Schools will host president

Excited officials and students at John Glenn High School and the Ford Career Technical Center are busy preparing for President Clinton's scheduled visit and rally Tuesday.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

John Glenn High School students reveled Friday in the news that President Clinton is planning to attend a Tuesday afternoon rally on the Rockets' school football field.

"They are overwhelmed and extremely proud," 17-year-old senior Rebecca Harden, student council president, said. "That's what everybody was talking about for about the first 15 minutes of every class, especially in political science."

Clinton, in his Democratic campaign for re-election against Republican Bob Dole, is expected to arrive at the rally site around 12:45 p.m. after visiting a William D. Ford Career Technical Center program.

"We're pleased that he will be able to visit one of our programs," Ford center vice principal Rick Hamrick said Friday.

The John Glenn rally is open to the public, and gates are expected to open about 11 a.m. Tickets are free and available in Westland at an office on the southwest corner of Cherry Hill and Venoy, shared by U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers, D-Ann Arbor, and state Rep. Eileen DeHart, D-Westland. Call 326-9302 or 728-3367.

Wayne-Westland school board president Patricia Brown noted that the visit marks Clinton's second visit to the school district. He addressed Wayne Memorial High School students in March, 1992, during the presidential primary.

"This is a school district that has twice attracted Bill Clinton," Brown said. "I think it speaks volumes about our school district. Of all the school districts he could have chosen, he chose Wayne-Westland."

John Glenn band director Scott Cramer was hoping Friday that the band would be able to perform for Clinton.

"I've been told to be on call," he

Bartley is cleared of theft

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Former John Glenn High assistant principal Michael Bartley has been found not guilty of stealing money from a school vault in June of 1994.

A Detroit Recorder's Court jury returned its verdict late Friday morning, ending deliberations that spanned four days.

Bartley, 41, had testified Tuesday that he took money from the vault to reward a student for good grades and attendance.

"Clearly I don't think the jury believed that he was stealing any money," defense attorney David Cross said Friday.

Bartley and three other school employees had access to petty cash in the vault, but assistant Wayne County prosecutor Robert Donaldson said the money wasn't intended for purposes cited by Bartley.

Friday's verdict came 10 months after Bartley's first trial on felony larceny charges ended with a hung jury.

Bartley could have faced four years in prison and a $2,000 fine if convicted.

"It has been a difficult case all the way through," Donaldson said.

"Two juries have had significant difficulties with it. I'm not here to second-guess what they've done. They do their job; I do mine. It has been a torturous process."

Bartley was accused of stealing $55 late June 7 or early June 8 in 1994. A hidden video camera that a private investigator placed in the

Sludge dumping questioned

BY LEONARD POGER

A top Wayne County official is insisting that no toxic materials from the planned Newburgh Lake dredging will be dumped at two Westland sites.

But "clean soil" may be taken to two Westland sites to close and cap the existing sites which have been the center of environmental controversies in the past few years.

That was the thrust of comments by Jim Murray, director of the Wayne county department of environment, on the eve of Thursday's public hearing on the planned restoration of the lake on the west side of Newburgh, just south of Hines Drive.

Murray told the Observer in a telephone interview Thursday that the county will have only "clean soil" taken to the Cooper School site, on the south side of Ann Arbor Trail between Middlebelt and Inkster Road, and a former Nankin Township land fill, next to the Holliday Park nature preserve, north of Central City Parkway and east of Newburgh.

Newburgh Lake sludge containing the toxic PCB contaminants will be taken to a classified land fill, Murray said.

Westland residents, particularly near the closed Cooper School, were concerned about the possibility of PCB sludge, which is cancer-causing material, being dumped in their neighborhood. (See related story)

The school was closed several years ago, after toxic materials were discovered on the playground.

After closing the school and fencing the property, Livonia school district officials moved the students and staff across the street to the former Whittier Junior High School. The Cooper site remains closed and fenced.

Regarding the Holliday Park preserve site, it was the center of numerous meetings of the federal Environmental Protection Agency's public hearings, attended by county environmental officials and residents from two nearby apartment complexes.

While that site has been fenced for two years, the property wasn't covered or capped, Murray said.

Concerning the disposal of clean soil to the two Westland sites, Murray

Judge is honored

Westland District Judge C. Charles Bokos has been honored as the judge of the year by the Police Officers Association of Michigan, which presented him a plaque at a recent ceremony.

Bokos was appointed to a district bench vacancy in August, 1992, and won election to the remaining two years of a term in the fall of 1994.

Bokos, 58, is unopposed this fall in seeking a six-year term to the bench.

Campaign office opens

Joseph Fitzsimmons, Republican nominee for the 13th Congressional District seat, has opened his local campaign office. Fitzsimmons is campaigning against U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers, D-Ann Arbor, in her first two-year term. The election is Tuesday, Nov. 5.

Wizards wanted

The Westland Recreation Department's therapeutic supervisor is looking for wheelchair users to join the Westland Wizards basketball team. An open house will be held 7:30-9:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 21, at Bailey Recreation Center, on Ford between Wayne Road and Newburgh.

There will be open tryouts for the wheelchair basketball team as well as a workshop on wheelchair basketball skills.

said, "I don't know what we would play. I'm planning to call another band director who's been through this before."

John Glenn art students were busy Friday making banners and posters to welcome the president.

A sign-painting party was planned for Saturday at Democratic headquarters in Ann Arbor.

Westland Police Chief Emery Price said Friday that the police department was working with the Secret Service to help with security. Police officials also were preparing to control traffic.

"We will be ready for it," he said. "We will be prepared. We will have sufficient personnel on hand for crowd control, and we will have officers assigned at various intersections to move the traffic."

A new Westland Police Department motorcycle unit's first assignment is expected to center on the president's visit, following two weeks of training that ended Friday, traffic bureau chief Peter Brokas said.

Meanwhile, student Harden offered a theory about why John Glenn was tapped for a presidential visit.

"I think we have a wonderful student body and a wonderful teaching staff," she said. "The combination of the two makes John Glenn an excellent high school."

Tuesday's visit by Clinton isn't the first time that presidential nominees or their relatives have come to the school district.

Walter Mondale, the 1984 Democratic nominee, visited a rally at Wayne Memorial High that fall.

Four years later, Kitty Dukakis, wife of the Democratic nominee, Michael Dukakis, came to John Glenn during the fall campaign.

vault captured Bartley on tape.

Other John Glenn administrators became suspicious when $2,300 was reported missing during recent months.

Donaldson has said that Bartley initially denied being in the vault.

Cross said he believes that jurors favored Bartley because it was established, during a two-day trial that ended Tuesday, that he had authority to be inside the vault.

"I think the issue was consent," he said. "He had consent to go into the petty cash fund."

Cross said Bartley is upset that his mother, who died between trials, wasn't alive to see him acquitted.

"That's got to be heart-wrenching that your mom isn't there to see you vindicated," he said.

"It has been two years, and this has ruined Mr. Bartley's life," Cross said. "He has not been able to find gainful employment in his field."

On Friday, Cross said that he and Bartley hadn't yet discussed a possible lawsuit against the Wayne-Westland school district.

Since Bartley resigned following the allegations, he has started a non-profit corporation that provides employment training, Cross said.

Cross questioned the prosecution's logic that Bartley, making about $60,000 a year as an assistant principal, would steal $55 from a school vault.

ray said there is "absolutely no" public health threat.

The county director said of the 750,000 cubic yards to be removed from Newburgh Lake, some 100,000 to 200,000 cubic yards contain PCB.

Murray said the county has contacted the city of Detroit, city of Westland and the Livonia school district about the possibility of disposing of the clean, non-contaminated soil on their properties.

The public hearing will focus on the recreational and environmental improvements of the Newburgh Lake dredging.

The project will take 12 to 18 months with a contractor working eight to 12 hours a day, six days a week, according to a technical report on the job prepared by Environmental Consulting and Technology, Inc., of Detroit.

The report was done for the county environmental department with copies of several volumes of its findings available for public review at the Livonia and Wayne public libraries, as well as the clerks' offices in Westland and Livonia city halls.

Part of the consultant's report said that there will be a monitoring plan developed "as part of the final design for verifying cleanup and for determination of disposal sites." But the disposal sites weren't identified.

Thursday's public hearing will start at 7 p.m. in the Livonia City Hall auditorium, on the south side of Five Mile, east of Farmington Road.

Specifically, Thursday's hearing will focus on the feasibility and remedial action plan for the lake's restoration.

CHECK cautious on dredging plan

A leader of a Westland environmental organization, formed during the Cooper School crisis several years ago, said the county's plans to dump Newburgh Lake sediment on two local sites may be premature.

Katherine Pare also stressed that the county hasn't kept local groups informed about the dredging and dumping plans.

In a letter to the Observer, Pare said:

"Regarding the proposed plan for the dredging of Newburgh Lake and the removal of the contaminated sediment CHECK (Concerned for the Health and Environment of Our Community's Kids) has concerns for the proper disposal and testing of the lake's sediment.

"The overland transport of PCBs through the streets of our community are also a matter of great concern.

"Further we feel the proposed planned future use of what the county terms clean sediment to be used as a part of any future remediation work on the Cooper School and Holliday Park Nature Preserve landfills is premature.

"To this point there has been a total lack of community involvement, including no communication from Wayne County to the residents most affected by these contaminated sites or the transport of the hazardous sludge through our streets.

"With no involvement from the Cooper School Citizens Information Committee or the Friends of Holliday park, the county has chosen what appears to be a very suspect remediation plan for these two landfills.

"The additional fact that the county has so far filed no official remediation plan with the state department of environmental quality division leaves us with no guide to determine if this is even a worthwhile use of our tax dollars to correct the risks posed by these abandoned toxic waste sites.

"As a community group CHECK has in the past and will continue into the future to fight for the public's right to participate in the remediation of the environmental risks that we as a community face.

"Due to the lack of information provided by the county's environmental quality staff and the back room handling of its proposal we find ourselves unable to support it at this time."

Pare and several residents in the northeast corner of Westland spearheaded the creation of

Bentley Center is at a crossroads

BY MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

Bentley Center is at a crossroads in its 50-year-old history.

One way or another, the former high school at Five Mile and Hubbard will not stand much longer as it now exists.

Livonia Public Schools' administrators, whose district includes the northern section of Westland, are eyeing two plans: demolish part of the building and renovate the rest, or raze the entire building and turn the grounds into vacant parkland.

The fate of Bentley Center may soon hinge on whether residents approve a one-time-only tax to pay the estimated $5 million cost to fix up the southern parts of the building.

If residents don't approve the proposed 1.5-mill tax increase, the entire Bentley Center will be demolished.

But even asking residents to approve a special tax to save Bentley is not yet a certainty.

The Livonia Board of Education last Monday, Sept. 9, gave the go-ahead to work with architects to find out how much savings would be generated by installing windows, lights and heating systems in the parts that would be saved.

If the savings can't cut deep enough into the $700,000 yearly cost to operate the center, then the entire building will be razed, said Superintendent Ken Watson. "Professionals need to tell us if this is a feasible idea before we go to the voters."

It will cost about $850,000 to demolish the building, an amount that would be recouped in 1 1/2 years by not having to operate the center, Watson said. "We have to stretch every dollar we get for K-12."

"Bentley is old, inefficient, a maintenance hog. That's part of the reason it was closed as a high school. It's now falling into more disrepair."

"We can't continue to support a facility to run fewer programs in a building that is in disrepair. We either downsize and upgrade, or raze. That might sound callous, but it's something we have to do. We cannot continue to keep this as a pleasant memory at a financial loss."

For the last few years, using income generated from adult ed programs and an infusion of money from its coffers, the district has managed to keep the center open. But with fewer adult ed dollars coming from the state and the resulting cut in center programs, those days appear to be over.

"The programs we now have there no longer justify that big of a building," Watson said. "We can't put enough people in there and charge them enough money to offset the cost of much-needed renovations."

The changes soon coming to the center reflect a hard-nosed business decision for a former high school that has strong admirers within its ranks of graduates.

The decision is just as tough on Watson, who served as Bentley's principal from 1981 to 1985, when the high school closed. "I loved Bentley when I was there; it was a special place to be."

In the next month, architects will look at ways to cut costs in the saved and renovated portions of the building.

Current plans show the following parts will be saved: multi-purpose room, pool, gym, cafeteria, kitchen and the two-story structure facing Hubbard, which is the original high school built in 1947 and, as the oldest part of the building, has historical significance.

The following parts are slated to be razed: music wing, auditorium, principal's office, library, two-story center wing, industrial arts wing and the east wing which once served as Riley Junior High.

Programs housed at Bentley will either stay in the saved portions or be transferred to other buildings in the district, Watson said. He said there is enough extra space in the district to house all center programs.

"We don't need Bentley to run our K-12 or adult programs," Watson said. "We have room in other buildings."

While the building's future is unclear, the future of the land it sits on is not. The land won't be sold, but will be converted to parkland and held for future use, he said.

The one-time-only 1.5-mill tax request, if passed in a special election slated for February or March, would cost the owner of a $100,000 house an extra $75.

The entire $5 million generated would be spent on repairs and renovations that should last another 25 years; building demolition costs would come from the district's budget, Watson said.

Armed with information from the architect, the trustees should decide by the end of October which of the two plans to follow.

Budget-cutting by Jay Young, director of community education, had brought the yearly cost to run Bentley down to $400,000. But cuts in state aid for adult education and the resulting program cuts have pushed that cost back up to $700,000, Young said.

Moving heat from the southern parts, where the boilers are, to areas closer to Five Mile has been costly. Demolishing these northern areas should lower heating bills, Watson said.

The former Bentley High grew like Topsy over a 22-year period, from 1947 to 1969. If the district pursues a tax increase, it will be voters who will decide Bentley's fate.

"We can't watch money being drained out of our operating funds," Watson said. "The building is costly to maintain and we don't need it. With the cutbacks in adult ed we've had three years in a row, we can no longer justify a site as large as Bentley."

The bottom line, said trustee Ken Timmons, is that the district can no longer absorb the financial losses generated by Bentley.

"That money could go into the K-12 program," he commented.

Working hard: Teacher Lucille Lietzau is one of several instructors at the Livonia school district's Bentley Center.

School staffers busy

With school back in session, numbers tell the story of what Livonia Public Schools accomplished over the summer.

"While teachers were on vacation, there's much that has gone on," said Paul Derwick, director of instruction for the district which includes the northern section of Westland.

The "what-we-did-during-the-summer-vacation" report put together by Derwick is four pages long.

Here are highlights of what happened in the district over the last three months:

- $100,000 was spent to renovate ceilings at Cooper-at-Whittier Elementary, on Ann Arbor Trail between Inkster Road and Middlebelt, Westland.

- 531 acres of grass around buildings were cut weekly.

- 110 buses were cleaned, inspected and repaired.

- 1,000 yards of carpeting were replaced.

- 350 square yards of cement sidewalks and 180,000 square feet of asphalt were laid by maintenance crews.

- 5,600 purchase orders were processed.

- Boilers were replaced in 10 buildings.

- 1,173 student athletes from 45 teams began practice sessions Aug. 12.

- 1,267 kindergartners were enrolled.

- 135 Emerson Middle School students took summer classes in science, computers, math, and English.

- All administrators attended a workshop on legal issues in education.

- 347 high school students completed 501 summer classes.

- 2,678,500 square feet of school space was cleaned.

- 65,000 square feet of parking lot paving was laid throughout the district.

- First graders at Cass, Grant and Tyler were assessed for reading readiness by teachers.

- 140 teachers were trained in using technology.

- 180 teachers were given instruction on new elementary math and reading programs.

- 20 new air conditioning units were installed in elementary and middle schools.

- All lunch room tables and benches in all elementaries were reconditioned.

- Seven dead trees were removed.

Teachers renew friendship

BY MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

Two of Livonia Public Schools' newest elementary teachers are renewing a friendship formed years ago when one was a hockey coach and the other was an eight-year-old player.

Both teachers, Terry Taylor of Cleveland and Ryan Fawkes of Buchanan, came to the district's recent new teacher orientation and sat opposite each other on the bus tour of the district.

Taylor looked at Fawkes and Fawkes looked at Taylor. Each seemed familiar to the other. So they quickly looked at name tags, and right away recognized each other's name.

Taylor, a 1995 Madonna College graduate now in his 40s who took a circuitous route getting into education, was once hockey coach to Fawkes when he played on a Mites team in Wayne.

Both lost touch with each other when Fawkes joined a hockey team in Livonia.

Fawkes, a 1992 Stevenson High graduate, is a 1996 graduate of the University of Michigan. His parents are Dale and Linda Fawkes of Alpine.

The two are among the 106 new teachers in the district this year. Both teach sixth grade.

"It was weird; both of us being first-year teachers," said Taylor, who spent 13 years working on the assembly line for General Motors Corp. "It was both strange and neat to see him."

Taylor's most recent job, before joining the Livonia staff, was running a summer camp for the Howell Nature Center. He lives in Canton.

Since their initial meeting, the two teachers have run into each other again at seminars held for the district's new reading program.

Plans also are underway to have their sixth graders write to each other as pen pals.

Franklin gets lights

Let there be light.

Just before Wednesday night's soccer game at Franklin High, switches were flipped and the school's football/soccer field was flooded with light for the first time.

A second lighting ceremony takes place Sept. 27, before the Franklin Patriots play their first home game against Northville High.

The lights signal a new era for Franklin, which serves the northeast corner of Westland from its school on Joy east of Merriman.

Gone are Saturday afternoons games at a time when most high schools switched to playing on Friday nights, under lights, years ago.

School administrators are holding two ceremonies for the two sports played on the field.

On Wednesday, students, parents and administrators gathered for a brief ceremony before turning on the switches for the four banks of lights. A similar ceremony will be held at 6:40 p.m. Sept. 27.

The district, which serves the northern section of Westland, paid $116,500 for the lights.

Administrators believe Friday night games will bring in the crowds needed to generate money for Franklin's athletic programs and to boost school spirit.

All light poles have a separate switch, so that those not needed can be shut off. The lights have glare shields which control the amount of light spilling off the field. Principal Michael Fenchel said light meter tests show the shields work well, with little light falling beyond the field.

Still to be done this fall is the planting of such landscaping as bushes or pine trees along the west fence line to screen out noise and activity on the field.

CWW delays vote on proposed stadium tax

Members of the Conference of Western Wayne decided to delay until next month a decision on the proposed tax to help fund dual stadiums for the Detroit Tigers and Detroit Lions.

Officials requested more time for their city councils and township boards to study the pros and cons of the proposed tax. Proposition S would impose a 1 percent tax on hotel room rentals and a 2 percent tax of car rentals.

CWW members will meet again Oct. 10. CWW is a consortium of 18 western Wayne and downriver communities.

Former U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell is spearheading a campaign to oppose the tax. "Why don't you sell stock or seek investments. Bill Davidson built the Palace with private funds. Many stadiums are built with private funds," he said to William Clay Ford, Jr. and Deputy County Executive Mike Duggan, who represented the county at last Friday's meeting.

Duggan said that the hotel and car rental industry was in full support of the tax and that their approval was "the closest you'll get to going to private individuals."

Canton Township Supervisor

Tom Yack countered by saying, "Equating corporate donations with taxing individuals are two different things."

Throughout his presentation to the conference, Duggan stressed the urgency of a tax endorsement.

"If we don't get it done by Nov. 1, the deal is off," Duggan said.

Duggan said now is the time to endorse the tax since Detroit is being perceived nationally as a "come-back city."

He cited the new airport expansion and General Motors' commitment to the city as the basis of this perception.

Livonia Mayor Jack Kirksey expressed concern that the suburbs were not properly represented on the Detroit-Wayne County Stadium Authority, which has six members, three appointed by Mayor Dennis Archer and three appointed by Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara.

According to information distributed at the conference meeting by Duggan, total cost for two stadiums is projected at $505 million. Fifty-two percent will come from the private sector and 48 percent from public funding.

The tax proposal will require approval from Wayne County voters in the Nov. 5 election. If approved, it will provide enough revenue to issue $80 million in bonds. The remaining public sector costs will come from established funding sources in the state of Michigan, Detroit's Downtown Development Authority, and the sale of excess Wayne

Livonia may fight change in area code

Move over 313 and 810. Make room for two more area codes.

Beginning next May, Oakland county will have its own area code - 248. For four months, customers will have the choice of dialing 810 or 248. The following September, customers will have to use 248.

By March or April of 1998, customers with 313 outside of the greater Detroit area will receive a new area code. Cities affected by the split are Taylor, Inkster, Livonia, Romulus and Westland. The new code has not been determined.

Remaining in the 313 plan are the city of Detroit, the Grosse Pointes, Lincoln Park, Allen Park, Melvindale, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Redford, Taylor, River Rouge, Hamtramck and Harper Woods. Cities affected by area code splits are Taylor, Inkster, Livonia, Romulus and Westland.

At a presentation before the Sept. 13 meeting of the Conference of Western Wayne, Ameritech vice president Harry Semerjian said area code changes would not affect local calls.

"If it's a local call today, it will be local after the split no matter how many digits."

Livonia Mayor Jack Kirksey objected to the fact that Livonia, a city with a population of 101,000, would have three area codes. "We will be a community that has to dial 11 digits to reach our neighbors," he said.

Kirksey said Ameritech has the dollars to develop technology to retain two exchanges in Livonia. "They spent $7 million just to tell people something was going to be done to them," he said of Ameritech's promotional campaign for the new codes.

Semerjian said the only solution to splitting a community was to change the 7-digit telephone number of every customer in the area designated to receive a new exchange.

Pupils hear about safety on bicycles

Children and visiting parents at Grant Elementary in Livonia attended a special presentation Monday on bicycle safety and the necessity for wearing helmets.

The presentation was sponsored by state Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville.

Geake unveiled legislation that he introduced in the Michigan Senate on Tuesday to require anyone younger than 14 to wear cycling helmets.

He introduced the measure because of the alarming number of head injuries experienced by children in biking accidents.

Geake was joined by professional cyclist John Buffington, who successfully completed the "Ride Across America," and by Livonia Police DARE officer James Barron.

"I was motivated to introduce this legislation by calls I've received from emergency room personnel requesting such a bill," said Geake.

Consortium focuses on hands-on science for area schools

BY DIANE GALE
SPECIAL WRITER

Area school districts are joining efforts to take students away from mundane memorization and excite them with experiments.

That's the logic behind a hands-on teaching method that gives students a chance to see why some things float and others sink, what makes a balloon inflate and a lot of other science theories that can be shown with things they use in their everyday lives.

"I'm a firm believer in the change toward more of a hands-on science approach," said Thomas Tattan, superintendent, Clarenceville School District.

"I think it's part of a process of change," Tattan said. "The biggest point is establishing the need to learn science at much higher levels."

Science teachers are using kits that include all the materials needed for each experiment that their students perform. When the lesson is completed, the kit is returned to a warehouse and filled for the next class.

The Clarenceville, Plymouth-Canton, Wayne-Westland and Troy school districts recently formed a consortium to share material costs and expenses of showing teachers how to use the kits.

Dennis Harlan, president of Entertainment Consultants of America, educational services division, designed the science kits and first introduced the teaching concept to the Plymouth-Canton School District three years ago.

Beyond the business motivation, Harlan said, he wanted to see his daughter's teacher use the method.

"Science in discovery is learning, observing, analyzing and predicting, but it's not something that you memorize from a book, that's knowledge," said Harlan, a Plymouth Township resident.

"I wanted my kids to learn the skill of learning, not memorizing. If they have the experience of learning, they'll transfer it to everything else."

His daughter's teacher was excited about the kits and other teachers in the district began using them, too. Enthusiasm extended into other districts and the consortium was formed.

"The idea is that it doesn't make sense for all the districts to reinvent this thing each time," Harlan said. "This will speed it up. I went around the country and I assembled teaching manuals for the top six curriculums. The teachers choose which curriculum they want and decide on the kits."

Barbara Skone, Wayne-Westland executive director for curriculum development, said, "I think it is (hands-on science) essential, because that's the way kids learn - by doing."

Claudia Kulnis was principal at Bird Elementary School in Plymouth Township when Harlan proposed the business venture.

"The whole philosophy is a hands-on inquiry based on science in the kits and that matches the philosophy that I've had for teaching science for 20 years," Kulnis said, adding that education experts promote the importance of hands-on science, because students grasp and remember the information better.

"I even developed my own kits and shared them with other staff members," said Kulnis, who recently became principal at Hill Elementary School in Troy.

"It's such a wonderful service for us, because each kit contains all the materials, down to the paper clips and the teacher spends the time on formulating lessons and investigating the content of the material rather than running to Meijer to buy all the little parts of the kits necessary to do the hands-on experience," she added.

Kulnis said she also found an increase in interest among teachers who otherwise shied away from teaching science.

Another Plymouth-Canton district transplant, Kathy Harenda, was instrumental in promoting the program. The former Plymouth-Canton math and science curriculum director facilitated a course by the National Science

Consortium from page 10A

Foundation which taught teachers from around the country how to teach hands-on science.

Harenda also helped garner a $50,000 planning grant for Plymouth-Canton from the National Science Foundation for teacher enhancement on using the kits.

"The kits aren't only an answer to a teacher's prayer, but an answer to how we ensure that good science is brought to the classroom," said Harenda, who was recently named principal at Hamburg Elementary School in the Pinckney Community Schools.

"The kits are thoroughly researched," Harenda said. "We are not only affecting the science the students are learning, but affecting the teaching of the teachers."

Harenda initiated the school district consortium as a cost savings means and an effective way for teachers to share ideas.

"If we're going to bring in a speaker to the area, why not include four or five districts in the audience?" she said. "It also promotes networking."

While the idea continues to spread, so did Harlan's need to expand his Plymouth office and warehouse capabilities. A new building to house the materials and refurbish the kits is expected to be built at Nine Mile and I-275 in Novi. Harlan also sup-

"I see that in five years this will be the predominant way schools will be teaching science," Harlan said.

Senate delays 'death with dignity' bills

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

There are two reasons the state Senate is in no rush to take up a "death with dignity" bill in its fall session.

"I don't want it to become part of the election process," said Sen. Joel Gougeon, R-Bay City, chair of the Family Law Committee. "I do not want to rush it."

Agreed, said Sen. Gary Peters, D-Bloomfield Township, a panel member. "It should be nonpartisan."

The other reason is that a lot of amendments are being shaped. "The sponsor (Sen. Dale Shugars, R-Portage) wants to play around with it," said Gougeon.

Peters, who said he will offer substitute that regulates physician-assisted suicide, said he has made amendments on his own version after the Sept. 5 public hearing in Lansing.

Gougeon had planned to take up the Shugars bill, Senate Bill 1102, at the Sept. 12 meeting but adjourned it five minutes after starting time without discussing the bill.

Shugars' bill is intended to assure that doctors tell terminally ill patients their rights to accept or refuse treatment; are given immunity when they prescribe narcotics as pain-killers; and tell patients that Michigan case law prohibits anyone from assisting a suicide. It provides no criminal penalties, however, for assisting a suicide.

It's part of a four-bill package intended to dry up Dr. Jack Kevorkian's market for assistance in ending life.

As first drafted, Peters' bill would prescribe the circumstances under which a doctor would help a patient end life.

His new version will mandate, rather than suggest, that a psychiatrist certify the patient is of sound mind.

"A physician may not have the expertise to determine if a psychiatrist is needed, so we made it (psychiatric exam) necessary," Peters said.

Peters' new version also will require a 15-day, rather than two-day, waiting period between the time a patient makes a second request for a death drug and the time it may be administered. It will mean a total of 30 days from the time the patient makes his or her first request until the end can come.

"The most important part of my bill," said Peters, "is putting it to a vote of the people. Polls show 75 percent of the people support physician-assisted suicide. Right to Life (which opposes assisted suicide) doesn't want it on the ballot because they know it will pass overwhelmingly."

Gougeon's panel, which includes Republican Sens. Robert Geake of Northville and Michael Bouchard of Birmingham, is scheduled to meet Sept. 19 but probably won't act even then. A fifth member, Sen. Virgil Smith, D-Detroit, will be on a trip to India.

"I expect no action until the last week of September or even later," said Gougeon.

Senators aren't up for reelection this year, but representatives are, and any Senate-passed bill is unlikely to be taken up until after the Nov. 5 election, if at all.

If no action is taken, the bill will die Dec. 31 and have to be reintroduced in 1997.

Canton shows big gain, Redford, Livonia dip, SEMCOG report

Households are increasing three times as fast as population as the number of persons per household declines.

That's the finding of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments in its study of Population and Occupied Housing Units from 1990-95.

Population grew 1.6 percent (to 4.6 million) from the official census date of April 1, 1990, to July 1, 1995. But the number of occupied housing units grew 4.7 percent, to 1.8 million, in the same period.

"There were 3.27 persons per household in southeast Michigan in 1970. Persons per household decreased from 2.66 to 2.62 between 1990 and 1995," said the SEMCOG study.

Oakland County led the numerical growth in population, Livingston County led the percentage growth, and Wayne County showed a decline — even in many suburbs. The breakdown by counties:

Livingston — population up 15.5 percent to 133,600; housing units up 18.4 percent to 46,024. Outside the cities of Brighton and Howell and the villages of Pinckney and Fowlerville, population growth was mostly in the double-digits percentage wise.

Macomb — population up 2.3 percent to 733,607; housing units up 7.8 percent to 285,631. Big growth areas were the three tiers of townships north of Mt. Clemens.

Monroe — population up 4.5 percent to 139,550; housing units up 8.5 percent to 50,447. Major growth areas were Bedford and Erie townships, next door to Toledo, and Monroe Township; the city Monroe lost population.

Oakland — population up 6.4 percent to 1,163,461; housing units up 7.3 percent to 440,503. Biggest growth corridors were the second tier of townships (Rose, Springfield, Independence, Orion and Oakland) and a western range running through Springfield, White Lake, Commerce, Wixom and Novi plus Milford.

St. Clair — population up 5.9 percent to 154,231; housing units up 8.7 percent to 57,507. Only the city of Port Huron lost population.

Washtenaw — population up 3.4 percent to 292,609; housing units up 8.3 percent to 113,223. Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti lost population; Webster Township in the north and Pittsfield Township, south of Ann Arbor, were big gainers.

Wayne — population down 2.7 percent to 2,055,500; housing units up 0.5 percent to 784,716. Detroit slipped below the one million mark to 990,407. Redford Township, Livonia, Garden City, the city of Plymouth, Belleville and the so-called downriver communities lost population. Big gainers were Northville Township, up 12.3 percent to 19,450; Canton Township, up 11.9 percent to 63,831; and Huron Township, up 16 percent to 12,114.

Region — population up 1.6 percent to 4,662,558; housing units up 4.7 percent to 1,778,051.

SEMCOG bases its estimates on residential building permit data provided by the local units; its own data on mobile homes; and state data on group homes.

"If a community has significant life cycle turnover and young families with children replace older persons living alone," the authors said, "this method may miss population change."

■ It will, however, catch changes in households."

CANKER SORES

Usually arising at a single site, but often occurring as multiple ulcers, canker sores affect up to half the population of this country. Their cause is often unknown, but they are believed to represent hypersensitivity reactions, often known as immune dysfunction. For many people, canker sores accompany the eating of certain foods (especially acidic foods), appear after exposure to irritants, or result from trauma or injury to the mouth. Stress may also play a role. Canker sores usually run their course in three to fourteen days. To help the healing process along, patients may want to gargle with warm salty water or apply a nonprescription anesthetic cream or ointment to help ease the discomfort. If recurrences of canker sores are frequent, consult with the dentist about using a prescription steroid cream or mouthwash.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Here's the dirt on successful gardens

Dirt is a good thing. Not dirty clothes, or dirt in houses, but dirt as the soil in which I plant. Dirt's rich perfume greets me after a rain, or hearty sprinkle with the hose. It gives me a bushel or so of candy apple red tomatoes, aromatic basil fronds that fill the air with the scent of anise when brushed by a pant leg. My dirt has been feeding me fruits and vegetables since the end of spring, and now it is time to return the favor.

Organic matter

All summer I have been composting, putting the outside leaves of cabbages, the shucks and cobs from corn, egg shells, coffee grounds and wilted salad greens into a remote corner of my garden.

When I cut grass, the clippings are added to raked leaves, straw and harvested potato plants. I bought a small Rototiller four years ago at Sears during season clearance, and it has suited me just fine.

When the last of the parsley is cut for tabbouleh, the remainder of basil snipped for neighbors Frank & Karen's spaghetti sauce, and the final green tomato made into harvest relish, I will crank up the tiller, and feed my garden as it has fed me for the last four months.

Successful gardening requires planning. Each year I rotate crops and plant a few marigolds and zinnias for color, to help control the bug population and attract bees for pollination.

I could, like many neighbors, feed the soil with plant food containing chemical additives, and spray plants and flowers with a range of insecticides, but I want to leave my dirt and groundwater as clean as they were when I came to them.

I hope my children, and their children, will want to keep gardening this ground. However, I am not naive. I know that we live in a nation where people seem to be in perpetual motion, that chances are slim my grandchildren will be in this house, or even this state when they grow up. Still, even if my garden were to cease to exist, I know I will have fulfilled my covenant with future generations.

Soil is composed of a multitude of chemicals and trace elements along with beneficial bacteria and yeasts. I have only to taste the best of hydroponic vegetables grown in watery chemical solutions to realize that real soil and sunshine give vegetables and fruits the best flavor.

Reaping benefits

"Vine ripened" $3.49 per pound tomatoes available during the dead of winter don't come close to the taste of a tomato that costs pennies to grow during the summer. Chemicals from a bag cannot replicate the delicious compost breakfast I feed my vegetables, and they quickly leach out into the ground.

Even if gardening were just a second hobby, I could easily open a small roadside bait stand and sell the worms that are everywhere, especially after the soil has been tilled. Remember when you had to water the lawn after dinner and then head outside with a flashlight to dig worms for the next day's fishing trip? I still do, and they have helped me land many a walleye with my dad in our old family-owned boat.

My small garden is my small statement. My compost bin is a recycled plastic oil drum with holes drilled in the side to help circulate air. It cost me the effort to go pick it up, and has lasted since I started gardening without additives about 10 years ago. I would like to believe my harvests are organic, but I have never purchased anything organic because I can't justify the price.

My early crop of beans have fixed nitrogen in the soil. My tomatoes are odd shaped, but they harm no one, and taste buttery and delicious. I grow just enough for my household, and any animals or birds that can get over or under the fence.

My plants get their health from good soil, and can fight off disease pretty much on their own. I do lose some of what I grow, and have to cope with an occasional grub or a slug (what a reason to pop open a beer, pour a pie plate full and see the pests die with a buzz on).

But I'm happy with the rich smell of my dirt after a rain, and with the thought that I'm feeding the land and future. My only hope is that somewhere, sometime, you might be able to do the same.

Chefs indulge in sweet temptations

Pastry Chef David Balla has a serious sweet tooth, and believes all meals should begin and end with dessert. Maple Panna Cotta, one of the desserts he is preparing for Tournament of Temptations during "Sweet Endings" weekend at the Michigan Renaissance Festival, Sept. 28-29, was originally made with poached fish, and served as an appetizer.

"The recipe has stayed consistent since the Dark Ages," said Balla, an American Culinary Federation certified pastry chef at Gandy Dancer in Ann Arbor, and graduate of Oakland Community College's culinary arts program. Italian for "cooked cream," panna cotta is a custard dessert. Balla's panna cotta will be flavored with Michigan maple syrup. He's also making a "fancied up" carrot cheesecake, because "carrots have been around since time began."

Balla said he has always been interested in the Renaissance period, and enjoys attending the festival because it's always changing. "They keep the favorites, but are always adding new events and skits," he said.

Mary Denning owner of Mary Denning's Cake Shoppe in Westland, and an instructor in Henry Ford Community College's culinary arts program, is making a royal cake shaped like a castle. Michelle Butler, a former student who works at the shop, is making a chocolate cheesecake with a dragon.

"I like the Renaissance Festival, and it's for a good cause," said Denning. "It's something different."

Certified Executive Chef John Zehnder, food and beverage director of Zehnder's of Frankenmuth, and president of the American Culinary Federation's Flint/Saginaw Valley Chapter is working with the festival to organize the event.

"I'm real excited about this," said Nancy Lewandowsky, festival executive director. "The American Culinary Federation has worked closely with us to make it a fabulous event. We've had positive response from chefs. After the judging, you'll be able to sample the foods by buying 'indulgences' for $1 per taste."

Event proceeds will be donated to the American Culinary Federation's national charity, the Child and the Chef Foundation, which helps support various nutrition programs that directly affect the nutritional needs of children including Head Start.

"It's great for the festival to have a new event, and it's a good thing for the American Culinary Federation," said Lewandowsky.

Tournament of Temptations will be presented in the Castle, a 2,400-square-foot fortress built this year for special events. Pioneer Sugar is the weekend sponsor.

Students will compete Saturday, and professional chefs Sunday. There will also be sugar pulling and other dessert-related demonstrations. Prizes will be awarded for best of show, first, second, and third place. Best of Show in the professional category will receive $1,000, and the student winner a $1,000 scholarship. Trophies, ribbons and festival merchandise will be awarded to the other winners.

"I'm a Renaissance Festival groupie," said Zehnder, whose family name is synonymous with Frankenmuth and family-style chicken dinners. "I was looking for a fall event to raise money, and thought this was a nice fresh approach that could be a combined effort with the eight American Culinary Federation chapters in Michigan. The Renaissance is a unique festival. The costumed performers and individual performers create mystique."

The Castle provided a venue for staging the competition. "It's open, airy, and allows for people to walk around," said Zehnder. "This is one of the few pastry competitions around, and has potential to grow into a major event. Our craft goes back to way before the Renaissance time, and our uniform — tall hat and double breasted coat — is the same."

Also new this year is the "Feast of Folly," to benefit Karmanos Cancer Institute. Tickets quickly sold out, but you can still get tickets for "The Cause and Effect of Wine and Food," seminars 4:30 and 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 21-22.

Mario Cardillo of Beringer Vineyards will host the event in the Castle. You'll learn more about pairing wine with foods by tasting different flavor combinations. Event proceeds benefit Karmanos Cancer Institute.

Hand-picked wines from J.C. Mathes well priced

BY ELEANOR & RAY HEALD
SPECIAL WRITERS

While in London a few weeks ago, we visited some of the city's best wine shops. Wine buyers at such establishments as Berry Bros. & Rudd, Justerini and Brooks or Fortnum and Mason pride themselves on hand-selecting wines from small producers and making them available to their customers. We made an immediate mental Michigan connection.

Right in our own back yard is J.C. Mathes and his J et R Selections Ltd. based in Mount Pleasant. Mathes prides himself on choosing southern Rhone wines, Vin de Pays and Burgundies from select small producers with whom he has done business for several years. He has exclusive import rights to some stellar estates. Perhaps most importantly, his portfolio of hand-crafted wines is exceptionally well priced.

Mathes holds a doctorate in Contemporary French Drama and since 1963 has been a University of Michigan professor in the engineering college teaching report writing. He will gain professor emeritus status in January 1997. During his first sabbatical in 1972, Mathes and his wife Rosemary lived in the French regions of Provence and Cotes du Rhone. He went back during the summer of 1976 and lived at the Domaine le Mas des Collines, whose wines he

Nifty nails: Technician "Andrew" at 90's Nails in Oakland Mall, works with client Sandy Frattola of Warren.

Fun fingertips keep salons busy

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

Years ago the only time a woman had her nails done was for her wedding or special occasion. With the advent of acrylic nails, salons are springing up at every mall and mainstreet.

Tina Trevarrow stopped into 90's Nails at the Oakland Mall, Troy last week for a set of acrylic nails and a French manicure. An L.A. actress, she was in town working on the production of "The Polish Wedding" being filmed in Hamtramck. Trevarrow said began wearing acrylic nails three years ago because her natural nails break easily.

"In L.A. there's a nail salon on every corner," she said heading back to California to work on the television show Unsolved Mysteries. "I get them done about every 10 days to two weeks because sometimes a nail lifts and if air, or a hair, gets under a nail, you can get a fungus infection. They have to be taken off and redone. You must keep them up all the time."

90's Nails, a licensed salon which opened in July, offers customers more than 50 colors of nail polish and 400 different airbrushed designs for acrylic nails. Technician Larry Lee designs and hand cuts the stencils for the designs of palm trees, flowers and rabbits. Along with airbrushing, shop technicians decorate nails with rhinestones, flat nail art, gold and silver glitter, stripping, two tones, and charms.

90's Nails was founded in Pennsylvania three years ago by owner Jim Luong. Besides locations in the east, he has two stores in Michigan and plans call for a 90's Nails to open soon at Twelve Oaks in Novi.

At The Nail Station in Plymouth, Susan Misener was treating her 13-year-old daughter Michelle to frosted aquamarine polish and original artwork of the Tasmanian Devil on her pinky finger. Technician Wendy Weldon specializes in free-hand art, painting a range of images from Leonardo da Vinci's Mona Lisa to Bugs Bunny, a miniature dollar bill, seasonal and holiday trimmings, and logos of the Detroit Red Wings and U of M sports teams.

"The Looney Tunes characters are real popular with teenagers," she said. "A couple of weeks ago, I had four or five of them come in the morning after a sleep-over party. Nails are growing in popularity. My customers range in age from 18 to 65, from business ladies coming in on their lunch hours to cleaning ladies who are really hard on their nails."

Misener comes in every two weeks to maintain her long nails which this week were done in pink and accented with rhinestones and an abstract design painted by Weldon. Working on a computer all day with long finger nails took some adjustment she said.

Weldon said she tries to stay current with fashionable colors and this season that means metallics in slate grey, dark blue and dark green. Red is dead when it comes to coloring nails.

"Of course, some people are stuck on red," Weldon said, "They're going to wear red whether it's in or not. My clients are asking for frosts, especially white, and dark metallics like purple."

One of the most requested finishes is a blue and purple marbled faux Weldon learned while working in a craft store painting furniture.

"Nails are so popular now because with the acrylics the polish lasts so much longer - up to two weeks, whereas with polish on a natural nail it's 2-3 days," she pointed out. She's won several nail painting competitions and has had her creations published in magazines.

Technicians at The Nail Station are state board certified. They take safety precautions seriously.

"Training and sanitation are very important," Weldon said. "All implements are kept in hospital grade disinfectants."

B'ham puts on a Fall Spectacular

A record crowd turned out to see the best of Birmingham at last Wednesday's Fall Spectacular. They raised $100,000 for cancer survivor scholarships and enjoyed the evening of friends, food and fashion.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO

The merchants of downtown Birmingham proved once again that they are cool. Way cool.

Their runway show of the season's best from Jacobson's to Kiddywinks, had the standing-room-only audience mesmerized from start to finish. The eclectic offerings from funky shops like It's the Ritz, Timbuktu and Lisa Parks, blended with the European collections of Tender, Maxwell, Edward Dorian, and the more traditional looks from stores like The Claymore Shop, Thomas Leffler and Jacobson's.

The highlight of the show belonged to the 18 youngsters who macaraine-ed down the runway in free spirited garments from Frankie & Debbie's, Kiddywinks and Hansel & Gretel, inviting wild applause from the crowd, many who stood to join in.

Emcee Jim Harper of WNIC radio's The Breakfast Club summed it up as "the night Hollywood comes to Birmingham - when the audience is just as beautiful as the models on stage."

Theatrics came courtesy of the town's four leading hair salons. Each staff offered a Salute to Broadway with coifs and make-up inspired by the musicals Cabaret (90th Floor), West Side Story (Salon Sydney), My Fair Lady (Antonino), and Phantom of the Opera (Kennice Bashar).

"I loved the show it was very entertaining and worth waiting for," said Patty Greene of Birmingham. (The fashion show started a half-hour late, running from 9-10 p.m. The event was under way at 6 p.m. in tents set up in the parking lot across from the Community House. Guests spent $25 each to enjoy cocktails, hors d'oeuvres, a silent auction of goods and services from downtown merchants, and a coffee/dessert afterward.)

Dr. Charles Main, chief of pediatric hematology/oncology at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, presented 11 scholarships to local coeds who survived battles with cancer. It was his idea for the scholarship fund that Birmingham merchants have adopted.

"I would like to thank all the do-ers not talk-ers in Birmingham," he said. "We must keep up this work because we have 15 to 20 survivors in the wings."

Event chairman Richard Astrein thanked his executive committee, wife Debbie, Traci Toepf Farlow and Debbie Caruso from It's The Ritz, Judi Roberts of 220 Merrill, and Janice Milani Ruby of Kidlywinks.

He instructed the audience to refer to the 31-page program guide for a complete list of all the town's businesses deserving thanks for their contributions to the night's activities.

Michigan designers are a benefit hit

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

In a darkened ballroom at the Troy Marriott, the pulsating beat of Mission Impossible's theme set the mood for intrigue and surprise as 15 Michigan designers introduced fall collections at The St. Hugo of the Hills fashion luncheon, Sept. 9.

Using props like field glasses, toy guns and flip phones, models had fun mixing up spy personas with high fashion.

Guests enjoyed the Michigan By Design theme set by chairwoman Dolores Mutchler, dining on Michigan Field Salad, grilled Lake Michigan Salmon, and Carmel Apple Grannie. The centerpieces were baskets filled with Michigan products like Jiffy mixes from Chelsea, and Sydney Bogg chocolates. Favors included two wrapped and ribboned tulip bulbs from Holland.

"I thought the show was great, very creative," said Kathy Tanner of Bloomfield Hills. "I saw the diversity available in Michigan and I was so proud that we have such talent here."

La Vonne Hunter produced and narrated the hour-long fashion production showcasing the work of designers from Detroit's International Design Center on Monroe St. The presentation moved swiftly, despite difficulty understanding the narration which attempted to weave a tale of mystery around the clothing descriptions.

Two or three times during the show, the audience burst into applause for designs that were ingenious blends of fabric and colors. Collections made use of faux fur, cashmere, wool crepe, satin and trims like crystal beading, feathers and fringe.

MRA offers debit card processing

The Michigan Retailers Association teamed with Magic Line and KeyBank to offer retailers point-of-sale debit card processing. With a debit card, a customer's purchases are directly deducted from his or her checking account. The use of the cards is relatively small but growing rapidly, according to Larry Meyer, vice-chairman of the MRA.

"Industry analysts say use of debit cards in retail stores across the nation has shot up 600 percent since 1990 to 100 million transactions a year," he said. "They expect that number to rise to 450 million transactions by the year 2000."

Meyer pointed out that with debit card purchases, retailers are free from worries over fraud and chargebacks. The sale is guaranteed the moment the shoppers enters his or her PIN (personal identification number) and the retailer receives authorization via the bankcard terminal.

Complete details are available from the MRA at 1-800-366-3699.

Suburban Detroit: We have the leadership in readership!

SPRING delivers the suburbs with more weekday readers than The News and Free Press combined!

Now there are more reasons than ever to go home with SPRING Newspapers. SPRING continues to be the primary weekday newspaper for suburban residents of this suburb-driven market*. For example:

- 48% of adults in the SPRING survey area read SPRING weekly and daily newspapers.
- SPRING delivers, on average, 1,060,000 total readers every week.
- That means SPRING delivers 1,067,000 gross impressions for an entire week.

Compare these numbers to your other media alternatives: only 37% of adults in the SPRING survey area read the weekday Free Press or The Detroit News. More suburban Detroit readers turn to SPRING.

- SPRING delivers more weekday suburban readers with household incomes over $30,000.
- SPRING delivers more suburban homeowners (50%) than any other weekday newspaper.

To find out more about how the Detroit market has changed, and for information about our current audit, call the SPRING Newspaper Network at 1-800-382-8878.

MOVIES

SUZANNE HANOVER

Heartwarming story: Whoopi Goldberg and Haley Joel Osment star in "Bogus," now playing at metro Detroit movie theaters.

'Bogus' engaging family movie

BY DOLORES BARCLAY
ASSOCIATED PRESS ARTS EDITOR

What an unfortunate idea to title a movie "Bogus." It makes the work such an easy target.

And that's too bad. Because the new Warner Bros. release, though shallow, a bit forced and at times downright irritating, is otherwise an engaging and harmless family movie.

The story is centered around a 7-year-old named Albert (Haley Joel Osment) and the imaginary friend who comes to life when his mother dies.

Albert lives in Las Vegas where his unmarried mother Lorraine (Nancy Travis) works as a showgirl. His world — and his family — are the sequined stages of the strip's casinos and pleasure palaces. He hangs backstage with the performers and learns all about magic from illusionist Mr. Antoine.

Then his world explodes. His mother is killed in a car crash. Albert thinks the other performers will gladly take him in and he will be able to maintain some sort of tie to the only "family" he's ever known, but that's not to be. Lorraine had left a will, naming her foster sister Harriet (Whoopi Goldberg) as Albert's guardian in the event of her death.

Big problem. Harriet lives

clear across the country in the claustrophobic environs of Newark, N.J.

Albert reluctantly boards the plane and while doodling with a play book the stewardess has given him, a drawing of a big, round face comes to life and starts to talk to the troubled child. The face soon takes on more shape and that of a body, too. It turns into a large, sweet Frenchman named Bogus (Gerard Depardieu).

Bogus is Albert's imaginary friend and companion and only Albert can see him. It's a device that worked so charmingly with Jimmy Stewart in "Harvey," but is played here for contrived laughs.

Back in Newark, the frenetic Harriet races through her work day to meet the youngster at the airport. She's stressed and full of attitude, and the last thing she wants or needs in her single life is a child.

Harriet and Albert spend much of the movie struggling to find a common thread, other than Lorraine. Of course, they finally do and by necessity, Bogus must disappear.

It's a predictable storyline from writer-producer Jeff Rothberg and screenwriter Alvin Sargent, complete with all the diversions usually seen in this type of relationship movie. Yes, Albert does try to run away; yes, Harriet does go after him; yes, they fight over most things; yes, Albert's magic tricks pop up.

But the worst device in the movie comes when Harriet is able to see Bogus, thus destroying the fragile world of imagination. When he enters her psyche, the film slips to melodrama, because, as it turns out, Harriet also had a difficult and troubled childhood.

And that's the biggest problem with the Norman Jewison movie. Harriet is a complex character who remains undeveloped and largely unknown. She's almost more of the story than Albert and Bogus, and far more interesting. But she's a flat Hollywood stencil. Too bad.

Jewison, an admirable filmmaker of such classics as "The Russians Are Coming! The Russians Are Coming!" "In the Heat of the Night," "The Thomas Crown Affair" as well as the comedy "Moonstruck," manages to pull lovely performances from his actors, but they're all working with flimsy material.

"Bogus" is produced by Jewison, Rothberg and Arnon Milchan and is rated PG. You can bring the entire family, but older, more sophisticated children might be bored.

Suburban Detroit: We have the leadership in readership!

SPRING delivers the suburbs with more weekday readers than The News and Free Press combined!

Now there are more reasons than ever to go home with SPRING Newspapers. SPRING continues to be the primary weekday newspaper for suburban residents of this suburb-driven market*. For example:

- 48% of adults in the SPRING survey area read SPRING weekly and daily newspapers
- SPRING delivers, on average, 1,060,000 total readers every week
- That means SPRING delivers 1,067,000 gross impressions for an entire week

Compare these numbers to your other media alternatives: only 37% of adults in the SPRING survey area read the weekday Free Press or The Detroit News. More suburban Detroit readers turn to SPRING.

- SPRING delivers more weekday suburban readers with household incomes over $50,000
- SPRING delivers more suburban homeowners (51%) than any other weekday newspaper

To find out more about how the Detroit market has changed, and for information about our current audit, call the SPRING Newspaper Network at 1-800-382-8878.

MOVIES

SUZANNE HANOVER

Heartwarming story: Whoopi Goldberg and Haley Joel Osment star in "Bogus," now playing at metro Detroit movie theaters.

'Bogus' engaging family movie

BY DOLORES BARCLAY
ASSOCIATED PRESS ARTS EDITOR

What an unfortunate idea to title a movie "Bogus." It makes the work such an easy target.

And that's too bad. Because the new Warner Bros. release, though shallow, a bit forced and at times downright irritating, is otherwise an engaging and harmless family movie.

The story is centered around a 7-year-old named Albert (Haley Joel Osment) and the imaginary friend who comes to life when his mother dies.

Albert lives in Las Vegas where his unmarried mother Lorraine (Nancy Travis) works as a showgirl. His world — and his family — are the sequined stages of the strip's casinos and pleasure palaces. He hangs backstage with the performers and learns all about magic from illusionist Mr. Antoine.

Then his world explodes. His mother is killed in a car crash. Albert thinks the other performers will gladly take him in and he will be able to maintain some sort of tie to the only "family" he's ever known, but that's not to be. Lorraine had left a will, naming her foster sister Harriet (Whoopi Goldberg) as Albert's guardian in the event of her death.

Big problem. Harriet lives

clear across the country in the claustrophobic environs of Newark, N.J.

Albert reluctantly boards the plane and while doodling with a play book the stewardess has given him, a drawing of a big, round face comes to life and starts to talk to the troubled child. The face soon takes on more shape and that of a body, too. It turns into a large, sweet Frenchman named Bogus (Gerard Depardieu).

Bogus is Albert's imaginary friend and companion and only Albert can see him. It's a device that worked so charmingly with Jimmy Stewart in "Harvey," but is played here for contrived laughs.

Back in Newark, the frenetic Harriet races through her work day to meet the youngster at the airport. She's stressed and full of attitude, and the last thing she wants or needs in her single life is a child.

Harriet and Albert spend much of the movie struggling to find a common thread, other than Lorraine. Of course, they finally do and by necessity, Bogus must disappear.

It's a predictable storyline from writer-producer Jeff Rothberg and screenwriter Alvin Sargent, complete with all the diversions usually seen in this type of relationship movie. Yes, Albert does try to run away; yes, Harriet does go after him; yes, they fight over most things; yes, Albert's magic tricks pop up.

But the worst device in the movie comes when Harriet is able to see Bogus, thus destroying the fragile world of imagination. When he enters her psyche, the film slips to melodrama, because, as it turns out, Harriet also had a difficult and troubled childhood.

And that's the biggest problem with the Norman Jewison movie. Harriet is a complex character who remains undeveloped and largely unknown. She's almost more of the story than Albert and Bogus, and far more interesting. But she's a flat Hollywood stencil. Too bad.

Jewison, an admirable filmmaker of such classics as "The Russians Are Coming! The Russians Are Coming!" "In the Heat of the Night," "The Thomas Crown Affair" as well as the comedy "Moonstruck," manages to pull lovely performances from his actors, but they're all working with flimsy material.

"Bogus" is produced by Jewison, Rothberg and Arnon Milchan and is rated PG. You can bring the entire family, but older, more sophisticated children might be bored.

Clarenceville keeper Lance Couturier blanked Franklin Road in the second half.

The Trojans return to action at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at home against Pinckney.

In the first round Friday of the Westland Huron Valley Lutheran Invitational, the host Hawks lost to Michigan Lutheran, 7-1.

Adam Davidson scored the lone goal from Nick Wisniskie. In the other semifinal, Lutheran Westland ripped Mount Zion, 6-1, to improve to 4-2 on the year.

On Wednesday, Westland John Glenn fell to host Walled Lake Central, 4-3, to fall to 2-3-1 overall and 0-2 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Rockets batter Western, 28-17

Westland John Glenn came through in the second half to beat Walled Lake Western in a meeting of state-ranked football teams. The Rockets improved to 2-0 on the season.

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

They'll be playing "Hail to the Chief" Tuesday when President Bill Clinton visits Irma Kionka Field.

But on Friday night the host Westland John Glenn Rockets took executive action of their own, rallying in the second half to beat Walled Lake Western in a battle of state-ranked football teams, 28-17.

Glenn's second-half performance was certainly presidential.

The Rockets held Western, which rang up 45 points in a season-opening win over Milford, to a net-4 yards in the second half.

Glenn's offense also started to steamroll.

They scored 14 unanswered points to erase a 17-14 halftime deficit.

With 9:48 left in the third quarter, wide receiver David Jarrett took a hand-off on a reverse and raced 59 yards for the game-winner. His run was even more amazing considering he faked out three Western tacklers at the 20 to get into the end zone.

With 8:45 to go, junior Jason Crofton scampered 14 yards on a flanker reverse to put some insurance points on the board.

The TD came after outside linebacker Nick Neshiewat put a hit on Western punter Pat Gibson and tackle Ira Bargon recovered the fumble on the Warriors' 15.

"At halftime our guys were disappointed with the way we played," said Glenn coach Chuck Gordon, whose team is 2-0 overall. "We were sloppy, we weren't sharp and we made too many stupid mistakes. We felt if we could get untracked, we could be successful."

The reverse play proved to be pivotal in the Glenn victory.

"They (Western) really likes to fly to the ball, and if you have the personnel to run misdirection things, it will help you," Gordon said. "Once we got those plays started, they're athletes and it good things are going to happen for us."

Jarrett, a 6-foot-3, 195-pound senior, pounced on a Western fumble, which squirted into the end zone, on the game's very first play to give the Rockets a 7-0 lead. (Steve Palling then boot the first of his four extra points on the night.)

"I don't know what happened, the ball bumped around and I grabbed it," Jarrett said. "You just have to keep your eyes open. The down line-men cause it and I recovered."

Western, however, cut the deficit to 7-3 on Gibson's 44-yard field goal.

The Warriors then recovered a Glenn fumble at the Rockets' 19 and scored two plays later as sophomore Dave Johnson found the end zone on a 3-yard run, the TD coming with 11:16 left in the half.

Glenn regained the lead with 4:54 remaining in the second half on sophomore Reggie Spearmon's 15-yard run. The score was set up when tackle Jim Stafford recovered a fumble at the Western 45.

On the ensuing kick-off, Western junior Kevin Thomas found a seam and sprinted 92 yards for a TD, putting the Warriors back on top 17-14.

Western threatened to score again just for the half ended, but Spearmon, knifing in from his end spot, blocked Gibson's 36-yard field goal attempt.

Spearmon also did it on the offensive end, particularly in the second half. He finished the evening with 118 yards on 34 carries.

"It was a great football game, we just made too many mistakes and they (Glenn) took it to us in the second half," Western coach Chuck Apap said. "John Glenn is a fine football team with a lot of talent and they just pounded us in the second half."

"We had a good first half, except for the three turnovers. The big counter plays got us down mentally. You have to overcome those type of things when they happen, and we didn't do that against Glenn."

Patriots run past Spartans

Quick, explosive and dangerous. This may sound like the artillery being used by the United States military in the Middle East, but it's also an accurate description of the Livonia Franklin offense.

The Patriots displayed their quick-strike capability by routing host Livonia Stevenson Friday 29-7, in a Western Lakes Activities Association cross-over. Both teams are 1-1.

After the Spartans opened the scoring on their first drive of the game, Franklin scored 29 unanswered points — all within a blink of an eye. Franklin's scoring drives consisted of eight total plays.

Consider these statistics: Stevenson had more first downs, 16-7; Stevenson ran 65 plays on offense to Franklin's 35; and the Spartans controlled time of possession 28:35 to 19:25 for Franklin.

The Spartans were also able to move the ball on the Patriots, gaining 306 yards of total offense. But Franklin's offense was more potent, accumulating 378 yards of offense.

"We wanted to establish ball control, but everybody was executing," Franklin coach Rick Lee said. "We look to get four yards a carry. But everyone was doing their job. We executed against a good and disci-

Forging ahead: Livonia Franklin's Steve Ashbay (right) tries to elude a Stevenson tackler during Friday's city tussle. The Patriots' ground game was effective in a 29-7 triumph. Both teams are 1-1 on the season and start divisional play this Friday.

Flint Powers sinks pesky Blazers

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

It was an upset in the making.

With 6:11 to go in the third quarter, a rebound basket by Melissa Poma gave Livonia Ladywood a 27-26 lead over Flint Powers Catholic, one of the state's top-ranked girls basketball teams in Class B.

The next three minutes, however, turned out to be an upset stomach for the host Blazers, who couldn't recover from a 13-0 Powers run which led to a 58-51 non-league defeat.

"They (Powers) took the press off and we had been accustomed to playing versus the press in our first three games," Ladywood first-year coach Andrea McAllister-Gorski said. "They forced us into a tough half-court game and we didn't respond well."

But despite the mini-collapse, Ladywood gets an A-plus for effort.

"We handled their pressure great for the most part and some of the fundamental things we've worked on in practice paid off," the Ladywood coach said. "I'd say for a half we played disciplined, solid basketball, but in the second half we started to panic a little bit."

A steal and layup by Kirsten Boike and a three-point bomb by Abby Hunjo, sparked the Powers' run.

Thanks to a three-point play by Sheryl Wroblecki, Ladywood got as close as five points early in the fourth quarter, but couldn't get over the hump.

"Ladywood did a nice job with their post defense even though they're a little under-sized," said Powers Kathy McGee, now in her 21st season. "And they did a nice job when we tried to reverse the ball in our offense. They played hard. They're young and they'll do well down the stretch."

Powers is 2-1 overall. Its only loss is to Ladywood's Catholic League Central Division foe Harper Woods Regina.

Ladywood, meanwhile, is 1-3, but all three losses have come against quality opponents — Detroit Renaissance, Ann Arbor Pioneer and Powers.

"We're all in the same boat and playing tough teams has helped," McAllister-Gorski said. "They really know and understand now what it takes."

"We just have to do the little things like making layups, boxing out on the boards, passing and taking care of the ball. We have to do that first before moving forward."

Powers led by only two at intermission, 24-22, as Ladywood center Sarah Foglits kept her team close by scoring all of her team-high 10 points. But the 6-foot-1 junior got into foul trouble in the second half.

"Sarah has a nice touch from 15 feet and in and that gives teams trouble," McAllister-Gorski said.

Aimee Pearson, however, posed problems for Ladywood. The forward from Powers finished with a game-high 15 points. Center Brandy Pickens, saddled by early foul trouble in the first half, contributed 12.

McGee, who coached the Chargers to the 1991 state Class B crown, used all 13 available players.

"Because of our defense early on, we felt we outplayed Ladywood, but we couldn't score," McGee said. "We got a little down on ourselves."

The formula for turning the game upside-down during a 15-7 third-quarter run was defense.

"We talked about stepping out into the passing lanes and containing their dribbler," McGee said. "They were coming off screens nicely, but we didn't want her (the point-guard) to get a good look."

Ladywood wound up with 25 turnovers, while Powers had 26.

Both teams shot evenly from the floor — Ladywood 19 of 47 (40 percent) and Powers 21 of 48 (43 percent).

But Powers seemed to be more opportunistic.

"I think we're very competitive," McGee said. "We can make a run come tourney time because we have good athletes and good basketball players. But that's a long way down the road."

And that means there's also time for Ladywood.

"We have a good group of schools to cover."

When we asked Brad Emons what he enjoys most about covering community sports, he told us, "The people we deal with, from the coaches to the student-athletes, they truly appreciate the coverage—we cover a good group of schools from the smallest to the largest."

Brad began reading the major league box scores when he was still in grade school, wrote in high school and earned a degree in journalism from Franklin College in Indiana. He's been writing for your hometown newspapers since he graduated in 1977.

How does our coverage stack up? Brad says that unlike the metropolitan newspapers, "We cover a variety of prep sports and do it in-depth—both boys' and girls'. We're able to hit more than the highlights. We get to know nearly every high school coach and athletic director by their first names."

So, if you want more than just highlights Brad is the guy you turn to. Every Monday and Thursday.

FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Wayne, Warriors triumph

Senior quarterback Lorenzo Guess passed for two touchdowns Friday as host Wayne Memorial defeated Lincoln Park, 28-12.

The Zebras built a 22-0 at half-time lead en route to making their football record 2-0.

Dwayne Jackson's 1-yard run in the first quarter capped an 11-play, 62-yard drive, and Guess ran for the two-point conversion.

Richard Rashad caught a 34-yard pass from Guess and returned an interception 98 yards for another touchdown in the second quarter.

Terrance Hardison's conversion run made it 22-0.

In the third quarter, Guess passed 25 yards to Lavelle Guess to cap the Wayne scoring.

Harold Lambert put Lincoln Park (0-2) on the scoreboard with a 14-yard run later in the third, and Mike Kish added a 16-yard scoring run in the fourth.

Guess completed seven of 13 passes for 118 yards, and the Zebras outgained the Railsplitters 248-213 overall.

Hardison rushed 14 times for 56 yards, and Jackson had 15 carries for 51 yards.

LUTH. WESTLAND 32, LIGGETT 12: Albert Cook and Luke Horton scored two touchdowns each Friday to lead visiting Lutheran Westland to a Metro Conference victory at Grosse Pointe Liggett.

Cook ran 3 yards in the first quarter and 82 in the third for scores. Horton had a 30-yard run for a touchdown in the second and a 1-yard quarterback sneak in the fourth.

Horton also passed 25 yards to Jake Hatten for a touchdown in the last period.

Cook rushed for 203 yards; Horton was 4 of 7 passing for 57 yards.

The Warriors led 14-0 at halftime and 20-6 after three quarters.

Lutheran Westland (1-1) had three pass interceptions—one each by Jason Hempel, Kevin Wade and Rob Marshall.

"I thought the kids played well; I was pleased," Warriors coach Scott Wiemer said.

LUTH. NORTH 14, CLARENCEVILLE 0: The Mustangs (1-1) scored on a 1-yard quarterback sneak in the second quarter and a 13-yard pass in the third.

Clarenceville's Donahue Fulton had two pass interceptions and six tackles. Jason Dillaha made nine tackles, and Josh Fritch recovered a fumble.

The Trojans (0-2) had 150 yards in offense.

"Lutheran North was bigger than us up front," Clarenceville coach Chuck Donaldson said. "We had our opportunities and threatened to score a few times, but we couldn't punch the ball in."

plined Stevenson team."

Stevenson scored on the game's first possession when senior Kurt Bearer took an inside hand-off from quarterback Chris Colley and rambled 55 yards for a touchdown. Cullen Geisler and Doug Monteith created the huge hole for Bearer.

Bearer, who gained 100 yards on 13 carries, broke Paul Terek's tackle at the 20 and tight-roped down the sidelines. Seth Carriere's extra point made it 7-0.

"I don't have a lot of complaints about our offense; they moved the ball well, but just struggled once they got within the 30-yard line," Stevenson coach Tim Gabel said. "We were more consistent on offense than we were last week (in a 30-13 victory over Redford Union)."

The Patriots tied the game on the third play of their second possession when junior Brain Facione found a streaking Ryan Davis wide open down the middle for a 38-yard scoring strike. Nick Anagnostopoulos followed with the point-after.

Franklin scored on the first play of its next possession when Terek came in motion from the slot position. The senior took the hand-off and outraced the Stevenson defense down the sideline for an 80-yard score. Mike Klisz and Jay Myrand provided the gaping hole.

Terek then showed his leaping ability by catching Facione's two-point conversion toss.

Franklin threatened one more time before the half, but Facione was intercepted by Kevin Marvin. The Patriots returned the favor when Kevin Biga picked off Colley just before halftime.

Terek returned the second-half kick-off to the Franklin 40.

After a 35-yard run by senior Steve Ashbay (10 carries for 120 yards), Facione hit Davis in stride with a 20-yard TD pass to make it 22-7. Facione's two scoring passes to Davis were his only completions in the game.

After an 11-play Stevenson drive stalled, Ashbay capped a two-play drive with a 61-yard touchdown carry for the game's final points.

Biga intercepted his second pass late in the third quarter.

On the very next play, Anthony Grech ran for what appeared to be an 80-yard scoring run. The play, however, was called back due to a clipping penalty. Grech had an impressive second half, rushing 11 times for 103 yards.

"I think they wore us down with their size in the second half and then Grech hurt us with his fresh legs," Gabel said. "They have weapons in Facione, Terek and Grech. I was afraid they would make big plays and they did."

Stevenson's final drive ended when Brandon Bell intercepted Colley.

The Spartan quarterback completed 12-of-24 passes for 106 yards.

For the second straight year, Franklin held in check Gabe Clark, who gained 65 yards on 15 carries. Bell and Alan Shakarian made numerous big plays for the Franklin defense, which returns nine starters from last year's squad.

"We knew they had a good running game," Bell said. "After their first touchdown, the defense knew it had to step up. We felt it was one fluke play. We had good game film and knew what to expect."

"The prep team did a great job all week in practice of preparing for this game," Lee said. "The defense is our strong suit and they really only got hurt on three big plays in last week's loss."

With the win, the Patriots added their name to the list of serious contenders for the Western Division title, and took a major step toward winning the city title for the second straight year. Franklin plays Friday at Livonia Churchill.

The Spartans, defending Lakes champs, will have to regroup for Friday's game at division favorite John Glenn.

Rockets from page 1C

Jarrett's play was the back-breaker.

"Lou Hartwig made an excellent down-field block," Jarrett said. "We just got tougher mentally (in the second half). You just give extra effort always."

Another key player on the Glenn defensive side was Neshiewat, a cat-quick 5-11, 175-pound outside linebacker. Neshiewat, who transferred in last fall from Gorton High School in Yonkers, N.Y., had a pair of sacks, a pass knockdown and constantly caused havoc for Western's Wing-T attack.

"We just got into more the second half and started playing the way we're capable of playing,"

Neshiewat said. "In the beginning we weren't keeping them contained to the inside. We were letting them get outside. Things just started to develop for the whole team in the second half."

Gordon was just happy to have two players like Jarrett and Neshiewat step up their play.

"D.J. is a great kid, a good athlete, a hard worker who will get better and better," Gordon said. "Nick got involved with our off-season program and we could see he had good speed, and knew he would be a player, no question."

And by the way, Clinton's scheduled appearance at Glenn's field begins at 12:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Churchill breaks out against Glenn, 63-27

It took five games, but Dave Balog finally saw what he's been waiting to see.

The Livonia Churchill girls basketball coach witnessed his Chargers trounce host Westland John Glenn Thursday, 63-27, in Western Lakes Activities Association season opener for both teams.

But more impressive than the score was the manner in which Churchill (2-3) played.

"This was the first time all season we played four solid quarters," Balog said. "This was our best game of the season and the first time everything went right for us. Everybody who I put on the floor played well."

No one played better though than senior forward Jessie Jenkins, who scored a career-high 26 points, including five three-pointers.

Senior forward Amanda Eszes, who had been struggling, came off the bench to score nine points and pull down 15 rebounds. Stacey Supanich added eight points.

The Chargers led 20-10 after the first quarter and put the game away by outscoring the Rockets 16-0 in the second quarter.

"We worked on breaking the press in practice but still couldn't handle their pressure tonight," Glenn coach Andy Denison said. "We also turned the ball over way too much, committing 26 turnovers in the first half."

The bright spot for the Rockets (0-5) was the play of Samantha Crews. The freshman forward poured in a team-high and personal best 17 points.

*NORTHVILLE 56, STEVENSON 41: On Thursday, The Mustangs jumped out to an 8-0 lead and never looked back against visiting Livonia Stevenson.

The Spartans, who slipped to 3-3 overall and 0-1 in the WLAA, couldn't stop Lauren Metaj. The junior guard poured in 21 points and grabbed eight rebounds, to go along with six steals and four assists.

The Mustangs (3-2 overall, 1-0 in the WLAA) led 16-7 after the first quarter and 28-18 at halftime. A 13-9 third quarter gave Northville a 14-point lead heading into the fourth quarter.

"Northville is a good team and didn't run us off the court, but they did get a lead and protected it," Stevenson coach Wayne Henry said. "We did a lot of good things on the court but we're not experienced enough and they took advantage of our mistakes."

Junior guard Carolyn Courtright paced the Spartans with 16 points and seven rebounds. Senior forward Jackie McCowry added 10 points and sophomore Stephanie Dutz netted seven points and grabbed five rebounds.

*N. FARMINGTON 61, FRANKLIN 35: On Wednesday, Livonia Franklin stayed close for a quarter before host North Farmington pulled away in a WLAA season opener.

Both teams are 2-3 overall. Three Raiders scored in double figures: Katie Vihelcic (12), Tricia Traczyk (11) and Kellie Fournier (10).

GIRLS HOOPS

North led 14-13 after eight minutes,

but gradually pulled away by outscoring

the Patriots 17-9, 14-6 and 16-7 over the final three periods.

"It seemed we got tired real fast, we were one step behind for some reason,"

Franklin coach Gary Warner said.

Lori Rynkiewicz and Julie Warner scored 11 and 10 points, respectively, for Franklin.

The Patriots shot 38 percent from the free throw line (eight of 21), while North was 21 of 38 (55 percent).

*DEPORRES 60, WAYNE 32: Wayne

Memorial coach Chuck Henry considered Thursday's game at Detroit St.

Martin DePorres his team's first real test. If so, the Zebras didn't pass the test.

After breezing by their first three opponents, the Zebras fell to 3-1 against the Eagles in the non-conference match-up.

Wayne trailed only 19-15 midway through the second quarter, but DePor-res outscored the Zebras 30-2 over the next 10 minutes.

"We kept turning the ball over and over," Henry summarized.

Yolanda Holt led Wayne with 10 points. Rica Barge chipped in with eight. The Zebras converted 10-of-17

free throw attempts.

The Eagles (5-0) received 19 from Shari Hill and 10 from Denise Caldwell.

DePorres made six-of-12 foul shots.

*LUTH. WESTLAND 63,

CLARENCEVILLE 14: Lutheran Westland improved to 2-0 in the Metro Conference

Thursday with its rout over visiting Livonia Clarenceville.

The Warriors, now 4-1, were led by senior Jenny Twietmeyer's 12 points.

Her sophomore sister, Janell, tallied 10.

Sophomore Anna Schwewe and senior

Jackie Kemp controlled the boards by grabbing 10 and nine rebounds, respectively.

The Trojans (1-4 overall and 0-2 in the Metro) received four points apiece from

Rachel Sundberg and Michelle Berry.

The Warriors put the game away early by leading 24-8 after the first quarter.

The lead was extended to 36-8 by halftime.

(Clarenceville coach) Bob Wolf has probably the weakest team talent-wise

in the league, but his girls don't quit," Westland coach Ron Gentz said. "We tried to do different things with different girls tonight, and I was happy with the way they responded."

*HURON VALLEY 33, FRANKLIN

ROAD 26: Westland Huron Valley Lutheran rode the clutch free throw shooting of Any Mohacsi Thursday to record the victory in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Red Division season opener.

Mohacsi, a senior guard, nailed 10-of-

12 free throws and was six-of-six in the second half. She finished with a game-high 14 points. Sara Tacia chipped in with six.

"Amy turned in a clutch performance

tonight," Huron Valley coach Tod

Bartholomew said. "She stepped up for us while our other players struggled."

The Hawks led 20-19 at halftime, but

Southfield Franklin Road Christian rallied to close the margin to 24-19 entering the fourth quarter. Huron Valley held on to improve its record to 3-1.

"Our defense turned in a good defensive effort," Bartholomew said. "We're still not making good decisions on offense."

Bronze medallist

Ocelots blank Region 12 foe

What the heck is going on here?

It had been five years since Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team had lost a game within Region 12, and more than a decade since a regional adversary other than Macomb CC had beaten the Ocelots.

Then, in the space of three days, SC suffered a 4-3 loss and a 2-2 tie to Region 12 squads.

SC, which opened the season with a pair of road losses, rebounded and collected its first win of the season last Wednesday, routing Kellogg CC 5-0 at SC.

Garrett Maki was the key weapon offensively against Kellogg. Maki knocked in three goals to get the Ocelots stalled offense in gear. Other goals were scored by Igli Vokopola and Mike Minicilli (from Livonia Stevenson).

The win boosted SC's record to 1-3-1.

Last Tuesday against visiting St. Clair CC, the Ocelots found themselves in another dogfight, settling for a 2-2 tie.

Minicilli gave SC the lead midway through the second half, but St. Clair battled back to forge the tie with 15 minutes remaining.

Combined with the 4-3 loss to Lakeland CC Sept. 7, SC's record was even across the Region 12 board at 1-1-1.

The reason for such struggles when previously there never was one? The opposition has improved, for certain; also, SC starts 11 freshmen, against teams with veteran players.

The Ocelots host Michigan Christian College in a non-league game at 4:30 p.m. today before resuming their Region 12 schedule at Delta CC at 4 p.m.

COLLEGES

Wednesday.

U-M CLUB 2, MADONNA 1 (scrimmage): According to Madonna University coach Pete Alexander, it wasn't played like a practice.

"They were just a bunch of hacks," he said of the Wolverines after Thursday's loss at Mitchell Field in Ann Arbor. "They preferred to play the body rather than the ball. They were trying to get as physical as possible."

Alexander didn't care for the Michigan players' tactics, especially in what was only a scrimmage. The Madonna coach used it as just that, playing all 18 players on his roster.

Scott Emert got the Fighting Crusaders' only goal, early in the second half. Madonna trailed 1-0 at the half.

The Wolverines got the game-winner with 2:30 left in the second half. Earlier, Emert had a goal disallowed, with officials ruling he committed a foul before scoring.

Mike Schroeder was in goal for Madonna.

MADONNA 4, SPRING ARBOR 1: Three second-half goals pushed the Fighting Crusaders to their second win last Tuesday at Spring Arbor.

Two of those goals came from Scott Emert. The game was tied at 1-1 at half-time. Madonna's goal by Ryan Mollen. Emert's goals allowed the Crusaders to take control.

Andy Makins (Plymouth Salem) was taken down on a breakaway late in the match and was awarded a penalty kick. Makins converted for the three-goal final margin.

Mike Schroeder started in goal; he was relieved by Dave Hart for the final 20 minutes.

NOTES: Madonna did suffer a major setback in the game at Spring Arbor. Midfielder Charlie Bell, a sophomore from Derry, Ireland, suffered a broken foot and will be out for an estimated four weeks.

Bowlers lobby hard!

Take heart, league bowlers, for there is hope and there is help. There are many very irate people in the local and statewide bowling scene because of the recent actions of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

State rep. Dave Jaye, R-Washington Twp. has recognized the problem and has taken some action which should resolve the issue favorable for once and for all.

"It's time these unreasonable Liquor Control bureaucrats were put on a leash," said Jaye in a recent press release. He adds, "These nominal bets of 25 cents or $1 are enjoyed for the entertainment value, not casino payoffs."

Damage control: There are reports of some leagues losing bowlers because they cannot get the little extra enjoyment provided by the mystery games. It is time to put a stop to this nonsense right away, and to do that requires a "grass roots" involvement.

That means you and that means me and that means your teammates and friends should sign any petitions that are being circulated for this purpose, write your state representatives and senators, or phone in your support to Jaye at 1-517-373-0843 or call the BCA "Hotline" at 1-800-312-6555.

These representatives are public servants, so that means that they are paid a salary from your tax dollars, as is the MLCC, but they tend to ignore that point completely.

Rep. Jaye further states, "Bowling is one of the last low cost ways families and friends can enjoy a fun night out and get exercise."

These low wager games of skill, including mystery game, strike ball and red pin have been features at local bowling centers for over the last 40 years without problems or scandals. These bowling games all involve skill, not just chance. Jaye's legislation would reinstate low stakes Mystery Ball, Strike Ball and Red Pin (with a 25 cent to $5 wager and a total prize cap of no more than $1,000).

The time is now. All seats in the House of Representatives are up for election. It is up to the bowlers to sign the petitions.

We can give them over $1 million valid signatures from concerned individuals. You can call Gov. John Engler and express your views to him. His phone number is 1-517-373-3400.

You should call or write your local state representative. You can get the address and phone numbers at your city hall or library. They should get swamped with phone calls and letters from the citizens.

Let them know how you feel about the issue and what you think should be done. We can fight back and we have the numbers to let the MLCC know that this time they have pushed the bowlers of the state a bit too far.

Mitsubishi cuts price by $3,700 on 1997 3000GT

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — Mitsubishi expects the "look at me"-styled 3000GT sports car to come into its own in 1997.

There are many good reasons for it. One: "It feels really good under your right foot," offers Kevin Ormes, Mitsubishi's top U.S. marketing executive.

But there are at least two others. First, $3,700 has been shaved off the price of the base model. Second, Dodge has killed the Stealth, the 3000GT's Mitsubishi-manufactured sister car.

But how much more can really be expected of the 3000GT? In the past two years, it ran away from the competition in the premium sports car segment, out-selling the Toyota Supra, Mazda RX-7, Nissan 300 ZX and Subaru SVX combined.

The price break certainly will open some eyes. The big cut means the base 3000GT can now be bought for $27,100 — a big dip under last year's $30,800 low-end price.

The Stealth's demise after a mildly successful seven-year run as Dodge's most visible muscle car also is a factor in the anti-pated growth of 3000GT sales. The thinking at Mitsubishi is that Dodge cheapened the 3000GT by selling a lot of stripped Stealths instead of maximizing its impact as an image car.

Despite the image erosion that supposedly has come from the under-equipped Dodge Stealths, Mitsubishi has won near-universal respect for the scowl-faced 3000GT over the years from critics, enthusiasts and engineers.

The respect is deserved since Mitsubishi designers have annually created a fantastic-looking car that delivers incredible horsepower (the high-end 1997 VR-4 tops the list at 320 horsepower) and enough gizmos and gadgets to keep every true performance buyer happy.

So let's not beat up on the Stealth too much. It didn't die because it was a bad car. I can vouch for the Stealth's credentials as a great car. During a head-to-head test at Chrysler's test track in Chelsea, Mich., seven years ago, I made a loaded-up Stealth easily outperform, outhandle and outmaneuver a turbo-powered Porsche and a Corvette ZR-1.

Everybody knows the Stealth is dead because Dodge wanted the Detroit-made Viper to be its image leader. Obviously this was a smart decision. A win-win deal for both Dodge and Mitsubishi, which hopes to cannibalize Stealth sales that would have gone to Dodge.

With the lowered price and commitment to performance, shrewd enthusiasts would be wise to find a reason to put a 1997 3000GT in their garages. If for no other reason than to hear the throaty engines on these cars rumble and roar and kick out enough power to scare your grandmother.

For those who need a quick breakdown on what's available on the 3000GT menu, here it is: The new base model that debuts this year is aimed at the former Stealth buyer. The SL, the highest level offering an automatic transmission, goes for luxury, performance and gadgets. And the VR-4 is for the kid who has everything.

All new 3000GTs get a less-menacing fascia design this year to improve air flow into the intake manifold. The change, which incorporates a new projector-beam foglamp style, is supposed to improve the car's performance, if that's possible. All 3000GTs also add a spoiler to make them distinctly different from previous editions.

A 3.0-liter SOHC V6 generating 161 horsepower powers the base model, which also adds new 16-inch alloy wheels.

The leather-fat SL — probably the best value for the dollar — gives buyers a better engine, a 3.0-liter DOHC V6 generating 218 horsepower. Features that are new for 1997 include 17-inch chrome alloy wheels and a new steering wheel that incorporates audio controls for the premium CD and stereo system that's a step up from the base model.

The high-performance VR-4 twin-turbo V6 kicks out an almost scary 320 horsepower. (I know we said that before, but it bears repeating.) Take this thing for a jaunt through a suburban neighborhood and you'll see squirrels scurry out of the street because they think the engine is a predator.

Besides the nastier engine, the VR-4 is different from the others because it has all-wheel drive and four-wheel steering capabilities and 18-inch chrome wheels, among other amenities. It's also unique because it doesn't come with an automatic transmission, but the other models do.

Mitsubishi's thinking on this is that the VR-4 is for the enthusiast, and it would be blasphemous to put an automatic in a car like this.

Options include anti-lock brakes and a 10-disc CD auto changer.

Never has a vehicle come to America with so many advanced automotive technologies packed under an exotic, well-defined skin. Usually, when you buy a performance-based sports car, you have to trade in comfort, stability, some technology or a host of other amenities. But that's never been true with the 3000GT, and 1997 is no exception.

Make no mistake about it — the Ferrari-like 1997 3000GT is aimed at people who want a fun toy to roar up and down the street in. It's not one of those haul-some-lumber cars, or something to drive the kids to school in. Heck, they wouldn't fit!

There's a back seat, but unless you're Olive Oil, forget it. For all intents and purposes, this is a two-seater with enough room for you, a companion and some golf clubs.

The original goal of the 3000GT's designers was to focus on three major elements of automotive performance — acceleration, braking and handling — and to build a truly impressive work of art around them. That mission was accomplished when the 3000GT was a baby in 1989 and it still holds true with the 1997 edition.
