also put together a new front

Parents' efforts keep buses rolling for students

By MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

Buses for two popular high school programs are still running this fall, thanks to parents who "gave away" hats and so far have raised $2,075 for the Livonia school district, which includes the northern section of Westland.

"These students have had transportation from day one because we had faith the enthusiasm of this group of parents would carry the day," said Ken Watson, director of secondary education.

Parents from both the Math, Science, Computer (MSC) program and the Creative and Performing Arts (CAPA) program recently told administrators they had in one month's time raised two-thirds of the $3,000 needed to keep the buses running this year.

"The parents did so by giving a hat to anyone who wrote a check for at least $25, made it out to the Livonia Public Schools, and designated the money for CAPA and MSC busing."

"This is a source of funds you can count on," said David Osborne, president of the MSC parents' group. "These are voluntary contributions from parents. We want a bus to take CAPA and MSC students home at the end of the day. We are not just being benevolent."

Because the parents don't have a tax license or a tax-exempt status, and because they are not registered as a charitable organization, they couldn't engage in fund-raising.

So far, 71 parents have received a hat which has the following words printed on it: MSC/CAPA: Education Worth Fighting For.

Last year, for economic reasons, the district asked all incoming MSC and CAPA students to attend Churchill High full time.

By concentrating the MSC and CAPA classes in a single Livonia school, the programs operate with fuller classes and scheduling is made easier.

However, students who last year lived in the Franklin or Stevenson school areas were bused from Churchill to their home school at the end of the school day.

As a cost-cutting measure, this after-school busing was cut in the 1993-94 budget.

Anyone interested in making a donation should contact Osborne at 464-7002.

McDonough told the Observer that she received a phone call from a woman who tipped her off that the original display was stolen to sell for money to buy drugs.

McDonough was thankful that the theft was random and not by someone in the neighborhood since there were several bike thefts near her the same week the Halloween display was stolen. After the display was reported stolen, McDonough said she received a "great response" from neighbors as well as strangers, who stopped her while shopping at Westland Center.

Franklin band wins plaudits

The Franklin High School Marching Band, which includes students in the northern section of Westland, earned first place in Flight I competition Saturday at the Trenton Invitational.

In addition to the top honor, the band also captured four caption awards. Caption awards are won by bands with the highest scores in each category. Franklin caption awards were: best winds; best percussion; best marching and maneuvering; and best color guard.

The band directed by Kris Jasin will play this weekend for the homecoming parade on Friday afternoon and the homecoming football game which starts 1 p.m. Saturday.

The next competition will be Sunday, Oct. 10, at the Flushing/Governor's Trophy Competition in Flint's Atwood Stadium.

Flights in this year's competition put Franklin in the same group as other large schools, regardless of the number of members in the band. The band has 67 musicians.

Vets to chime wedding bells

By TEDD SCHNEIDER
STAFF WRITER

The Livonia chapter of Disabled American Veterans has a new home and a new calling — the wedding business.

And, as visitors will find out beginning Sunday, the two go hand-in-hand.

Let us explain: First of all, DAV Chapter 114 isn't giving up any of its traditional focus — making life more comfortable for U.S. service personnel (and their widows/families) who suffer wartime injuries or illnesses.

But the service organization is moving into a vacant church on the northeast corner of Newburgh and Joy. Renovations will include a spiffed-up chapel the vets plan to rent out for weddings, christenings and other occasions as well as an adjacent banquet hall.

The former All Saints Lutheran Church will be one of the more unusual DAV buildings and the first permanent home for the 1,400-member group, said Don McLean, chapter adjutant.

The chapter has been meeting for the last 20 years at its "temporary" digs, the city senior citizens center at Five Mile and Farmington.

"Every time we looked at a property something went wrong," McLean said Monday as workers put the finishing touches in place for Sunday's dedication ceremony and open house.

Zoning, title and other problems killed four or five previous DAV deals, McLean said. As the chapter grew to one of the largest in southeast Michigan and one of the most active in the state, members were beginning to wonder whether they would ever have a place to call their own.

Until last September, that's when a real estate agent mentioned the former church, which was vacated in the late 1980s when the congregation moved.

"The chapel was one of the selling points," McLean, a Livonia resident, said.

The chapel and hall, both of which seat 190, will make it possible for people to hold their entire event inside the building, convenient and a real plus during the winter season, McLean said.

The group has contracted with Szedgi's catering and Magic Coach Limousine for tie-ins with rentals.

Walter Prpich, chapter manager, will handle bookings for the chapel and hall.

A considerable amount of cash and a lot of sweat equity have gone into the project.

While the building's exterior was in relatively good shape, the interior needed a lot of work, McLean said. About $20,000 has been spent on new heating/air conditioning, plumbing fixtures, cabinets, tile and just plain cleanup work.

A full-time crew of eight has worked for months, supplemented by volunteers whenever they had time.

The result is a new/old building that will fulfill chapter needs from meetings, to social events to fundraisers.

It even has office space, a "luxury" that in previous years was relegated to a few drawers in someone else's desk, McLean said. One thing the DAV won't be moving to its new home is its weekly Bingo game, according to McLean.

The game will continue on Thursdays at the VFW Hall on Middlebelt at Seven Mile.

McLean said Bingo was never played at the church and the chapter agreed to the city's requirement to continue that policy. Besides, he added, most Bingo players don't like to change their routines and "why bother a good thing."

DAV Chapter 114 will hold a dedication and open house for its new home beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday. Refreshments will be served and the Churchill High School marching band will provide music. All members are invited and the public is free to attend. For information call the hall at 522-9003.

School's technical lab prepares kids for 21st century

BY MARIE CHESTNEY

STAFF WRITER

Even the air smells brand new in Room 47 at Emerson Middle School. Walk into the former woodshop and you'd swear you were in a modern office, complete with carpeting, individual work stations, computers and other high-tech equipment.

Spiffy, neat and nice, Emerson's Technology Lab is Livonia Public Schools' latest effort in preparing students for the workplace of the 21st Century. Emerson, on W. Chicago east of Middlebelt, is the second middle school in the district, which serves the northern section of Westland; a pilot lab opened last year at Holmes.

"The room is aesthetically pleasing and meant to be comfortable for both boys and girls," said Douglas Brenton, Emerson technology teacher who helped design the lab.

"When the students are in their modules, it's like being in a room by themselves; it's just like they're in the business world."

The district is putting technology labs in its middle and high schools because educators believe workers in the next century must be as adept in the use of technology as they are in reading and math.

The labs are being paid for through a technology bond issue approved by residents.

Emerson's lab cost $60,000, Brenton said. The money was spent mostly on equipment; the building of the modules and other construction work was done by employees.

The first Emerson students to use the new lab are this year's eighth graders. During the semester, students working with a partner move from module to module, spending 10 days studying eight different areas of technology.

The students choose from the following: aerospace, applied physics, audio/video, computer-aided drafting, computer fundamentals, drafting, electronic publishing, electronics, engineering, fluid power, material and processes, research and development, robotics and technology of tomorrow.

"Welcome to Technology Education," reads the sign in front of the room. Hanging over each

'The room is aesthetically pleasing and meant to be comfortable for both boys and girls.'

- Douglas Brenton

module is a sign telling what subject is taught there.

Each module has its own red light, which students flick on when they need help.

"I am a facilitator," Brenton said. "Instead of lecturing, I assist them as they work through a problem. If they can't figure something out, they turn on the red light. I then go over the material with them. It's self-teaching; they work at their own pace. This concept encourages cooperative learning, problem-solving and teamwork."

The students read from a lesson plan and follow printed directions, just as employers expect workers to read and follow directions, Brenton said.

In most of the modules, students end their 10 days of study with a finished product. In research and development, it's a race car; in aerospace, a rocket; in audio/video, an audio tape and five minute video presentation; in computer-aided drafting, a floor plan; in electronic publishing, newsletters and greeting cards; in engineering, a model bridge.

"The kids have much more to do than they can accomplish in the 10-day period," Brenton said.

When each semester ends, Brenton expects:

■ Students will have briefly explored at least eight areas of technology, becoming literate in the areas studied.

■ Students will want to take more technical and scientific courses in high school.

■ Students will have learned how to use the latest technological tools, such as videos and computers, to study the various areas of technology.

■ Students will have learned how important reading, math and science skills are for the everyday workplace.

"If they put it all together they'll be successful here and in the world of work," Brenton said.

"They need these skills to survive in the 21st Century. Traditional industrial arts programs were not meeting the needs of today's students. We're not teaching the same old thing, but we also can't take out the language (of industrial arts). We've just brought it up-to-date, with computers. There are everyday, practical applications for all the things we do in the technology program."

Space adventure: Working their way through the aerospace module in Emerson's new technology program are eighth graders Joe Deptula and Mike Cooper.

Problem solvers: Emerson eighth grader Keri Hofmeister and Emerson teacher Douglas Brenton work together to solve a robotics problem in the school's new technology lab.

Ex-Lion Utley inspires Brother Rice students

BY GREG KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Mike Utley said he rarely swears, but he did as he threw the doctor out of his hospital room.

The doctor had just told the 6-foot-6, 310 pound Detroit Lions' offensive guard that he would never walk again. Utley had broken his neck in a game against the Los Angeles Rams and was paralyzed from the neck down.

That was in November 1991.

On Tuesday, Utley rolled his wheelchair into the auditorium of Brother Rice High School in Bloomfield Township to deliver the message to students that any obstacle can be overcome if you try hard enough.

"I couldn't even brush my teeth," Utley said about his condition after the accident. Now he has regained most of the use of his arms, which are still as thick as tree limbs. And his broad upper body dwarfs his wheelchair.

He can lift his body up off the chair seat and extend his legs straight out — a major accomplishment for a man who once had to wear a "Frankenstein" brace to hold his head in place.

Utley has been making painful progress to reach his goal of walking again. He knows he will never play football again, but he is just as sure that some day he will step back out on a football field as a coach.

"I need less and less help every day," Utley told the 650 students in the auditorium.

Utley said he doesn't like asking for help and it was tough for a man of his size to become so dependent on others to do things most of us take for granted.

But he never gave up. That was a point he stressed to the Brother Rice students.

"I go a million miles an hour. If I fall down, I get back up," said Utley. He has the bruises to prove it. He has matching scrapes on his knees from a recent spill from his wheelchair.

He gets around a lot despite being chairbound. He even has tackled stairs.

"Going down a flight of stairs is not the hard part. The landing is," said Utley. "As an athlete, I say I've been hurt before and I'll come back again."

Since the accident, Utley has been undergoing intensive physical therapy at a spinal injury clinic in Denver, and is becoming a national symbol of determination.

Utley has been going around the country promoting the Mike Utley Foundation, an organization dedicated to raising money for spinal cord injury research.

His trademark is a raised thumb, which reflects his positive attitude.

"Thumbs up means being the best you can be," said Utley. "Never look back. You have to keep pushing."

He said he misses football "terribly." He added: "I miss it now more than I did the first year (after the injury). Every year I don't play is going to be harder."

Utley said he has down days like anyone else, but he set goals for himself and is working to reach them.

"Don't quit," Utley said. "Not with just injuries, but with anything you're challenged with."

The advice had special meaning for Brother Rice junior Trip Finnegan. His cousin, Steven Vankerchove, was injured in an auto accident last August and broke his neck like Utley.

Finnegan asked Utley to visit Vankerchove, who is in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. Coincidentally, Utley and Vankerchove's doctors were at the Lions game Sunday and had asked Utley then to visit him, and Utley had already agreed.

"I think it will be a big boost," said Finnegan, who added he was surprised by Utley's progress. "It's just incredible what he's done."

Senior Chris Sanders said he was impressed with Utley.

"He's a good man. He represents everything that's good about the game," said Sanders, who plays on the Brother Rice Warriors football team.

Sanders said he has never been injured in a football game, "but you know that an injury can happen. It's in the back of your mind."

"He gave a great talk," said senior Scott Everly. "He showed that no matter how bad you get set back, you can get fired up."

The students gave Utley a standing ovation at the end of the talk. Most paused to shake his hand as they filed out of the gym. Some asked for his autograph.

"Coming to school is an honor," said Utley. "People build on things that are positive."

First Citizen deadline nears

There are nearly three weeks left for groups or individuals to nominate candidates for the eighth annual Westland First Citizen community service award.

The person to be recognized for outstanding volunteer service will be honored at the Westland Chamber of Commerce's monthly luncheon program on Tuesday, Nov. 9, at the Hellenic Cultural Center, on Joy east of Newburgh.

The award's co-sponsors, the chamber and the Westland Observer, have set a deadline of 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Madeleine Schroeder, last year's First Citizen, will automatically serve on this fall's judging panel. Joining her will be Gwen Wesley of North Brothers Ford, David Ambrester of Cintas, and Mickey Grech of Mini Micro Consulting Services.

The First Citizen program was initiated in 1986 by the Westland Observer to honor a person for overall community service.

Since then, the award winners have represented a variety of fields including education, public safety, children's services, business and community service organizations.

Besides Schroeder, past winners were Joseph Benyo, Thomas Brown, Sam Corrado, Linda Pratt, Sharon Scott and Margaret Harlow.

To be nominated, persons must be involved in a volunteer leadership role with one or more organizations which have an impact on the community in general or a segment of the community or programs which help those persons, such as children, recreation, education, handicapped people or public safety.

There is no residency requirement or minimum age.

Following past tradition, Schroeder, last year's First Citizen, will serve on the four-member judging panel that will select the 1993 winner.

Nominations may be mailed to the Westland Observer Editorial Department, First Citizen Award, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Persons using a fax machine should direct the nominations to Leonard Poger, 591-7279.

Nominations should include as much specific information on the nominee's impact on the community or a segment of the city's population as possible.

Under Engler's proposal, districts would receive $4,500 per pupil plus a 1-percent annual increase.

State funding for public schools would come from several sources, but none from property taxes on primary residences.

But Thomas, in his second year as the district's superintendent, said he wants to see more details of the governor's proposals to reform education and the way public schools are funded.

He felt that there would be changes in the proposal after it moves through the state Legislature.

But Thomas was pleased with one key section of Engler's plan: Local districts would be getting out of the millage election business.

Marinelli, whose district serves the northern portion of Westland, said he likes many elements of the school reform plan, especially empowerment of students, more money for early childhood education, and curriculum improvements.

On Engler's proposal to allow parents to enroll their children in non-neighborhood schools, Marinelli noted that the Livonia district provides that option and provides transportation.

But the superintendent has mixed feelings about the financial part of school financing.

Although the Engler proposal would give each district $4,500 per pupil, that would be far below the $5,900 figure now spent by Livonia.

Marinelli noted that most districts in southeast Michigan spend more than $4,500 per pupil and all Engler is doing is bringing the low-spending districts up to the $4,500 level.

Many outstate districts spend less since residents are unwilling to pay a higher millage rate.

Engler's plan doesn't address the equity problem between low- and high-valuation districts, he said.

Another problem is the limit of 1-percent increases in state support and the possibility that voters may reject the proposed increase in the state sales tax.

He also sees another problem: instability of planning a school budget with no percentage increase determined beyond the first year of the program.

Without the option of an enrichment millage, Livonia may have to reduce its educational programs and services.

While Marinelli supports Engler's educational goals and standards, which the state has a right to set, he feels the governor shouldn't do it at the expense of school districts like Livonia.

On a statewide basis, Marinelli said the state is $300 million short of replacing the money lost by elimination of local property taxes for school operations.

John Glenn homecoming Friday

Five senior girls have been nominated for John Glenn High School homecoming queen. The queen will be crowned during halftime of Friday night's football game.

The five, nominated by Glenn students, are Christi Wrybkowski, Jackie Oxford, Kelly Hamrick, Jamie Sulek and Mandy Moore.

The school's annual homecoming week began Monday with a "season of change" theme, with students wearing summer beach clothing. During the remainder of the week, students observed hat day, college day, held class competitions, "bum day" with students wearing old jeans, sweaters and slippers, and concluded with a parade Friday night and dance Saturday night.

The parade will assemble at 5:45 p.m. at Stottlmyer School and start at 6:30 p.m. The football game will begin at 7:45 p.m. with Plymouth Salem facing the Rockets.

The dance will be 7-9:30 p.m. Saturday in the school gym.

A new dimension of this year's homecoming will be a special "Kids Helping Kids" community service project, said Michael Bartley, a new assistant principal at the school.

The project, designed to help elementary school students in the district, will have Glenn High contributions support a variety of educational activities, he said.

Some planned activities will include cross-aged tutoring and mentoring, textbook purchases and food baskets.

Developed by the school's Student Council, the project has voluntary student contributions allowing sophomore, junior and senior classes the chance to provide assistance to elementary schools.

Local legislators react to Engler's school reform plan

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Tax differences can be ironed out, but Gov. John Engler's plan for non-union "charter schools" is in big trouble with some members of the Michigan Legislature.

"Buzz words," scoffed Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, chairman of both the House Education Committee and a Democratic task force on school reform. "Our survey showed 74 percent don't want to use public tax dollars to fund charter schools. The voucher plan may drain taxes into elitist schools."

Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland, disagrees with the concept of charter schools.

"Why can't we just do a better job with the public school system that we already have?" said Barns.

Barns, however, liked Engler's call for drug-free, weapon-free schools.

"I hope he'll support the funding necessary to keep our schools drug-free and weapon-free," added Barns.

"We're not going to toe the line," said Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, whose district includes part of Livonia. "We're going to do what's best for our children."

"The governor has been consistently wrong," said Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills.

Faxon and a group of Oakland County Democrats this week will launch a petition drive to repeal PA-145, the law that eliminated school property taxes. CARE (Citizens Alliance for Responsible Education) can be reached in Farmington Hills at (313) 478-0942, fax (313) 473-6441.

State Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, said the governor's proposals "are strong starting points to true school reform."

"I'm pleased that the governor has recognized that educating our children must be the No. 1 priority in our state. It was also good to

'It was also good to see that he will not be asking school districts like Livonia, Northville, Redford and Plymouth-Canton to sacrifice so that schools at the bottom can be brought up.'

Engler plan stresses 'choice'

STAFF WRITER

Gov. John Engler Tuesday came out swinging against public schools as a failure, a "gulag," a "monopoly," a "Berlin wall," the "company store . . . holding kids hostage" as he advocated competition through charter schools.

The first-term governor spoke to a national television audience as well as 148 legislators. He said local school districts should be empowered to grant charters to groups of teachers, a business or other entities to operate a school specializing in math, history, the arts, technology or even preschool.

Charter schools would be free from "bureaucratic rules" such as dealing with unions or using certified teachers, he said.

"No public school teacher should be compelled to be in the union to teach in the classroom," said Engler to prolonged Republican applause. House Democrats, many with teachers union leaders as their floor guests, sat in stony silence.

The House Taxation Committee will hear public testimony three times next week: 10 a.m. to noon Wednesday, Oct. 13; 1:30 to 5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 15; and 9 a.m. onward on Monday, Oct. 18, in the State Capitol. GOP co-chair Willis Bullard of Milford announced.

To pay for the $7 billion in local school property taxes which Engler and the Legislature wiped out in July, Engler proposed:

■ No income tax hike — OK with Republicans, unacceptable for Democrats.

■ A statewide business property tax of 16 mills — a stronger version of the tax base sharing plan that suburban schools bitterly resisted in court — OK with both parties this time.

■ A 16-mill property tax on second homes and non-residents' homes — fair to both parties.

■ A 0.5 percent hike in the single business tax rate (now 2.35 percent) — not overly objectionable.

■ A 4 percent tax on homestead transfers — no immediate reaction but probably facing a major fight from real estate agents.

■ A 50 cents-a-pack hike in the cigarette tax and other tobacco taxes — no audible objections.

The cornerstone of Engler's plan is a 2 percent hike (to 6 percent) in the sales tax. He asked for a Feb. 8 special election on this item.

That ballot proposal also would raise the Headlee amendment's limitation on state taxes as a percentage of income.

Even if Engler's plan were to pass unchanged, the state would be $300 million short of replacing the repealed property taxes. He proposed cost-saving measures such as competitive bidding on school district health insurance, privatizing and cutting administrative costs.

The governor proposed a three-tier system for school funding: (1) Every district would be guaranteed at least $4,500 per pupil; (2) schools already spending $4,501 to $6,500 would be "held harmless"; and (3) the 35 school districts spending more than $6,500 would be allowed to ask voters for local property taxes.

Work begins to restore mill's original condition

By RALPH R. ECHTINAW, STAFF WRITER

The resurrection of Nankin Mills is under way.

Armed with a $750,000 state grant and $450,000 from an insurance payment, Wayne County parks officials have embarked on a $1.5-million renovation and addition to the 130-year-old mill on the Middle Rouge Parkway in Westland.

By this time next year, the mill ought to be back in nearly its original condition, complete with expanded annex and three-story companion building.

Back in 1986, there was talk about a millage for the parks system or perhaps joining the Huron-Clinton Metroparks organization. But since Hurley Coleman Jr. took over the directorship in 1989, the parks staff has gone all out for federal and state grants for building projects.

Coleman said that Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara has directed him to take every opportunity to develop county parks.

The parks staff took the challenge to heart and since then a marina was built at Elizabeth Park in Trenton, Newburgh Pointe Station in Livonia is undergoing a massive renovation, property was added to the Holliday Nature Preserve, and Hines Drive bike paths have been repaired and extended.

The Nankin Mills project began last week when employees of Southridge Construction of Redford Township began removing fixtures from the building.

Once they're finished, said parks deputy director Dan Navarre, the mill will be as close to original as one can make it and still have heat and electricity.

A pamphlet available at the parks office gives an account of the mill's composition:

"The building's structure is supported by massive sycamore beams 12 inches thick. The rough-finished beams were fashioned by hand from logs shaped by crosscut saw and finished with broadaxes and planes. Sycamore is only rarely found as a building material, and is even more unusual because Wayne County is at

Anthem singer conquers shyness, wows hockey crowd

By TIM SMITH
STAFF WRITER

Katie Cavalieri is only 9 years old. But with strong family values as her bedrock, the perky fourth-grader already has accomplished more than some do in an entire lifetime.

For starters, she's an accomplished anthem singer, performing before crowds of up to 20,000 people. Last week, she sang the Canadian national anthem and "God Bless America" before the

When she stepped out onto the ice — wearing her No. 14 Junior Wings jersey, complete with "CAVALIERI" in block letters across the top — the throng of more than 9,900 rose as one. It almost seemed like a human curtain was drawn all around her.

"I close my eyes when I sing," said Katie, asked about how she is able to perform in front of such large audiences "without a hint of anxiety. 'I don't think about it.'"

That kind of focus undoubtedly has also helped Katie rack up other early accomplishments, including acting for Paper Bag Productions, a professional children's theatre, and getting a scholarship this summer to the Interlochen Center for the Arts, where she honed her skills as a dancer and cellist. Most of the $1,900 scholarship was picked up by the Compuware-sponsored Junior Wings, who hired Katie in 1992 to sing before every home game.

But if the granddaughter of former Detroit Red Wings executive vice president Lincoln Cavalieri Sr. wavers, however, family members and friends are there to hold her up. That's where mom Geria Cavalieri and Junior Wings executive Jim Rutherford (yes, the former NHL goalie) come in.

Special bond

Those who attend Junior Wings games usually see Katie crooning an anthem or two, depending on whether the opponent is from Canada.

But what they probably don't see, just off the ice, is the tender moment she shares with her mother, a 1976 graduate of Southfield-Lathrup High School. (Katie's dad, Lincoln Jr., graduated from S-L in 1975.)

Hand in hand, Geria Cavalieri lends encouragement and support while Katie does a quick run-through of the songs she'll perform that night. Then they put their heads together for quiet prayer.

"It's to give her the courage and strength to do the very best she can," Cavalieri said, after her daughter's Sept. 29 performance at Joe Louis. "When she sings she sings for Him, too."

According to Cavalieri, an ex-the northern extreme of its natural range. The scroll-shaped supports, also made of sycamore, are a traditional style found in many grist mills in Michigan. The oak plank floors, fitted together tongue and groove fashion, were installed during Henry Ford's restoration of Nankin Mills between 1918 and 1920. Wooden pegs are used to fasten the planks to the supporting beams, as is typical of buildings from before the Civil War.

Navarre said that mill tours and classes on the area's history will be available once the project is complete. Some classes will be held in the new three-story building that will go up on the south side of the mill.

Area schools, students prepare for new SAT test

BY MARGARET O'BRIEN
STAFF WRITER

If s/t-45 and 5rt*6, then rs?
On the new Scholastic Aptitude Test for high school seniors, the questions just got a little harder, or easier, depending on your perspective.
If a calculator would help you solve problems like this, then the math section on the SAT — one of the major stepping stones into college for many seniors — will seem a little easier.
If not, that question and many others in the new math section are likely to be tougher. This time, there will be fewer of the multiple-choice answers that gave even the most baffled student a chance to guess the right answer. The question is typical of those included in a new grid-in math section, 10 of the 60 math questions on the test, that asks students to come up with an answer on their own.

These and other changes were recently made by the College Entrance Examination Board, which administers the SAT and PSAT (a preliminary test for juniors), to better simulate college work and measure more relevant skills.
"Admissions directors and teachers told us they wanted something that tests how well a student can think critically and how well they can solve problems," said Stan Pert of the Educational Testing Service, the company that writes the questions. "It's the '90s, and to survive, students need to know how to think and solve problems logically."

The move to allow students to use calculators on all sections of the math test was also made to shift the focus away from basic arithmetic — a basic skill that must be mastered by college — and toward problem-solving techniques, Pert added.
Think it through
"Students will still have to think through the steps of a problem — a calculator won't help them in the slightest if they don't understand the concepts we are testing," Pert said. "It will speed up things in one respect and help prevent careless errors."
Changes in the verbal portion of the test are also included, making it the most significant SAT facelift in 20 years.
The verbal section measures a student's vocabulary, verbal reasoning skills, and ability to understand reading passages in three types of questions: analogies, sentence completions and reading.
The test's four reading passages will be longer and more complex, 400-850 words, followed by multiple-choice questions that test understanding of the main idea, details, tone and inferences.

The new verbal section will also use analogies to test vocabulary and word relationships, instead of antonyms, to keep things in context.
"It's rare in the real world that you would have to pick out words that have nothing to do with each other. You have to understand things, or be able to discern meaning, from context. We're just becoming more relevant," Pert said.
Grades count, too
Anne Sandoval, director of admissions at Oakland University, said that no matter how up-to-date the test becomes, the most relevant factor in determining admission is still a student's grades and activities.
"Of course we pay attention to any national standardized test, but we focus in on high school performance and growth over a period of time," she said.
Sandoval said that although the SAT plays a minor role — especially at Oakland, where 90 percent of the students take only the ACT — she still recommends that students take the test.

"I think it's a good tool for self-assessment and it helps students feel comfortable with their test-taking skills," she said. "And it gets them on all kinds of mailing lists."
Seniors in local schools still have three opportunities to take the old test — on Nov. 6, Dec. 4, and Jan. 22 — and can take the new test beginning March 19, May 7 and June 4.
Most local high school counseling directors said an extensive preparation booklet for the new test, including an application packet, is available in the school's counseling center.
However, most of this year's seniors and even juniors will need to take the old one for early consideration at a larger school.
"Unless a kid goes out of state, they usually just take the ACT. But if they want to stay real competitive for a larger school they need to take the SAT in the spring of their junior year," said area counselor. "It's getting a little late for early decision-making at schools by the first Nov. 6 test date."

Sandra Gruesbeck of the Kaplan Test Preparation Center, a private Southfield-based business specializing in the SAT, said seminars and classes on preparing for the new test have been filling up quickly.
Help available
"We did our first seminar on the new test two months ago and had 60 people," Gruesbeck said, adding that people who take the time to learn about the test before taking it do better.
"It's not really harder, but you do need to take a test drive to learn what your strengths are, and you learn what you need to work on," she said.
The center also offers other study aids and tips, which encourage students to guess aggressively, to pace themselves, and to understand how to approach each type of question.
Schoolcraft College offers an SAT test preparation workshop 5-7 p.m. Mondays, Oct. 11-25. Fee is $45. Call 464-4448 for more information.
And if those tips and even a calculator did not help on that first question — the answer is 36/5, or 7.2.

see that he will not be asking school districts like Livonia, Northville, Redford and Plymouth-Canton to sacrifice so that schools at the bottom can be brought up.

"His plan will bring more equitable funding to our schools, while dramatically reducing the tax burden on property owners," Geake explained in a written statement about the plan.

Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, called the speech "political."

"The speech was long on rhetoric and short on details. I look forward to having the opportunity to study the legislation that will be proposed to implement the plan. I want to see the specifics on this promise of 'choice,'" said Faust, who added that he'll reserve further judgment until he has more information.

"I am committed to finding a funding mechanism to replace the revenue our schools lost through the passage of Senate Bill 1. In that pursuit, I will work with the governor and every other interested party to find feasible and honest solutions."

Sen. George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn, had no idea how Engler's plan would affect his area, which stretches to Inkster and Garden City. "I really don't know," he said.

"But I give the governor credit: He's trying," Hart said.

cratic leadership team that insisted on full replacement of all revenue lost through the property tax repeal. That position was taken by Democratic co-speaker Curtis Hertel of Detroit and taxation co-chairman Lyn Jondahl, an announced gubernatorial hopeful from Okemos. But Keith was pleased that Engler supported the concept of his House Bill 4505 to set up a career technical education system, copied in part from the German model. "Businesses are unable to find workers with adequate workplace skills," Keith said. Rep. Deborah Whyman, R-Canton, found the charter schools idea "exciting — a good concept." She visualizes schools for special education, delinquents, and math and science study that would be exempt from the tenure laws, school code and much of PA 25, the massive 1989 school quality law.

The most conservative of western Wayne's lawmakers, freshman Whyman would like a $1 reduction in state spending for every $1 tax increase because "overall we need smaller government."

Rep. Richard Young, D-Dearborn Heights, was cool to charter schools because "you will not find 1 percent of Michigan kids in them. Our major task is to finance 99 percent of schools," said Young, Democratic co-chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

"I'm glad Wayne State University did what they did" by setting up a charter school in Detroit, said Young, whose district includes part of Redford Township. But statewide "it could be disruptive."

Charter schools are a "great idea," said Rep. Jerry Vorva, R-Plymouth, whose floor guests included an infant son. "How else can you stimulate competition? I hope he (Engler) won't buckle to the powers (MEA)."

Teens, alcohol examined

When statistics show that about 70 percent of American youngsters have experimented with drinking by the eighth grade, parents need more information about how to handle teen alcohol problems.

Teen alcohol use will be the focus of a two-part program presented at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia for parents of 10-to-14-year-olds.

"Raising Responsible Teens: What to Do About Alcohol" will be available on two consecutive Tuesdays, Oct. 5 and 12. Each program combines live video broadcasts (via satellite) and on-site discussions, with experts from the local community.

Attendees will also learn about local resources for coping with alcohol and drug abuse.

This is the first year of national distribution for "Raising Responsible Teens," which has been produced statewide in Wisconsin since 1991. The 1993 program will be available at selected locations around the nation.

"Alcohol use is commonly accepted and sometimes glorified in our culture," said Dr. John Stephenson, director of the Teenage and Young Adult Clinic at University of Wisconsin Children's Hospital in Madison and one of the program's featured speakers. "We want to give parents specific tools to work with their youngsters to resist the many pressures to drink."

The Oct. 5 program for parents, "Preventing Teen Alcohol Use," will explore factors that place young people at risk for using and abusing alcohol and steps parents can take to reduce their youngsters' risk of alcohol use.

The Oct. 12 program, which is open to parents and their children, will address the pressures adolescents face, society's messages about drinking, and how to involve young people in making decisions about rules that affect them.

"Raising Responsible Teens" offers a combination of live discussion and skills training on-site with taped and live video segments with specialists in adolescent health and development.

The satellite transmissions begin promptly at 7 p.m. in the St. Mary Hospital auditorium and participants are asked to arrive at 6:45 p.m. To register for the programs, contact the education and health promotion office at 591-2888.

Free lecture on menopause set

St. Mary Hospital will sponsor a free lecture for women on menopause from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 19, in the St. Mary Hospital auditorium.

Presenters will be Maureen Fleming, M.D., obstetrics and gynecology; and William Keye, Jr., M.D., infertility and reproductive endocrinology.

Dr. Keye will discuss menopause in relation to osteoporosis, its cardiac effects, and estrogen replacement therapy. Dr. Fleming will review emotional changes during menopause, sexuality, and aging.

Dr. Fleming, who is on staff at both St. Mary Hospital and William Beaumont Hospital, received her medical degree from the University of North Dakota in 1986. She completed her obstetrics and gynecology residency at Creighton University in Omaha, Neb., in 1991.

Dr. Keye, a staff physician at William Beaumont Hospital, is a graduate of the University of Minnesota Medical School and completed his residency training in obstetrics and gynecology at both the University of Minnesota and the University of California-San Francisco. He also completed a reproductive endocrinology research program at the University of Michigan.

The lecture is sponsored by St. Mary Hospital's Education and Health Promotion Department. To register, call 591-2913.

Smaller better? School plan has conflicts

There has been a school of thought in the state capital that efficiency and equity would be served by consolidating smaller school districts.

That happened 24 years ago when the Nankin Mills School District was dissolved and absorbed by the neighboring Wayne-Westland and Livonia districts.

The reformers felt that similar actions in this area would eliminate needless layers of administration, spread existing tax base more equitably, and offer the same education to all students within the larger district.

Intellectually, Wayne-Westland could be considered for absorbing either the smaller districts in Dearborn Heights and/or the Inkster district, all of which share boundaries.

But now there apparently is a logical reason for separateness. Gov. John Engler is promoting charter schools and vouchers to parents as a way to initiate competition in education.

Engler sees competition as a force to reform what's wrong. And so rather than consolidating into larger districts with fewer entities statewide, the aim apparently is to compete. If so, then maybe we should break up larger districts into several small fiefdoms so that we can create more competition.

If the governor is right, maybe we should bring back Nankin Mills and Cherry Hill districts. The latter was incorporated into the larger Wayne-Westland district seven years ago.

Some argue that consolidation produces less competition. If the governor is right, and he thinks he is, the reformers were wrong. Is it possible the reformers are right and the governor is wrong?

School board displays courage

The Wayne-Westland Board of Education displayed a lot of courage and character last week.

In a rare instance of doing the right thing, the board acted to restore secondary school busing and elementary art, music, gym and library services.

The board could have delayed the restoration until after the Oct. 18 special election at which voters will decide the fate of a proposed 6-mill property tax rate increase. The board could also have kept secret information that the new state aid act provided an extra $2 million in revenues.

As board member Leonard Posey said during the discussion on the proposed restorations, "I think we can kiss our millage election goodbye."

With voters in other districts rejecting millage increases and Headlee overrides, chances for approval of the Oct. 18 proposal range from slim to none.

In the final analysis, the school board and administration, plagued with credibility problems in recent years, took a giant step toward improving their relations with the public who pays the bills.

Paper tailored to community

National Newspaper Week begins Sunday and this is the time we're making a major change in our paper designed to bring us even closer to you, our readers.

Although the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers continues to be the name of the network of 12 suburban newspapers you read, we are decentralizing our internal structure to better serve you.

Our award-winning newspapers are being crafted into three divisions: the Eccentrics, the Observers and a Regional operation. The regional group includes the sections such as Taste, Business and Entertainment, which go into each of our community newspapers.

This will make it simpler for you as a newsmaker, reader or advertiser to get in touch with us.

And it will make it easier for us to tailor our stories, ads and circulation to the needs of your individual community.

The restructuring is a continuation of our desire to make the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers the best network of suburban newspapers in the country. And in our estimation, best connotes journalistic excellence as well as leadership and responsiveness to our communities.

In the past year and a half, we have redesigned our newspapers to make them more reader friendly, including more color photographs, a weekly community calendar and a front-page index giving you a rundown on what you can find inside.

We started monthly reader advisory groups in each community to help us find out what you want covered.

We began a dialogue with you, opening up our phone lines so that you could vote, comment or get information on local issues.

And our major local stories and editorials, as well as an assortment of other useful information, is now accessible to those with personal computers through our On-Line computerized information service.

Recently we offered our opinion pages for readers to write a column on local issues or national events that hit home. You will find one of your neighbor's columns in each Thursday edition.

Next month we will begin opening up our twice-monthly editorial board meetings to anyone who would like to see how we arrive at our editorial stands. Stay tuned for information on time, place and date.

We don't take our job lightly; your community is our community. National Newspaper Week is an optimum time for us to update you on the changes we're making — and for you to take a look at how we're serving our community.

We want you to be as proud of us as we are of you.

Newcomer has views

The primary is over, and now the campaign is between Mayor Robert Thomas and Councilman Charles Pickering.

I am new to the city and not politically aware, but a couple things impress me. Based on my own experience, I thought the mayor was not as secure as he appears to be because of his failure to answer letters and the assessor's office fiasco.

Also, another resident in a different part of the city has been trying to get him to address a problem for years. Of course, he tried to get the council to do the same with no results. However, I have talked to his workers and am awed by their devotion to Mayor Thomas.

They believe in him faithfully. I have known for a long time that the mayor has responded to certain segments of the city population, which appear to be the hard working/no time for fun people of the southwest section of the city.

In summary, I would say that Pickering has a lot of work ahead of him to just keep his signs standing (they seem to fall down overnight) and to convince the people that there is something lacking in Mayor Thomas.

James Lundy, Westland

Involvement doubted

As another election day approaches, the CHECK group (Concerned for the Health and Environment of Our Community's Kids) would like to alert voters to an issue that we feel is particularly important to the future of Westland.

That issue is the need for our political candidates to become better educated regarding the range of environmental concerns currently facing our community. From the quality of the Rouge River and park system to the local recycling program, from a corner gas station that may be leaking underground to an old dump site located near homes or schools, awareness must be raised so that informed, responsible decisions can be made.

As advocates for the families of the Cooper School area, CHECK has worked to raise that awareness. It has not been easy to be outspoken about a problem that our government, school district and regulatory agencies hoped would quietly go away. We call on our political candidates also to be outspoken.

CHECK gratefully accepts the praises that come with hard work and felt honored to be recognized by the City Council in May. However, it must be noted that we were not elected to protect the citizens of Westland and can only do so much.

The clean-up of a toxic waste site within the city demands a more proactive stance from both the city council membership and the mayor. Fire Chief Larry Lane has been assigned as the representative for the city. Chief Lane attends the Citizens Information Committee (CIC) meetings held by the DNR and has shown himself to be a very professional and able safety officer.

But where does the buck really stop? How about Mayor Robert Thomas? Does he not ultimately hold the responsibility for the health, safety and welfare of local citizens in his hands? Have his actions been contrary to his words?

It has been publicly stated that Mayor Thomas has both met with and been actively involved with CHECK.

A brief meeting did occur with the mayor and two CHECK members in 1991, but many citizens have reported unreturned phone calls from his office. And for the record, "actively" is not a term we would choose to describe his "involvement" with our group.

Mayor Thomas did attend a CHECK-sponsored educational program in November with public services director Carl Clark and Chief Lane. Yet his refusal to sign a resolution in August of 1991 that requested Cooper students NOT be sent to Whittier until all of the environmental issues were resolved remains fresh in our minds as a clear, indication of his unwillingness to take a stand on this issue.

And as the Cooper School problem lingers on, with more test results due to be released in mid-October, we ask the following questions. Will the contamination be worse than suspected or more of the same? In any event, Livonia schools have been let off the hook for any clean-up. Will the area residents then be left alone to deal with this situation or will our elected officials step forward and take a true leadership role?

Charles and Katherine Pare, Ronald and Cheryl Graunstadt, Bruce and Michaeline Ward, Westland

'Look in mirror'

While many are afraid of the funding problem presented by the lack of property taxes, finding ways to pay for the education that we all benefit from is only part of the solution.

To draw more parents and the business community into educating our children will be an even greater task. We are all involved in the eventual outcomes of the education our children receive.

As a school district, beginning with kindergarten, we need to continue to embrace a multi-cultural, anti-bias curriculum, in addition to great academics, that absolutely sends the message that we are on the road to bettering ourselves.

As parents, we must reinforce the positives and add to that by communicating with our children and the district on ways to improve. That takes a change of heart for some, more information for others and a greater commitment for all.

We cannot blame the teachers! We are also the teachers.

We cannot blame society! We are society. The easiest part is that we are in complete control of where it begins . . . just look in the mirror.

POINTS OF VIEW

Legislative tax reforms — now that's scary

Our Legislature scares a lot of folks.

For decades Michigan has been talking school tax reform. Then the Legislature in July decided to repeal $6.3 billion in property taxes, 65 percent of schools' money.

Now it's October, and not one dollar has been replaced.

Q. Wasn't it irrational and unwise to repeal public schools' main source of revenue without a replacement plan?

A. Irrational, no. Unwise, yes. Legislators make big decisions only in a crisis. So they manufactured a crisis.

Give credit to Gov. John Engler, who wasn't afraid to take the big gamble. His predecessor would have asked for a study commission and six polls to test the wind.

Give credit to Sen. Debbie Stabenow, a Democrat who would replace Engler. She sponsored the substitute for Senate Bill 1. It's an issue, but not a partisan issue.

Q. But still you say the decision was unwise?

A. Yes. In the first place, the state wiped out $6.3 billion net in revenue, but at most can raise just $3.8 billion. That's because of the 1978 Headlee amendment, which limits state taxation to a fixed percentage of personal income. So there's a troublesome $2.5 billion gap.

Second, SB 1 also wiped out several hundred million of county revenue — collection fees, delinquent taxes, delays in assessments' taking effect.

Don't be surprised if in 1994 a lot of angry county commissioners challenge incumbent state legislators from their own party.

Q. Let's get back to the manufactured school revenue crisis. Aren't you worried lawmakers and the governor won't reach agreement on new taxes?

A. Not much. Check Art. VIII Sec. 2 of the state constitution: "The Legislature shall maintain and support a system of free public elementary and secondary schools as defined by law."

If the Legislature fails to write new tax laws, it could be hauled into court. Michigan lawmakers couldn't be sued for failing to provide "equity" in school funding, as happened in other states. But they easily could be sued if they fail to "maintain and support" public schools at all.

If there's anything a governor and lawmakers abhor, it's a court telling them to levy taxes. I say there will be a tax deal by Dec. 31.

Q. What is this Dec. 31 deadline to pass replacement taxes? The repeal of the school property tax doesn't take effect until next July 1.

A. True, but there's still great pressure to act by Dec. 31.

If the Legislature passes new tax laws with a bare majority by Dec. 31, they take effect about next April 1. That's OK.

But if new taxes aren't passed until 1994, it will take a two-thirds vote to give them immediate effect. Our legislators won't run that risk. Actually, they'll act by Dec. 30, because Dec. 31 is a Friday, and they'll want a long weekend.

Q. You mentioned the gap between $6.3 billion in eliminated property taxes and $3.8 billion in higher state taxes. How will that be filled?

A. Two ways. First, we'll see local school districts given optional taxing powers — probably a restored property tax.

Second, there will be some effort to cut overall spending. I think Engler's magic number is $1 billion. His chief issue is reducing the cost of government. He wants a nice, fat, round number like a $1 billion net tax cut for his 1994 campaign.

Q. Is it realistic to think we can squeeze $1 billion more out of government?

A. No. Engler, the Republicans and many Democrats will hold out for competitive bidding on school employees' health insurance, to the chagrin of the teachers union. Maybe they can squeeze $100 million there.

Maybe they can squeeze $100 million out in other ways, like privatizing school buses.

Q. You seem convinced the Legislature will do the right thing, not for the sake of kids in school, but for their own political skins.

A. Yes. Tim Richard reports regularly on the local implications of state and regional events. His office number is (313) 349-1700.

Educator learns a 'heart-warming' lesson

I am 62 years of age and have led an extremely healthy existence. In fact, until June 7, 1993, I had not been hospitalized since December 1948. Over the years I received routine physicals and have never been concerned about my health. However, I did quit drinking alcoholic beverages 17 years ago and smoking seven years ago.

My heart-warming experience happened at 1:15 p.m. on June 7, 1993 at the Dearborn campus of the Detroit College of Business. I was just getting ready to conclude my class session by reviewing the material we had just covered. All of a sudden I developed a strong case of heartburn and broke out in a cold sweat. Fortunately, I just happened to have a roll of antacid tablets in my pocket, so I dismissed the class and headed for the nearest drinking fountain.

As I started to make my way down the hallway, I stumbled and fell flat on my face. I was unable to stand up under my own power, so two students helped me move back against the wall in a sitting position. After a few minutes I started to feel better so I stood up and started to continue my journey toward the drinking fountain.

As I approached the drinking fountain, I met Robert Funaro, one of the college vice presidents. He immediately stated that he had called for an ambulance and that it was on the way. My initial response was, "Why? Heck, I have not been hospitalized since 1948 and these little heartburn situations have always come to pass." I started to argue with Funaro that he had overreacted and there was no need for the ambulance. Fortunately for me, he did not give any credibility to my arguments.

Just about then the ambulance arrived and the attendant had me sit down. Then he eagerly listened to my arguments as to why I did not need their services. After hearing me out, he explained to me that all of my symptoms were indicators of a heart attack. So I relented and agreed to be transported to Garden City Hospital. While in transit, I continued to think if only I could belch the heartburn would go away. At this point in time I did not honestly believe that there was anything seriously wrong.

Upon arrival at the hospital I was rushed into the emergency room. The emergency-room crew converged on me all at one time. One of the attending physicians placed a nitroglycerine tablet under my tongue and explained that it would have a slight burning taste. He further stated that is how you know it is working. He then placed a second nitro tablet under my tongue, and when I complained about the heartburn, he stated that the nitroglycerine should afford me some relief.

While he was administering the nitro tablets, I received intravenous injections in both arms. I asked the physician for another nitro tablet and he stated it was not necessary, in that I was being fed nitro intravenously.

The total elapsed time in the emergency room seemed like about two minutes, when the resident cardiologist Dr. Emmanuel Papisifakas appeared at my side. He informed me that I did have a heart attack. My heartburn theory went down the tube, and I had the sudden realization that the situation was serious.

The following morning Dr. Papisifakis made a decision to transfer me to the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor. On arrival I went through the catheterization procedure and then spent the next three days in cardiac intensive care. I was then transferred to the step-down unit, where I spent my last five days.

On the seventh day after the heart attack, I was scheduled for a full day of testing. These tests included: thallium scan, stress test and echocardiogram.

My thoughts throughout my hospital stay were to rationalize the fact that these slight inconveniences that I was subjected to beat the other option.

Officials choose family life over demands of politics

Don Riegle's decision last week not to seek re-election to the U.S. Senate did more than throw Michigan politics into a turmoil.

Riegle's main stated reason for not running — to spend more time with his wife and two young daughters — highlighted a subtle and troubling aspect of our political system.

Increasingly, politics and families don't mix. Or, at least, running for serious elective office and a reasonably sane family life are terribly hard to reconcile.

The demands of campaigning are enormous. You work dawn to midnight at the highest possible pitch, seven days a week, until the voters determine your fate.

The demands of holding office are, if anything, more severe. Bound to your job in Lansing or Washington, you still feel compelled to get back to your district on weekends.

Got an evening free with the family? Go to the fundraising reception or the union local meeting. Your son has a baseball game? You've got to make the vote on the floor or see an important constituent.

President Johnson's wife, Lady Bird, once said that politicians should be born orphans and remain bachelors. Look carefully at the children of any seriously ambitious politician; more likely than not, you'll see a troubled kid.

Don Riegle's not the only Michigan politician who chose family over office.

Bill Brodhead, a respected Democratic congressman from the Detroit suburbs, surprised a lot of people in 1982 when he announced he wasn't running again. "I realized the only person getting something out of Congress was me," he said.

Contemplating in July a run for Riegle's Senate seat, Congressman Fred Upton, a well-regarded Republican from southwestern Michigan, declined because the statewide race would hurt his family.

And former U.S. Rep. Bill Schuette, a Republican who lost a Senate race to Carl Levin in 1990, decided last month he wouldn't run against Riegle. When he first ran for Congress 10 years ago, "I was single and could work 24 hours a day. Now, I work just as hard and am as ambitious and driven as ever, but I like to come home early."

PHILIP POWER

■ The restructuring is a continuation of our desire to make the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers the best network of suburban newspapers in the country. And in our estimation, best connotes journalistic excellence as well as leadership and responsiveness to our communities.

Even though cynics might question Don Riegle's stated reasons against making another race, I don't. He's not alone in choosing family over high office.

So what is it about our political system that keeps requiring this zero-sum game? Certainly the ever-escalating demands of fundraising can consume any free time available. And as our politics have become ever more professionalized, the permanent campaign has become part of the political landscape.

Worse, these working conditions tend to define the kinds of personalities that self-select a political career. Driven. Ambitious. Egocentric. Single-mindedly obsessive.

And that's why so many ordinary people feel so disconnected from the political system — and from the sometimes very odd and occasionally unbalanced decisions the people who inhabit the system tend to make.

Edison prepares for winter storms

With the summer storm season over, Detroit Edison Co. line clearance crews are bracing for the next punch — winter ice storms.

Lightning and high winds can play havoc with tree limbs too close to electrical lines and equipment. But winter ice storms are even more difficult for line crews to work around, said Robert J. Buckler, Edison's senior vice president for energy marketing and distribution.

Line clearance — a major part of the utility's three-year, $236 million program to improve electrical service — includes maintaining 10-foot minimum clearances between tree branches and wires.

"Trees that touch energized lines can conduct electricity and pose safety hazards. In addition, interference from just one tree can cause outages that affect hundreds of customers served by the same electrical circuit," Buckler said.

"During the past year, the utility has reduced the number of outages by nearly 30 percent and shortened the length of unavoidable outages by 77 percent compared with the average of the previous three years.

"We've been able to prove that there is definitely a correlation between line clearance and reliable service."

Detroit Edison's line clearance crews will continue projects as well as begin new work in 35 communities through the end of 1993. From October through December, line clearance work will continue or begin in the following areas:

Livingston County: Hamburg Township.

Oakland County: Auburn Hills, Birmingham, Hazel Park, Madison Heights, West Bloomfield Township.

Wayne County: Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Detroit, Northville Township, Plymouth Township, Redford Township, Taylor.

From 1991 through this year, the company will have spent $101 million on line clearance. All work is performed by professional line-clearance crews.

"Trees are trimmed according to National Arborist Association standards, which are designed to protect the trees and keep them healthy," Buckler said.

A new customer toll-free telephone number — (800) 477-4747 — also was established as part of service improvement.

Late goal steams Churchill

■ It was another tie as Livonia rivals Churchill and Stevenson battled to a 1-1 draw. Stevenson has another tough test ahead Friday when it travels to Birmingham-Detroit Country Day.

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Once upon a time the Livonia Stevenson-Churchill boys soccer match meant everything when it came to city bragging rights.

But after Monday night's bizarre 1-1 deadlock, the school south of the railroad tracks, Livonia Franklin, may yet have the final say.

Franklin and Stevenson tied 0-0 earlier this year. That means Franklin and Churchill could possibly settle the issue next Wednesday (7 p.m. at Churchill). But then again, the way things are going, all three could be tied for the next go-around.

Ironically, Churchill thought it had a 1-0 victory recorded in the books over the host Spartans, but Nick Deren's goal with only five seconds remaining dropped out of the air like a bomb. Deren, Stevenson's top goal scorer, had been held in check most of the evening by Churchill's junior defender Kevin Callaway.

With one desperation throw-in left, Stevenson's Joe Brach somehow penetrated a Churchill defense, which was playing up in hopes of drawing an offside call.

The ball bounced around and off the legs of Matt Grodzicki and Steve Williford before Deren controlled it and drilled a shot past Churchill goalie Brian Stramecki.

State-ranked Stevenson, No. 5 in the latest coaches poll, is now 7-1-2

JIM JAGDFELD/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

overall. Churchill is 6-2-4.

The tie didn't sit well with Churchill head coach John Boots or assistant Roy Lerner, who berated officials afterwards.

Boots also complained about a Churchill goal disallowed with 23 minutes left when Pete Owens' header was called a handball.

"He (Owens) came back to the bench with a red mark on his forehead, how could he have touched it?" Boots said. "Then they (Stevenson) had six guys offside (on the tying goal), just a sea of white jerseys in front of us. It's a shame it happened.

We played it the right way and they (the officials) just took it away from us."

Churchill, ironically, scored its only goal of the evening with only three seconds left in the first half on another disputed call.

Mike Minghine, making a rush toward the goal, was fouled inside the box by Stevenson's Doug Nash.

Senior midfielder Mark Stackpole took the penalty kick and beat Stevenson goalkeeper Mo Lanspeary on a shot into the lower left corner to give the Chargers a 1-0 advantage.

"That's the first time we've taken a penalty kick all year," Boots said. "I asked the players who should shoot it because I didn't know."

The Chargers played a strong first half, forcing Stevenson coach Walt Barrett to make some halftime moves.

"This is the first time all year a team has marked us this tight," Barrett said. "Churchill switched their point of attack, they kept working it over to the weak side. It was a nice tactic. Churchill played a fine game."

Midway through the second half Barrett decided to put stalwart defender Scott Sersen up into more of an attacking role and the strategy began to pay off.

The Spartans began applying more pressure as the second half wore on.

"It took us awhile to get going and get out of their close marking," Barrett said. "But once we made the adjustments I didn't think they (Churchill) adapted."

Stevenson has all but wrapped up the Lakes Division crown, but Churchill needs a win over Franklin. Northville is also still in the hunt on the Western Division side.

"This (crossover) game doesn't really mean anything," Boots said. "It's just two good teams playing each other for bragging rights. Usually the team that comes out with the most emotion wins the game."

Payne loses decision

Livonian Craig Payne lost a 10-round unanimous decision Sept. 28 in Bay-St. Louis, Miss. to Garling Lane in a nationally televised heavyweight bout seen on the USA Cable Network.

Payne, now 10-4-1 overall, had his nose broken in the second round. The injury required plastic surgery.

"That was Craig's third fight in four weeks and that may have been a little too much," Livonia Boxing Club manager Paul Soucy said.

Lane, a native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., improved to 10-8 overall.

Vegas night boxing

Twelve scheduled amateur bouts, including four to five members of the Livonia Boxing Club, will highlight a Vegas Night and Millionaires Party, beginning at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 27 at Burton Manor in Livonia.

Tickets are $5 at the door. Tickets are available at the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation office (City Hall); Allie Brothers (477-4434) or the LBC gym, 29200 Plymouth Road.

For more information, call Paul Soucy at 525-1387 or the LBC gym at 421-7235.

Prince Cup results

Livonian Michelle Moccia and doubles partner Shari Wooster of Lathrup Village were ousted in the first round of the Prince Cup National Championships held Friday and Saturday in La Quinta, Calif.

Moccia and Wooster, playing in the Women's 4.5 doubles draw, fell to Marilyn Enghauser and Lynda Thorpe, both of Apopka, Fla., 6-2, 6-1.

In the consolation round, Moccia and Wooster lost to Daisy Anzoategui of Los Gatos, Calif. and Susan Bittner of Saratoga, Calif., 6-3, 6-1.

Moccia and Wooster earned an all-expense paid trip to the nationals after regional qualifying at the Franklin Racquet Club in Southfield.

CC-Rice game headlines card

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

This is the bye week for the Detroit Lions.

Good thing, because if they were playing this Sunday in Pontiac, it would be only the second most important game in town.

It's Wisner Stadium, not the Silverdome, where the action will be as Boys Bowl foes Redford Catholic Central (4-1) and Birmingham Brother Rice (5-0) meet for the 27th time. Kickoff is 2 p.m.

Needless to say, this is the top game this weekend in Observerland.

Rice, considered the state's top-ranked team in all classes, leads the series 14-13. (There was also a 0-0 tie in 1968. CC also won a state playoff game).

CC, however, has captured seven of the last eight meetings, including the last three.

Rice won the 1989 encounter, 31-14, with a star-studded cast that included Steve Morrison and Gannon Dudlar, both defensive starters at Michigan; tight end Pete Mitchell, an All-American candidate at Boston College; Bob Utter, the starting quarterback at Iowa State; and Chris O'Brien, a starter at offensive tackle for Central Michigan.

As for the prep prognostication race, yours truly correctly picked 13 of 15 games last week to raise his overall season record to 60-14 (a blistering 81 percent).

Meanwhile, arch-rival Dan O'Meara went 11-4 to slip to 55-19 overall (74 percent). O'Meara is on vacation this week (he needs it), but he still faxed in his picks from way out in Westland. Which way to the beach, Dan?

FRIDAY'S GAMES
(all at 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Clarenceville at Harper Wds. Lutheran East (7 p.m.): The Trojans (2-3, 2-2) routed Lutheran Northwest last week, 37-0. Meanwhile, East (2-3, 2-2) was blanked by Lutheran North, 21-0. The key may be how much time quarterback Lucic Lucaj has to get the ball to his favorite receiver, Mark Kalaj. PICKS: O'Meara flies with the Eagles, but Emons has a hunch it's Clarenceville.

Monroe at Redford Union (7 p.m. at Kraft Field): RU (0-5) is still looking for its first win after almost upsetting Dearborn last week. Monroe (1-4) has lost four straight since beating Plymouth Canton in overtime. This is a Mega crossover. PICKS: Mega Red (Monroe) prevails over Mega White (RU).

GRID PICKS

W.L. Western at Liv. Churchill: Western (2-3, 1-2) is jockeying for position in the Western Division in the Western Lakes, while Churchill (0-5, 0-3) is just trying to get a victory. The Chargers have scored only 14 points all season, but the defense is respectable. PICKS: Western hands Churchill loss No. 33 in a row.

Liv. Franklin at Northville: First-year Franklin coach Jim Karoub got his first victory last week against Churchill. The Patriots (1-4, 1-2) got their ground game going, but had little yardage in the air after throwing for an average of 169 yards per game the first four games. Northville (4-1, 2-1) is thinking playoffs after whipping Canton last week, 14-0. PICKS: Northville has Karoub and the Patriots believing the Mustangs are tops in the WLAA.

Ply. Salem at Westland Glenn: This game, for all intents and purposes, will determine the Lakes Division champ in the WLAA. Salem (3-2, 2-1) beat Glenn on its last trip (1991) to the Launching Pad (Glenn's home turf). The state-ranked Rockets (5-0, 3-0) may use Derek Besco again at tailback, while Salem counters with burly Rob Shepley at fullback. PICKS: Glenn sends the Rocks into orbit.

Farm. Harrison at Ply. Canton: The Hawks (4-1, 3-0) can wrap up the Western Division title in the WLAA with a win, setting up a rematch with Glenn. The Chiefs (3-2, 2-1) don't seem to have enough offense as evidenced by last week's 14-0 setback to Northville. PICKS: The Hawks are back in the WLAA championship game after a year layoff.

N. Farmington at W.L. Central: These are two struggling WLAA-Lakes Division teams trying to veer back on course. Central (2-3, 0-3) has yet to win the Lakes after losing last week to winless Farmington. North (1-4, 1-2) couldn't get on the board last week in a 21-0 loss at Salem. PICKS: The coin please. O'Meara figures it's North, but Emons tries his luck with Central.

Garden City at Taylor Truman: Garden City (3-2, 2-1) is still in the Mega White race after losing a crossover last week to Belleville, 20-3. Truman (2-3, 2-1) has not been blown out of any games this year, but lost last week to city rival Kennedy, 10-6. PICKS: Both schools are nicknamed the Cougars, but stick with the GC cats.

Wyandotte at Wayne Memorial: This was supposed to be a down year for the Zebras (4-1, 4-0) after last season's run into the state playoffs. But a freshman quarterback named Lorenzo Guess and a speedy supporting cast have Wayne contending again for a title in the new Mega White. Remember, the Bears (2-3, 1-3) have given Wayne trouble in the past. PICKS: Wayne shows True Grit.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

(all 1 p.m. unless noted)

Liv. Stevenson at Farmington: The Spartans (4-1, 2-1) proved they could play with the big boys after giving Glenn at score last week. Farmington (1-4, 1-2) earned its first win of the year by rallying to beat Walled Lake Central. Coach Lauri Niskanen has the Falcons on the right track. PICKS: Stevenson struggles, but comes away with a win.

Melvindale at Red. Thurston: The Eagles (3-2, 2-2) muffed their big chance last week against Allen Park, falling 20-12. Melvindale (2-3, 2-2), meanwhile, lost to Dearborn Heights Crestwood, 22-13. The good news is that Thurston is back playing against an old Tri-River League foe. PICKS: Thurston gets back on the winning track.

Luth. Westland at Lutheran N'west: No ifs and buts about it, Northwest (0-5, 0-2) is the worst team in the West Division of the Metro Conference. This is a game Lutheran Westland (1-4, 0-3) can win. PICKS: Lutheran Westland coach Dennis Tuomi goes home a happy man on Saturday.

St. Agatha at Waterford Our Lady: The Aggies (3-2, 1-1) had their three-game winning streak broken by old coach John Goddard (now at Royal Oak Shrine), 21-6. Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes (5-0, 2-0) is rated No. 3 in Class DD by the Detroit Free Press and No. 7 in the News. PICKS: It's a joint operating agreement. Land of Lakes is best.

Bishop Borgess vs. Det. Benedictine (1:30 p.m. at Garden City Jr. High): The Spartans (0-5, 0-2) haven't won a game since Walt Bazylewicz was coach. Borgess is fighting a 15-game losing streak (dating back to 1991). Coach Craig James' team made a respectable showing last week in a 22-6 loss to Tri-Sectional co-leader Riverview Gabriel Richard. Benedictine (2-3, 1-1), behind Antoine Flowers' three TDs, ripped Allen Park Cabrini last week, 44-21. PICKS: Benedictine given the edge.

SUNDAY'S GAME

Redford CC vs. Birm. Brother Rice (2 p.m. at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium): This is supposed to be Rice's year. The unbeaten Warriors (5-0, 1-0) are nationally-ranked, state-ranked and possess a strong passing combination in quarterback Derek Canine and wide receiver Brian Kalczyński. Marcus Harvey is also a quick tailback. CC (4-1, 1-0) must compensate for the loss of center/defensive tackle Nick Kallas, who is questionable because of an injury. The Shamrocks, however, all the intangibles going for them as underdog. PICKS: Emons picks the Shamrocks, but O'Meara likes Rice.

This office blunder cost SC a shot at 1st

C.J. RISAK

Blame. It is, without doubt, one of the easiest things to affix. And conversely, one of the hardest things to accept.

At Schoolcraft College, there was much scrambling last week to find a worthy scapegoat. Someone to stick for a volleyball team going from 8-3 to 0-11 overnight.

But who? The coach, Tom Teeters? The athletic director, Marty Nowak?

The assistant dean in charge of athletics, Midge Carleton?

The player, Danielle Pfeffer? The trainer, Kim Kotlewski?

All could, and probably should, share in the responsibility (except of course Kim, who has nothing to do with anything that goes on at SC; at least that's what he insists).

But it's strange. When someone knows they could be, at least in part, the reason for a major mishap, their finger is far less pointed. They say something generic, very much like what Carleton said Tuesday as we watched Pfeffer warm up for SC's match against Oakland CC.

"I'm not going to blame any one person. It was a combination of factors."

Funny how that works, isn't it? Don't misunderstand me — what Carleton said was absolutely accurate. What ultimately caused SC to forfeit all the wins it recorded in its first 11 matches was a first-class bureaucratic bumbling, one that touched everyone, but one that nobody got involved with enough to correct.

Pfeffer and SC teammate Kristen Barnes transferred to SC in January from Henry Ford CC, where they played for coach Gary Gray last year. Both had told Teeters, the SC coach, they had received their releases from Henry Ford, giving them immediate eligibility at SC.

Immediately eligible? In Barnes case, it apparently wasn't needed. She had committed to Henry Ford for only one year when she signed her letter of intent.

Pfeffer was another story. She had checked a tiny box tying her to Henry Ford for two years. Therefore, she needed a release to become eligible at SC.

She never got it. Teeters said he would never have seen the paperwork, in any case. Such technicalities fall under athletic director Nowak's jurisdiction.

Nowak said he asked Pfeffer for all her paperwork prior to the season. Her transcripts were solid; everything else, he figured, was in order. After all, she'd been in school for eight months before the fall season started.

Carleton, like everyone else involved, figured everything was taken care of.

So Pfeffer played. And SC won. Until the NJCAA discovered she was still attached to Henry Ford.

Pfeffer had to sit out two Eastern Conference matches last week, a loss to Delta and a win over Mott. She also was on the sidelines during the Schoolcraft College Invitational last weekend; the Ocelots went 4-2, finishing fourth.

Henry Ford finally forwarded her release, clearing Pfeffer to play in Tuesday's conference match against OCC.

No title now But the damage is done. SC will not win the conference title for a ninth-straight time under Teeters. It will be difficult for the Ocelots to post a .500 record.

Still, it could be worse. Had the investigation come during the NJCAA Regional Tournament next month, SC could have been forced to the sidelines.

As it now stands, the Ocelots can still go all the way to a national title. And as Teeters pointed out, "This kind of feeling helps you close ranks."

Who's to blame for this debacle? Being a lifelong underling, I've always believed the buck stops at the top. That would mean Carleton should have been more aware.

However, in my mind, that's a reach. She's too far removed from the situation. But even if you can expunge her, it's more difficult to do the same with Nowak. Transfers are a special case; my feeling is he should have investigated further, made certain of the paperwork.

That judgment is harsh, I know. Nowak showed me where Pfeffer had checked the small box at the bottom of one of her Henry Ford forms; that check tied her to the school for two years.

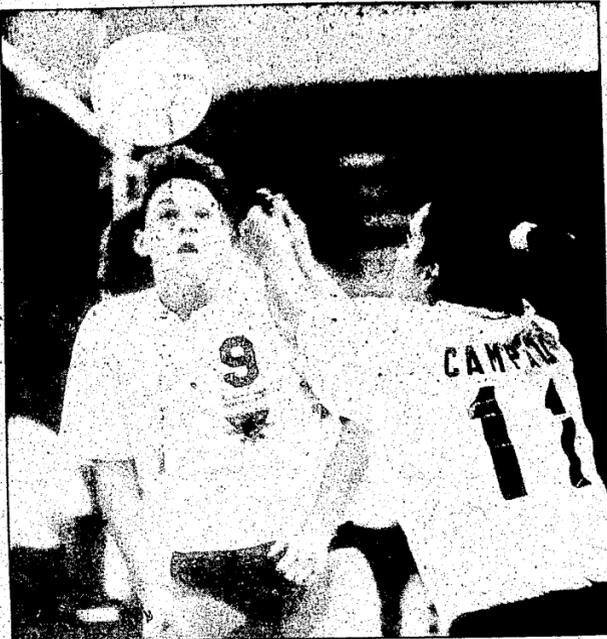

It was easy to overlook. Still, it fell under Nowak's jurisdiction.

None of these releases Teeters. Ultimately, it's his program. Like football coaches at major universities, he is responsible for all facets. Special situations, such as transfers, deserve special attention.

You can bet they'll get it from now on. "We never asked for their letters of intent before, but take my word for it, we will from now on," said Carleton.

New policy can't reverse a 5-14 record. But the season's not lost, not yet. And — most importantly — Pfeffer, arguably SC's best player, is back and is playing.

It would have been an awful shame if she had been ruled ineligible for the season.

Perhaps the turbulent times that have bounced Schoolcraft College's volleyball team around the past two weeks have subsided.

One can always hope. The Ocelots had to work their way through their own Schoolcraft Invitational last weekend without perhaps their best player — Danielle Pfeffer, who was forced to the sidelines when it was discovered she had not been released from Henry Ford CC, where she played last year, to play at SC.

With Pfeffer out of action, the Ocelots struggled. They lost their opening match Friday to McHenry CC 15-9, 15-13, before battling back to win three in a row. Mott CC fell first, 15-7, 15-7, followed by 16th-ranked Belleville CC 7-15, 15-9, 16-14, and Parkland CC 15-4, 15-7.

Kankakee CC ended SC's run with a 7-15, 15-12, 15-6 victory.

The Ocelots ended their tournament, with a 15-9, 15-3 win over Elgin for a 4-2 record, good for fourth place. Belleville won the title with a 5-1 mark, same as second-place Kankakee. McHenry, also 4-2, took third.

Danielle Sheehy, normally a middle hitter, moved outside and did so with proficiency. She had 53 kills in the tourney (400 kill percentage). Kristen Barnes contributed 49 kills (330) and Julie Campau added 38 kills (440). Tricia Kazyska collected 22 blocks and Shannon Capstick had 55 digs.

The 4-2 record left SC at 5-13 overall. They increased that to 6-13 with a straight-set victory over Oakland Community College Tuesday at SC.

St. Louis trip uncovers SC's weaknesses

SOCCER

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

The problem facing Schoolcraft College women's soccer coach Nick O'Shea is common; it's one every coach must face, sooner or later.

He has a good group of players, solid and skilled. But they aren't operating as a team.

Championship-caliber teams — which O'Shea thought this might be prior to the season — have the capability to pull together when faced with a crisis. If one facet lets down, another picks up.

In two games last weekend in St. Louis, against the kind of competition SC can expect to face at the NJCAA Tournament, the Lady Ocelots came up woefully short in the championship-caliber criteria.

Mental errors doomed them to a tie and a loss. Eliminate those mistakes, and SC comes home with a win and a tie.

Fingers of blame are easily pointed, but fact of the matter is, not a single Ocelot played flawlessly. So all must share the responsibility.

"We did a lot of stupid things," said O'Shea after SC's 2-0 loss to Florissant Valley CC Sunday. "But overall, we played pretty well."

"I think we did learn a lot this weekend. Now we've seen the level of competition from two areas (SC made a trip to Monroe, N.Y., to start the season). They've matured a lot. They know they can hang with those teams. Plus, they've learned a lot from these games."

The Ocelots had control, but couldn't maintain it. With less than five minutes left, Meramec's Amy Rooney rolled a harmless-looking shot toward the SC net. Emmett came out to stop the ball with her foot, trying to kill more time. But the ball went under her foot and into the net, tying the game.

What should have been a 2-0 game favoring SC ended in a tie. Against No. 3 Florissant Valley Sunday, it was much different. SC was on the defensive throughout the first 10 minutes of the match, failing to clear the ball out of its own end in that time. Emmett was sharp, however, and that kept the game scoreless at the half — although the Ocelots missed a wide-open header with eight minutes left.

The game was decided on a direct kick just outside the penalty area with 18 minutes remaining. The SC defensive wall was slow in forming, and Emmett was caught out of position, making it easy for Florissant Valley's Molly Pardo to roll her shot past the wall and into the open side of the net.

The home team added an insurance goal in the final two minutes on a breakaway by Pam Higgins, through an SC defense that was pushed forward.

O'Shea could pick out the problems quite effortlessly. "We don't have enough quickness in the final one-third (offensive end) of the field," he noted. "What we want to do is play a slower game in the back; because we don't have the speed to move up the field real fast."

"Once we get into the final one-third, we want to do the same thing we do in the back, but three or four times faster. We're quick enough, we're just not using it."

"We just don't have enough players with big-game experience."

Ollinger propels Warriors

With two starters sitting out Tuesday, host Livonia Clarenceville was easy pickings for Lutheran High Westland in a Metro Conference girls basketball game.

The Lady Warriors jumped out to a 21-6 first-quarter lead and coasted to a 78-35 victory.

Lutheran High is 8-1 overall and 4-0 in the Metro, while Clarenceville, minus front-liners Wendy Roy (sitting out) and Pam Inzano (injury), fell to 0-7 and 0-4.

Three Lady Warriors scored in double figures — Katie Ollinger (10), Jenny Pruchnik (14) and Lauren Horton (14).

Freshman guard Stephanie Snyder led Clarenceville with seven points.

"It will be a different ball game the next time around," Lutheran Westland coach Ron Gentz said. "It's kind of disappointing they didn't play. We looked forward to playing them in their entirety."

■ WYANDOTTE 46, WAYNE 30: Center Sarah Bailey scored 14 points Tuesday, leading the Mega Red-leading Bears to the win over Wayne Memorial (4-6, 0-3).

Rica Barge, a freshman, paced Wayne with 11 points. Tanisha Dixon added seven for the Zebras, who couldn't get any closer than five points (31-26) early in the fourth quarter.

■ LADYWOOD 59, REGINA 42: On Tuesday, Livonia Ladywood overwhelmed host Harper Woods Regina in the first and fourth quarters to win its third-straight Catholic League Central Division game without a loss.

The Blazers have won five in a row to move to 7-1 overall. Ladywood hosts undefeated Central Division rival Birmingham Marian tonight.

Tara Overaitis finished with a game-high 18 points and just as importantly held Regina's top player, Tamika Bates, scoreless through three quarters. Kerry Duggan chipped in with 14 points with four three-pointers, while sister Maura Duggan contributed eight points, including a pair of three-pointers.

Bates, who picked up three fouls in the first quarter, scored six points in the fourth quarter. Nicole Adams led Regina with 13 points.

■ N. FARMINGTON 81, CHURCHILL 39: North Farmington outscored Livonia Churchill 26-8 in the first quarter Tuesday to get started on a Western Lakes Activities Association rout at home.

The Raiders are 6-4 overall, 2-2 in the WLAA. Churchill is 3-7 overall, 0-4 in the WLAA.

Sophomore guard Shannon McCoy scored a game-high 23 points with five assists and five steals for North. Junior guard Alisha Gordon had 16 points, senior guard Allison Stein scored 14, and sophomore forward Carrie May 11 points and 10 rebounds.

The Chargers, who trailed 45-20 at halftime, were led by Kristen Sattler's 12 points.

Jamie Clark added nine points and nine rebounds.

■ CANTON 75, JOHN GLENN 25: Westland John Glenn had no answers for Plymouth Canton's defensive pressure Tuesday night, losing the WLAA game at home.

The Rockets, who trailed 19-14 after one quarter and 31-14 at halftime, are 1-5 overall, 0-4 in the WLAA. Canton is 9-1 overall, 4-0 in the WLAA.

Erica Anderson and Alyson Nounie led Canton with 14 points each. Britta Anderson added 11 points.

Senior guard Shawn Krause led Glenn with 10 points.

■ SALEM 44, FRANKLIN 26: Plymouth Salem held a 17-12 halftime lead Tuesday before pulling away from visiting Livonia Franklin in the third quarter with a 22-3 advantage.

The win raised Salem's record to 4-6 overall, 2-2 in the WLAA. Franklin is 5-5 overall, 1-3 in the WLAA.

Junior guard Karen Gundry scored 12 points to lead Salem and sophomore forward Nicole Van Hees added nine points. Lisa Craven scored six points; Shellye Sills had five points and 10 rebounds and Kelly Lukask recorded five points with seven assists.

Tracy Rynkiewicz led Franklin with eight points and Aimee Parenti contributed five.

■ ROEPER 39, HURON VALLEY 21: Chazara Clark scored 13 points, grabbed seven rebounds and dished out five assists Tuesday, leading Bloomfield Hills Roeper (8-2, 3-0) to the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference win.

Westland Huron Valley Lutheran couldn't recover from a 26-9 halftime deficit.

Spartans run record to 9-0

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

Farmington Harrison coach Pete Mantyla knew the consequences of letting Livonia Stevenson's Mo Drabicki play her game, but still couldn't find a way to stop the senior point-guard Tuesday.

Drabicki, who put on an exhibition on both ends of the court, helped host Stevenson rally in the second half to pull away for a 63-39 win and keep the state-ranked Spartans undefeated in nine games and 4-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Drabicki scored a game-high 20 points (15 in the second half) in addition to her 10 assists and seven steals. It was the senior's defense that helped Stevenson rebound from a 20-17 halftime deficit to win in surprisingly easy fashion.

When the third quarter began, the Spartans extended their defense and caused numerous Harrison turnovers leading to easy baskets; several by Drabicki.

"Every mistake you make, Mo will punish you," Mantyla said. "I have seen that for the past three years. With her in the game, you can never relax. If you slow down your transition, she will create a steal and it's a layup. The whole first half we handled her, but then we got tired and sloppy with our passes. She gets her hands on everything and then it's a layup show."

Stevenson dominated the third quarter by outscoring the Hawks 22-4. It was reminiscent of Thursday's victory over Plymouth Salem when Stevenson used a 13-0 spurt to pull away for the win.

"We extended our defense and played a more conservative half-court defense," Stevenson coach Wayne Henry said. "In the first half we were guarding against the three-point shot, but there was no shot. So in the second half we tried to stop their drives, offensive rebounds and entry passes more."

Sophomore center Stacey Nichols and Ann Marie Aquino added 11 and 10 points, respectively, for Stevenson. Erin LaCosse scored 13 second-half points to lead Harrison (6-4 overall and 2-2 in the WLAA).

After a dismal first-half shooting display (seven for 24 from the floor), the Spartans nailed 20 of 32 field goal attempts (62 percent) over the final two quarters.

Harrison made a comeback attempt at the start of the fourth quarter to cut the Stevenson lead to 41-30. But the Spartans went on a 10-0 run sparked by three steals and full court driving layups by Drabicki.

"I get more satisfaction scoring off defense," Drabicki said. "I have been working harder on defense and coach Henry has said I have to get more involved on defense. We work over an hour on defense in practice. We pressured the ball more in the second half and went back to our regular matchup defense."

Mantyla blamed the loss on his coaching and admits the Hawks have a lot of work to do following Harrison's last two defeats to the league's elite — Stevenson and Plymouth Canton.

"In my opinion, we can play a lot better than we have been playing," Mantyla said. "We have to get mentally tougher and I think I have to get tougher with the team across the board. I expect more from the girls and I expect more from myself."

"We've played the two toughest teams in the league and I thought we could play with them. We didn't and I blame myself."

Stevenson jumped out to a 13-5 first-quarter advantage, but the Hawks scored 15 of the next 19 points to gain a three-point half-time lead. Stevenson had to play much of the first half without Nichols, who was on the bench in foul trouble.

FOOTBALL

Clarenceville rips Lutheran Northwest

Livonia Clarenceville had it going both on the ground and in the air Saturday.

The visiting Trojans dominated both offensively and defensively in a 37-0 rout of Metro Conference West Division foe Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest.

Senior quarterback Lúvic Lucaj threw three touchdown passes, covering 33, 25 and 22 yards to favorite target Mark Kalaj. The two have teamed up for eight TDs this season.

Clarenceville, which enjoyed an 18-0 first-quarter and halftime advantage, also scored a pair of TDs on the ground.

Brian DeCaire contributed a

21-yard run, while Steve Spisz added a 17-yard scoring run. (Senior Mark Juncaj led Clarenceville with 58 yards in 12 carries.)

John Pauley also added a 27-yard field goal for the victorious Trojans, now 2-3 overall and 2-2 in the West.

Linebackers Jesse Lynn and Ray Kastl spearheaded a Clarenceville defense which stonewalled the winless Crusaders (minus-2 total yards) all afternoon.

■ CRANBROOK 41, LUTHERAN WESTLAND 13: On Saturday, visiting Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook clinched the Metro Conference West Division title as Silas Bouyer rushed for 119 yards, including a 15-yard TD run.

The victorious Cranes (4-1, 4-0) jumped out to a 21-0 halftime lead before coasting home against Lutheran High Westland (1-4, 0-3).

Mark Mancuso added TD runs of 4 and 5 yards. He had 72 yards rushing. Quarterback Jeff Hurlbert, who was six for 10 for 133 yards, threw a 41-yard scoring pass to Jeff Eddleston. Hurlbert also scored on a 7-yard TD run.

Robert Hunter contributed a 3-yard TD run. Steve Faith (86 yards rushing in 12 carries) got the Warriors on the board with a 9-yard TD run in the third quarter.

Jim Hoelt then threw a 14-yard scoring pass to Chris Duemeyer in the final period. (Jason Soos added the extra-point.) Hoelt was five of seven for 69 yards. Tight end Jeff Lichtner had four receptions for 63 yards.

The Warriors were outgained in total yardage, 317-204.

Defensively, linebacker Troy Smith was in on 19 tackles. Jason Bayush, another linebacker, was in on nine.

CROSS COUNTRY

Shamrocks run 3rd at Haslett; Lutheran Westland in money

Redford Catholic Central earned third place out of 21 teams in Saturday's Haslett Invitational boys cross country meet.

State-ranked Brighton took first with 37 points, followed by Ann Arbor Huron (87) and CC (96).

Joe Leo finished fourth for the Shamrocks with a time of 16:34 in the 5,000-meter race.

Other CC finishers included Jeremy Short, 20th (17:34); Matt Sroczyński, 22nd (17:37); Phil Camilleri, 24th (17:42); and Brian Smith, 26th (17:42).

The Shamrocks went without Mark Leo, who is nursing a foot injury. He is questionable for Monday's Central Division showdown with Warren DeLaSalle (4 p.m. Monday, Oct. 11 at Cass Benton).

Last Monday, CC beat host Harper Woods Notre Dame in a Catholic League dual meet at Metro Beach Park, 21-38.

Joe Leo paced the Shamrocks (4-0) with a first-place time of 16:29. He was followed by Short, third (17:06); Smith, fourth (17:07); Sroczyński, fifth (17:12); Camilleri, eighth (17:31); Derrick Faunce, ninth (17:39); and Mike Wynalék, 10th (17:42).

Hartland captured the team title with 32 points followed by Glenn (56) and Tawas (71).

Molitor finished course, which featured nearly 1½ miles of sand dunes, in 22:14.

Other Glenn finishers included

Tina Moore, fifth, 22:37; Marjorie Brooks, seventh, 22:57; and Gretchen Schroeder, 13th, 24:31.

Churchill recaptures WLAA crown

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Livonia, Churchill found a fall sport in which low scores can produce positive results.

Churchill's football and girls basketball teams are struggling to put points on the board but the golf team is experiencing success while keeping its scores low. The Chargers on Tuesday capped a successful Western Lakes Activities Association season with a league championship at Brae Burn Golf Course.

Churchill, with three players in the top 12, took first place with 418 strokes, three less than second-place Walled Lake Central. Churchill was one of the favorites after finishing the WLAA season with a 9-2 dual meet record and in a first-place tie with Northville and Plymouth Canton in the Western Division at 4-1.

The league championship was the first for Churchill since 1986 when the Chargers, led by all-stater Dean Kobane and Kurt Goetzke and Bill Dorough, finished second in Class A.

"We don't get a whole lot of trophies (as a program) in the fall, so this is good for the school to pick up two trophies (league and division) and three (individual) medals," said Churchill's fourth-year coach Kirk Osler. "We knew we had as much depth as anyone and it showed since we were the only team in the tourney with six players breaking 90."

Sweet swing: Sophomore Dave Higham shot an 86 to help Livonia Churchill win the team championship.

Plymouth Salem took third (427), followed by Northville (432) and Canton (444). Livonia Stevenson, led by Marino Apollinari's 83 (ninth individually), was ninth (470) and Westland John Glenn and Livonia Franklin tied for 11th place (493).

Central's Jason Malczewicz took medalist honors, shooting an 18-hole total of 76 (39-37). North Farmington's Drew Sopha was one shot off the pace, followed by Churchill's senior Jason Samelko with a 79. Samelko was 7-over par after six holes before going 1-over par in the last 12 holes despite tough pin placements, according to Osler.

"Jason played a terrific round," Osler said. "He's been our most consistent golfer."

Junior Jason Kiehler finished in seventh place for the Chargers with a round of 81 and his brother, sophomore Chris Kiehler, came home in a tie for 11th place at 84.

"Jason's struggled the last 10 days so he came through big time," Osler said.

Sophomore Dave Higham shot 86 and senior Todd Estes carded 88. Senior Dan Higham, who is Dave's older brother, finished with 89.

Osler said the camaraderie shown by the pair of brothers has been contagious with teammates.

"They're competitive with each other like all siblings are but in a good-natured way," Osler said. "This is a close-knit bunch."

Walos, Koppmeyer spur CC victories

Matt Koppmeyer's hat trick spurred Redford Catholic Central to an easy 8-0 Catholic League Central Division boys soccer victory Tuesday over host Harper Woods Notre Dame.

Rich Walos added one goal and four assists for the winners, now 6-2-3 overall and 3-0-3 in the Central.

Jamie Heitert, Tom Derhake, Adam Borchert and Dan Mulvihill also scored goals for the Shamrocks, who remain in the hunt for a Catholic League playoff spot. (CC meets Birmingham Brother Rice 4 p.m. Friday at Redford's Bell Creek Park.)

Goalies Jeremy Podolak and Matt McGivney combined on the shutout.

On Saturday, CC scored a 2-1 non-league victory over Plymouth Salem in a match at Bell Creek.

Walos scored both CC goals at 11 and 34 minutes, respectively, of the second half. John Zugel and Borchert earned the assists.

Mike Kokoszka went all the way in goal for CC.

FRANKLIN 2, NORTHVILLE 2: On Monday, Livonia Franklin and the visiting Mustangs battled to a draw in a Western Division game in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Victor Rodopoulos scored the Patriots' first goal from Jason Buelow.

Marty Smith added the second from Robert Vega to give Franklin a 2-1 half-time lead.

Franklin is 5-4-2 overall and 2-1-1 in the division.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's 1993-94 concert season promises to be a season to remember with an eclectic array of musical selections, and guests artists that range from soprano, Glenda Kirkland to flutist, Alexander Zonjic.

In celebration of the arts orchestra, under director/conductor, Russell Reed opens its 48th season with the 19th century romanticism of French, German and Norwegian composers 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 9 at Belleville High School Auditorium, 501 W. Columbia.

Internationally recognized pianist, Flavio Varani of Birmingham takes center stage as featured artist in Edward Grieg's "Piano Concerto in A minor, Op. 16."

Tickets are $12 (seniors, $10; K-12, $5) and available in Plymouth at Evola Music Center, 215 Ann Arbor Road and Beitner Jewelry at 904 W. Ann Arbor Trail; in Canton at Dearborn Music Co., 42679 Ford Road; in Northville at Gitfiddler, 302 E. Main Street and Bookstall on the Main 101 N. Center, and at the auditorium box office 45 minutes before performances. For more information call the PSO office at 451-2111.

"It's an exciting program, all 19th century music. We have French, Norwegian and German composers, and their approaches are very different," said Reed now in his seventh full season at the helm of the PSO.

"Berlioz is early romantic, brilliantly orchestrated. Grieg is standard for the late 19th century and a great showpiece for the pianist. Wagner is the epitome of the philosophy of big orchestral work: extra instruments, thickly scored, ultra dramatic."

Artist-in-residence and professor of music at Oakland University in Rochester Hills for 19 years, Varani has performed in France, Germany, Austria, South America, Spain, Italy, Poland, Japan, Israel, and the former Soviet Union.

A child prodigy born in Brazil, Varani first toured with the Brazilian National Symphony at age 10. As his musical talents grew, competition strengthened his abilities. At 13, Varani won the Sao Paulo City Award to study in Paris under Magda Tagliaferro and at 18, first prize in the Chopin International Competition in Mallorca, Spain. At 20, he came to the United States to complete his studies at The Juilliard School with Rosina Lhevinne, and with Artur Balsam and Dora Zaslavsky at the Manhattan School of Music in New York City.

For the last two summers, Varani has served as artistic director of the International Academy for Advanced Chamber Music Studies in Munich, Germany.

"It's wonderful to have a pianist of Flavio Varani's capabilities opening the new season," said Plymouth Symphony Society president, Linda Alvarado.

"Anyone who comes is guaranteed a fulfilling and enriching experience."

Competent cast makes best of bland 'Foreigner'

HUGH GALLAGHER

Larry Shue's "The Foreigner" is a sitcom for stage. It's broad, artificial, illogically plotted, and tagged with a moral to give it "weight." It's the typical summer stock fare that gives employment to soap opera actors and former sit-com stars.

The Meadow Brook Theatre production has its fair share of laughs, drawing on the acting of a competent cast and Shue's ability to agitate a comic scene. All the noise and sputter don't amount to much, but after a tediously slow start the production rolls pleasantly along.

The setting is a backwoods Georgia fishing lodge to which a shy, insecure British prooferader is brought by his more outgoing British military friend. The shy prooferader wants to be left alone and divorce himself from having to converse with others, so his friend tells the easily gullible hicks that his friend is a "foreigner" who can't speak English.

On that frail premise Shue whips up a story about finding one's place by helping others and throws in the Ku Klux Klan as convenient if overworked villains.

All of the characters are cliches from the grandmotherly owner of the dilapidated lodge whom actress Linde Hayden obviously based on Granny Clampett to the smarter than you think "halfwit." The actors seem to have fun with these overblown caricatures but it all seems so calculated that audiences might not be as indulgent.

Wil Love takes the title role with his usual exuberance but the transformation from repressed Brit to outgoing hero is too transparently false. Still he gets howls when he tells a tale in a gloriously invented language and clever physical gyrations.

Standing out in this cast are James Anthony and Alexander Webb. Anthony has the thankless task of playing a redneck Georgia cracker full of vile complete with huntin' outfit. He does a fine job of making the character believable as well as menacing.

Webb just about steals the show as the "halfwit" brother who shows more understanding and intelligence than those around him. Webb is hilarious in both a breakfast pantomime routine with the skillful Love and in his draft timing in responses to others. Paul Hopper effects a rollicking good working class British accent as the demolition expert soldier. Lance Retallick and Tamara Evans round out the cast with competent performances.

The notes say this is one of director Carl Shurr's favorite plays. It's hard to see why it would be anyone's favorite play. But Shurr and his cast make the best of a bland situation (comedy that is).

'Joy Luck Club' weaves emotional family tapestry ly compared to "cousin" Waverly, the chess-playing prodigy who makes the cover of Life.

In one of the movie's funniest scenes, Waverly's proud mother walks through Chinatown streets with her daughter in one hand and the Life cover very conspicuously propped against her chest. When the bratty Waverly refuses to compete one day, she and her mother launch a lifelong game of emotional chess where the older woman invariably wins.

In this and the other two families, the mothers can't understand why their daughters, who seemingly have everything, should botch their lives so terribly. Flashbacks reveal turbulent times back in China, where June's mother was forced during wartime to abandon her twin babies by the side of the road.

Ultimately, "The Joy Luck Club" is about hope, with the idea that spirit can be passed down from generation to generation, providing it's there to give.

The performances by the mothers are outstanding while some of the daughters, especially Ming-Na Wen's June, come off a bit stiff. In the modern scenes, her portrayal of contentment, gazing out a window with her hands wrapped around a hot mug of coffee, looks like a Maxwell House commercial.

Writer Tan, who also serves as co-producer, had a large hand in bringing her novel to the screen. Despite her best efforts (along with director Wang and executive producer Oliver Stone), the movie has the mark of Hollywood, in this case Hollywood Pictures.

A feature film production wing of Disney, Hollywood Pictures usually specializes in movie junk food with big-name stars. It compensates for the movie's arty and confusing narrative by presenting it with the visual flatness of television.

Through it all, "The Joy Luck Club" works. During a jam-packed preview screening at the Maple in Birmingham, you could hear a pin drop in the theater — if it wasn't for all the fluttering tissues and muffled sniffles.

The Joy Luck Club is now showing at these suburban movie theaters: AMC Maple, AMC Woods, and AMC Laurel Park.

Characters escape prisons in thriller, romance

Action adventure and romance are themes of two movies opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters.

In both films prisoners escape their confines and come face-to-face with their enemies. Wesley Snipes, as the diabolical Simon Phoenix, escapes from prison in "Demolition Man," also starring Sylvester Stallone.

Richard Gere is a prisoner to moods in "Mr. Jones." He falls in love with his doctor who helps him, but threatens his sense freedom.

"Demolition Man" tells the story of LA police Sgt. John Spartan (Sylvester Stallone) and Simon Phoenix (Wesley Snipes). It's 1996 and Phoenix, a psychopathic criminal, is holding 30 hostages in a heavily armed compound. Spartan, known as the "Demolition Man," apprehends Phoenix in a daring attack that destroys the building. Phoenix then swears that Spartan is responsible for the incineration of the 30 hostages, and Spartan, convicted of involuntary manslaughter, is sentenced to sub-zero "rehabilitation" as a frozen inmate of the California Cryo-Penitentiary.

Fast-forward to the year 2032. San Angeles to a peaceful, more genteel society.

Thawed from his cryogenic state for a mandatory parole hearing, Phoenix escapes from the cryoprison, and begins a savage rampage through the city. Spartan is removed from the CryoPrison to once again face his arch-enemy.

Richard Gere, star of "Mr. Jones" is a prisoner to his moods. Intelligent, dedicated, respected — Dr. Libbie Bowen (Lena Olin) is a psychiatrist who is totally unprepared for Mr. Jones. She falls in love with him risking her career for love.

By loving Libbie and allowing her to help him, Mr. Jones risks losing the ecstatic sense of freedom and creativity he cherishes as part of his condition.

Plymouth Symphony works at developing new audiences

A series of seven major programs color the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's 1993-94 season. All concerts begin at 8 p.m. unless otherwise noted. Call 451-2111 for individual concert, and season ticket information.

Due to the failure of two recent millage proposals in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District, the PSO was forced to seek concert halls for all of its programming this season, elsewhere. Director/conductor Russell Reed chooses to see the new sites as a plus instead of a minus.

"We're developing new audiences for the Plymouth Symphony," he said.

On Nov. 14, "An Orchestra Safari," for the family takes place in the Novi High School Auditorium. The 3 p.m. matinee features the talented young pianist, Joshua Cullen in the first movement of Mozart's "Piano Concerto in C Major, K. 415." Trudy Bradley of WQRS will narrate the afternoon offering showcasing Britten's "Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra, Op. 34."

"Deborah Rebeck-Ash is writing the narration for the program which includes music from all of the Disney, all of the Saturday morning favorites," said Linda Alvarado, Plymouth Symphony Society president.

"We're hoping that Joshua Cullen will bring inspiration to young people so they become interested in classical music." Ticket prices for the safari are $6 (seniors, $5 and K-12, $3).

For the third holiday season, the PSO joins forces with the Plymouth Canton Ballet Company, under artistic director Dawn Greene, to present three performances of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker 8 p.m., Dec. 3-4, and 3 p.m., Dec. 5 in the Novi High School Auditorium.

Canton Township dancer Dawnell Dryja, on temporary leave from her new position with the Metropolitan Ballet Theatre (Detroit's first professional ballet company), performs the lead role of Sugar Plum Fairy.

Tickets for these performances have been sold out by curtain time the past three years. Prices are $14 (seniors, $14 and K-12, $8).

The PSO has expanded its annual chamber concert to two evenings of intimacy and refinement Jan. 28 at the Novi Civic Center, and Jan. 29 at the Plymouth First Presbyterian Church. The program spotlights members of the orchestra, and its 1994 Youth Artist Winners. The same ticket prices apply as for the Nov. 14 concert.

Feb. 26, flutist Alexander Zonic and his quintet live up the Novi High School Auditorium with "Jazz Plus."

To close the season, the orchestra will "Ring In The Spring" with its annual benefit pops concert April 29 at the Golden Fox, Fox Hills Country Club in Plymouth.

The rousing music of Andrew

Lloyd Webber is sure to move the audience with selections from "Cats," "Evita," "Jesus Christ Superstar," and "The Phantom of the Opera." Guest artists are the Detroit Handbell Ensemble under director, Susan Berry and commentator, Paul Russell of WQRS. Tickets for concert and dinner are $35 (seniors, $35 and K-12, $25) and for concert and dessert only, $15 (seniors, $15 and K-12, $10).

Thanks to the efforts of PSO vice president in charge of planning, Mary Jo Braun and husband, Bob, all of the programs have corporate sponsorship.

Jeff Daniels stars in Civil War epic, hosts benefit

By KEELY WYGONIK

This is a busy week for actor Jeff Daniels who founded The Purple Rose Theatre Company in Chelsea and serves as its executive director.

Tonight, "The Vast Differences," a comedy he wrote about changing roles of the American Male in the 1990s, opens for preview performances at The Purple Rose Theatre in Chelsea. Previews continue through Oct. 14. Opening night is 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 15 with shows through Nov. 28. Call 475-7902 for tickets and performance times.

On Sunday Daniels is hosting a screening of "Gettysburg," at the Fox Theatre in Detroit to benefit The Purple Rose Theatre, a not-for-profit theater that showcases the works of playwrights from the Midwest.

Based on Michael Shaara's Pulitzer Prize-winning novel "The Killer Angels," "Gettysburg," a New Line Cinema/Turner Pictures release, dramatically depicts the three-day battle of Gettysburg which occurred July 1-3, 1863.

Daniels portrays Col. Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain in the four-hour epic which has gotten rave reviews since it premiered in Washington, D.C., on Oct. 4.

"Gettysburg" opens Friday in metro Detroit at United Artists Theatres Oakland Mall, and will be shown 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 10, at the Fox.

Benefit tickets are $15 per person, available at the Fox Theatre, 211 Woodward, Detroit, or Ticketmaster, 645-6666. Patron tickets, which include reserved seating and an afterglow at Second City with the stars — Daniels, Martin Sheen, Sam Elliott, C. Thomas Howell and writer/director Ron Maxwell are $200 a person, call 475-5817.

"I'm doing what I can to bring people downtown. It's an epic event, the Fox is the perfect place to see the film. The film is a big event, and to see it at the Fox is very exciting."

Daniels and I talked on the telephone Friday about "Gettysburg," and his comedy at The Purple Rose Theatre.

"I felt a great sense of responsibility," said Daniels who strongly resembles the Federal Army colonel he portrays in "Gettysburg."

Col. Joshua Lawrence

Chamberlain of the 20th Maine Regiment was a 33-year-old college professor, fluent in seven languages.

"Chamberlain listened to his men," said Daniels. "And they fought for him because of that, I think." Chamberlain received the Congressional Medal of Honor, and was designated to receive the surrender of the Confederate Army at Appomattox.

"He's a hero in Maine," said Daniels. "People were very concerned about how he would be portrayed. I read books about him, and went to Maine to do research. I did my homework."

"Gettysburg" renders a human dimension to the war. More than 5,000 Civil War re-enactors participated in the filming.

■ DURR LANDS CONTRACT

Plymouth-based Durr Industries, Inc. was awarded a $100-million-plus contract from BMW Manufacturing Corp. for installation of the painting system at the automaker's new Greenville, S.C. plant.

The contract calls for installation of the paint shop, environmental controls and materials handling equipment. Work began in August 1993 and should be finished by August 1994.

■ EXEC TEMP SERVICE

Sales Consultants of Plymouth has launched a new division called InterExec, a temporary placement service for professionals, including attorneys, accountants, consultants and physicians.

The agency fills openings caused by hiring freezes, transfers, promotions, terminations, illness, maternity leave and vacations and places executives on special assignments. "As the country begins to move toward a leaner corporate staff, the use of temporary executives continues to grow. InterExec will provide the workforce on an interim basis without the high cost of a permanent hire," said Patricia Redmond, InterExec director.

■ NEW ARBOR DRUGSTORE

Arbor Drugs will open four new metro-Detroit stores by year's end, including one in Southfield. Target opening for the store at 26020 W. 12 Mile (at Northwestern Highway) is early November.

■ NEW IMAGE

Body By You in Farmington Hills has changed its name to The Firm, announced Don Frazier, president and founder of the seven-year-old fitness center.

Frazier, who started cardiovascular training at age 15 to control his asthma, said the new name sharpens the center's image: "Many people interpreted Body By You as strictly a body building gym. The Firm emphasizes the body-building aspects of physical training and a program of good health and well being."

Frazier's client roster includes many pro athletes, including Isiah Thomas, James Toney and Earl Cureton.

Besides body building and weight training, the center offers aerobics, weight reduction programs and nutrition counseling, group or corporate wellness programs and cardiovascular evaluation.

WLLZ-FM deejay Sheri Donovan will host The Firm's grand opening, noon to 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 16, at 30006 W. 12 Mile, between Orchard Lake Road and Middlebelt.

■ NEW LABEL

Express Services Temporary & Permanent Personnel has changed its name to Express Personnel Services, announced John P. Bower, franchisee of the Troy and Farmington Hills locations.

"The company is broadening its scope to include new staffing options. With that in mind, the name was chosen for clarity (and because it is) all-inclusive," Bower said.

Second-quarter sales in metro-Detroit are up 27 percent compared to a year earlier, Bower said. He predicts 1993 will be the agency's "best year ever."

Express is an international company offering temporary help, permanent job placement, executive recruiting and employee leasing.

■ PAPER CHASE

360COM Systems, a Livonia-based company, has come up with a high-tech way to handle up to 700,000 computer-generated pages on a single 5¼-inch optical disk.

The DMS-360 will manage scanned, faxed, paper-based documents, computer generated reports and print files. Stored information can be accessed from remote locations to eliminate duplication and files can be retrieved, printed, faxed or sent via digital communication lines.

Stored documents are exact copies that include handwritten notes, signatures and stamps.

The system starts at less than $15,000.

"We're finding the system's cost can be easily justified purely by eliminating lost paperwork," said Harvey Gross, company president.

■ TURF'S UP

3-Dimensional Services, a Rochester Hills engineering and manufacturing firm, and Michigan State University have developed a natural-grass playing surface for enclosed sports stadiums.

Turf Box Pallet System is made of a series of shallow, hexagon-shaped boxes filled with sod. Each box (resembling a flat of nursery plants) is made of high-strength, lightweight steel and measures 7½ feet across.

Installing the indoor pallets is similar to placing basketball flooring over the ice in indoor arenas. The pallet's accurate fit allows sod to fit tightly, giving a virtually seamless surface.

"The system gives indoor and open-air stadiums greater design flexibility with respect to the events they can handle, providing the ability to switch playing surfaces quickly," said Alan Peterson, 3-Dimensional sales manager.

■ NEW TESTER

Canton-based Michigan Induction has purchased a Vestron Rockwell Hardness Testing System to improve accuracy and overall data collection at its accredited laboratory.

Michigan Induction provides heat treatment process development and statistical process control analysis.

Changes made at Ross Roy

Ross Roy Group, a Bloomfield Hills-based advertising and marketing company, filled two key posts and merged several subsidiaries into one company called Ross Roy Communications Inc.

Peter Mills, chairman, said the company's new structure "is expected to be more cost effective in what is an increasingly competitive business."

Mills foresees no layoffs.

Richard Ward, president of the communications unit, becomes vice chairman of Ross Roy Communications.

Ward, a 15-year employee who lives in Rochester Hills, will recruit clients and remain on the Chrysler account.

Timothy Copacia, formerly senior vice president at BBDO-Detroit, was named executive vice president and director of account services for Chrysler.

Bosch working on better air

Bosch, whose automotive group is in Farmington Hills, says it has the technology to help the Big Three domestic auto manufacturers and the federal government in their partnership to develop a highly fuel-efficient and environmentally friendly "super car." Bosch is a leading manufacturer of electronic engine management systems.

"Since the development of the oxygen sensor, which is a critical component of the catalytic converter, Bosch has had a rich history of developing components and systems that increase fuel economy and reduce emissions," said Joseph V. Borruco, senior vice president — sales and engineering for Robert Bosch Corp.'s Automotive Group.

"We're confident that our technology will continue to make contributions in the development of fuel-efficient and low-emission vehicles of the future."

Bosch innovations introduced at the recent International Automobile Exhibition in Frankfurt, Germany, are the result of ongoing research and development activities taking place at the company's facilities worldwide, he said.

In addition to light-weight materials and aerodynamic designs, higher quality engine-management systems would make the cars of the future cleaner, more fuel-efficient and more reliable. Bosch is working to integrate several engine-management functions into a single electronic control unit. Bosch's latest example of this is the Motronic MP6 system for four-cylinder engines.

The hybrid design offers compact componentry, resistance to temperatures and vibration and high-performance fuel injection, ignition control and oxygen control. Most of the harmful emissions emitted by a car are produced in the first few minutes after the car is started, before the catalytic converter is hot enough.

To help resolve this, Bosch has developed a secondary air system. This system injects air into the exhaust manifold to produce extra-hot exhaust gas immediately after starting to quickly heat up the catalytic converter while reducing hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide.

Once the catalytic converter is working at its peak effectiveness, the system returns to normal operation.

Through its Farmington Hills-based Automotive Group, Bosch delivers a variety of precision components and systems to U.S., transplant and European customers.

These include gasoline and diesel fuel-injection and emissions-control components, anti-lock braking and traction-control systems, air bag trigger units, smart power semiconductors and power diodes, starter motors, alternators, relays and transmission control solenoids.

RK SURGERY

INFORMATION BULLETIN

RK Surgery is short for Refractive Surgery. It is a surgery for myopia or nearsighted people to potentially eliminate the need of eye glasses or contact lenses. It is performed in an office outpatient setting without the use of laser. Laser Refractive Surgery is performed with an Excimer Laser and is called Photo Refractive Keratoplasty and is also performed as an outpatient.

The Michigan Eyecare Institute feels this is a wonderful procedure for thousands of people but not all people are candidates.

The doctors at the Michigan Eyecare Institute have had more years of experience with RK Surgery and Excimer Laser Surgery than any other doctors in the midwest. Dr. Myers is the first doctor currently practicing in Michigan to have performed the procedures. Dr. Myers and Dr. Rubinstein are the first doctors in Michigan to have performed any type of surgery with Excimer Laser.

The Michigan Eyecare Institute recommends if you are contemplating Refractive Surgery to investigate how many years the doctor you are electing to perform the procedure has been doing it and how many patients they have performed it on. Also you may ask how many lectures and papers they have written concerning their data, results and methods.

The doctors of the Michigan Eyecare Institute have lectured internationally about Refractive Surgery and Excimer Laser Surgery and have taught the procedures to other ophthalmologists for 15 years and welcome you to visit their offices for a consultation or free evaluation as to whether you or your family members or friends are a candidate for the procedure.

Please cut this bulletin out and use it for a reference if you are contemplating Refractive Surgery. The Michigan Eyecare Institute has 4 offices in Southeastern Michigan. Call 1-800-676-EYES for further information.

Campbell said. "For people using coupons, the only service I supply is bringing groceries to the door. If you don't use coupons and just go to one store, I estimate I can save 30 percent on a food bill."

"By putting some numbers together, I personally feel we can do 60 customers at a time," he said. "If I can get 25 clients by the end of the year, or within that range, it will be well worth it."

"I'm not expecting a whole horde of clients at the beginning," Campbell said. "I'm not looking to be a millionaire. I'm looking to provide a good income. My goal is to build this up so eventually my wife can stop her work."

Nancy Campbell works as an office manager for Kelly Services.

"He's always looked for something where he could be his own boss," she said. "On the flip side, I'm able to offer stability with income and health insurance, so we're able to do something."

Nancy credits herself with planting the seed for the business.

"Grocery shopping, I hate doing," she said. "I like to get in and get out. I don't search for deals."

From groceries, pet supplies and dry cleaning, Campbell wants to expand into supplying personal appreciation gifts for business customers and employees and orchestrating special catered lunches and theme parties.

He believes in the power of word-of-mouth advertising and referrals. "As I build a relationship with customers, they'll know more and more what I do."

Campbell, who has a business degree from Central Michigan University, also serves as a consultant on a contractual basis for an employee leasing company. He has worked as an independent insurance agent.

For now, Campbell intends to concentrate his Metro Grocery & Gift efforts in Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth and Northville.

"When I shop, I see mothers with two or three kids and it doesn't look like much fun," Campbell said. "Then you have two people working and probably the last thing they want to do is go shopping at prime time."

Campbell said he doesn't see other independent grocers or drug stores offering free delivery as threatening to his plan.

"It's a sign of the times," he said. "I don't know if people want more service, but I think it's encouraging."

"Whoever thought there'd be a detail business, cleaning cars, for a business? Hand wash? It's being done today," Campbell said.

Betty Theisen, who ran a similar shopping operation for six years in Livonia, Redford, Westland, Dearborn and Dearborn Heights, wishes the Campbells success.

"It went well in all respects except being profitable," Theisen recalled of her experience. "It's a good service, one that's needed. Mostly it was senior citizens who couldn't get out."

A lack of customers coupled with a lot of running around to serve those she had eventually proved to be her undoing, Theisen said.

"I would stock wholesale and send out a brochure I made up," she said. "I advertised in the Observer, church bulletins."

Bargain hunting: Chris Campbell says he enjoys shopping coupons and going from store to store searching for good deals.

Coupon clipper will cut your grocery bill

Either you like to shop for groceries or you don't. Someone who does will buy and deliver the goods to you — for a price. He figures he can save up to 30 percent on grocery bills for people who don't use coupons and shop only one store on a regular basis.

BY DOUG FUNKE
STAFF WRITER

Chris Campbell loves to save money by shopping coupons. His business goal is to make a living grocery shopping for people who consider the experience a hassle and don't want to deal with themselves on a regular basis.

"Every household has to shop. You can't get around it," Campbell said. The 32-year-old Livonia resident started Metro Grocery & Gift Home & Business Delivery Service out of his house a couple of weeks ago with a collection of coupons, a computer and a plan.

He's personally distributed some 500 fliers to households in Livonia and public places like the Livonia Family Y and library.

"I kind of envision myself as a professional buyer," Campbell said. "Maybe it's my Scottish heritage. I like to save money and get the best price I can. Going from store to store gives me satisfaction."

"If you start a business, you should do something you're really good at. I've been doing the shopping for our family. I've been the one to do the coupons. I know the layouts of all the stores."

Campbell's service requires little start-up capital. His biggest investment is time.

He intends to bill clients a percentage of monthly grocery buy. People spending $125 or less would pay 25 percent, $126-$350, 20 percent, $350 and above, 15 percent. Senior citizens would get a 5 percent discount.

Campbell intends to take orders, shop coupons at a variety of supermarkets for the best prices, pack the goodies and deliver.

"It's not for everybody, naturally."

Get organized

Take time to discard the clutter

STAFF WRITER

This is Get Organized Week. Sponsored by the National Association of Professional Organizers, the observance is designed to motivate us to streamline our lives by clearing off our desks, purging files, getting rid of clutter and better planning our time and priorities.

Taking control involves both the broad picture and small details, organizing experts maintain.

"One of the great problems is being overwhelmed with too much to do," said Dorothy Lehmkuhl, proprietor of Organizing Techniques in Bloomfield Township and national coordinator of Get Organized Week.

Her big point — you can't be all things to all people.

"Everyone wants to be successful... by saying, 'Yes, yes, I can do it,'" Lehmkuhl said. "The more you say yes, the more you ultimately say no because you can't do everything."

Most of us recognize that we can take steps to improve organization in the workplace, said Ann Savell, a Birmingham consultant who specializes in office organizing, space planning and corporate relocation.

"I gave a talk recently to the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce about cleaning off the desk and the office and people were sitting there nodding in agreement," she said.

So why is it difficult to translate thought into action?

"We'll find little ways to avoid things until it's serious," Savell said. "We say to ourselves, 'I'm kind of disorganized, but still functioning.' When the cost of a problem is big time, then there's motivation."

"It's not fun," Lehmkuhl said of the procrastination. "It seems, and emphasize the word seems, a low priority. People tend to gravitate to work that is enjoyable."

Before we know where we're going, we have to know where we are, organizers said.

"I think the main issue is lack of thinking through an entire process or what is to be accomplished, what is to be done," Savell said.

"Learn your capabilities," Lehmkuhl advised. "Use a Day-timer and block out all your tasks — not just appointments — when you do what, how long it takes."

Michelle DuMouchelle, a certified public accountant who operates Simply Organization in Northville, continued in that vein.

"People need to schedule time to get their thoughts together either at the beginning or the end of a day," she said. "Things happen so fast in the workplace and people are always pulling at you."

Physical clutter can hurt business performance.

"I've seen it happen," DuMouchelle said. "People miss appointments if they don't write on calendars. It could be a big money contract."

"It's too easy not to follow up on a good lead, too easy not to process an order that gets lost in papers on a desk," Lehmkuhl said.

When it comes to organizing, one size or plan apparently doesn't fit all.

"Organizing isn't always neat, but a system that works for you and your company and you can monitor," Savell said.

"The individual situation dictates what has to be done and I think the simpler the better," DuMouchelle said.

A few general organizing tips from the experts:

- Throw out what you don't need.
- Organize files and tools vertically rather than horizontally so they're more visible and accessible.
- Organize supporting work materials so you don't have to physically get up and walk to get them.

Herald Wholesale sets hospital benefit

The Bloomfield Township owner of Herald Wholesale's newly remodeled decorative plumbing, lighting and hardware showroom will host an open house to benefit Children's Hospital of Michigan 5-8 p.m. today, Oct. 7.

The Oak Park showroom is at 20830 Coolidge, between Eight and Nine Mile. All donations collected during the event will go to the 107-year-old hospital's Rehabilitation Center.

Owner and president Gerald Katz will host the champagne and hors d'oeuvres fund-raiser and spotlight innovative ideas in high-end decorative plumbing, lighting and hardware design.

Katz will take the opportunity to unveil one of his store's newest products: a Kallista solid copper bathtub set with hand shower priced at $35,500. The tub was handcrafted by the same copper-smiths who refurbished the Statue of Liberty. It measures 65 inches in length and 32 inches in width and is unusually deep. It's part of Kallista's Archeo Suite of copper bathtub, wash basin and faucetry.

More than 40,000 items of inventory are on display in the

One-of-a-kind attractions include a shower with 40 shower heads, 15 body sprays, four hand showers, three rain bars and five exotic tub fillers.

Herald Wholesale will mark its 40th anniversary in November. The family-owned company has grown from four employees to 71. Regular hours are 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. weekdays and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Know what to look for in child care

Like millions of parents, arranging the best possible child care for their child, many concerns come to mind. One concern is what questions to ask and what responses to expect.

A friend of mine from high school days, whom I haven't seen or heard from since graduation, looked me up because she had heard I could help her with some of the concerns she had regarding child care selection. This friend has a toddler of 18 months, her very first child, and she like many others pondered over where to look for care . . . quality. Actually, my friend admitted to having some fears about not finding the "right one."

What's out there? How can I be sure the center or family day care home caregiving staff will do the right things for and with my child? Will they have the necessary skills or training to work with my child? There are so many centers listed in the Yellow Pages. How do I choose?

HELP!!!
My high school chum told me that she had heard some horror stories, and how trendy sales tactics like declaring quality through their particular program can make selecting even more difficult. I listened very closely and between a few OKs, uh, uh, right, let her know I understood.

I assured her that there's a good and practical way of selecting child care. One thing I did tell her was most parents want the best for their precious little person, and that the best may vary from parent to parent, family to family.

Around this time of the year when parents are scouting around town in search of child care, I find that information on "What to Look For" is always helpful.

So what do you look for? Does the child care provider:

- Seem calm and gentle?
 - Seem to be in tune to the environment and the children?
 - Take time and respond to children's questions and concerns?
 - Have specialized training in child development?
 - Talk in a voice that is child friendly, yet has a tone of being able to handle discipline problems?
- Does the child care facility have:
- A license or certificate of registration with the Department of Social Services Child Day Licensing? Is it posted where you can see it?
 - Adequate lighting, fire exits, heating and ventilation?
 - Fire, tornado and emergency injuries procedures posted?
 - Staff persons who can explain the procedures?
 - A clean, comfortable look and space that is easily defined?
 - Appropriate child/staff ratio - center base one adult to every 10 children ages 2 1/2 to 5 years; for infant care one adult to every three or four infants?
 - Clearly written and defined policies and guidelines and parent handbook?
 - Enough equipment, supplies and toys accessible to children?
 - Safety devices such as outlet caps and other deterrence to help minimize accidents?
 - Planned activities/schedule posted as well as nutritious menus?

Do you feel that:

- You can possibly trust the caregivers to meet your child's needs based on what you see, hear and feel while being in the environment (first impressions)?
 - The program will meet your child's needs developmentally and will be a happy, non-stressful environment?
 - You can develop a positive relationship with the caregivers and your input would be welcomed and valued?
 - The center's or family day care home's rules are realistic and fair?
 - The center's philosophy on child development, care and child rearing practices complements your own?
- Before making arrangements, make sure you understand:
- Total fees to be paid and when. How? By check, money order, cash?
 - Who's providing the meals, including snacks.
 - What forms need to be completed and/or notarized.
 - Illness and health policy. What arrangements are made for the children should they become ill while in care?
 - That you need a backup person to care for your child when they are too ill to participate in daily child care activities.
 - What your child needs to start - extra clothing, blanket or sheet, towel, etc.

Life's challenges

On the job:
Bryan Walters has proven he's up to the task in the workplace even though he is mentally challenged.

STAFF PHOTOS BY JIM JAGDFELD

Retarded prove their job ability

Life can be a challenge if you're able-bodied. It's even more of a challenge if you have a disability. But employers are finding mentally challenged individuals with some help can be some of the most reliable employees.

BY SUE MASON
STAFF WRITER

Bryan Walters admitted he was a bit afraid at the thought of changing jobs. But two months after the fact, he wouldn't think of going back.

Changing jobs is difficult for the average person, but more so for Walters. Mentally challenged, his change was from a sheltered workshop to an hourly job at a small aviation-related business.

"I love it," a smiling Walters said. "At first I felt lost and scared, but after I got used to it and started talking to the guys . . . I love right where I'm at. I wouldn't want to go back."

Walters is a success story that the Wayne County Association for the Retarded and the Michigan Rehabilitation Services hope will catch the attention of corporate leaders.

Those are the people who can find jobs for the handicapped . . . especially during this week, named Investing in Ability Week in Michigan. The week has been set aside to promote handicapped employment by encouraging employers - and people in general - to focus on their abilities not their perceived disabilities.

"If I had a wish list at the top of the list would be employer awareness," said Kim Wells, an employment training specialist. "We need to see this marketed at the corporate level. We can hit the managers but they won't make the decision. It has to be done at the corporate level."

The message WCAR wants to get to potential employers is that it can lower their personnel costs (recruitment, hiring, training and supervision) and reduce the time spent training new workers by using the supported employment program.

The organization also tosses in a few buzz words that businesses look for in new hirings - "motivated, successful, capable, stable and dependable" - and tax credits and deductions for hiring and accommodating the handicapped.

Supported employment

Walters is part of the Western Wayne Supported Employment Project, a joint venture of MRS and WCAR, soon to be known as STEP (Services to Enhance Potential).

WCAR targets a person like

Walters for employment, finds the job, helps with the interview and does the paperwork. MRS, a part of the state Department of Education, then steps in to provide an individual written rehabilitation program - the job goal and services necessary for successful employment.

If the employee needs work clothes, help with transportation or in Walters' case, work boots, MRS takes care of it. WCAR then comes up with a job coach that helps the employee's on-the-job training.

The joint venture is about to wrap up its second year and has successfully placed some 70 percent of the 41 individuals identified for employment.

"There's no real criteria for determining who gets placed, only a desire and a reasonable expectation of their ability to work with support or without support," said Dan Dankoff MRS rehabilitation counselor. "Our goal and mission is to get these individuals out of the workshop and into community-based jobs."

"This is the first program of this nature and it's been incredibly successful because of the people involved and their dedication."

The program offers both individual employment prospects as well as enclaves so "people with needs" can get out into the community. The enclaves include a supervisor and at least three workers who may need prompting to move to the next task or help with the toileting or the like.

The enclaves are "a good stepping stone" to individual employment and generally the crews go from place-to-place doing maintenance of office cleaning. The supervisor provides the crew's mobility.

A new job

Walters had been doing maintenance work at the Livonia Skills Center when the opportunity to work for Approved Aircraft Accessories Inc. in Romulus surfaced. The company had approached WCAR in hopes of finding some temporary workers.

But the agency shuns such assignments because of the costs involved in training the employee, preferring regular employment of at least 15 hours a week. That was no problem for Approved Aircraft, which offered placement of 15 hours a week and up to 40 hours during busier times.

Wells helped Walters with the job interview and paperwork and even to break the news to his mother that he had a new job - sand blasting landing gears of aircraft.

"When he first called, he couldn't talk to her," she said. "He called, said 'I got the job' and that was it. He was crying so hard he couldn't talk."

Stars shine for 'Hollywood Nights'

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO

Carol Cassie believes in fair play. Upon achieving success with her company First Michigan Title, Inc., she thought it fair to share her wealth with the community.

"My philosophy is, we've done real good in business," she said. "Business should give back to the community."

Acting on that theory, Cassie has organized "Hollywood Nights," a fashion show benefiting women's, children's and infant's health care at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. The hospital recently joined forces with William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

The fashion show will take place at 6 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 21, at Laurel Manor Banquet and Conference Center, 3900 Schoolcraft Road, Livonia.

Specifically, the money made from the event will fund the building of the state-of-the-art women's center, slated to open 1996. It will provide a wide variety of programs ranging from education, treatment, and maternity care.

A complex woman, writer can't be read like open book

GRAPHOLOGY PROFILES

LORENE GREEN

Dear Ms. Green, Greetings! I must say I truly enjoy reading your column. I've done enough dabbling into graphology to know how many factors you have to consider to delve into the person's personality. You must really enjoy your work.

Well, a bit about myself, I'm 21 and right handed. Most people who read my writing say it's messy. Heck, even I have trouble deciphering it sometimes. Although I must say I've gotten a bit out of practice since I have to write in the typical architecture lettering at school. I had to sit and think for a while how some of the letters went.

Please keep up your intriguing work!

K.S., Detroit

Our young writer today is both interesting and somewhat complex. Stated succinctly, she cannot be read like an open book.

She wants to be admired and perceived as larger than life. Yet she appears to be some what of an enigma to others and possibly even to herself at times.

She has an unconscious desire to be independent and to free herself from the fetters of convention and tradition. The shadow side, however, suggests an emotional need to return to the security of the mother figure or the past. Emotions play a large role in our writer's personality. This woman is extroverted in areas of endeavor. When establishing emotional relationships, she is sensitive, sympathetic and somewhat introverted.

Each of the above statements suggest the ambivalent feelings and indecision she often experiences. She is very young and developing good coping skills, but may find it beneficial to stop and try to work through these seeming contradictions.

In her schooling she has a desire to perform well. She works for accuracy with the possible exception of spelling which would benefit from a little extra attention.

Our writer has a tendency toward haste and carelessness at times. As a result she probably ends up bruising or cutting herself.

This is a self-starter and her organizational skills should be a definite asset in accomplishing what she wishes to do. In addition, signs of versatility and creativity can be seen. And her eye for aesthetics should be valuable for her architectural training. She has a knack for wiggling

"We're really excited about the fund-raiser; it's generating a lot of interest," said Cassie who formed "Project SMILE" to oversee the event. It's (St. Mary's Hospital) located in the 'golden corridor.' It has the ability to expand. Most hospitals of that kind are locked in.

Because the hospital has the room to expand, Cassie said, the majority of the doctors will be under one roof as opposed to several branches like other hospitals.

Already, she said, the event has helped one woman, a volunteer who was terrified of hospitals.

"She had somebody turn her attitude around; she's helping with it and coming to the functions," she said.

In planning the event hosted by Channel 7's John Kelly and Marilyn Turner, Cassie recruited community members and co-workers.

"We've all pulled together for the better of the community," she said.

Among the evening's activities include modeling of women's fashions by the Elle Shop of Dearborn, and men's fashions by Manno Clothier of Dearborn. West Bloomfield hair designer Raphael will also introduce his new perfume, "Giving," and special one-of-a-kind creations and hair styles.

And those participants who come dressed as their favorite Hollywood star can win a "prize."

Artist Janelle Agar will present original artworks "Spirit of St. Mary" to St. Mary Hospital; "Spirit of Loving Care" to William Beaumont Hospital; and "Spirit of Giving" to the highest contributor.

Tickets for "Hollywood Nights" are $30 per person and include dinner, the fashion show and cash bar. Those who donate more than $100 will be recognized in the fashion show catalog.

Policy on vacation and holidays and trial periods.

A parent should be the best possible person to make a sound decision on child care selection. Trust your good judgment; your inner self or intuition just might be right.

Never rely solely on what you see. If the environment feels good, warm and open, it may be the place for your child. Also, visit the center without having an appointment, just to see if things still seem the same and you feel the same about the program.

Quality child care is consistent. Professionally trained staffers go about their duties in such a way that visitors do not intimidate them.

Singles find adoption an option for parenthood

Happy mom: As a single woman, Sharon Williams of Livonia savors being mother to her adopted daughter Kaitlyn, including when it's time for a bedtime story.

BY BARBARA WILSON
STAFF WRITER

Families are being redefined every day with new options in parenthood becoming available.

One not-so-new option seems to be gaining acceptance as more children are in need of a loving and caring environment in which to grow.

The Michigan Association of Single Adoptive Parents has brought together a large family of single people who have opened their hearts and their homes to young people from this country and others, and who are considering the possibility of doing so.

"We feel it is important for the kids growing up to see families like their own where mommy or daddy doesn't necessarily look like them," said Janet Way, president of MASAP.

Way, a Centerline resident, has adopted two children, a daughter from India and a son from Bulgaria.

"We get stares sometimes and I have to remind myself that the kids look different from me and that is probably what the stare is about," Way said.

She adopted her daughter as an infant from India in 1986 and it took five years to find her a sibling. Her son came to her from Bulgaria when he was 4 years old. She first met him when he was almost 3. "Right after the adoption process, Bulgaria shut down to single-parent adoptions," she said.

Sharon Williams of Livonia adopted a little girl from Guatemala and hopes to adopt again within the year.

"I have always considered adoption even if marriage was part of the picture," Williams said. She found MASAP was a way to make her dream a reality.

"Agencies that handle single parents are few and far between and I didn't want to deal with constant rejection when being considered alongside married couples," Williams said. "They (MASAP) helped put me in touch with the right people."

Williams, who is employed by Chrysler, always felt she was capable of handling a family on her own. Her extended family is nearby to help in a crisis, which is the biggest fear of single, adoptive parents, and there are plenty of male role models in her family and through MASAP.

"We're better off than some because we go into it knowing we're going to do it alone," Way said. "Some families end up being one-parent families without planning through death and divorce and that would be much more difficult."

Way's extended family is not as accessible so she has come to rely even more heavily on the support offered by MASAP.

"It's comforting to go through the process together," she said. "We get together often to talk and the kids play together."

MASAP has only four official meetings per year as they attract members from across the state. A newsletter links them and members closely joined in the metropolitan Detroit area have become an extended family for each other.

Way characterizes the typical single adoptive parent as an individual in a caring profession such as teaching, nursing or the like.

"They are mostly people who won't be thrown off by it all," she said. "But there are all sorts of people out there who make wonderful parents."

Samaritan center hires director

The Samaritan Counseling Center of Southeastern Michigan has a new addition with the appointment of Rev. Dr. John T. Campbell Jr. as director of training.

Campbell comes to the Farmington Hills center from the Onondaga Pastoral Counseling Center in Syracuse, N.Y., where he was a senior staff and faculty member in the professional training program.

Prior to his work in Syracuse, he was the executive director of the Samaritan Center on the Ridge in Munster, Ind.

The father of two sons, he is a fellow in both the American Association of Pastoral Counselors and the College of Chaplains of the American Protestant Hospital Association and an ordained minister of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.).

Campbell graduated cum laude in 1965 from Wake Forest University where he received a bachelor of arts degree. He completed work on his master of divinity degree in 1968 and his doctor of divinity degree in pastoral care and counseling in 1969, both at Vanderbilt University Divinity School.

The training program in pastoral counseling and psychotherapy, which Campbell will administer, trains clergy and other religious professionals who want to specialize in that area of counseling. The three-year program is affiliated with the Ecumenical Theological Center in Detroit, Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill., and McCormack Theological Seminary in Chicago, Ill.

The center provides the clinical training component which doctor of ministry students in those schools must have to complete requirements for their degrees. It also helps students in Michigan meet requirements for licensing as professional counselors. Graduates of the program also are eligible to apply for membership in the American Association of Pastoral Counselors.

The Samaritan Counseling Center of Southeastern Michigan is supported by an ecumenical consortium of 25 area churches to provide pastoral counseling and psychotherapy to the churches and the larger community.

Walters works 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday at the company. He made the transition from sheltered employment so well that the company asked that the job coach be pulled after just one day. The decision was to keep the coach through the end of the week, using only 35% of the scheduled 75 hours since the assignment included both job training and work on socialization skills.

"The first week I was just supposed to learn just the sand blaster, but I learned three pieces of equipment — the sand blaster, lathe and grinder," Walters said. "I've been tearing gears down to small parts. Every piece has to be cleaned with paint thinner, then when I get them clean, I put them in the big blaster."

Transportation can be a nightmare for the handicapped. The lack of a suburban transit system can leave them with no inexpensive way to get to and from their jobs. And for some, it translates into no job, according to Wells.

MRS can provide money to help with transportation initially. Wherever possible the SMART bus system is used or a taxi service. When it appeared transportation would be a problem for Walters, the employer started lining up other employees to get him to and from work.

But bus service was arranged for Walters and it turned out to be a double bonus. He had worried about not getting to see his friends after he changed job, but he now gets to see them daily on his bus rides.

Walters is pleased with what he has accomplished. He likes his new found friends who describes as "crazy and funny. They make me feel comfortable there."

If you ask: "What distinguishes the Farmington Hills Church from others?" We start with a BIBLE proven to be the true WORD OF GOD. For example: "Who killed Goliath in YOUR Bible?" Please compare 1 Samuel 17:50; 2 Samuel 21:19; 1 Chronicles 20:5. If YOUR Bible says both David and Elhanan killed Goliath: that is a CONTRADICTION! OUR Bible, the true WORD OF GOD, is without such error. We invite you to study the Bible with us.

Coalition benefits from 'Joshua' author's lecture

A retired Catholic priest who has written several books on what it would be like if Jesus came to town today will be the guest speaker at Mercy High School next month.

Fr. Joseph Girzone will speak on "A Portrait of Jesus" at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 5, at the high school, 11 Mile and Farmington roads, Farmington Hills.

Proceeds from the lecture will benefit the Detroit/Windsor Refugee Coalition whose mission is to resettle indigent refugees in Canada and the United States and provide them with such things as food, clothing, shelter, enculturation classes, legal representation and language classes.

Girzone started his writing career in 1980 after resigning from administrative duties with the Catholic Church on the advice of his doctor. He has written seven books. The first was "Kara, the Lonely Falcon," an allegory on people's search for peace, followed by "Gloria, A Diary of a Teenage Girl" and "Who Will Teach Me?" an approach to religion based on attitudes rather than dogmas.

His next effort was the first of the "Joshua" series. Published in 1983 by Grizone, who used his own money earned from selling computers and giving retreats, "Joshua" went on to sell more than one million copies.

The book is the story of a young single woodworker who arrives in a small American town and immediately stirs up controversy because of his outspoken opinions about religion. It has been read throughout the world, including the Vatican, the Kremlin, the White House and by Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf during Operation Desert Storm.

The other "Joshua" books include "Joshua and the Children" and "The Shepherd," both of which reached the New York Times best seller list. The most recent is "Joshua in the Holy Land," which became a national best seller.

A native of Albany, N.Y., he entered St. Albert's Junior Seminary at Middletown, N.Y., at age 14 to begin studies for the priesthood in the Carmelite Order. He was ordained a priest in 1955 and was assigned to teach in St. Simon Stock High School in The Bronx, where he did parish work as well. At the time, teenage gangs were rampant, and Girzone worked extensively with many of them.

He also worked in high schools in the coal mining area of Pennsylvania, in Auburn, N.Y., and taught biology and college Latin in the seminary.

In 1964, he left the Carmelite Order and joined the Albany Roman Catholic Diocese, where he worked in parishes and high schools for the next 16 years.

During that time, he was appointed to a government human rights commission, and in that capacity, was sent to negotiate a riot in the Schenectady County Jail. The negotiations necessitated writing an extensive report on conditions in the facility with recommendations for radical change, most of which were implemented.

In 1971, he was appointed to head a special committee of the same human rights commission to investigate racial tensions in the Schenectady school system. He was the major author of a report that was used by the New York State Education Department to make significant changes in the discipline system throughout the state.

At times since then, because of his involvement in criminal justice matters, Girzone was requested to mediate in tense prison conditions in New York State.

He also has been doing extensive lecture and retreat work throughout the world, giving talks to such diverse groups as Hindus, Jews, various Christian groups, notably Baptists, Methodists, Evangelicals and Catholics. His unique understanding of Christ and his message cuts across all barriers and his following embraces large groups from all different religions.

Girzone is working on a book of spirituality, titled "Alone."

A selection of Girzone's books will be on sale in the lobby the night of the lecture and he will be available after the lecture to autograph copies bought that night and those copies brought from home.

Tickets cost $5 and are available in advance only. No tickets will be sold at the door. They can be ordered from St. Alexander Church, Farmington (474-5748), Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville (349-2559), Dickson's Bookstore, Livonia (477-7720); Books Abound, Farmington (477-8777); Detroit/Windsor Refugee Coalition, Detroit (964-4320); Little Professor Book Center, Plymouth (455-5220); SERF Credit Union Christian Community Branch, Harper Woods (884-1512) and Roseville (772-6330); St. Patrick Church, Detroit (433-0857), and Church of the Holy Spirit, Livonia (591-0211).

Rev. Allen resumes teaching

When it comes to ministering to the congregation of Community Baptist Church in Garden City, it's a family affair.

The Rev. Jon Allen is pastor of the church, which was founded in July 1945. He follows in the footsteps of his father, the Rev. James Allen, who was the church's first full-time pastor.

The elder Allen served as pastor at Community Baptist for 32 years, but after two heart attacks and quadruple bypass surgery, his health would not permit him to continue his ministerial duties.

When he resigned, the church called his son, Jonathan, to become pastor and in July the younger Allen celebrated his 12th year as pastor of Community Baptist Church.

Allen recently asked his father to take on duties at the church by becoming the teacher of the adult Berean Bible Class for those age 50 and older. With improved health, the elder Allen, who has been with the church for more than 44 years, was able to accept the invitation.

Allen also has started a young adult class and is ministering to the age group he has had a desire to reach. George Huntsman, associate pastor, teaches the adult class. The church now has three adult classes designed for all age groups.

Community Baptist Church, which will mark its 50th anniversary in 1995, is at 28237 W. Warren Road in Garden City. For more information, call 522-3710.

Ethical spirituality: A new phenomenon called idealism

MORAL PERSPECTIVES

REV. KATE THORESEN

There is something stirring in the air. An energy, a movement, that calls forth the dream to actually make our world a better place to live. In a recent book review, published by the University of North Carolina, there is a new phrase that describes this loosely related phenomena. It is summed up under the catch-all term of "ethical spirituality."

The article goes on to say that Robert Coles, a Harvard psychologist, has published a new book called, "The Call to Service." It explores the phenomenon called idealism.

Idealism as described by Coles is the impulse in all of us which makes us want to help others. It is evident in social activism. He explains, "While idealism is nothing new, nor is it necessarily opposed to traditional religion, the resurgence of it at this time is highly significant."

Why? "Because," Coles observes, "it gives meaning and direction to life."

This idealism has spread to many areas of life, continues the book review, and is finding expression in that area which has usually been considered most inconsistent with it, business.

"A new style of management

■ Idealism as described by Coles is the impulse in all of us which makes us want to help others.

which emphasizes the 'spiritual' and uses insights from psychology and traditional ethics has emerged," claims UNC's Bull's Head Bookshop review.

A typical title which reflects this trend is "Golden Rule Management" by Stephen J. Holoviak.

The article continues with these insights: "More generally, many people have realized the need to incorporate spiritual and ethical values into their lives, even if more traditional 'values' have a bad name with some." In his newest book, "A World Waiting to Be Born," best-selling author M. Scott Peck discusses the need for civility in our lives, with specific reference to business and the workplace.

There are other surprising new titles that are emerging in the business world. Peter Block's "Stewardship: Choosing Service Over Self-Interest" says that organization must replace traditional management tools with partnership and choice for all employees. William and Kathleen Lundin have written "The Healing Manager: Now to Build Quality and New Traditions in Business." And "First Things First: A Principle-Centered Approach to Time and Life Management" by Steven Covey (author of "The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People"), we find the focus on 'relationships and results rather than on time and things.'

And check this title, "Managing With A Conscience: How to Improve Performance Through Integrity, Trust and Commitment" by Frank Sonnenberg.

It will be fascinating to watch this movement of "ethical spirituality" take place as people search for models of authentic well-being. Perhaps some will even return to the basic values, stories and roots of their faith heritages.

Rev. Kate Thoresen is director of the Partnership Ministries at the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham. If you have a question or comment, call her at 953-2047, mail box number 1882, on a touch-tone phone.

Your Invitation To Worship

"Talking about the birds and the bees was tough. Then I asked about God."

It's something every parent has to deal with sometime: Questions about God, about good and evil, about death and heaven and hell. So when Melanie reached that point, I wanted her to have the same opportunity I did to question, to wrestle with questions of faith, and what it means to her. To understand that there are answers we'll never know, but we still have to ask the questions.

Unitarian Universalism gives us that freedom. In a community that encourages curiosity. It provides an opportunity for my daughter to engage and understand other faith systems, to better understand her friends and their faiths.

Most of people are probably turned off with traditional concepts of religious education. They need to know more about Unitarian Universalism.

Insects, animals plentiful in fall

TIMOTHY NOWICKI

Autumn is when animal populations are at their highest. Young are abundant because they have not been exposed to the rigors of winter.

This is also the season when hornet nests are largest and when some caterpillars are very large or abundant in numbers.

By late summer, bald-faced hornet nests (the gray paper-top shaped nests) become more obvious because they have increased in size. All spring and summer, the colony has been adding to the nest in order to accommodate the increasing number of hornets.

When the queen first emerged in spring and built a small nest with a few cells, the nest was barely noticeable. As cold weather approaches, some nests have increased to the size of a beachball.

When the nest gets very large, there is more activity because there are more insects inhabiting the nest. This is the time when most people notice the nest and want to eliminate it. All summer long, the hornets have not bothered anyone, but just before all the hornets, except the queen die, many feel the nest has to be destroyed.

Wait until cold weather sets in and the nest will become vacant. The only insect of the colony to survive will be the queen. She will not use the nest again because in most cases it will have been destroyed before spring.

Many caterpillars become large in late summer because of their developmental period. Large tobacco hornworm or tomato hornworm caterpillars are largely unnoticed until they become very large.

Actually, for many days they eat in a garden, but only when they become as big as your finger do they become noticeable. Often by that time, tomato plants have stored enough energy to have developed fruit and the loss of a few more leaves will not likely affect the plant. If the caterpillar is left to pupate it will develop into a beautiful sphinx moth or hummingbird moth.

During late summer and early fall, patches of oak trees become stripped of their leaves. Only the main veins remain. This is the work of the orange-tipped oakworm moth caterpillar. They are black caterpillars with longitudinal orange stripes. Their gregarious behavior causes large noticeable areas to be defoliated. Generally it's a small area on a large tree but even small defoliated trees have stored enough energy by his time to survive this damage.

Pandora's sphinx moth caterpillars also increase to a noticeable size in fall. These caterpillars may be the size and length of a man's thumb. Like the hornworms and oakworms they will form a pupa in the soil after they have grown to adult size.

Tim Nowicki is a naturalist at Independence Oaks County Park in Oakland County. He lives in Livonia. You can leave him a message using a Touch-Tone phone at 953-2047, mailbox 1874.

The money you give to the United Way helps fund almost 140 charitable agencies. Your dollar also helps fund medical care and research, provides family counseling, job training and much, much more. More people than ever before are counting on your dollars. VICTORIA DIAZ

Campus literary mag marks 10th birthday

Did you know that "The MacGuffin" is alive and well and about to mark a 10th anniversary at Schoolcraft College in Livonia?

What's a MacGuffin? Well, it's not a strange animal or an exotic, rare plant. And it's not another rendition of a fast-food restaurant, either.

It's a lively literary magazine, fast-growing in popularity with students and other readers across the United States.

In addition to selected Michigan bookstores, it can be found in shops as far away as Chicago and San Francisco. It counts among its contributors such literary luminaries as Diane Wakoski and Jim Daniels, together with many new, yet-to-be-established talents.

In the pre-MacGuffin days, literary journals at the college were essentially put together by students, and circulated mostly on-campus, according to editor and Schoolcraft College English professor, Arthur Lindenberg. When the veteran creative writing teacher was approached to lead the staff of the new, school-funded magazine, he had several ideas about what direction he wanted it to take.

"Basically, what I wanted to do was develop a magazine accessible both to students and to people on the outside — a quality magazine in which we'd publish the best work we could find," Lindenberg said. "I wanted to give writers the kind of exposure they wouldn't get if they were published just by an in-house journal. I wanted a magazine that would circulate nationally."

Along with that, Lindenberg emphasizes, he wanted to give staff members a real opportunity to gain editorial experience.

"Students can work on the staff of 'The MacGuffin,' and get credit for doing that," he said. "It's a general requirement that they attend at least a semester's worth of meetings and that they participate not just in manuscript consideration and selection, but in some of the other labor, too."

Spare beginnings

In the beginning, the small staff worked out of a tiny, all-purpose, "spare room" just around the corner from Lindenberg's office in the Liberal Arts Building, producing a 64-page magazine twice yearly.

Today, the 10-member staff (Lindenberg, assistant editors, editorial assistants, and a business manager) do their thing in the much-larger meeting room otherwise designated for the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

"The MacGuffin" is published three times a year now and runs to 144 pages (although the special 10th anniversary issue, now on sale, contains 160 pages of poetry, short fiction, and artwork). The 500-copy run, in contrast to sales 10 years ago, practically sells out every time, Lindenberg said. (Perhaps at least part of the magazine's success can be attributed to the fact that, except for some time off at Christmas, "The MacGuffin" crew — unlike many literary journal staffs — operates year-round.)

Anyone interested can submit work to be considered for publication in the periodical.

Lindenberg says he and his staff look for work that is "especially well-crafted."

"With a poem, for instance, we look closely at the way it is developed, at its focus, at the kinds of images the poet uses. With short fiction, we look for strong characters, plus a situation that is well-developed and defined.

"But we also look at something else — a more difficult thing to find. It's almost a mystical thing, really. Is some (work) crying out to be published? Or is it so much like so many other things that have already been published that it doesn't need to have its face shown among readers?"

Annual poet search

Through the years, "The MacGuffin," with help from the Michigan Council for the Arts and the Detroit Council for the Arts, has sponsored an annual "Poet Hunt," a statewide competition that awards cash prizes to three winners. Their work is read at an awards ceremony held on campus every spring, and the prize-winning poems are subsequently published in "The MacGuffin."

The mortality rate of literary journals across the country is notoriously high. Lindenberg says he's not always sure himself what the real secret is behind the magazine's health and longevity.

The cat's meow: Dian Barnard works on a colorful machine applique cat quilt. The quilter uses black accents to make other colors stand out.

Quilter shares her sewing know-how

■ Self-taught quilter Dian Barnard likes to share her sewing know-how via "over the counter" lessons at her Plymouth quilt shop. This businesswoman-teacher-author has a single goal: to teach others a craft that gives her so much enjoyment.

BY JANICE TIGAR-KRAMER
SPECIAL WRITER

When Dian Barnard, a lifelong sewer, toyed with the idea of opening her own business 11 years ago, she followed some age-old advice: do what you do best.

"I knew I had the temperament for my own business, but I didn't want to just plunge in," said Barnard, owner of Dian's Quilt and Fabric Shop in downtown Plymouth.

So Barnard, now 49, signed up for "Women in Business," a continuing education class at Schoolcraft College in Livonia that prepares women for business ownership.

She took a battery of career preference tests, listened to speakers and turned out a professional busi-

Fine-tune art skills at Schoolcraft forum

Artists at all levels can hone their talents at Schoolcraft College's second annual seminar for aspiring artists Saturday, Oct. 23.

Suitable for the beginner to the professional, the program will feature some of this area's top artists showcasing their work and demonstrating how they perform their magic, says Ann King of Schoolcraft's assistant to the director of Institutional Advancement.

"A lot of artists out there are hiding in their house. We'd like to see them come out and practice some neat skills," King said.

The seminar is designed to let adult artists grasp new skills, gain constructive criticism and mingle with professionals. The palette will include lectures, slides, demonstrations and artwork shown in different stages.

Sixteen workshops offered through Continuing Education Services will cover a variety of art forms and teach the latest techniques.

One-hour workshops will focus on:

Abstract Art (Leslie Masters), Starting in Watercolor (Saundra Weed), Wildlife Art (Rusty Frentner), Mixed Media (Saundra Weed), Portrait Painting (Claudia Shepherd) and Exploring Pastels (Anne C. Fracassa).

Also, Children in Watercolor (Susan Rosati), Chinese Brush Painting (Edythe Newbourne), Matting and Framing (Ken Miller), Gocco Printing (Dani Jeffries), Landscape Watercolor (William Borden) and Cartooning (Eric Mesko).

Three-hour hands-on workshops will spotlight Stained Glass (G.G. Havens), Watercolor (Susan Rosati), Seascapes in Oil (Saundra Weed) and Paper Making (Susan Carpenter). There's a $5 material fee for Stained Glass and Paper Making.

"Unlike last year, we'll have four hands-on workshops where there's not only a lecture but also a chance to get to do a project or a painting right along with the instructor," said West-

MEET POTTER

Master potter W. John Moorcroft will visit Jacobson's at Laurel Park Place Mall in Livonia 2:30-5 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 9.

The son of the legendary William Moorcroft will discuss the history of England's Moorcroft Pottery.

Unusual shapes, with visually pleasing proportions and distinctive hand-drawn designs inspired by nature, have been a hallmark of Moorcroft pottery since the early 1900s.

Rendered in rich hues, the color is applied by hand, then glazed for brilliance of color. Each piece is individually signed by W. John Moorcroft as a personal mark of his approval of its quality.

RAINBOW BOOST

The Rainbow Connection, a Michigan nonprofit corporation that grants the wishes of children with life-threatening illnesses, will receive a portion of all proceeds from a photography exhibit of work by Monte Nagler, O&E photography columnist.

The exhibit will run Oct. 11-24 in MeadowBrook Village Mall, Walton and Adams, Rochester Hills. The public may meet the photographer 7-9 p.m. Friday, Oct. 15.

AWARD WINNERS

Redford artist Evelyn Henry won the Juror's Choice Award in The First Presbyterian Church of Northville fine arts exhibition for her pastel, "Bloomin' Time."

Douglas Semivan, assistant professor of art at Madonna University in Livonia, served as juror. "Sharing the Gift Within You," a gallery exhibition of 125 multimedia works from southeast Michigan artists, runs 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Friday at the church, 200 E. Main.

Other award winners include Kathleen Montgomery of Plymouth for her colored pencil.

ness plan needed to get a small business loan.

By the end of the 15-week class, she bought a 1,500-square-foot bungalow on Main Street, a 1927 Sears catalog house that she converted to a well-designed quilt supply store. She turned upstairs bedrooms into an office and classrooms for quilt and sewing instruction.

"At the end of class, I told the teacher I bought the building. I think she was shocked," said Barnard, whose youngest of three daughters started school the year the store opened.

Barnard started sewing and making dress patterns for dolls at age 8. She remembers begging her mother, a fashion illustrator and fine artist, to let her use the sewing machine. By age 12, she was sewing her own clothes and making drapes.

"I've always loved all kinds of fabrics. I've got a mathematical mind that comes in handy for quilting," said Barnard, whose high school counselor advised her to go into engineering.

She started quilting 20 years ago on a whim when the owner of the former Busy Bee Crafts in Plymouth asked her to teach hand-quilting at the store. She bravely accepted the job, then rushed to the library to study quilt history and theory.

"I'd never quilted before but I loved it right away. It's a way of expressing myself in fabric and color," said Barnard, who sold her traditionally styled quilts at local street fairs for years before opening the store.

Today, she employs three part-time salespeople and six instructors, who teach about two dozen different quilting classes for adults and children; classes run from one to four sessions. She's currently expanding the shop for more display area.

Ken Taddia, a Ford Motor Co. accountant by day, is the store's only male instructor. The Westland resident already was an accomplished sewer when he took Barnard's beginning quilting class three years ago.

"My wife wanted a quilt and signed me up for a class," said Taddia, 54, who had made five wedding gowns before taking up machine quilting. "It's a relaxing hobby. The best part is quilts don't have to fit. You can make any size you want."

This fall, Taddia will teach other quilters to make his dinosaur machine applique quilt, a pattern he designed with his oldest grandson.

Barnard also sells her own line of copyrighted quilt patterns, called Hemline Capers, and will self-publish a how-to book on a machine applique technique next year. She recently finished taping the local cable show, "Career Connection," and has appeared on two others, "Women in Business" and "Come Craft with Me."

If that's not enough, the shop is southeast Michigan's collection center for AIDS baby crib quilts. Every year, Barnard receives about 600 handmade infant quilts that are distributed to area hospitals and other agencies by Telephone Pioneers of America (a group of Ameritech volunteers).

This fall, Barnard will teach basic quilting to Girl Scout leaders, who'll teach their Scouts to make infant quilts as a troop project.

"It's a heartwarming project. These babies need something cuddly, warm, pretty and bright," Barnard said.

Besides running the shop, teaching in-store classes and doing machine applique demonstrations around the state for a major sewing machine company, Barnard attends national quilting seminars and teaches at some.

She does plenty of over-the-counter instruction for first-time quilters and former students, who generally mosey in on Saturdays. She even lets quilters use the shop's table to pin and baste their work.

"When I opened the store, my original goal wasn't to make a lot of money. I like to share what I know about quilting and teach other people something that's given me so much pleasure," she said.

For information on fall classes, call Dian's at 459-3630, or visit the store at 794 S. Main.

"It's a wonderful cooperative venture to include as many of the arts as possible," said Linda Alvarado, Plymouth Symphony Society president.

PSO patrons will be able to view the artworks and meet the artists before the concert and during intermission.

Lyons-Austin works in Chinese poured ink and traditional brush painting. She studied with Pieling Liang in Hangzhou, People's Republic of China. She has exhibited in Taiwan.

Boatman crafts contemporary vases, platters and vessels in glass. He is a graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Art.

Using black and white large format (8 inch-by-ten inch) Dokas creates dramatic landscape images. He is a teacher at Belleville High School.

Politowicz-Heires paints nature in all its splendor. She's a self-taught artist whose egrets, ducks and other wild fowl decorate government and corporate buildings in the area. A winner of Best of Show in the National Wildlife Exhibition in Kansas City, she has been commissioned by Franklin Mint to do a series of paintings for plates.

Fields-McMahon taught art in Grand Rapids and San Antonio.

Lasher will exhibit watercolors and limited-edition prints. She is affiliated with more than a dozen art associations and has lectured for many as well as written for publications. She holds an associate's degree in arts from New York School of Interior Design.

Tickets for the concert and art exhibition are $12, $10 seniors, $5 students. They're available in Plymouth at Euola Music Center, 215 Ann Arbor Road, and Beitner Jewelry, 904 W. DIA hosts Manoogian collection Thirty-seven paintings from one of the greatest private collections of American art are on view at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The paintings are from the collection of Richard A. Manoogian, chairman, chief executive officer and a director of Masco Corp. and MascoTech Inc., and chairman and a director of TriMas Corp.

Nancy Rivard Shaw, curator of American art and co-organizer of the exhibition with Yale University's Helen A. Cooper, describes the show as "some of the finest small paintings by important American artists, including informal portraits; domestic genre scenes; trompe l'oeil still lifes that, in their precision and detail, celebrate the skill of the master craftsman; and light-filled impressionist views of city and country life. It is an art that speaks of the goodness of life and the perfection of nature."

The exhibition includes works by Willard Leroy Metcalf, John Singer Sargent, William Merritt Chase, Edward Lamson Henry, Maurice Brazil Prendergast and John Haberle. Also included are Martin Johnson Heade's "Gems of Brazil," 16 oil paintings depicting the mating season of hummingbirds in lush, intricate detail.

Manoogian began collecting art in the early 1970s after joining the DIA Founders Society board of trustees.

"A Private View: American Paintings from the Manoogian Collection" was organized by the DIA and the Yale University Art Gallery. In Detroit, exhibition funding was made possible by the state of Michigan, the city of Detroit and the DIA Founders Society.

The exhibition runs through Nov. 14 and is free with museum admission (recommended: $4 adults, $1 children, members free).

James W. Tottis, assistant curator of American art, will lead a class on still-life painting Saturdays, Oct. 9 and 16. Call 833-1426.

The DIA is open 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday through Friday; weekends 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

land artist Sandra Weed.

A professional artist, lecturer, instructor and consultant, Weed is a member of the art faculty and an art project consultant at Schoolcraft. Her students display their artwork in a rotating monthly exhibition on campus.

Registration for the seminar allows participation in four individual sessions or any combination within the allotted time.

The seminar will appeal to:

- Beginning artists wanting to improve techniques.
- Experienced artists wanting to know how to show their work.
- Professional artists wanting to make contacts.
- Art lovers wanting to learn how to get started.
- Art association members wanting to educate the public about their group.
- Anyone who would love to learn more about latest artistic styles.

"There's something for everybody," said Weed, who operates Artistic Images from her home studio. "A lot of people out there want to be artists but don't know how to become one."

Workshops will run 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Forum Building on the Livonia campus, 18600 Haggerty, south of Seven Mile. Sign-in will be 8:30-9 a.m. Cost is $70, including registration and course handouts (senior adults, $58). An optional lunch, at $7.25, will be served noon to 12:50 p.m.

The seminar will give participants a chance to try their hand at a particular medium before making the necessary investment in supplies. They'll have a chance to learn how to use supplies they have but have never used.

"They'll get a sampling of all different kinds of media they might be interested in," Weed said. "They'll have an opportunity to find out whether some of what they're interested in really makes sense in terms of investing in supplies."

The seminar will give emerging artists a chance to meet people who make a living as artists. "That should be very inspiring," Weed said. "We're trying to encourage people to follow their dreams."

"I think our success may have a lot to do with the commitment the college has made to help us express good literature," he said. "And I think we also fill a niche. I think there's a real need out there for a flexible, versatile magazine like 'The MacGuffin.'"

As to that odd name...

An instructor at Schoolcraft, using the pseudonym, Lloyd Drako, came up with the idea in a name-choosing contest for the periodical 10 years ago.

The mysterious Mr. Drako told judges that "MacGuffin" was a term once used by movie director Alfred Hitchcock to mean "what everybody was after."

The title seemed to fit perfectly. "As far as I know," says Lindenber, "we have the only magazine in existence called 'The MacGuffin.'"

Handmade dolls boast fairy-tale influence

SPECIAL WRITER

When Ingrid Dijkers of Plymouth started making dolls in 1984, she borrowed from all of the arts she's dabbled in over the years: ceramics, textiles, soft sculpture, quilting, jewelry making and costume design.

Her handmade figures, dressed in jewel-tone costumes, are three-dimensional works of art resembling characters from myths, fairy tales and legends. For inspiration, the artist often looks to favorite characters from Shakespeare plays or Aesop fables.

A collection of Dijkers' figures will be displayed to Friday, Oct. 29 in the second floor showcases of the Livonia Civic Center Library, Farmington Road and Five Mile.

Viewing hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday-Saturday and 1-5 p.m. Sunday.

The display includes The Dwarf, First Flight, The Wizard and Enchantress, plus a collection of handpainted jester's heads.

"It's hard to categorize my work because most people have preconceived ideas of what dolls look like. I call them figures. They come from here," said the artist, tapping her head.

Livonia arts commissioner Lee Alanskas, whose group co-sponsors the exhibit with the library, calls the figures "unique creations of the imagination."

"When I saw them, I was fascinated right off the bat," Alanskas said. "The figures are so original. They appeal to every age group because of the doll-like quality and the amazing creativity."

Each figure is 20 to 90 cm. high with stoneware hands, feet and head; bodies are stuffed cloth. But that's where the resemblance ends.

The Netherlands-born artist, a collector of vintage fabric, trim and buttons, dresses her figures in handmade costumes made of antique velvet, brocade, silk, lace, metallic and other fine materials. And no figure is complete without a trademark accessory: a wand, an ankle, a glittery necklace, a crystal or another bauble.

Most figures, including non-working marionettes, are limited editions. By design, no two are exactly alike.

"Each figure has personality. The faces are the same in a series, but the costume's color or trim is a little different for each one," Dijkers said.

Dijkers, a self-taught artist, was a guest artist at this year's Michigan Renaissance Festival in Holly and will return next year as a permanent exhibitor. Her figures also are sold at Chameleon Gallery in Plymouth and at Ariana Gallery in Birmingham. They sell for $150 to $600.

"When people first see the figures, they stop in their tracks," said Denni Englehart, owner of Chameleon Gallery. "They're not inanimate dolls, they almost resemble animate figures."

One figure, Dance of the Burgamask, depicts a 16th-century character doing the "dance of fools." Another character, Journey to the Arboretum, includes a small figure riding a tall papier mache flamingo, whose reins are made of gold cord.

From her home studio, Dijkers works on several figures at once — some may be waiting for handmade leather sandals or colorful maribu hair.

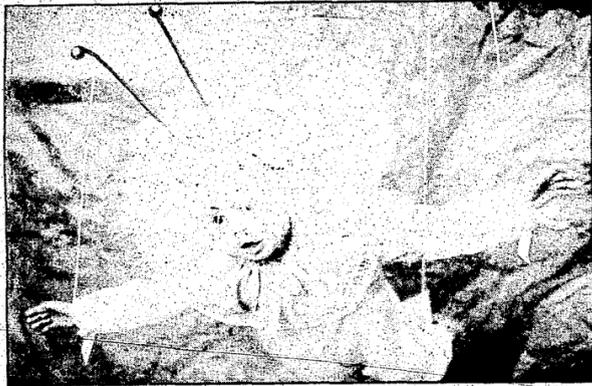

"Somehow, my next series will involve time. Right now, I'm collecting watch and clock parts that I'll eventually use," Dijkers said.

She also plans a series on flight. The first figure in that group will be an elegantly dressed warrior riding a chicken. "It just appeals to my sense of humor," the artist said.

Let's dance: Plymouth artist Ingrid Dijkers combines several art forms to create her handmade collectible figures. She dresses her creations in costumes made of vintage fabric and trim. Here she adjusts "Dance of the Burgamask."

He's collectible: Ingrid Dijkers uses six molds to create the hands and feet of this figure, "The dwarf." He wears handmade red leather sandals.

Up, up and away: "First Flight," a non-working marionette, is a limited-edition figure by Ingrid Dijkers. Each figure's clothing is slightly different but the body and face are the same for the entire series.

Hispanic doll artist in Plymouth Saturday

Doll artist Yolanda Bello will appear at Georgia's Gift Gallery in Plymouth 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 9, to introduce local collectors to her latest dolls: a brother and sister duo reflecting her Hispanic heritage.

The gallery is at 575 Forest. This stop on "Yolanda's Special Edition Doll Tour" will introduce "Rosa" and "Miguel," a pair of dolls dressed in traditional Hispanic dress.

Sold separately, each retails for $69.95 and comes with its own 24-karat gold-plated commemorative charm.

These special edition porcelain dolls are the first in the "Yolanda's World of Love" series and are available exclusively from local Ashton-Drake Galleries dealers.

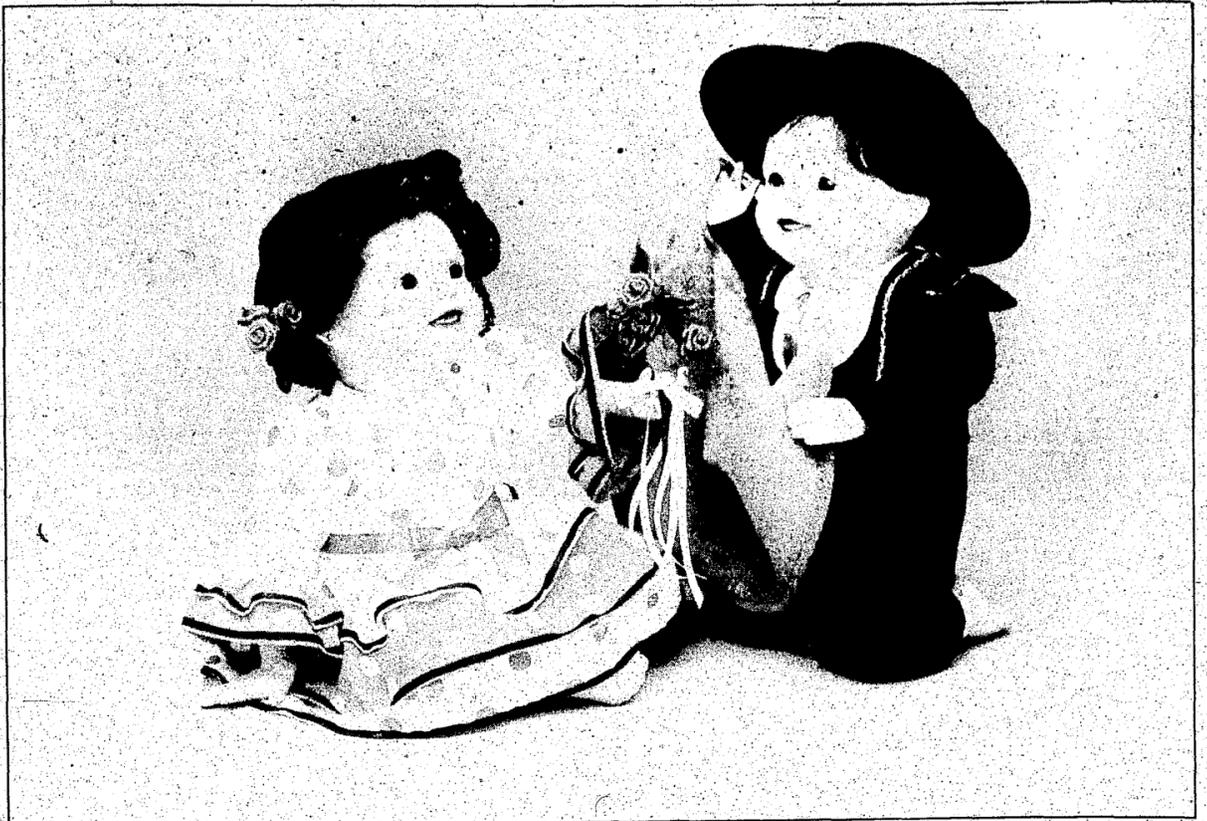

During her appearance at Georgia's Gift Gallery, 575 Forest, the national award-winning artist will meet collectors and sign dolls.

"Through my dolls, I try to visually communicate my belief that all children, the world over, are unique, each one sharing their own message of love," Bello said.

"Rosa" and "Miguel" are especially precious to me because they commemorate my own experience as a child growing up in Venezuela.

Rosa wears a red-and-white, polka dot flounced dress, patterned after the gowns of traditional Spanish dancers. A black lace mantilla trimmed with red fabric roses sits atop her brown curls; she carries a matching bouquet in her hand. Simple gold-tone earrings complete her outfit.

Her brother is dressed in a blue two-piece matador's suit trimmed in gold braid complemented by a white shirt and a red satin tie. His accessories include a black felt hat and a red toreador's cape used by Spanish matadors.

Special edition: The brother-and-sister duo of "Rosa" and "Miguel" reflect the artist's attention to detail and her gift for conveying emotion and personality in porcelain.

Coming to town: Doll artist Yolanda Bello will appear at Georgia's Gift Gallery on Forest from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Buying a house? Bank offers tips

NBD offers these housebuying tips:

- Determine how much of a mortgage you can afford (NBD Banks and some mortgage companies offer free prequalification counseling).
- As a guideline, your mortgage payment should be no more than 28 percent and your total monthly debt no more than 36 percent of your gross monthly income. Special mortgage programs are available in some areas for low- and moderate-income people.
- Seek the assistance of a real estate agent for valuable information about neighborhoods, schools and the cost of houses in the area.
- Consult with a real estate attorney when filling out a purchase agreement. An attorney can add contingencies, allowing you, the buyer, to terminate the agreement and get your deposit back if, for example, you cannot get a mortgage at a reasonable rate or if the house does not pass an inspection. It's also a good idea to have your attorney at the closing.
- Gather all the information and materials—statements, pay stubs and tax returns—you will need to fill out a mortgage application. An NBD mortgage representative can provide you with a buyer's checklist.

- Know your credit history—the bank will run a credit check and probably ask you questions.
- Carefully consider the benefits of fixed- and adjustable-rate mortgages to determine which best fits your needs.
- Be aware of the costs of buying a house, including the down payment, up-front fees and closing costs. They are a common part of the house-buying process. Some mortgage programs allow you to put down as little as 5 percent of the total cost of the house.
- Typical costs required at the closing are: points, each point is 1 percent of the mortgage amount; property taxes; mortgage insurance; escrow—the portion of your monthly payment set aside for taxes and homeowners insurance; loan fees; appraisal, title insurance; credit report fees.

These tips are detailed in a 17-minute videotape titled "Buying a home... where to begin," produced by NBD. The free tape is available by calling 1-800-CALLNBD.

Real estate broker helps set price

Offering too much or too little money for a house can be one of the many pitfalls involved in the buying process.

Obviously, offering too much money can come back to bite the buyer. No one likes to be taken financially. If the offer is not taken, negotiations can be stymied by an insulted seller who may refuse to consider future counter offers.

With help from a real estate sales associate and a little common sense, a buyer should be able to make a reasonable offer that jump-starts negotiations with a seller, said Doug Stranahan, divisional president for Century 21 Great Lakes.

Remember, all agents you contact during the buying process legally represent the seller unless they have a specific written agreement to work for you. A good first step in the process is to compare the seller's asking price with prices actually paid for similar homes in the same area within the past year.

Using data from local multiple listing services, a sales associate can provide a list of selling prices for similar homes and help the buyer make meaningful comparisons.

"Typically, a buyer's first inclination is to make an offer which is comparable to one of the lowest recently accepted offers for similar houses," Stranahan said. "The seller may not be overly enthusiastic about this type of first offer, but may not reject it either—as long as it's reasonable."

Another place to get information is the assessing department or treasurer's office at the municipi-pal building where the house is located. By law, residential properties must be assessed at one half of fair market value.

An evaluation of selling prices may not be possible in a home that doesn't really compare with others in the area. In this case, the buyer could have the home's value professionally appraised.

There is always the risk, however, that another buyer could make an offer and purchase the home before an appraisal is completed.

In any case, researching selling prices of similar homes usually provides a good figure that can be used as a starting point for the negotiation process.

An actual offer must be made in writing and should be accompanied by a deposit or earnest money. Since a purchase offer is legally binding, it may be wise to consult an attorney before submitting that document.

"It should contain a time limit for the seller to accept, reject or negotiate your offer," Stranahan said.

Buyers demonstrate their seriousness by submitting deposits with written offers. A deposit of five to 10 percent isn't abnormal, but a larger deposit may be encouraging to the seller.

In a situation where two buyers make the same offer, the seller will often select the buyer with the bigger deposit.

"Making a well-researched offer and applying a reasonable amount of earnest money best demonstrates a buyer's serious interest and encourages the seller," Stranahan said.

If you say it's yours, it might be yours

CONDO QUERIES

ROBERT M. MEISNER

I am confused as to when adverse possession applies in a boundary dispute.

Although we mistakenly believed that our south property line was the road, we nevertheless think that we have established adverse possession because we posted no-trespassing signs and did not allow our neighbor's predecessors to use the land.

We bought the land in the early '60s and were told by the real estate agent that the boundary line was the road. We later found out that our neighbor's predecessor in title owned that property. Could we prevail in an adverse possession claim?

Chances are that you will prevail.

In a leading Michigan case on adverse possession, Connelly v. Buckingham (1984), two important principles were set forth.

The first principle states that "a landowner takes possession of land of an adjacent owner, with the intent to hold to the true line, the possession isn't hostile and adverse possession cannot be established."

The second principle states that when the intent is to "claim title to a visible, recognizable boundary, regardless of the true boundary line," the possession is hostile and adverse possession may be established.

It would appear that your scenario falls within the second case principle. That is, your intention was manifested by your exclusive use of the property, the posting of no-trespassing signs and your denial of permission to your neighbor's predecessor to use the disputed parcel.

I am thinking about doing a beach-front condominium in Myrtle Beach, S.C. I am concerned about the marketability of the units as I understand that most of the tourists are under 25.

Is there any way I can structure a condominium to deal with this issue?

First, of course, I would do a marketing study to confirm that your information concerning the median age of tourists at Myrtle Beach is under 25. My experience in visiting the area is that it caters to families as well as college students and golfers.

It would appear to me that any type of hotel/condominium that you wish to develop no doubt will be a time share. It must be attractively priced to entice people who can afford such a condominium in this area, particularly when there is an overabundance of hotels at very competitive rates.

You will have to provide something unusual, whether it be exercise and/or golfing privileges, as well as access to the ocean. You will probably have to market the condominium outside of South Carolina, which will impose additional obligations for you in regard to applicable federal statutes.

I would sit down with a marketing consultant as well as with a knowledgeable condominium lawyer before undertaking this project.

New horizons: Given the opportunity, some developers are moving away from the neo-traditional and contemporary architecture that has been the predominant housing style for the past decade and are leaning toward more traditional forms.

Developers strive to keep historic feel

Developers have typically been stereotyped as insensitive to all things historical... after all, it's just an old piece of property. In reality, however, developers often have a keener sense of history than they are given credit for.

BY GERALD FRAWLEY
STAFF WRITER

Not one really expects developers and builders to care about history.

Heck, they have bulldozers. That's why it's surprising to learn that developers and builders do have a sense of history.

In the most rudimentary sense, many suburbs are named after previous landowners, features of the property or original flora and fauna.

Sometimes, builders go further. Max Elbaz, owner of Adel Homes in Farmington Hills, developed Yerkes Manor in Novi with one foot firmly planted in the past.

First, a little history. Yerkes Manor is being built on the former homestead of the land once owned by one of the original settlers in the Novi/Northville area. The French Second Empire-style house built by Joseph Yerkes was destroyed by fire in 1989.

'I wanted, and I think people want, a little more character.'

Max Elbaz
Adel Homes owner

When Elbaz obtained the site, he wanted to — if not pay tribute to Yerkes' Homestead and history in Novi — at least do something a little different.

"Because of the history of the site, I felt we should keep the name and, if possible, carry the concept throughout," Elbaz said, adding he had even hoped to retain the existing Yerkes homestead or renovate it before it was burned by fire.

In addition to more traditional Victorian-influenced homes, Yerkes with a boat in your backyard.

Island living is unique. The act of crossing a waterway to your home separates you from the hectic pace of mainland life. At Island Harbor the separation is complete since arriving home and arriving at your boat are one in the same.

Island Harbor is a residential/marina ship condominium community on the south end of Grosse Ile. Twenty-four townhouse and ranch units are planned to surround the just completed 32-slip marina, which handles boats up to 30 feet. The marina provides Island Harbor residents unobstructed access to the Detroit River and the ability to literally dock boats at their back doors.

Heat, cool via geothermal

If you're building a home, the law requires that you install a furnace with a minimum 78-percent efficiency rate. But if you want maximum savings, you don't have to settle for minimum efficiency.

Geothermal heating and cooling, the technology on the threshold of replacing conventional systems, is more than three times as efficient as the most efficient oil or gas furnace.

"This results in substantial savings for homeowners over the lifetime of the equipment," said Jerry Goetz, a Detroit Edison heating and cooling expert.

In the air conditioning mode, the system performs at a seasonal efficiency rating of 16; federal law requires a minimum of 10 for air conditioning.

Operating costs are up to 30 percent less than those of a high-efficiency natural gas system, and up to 60 percent less than those for high-efficiency oil or propane systems, when used in conjunction with Detroit Edison's low time-of-day rate, Goetz said.

"Homeowners in a well-insulated, 2,400-square-foot home could expect to pay $527 annually to operate a geothermal system, compared to $801 for natural gas, $1,315 for oil or $1,420 for propane," Goetz said.

Geothermal, like refrigerators and conventional air conditioners, is a heat transfer system. The system uses an electrically powered heat pump to collect and concentrate heat from the water in your well or from piping buried in the ground.

In winter, the concentrated heat is transferred indoors through a forced-air heating system. In summer, the system reserves the cycle. It extracts heat from the air inside the home and moves it, via the well water or piping buried in the ground, back into the earth. The earth's temperature remains constant year-round. The system also can supply hot water.

"Since geothermal systems use the earth's natural resources as a renewable source of energy, they help protect the environment," Goetz said.

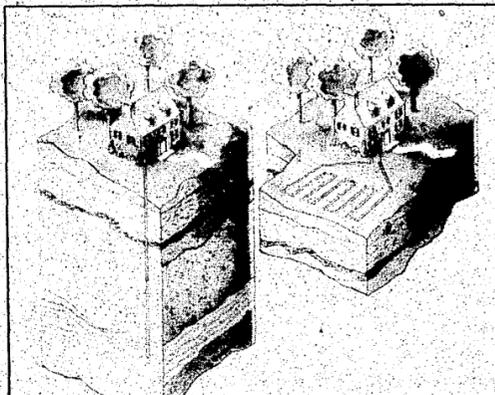

Initial installation costs for a geothermal system are typically higher than those of a conventional furnace or central air conditioner, he added.

"But with the low operating costs, combined with Detroit Edison's low time-of-day rate, the payback period can be from 20 to 10 years," Goetz said.

Homeowners who qualify for Detroit Edison's Energy Efficient New Home Construction Program can close that gap. It offers up to $3,400 in cash incentives for energy-efficient insulation, windows, lighting, major electric appliances and central air conditioning.

Call Detroit Edison toll-free at 1-800-833-2786.

Geothermal traits: This cross-section illustrates open and closed loop geothermal systems. Open loops use ground water pumped from a well. After the heat transfer, the water is discharged to seep back down to the water table. Closed loops circulate an antifreeze solution through polyethylene pipe. The solution absorbs or disperses heat, depending on the season. Closed loops can be buried in the ground or submerged in a lake or pond.

Speaker to urge simple forms in design

Mark Mack, of Mack Architects, San Francisco, will speak in ArchiLECTURE, the ongoing professional lecture series, Thursday, Oct. 14.

The programs are open to the public without cost and meet 7:30 p.m. at the Lawrence Technological University campus, 21000 W. 10 Mile in Southfield, in the LTU College of Architecture and Design Auditorium (A-200). For more information, call Gary Kecskes at 356-0200, Ext. 4050.

Mack is an avant-garde, Austrian-born architect who rejects postmodernism and espouses a "unique attitude of neoprimativism" calling for integrity of design that uses simple forms and hides nothing.

The series, in its 20th year, is presented by the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Development in association with the College of Architecture and Design.

The autumn presentations, scheduled October through December, are partially underwritten by, and produced in association with, the American Institute of Architects-Detroit.

Manor also will include subtle touches like old-fashioned street lighting, traditional site aspects like houses moved towards the street to accentuate the pedestrian scale, small front yards and large rear yards and circle courts.

The homes themselves, although not historic reproductions, will hearken back to a different time with more extensive use of gables, elaborate dental moldings, shake siding, traditional windows and front porches.

"I wanted, and I think people want, a little more character," Elbaz said.

Although the development is new, Elbaz said, he has already gotten a lot of positive feedback from people. "I think people are tired of the same old thing."

Architect Dan Barry, a partner at Springline Design Group in Saco Township and the architect for Yerkes Manor, said more of his clients are coming in with ideas about historically influenced homes than ever before.

At Yerkes Manor, he said his charge was to design homes for a development with a Victorian feel to it.

"And I think we succeeded,"

Barry said. That said, these homes are not historic reproductions. "That just isn't possible today."

Besides cost restraints (a historic reproduction would be extremely expensive), the modern amenities today's home buyers demand can't be accommodated in a reproduction.

"Take garages — people want two- and three-car garages — you're not going to see that on a Victorian home," he said.

If you have to attach a garage, however, there are no rules against making it fit a more Victorian scheme. "That, I think, was our biggest problem — translating the Victorian (architecture into the present)."

When people ask for a historic-style home, they may not realize that such homes are traditionally very compartmentalized — meaning they have smaller, separate rooms as opposed to the open homes of today, Elbaz said.

Depending on the degree of accuracy demanded by the homeowner, the architect sometimes has to ignore some of the ideas of modern architecture.

Norman Finkelstein, vice president of the Irvine Group in Farmington Hills, said builders and developers use a variety of ways to pay deference to the past. Sometimes, builders will name their developments after previous owners or historical events.

Marketing materials and other advertisements attempt to capture these ideas as well, reflecting what was there before.

Sometimes, the area's history plays a very significant part in the new project.

Berwyck on the Park and Berwyck Place, an equestrian development with a private saddle club for its residents built around a horse theme complete with riding paths, paddocks and access to the Irvine Group in Milford Township, owes its very existence to history of the property.

When he and Irvine Group president Paul Levine were searching for potential sites, they had no inkling they were going to build an equestrian development.

"We were actually looking at a different site when we saw this parcel," Finkelstein said.

When they saw the property was up for sale, they stopped and discovered an old horse stable. A little digging revealed that the property has long been used as a horse stable.

Irvine and Finkelstein, both horse admirers, decided they could respect the history of the site and combine it with their intentions to develop the property.

Finkelstein said deference to history has several advantages. For one thing, people moving into a development like to have a sense of a past.

Deference to history can also be comforting to the community, he said. It's not uncommon for existing residents to contest new developments and resist growth.

A development that reflects the past history of the site can help allay fears that the developer plans to come in and disrupt a community.

Ironically, sometimes a developer's wish to be historically accurate can run counter to the wishes of the community or neighbors.

People who move into new developments, for example, will often complain about an animal farm nearby; some people were less than pleased that Berwyck developments would continue to use of the land for boarding horses.

Finkelstein also said he's seen instances where developers use history as a mere marketing tool — particularly on the East Coast where references of the Revolutionary and Civil Wars are routinely used as little more than a gimmick.

"You have to be careful, because people (who value history) will be turned off by hollow references," he said. "Developing (with an eye to history) is sometimes a fine balancing act."

Redbud

Bay windows, wrap-around porch greet you

The first impression of the Redbud is one of substance and grace. Brick detailing and a traditional step-pitched roof provide a sense of solid permanence, while rounded bay windows and a wrap-around porch soften the lines and create a welcoming effect.

Octagonal windows nestled under the side gables add to the visual appeal. One of these windows brings some light into the side attic on the second floor. The other two are at opposite ends of a full attic on the third level. This undeveloped area could be developed, adding almost 1,000 square feet of usable space.

Family gathering spaces, formal and informal, dominate the main floor. The elegant master suite is here as well, its wide bay windows jutting out onto the shady porch. Features include a security system, his and hers walk-in closets, dual lavs, and a separately enclosed water closet and oversized shower.

Both the living room and dining room are richly glassed to maximize light, year-round. A tile-hearth fireplace provides additional warmth and color in winter.

Daily living takes place at the back, where the kitchen, nook and family room flow together. This relaxed space is every bit as bright as the other rooms on the main floor. Standing at the kitchen sink, you gaze out at the deck through a garden window. In the nook, light streams down through skylights and in the family room windows fill most of two walls.

Kitchen conveniences include built-in appliances, a raised dishwasher and an appliance center. Utilities, a pantry, a small powder room, basement stairs and a home entertainment center are all nearby. Storage space and a shop with cabinets and a long workbench expand the two-car garage.

On the second floor, a railing overlooks the wide foyer below. The guest suite is almost as large and well outfitted as the master suite. If desired, a fireplace could be added here, as the chimney runs up next to the exterior wall. The other two bedrooms share a compartmentalized bathroom with a double vanity.

BACK TO BASICS

Today's lighting customer likes a back-to-basics look. That means up with all-natural materials like tree branches, leather and animal skins. Tiger Mountain Woodworks combines all three materials in its twig lamp made of birch branches, a leather-laced goat skin shade and a wood base.

Other in-demand materials for eclectic-style lighting include iron, marble, handcarved wood and alabaster.

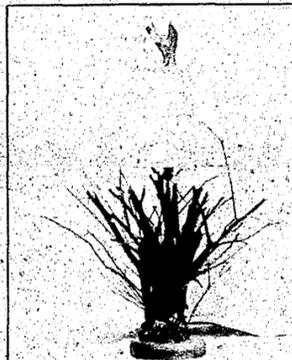

FABULOUS FIFTIES

If you remember Wally and The Beaver, you'll recognize the floral fabrics from the '40s and '50s at Patti Smith Collectibles in Royal Oak.

Smith bought the fabric, called barkcloth, from a Royal Oak upholsterer who had about a dozen uncut bolts in the backroom. She used her favorites for curtains on her store's dressing rooms.

"The fabric is visually exciting," says Smith, who's been selling it to decorators and nostalgia buffs for pillows and upholstery.

Barkcloth is made of fat, twoply cotton yarn that has a textured look. What most folks remember, though, are the wild color combinations and zany era. This time around, collectors are turning the comfy chenille into everything from accent pillows to clothing. Déjà vu.

THEME TOWELS

A big selection of Hudson's sheets and towels celebrate world cultures. Black, burgundy and taupe motifs are African inspired; others are influenced by mud cloths from north Africa, Turkey and Mexico.

Predicts Hudson's senior buyer Terry Handelman: "Ethnic prints are the beginning of the contemporary look we'll see in home furnishings for spring '94."

Hudson's Global Bazaar sells soap stone tumblers, rugs, hand-painted shower curtains and other decorated accessories inspired by tribal motifs.

Also, a slew of juvenile sheets and comforters from Wamsetta, Fieldcrest-Cannon, Springmaid and Royalton feature classic and current cartoon characters.

"Parents remember the classic characters from their own childhood and find them quite comforting," Handelman says.
