Armed Services Day celebration

The Westland Historic Commission will present its second annual Armed Services Day celebration from noon to 4 p.m. Saturday, May 2, at the Westland Historic Village Park, on Wayne Road between Marquette and Cherry Hill.

The event will feature re-enactors from five different wars, a weapons demonstration and a PowerPoint presentation titled "Marines on the Great Lakes."

The public is invited.

Mayoral luncheon

Westland Mayor William Wild will collaborate with the Westland Chamber of Commerce for a mayoral business luncheon at noon Tuesday inside the atrium of the William D. Ford Career Technical Center.

A formal presentation will follow inside the facility's auditorium.

The luncheon comes on the heels of the mayor's recent announcement that phase one of Westland's "trash-into-cash" curbside recycling program is set to begin in mid-June. He will give an overview of the program, the first of its kind in Wayne County.

Tickets for the event are $15 per person and will be available at the door. The luncheon is open to the public.

The career technical center is located on Marquette between Newburgh and Wayne roads.

For information on becoming a Westland chamber member, call (734) 326-7222 or visit www.westlandchamber.com.

Ticket amnesty

Westland 18th District Court is continuing a ticket amnesty program through the end of April. For those who have overdue balances on citations, the court will waive the $35 default late fee, the $50 warrant cost and the 20 percent late fee on eligible cases.

Payments must be made in full. The court's business hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The building is located behind the Westland police station on Ford Road between Newburgh and Wayne.

Credit card payments may be made by phone or over the Internet.

Westland's 2009 First Citizen Meriem Kadi has a simple philosophy for volunteering. She just wants to help her city improve and make it a place where people are proud to live.

Meriem Kadi named Westland's First Citizen

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Community volunteer Meriem Kadi has worked tirelessly for more than a decade to make Westland a better place by lending a helping hand to charitable organizations, the public library, the local planning commission and, lately, the city's environmentally conscious Mission Green program.

"I just want to see our city grow in the right direction and be a part of making it a place where people are proud to live," she said.

Kadi's efforts have earned her the 2009 First Citizen of the Year award in a contest sponsored by the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and the Westland Chamber of Commerce.

"I'm still a little shocked and very blessed," she said, admitting that she's not accustomed to all the attention she is receiving. "I feel very honored and humbled and thankful."

"I do things because I love doing them, but I guess it's great to get an award for it, too."

Kadi, 49, will be honored as First Citizen during an event scheduled for 6 p.m. Thursday at the American Legion Post No. 32 on Newburgh north of Joy in Livonia. Tickets for the dinner are $35 per person and are available by calling the Westland chamber at (734) 326-7222, President Brookellen Swope said.

Kadi, a real estate agent and part-time employee for W.C.A. Assessing in Westland, has given her time for charitable golf outings for organizations as diverse as the Westland chamber, the Rotary Club, and the city's police and fire departments.

She has helped the Westland Community Foundation with its charitable Christmas events, and she has volunteered for the Friends of the Library since the city opened the beloved facility in 1996, also serving as the fund-raising group's president.

"It's definitely a passion of mine," she said. "I enjoy the ladies I sit on the board with, and we help raise funds for whatever the library can't pay for. It's just been a very enjoyable experience."

Kadi has served on the planning commission nearly six years, helping to evaluate new development proposals that ultimately get decided by the Westland City Council.

"It's right up my alley with real estate," she said.

Kadi also helps with Mayor William Wild's "Wild About Youth" effort that raises money through bowling outings and other events to benefit programs for the city's youngsters.

Moreover, she said she has been pleased to serve as a member of Wild's Mission Green team, aimed at making the city more environmentally friendly. To that end, she is excited that Westland will soon benefit from a new curbside

Man convicted of assault, ruled mentally ill

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A transient man accused of stabbing and robbing a woman outside a Westland gas station is facing sentencing May 11 after he was convicted by a Wayne County Circuit Court judge.

Myron Terrell Boone, 27, was found guilty of armed robbery and assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder — but mentally ill — in a verdict decided Monday by Judge Richard Skutt.

Boone could face penalties ranging up to life in prison, but it's possible he also could spend additional time in a psychiatric facility.

"We're happy that we got a guilty verdict, but the issue of mental health is out of our control," Westland police Lt. Dan Karrick said. "Either way, it looks like he's going to be held accountable for some of his actions."

Skutt's decision came more than two years after Boone was implicated in an incident that happened around 6:15 a.m. Jan. 15, 2007, when the victim stopped for cigarettes at the Marathon gas station on the southwest corner of Joy and Newburgh roads.

The victim in court had identified Boone as the man who robbed her and slashed her across the stomach with what was described as a box cutter blade, but the issue of his mental competency had long delayed his trial.

The woman was treated and released at St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia.

The victim initially singled out Boone in a photo lineup after he was arrested in Roseville for an unrelated shoplifting charge, Westland Police Chief James Ridener said at the time.

Boone had been ordered to stand trial in 2007 after the woman identified him as her assailant during a preliminary hearing in Westland 18th District Court.

Summer Festival a go for July 1-5

BY JULIE BROWN
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Some communities have had to scale back their festivals, but organizers of the July 1-5 Westland Summer Festival are looking forward to a strong event.

"We're in pretty good shape, planning wise," said Matthew Shelton, vice chair for the event held each summer by City Hall, on Ford between Wayne and Newburgh roads. "We're going to change up the entertainment a little bit."

The parade will be around 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 1, followed by music from Justine Blazer, also a Downtown Hoedown performer. Each evening's entertainment will run from 8 p.m. to around midnight.

Shelton and other organizers are working to "give some local acts a chance to get up on stage." The festival fireworks will be at dusk the final

Suspects sought in coin theft at Petland

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Westland police are seeking two suspects accused of a brazen, afternoon theft inside the Petland store on Warren Road east of Wayne.

The incident happened about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday when one suspect went into an unlocked office while the manager was out, took a bag containing $200 to $300 in coins and fled the store after he was spotted by an employee, police Sgt. David Zucchetto said.

The man, described as a black male with a light to medium complexion, was seen on a surveillance video used by police to release his picture to the public.

A store owner told police that the male suspect is believed to have had a female accomplice who also was captured on the surveillance video.

Pair charged in apartment break-in

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Southfield pair, accused of trying to recoup money for a marijuana debt, has been charged with a home invasion at a Westland apartment complex, police said.

Delmartiana Roberts, 21, and Deon Elmore, 35, are facing a preliminary hearing Thursday in Westland 18th District Court on felony charges of first-degree home invasion, unarmed robbery and larceny in a building, along with misdemeanor assault and battery.

The pair was arraigned Wednesday in Westland for an incident that police Sgt. Kevin Wojcik said happened about 10 a.m. April 8 at Birch Hill Apartments, on Cherry Hill east of Venoy.

Roberts and Elmore are accused of trying to collect a marijuana debt from relatives of a man who wasn't there but who allegedly owed them money, Wojcik said. Charges against them stem from allegations they forced their way in when the door was open.

"They couldn't get any money," the sergeant said, so they are accused of taking a video gaming system, a cell phone and other items.

Two residents, including a man and woman in their early 20s, were inside the Birch Hill residence at the time. No guns were involved, and a minor assault occurred but didn't result in serious injury, police said.

The man that the pair was looking for had gone into hiding, Wojcik said, so his relatives were sought out. An investigation led police to Southfield, where Roberts and Elmore were arrested Monday.

Roberts and Elmore were arraigned Wednesday by visiting 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos, who set a $50,000 cash bond, entered not-guilty pleas and scheduled an April 23 preliminary hearing that will determine whether the pair should stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

If convicted, they could face penalties ranging up to 20 years in prison.

recycling program. "It has been a long time coming, and everybody has worked so hard on it," she said.

Kadi's mother, Nina, also lives in Westland, and her brother, Eddie Emin Kadi, is an area fashion photographer. She also has two sisters who live out of state.

Her late father, Aqif Kadi, died 10 years ago after battling cancer, and her mother is a breast cancer survivor. That explains her involvement in the city's Relay for Life, a fundraiser to aid the American Cancer Society.

"Every year I try to have a team," Kadi said, adding that, "My father is still with me every day. He's still a very big part of my life."

She has been long active in the Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors, a group that years ago helped build a play structure at Westland's Jefferson-Barns Elementary School. She also has been active in churches, including Bible studies at a Wayne church called Crosspoint, formerly First Baptist Church.

Kadi was nominated for her First Citizen award by Lori Fodale, Westland's economic development director.

"I've known Meriem for 10 years, and I've never known her not to make herself available as a volunteer," Fodale said. "She is the most giving person of her time that I've ever come across, and she is very deserving of this award."

night, July 5. "We're bringing back a couple of local artists," Shelton said.

Tony Phillips, a Westland native who now calls Nashville home, will perform that Thursday evening. On Saturday, Westland's David James, who performs Neil Diamond and other songs, will be joined by a performer who does Johnny Cash songs and a band known as The Music Doctors.

"I understand that they're quite good," Shelton said. That Friday will feature Impact 7 with Motown sounds; Sunday will be Second Wind, a local Westland band.

Josh Gracin of American Idol fame won't be able to come to town for the festival, said Shelton, who cited Gracin's contractual obligations and cost considerations. "We would love to have him."

Kenneth Mehl is this year's festival chairman again. Organizers note the summer event is not city-sponsored, although the city provides a location and support services. "The parks and recreation people are wonderful," Shelton said. "The police and fire, of course." In recent years, some public safety costs have needed to be covered by festival funds.

Police dogs track down robbery suspect

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

With help from a Garden City police dog, Westland officers early Thursday captured a suspect accused of a robbery and an attempted robbery before harming himself with a box cutter.

The first incident happened about 3 a.m. Thursday at the 7-Eleven at Merriman and Palmer.

"A fellow walked in, concealed his identity with something over his face and implied he had a gun," police Sgt. Kevin Wojcik said.

The clerk used a broom handle to scare off the suspect, Wojcik said.

About an hour later, the same suspect is accused of going to the Speedway gas station at Merriman and Van Eorn road, where he implied he had a weapon, demanded money and then fled the scene, Wojcik said.

In between the two Westland incidents, the same man is believed to have been involved in a similar incident in Wayne.

After the Speedway incident, a Garden City police dog was brought to the scene and led officers to the suspect, who started using a box cutter to injure himself, Wojcik said.

On Friday, the suspect was in a psychiatric facility, but Wojcik said the man will be facing criminal charges. A warrant already had been issued for at least one of the incidents.

Hoops-Cossey: Focus on better education for students

Why are you seeking a position on the Wayne-Westland Board of Education?

I am currently a teacher at Huron Valley Catholic School, a private school in Ypsilanti, but have taught in public and charter schools as well. I hope to, in the near future, serve in the administration aspects of a school. My decision to run for the school board comes from a personal interest in school government, a desire to put children first and provide quality education for all, and to ensure that the fine arts remain a part of the curriculum.

Hoops-Cossey

2. What qualities or skills do you believe you would bring to the board, if elected?

The qualities and skills that, I feel, suit me well for this position are: (1) my chosen career and the knowledge I have acquired from teaching in public, charter, and private schools; (2) my attention to details, organization, and ability to listen, communicate, and provide constructive feedback; and (3) my supportive, yet achievement-oriented, style of leadership.

3. What do you see as the issues facing the school district at this time?

The top three issues that I feel we are faced with are: (1) the budget crisis, (2) the loss of students, and (3) class size.

4. How would you address those issues?

The budget crisis affects all other areas of school management and I would take action on this issue by carefully monitoring our revenues and reviewing the amounts allocated to certain projects and categories. I would expect that, with hard economic times, we would need to keep our visionary goals in mind and make decisions for increased student achievement. I would also encourage district residents and school officials alike to write our legislators about our funding before even more cuts are made under Gov. Granholm's recent school aid proposal. With regard to the loss of students, I would propose that we conduct an exit survey to determine the reasons families are leaving so we have some kind of data for analysis and decision making purposes.

Class size is an expensive issue to discuss, but I do feel that smaller class sizes can be afforded through a strategic budget plan that sets it as a top priority and there is substantial research that shows a relationship between class size and standardized test scores.

5. Are you seeking the endorsement of organizations or individuals in your bid for a seat on the board? If so, who?

As of now, I have not pursued endorsements.

6. What do you want voters to know about you?

I am a qualified, organized, and hard-working candidate who has experience in education. My focus is on the betterment of education for students and the community.

Goci: Business experience will benefit Wayne-Westland

1. Why are you seeking a position on the Wayne-Westland Board of Education?

I am committed to seeing our children reach their full potential. Giving back to the community means everything to me. My extensive business experiences give me insights into the financial and administrative sides of the school district. I will bring to the school board strong leadership skills, dedication, and the ability to solve problems effectively.

Goci

2. What qualities or skills do you believe you would bring to the board, if elected?

I will bring a business sense to the district and the community. My tireless work ethic with strong leadership, dedication and effective problem solving are skills I have developed and can offer as a school board member. I am the parent of middle school and elementary students, I understand the challenges facing our students.

3. What do you see as the issues facing the school district at this time?

1. Active parental involvement is critical for children to succeed in school and achieve high academic standards. 2. As a business owner, I understand the importance of building partnerships in the community. Partnerships provide greater opportunities for students and greater resources for schools.

3. Funding. We need to make sure that teachers have adequate facilities, educational materials and the necessary resources from the administration. Funding should also be directed to individual student needs, including children with special needs.

4. How would you address those issues?

1. The school board must take the lead to encourage active parental involvement and reach out to parents who feel less connected.

2. We need to build partnerships with our local community businesses and organizations. We must not overlook the value of small organizations and individual volunteers who can enrich children's education.

3. I would work with the school administration and elected representatives to restore the millions they recently cut out of our budget. I would like to pursue other sources of funding, such as charitable gaming.

5. Are you seeking the endorsement of organizations or individuals in your bid for a seat on the board? If so, who?

I have interviewed with the Wayne-Westland Education Association for their endorsement, but the most important endorsement to me is the one that is given by the people that live in our community

6. What do you want voters to know about you?

I have lived and worked in Wayne Westland area for 30 years. I was raised and educated and have chosen to raise and educate my family here. I have a huge stake in our schools and our community as a citizen, parent and employer. I will always put our kids first and I will make sure that our teachers have the necessary material and facilities to give our kids the best education.

Becher: Experience to serve people of school district

1. Why are you seeking a position on the Wayne-Westland Board of Education?

I believe that my five years on the Wayne-Westland Board of Education - four of which I have served as Treasurer - gives me the experience and knowledge to best serve the people of our district. The critical financial dilemma facing public schools today demands experienced people familiar with school funding to lead their districts forward. I believe that I have that experience and knowledge. We must keep our district and our money well managed while providing a first class education for our children.

Becher

2. What qualities or skills do you believe you would bring to the board, if elected?

I believe my unique qualities bring knowledge and experiences that no other candidate brings to the board. My wife and I are both retired teachers from the Wayne-Westland Community School district. We both taught elementary as well as middle school. Both my children attended Wayne-Westland schools from kindergarten through graduation from John Glenn. I also served a three-year term as president of the teacher's union.

3. What do you see as the issues facing the school district at this time?

The major issues facing the school district are adequate funding, especially for the districts like Wayne-Westland with declining enrollment, preparing our students for the new state high school graduation requirements and repairing the trust between the district and some members of the community regarding the unpleasantness of the strike and recall movement.

4. How would you address those issues?

The board must be willing to lobby our state representatives to ensure that fair and equitable funding be given to Wayne-Westland. We must provide all assistance necessary to ensure that all our students are able to pass the new rigorous demands of the state high school requirements. We must be visible in the community reminding our citizens of ALL our successes and what a great district we are.

5. Are you seeking the endorsement of organizations or individuals in your bid for a seat on the board? If so, who?

I am seeking endorsements of all registered voters in our district. I believe that I have been a valuable member of the board for the past five years and I hope the voters will agree.

6. What do you want voters to know about you?

I am a doer. I have lobbied our state legislators for more money for our district. I have attended nearly 100 activities on behalf of the board during this past year, promoting our district. I believe that I am fair and open to new ideas and thoughts about improving our district. I am always available to answer questions from my constituents. I believe that my record speaks for itself and I am asking for your support.

Cupcakes are chic dessert with rich history

Cupcakes are no new fad; although it's probable that colonists weren't scrambling to find the most shiny, colorful paper liners, the earlier versions of the modern cupcake were integral to 19th century entertaining culture. Before they called to mind images of childhood, stickiness, and frosting overdoses, early cupcakes, or "measure cakes," were a staple at fashionable tea parties.

In addition to an accessory to fun and games, cupcakes have also become a very serious form of dessert; oftentimes, the end result is much closer to a work of art than a mere after-dinner enjoyment. They have morphed from a conveniently small sugary dessert popular at children's birthday parties into elaborate displays at weddings in place of a traditional wedding cake or an award-winning exhibit in cake decorating contests.

Variations of the modern cupcake are endless, not only in terms of flavors but appearances as well. Marvel over your own advanced baking and frosting abilities by learning from Karen Tack and Alan Richardson's Hello Cupcake!, an amazing book full of elaborate designs and step-by-step instructions. Gail Wagman's Cupcakes Galore is bursting with beautiful creations and inventive flavors (Piña Colada cupcakes!) that you may have never before thought to combine. Who wouldn't want to add a little flair to their dinner party? Cupcake Magic by Kate Shirazi has seasonal cupcake recipes for every occasion.

Stop by the library and check out a few cupcake books so that you can wow your friends when it's your turn to bring the dessert at your next get together. If these words do little to convince you, one browse through some of those cupcake photographs is sure to make you a believer.

Matt Landes of Plymouth gets a little coaching for his first solo from Michael Gross, who will conduct the BeckRidge Chorale in its annual spring concert April 25-26.

Love stories

Chorale brings 'upbeat' program to life

BY BRAD KADRICH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Matt Landes' initial reaction to being asked whether he's nervous about his upcoming solo performance in the BeckRidge Chorale's concert, Love Stories, was to shake his head and say, "Maybe a little." Then he smiled. "OK, a lot," the Plymouth resident said, laughing.

Landes will take on Stephen Sondheim's Marry Me A Little when the chorale takes the stage at Northville High School for its annual spring spectacular April 24-25. It's the first time Landes has even auditioned for a solo, much less sung one, but the song choice brought out the volunteer in him.

"It's a song I've always liked ... a pretty song," Landes said. "It goes well with the theme of the show. I wanted it in the show, whether I sang it or not."

The theme of the show is Love Stories, though choral director Michael Gross is quick to point out they're not the "sad, lamenting" love songs.

In fact Gross, for some 30 years the choir's musical director/conductor, said the concert will be an uplifting one that will continue a string of upbeat performances the group has put in lately.

Gross chose the playlist from among music he likes. The concert features

Norm Kindred, Tom Schwartz, Bill Kondoff and Stan Kovacheff rehearse for the BeckRidge Chorale's spring concert.

Sondheim, Henry Mancini, Cole Porter and others.

"It's all just based on music I like," said Gross, who assumed his position in 1978. "These aren't sad love songs, they're fun songs. All of our concerts have been upbeat this year."

The upbeat tempo of the show appeals to choir members, as well. Kathy Norred of Livonia has been a choir member for some seven years, and she likes the fact the chorale "does something different every time."

"I love this one ... it's a very jazzy type of program," said Norred, who now sits on the BeckRidge Board of Directors. "It's growing on all of us — the songs, the melodies. It has some old classic tunes mixed in with some new."

The BeckRidge Chorale

was founded in 1973 as the Plymouth Community Chorus. The group has been a silver medalist in Johnny Mann's Great American Choral Festival, twice toured Washington, D.C., with invitational performances at Washington's National Cathedral and has been invited to perform at the National Cherry Festival in Traverse City.

The troupe has also performed with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and the Birmingham/Bloomfield Symphony. Its community service concerts include benefit performances for Children's Hospital of Detroit, Angela Hospice, The Salvation Army and the Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute. In 2006, the Plymouth Nancy Whitecar accompanies the BeckRidge Chorale as members get ready for their annual spring concert.

Community Chorus became the BeckRidge Chorale in order to recognize the organization's regional outreach in serving all of southeast Michigan and specifically the communities of Plymouth, Canton and Northville. The name "BeckRidge Chorale" reflects this regional emphasis by combining "Beck" and "Ridge" — two major roads passing through all three communities.

The group's 110-voice choir will tackle Love Stories, up some 15 percent in membership, according to Gross.

"People are getting back to things in their community and things they enjoy doing," he said. "Instead of getting caught up in the (bad) news, they're going out and having fun."

Hundreds protest at Tax Day Tea Party

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Several hundred people protested government spending Wednesday in Livonia as one of several local gatherings in Michigan for a Tax Day Tea Party.

The party is a movement aimed at restoring the free-market principles the United States was built on, according to the group's Web site.

Picketers carried signs protesting government spending for about two hours, occupying the sidewalk along the east side of Haggerty between Seven and Eight Mile roads.

Many drivers on Haggerty honked in support. A passenger in one car held out tea bags as the vehicle drove north on Haggerty, which drew cheers from the protesters.

Kevin Kieliszewski of Canton carried a sign that read: "Give me liberty — no debt."

"We wanted to have our voices heard since Congress hasn't been listening," Kieliszewski said. "They keep hiking taxes and hiking spending and they don't ever reduce it."

Peggy Paulson of Plymouth also protested government spending, which she described as "out of control." Paulson believes that the U.S. government is "mortgaging our future."

"I don't believe government is the answer; the answer lies in the hands of the people," Paulson said.

Her sign read: "Wake up America before your liberty is gone."

Paulson and her friend and neighbor Judy Draplin of Plymouth brought their children to the event. Draplin said she was concerned about their future and that it was important to teach them about freedom of speech.

"I think it's important that we show them the need to speak up for what we believe in and that we can do it in a civil manner," Draplin said.

Paulson added: "They need to understand that they work for us, and they have it backwards."

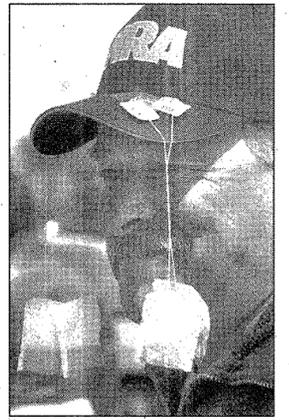

Tom Wozniak of Livonia carried a flag that read "Don't Tread on Me."

Numerous picketers greeted him, and numerous motorists honked at him in support.

"Government is spending money too fast and printing it too fast so it will be devalued," Wozniak said. "We can't borrow our way to prosperity."

Wozniak was critical of President Obama and former President George W. Bush. "It was foolish to give us the stimulus package a year ago; they were foolish with the TARP (Troubled Asset Relief Program) money," Wozniak said. "We'd like the politicians to spend the money like it was their own, which means very carefully." Jay and Kim Quint of Livonia also stood on the sidewalk. "I just felt I had to do something," Jay said. "I felt I had to do my part, even if it was a small part."

"I think they've gone all out with the massive spending, and I think they have to show restraint. With that amount of money, someone will have to pay for it."

Kim added that "big government was getting bigger by the day."

"I just feel that government is putting a stranglehold on capitalism and our freedom to spend money as we please, with their taxes on the bailout and the stimulus bill."

The gathering brought protesters from all over metro Detroit.

"I'm here to protest that government spending is out of control," said Peter Perreca of Royal Oak.

"People didn't realize how far left (President Barack Obama) would go. The amount of spending doesn't make sense, and there are no economic models that show that spending will get us out of debt."

Perreca's sign read: "Irresponsible Reckless Spending."

Perreca learned about the gathering by searching on the Web. Originally he was going to go to Lansing until he found about the Livonia and Troy gatherings that day. "This is what is called a 'smart mob,'" which is now a part of our nomenclature," Perreca said. "The Internet allows people to organize large groups quickly."

LOW-CARB DIET MAY SACRIFICE FRESH BREATH

If you are eating a diet that is low in carbohydrates to lose weight, you may have a problem with bad breath. It is estimated that nearly 63% of people on low-carb diets suffer from halitosis. The reason for this rests with the fact that a certain amount of carbohydrates is necessary for the body to effectively burn fat. Without these needed carbs, the body must modify the way it burns fat by producing ketones which are the chemicals that impart a bad odor to breath. If you are a fan of diets such as the South Beach Diet or the Atkins Diet, you may want to brush more often, drink more water, and chew more sugarless gum.

If you are bothered by this condition, don't be shy about discussing bad breath with your dentist. Professional care is always the best course to pursue when unusual symptoms occur. We're here to offer our patients comprehensive, gentle, family dentistry, including dietary advice, routine maintenance care, restorative work, and cosmetic approaches to enhance any smile. All our staff members are exceptional in their care of every patient who comes through our doors at 496 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Ste. 201, Plymouth. Please call us at 734-453-9413 for an appointment. We are located one block east of Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth.

P.S. Another effective way to fight halitosis is to scrape the tongue daily, from back to front.

Catwalk: Feline follows owner on nightly excursions

BY KAREN SMITH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Many Livonia residents walk their dogs.

But Lisa McLeod walks her cat — without a leash.

The black and white-spotted feline follows McLeod all around their Hix-Schoolcraft neighborhood. If a dog being walked on a leash is about to pass by on the sidewalk, McLeod warns Kiewie and she lies down on a driveway, out of the dog's reach.

"People cannot believe I'm walking my cat," she said of the looks she gets from neighbors and passersby.

Next-door neighbor Dave Thomas said he and his wife, Sue, get a kick out of watching Kiewie follow McLeod. "It's pretty funny," Thomas said.

Thomas said the cat looks both ways before crossing the street, turning her head left and right. "It's really something," he said.

Kiewie also protects McLeod's younger cat, Tiger, from cars. One day Tiger got too close to the road and Kiewie ran after her and chased her back to the house, McLeod said.

McLeod's sister, Jackie Schwalm of Milford, e-mailed the Observer about Kiewie.

She said the cat seems to understand what her sister is saying.

"Once a family was leaving their house in their car and the mother asked my sister, 'Are you walking your cat?'" she said. "My sister said yes. Then her children in the car started barking and my sister looked at her cat and said, 'It's OK. They are only joking,' and the cat looked at my sister and proceeded to walk by the car."

McLeod said the cat, a 9- or 10-year-old stray they took in years ago while living in Redford, started walking with her last summer.

McLeod had stopped smoking and started walking. The cat began to follow her and each time, she would take it a couple houses farther.

"Now she walks anywhere I go," she said.

Filing tax return electronically gets an earlier return

Q: Dear Rick: I filed my federal tax return over a month ago and I still have not received my refund. I read that you should get your refund back within two to three weeks. What should I do?

A: According to the Internal Revenue Service, if you file a return using the traditional paper method, it takes approximately six weeks to receive your refund. If you file electronically, it typically takes half that time to get a refund. Therefore, the first question is how did you file your return? If you filed by paper in mid-March you can expect your refund by the end of April. On the other hand, if you filed electronically, you should have received your refund by now and it is time to be proactive.

The IRS has an excellent Web site in regards to taxes. Not only can you obtain all necessary forms, but also instruction books and other important information with regards to taxes. In addition, the IRS Web site offers access to the status of your refund. Go to www.irs.gov

Money Matters

gov and click on "my refund."

If the IRS has already sent you your refund and you have not received it, then you could have a problem. It is possible that your refund, if it was mailed to you, got lost in the mail or worse, someone got to the mailbox before you. In those situations, call the IRS.

The IRS has become easier to deal with and is taxpayer-friendly.

Q: Dear Rick: Every time I open my bank statement I am hit with new fees. In addition, I'm receiving very little interest on the money I have in the bank. Recently, a friend of mine opened an account at a credit union. Do you recommend credit unions and are they as safe as banks?

A: I have no problem with credit unions. I believe that many people should consider using them. The first thing to understand about credit unions is they are nonprofits and operate in the best interest of their members. If you have an account at a credit union, you are a member, in effect, you are part owner. Because members are part owners, credit unions tend to have lower fees and pay higher interest rates on deposits than a traditional bank.

Furthermore, when you need a loan — mortgage, home equity line of credit, new car loan or personal loan — credit unions tend to be more competitive than your traditional bank.

Just as a bank insures your account to $250,000, the same applies to credit unions. The only difference is the money in a bank is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) while money in a credit union is insured by the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA). Both of these agencies are quasi-government agencies and backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government. Your money is safe.

One myth about credit unions is they are difficult to join. Although in the past that may have been the case, it is no longer true. Virtually, anyone can join a credit union. There are many credit unions in southeast Michigan and, although, you may not be eligible to join every one, as some do restrict membership, it should not be difficult to find a credit union.

Visit the National Association of Credit Unions Web site — www.joinacu.org — to search for credit unions that you are eligible to join.

Credit unions offer virtually the same services that banks do including ATMs.

In today's difficult economic times where people are attempting to get better rates of return on their money while keeping their fees low, credit unions are an option to consider.

U-M's St. Clair makes contact

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

She's been a mainstay behind the plate for the University of Michigan softball team for three years, starting a total 131 games.

And Wednesday night, catcher Roya St. Clair got a much-deserved rest — penciled in only as the designated player with one at-bat — as the Wolverines improved to 30-9 overall with a 9-0 mercy victory at home over Washtenaw County rival Eastern Michigan University.

St. Clair's defensive skills have never been questioned, but now opposing pitchers have to be a little bit more careful how they pitch to the Livonia Stevenson grad.

After hitting .214 as a freshman followed by a .211 campaign in 2008, St. Clair's improved offensive production this season has raised eyebrows around the Big Ten.

Going into the Wolverines' weekend series at Illinois, St. Clair was batting .288 overall with seven doubles, five homers and 20 RBI. She has a slugging percentage of .500 and has struck out only 14 times in 104 at-bats.

Her Big Ten numbers are even better, with a .375 batting average and .708 slugging mark.

"It's confidence," St. Clair said. "It was a learning curve coming into college. I had to figure out how things worked out at this level."

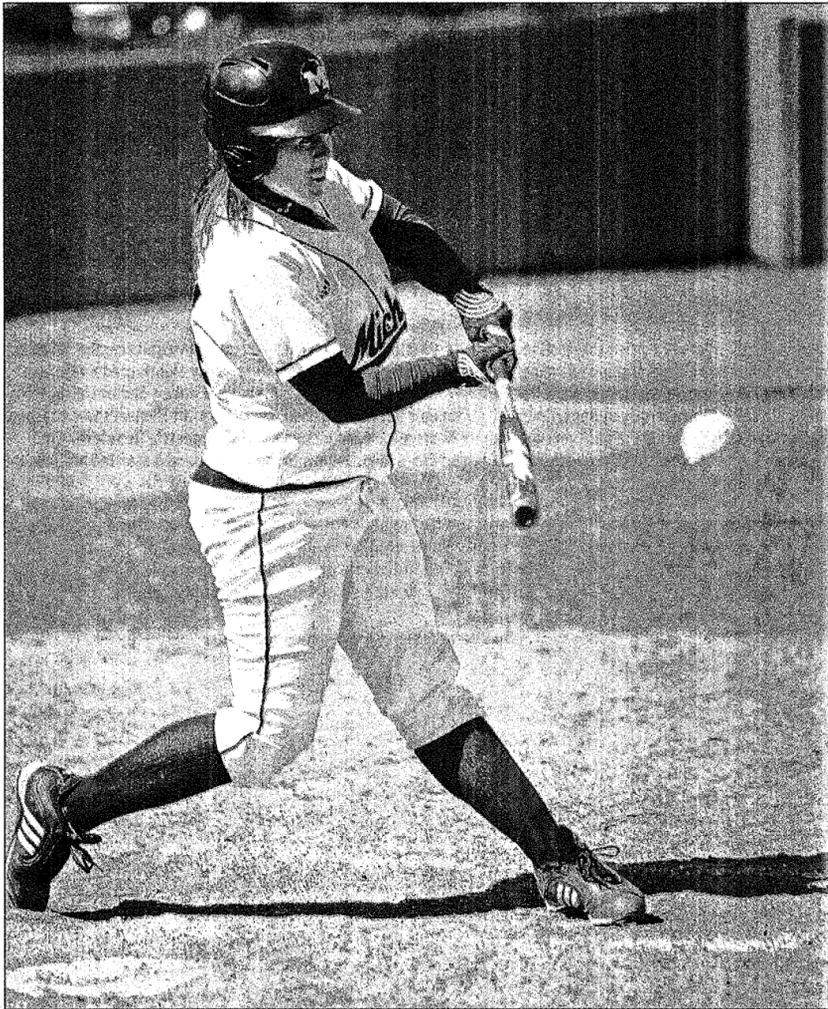

"I'm taking more pitches than usual. I'm seeing the ball better."

Coming out of Stevenson, St. Clair was one of the area's all-time feared prep hitters. As a senior, she batted .522 with six homers, 11 doubles and 34 RBI en route to first-team Division I All-State honors.

This spring, she has learned to become more patient at the plate.

"Before I was a first-pitch hitter," St. Clair said. "It's a whole lot different from high school to this level and often it doesn't translate. Offensively I struggled the first two years,

GAME WRAPS

Prep baseball

CRANBROOK 4, JOHN GLENN 1: Pitcher Nick Cassell went all seven innings, allowing just five hits, to power Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook Kingswood (3-3) to the non-conference triumph Friday over visiting Westland John Glenn (5-5).

Cassell struck out three and walked only one. He also helped his own cause with an RBI sacrifice fly. The Cranes scored one run in the second, one in the third and two in the fourth off Glenn starter Steve Hickson, who went all six innings, allowing just four hits.

Hickson fanned three and did not allow a walk.

Glenn tallied its only run in the top of the fourth, when Vince Creighton singled and came home on Hickson's RBI double.

Andrew Deluca went 2-for-3 for the Rockets.

Each team committed two errors.

JOHN GLENN 7-4, EDESEL FORD 1-2: The two Jakes did it again Thursday as host Westland John Glenn (5-4) swept a non-league doubleheader from Dearborn Edsel Ford (2-4).

Jake Campbell pitched a complete-game, five-hitter in the opener as the Rockets earned a 7-1 triumph. Campbell struck out three and did not allow a walk. He also helped his own cause with an RBI sacrifice fly in the second inning.

Nate Bovia also had a big day at the plate, going 3-for-3 with three RBI, while Derrick Ammons added two hits, two RBI and scored two runs.

In the nightcap, Jake Sperry scattered six hits and walked only one as the Rockets downed the Thunderbirds, 4-2. Sperry struck out three in going the distance.

Andrew DeLuca went 3-for-4 with two RBI for Glenn, while third baseman Steve Hickson sparkled in the field and went 2-for-2 with an RBI.

Edsel Ford's Joe Carty doubled three times in the loss.

FARMINGTON 10, JOHN GLENN 6: Joel Fisher went 3-for-3 with an RBI and two runs scored Wednesday to lead the host Falcons (3-4) to the non-league win over Westland John Glenn (3-4).

Derek Mohr added a pair of walks, a single and scored three times for Farmington, which scored four times in the third innings, two more in the fourth and four in the bottom of the sixth to put it away.

Farmington starter Matt Gutknecht, who went the first six innings, allowing six runs on seven hits and two walks, got the victory.

Riley Smith (two outs) and Alex Schmitt (final out) came on for the save.

Glenn starter Andrew DeLuca took the loss.

Steve Hickson went 2-for-4 with two RBI, while Derrick Ammons added two hits for the Rockets.

CLARENCEVILLE 8, CHAVEZ 0: Teresa Parent and Jerrica Clements scored two goals apiece Wednesday, propelling Livonia Clarenceville (1-2) to a non-conference win over Detroit Cesar Chavez.

Samantha Giordano, Mariah McClain, Jordan Fyffe and Britney Olds each added a goal for the Trojans, who led 4-0 at halftime and ended it on an eight-goal mercy with 15 minutes to go. Goalkeeper Kristen Jolly made six saves to post her first shutout of the year.

Bases on balls fueled the softball merry-go-round Thursday for Livonia Clarenceville.

The Trojans, recipients of 15 walks, rolled to a 14-3 five-inning rout of visiting Southfield in a non-conference tilt shortened due to the 10-run mercy rule.

It was 4-0 after the first and 9-0 after two, with six of those runs scoring on bases-loaded walks issued by Southfield pitcher Amanda Love and two more scoring on hit batsmen.

"I told the girls these are games you can lose easy if you don't concentrate and have focus," Clarenceville coach Joe DeCaire said. "That's true (because) especially when you see a pitcher that's wild, you can lose total concentration at the plate."

"You've got to adjust to whatever. We did what we had to do to get the win."

Earning the victory for Clarenceville (2-2) was junior Val Sochacki, who struck out 10 while giving up just two hits and three walks. All of the runs scored by the Bluejays (0-2) were unearned.

Southfield's acting head coach, Alisha Love, said her team is very young and still learning how to play the game.

"They're great athletes," she said. "They just don't know the game like they should yet. But that's coming, it's a process."

Even losing a blowout can have a beneficial impact, Love added.

"They can be more attentive in practice in terms of learning the game instead of just being an athlete and catching the ball and throwing it," she said.

The Trojans collected six hits, including three by senior Lisa Wilson (3-for-4, 2 runs, 3 RBI), who smoked a line-drive triple to left with two outs in the bottom of the fifth.

Crusader sets strikeout mark

Jess Irwin bettered her own single-season strikeout record Friday as the Madonna University softball team improved to 17-1 in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference with a pair of wins at Siena Heights University.

Irwin struck out 11, raising her season total to 227, and allowed just two hits and two walks in six innings as MU captured the opener, 8-0.

The sophomore from Monroe is now 21-5 overall.

Offensively, Cat Sidor (Livonia Churchill) went 2-for-4 with two RBI, while Tori Turner added two hits for MU.

Rachael Kethe, Kathleen Smiley and Kelly Lesko also knocked in runs for the 17th-ranked Crusaders. In the nightcap, Ashley Shay went 2-for-2 with a homer, while Tedi Johnston went 2-for-4 with an RBI as MU downed the Saints, 5-2. Sidor and Lesko also knocked in runs for the Crusaders, who improved to 39-7 overall.

Winning pitcher Hallie Minch (18-2) allowed just three hits, walked one and struck out eight.

The loss drops Siena Heights to 11-31 overall and 1-13 in the WHAC.

MADONNA 8-8, UM-DEARBORN 0-3: Pitcher Jess Irwin recorded both wins as the Crusaders (37-7, 15-1) team swept both ends of a WHAC doubleheader Wednesday at home against University of Michigan-Dearborn (11-12, 8-6).

Irwin tossed a one-hitter in the opener as the Crusaders downed the Wolves in a five-inning mercy, 8-0. Irwin struck out 10 and allowed four walks.

Offensively, Cat Sidor went 2-for-3 with three RBI, while Kathleen Smiley went 2-for-3 with two RBI. Kelly Lesko also added two hits and an RBI.

Irwin came to the rescue in relief of starter Hallie Minch as the Crusaders rallied from a 2-0 deficit after three innings to beat UM-Dearborn, 8-3.

Minch, the freshman from Garden City, was roughed up for two earned runs on six hits in 3½ innings.

Irwin (20-5) came on and worked the final 3½, allowing one earned run on three hits. She struck out seven and walked two.

Sidor and Brittney Scero (Canton) each went 3-for-5 with two RBI apiece.

Smiley clubbed a two-run homer in the fourth inning and Ashley Shay contributed a solo shot in the fifth. Tedi Johnston also had two hits for MU.

Danielle Stabnau went 3-for-4 with an RBI for UM-Dearborn.

Saints' hurler handcuffs MU

Livonia Franklin High grad Chris Boertje played the spoiler role Thursday as the No. 12-ranked Madonna University baseball team settled for another doubleheader split with Siena Heights.

The junior right-hander from Westland threw a five-hitter as Siena Heights earned a 2-1 victory over the Crusaders in the opener.

Boertje used a mix of fastballs and curveballs to improve to 3-4 to keep MU off balance. He struck out four and walked three.

MU starter Trent Pohl (2-2) who went six innings, allowed just three hits. He walked four and struck out three.

Mark Pauwels had an RBI groundout in the first and Kevin Harrington added an RBI single in the fourth to account for both of the Saints' runs.

Ryan Morrow's RBI groundout in the fifth cut the deficit to 2-1.

but this year everything is just clicking better." Michigan coach Carol Hutchins has also taken notice by moving up St. Clair in the batting order.

"More than anything, she's matured as a hitter," Hutchins said. "There's some pitchers you can't hit unless you're patient. She was not patient the first two years, but now she's able to work the count better and not be too anxious. Before she was trying too hard and wanted to get a hit right away. She's let the game come to her."

And St. Clair has been rewarded for her improved discipline at the plate.

"We've moved people around, but she's usually in an RBI spot, anywhere from four to seven in the lineup," Hutchins said. "She gets hot and cold like anyone else, but she's become an RBI person."

St. Clair has always been durable and dependable behind the plate. Last year, she started and played in all 60 games after getting 35 starts as a freshman. This spring, she's already gone behind the plate 37 times.

"It (the position) wears you down," Hutchins said. "We'd like to keep her legs as fresh as we can. We've tried to rest her to keep her from being over-worked because she's had some little nagging injuries."

"But it's hard to get her out because she's a great receiver and she blocks balls as well as anybody."

As dependable as she's been as the team's backstop, St. Clair has also been a mainstay in the classroom.

A sport management major in the school's Division of Kinesiology, St. Clair was also a Big Ten All-Academic pick in 2008 and has earned U-M's Athletic Academic Achievement Award two straight years.

Hutchins, meanwhile, believes St. Clair continues to be a work in progress.

"I don't gauge a career until it's over," Hutchins said. "There are parts of the game they all have to learn, but she's made the greatest strides this year. She's certainly done an outstanding job behind the plate defensively."

"Roya is self-confident, knows the game and is very strong-minded."

St. Clair believes this year's Wolverine squad has the potential to make a postseason run. U-M was 6-2 heading into the weekend series at Illinois.

"We played a tough pre-season schedule against some ranked opponents," she said. "We've been picking up our play of late and we hope it pays off in the postseason."

"Every year the team chemistry changes. We lost a couple key players — Samantha Findlay and Alessandra Giampaolo — who graduated."

"Right now we have five juniors starting and only one senior. The juniors are taking on the leadership roles and the young players are stepping up. We have three freshmen who start. Everyone knows their roles."

CYO champions

The St. Michael's Varsity 1 girls basketball team capped a perfect 24-0 season on March 14 by capturing the Catholic Youth Organization championship at Birmingham Marian High School. The Gaels were led by eighth-graders Morgan Blair, Sara Even, Brenna Gabrielson, Kiley Gorski, Emily Norscia, Allie Koestering, Carlin O'Malley, Shelby Walsh, along with seventh-graders Julie Bonk, Courtney Cattaneo, Pilar Furlong and Emily Hawks. St. Michael's was coached by Greg Mellon, who during the past year overcame a heart attack and loss of a leg due diabetes. He returned to the bench for his 16th season in a wheelchair determined to lead his team into the finals. He was assisted by Linda Willoughby and Jim Rhodes.

MU women's golfers 2nd at invite

The Madonna University women's golf team ended the day where it started — in second place — at the 2009 Madonna Spring Invitational contested Thursday at Walnut Creek Country Club.

The Crusaders shot 376 on Day Two for a 36-hole total of 754 to wrap up the spring season.

The University of St. Francis (Ind.) took home top honors with a two-day total of 692. Katie Jones from USF was the medalist with rounds of 87 and 82 for a 169 total.

MU's Sara Simnitch (Swartz Creek) was the top Crusader, finishing sixth with a two-day tally of 180 (94-86). She improved by eight strokes on Day Two.

Livonia's Chelsea Bathurst (Stevenson) was next for the Crusaders finishing ninth by carding a round of 97 for a two-day total of 184. Westland's Mariel Meyers (Livonia Franklin) and Livonia's Caitlin Steele (Dearborn Divine Child) rounded out the MU contingent by finishing 12th (95-94) and 20th, respectively.

The Crusaders close the 2008-09 season after finishing second in the final Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference standings, the best finish in program history and do not lose a single player to graduation.

The 2009 fall season will start in August.

C'VILLE

Wilson's drive scored Chelsea Gehan and Izzy Sidon for the final runs of the game as Clarenceville's lead extended into mercy-rule territory.

"Lisa Wilson is stroking the ball pretty well," DeCaire said. "She had a couple good hits. She's been our big hitter all year."

DeCaire noted some fine infield defense turned in by sophomore third baseman Kelly Ankiel and substitute first baseman Brittany Tallman (in for regular Brittany Brooks, who was out due to illness).

Also enjoying a solid offensive day for the Trojans was Sochacki, who went 2-for-3, scored two and knocked in another. The sixth Clarenceville hit was registered by Tallman (two runs).

Southfield's hits included singles by Amanda Love and Tyeasha Willis.

A highlight for the Bluejays came in the fourth. Noelle Hairston walked, stole second and moved around the diamond to score on two wild pitches.

Meanwhile, Clarenceville senior Miranda Cummings reached base four times (three walks, hit by pitch) and sophomore Stephanie Bishop drove in two runs in two at-bats after getting plunked by pitches.

Clarenceville now prepares for the beginning of Metro Conference action, with road games Monday and Wednesday against Harper Woods and Lutheran Westland, respectively.

According to DeCaire, it is important for his team to keep things in perspective entering those games.

"You know, it's scary, these kind of games, because next week starts our conference," DeCaire said. "I told the girls these scare me because I don't know what to expect."

"We play Harper Woods and that's going to be a much better game. We're going to have to buckle down."

We will have more balance through our four classes as far as scoring and placing is concerned. We will have to rely on our few varsity returners until our young ninth and 10th graders are ready. This season we hope to develop some depth from all four classes and hope it all comes together at the end of the season. Our team goals are always high at Churchill and this year is no different. We will have to develop quickly though to reach them."

LIVONIA FRANKLIN

Bjorklund's 2009 outlook: "Coming off of another very successful season, we return many big scorers from last year, but lost two to graduation (Price and Tapella) and we've had a couple of kids move away. However, we still have a pretty balanced team, with our strength in the field events and middle distance/distance. The distance team worked really hard this winter and is much improved and ready to go. Quint, Powers, Holloway, Butkowski, McPherson, and some of our others have already competed well in the early season meets and now that we finally have our basketball players (Scott, Milican, Haig) we are ready to put our full lineup together."

However, we have a very solid and talented group of returning veterans who I am sure will again be successful within their events. We are not as deep as I would like to see. But the new athletes we have at all grade levels have a lot of talent. We will be very competitive within our division and if we stay healthy we should be competitive at the regional level."

LIVONIA LADYWOOD
Head coach: Alice Ahearn, first year.
League affiliation: Catholic League (Central Division).
Last year's finish: fourth (Catholic League meet); seventh (Division 2 regional).
Notable losses to graduation: Emily Bambach.
Leading returnees: Megan Yanik, Jr. (first-team All-Area 300 hurdles; 1,600 relay); Megan Vitale, Soph. (first-team All-Area 1,600 relay; 400); Shannon Hogg, Soph. (high jump; sprints); Katie Morasso, Sr. captain (first-team All-Area 1,600 relay); Meghan Clarke, Jr. (first-team All-Area 1,600 relay; middle distance; high jump); Julia Kenney, Sr. (distance); Siobhan Aldridge, Soph. (distance); Alyssa Achacon, Jr. (sprints); Bridgit Molloy, Sr. (throws); Mary Burdick, Jr. (throws; distance); Haley Giordano, Jr. (sprints); Meredith Houska, Jr. (distance; throws); Lauren Micallef, Soph. (sprints; middle distance); Maureen Murphy, Jr. (sprints; long jump); Diane Reinel, Jr. (sprints; long jump; 800 relay); Kelsey Soronen, Sr. (distance); Teresa Wojnarowski, Soph. (throws; sprints); Catherine Wojtanowski, Jr. (distance); Margaret Wojtanowski, Sr. (middle distance); Morgan Zuziak, Sr. (distance).
Promising newcomers: Chantal Singer, Fr. (jumps; sprints).
Ahearn's 2009 outlook: "We definitely have depth with our 'A' and 'B' squad willing to try every event. We like them to go in four different events. We've found some talents they didn't know they had. We'll be good in a lot of different areas. We're stretching them and finding some spots for them. So far they're been compliant and they're up for it."

LIVONIA GUSTAFSON
Head coach: Brady Gustafson, fourth year.
League affiliation: Metro Conference.
Last year's finish: third place in conference; fifth at regionals.
Notable losses to graduation: Ashley Hall.
Leading returnees: Marlene Azar, Sr. (1,600-3,200 relay; 800); Alexa Bean, Soph. (3,200 relay; 800); Brushshell Brown, Sr. (400-800 relays; 200); Jillian Burhop, Soph. (1,600-3,200 relays; 400); Evangela Daniels, Soph. (100 hurdles; relays); Aneta Elliott, Sr. (middle distance; long jump); Stephanie Lozano, Soph. (hurdles; high jump); Kamal Sanders, Jr. (sprints; relays).
Promising newcomers: Sydney Clark, Sr. (sprints; relays); transfer from Southfield-Lathrup; Paige Davis, Jr. (throws); Amelia Harman, Sr. (1,600-3,200 relays); Emily Jasmer, Fr. (throws).
Gustafson's 2009 outlook: "We have a good stable of sprinters led by seniors Brushshell Brown, Aneta Elliott and newcomer Sydney Clark. Our sprinters look to be the deepest part of our team, but a young, but experienced group of middle distance runners should complement them. Our middle distance runners are led by returners Marlene Azar, Jillian Burhop, and Alexa Bean, three of the four members of our 4 x 800 relay team who broke our school record. Our hurdlers should be improved led by Stephanie Lozano who placed in regionals, our conference meet, and broke our school record in the 300 lows. Our jumpers are experienced and solid, and our inexperience in the throwing events should be outweighed by our potential. Paige Davis leads the way for our throwers, looking to be competitive in conference despite this being her first year throwing."

LUTHERAN HIGH WESTLAND
Head coach: Alyssia Hall, first year.
League affiliation: Metro Conference.
Last year's finish: second (Metro Conference); third (Division 4 regional); 11-1 dual record.
Notable losses to graduation: Olivia Rork (second-team All-Area); Julie Jongsma; Rebekah Kroesing; Katie Krueger; Myrian Storck.
Leading returnees: Nicole Zehel, Jr. (third-team All-Area 1,600); Emilie Freeman, Jr. (high jump; sprints); Megan Kohtz, Sr. (relays); Brittany Maynard, Jr. (middle distances); Sarah Maynard, Soph. (distances); Katelyn Ramthun, Sr. (sprints); Rachel Storck, Jr. (pole vault; high jump; hurdles).
Promising newcomers: Megan Lohn, Fr. (sprints); Becca Refenes, Sr. (throws); Rebecca Rockrohr, Jr. (middle distances); Alyssa Sherkey, Soph. (throws); Amanda Terranella, Fr. (hurdles; throws).
Hall's 2009 outlook: "While a little light on numbers, the team is fairly balanced except for the sprints. With a good mix of returning athletes and newcomers, the expectations for the team are high. The team is looking forward to the competition that the Metro Conference has to offer. Lutheran North is again the team to beat and Clarenceville, Lutheran Northwest and Cranbrook will also be a tough challenge."

Graves gets cager

Madonna University women's basketball coach Carl Graves announced Tuesday that Kristie Porada (Gibraltar Carlson) has signed an NAIA letter-of-intent for this fall.

Porada, cousin of current MU volleyball red-shirt freshman Amanda Koszela, is the second signee for Graves, joining Kayleigh Burden (New Boston Huron) who signed with the Crusaders last week.

The Rockwood native earned three letters in basketball to go along with a pair each in cross country and track at Carlson. As a senior she averaged 10.1

points and 5.2 assists per game on her way to a second straight selection to the All-Mega Conference team as well as a selection to the All-Downriver team.

"Kristie is such a versatile player," Graves said. "She does so many things well and we are looking to utilize her in several ways. Kristie has a stellar grade-point average which will fit nicely with the MU philosophy. She has the ability to handle the ball exceptionally well, has a decent shot, good speed and shows the desire and will to win and want to improve."

A two-year captain on the hardwood, Porada was also an All-Mega honoree last fall in cross country and earned the Coaches Award in track as a sophomore.

Stamp show highlights educational hobby to stick with

BY JULIE BROWN
O&E STAFF WRITER

A little bit of history will come to town soon in the form of the Plymouth stamp show.

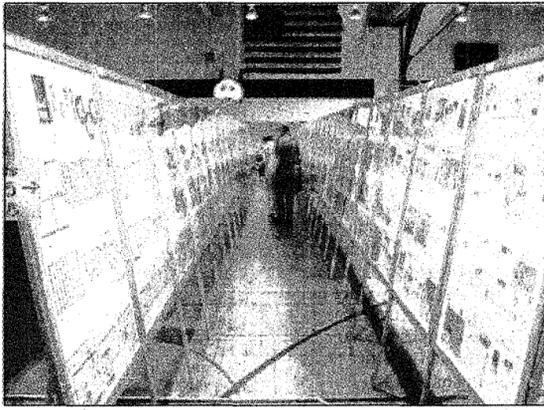

"You get somebody who's got a real interest in history," club member Ed Dubin of Belleville said. He enjoys postal history of the World War I era, things like American troops in France, and the Polar Bear forces in Russia.

Other collectors focus on space or the postal history of their town; one local collector focuses on Plymouth, which was once the BB gun capital of the world. "It's really an urge to own part of history," Dubin said. "That's what stamps and covers are."

This is the 40th year for the Plymouth Show put on by the West Suburban Stamp Club, and it's going strong.

Show dates are Saturday and Sunday, April 25-26, at Central Middle School, Main and Church streets in Plymouth. Show hours are 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. Admission and parking are free.

Dubin, who's handling

Showgoers look at the various world class exhibits on display at last year's show. This year's event will be Saturday and Sunday, April 25-26, at Central Middle School in Plymouth.

publicity for the show, noted the popularity of "Stamps in Your Closet" with expanded hours this year. Experienced collectors and dealers can give you an idea of the value of a collection and how to sell it. Often, that's useful when people inherit a collection.

"They get all these stamp albums and they don't know what to do with them," said Dubin, a Ford Motor Co. retiree. The service is first-come, first-served, and he said people last year were as well as some junior stamp collectors of middle school or high school age.

Another local collector is Sandy Strzalkowski of Redford, who's handling show chair duties this year, a job that's traded off. She joined the club about 10 years ago after her husband got his childhood stamp collection back and took their son to the Plymouth show.

"Before that, I did not collect at all," said Strzalkowski, a financial adviser. She began going to shows and "started getting the courage to talk to dealers about this and that."

She now collects covers, canceled items showing British postal history. Strzalkowski finds quite a bit in that category, because we're so close to Canada and there are ties between Canada and Great Britain.

She noted it's more unusual for a family to collect stamps. The couple's son, now 23, is in the Army and will travel from California for the Plymouth show. "He is taking a long weekend just for the show," his mom said.

COLLECTOR TO CURATOR

One local former junior collector, who was a stamp dealer at a young age, went to Georgetown University. "He has stayed with the hobby," Dubin said of Alex Haimann, now a curator for the Smithsonian in Washington, D.C., and active in the American Philatelic Society. Haimann will be the banquet speaker for the club in Plymouth the show weekend. The society is promoting patient.

The show will feature 2,400 pages of exhibits, 40 dealers from the U.S. and Canada, U.S. U.N. and Nordica Post Offices, seminars and society meetings. There will be a Saturday cachet bourse (exchange), and youth program. The Plymouth event is a qualifying show for the American Philatelic Society's annual Champion of Champions competition.

CHILDHOOD HOBBY

Dubin started collecting stamps at age 9. "Oh, my gosh, that's 50-plus years ago." Many collectors get an album as a child "and just kind of grew from there."

Collecting often drops off when people are in high school or college, but they pick it up again later. The West Suburban Stamp Club has a number of women, Dubin said, a fellowship for young stamp collectors, to which the WSSC recently donated $1,000.

Club members Andrew Mazzara and Bill Chase at the 'Stamps in Your Closet' table offer advice on collections.

"Alex kind of grew up in our club," Strzalkowski said. She's pleased Haimann advocates so much for younger collectors, as the hobby needs that.

"It can be a very relaxing hobby, I think," she said. "I've learned a lot as people talk about their collections." She appreciates learning about history and cultures she wouldn't otherwise know. "It's a great learning opportunity, especially for youth," Strzalkowski said.

In addition to the Plymouth Show, the club meets the first and third Friday of the month at the Plymouth Historical Museum at Main and Church streets in Plymouth. Doors open at 7 p.m. and meetings include social time, a program and stamp auction. "You get to talk with people who have the same passion you do, which is fun," Dubin said.

Strzalkowski said the show will draw 600-800 people, especially from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana, on Saturday. Sunday attendance drops a bit. The show has been held at the same location each year.

In conjunction with the show, the club is offering for sale a colored cachet cover celebrating the 200th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth. Each cover will have one of the recently issued four Lincoln commemorative 42 cent stamps, with a special show cancel picturing Lincoln's likeness.

Collectors can purchase the covers at the show or by mail for $2 each, or $5 for a cover with all four Lincoln commemoratives. To order by mail, send a check or money order plus a No. 10 SASE to WSSC, c/o Diane Gorney, Box 700049, Plymouth, MI 48170.

Call (734) 699-1026 for additional show information. Advance registration available at the club Web site: <http://www.plymouthshow.com>. The event is the only Michigan-qualified American Philatelic Society national show in the 30-show "World Series of Philately" circuit.

THE TREATMENT OF RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS TODAY

Over the past five years, physician thinking on the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis has undergone a great change. For years the motto was "go low, go slow," meaning that since medications used in rheumatoid arthritis were potentially dangerous to the liver and immune system, a physician should use these drugs with caution. Starting with a small dose and increasing the amount only after months of use on the previous level was the standard practice.

Investigations of this approach revealed that patients' rheumatoid arthritis continued to progress despite therapy. Other studies showed that a more vigorous response with quicker use of newer drugs at high doses gave much better results.

These newer drugs included the Anti-TNFs, Rituxan, and Ocrencia. Furthermore, when these drugs were combined with methotrexate, the resolution of joint swelling and pain often was prompt and persistent.

At present, the consensus in the medical community is that physicians should treat rheumatoid arthritis as soon as the diagnosis is strongly suspected or reasonably confirmed. This approach is particularly important early in the onset of the disease. The stronger the therapy and the earlier it is begun, the more likely the physician will be able to control the arthritis.

Changes in the way of treating rheumatoid arthritis illustrate how science, constantly questioning and always investigating, leads to better care.

Students earn designation as a Michigan green school

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
O&E STAFF WRITER

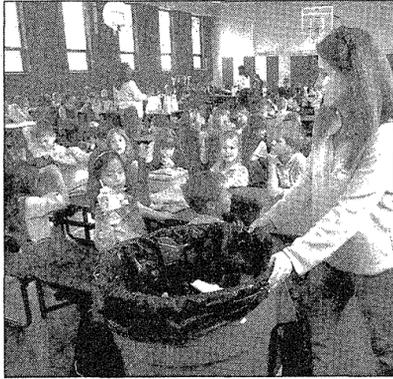

The lunchroom at Our Lady of Good Counsel School probably won't be any less noisy than it was before Easter break, but it sure promises to be greener.

Starting Monday, students will measure and weigh the waste from their lunches. There should be less because for weeks they've been learning about reducing, reusing and recycling. That not's a new concept for the 624 students in kindergarten through eighth grade. The junior high has been recycling paper since 2001. The effort is one of a dozen reasons Our Lady of Good Counsel recently earned a Michigan Green School designation, a state program which began with Gov. Jennifer Granholm signing the Michigan Green Schools Act in May 2006. Private and public schools must achieve at least 10 of 20 energy-saving and environmental tasks.

Throughout the school, students have been busy conducting energy audits of classrooms. In Marcia O'Malley's first-grade class, groups of students were quietly working on posters instead of playing during indoor recess.

GETTING INVOLVED

"The kids have been very involved," said Kay Reilly, principal of the school in Plymouth Township. "We have two teachers, Marcie O'Malley and Kaelah Lesnau, who are especially involved with kids to reduce their trash and understand their impact on landfills. We planted a native Michigan garden last year and hope for it to be in full bloom soon. We also adopted a polar bear, an endangered species, and hosted an ecology speaker who spoke about wild woodlands and brought a possum. We are committed to this. It's part and parcel of what we do every year."

This year the school hopes to reduce waste even further during its Eco-Friendly Lunch Week April 20-24, in recognition of Earth Day Wednesday, April 22.

Will Taylor always brings a sandwich in a plastic bag for lunch but is switching to a recyclable container. He and Robert Barnes and Brendan West were proudly displaying their poster in the school library. The images of endangered animals such as tigers, elephants and bears were recycled from magazines. Will wishes people would stop hunting these species.

Cara Forfinski and Regan Thorp were just as concerned about endangered animals. They were showing off their Save the Earth poster made for Pat Rossow's third-grade class. Flipping through magazines they found a photograph of gorillas.

"The whole week is to create a focus for kids to be more aware of what they can do to become eco-friendly," said Reilly. "They're encouraged to bring lunches in Tupperware and reusable materials. We're also going to integrate math projects, religion, social studies and science with protecting God's creation. If we change kids' attitudes, we're going to change the next generation. We're big into being good stewards of God's creation. If we can make kids aware of being good global citizens, we realize that's the key to getting people to change their behaviors."

Reilly hadn't thought about lunchroom waste until O'Malley brought her concerns about the Styrofoam trays to the principal's attention.

CAN-DO ATTITUDE

"She told me the trays were filling up landfills. I started looking and found recycled cardboard trays which are a little more expensive but the reduced costs of a new pizza vendor nearly offset the expense. We did not have to raise the prices of lunch," said Reilly. "I told the teachers 'We can do this.'"

O'Malley's class actually did an experiment to see if the recycled trays break down. The first-grade teacher is always looking for ways to introduce lessons about saving the environment whenever possible. The 28-year-old-

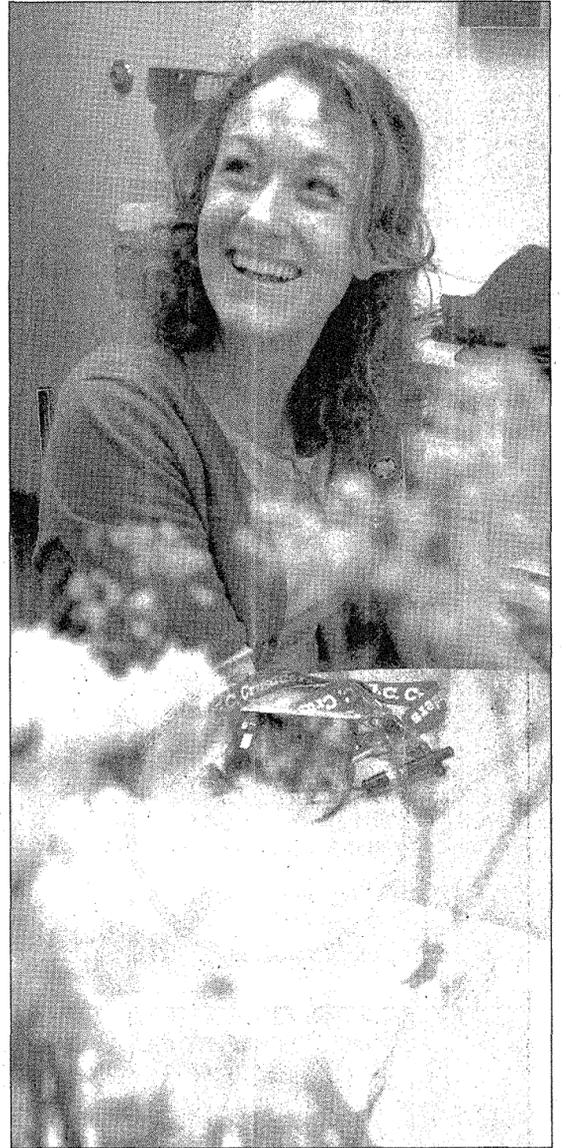

Canton woman is going for a master's degree in ecological teaching at Lesley University in Massachusetts. As part of the graduate program, she spent three weeks in Maine studying habitats. It was a life-changing experience that she brought back to the 6- and 7-year olds to inspire them. On the floor in one corner of the room friends Rebecca Espinoza, Gabby Price and Amberley Schmude were putting the finishing touches on a poster. They were learning water bottles were bad for the environment. A bin of crayons sat nearby.

"We need to start forming habits early, to start small to get as close to zero waste as possible," said O'Malley before Easter break. "Today I opened lunch boxes and found lots of plastic bags with pretzels, yogurt cups, plastic utensils. The plan is to weigh the waste before and after to notice the difference. We're going to take the food scraps out to Maybury Farms, banana peels, for the pigs. These kids are going to be our leaders and need to work on problem solving. We want to get them excited about nature and where they live with science demonstrations, projects like hiking. Last October, we picked up trash along Tonquish Creek and found more than half (of the trash) could be recycled."

Dylan Snyder recycled the plastic bags and candy wrappers he found into a poster.

"This is what you don't want if you want to keep the earth healthy," said Dylan, 6, as he held up the trash-filled poster on saving the earth.

Local students give peace a chance

All that the young students were trying to say was give peace a chance, as one by one they read their award-winning essays Tuesday night at Unity of Livonia. The event concluded the search for today's brightest minds to speak out against war and find pathways to peace through conflict resolution. It was a special night for the high school and college students who were recognized by Citizens for Peace, sponsors of the competition, and it was a special night for me because I was invited to speak about the importance of writing and how it can make a difference. The students reminded me of the Vietnam War era when students across the country held sit-ins on campuses like

Linda Chomin

Schoolcraft College. The students on Tuesday night moved the audience with their words.

Molly Fessler of Canton won first place in the high school division for her winners received their awards.

"She's very talented and a thoughtful young writer," said Richard Fessler. "She has a strong interest in writing. She's a peace activist."

State Senator Glenn Anderson said he was proud to be in the company of folks whose mission is peace. "The young people recognized tonight are great examples and have such a positive impact."

BOOKS ON PEACE

Rosemary Doyle, a member of Citizens for Peace, told the audience how the idea for the essay contest came about late last year. The group has spent the last couple of years assembling the Peace Collection of more than 500 books available at the Livonia Civic Center Library. Doyle was hoping to create awareness of the collection by encouraging the students to use the books as a resource for their essays. When the group first started researching books on peace they found war topics were far more prevalent.

Lauren Schwarz, a Madonna University student, quoted Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in her essay, which won first place in the college division. She wrote that lack of respect and understanding leads to war. People need to educate themselves about religions and cultures to promote a culture of non-violence. Violence begets violence. Peace begets peace.

PEACE AT HOME

Annie Robbins, a second year nursing student at Washtenaw Community College, admitted to not knowing the answer to the question — How do nonviolent practices promote peace? — when she began research for the essay.

"It starts at home," said Robbins. "We all have the same basic needs. We need an understanding of the other person's perspective."

Arthur Burse, an 11th grade student at University Preparatory High School in Detroit, took third place in the high school category with his essay about choosing nonviolent practices over violence.

Two of the winners couldn't attend Tuesday's nights celebration. A friend of Raja Al-Meraihi, a senior at Universal Academy Detroit, read that violence is never the key to any solution. Nonviolence is the only solution to every problem. Al-Meraihi won second place in the high school division.

George Mills concluded the program by reading the essay by Kevin Szawala, a graduate student at Wayne State University.

"We must realize we are all the same race, the human race."

The night was filled with good advice for all of us. If only we would heed their words.

Loyal readers drop a note on washers, refrigerators

Thanks to the several dozen readers who have dropped me a note these past two weeks. You have kept me busy. Staying with the subject of clothes washers, here's what Marlene had to say after she followed my advice:

"Hi, Mr. Gagnon, I thought I would report back to you on what I did purchase and my thoughts so far. I did go with your suggestion and bought a Speed Queen top loader. Again, having had a front loader for nine-plus years it has taken time to readjust my washing habits. I think this is the biggest adjustment people have to make either way they go. They should understand that the two washing methods are very different. With the top loader, I love the fact that I can just drop in the clothes and add to it if needed and it's much easier on the back. There are no fancy bells and whistles on this machine but I find I have only used two of the four modes for washes. I am finding I must be overloading this machine because the clothes get all tangled up. Still working on that. I am appalled by the amount of water it uses but I wonder how my front loader washed with so little. I also find the clothes are damper than they were with the front loader. I really liked the spin power on my old machine. I could also put more clothes in the front loader. I didn't get the Speed Queen front load model because the door was so small and low in front. On my old washer the front door opened for easier access. I'm still adjusting to this machine and glad I don't have to worry about mold and odor problems. Keep up the good work you do. I really appreciate reading your column. PS. I put my old machine on Craig's list and a repair man picked it up for parts. I'm glad parts of it may have a new life and it didn't end up in a land fill.

Appliance Doctor

Connie writes: "Joe, you have helped me in the past and I need some advice on purchasing a new refrigerator. I currently have an 18 cubic foot Amana refrigerator that is over 22 years old (always trouble free). I have always believed if you purchase a quality product you will have many years of service-free problems. I am looking to buy a new 22 cubic foot refrigerator now, with a top freezer and just a simple ice maker, in Bisque. Those all seem to be difficult criteria, because most new refrigerators now are either side by side or French door styled, and the color options frequently are only stainless steel, black or white. I finally decided I would purchase a Whirlpool refrigerator hoping this was a quality product. When I went to the Internet I found hundreds of 2009 complaints regarding the melting of the relay switch (which I know was a recent massive recall), and lots of complaints about the ice makers. In addition, many people are stating the interior shell is cracking because of shrinkage to the insulation underneath. They are saying Whirlpool does not consider this to be a warranty issue, because they consider this a "cosmetic" issue. Joe, what brand refrigerator would you recommend as a quality product, for an average consumer who can't afford a $3,000-$5,000 refrigerator with all the bells and whistles they seem to be adding to them now? Thank you for your advice."

My dear readers, you make it very difficult for me to recommend brand name products to you. I wish I could with a certain amount of assurance that the product you buy will last for years with trouble-free service. To be dead honest with you, I can't anymore. I, like you check out the complaints logged on the Internet and they just reaffirm the many columns I've written in the past 20 years. At one time I was so ashamed of the unethical repair companies there used to be in my industry. I did something about it but the quality of today's products is a detriment I will not be able to cure. Stay tuned.

Joe Gagnon can be heard at 8 a.m., Saturdays on WAAM 1600 and Sundays at 2 p.m. on WDTK 1400. You can e-mail your problems and questions on appliances to appldr@twmi.com

Parkinson's series informs patients

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
O&E STAFF WRITER

When Harry Knitter was diagnosed with Parkinson's 18 years ago he and his wife Nancy knew nothing about the disease. He had been walking the dog and noticed the left side of his body felt weaker. It took a while to rule out possible causes but eventually he learned he had the disease which causes the loss of dopamine-producing cells in the brain. The news came when he was 55-years old. At a loss to understand what was happening to him, Knitter and his wife Nancy sought help from the Michigan Parkinson Foundation. They attended a series of lectures on living with the disease and found hope. Beginning April 28, patients and their families can learn about the chronic, progressive neurological disorder during educational programs held on five consecutive Tuesdays from 1-3 p.m. at the Livonia Senior Center.

"At first the medication seemed to help," said Nancy Knitter of Rochester Hills. "We thought he could do okay then he started to require more medication and began having some of the side effects."

By 2001 Harry Knitter decided on deep brain stimulus surgery and ended up writing the book, Never Give Up: New Hope for Parkinson's Patients. Nancy co-founded the Rochester Parkinson's support group with Pat Yarnold who was diagnosed at age 21 after becoming involved with the Michigan Parkinson's Foundation. She scheduled the speakers and facilitates the Livonia series.

"When Harry was diagnosed there wasn't much out there," said Knitter. "We went and learned a lot. These days people are coming forward shortly after being diagnosed. We want to give people good and accurate information and to know they're not alone in this disease. There are places they can go for support, groups, the foundation to direct you to different doctors. Everyone is different. My husband never had a tremor, always rigidity. Today he's doing well. He still can get himself dressed and showered."

Parkinson's patients need to stay positive and informed. "Doctors work with you as an individual looking at your symptoms and try to address those and over the years as those change," said Knitter. "Progression varies from person to person. Some stay at one stage for the rest of their life. Others progress at varying rates but there is help. At the Foundation we like to say, You may have Parkinson's disease but it doesn't have you. You still might be able to enjoy golf if you play."

Dr. Edwin George has seen the advances in Parkinson's treatment over the years which have improved quality of life. He saw his first patient as a resident in 1987. Today the neurologist serves on the faculty of the Wayne State School of Medicine and treats patients in the university's health center which is part of the DMC. A movement disorder specialist, George also has a PhD in pharmacology so stays up to date on the latest medications. He'll present an overview of Parkinson's Disease which can cause rigidity and slowness or difficulty in movement.

"Parkinson hinders the brain's ability to send messages and make movements happen," said George of Bloomfield Twp. "I'm going to talk about the loss of neurons and why some people lose those neurons. We all lose some as we age, but people with Parkinson lose half of them. There could be a genetic cause and family history. We don't totally understand what those genes do. The other 9 out of 10 (patients) don't have those genes. There probably are some other genes not identified that make people susceptible."

Even though research on the cause is still ongoing physicians today have many more medications to treat the disease.

"People do very well for many years and years longer than they used to because of medications and surgery. We have maybe more than 3 times as many medications now," said George. "All medications have side effects in somebody. One patient may tolerate side effects, some not so now we have other medications which do the same thing, and we have a number of medications to control side effects."

"The other big advance is in surgical treatment. Before CAT and MRI scanners we were unable to access deep parts of the brain. We can now implant very fine wires and provide stimulation in areas to control the motor system. Other areas are still emerging and still experimental. In medications we'd like to find something to stop the loss of the neurons to slow or modulate the progression of the disease. Encouraging is the surgical area where people are trying to implant cells to take the place of lost neurons. Stem cell is thought to be very useful but not established yet. There's also research going on to genetically modify the supporting cells around the dopaminergic neurons."

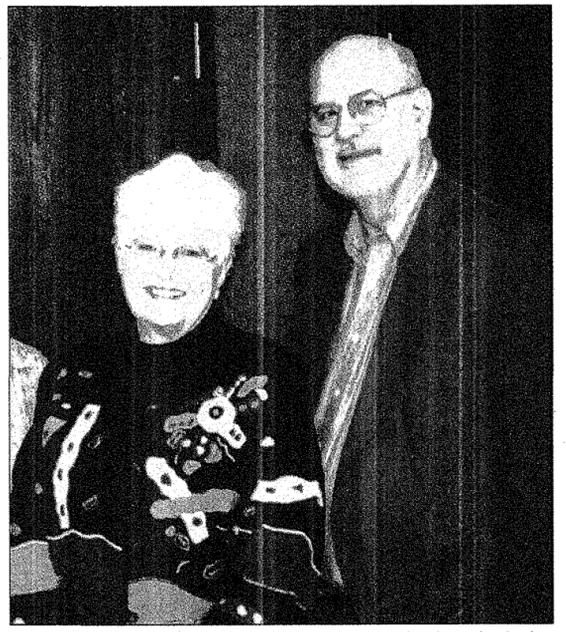

Physicians have learned a great deal over the years about the complexities of the disease by treating patients.

"There are other things affected like blood pressure, the gastrointestinal system. We have ways to manage these non motor symptoms of Parkinson's disease," said George who also sees patients at the John Dingell Veterans Administration Hospital. "There's a greater incidence of depression and memory problems. A lot of benefit can be obtained from physical, occupational and speech therapy, and lifestyle changes. How much difference it makes to get exercise. Patients can benefit from regular activity for constipation and blood regulation, and drinking plenty of fluids. With some medications they need to pay attention to protein intake. Some types of protein interfere with medication getting to the brain."

The Michigan Parkinson Foundation was founded in 1983 to support patients trying to decipher the myriad of information surrounding the disease. The nonprofit organization was actually an outgrowth of the Living with Parkinson's Disease series starting April 28 in Livonia.

"The series was first presented in 1982 when there was nothing for people with Parkinson in Michigan at this time. Patients were saying we want a support group, an organization and we ended up developing the foundation. We now have over 50 support groups in Michigan. The program helps to provide people with good information to get them started in understanding the complexity of the disease. Everybody's course is different. It's very frustrating to have because you don't know what's going to happen from day to day."
