IN BRIEF

City wins award

The City of Westland has been awarded the Honorable Mention City Livability Award by Waste Management Inc. and the U.S. Conference of Mayors. The 2010 City Livability Awards Program recognized the City of Westland for its outstanding leadership in support of urban livability with its Play Planet play structure and H2O Zone spray ground.

The 20 award-winning cities were determined by an independent panel of judges selected by the U.S. Conference of Mayors. The Conference of Mayors City Livability Program honors mayors and their city governments for developing programs that enhance the quality of life in urban areas.

Established in 1979, the City Livability Awards are given annually to 10 mayors and their cities, a first-place award and four Outstanding Achievement Awards for cities under 100,000 in population, and a first-place and four Outstanding Achievement Awards for cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants.

"The City Livability Award is one of the most prestigious and competitive awards by the U.S. Conference of Mayors," said Mayor William Wild. "It is an honor that our city has been chosen amongst hundreds of other city programs that were considered. Moreover, this distinction would not have been possible without the support of our talented staff, generous volunteers and wonderful residents."

The 2010 finalists for cities under 100,000 in population listed alphabetically by city include Aguadilla, Puerto Rico, Albany, N.Y., Burnsville, Minn., Carmel, Ind., Coral Gables, Fla., Gastonia, N.C., Lauderdale, Fla., Maiden, Mass., Norwalk, Conn., Racine, Wis., Reading, Pa., Schaumburg, Ill., Sugar Land, Texas, West Palm Beach, Fla., and Westland.

Fitness classes

Start the new year off with a new fitness class. Just pick the time and style that fits. All of the classes are held at the Bailey Recreation Center, 36651 Ford, in the civic center complex. These classes are all drop-in and pay at the door. No preregistration is required.

The classes include fitness conditioning boot camp 5-6 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, cardio-kickboxing/aerobics 6-7 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, MMA kickboxing 7-8 p.m. Tuesday and/or Thursday and Brazilian Jiu-jitsu 8-9 p.m. Tuesdays and/or Thursdays.

The cost is $5 per person per one-hour class. For more information, call Cody at (734) 686-9882.

Ruby Beneteau remembers what it was like growing up in Detroit. Her father was an alcoholic and the family home lacked amenities. There was no hot water, so she took sponge baths. A pot belly stove provided heat, but not enough to keep icicles from forming inside.

And even shoes were limited. "When you come from a life where you get one pair of shoes a year you can relate to people who are struggling," said Beneteau. "I see families come in with kids who literally share their coats and shoes and have no socks. I see it and it reminds me of my life."

The founder of Lighthouse Home Missions, Beneteau has been serving the needs of the homeless for 27 years, first at her small ranch-style home in Westland as the House of Refuge and now in facilities provided by the Full Gospel Temple on

Police seek suspects who took firefighter's debit card

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

While firefighters from many area departments converged in Wayne after the explosion of the William C. Franks furniture store Dec. 29, someone stole a wallet belonging to a Dearborn firefighter.

Westland police are looking for information on two suspects photographed using the firefighter's stolen debit card to take $1,560 from his credit union account.

The firefighter told Wayne police that he had parked his truck in the parking lot at Northside Hardware about 11 a.m. Dec. 29. The firefighter reported leaving his wallet and other personal items in the rear of the truck which wasn't locked.

Later in the day, the firefighter discovered his wallet missing and made a report with Wayne police. At the end of his shift, the firefighter said he was contacted by his credit union about numerous withdrawals made on his account that appeared suspicious.

Security cameras photographed the two suspects sought in connection with the theft and use of a Dearborn firefighter's debit card.

The firefighter told police that he had a small piece of paper in his wallet on which the PIN for his ATM card had been written.

About 2:45 p.m. on Dec. 29, there were three withdrawals totaling $460 reported at an ATM inside the Exxon gas station at 1810 S. Wayne Road.

The card was used six times just after 1 a.m. Dec. 30 at an ATM at the Marathon gas station at 2646 S. Wayne Road to withdraw $1,100.

Anyone with information about the suspects is asked to call Westland police at (734) 722-9600.

Wild sees success in Westland in 2010

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Looking back at 2010, Westland Mayor William Wild is pleased with progress in the city.

"I know a lot of our residents are still hurting and looking for jobs but from the city's standpoint, we had a pretty good year," said Wild. "Overall, I really think we had a good 2010."

First on Wild's list of accomplishments was completion of a two-year balanced budget — only one year at a time is adopted by the council.

"The two-year budget is what I'm most proud of. We had projected $3.5 million and $12 million deficits (in 2011 and 2012)," said Wild.

Another high point was getting remediation and restoration work under way at Central City Park. Wild's first action as mayor in January 2006 was to close the park due to lead contamination.

"One of the things we said early in the year was that we wanted shovels in the ground by fall. They (the contractors) have done a great job in the short time that they've had," he said.

Once the remediation and restoration plan was approved, ownership of the park

Westland officials remember victims of store explosion

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Two Westland residents, employees killed last week in the explosion that destroyed a Wayne furniture store, were remembered with a moment of silence at the Westland City Council meeting Monday.

Westland Council President James Godbout asked for the moment of silence in honor of William C. Franks Furniture salesman James Zell, 64, and secretary Leslie Machniak, 54, who both died from multiple trauma after the store exploded.

Funeral services were held for Zell Monday. Private services were held for Machniak on Wednesday. Store owner Paul Franks, who was at the rear of the store when the explosion happened, is in serious condition at the University of Michigan Hospital burn center.

Mayor William Wild and council members offered condolences to the families of Zell and Machniak.

"I would ask everyone in Westland to keep them in their thoughts," said Wild.

City officials also praised the response of Westland firefighters and police who were the first to assist Wayne firefighters and police at the scene.

Benefit raises $50,000 for families displaced by fire

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

More than $50,000 in cash and goods have been donated to benefit 39 families displaced by the Dec. 13 fire that destroyed a building at the Waynewood Apartments.

"I want to thank all of the residents who participated, in particular the Westland firefighters," Westland Fire Chief Michael Reddy said. "The response was heart-warming and overwhelming."

The donations were about equally divided between cash and goods — clothes, furniture, toys, food and miscellaneous items.

Each family, which represented a total of 78 people, received $1,250 in gift cards and a check from the Westland Firefighters Public Awareness Committee.

"We received more donated items than we could use for the families — we filled a whole tractor trailer. Donations came from all over southeast Michigan," Reddy said. "We called Goodwill (after the families' needs were met)."

Immediately following the fire, the Westland Fire Department established a donation center for the families at Fire Station 1. Due to the response, the donation center had to be moved to the larger Friendship Center.

Westland Firefighters Local 1279 donated $3,900 — $100 per family. Other donations included $5,000 from the Westland Community Foundation and $4,000 from the Waynewood Apartments management company.

Giftcards were donated by Meijer, Olympic Coney, Mary Denning Cakes and the D.A.V. Store on Middlebelt. A fund-raiser dinner was held at Marvaso's Italian Grille.

The largest contributions came through UAW Local 900 at the Ford Wayne Assembly Plant, which is headed by Westland Councilman Bill Johnson. The local donated $2,000 to the fund-raising dinner, provided a flat-screen television surround sound system raffled for $3,500 and solicited donations from corporations and civic groups totaling more than $20,000.

Along with Johnson, Fire Capt. John Adams was lauded for his efforts spearheading the fund-raising efforts for the Waynewood residents.

The displaced residents have found new apartments in other complexes owned by the same management company as the Waynewood Apartments.

"At the benefit, I talked with some of the families. They were so touched by the response, Some of the folks have moved as far as Southfield. They just wanted to be back in Westland," Mayor William Wild said. "I want to thank Chief Reddy and the fire department. Special thanks to Capt. John Adams, who went above and beyond."

Manager Robert English had each called to thank the Westland firefighters and police for their assistance following the store, believed to have exploded due to a natural gas leak, said Wild.

Westland provided 23 firefighters plus two firefighters who are members of the Southeast Michigan Urban Search and Rescue team which recovered the victims.

USAR held a large training exercise in Westland at two homes in Norwayne nearly a year ago, said Westland Fire Chief Michael Reddy.

"It was about two miles away (from the Wayne Road furniture store). The full USAR response was like the drill — they knew the area, the radio and the tactics," said Reddy. "There was triumph that Mr. Franks was pulled out. There was the tragedy of two lives lost but they got the best response possible due to that training. Our prayers and hearts go out to those who lost family members."

The Wayne Chamber of Commerce has created the William C. Franks Disaster Fund to assist families affected by the explosion. Donations can be sent in the name of the fund in care of Wayne-Westland Federal Credit Union, 500 S. Wayne Road, Westland 48186. For information, call the credit union at (734) 721-5700 or go to www.wwfcu.org.

The cause of the explosion is still being investigated. A part of the Consumers gas main believed to be the source of the gas leak was removed when the repair was made and is being tested.

Godbout sees similarities in response to flooding, explosion

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

At a meeting where firefighters and police were praised for their response to the explosion of a Wayne furniture store, Westland Council President James Godbout could see some irony in continued criticism over the city's cleanup efforts after extensive flooding in June.

"There was an outstanding job by both the fire department and police department. Everyone came to the forefront and stepped up," said Godbout. "We're criticized for responding to one disaster and praised for responding to another. When you respond to a disaster, you don't look at the cost. You step up and protect residents."

There will be costs connected to the fire and police departments assisting Wayne following the recent explosion at the William C. Franks Furniture store, located on Wayne Road just south of Glenwood — a dividing line between the two cities. There are also costs generated by responding to the fire that destroyed a 40-unit building at the Waynewood Apartments earlier in December.

"People expect leaders to step up," said Godbout.

The council president was responding to the comments from resident Burke Rock, who continued his criticism of $2.2 million incurred when the city hired Belfor to help flooded residents dry and sanitize their homes following the June flooding.

Despite an opinion from the city attorney that Mayor William Wild acted legally under the city charter, Rock continued to argue that the mayor had violated his oath of office by authorizing the emergency cleanup. The city auditors are going to make a recommendation on how to pay for the cleanup but it's expected it will come from the water and sewer fund.

"I request that at least one person stand up and seek an outside legal opinion before one penny is paid to Belfor," said Rock, who objected to city funds being used to pay for the cleanup. "There is a conflict of interest with the city attorney, who is paid $500,000. I would like an outside law opinion."

No one on the council supported the idea of a second legal opinion.

Donations of clothing are distributed by appointment to needy families and used for the homeless who come to the mission's warming center during January, February and March.

has clothed 3,384 so far this year. The warming center housed 145 people, while the soup kitchen has served 8,466 meals. Another 8,795 have been helped through the food pantry. And the Churches United Against Hunger, a collaboration of 27 churches in the area, has helped 84,293 people. At Thanksgiving, 225 people received food baskets and the number for Christmas baskets was 235.

"We're seeing people come to us who used to give us help," said Beneteau. "Many of the people coming here are working families. They're able to pay their bills but have little money for food. The main thing I'm trying to get across is that it's not about drugs and alcohol. We're seeing more families that are homeless."

Full Gospel Temple pastor Michael Enerson and his congregation reached out to Beneteau, first by helping clean and build racks for the donated clothing that filled her garage and putting up shelves in the basement for food. They also donated a freezer.

When the church built a new sanctuary, Enerson offered the old building to Beneteau. At the time she relocated to the former church, she was housing 78 people in her home. People saw what she was doing and started bringing her food and clothing. Her three sons would sell candy for Michigan Elite Teens and use the money to buy food. Dinner sometimes was 300 kid-sized hamburgers.

"A lot of those who came to the house were young people who had been abused, a lot of people who were hurting came to us," she said. "We had older couples with us. They'd call us mom and dad like the young people. We house all ages, all races."

Enerson shares in Beneteau's passion. He grew up in Detroit's Herman Gardens. He was one of six children his mother raised on state assistance.

"It was humble beginnings, so I understand about not having the necessities," he said. "I had just the basics."

BIBLE IS GUIDE

As a pastor, he looks to the Bible to guide him, but knows there's a difference between religion and relations.

"Jesus said comfort the poor, but there's a difference," he said. "Religion talks about God, relations is acting like him."

Both Beneteau and Enerson realize the current setup is temporary. Most of the homeless are singles and youth 19-21 years old who are trying to make it on their own, but it's hard because the startup costs are so great.

Both pastors realize that the current building is inadequate in meeting the needs of the poor and homeless. A more permanent building is needed to help them get back on their feet. They would like to see the CUAH churches duplicate what's being done at Full Gospel Temple. With churches sitting heated and empty most of the week, they could be used to provide a warm place to sleep at night. If more churches did that, more people could be helped.

"When I turned this building over to Lighthouse it cost $2,500 a month for heat," said Enerson. "It was a big building, sitting empty, so why not open it and use it for the poor and the homeless. We had people out sleeping in the snow and all we had to do was open the doors and bring them in."

"The churches are the lighthouses, there's one on almost every corner," said Beneteau. "If we use them as lighthouses, we'll be able to meet the needs of the poor. People look at our numbers and say it's wonderful what we're doing. We say it's sad because we could do so much more. Without a new building, we can only do so much."

"Most people are two paychecks away from being homeless, it's not going to get better overnight," she added. "We could do more than feed and shelter them."

They are thankful for the volunteers that have stepped up to help. Churches in Canton and Westland have taken on the responsibility of helping with food and watchmen at the warming center. Many of the homeless Lighthouse has helped also have come back to work there.

"It's an absolute miracle with all the volunteers," said Beneteau. "The more we have the more we can provide. I really believe God will not just provide for us, but provide for us to help others."

was also transferred to the city from Wayne County, which had leased the land to Westland. Work on the remediation and restoration, including walking paths, soccer fields and parking are to be completed in June.

During 2010, Westland also completed the first year of the curbside recycling program which removed over 12 million pounds of trash from the landfill.

percent of households participating," said Wild. "There are probably 10 percent of people who just won't do it and we also have vacant homes."

The city has also been putting a lot of effort in the federally funded Neighborhood Stabilization Program, he said, having committed the entire $2 million grant. Much of the city's efforts has focused on Norwayne where blighted homes are being demolished to help reduce the high density of the area.

"We've been trying to revitalize the Norwayne community," said Wild. "We had a road project, a community cleanup and are using the NSP dollars there. We've got an active citizens committee that has formed. I think we can use that to tie all together. The citizens committee will help us gain traction in Norwayne."

Economic development has also been positive in 2010, Wild said, most notably the announcement that the former Showcase Cinema will be replaced by a $14 million new state of the art 16-screen MJR theater.

Youth Assistance offers mentor training

Training for adults interested in mentoring local teens is being offered by the Westland Youth Assistance Program and the Garden City Family Resource Center.

New mentor training will be held 5:30-9:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 7, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 8, and 5:30-8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 11. Mentors do not have to live in Westland or Garden City.

"I know this is intense training — it's not typical. We hope to capture some adults with a New Year's resolution to help the community," Westland Youth Assistance Director Paul Motz said.

"Helping one kid helps the community."

Currently, Youth Assistance has 20 youngsters matched with adult mentors, Motz said, with another 10 kids waiting to be matched. The training includes listening and communication techniques to help provide support to teens.

"We believe the need for mentors will grow in 2011," Motz said.

Scout recycles unwanted mail 'to save trees'

Erica Buda has found a good use for all those unwanted holiday advertisements that come in the mail - and her idea could earn the 10-year-old Westland resident the Girl Scout Bronze Award in the process.

Within the first month of her project, Erica has collected and recycled more than 400 pounds of the unclaimed circulars, catalogs and magazines she finds around her father's apartment complex.

It all started when the fifth-grade student at Cooper Upper Elementary was looking for ideas for her Girl Scouts Bronze Award project. The Bronze Award is the highest award a Junior Girl Scout can earn. She noticed all of the uncollected advertisements piling up around her father's apartment complex, and when she learned that the complex does not recycle, she decided to do something about it.

"At my mom's house we recycle, but I saw they don't do it at my dad's complex, so my dad and I started going around and collecting from the buildings. We collect once a week," she said.

Erica and her father Joe fill at least two laundry baskets with the unclaimed circulars on each trip.

"We need to save the trees, and we should recycle," Erica said.

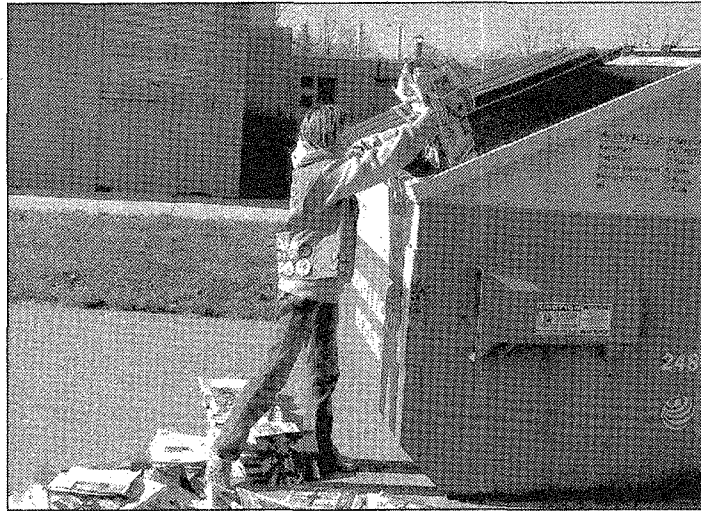

She plans to continue collecting until she submits her Bronze Award project next year.

Erica is one of nearly 30,000 girls actively participating in Girl Scouting with Girl Scouts of Southeastern Michigan. She's an individual Girl Scout which means she isn't in a troop. Girl Scouting allows flexibility in how a girl participates with six Pathways. Pathways are Troop, Series, Events, Camp, Travel and Virtual (online). A girl can choose how she participates in Girl Scouts according to her interests and schedule.

Driver in fatal accident to have competency exam

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Hinz

A preliminary examination for a Westland man charged with killing a pedestrian struck by his vehicle has been delayed to allow time for a competency examination.

Terry Albert Hinz, 44, has been charged with involuntary manslaughter in the Aug. 4 death of Patricia Beaver, 19, of Sumpter Township. Police said Beaver was crossing Cherry Hill southbound at Wildwood at about 10 p.m. when she was hit.

"He (Hinz) made statements to officers at the scene that he ran the red light - that the light turned red just as he went underneath it," said Westland police Sgt. Patrick Corby.

Following the accident, Hinz was released pending further investigation. Corby said that toxicology reports showed that neither Hinz or Beaver had drugs or alcohol in their system at the time of the accident.

Beaver had been at her father's Westland home, which is located near the intersection. Based on information from her family, Corby said Beaver was walking to the 7-Eleven store at Wayne Road and Avondale. Damage to the vehicle also indicated Beaver was walking south through the intersection, he said.

Free on $12,500 cash/surety bond, Hinz was scheduled for preliminary examination in Westland 18th District Court Dec. 28 before Judge Sandra Cicirelli. The defense requested an adjournment so that a competency examination could be done on Hinz, who was described in court as having diminished mental capabilities and as being a resident of a group home.

The case will be reviewed mid-March to determine the status of the competency evaluation and when a preliminary examination might be scheduled.

Detroit Lions player's relative charged in gun case

Canton police say Detroit Lions safety Louis Delmas didn't receive any preferential treatment when he wasn't charged — though his relative was — following a road rage incident involving a gun in December.

"The investigation was conducted, and (Delmas) was listed as a witness," police Sgt. Mark Gajeski said. "The gun was registered to him, but he has a concealed pistol license out of Florida."

Ravelle Sadler, a 20-year-old Cincinnati resident, faces trial on five weapons charges amid allegations he pointed a .40-caliber semiautomatic handgun at three teens while he was driving a silver Nissan Titan pickup truck on Ford Road about 2:15 a.m. Dec. 21. Delmas was a passenger in the Nissan.

Delmas, 23, told police Sadler was his brother. Gajeski said. Delmas lists his address as Miami, Fla., but lives in Canton during the football season, Gajeski said.

Sadler is accused of pointing the gun at the Garden City and Canton males — ages 16, 17 and 18 — after the teens drove alongside the Nissan near Ford and Lilley as one of them wore a Michael Myers-style Halloween mask while traveling west on Ford Road in Canton, police said. One of the teens told police the mask was worn as "a joke," according to a police report.

Delmas wasn't charged even though the gun was his,

Gajeski said.

"There has been no indication that he gave (Sadler) the gun," Gajeski said. "We do not foresee any charges against (Delmas) in the future."

Detective Sgt. Dave Schreiner said police investigated the incident and turned the information over to the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, which decides criminal charges.

"Our job is to do what's right and make sound decisions that are not based on public opinion or somebody's popularity as a public figure," Schreiner said.

Just this week, Sadler was ordered to stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on three counts of assault with a dangerous weapon, one felony firearm charge and one count of carrying a concealed weapon.

If convicted, he could face penalties ranging up to five years in prison. The felony firearm charge carries a mandatory two-year term upon conviction.

Some people, including some readers of the Observer's online edition, have said the teens shouldn't have been involved in donning a mask for a prank after 2 a.m.

According to a police report, the teens feared Sadler was going to fire the gun, but they trailed the Nissan and called 9-1-1, prompting police to stop the truck near Ford and Ridge roads.

Police handcuffed Sadler who, according to the police report, initially denied knowing anything about a gun being inside the vehicle. Police said Delmas confirmed there was a gun in the truck, that it was his and could be found in a passenger side door panel.

The police report said the gun's chamber was clear of any rounds, but the weapon had a magazine containing 12 rounds.

One of the teens told police Delmas could be seen looking at their car, though a police report said Delmas told authorities he was half-asleep until he woke up and saw Sadler with a gun. The report said Delmas told police he reached over to take the gun from Sadler and wasn't sure if, during the process, the weapon may have been inadvertently pointed at the teens' car.

Delmas told police he carried the gun for personal protection. The report said he earlier had two alcohol beverages and decided to let Sadler drive. Delmas initially told police the gun was in the driver's side door and remained there after Sadler got behind the wheel.

However, the police report indicated Delmas later made another statement saying Sadler had only pointed his fingers at the teens' car and that the gun was in the passenger door panel the entire time.

Meanwhile, Sadler was bound over Monday during a preliminary examination in Plymouth 35th District Court. His bond was set at $30,000/10 percent.

Police arrest man reportedly involved in home break-in

Assault

A 48-year-old Garden City man was transported to Oakwood Hospital about 2:30 a.m. Jan. 1 after he was assaulted in the parking lot of Albert's on the Alley, 5651 Middlebelt.

He was treated for head and facial contusions at the hospital.

His friend, a 51-year-old Garden City man, said that he and the victim took turns buying each other drinks throughout the night. When his friend left, he decided to follow him out to the parking lot to make sure that he didn't drive while drunk.

He found his friend in a pickup truck that wasn't his, trying to start the vehicle without any keys and by using only his hands. He believed that his friend entered the vehicle by mistake because his own vehicle was just a short distance away.

About that time, the owner of the truck came out of Albert's and became angry because he thought the victim and his friend was trying to steal his truck. He pulled the victim from the truck, punched him and the victim's head hit the ground.

He allegedly also struck the friend who was trying to help but he refused treatment. The suspect drove his truck away and was gone when the police arrived.

Arrest

The police arrested a 24-year-old man in the 28000 block of Elmwood after an investigation in connection with a home invasion in Garden City.

They found a bicycle on the front lawn when they arrived.

It's believed to be the suspect's method of transportation. Although the police could see inside of the house, the man initially refused to answer the door.

They obtained permission from the homeowner to enter the house.

Police saw that the man was bleeding from his right hand and the right side of his head. It's believed that he used his hand to break the window to enter the home.

The police also found a TV set and other items covered in blood and a blanket covering up some jewelry.

While inside the home, a girl came up to one of the officers showed them a bracelet. According to the police report, she said "Hey, look what my Daddy just gave me."

Home invasion

A dog sitter for a home in the 29080 block of Balmoral reported a break-in about 11 p.m. Dec. 31.

He found the door open and a TV set in the street when he came to check on the house because the owner was in Ohio at the time.

The police observed a lot of search activity in the home.

A witness on the same block said that he saw an unknown 35-40-year-old man hanging around the area and also inside of a vehicle parked in the 28600 block of Elmwood.

Breaking and entering

A 16-year-old Redford Township youth was arrested as a suspect in the break-in of the A to Z Comics store at 32647 Ford about 3 a.m. Dec. 23. A surveillance camera captured the image of a male suspect about 5-foot-6 carrying a white cash register. A Redford teen was recognized and contacted at his home where he was arrested.

Home invasions

A woman returned to her home about 8:30 p.m. Jan. 3 in the 33000 block of Donnelly to find the rear door damaged. Cash and coins were taken.

A resident in the 33000 block of Block reported that he side door was forced in sometime before 8:30 p.m. Jan. 3. Many pieces of jewelry valued at thousands of dollars was reportedly stolen. An observer reported seeing an SUV with tinted windows in the area about that time.

The police are investigating all leads including whether the jewelry was taken by a man known to the family.

The owner said that items disappeared in the past but she didn't file a police report.

A resident in the 1000 block of Lathers came home about midnight Jan. 3 to find her front door open and a bedroom ransacked. Dresser drawers were disturbed and someone stole prescription Seroquel and Hydrocodone.

Also taken were a Pandora bracelet with charms and a Tommy Hilfiger watch.

Property damage

A resident in the 27500 block of Sheridan reported that a driver destroyed a Neighborhood Watch sign sometime before 7:45 a.m. Jan. 1. The driver didn't stop and wasn't there when the police arrived.

The damaged sign was turned over to the Garden City Department of Public Services. —By Sue Buck

Fatal pedestrian accident under investigation

Livonia police continued an investigation this week into a fatal pedestrian accident on Five Mile, just east of Middlebelt, on Dec. 29.

A 51-year-old Westland woman was struck by a vehicle driven eastbound by a 26-year-old Redford man shortly after 8 p.m. while she crossed from the north side of Five Mile.

Livonia police and Livonia Fire and Rescue units responded to the crash scene.

The pedestrian was taken to Botsford Hospital, where she was pronounced dead.

Witnesses told police two pedestrians ran across Five Mile. "The second pedestrian was trailing behind the other and was struck by an east-bound vehicle," said Sgt. John Gibbs of the Livonia Police Department.

"The eastbound vehicle came to a stop after impact," Gibbs said.

The headlights to the vehicle were on at the time of the crash, according to police.

Alcohol and drugs were not factors in the crash, Gibbs said.

Gibbs said the two pedestrians had just purchased items from a nearby convenience store before crossing the street.

Contractors working on Middlebelt recently installed countdown signals for pedestrians crossing at Five Mile, Gibbs said.

Westland's Jaylee Modos donated blood during an American Red Cross blood drive at Westland's Faust Library. Her mother Janet accompanied her but wasn't able to donate due to a temporary deferral.

Donors turn out for blood drive

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Sitting inside the entrance of Westland's William P. Faust Library, Diane Ashburn called out to anyone passing as she tried to drum up potential blood donors.

"Good thing I don't mind rejection," said Ashburn, an American Red Cross volunteer who was actually convincing some passersby to stop in at the recent blood drive. "There is a such a critical need for blood."

An enthusiastic supporter of blood donations, Ashburn worked in donor services at the Red Cross for 17 years and moved to volunteering for the organization after retiring three years ago. Midway through the blood drive, donations were on track to at least meet the 25-pint goal.

Westland resident Janet Modos was at the blood drive with her daughter Jaylee, 18, who was giving blood. "I've donated a few gallons (over the years). I have a deferral at the moment, but I'll be back," Janet Modos said.

A Schoolcraft College student, Jaylee Modos said she didn't know her mother wasn't going to be able to donate when they came to the library.

"I donated blood when I was at (Livonia) Franklin High School. I do it to help others. It's simple to do," Jaylee Modos said.

"And a few people we know have needed transfusions, so we've definitely seen the need. It's something easy to do and it doesn't take a lot of time," Janet Modos added.

Having juice and a snack after his blood donation, Westland resident Chad Irvin said he tried to make donations regularly, but hadn't donated for about a year.

"I got a card in the mail, so I came in. You never know what will happen," Irvin said. "You might be able to help people out and I want to make sure they have my own blood type on hand, if I need it."

When he posted his plans to donate blood on his Facebook page, Irvin said he got a positive response.

About 39 donors are usually needed to get 25 donated pints of blood, said Gail Wells, an American Red Cross donor services representative, since some people will be deferred for illness or other reasons.

"We're getting quite a few walk-ins at this drive. We encourage appointments because it helps us with processing — people with appointments will be processed first," Wells said. "Generally, people should allow an hour for blood donation. Some people may have a lot to discuss (during the screening) and some people have a faster blood flow than others."

AROUND WESTLAND

Bible talks

Bible Talks will be held at the Bailey Recreation Center in Westland at 4 p.m. Sundays Jan. 9–Feb. 6. Presenting, in simplicity, the truth as it is in Jesus Christ, no collections or literature. Everyone is welcome.

Play auditions

Inspire Theatre announces auditions for The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940 at 6:30 p.m. Monday–Tuesday, Jan. 10–11, at the Inspire Theatre inside Warren Road Light and Life Church, 33445 Warren Road, Westland.

Being sought are five men and five women ages 18–70ish. No singing or dancing involved. Arrive on time and come prepared to do cold readings.

The plot concerns several showbiz folks that have been gathered into a mansion house to flush out a serial killer. As the events unfold, there are bits from the past that seem to come back and haunt some of the characters. Once folks start dying off, the madcap search to find the killer begins. It's a door-slamming ride to a very funny finish line.

If you liked the movie Clue, you'll love 1940. The performances are scheduled for March 4–6 and 11–13. For more information, call (734) 751-7057.

Nu-Calm uses four sensory applications, including music and black-out glasses to provide all-natural, drug-free technology to dental patients.

Westland lab tapped to do NuCalm training

Solace, a pioneer in the fields of applied neuropsychobiology and bioinformatics and manufacturers of NuCalm, the first all-natural, drug-free technology proven to naturally alleviate anxiety and stress, has announced a strategic partnership with Expertec Dental Laboratory Inc. in Westland.

Expertec will now offer continuing education courses on NuCalm in both lecture and live demonstration formats. The partnership makes Expertec the exclusive lab provider for NuCalm-based CE programs to dental professionals in Michigan. Courses will be hosted by Expertec as part of its ongoing curriculum and conducted by members of Solace's elite dental advisory board.

"Continuing education is a key driver for us to boost awareness for NuCalm as we pioneer applied neuropsychobiology in the dental industry," said Solace President and Chief Executive Officer Jim Poole. "It's paramount for us to find the right labs to partner with to become local centers of excellence for NuCalm nationwide."

"Our partners are an extension of our brand and customer experience. Therefore, we spend a lot of time vetting high-end esthetic dental labs to find those who truly understand the importance of providing leading-edge CE programs for their valued customers," he added. "Expertec Dental Laboratory is an excellent example of the type of partner we look for that offers tangible and intangible ways to provide value to their dentists, and can extend the NuCalm brand to the dental profession in Greater Michigan."

Expertec is a member of the Technical Research Consortium, a select group of independently owned regional dental laboratories across North America striving to bring leading-edge technology to its member dentists and provide the highest level of dentistry possible to their patients.

Liz Cascaden, director of marketing for Expertec, sees the partnership as an ideal fit for both companies. "Expertec is committed to providing the finest quality prosthetics, technical innovation and continuing education programs," she said. "Our customers come to us to discover the newest technologies to enhance their practices and increase their patient offerings. We believe NuCalm is going to be very popular with our customers and look forward to introducing this exciting technology to dental professionals throughout Michigan."

NuCalm has already proven popular in Michigan, according to Poole.

"At our last two CE programs in Michigan, over 80 percent of the participants purchased NuCalm systems, which is even more amazing given the current economic hardship in the state," he said. "We have every expectation Expertec will continue and even exceed this trend."

NuCalm leverages the synergistic benefits of four sensory applications. First, the patient chews the NuCalm tablets. Second, two patches are placed behind the ears and attached to the CES device for mild stimulation. Third, noise-dampening headphones are fitted on the patient - an MP3 player provides the neuroacoustic software embedded in classical music (the binaural-beat wavelength is actually masked by the music). Lastly, black-out glasses are placed on the patient.

The relaxation experience lasts as long as the patient listens to the neuroacoustic software. NuCalm has been used effectively for procedures lasting more than nine hours.

NuCalm causes no side effects and requires no recuperative time or post-procedure supervision, meaning patients can drive, return to work, play sports, or partake in any other type of activity with no restrictions immediately after having the procedure.

Motivation: the WHY Factor

Good morning, Michigan! It's a new day, and with that comes new challenges, i.e. opportunities. But to accomplish much of anything, we need motivation. So where does it come from?

The key to motivation is the WHY factor.

Why? Why? Why? Most of us begin torturing our parents with this question as soon as we learned to talk. We were obsessed with it. Why - because it's the most important question.

Everything we do has a WHY factor. I eat because I'm hungry; I pay the gas bill because I want heat, etc. If we don't have a reason for doing something, chances are

Clarity Patton Newhouse

we won't do it.

So here's the point, the key to motivation. Accomplishing something great - anything that we aspire to - requires a Red Hot Why. RED HOT. That's how success coach James Malinchak describes it.

Just focusing on the goal, such as "I want to be a millionaire," isn't sufficient motivation. We need a burning reason "why," a reason so hot it keeps us going through all the struggles we'll face on our way to our goal. Some experts suggest creating photo collages for your computer's screen saver or other visual reminders of the reasons why, such as the house you'll build with the extra money or the exotic destination you'll visit.

Determining "what" you want to accomplish will help you get out of the starting gate but determining "why" will help you cross the finish line.

Why do I write Sunny Notes? Because I want to be helpful and reliable, bringing you cheer. So I'm here to say I hope you have a sunny day!

First Step's Ellis aims to make every family safe

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Judy Ellis remembers the day she volunteered to go to court with a woman who had been viciously attacked by her husband after she filed for divorce. The experience is why she has remained with First Step 30 years after answering an ad looking for volunteers.

"I know it's why I'm still here," said Ellis. "It was so horrific. We didn't get a chance to speak in court, there was no victim's rights."

The executive director of First Step for more than 25 years, Ellis has led the Western and Downriver Wayne County Project on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault from its infancy to a $2.6 million nonprofit serving victims and their families in 36 communities.

In 2008-09, First Step touched the lives of 16,480 people. It provided 8,736 nights of safe shelter and through its community response advocates supported 2,586 survivors.

It's a far cry from the seven staffers and three active volunteers Ellis encountered in 1980, but her experiences then have kept her committed to one day having a community — a county — free of domestic violence and sexual assault.

"We hope that by educating people that they will understand that it's every third house," said Ellis.

"What we're about is responsibility, accountability and safety."

HER MISSION

And that was what Ellis knew she needed to provide that victim the day she walked out of the courtroom with her.

The woman's husband had cut off her ear and slashed her hands and face. He had been charged with felonious assault

Judy Ellis started out as a volunteer, but 30 years later she is a champion for the victims of sexual assault and domestic violence as the executive director of First Step.

less than murder, and the prosecutor had assured the woman that he would get jail time. Instead, Ellis and the woman sat and listened in disbelief as the judge announced one year probation.

Active in his church, members of the congregation "showed up in their Sunday best" to support for him because she had filed for divorce. They even wrote letters on his behalf.

"He got away with it all," Ellis recalled. "As we walked out of the courtroom, all I could think was that I had to get her out of the state. She choked out, 'Judy, I don't think I'm worth anything.' At that time I made the commitment that things had to change."

And a lot has.

At that time it fell on the victim to pursue charges and most times assaults were deemed misdemeanors. Today, assault is no longer seen as the fault of the victim. Police officers receive training in handling domestic violence and sexual assault. The legal system pursues the charges.

There are laws on the books, however, there isn't the jail space or the resources to prosecute, Ellis said.

PARTNERS HELP

First Step, through partnerships like the one it has with the Oakwood Healthcare System, is there to provide free shelter, counseling, advocacy, assault response, 24-hour help line, legal information, children's counseling and programs, community response, food, clothing, transitional housing and other support to survivors of violence and their families.

It works with victims to understand what may happen.

"We don't tell them what to do, we help the individual see the lethality of it," said Ellis. "When we started, we saw women who were assaulted. It wasn't the same level of lethality you see today. You didn't see the children involved."

Admittedly, it's a constant challenge to raise money, especially in the current economy. And it comes at a time when more people are needing help. But First Step is able to offer more now, including 22 units to house victims and their families for up to two years. Sheltering is short term, transitional housing buys times so victims can get training and set goals, according to Ellis.

"We have to help all people be empowered so they can take action and tell people what has happened," she added. "We need to let them know there are ways to keep them safe. The right adults will do whatever they can to keep them safe."

NEW FACILITY

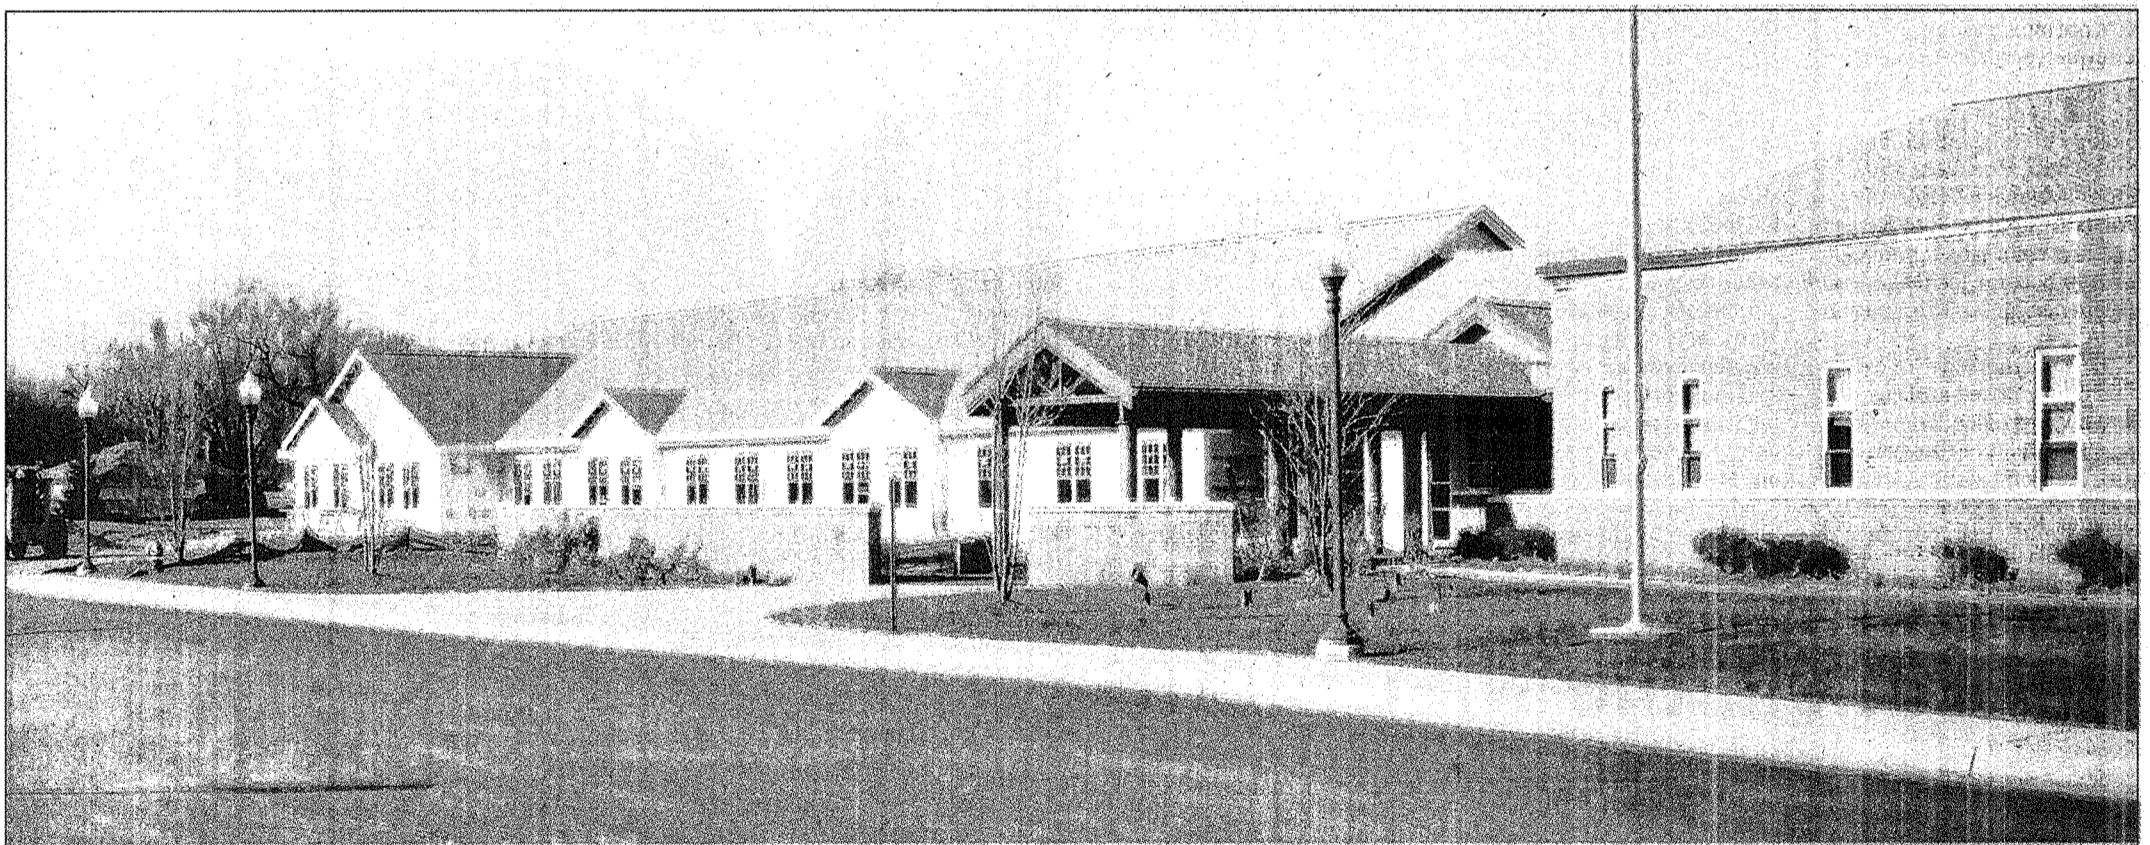

While some might consider the construction of a 14,000-square foot residential facility attached to the Family Center in Wayne as her crowning achievement, Ellis says it is volunteers who have helped the agency over the years. They are a "most powerful tool," people who have gotten involved and made it work.

"They get it, they understand and they're involved," she said. "It's a movement. Unfortunately, it should be further along. We're not there yet. We need zero tolerance, people need to be held accountable."

While she will be happy to see families move into the new facility, she admits the work is not done, not until every family is safe. In fact, it would be a "beautiful day when the phones aren't ringing not because they don't know us, but that the perpetrators know they will be held accountable."

"The most encouraging thing is that I'm working with the very best of people and their goal is to see change," Ellis said. "I'm honored to be a part of this agency."

First Step looks for help to finish new facility in Wayne

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It goes without saying that First Step has come a long way since its humble beginnings in a small white house next to Nankin Mills in Hines Park more than 30 years ago.

Formed in 1978 as an agency to assist survivors of domestic violence in western Wayne County, it now serves the victims of domestic violence and sexual assault in 36 communities, a 500-square-mile area stretching from Eight Mile Road on the north to Downriver in the south and from Redford on the east to Canton on the south.

According to First Step Executive Director Judy Ellis, the role of First Step also has changed over the years. In the beginning, it reacted to cases of domestic violence and later sexual assault. Today, it is proactive by contacting victims, letting them know what First Step is about and the services it has available.

"A big part of what we do is helping families," she said. "Victims need immediate support, but so does the family members. They need support, they need to know what to expect."

First Step has offices in Plymouth and Redford and a Family Center in Wayne as well as community sites with advocates to work with victims in Westland, Redford, Wayne Taylor, Inkster, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Lincoln Park, 33rd District Court in Woodhaven and 34th District Court in Romulus.

For Ellis, it has been "a dream for a very long time to have a building where people can live in dignity" and that is becoming a reality with the construction of the Karen Colina Wilson Family Center.

The new facility is a far cry from previous First Step emergency housing. Initially, the agency used a former group home at Five Mile and Sheldon and then bought a former nursing home on Ridge west of Beck in Canton Township. The latter facility, which First Step used for more than 20 years, was closed in 2008. Families are now in temporary housing until the new facility is completed "the first weekend in March."

The new residential facility will be attached to the west side of the Family Center at 4400 Venoy at Annapolis in Wayne. It will have 12 apartment-like suites with private baths, small kitchens and living areas.

The walls are up, the roof is on and windows have been installed in the 14,000-square-foot addition which Ellis calls "amazing." But First Step is still looking for in-kind and financial donations to complete the $5.5 million project. The push is on for funds to add the technology and security needed for the facility as well as a children's play area among other things.

"There will be no other facility like it in the state, but we need a lot of financial support," she said.

The agency is looking for help in identifying potential donors, such as individuals, service groups, businesses, foundations and religious organizations, as well as gifts to its capital campaign.

Donations also can be dropped off at its offices at 44567 Pinetree Drive at Sheldon north of Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth and at its Wayne Family Center on Venoy south of Michigan Avenue.

For information about First Step's new building, to donate or schedule a tour, call (734) 416-1111.

Website lets homebuyers shop for title insurance

Home buyers and sellers in the Detroit metropolitan area now have a new tool to help them shop for competitive title insurance rates.

The Wayne County Register of Deeds office has a new feature on its website - www.waynecounty-landrecords.com - which enables consumers to compare rates from various title insurance carriers.

According to Bernard J. Youngblood, the Wayne County Register of Deeds, the website's rate calculator prompts consumers to enter either their purchasing and financing cost or their selling price. They will then immediately receive pricing information from the title insurance companies that are licensed in Michigan. The information includes website links and phone numbers for the various providers.

"Our rate calculator is a great tool for home buyers and home sellers," said Youngblood. "It empowers consumers to make informed decisions and it brings transparency to a purchase that consumers generally have no awareness of or control over."

He added that the cost of title insurance is a great unknown, one that is usually presented to consumers at the last minute at the real estate closing.

"It's too late then to do anything about it," Youngblood said. "Consumers should begin shopping for title insurance when they complete a purchase agreement to either buy or sell a house. With our new rate calculator, they can shop for rates quickly and easily."

He added that Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties are among the most uncompetitive title insurance markets in the country. Earlier this year, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) cited the tri-county area as one of two regions in the country (Portland, Oregon, being the other) where a monopoly exists in the title insurance market.

"We believe this website will help stimulate competition among the title insurance providers and result in more competitive rates for Wayne County consumers," Youngblood said.

For example, on a $200,000 home purchase with a mortgage amount of $150,000, the cost of a title insurance policy for a home buyer ranges from $536 to $892.25.

"That's a significant difference a consumer may never be aware of," Youngblood said. "It's a savings that the consumer can invest in their property or somewhere else."

The Register of Deeds' new rate calculator is part of the office's ongoing commitment to advocate for Wayne County consumers. The office also established the nation's first Mortgage & Deed Fraud Task Force, which targets individuals who attempt to falsify land records.

"Mortgage and deed fraud is a growing problem, especially with tech-savvy criminals who have been preying on innocent victims," Youngblood said.

The county task force was created by Youngblood in conjunction with the Wayne County Prosecutor and Wayne County Sheriff in 2005. Since its formation, it has a 100 percent conviction rate, having opened 742 cases and returning 112 homes valued at more than $5.4 million to their rightful owners.

Youngblood said similar units patterned after Wayne County's have been established in Cook County, Illinois, and other large counties across the country.

Tax planning important for the new year

Happy New Year! The holidays are over and it's time to get back to the real world. A couple things that happened over the last few weeks may have avoided reader attention so I thought I'd be a good idea to touch upon some of them.

Last month, Congress passed and President Barack Obama signed an extension of the Bush era tax cuts. Although, the main conversation about the extension was whether the tax cuts should go to the wealthy or not, there are some other consequences of the legislation that are important.

The first deals with people who itemize deductions. If you itemize and get your return done early, you may not be able to do so this year. Because the tax bill was passed so late in the year, the Internal Revenue Service needs time to adjust to the changes. Therefore, if you itemize your deductions you will not be able to file your tax return until at least mid-February or later. According to the IRS this issue affects taxpayers who itemize deductions on Form 1040, Schedule A.

Over the next month or so you will receive a variety of tax documents including 1099s and W-2s. Save these documents. The one sure way to have the IRS scrutinize your return is failing to report income from a W-2 and 1099. The new tax law also contained a provision that allows people over age 70½ and who are required to take a minimum required distribution from a retirement account to donate up to $100,000 of the IRA directly to charity. This was allowed in 2009 but until the Bush era tax cuts were extended, this was not allowed in 2010. Unfortunately, by the time the president signed the legislation the great majority of people could not take advantage of this provision. However, it is available in 2011. As opposed to taking the minimum required distribution at 70½ or older, you can have that money directly transferred into a charity. Particularly, for those who are generous in nature and who do not itemize deductions, this could be an excellent tax-planning strategy.

Another part of the new tax law deals with estates. Starting this year the first $5 million of an estate is tax free. An estate over $5 million will be taxed starting at 35 percent. In 2009, the first $3.5 million of an estate was estate tax-free. In 2010, there were no estate taxes so you could leave an unlimited amount of money to your beneficiaries without any estate tax. Prior to the change in law, in 2011 the estate tax exemption was set to be $1 million. This would have taxed more and more Americans. Now at least for the next few years there is some certainty in the estate tax system.

As a side note, for the majority of people there is no reason to pay estate taxes. A good estate plan that contains a living trust is one of the best ways for a family to avoid estate taxes.

There are lots of other changes to the tax law that are too numerous to mention. I guess you can analogize our tax laws to the weather in Michigan — constantly changing.

Therefore, my advice when it comes to taxes is never do long-term planning, never assume that you know the tax law and never be afraid to consult with a professional where needed. Good luck!

OUR VIEWS

Stand strong in 2011

Leaders, citizens work together on budget challenges

Another year of shrinking revenues for Westland and the Wayne-Westland Community Schools is behind us, but forecasts show we're not in the clear for 2011.

As depressing as it sounds, it's a reality that property values will continue to decline, bringing precious revenue flows to a trickle for our communities and our schools. State economic forecasters say we won't see an uptick until at least 2012.

Given this reality, we can only think of one New Year's resolution for the City of Westland and Wayne-Westland Community Schools: Keep on keeping on, with what you've got, in the smartest possible way.

Residents, students and parents of W-W students may not notice reductions in services, but the Board of Education has done a remarkable job — thus far — of keeping such cuts out of the classroom. If the economic picture doesn't improve, that may not be true for long.

We've seen evidence in our communities and in the school district of financial frugality and foresight in the past few years and we're confident this will continue in the new year.

It's important for leaders in each community and in the school district to keep communication with the public in the forefront during the tough decisions. They need to make sure they absolutely know the priorities of citizens, when it comes to services, before more cuts are made to their respective budgets.

We also urge officials to maintain the critical services of public safety. As evidenced in last week's explosion at a Wayne furniture store, you never know what's going to pose a very large public threat from day to day. We've seen many incidents in 2010 in which quick police response times have literally made the difference between life and death, or the difference between a criminal getting away or being brought to justice. This must continue to be a budget priority in 2011.

In the school district, the 2010-11 school year so far has been one of change. We encourage the school board to continue to listen and communicate with parents and the public when making major decisions.

And, we encourage the residents of our communities and our school district to continue being active in your community and we challenge residents to pay attention to your local government, participate in the debates by attending council meetings or by expressing your opinions through this newspaper, either in print by e-mailing editor Sue Mason at smason@hometownlife.com or via our Story Chat element online at hometownlife.com.

Budgets can shrink, but the spirit of the community can remain strong. It just takes good leadership and an involved public in 2011.

First responders deserve thanks from a grateful public

Ten years ago, this country discovered what it means to be a first responder when hundreds of New York City firefighters were killed in the collapse of the North and South Towers of the World Trade Center. It elevated our first responders — both police and fire — to hero status. They are our first line of defense against the bad things that can happen to us on any given day.

It happened last week when a suspected natural gas explosion in Wayne destroyed the William C. Franks Furniture Store. Two employees were killed and the owner critically injured.

The response was tremendous. Firefighters from seven communities, including Westland, Garden City and Canton helped, so did Urban Search and Rescue teams from four counties. Even four laid-off Wayne firefighters turned out to help. We all watched as the drama unfolded as our first responders picked through the rubble of what was once a well-known business in the City of Wayne. They used their hands to clear debris in a search to find those two missing employees.

In the newspaper business, we learn early on that death trumps injuries. In tragedies, we report who has died first and then talk about those who survived. Such was the case with last week's explosion. But we also must acknowledge the efforts of police and firefighters who helped at the scene. Their thoughts and efforts were focused on finding the two employees still in the building. Every firefighter, every police officer hoped for the best, but were prepared for the worst. That's part of the job when you're a first responder.

Mutual Aid, Automatic Response ... those are agreements cities have to help each other in times of need. The response last week went above and beyond those pacts. We are proud of our first responders and how they handled the situation. The outcome may have been the worst, but their efforts were the best.

And for that, we say thank you for being there for us.

LETTERS

Thanks for the assistance

On behalf of The Salvation Army, I wish to convey my thanks to the many local companies, churches and organizations that came alongside The Salvation Army as we served together at the site of the store explosion in Wayne last week. Throughout the day, our emergency services canteens received donations of food and drink to be shared with the first responders and families displaced by the explosion.

The Adult Rehabilitation Center of The Salvation Army responded quickly and provided hot soup to the many, many first responders from cities throughout the metropolitan area as well as family members of the victims and those evacuated from their homes.

The response to this tragedy speaks volumes to the sense of community that exists throughout the city of Wayne. We join with so many in extending our sympathies to the families of James Zell and Leslie Machniak and prayers to Paul Franks as he continues to recover.

The Salvation Army Emergency Disasters Services is at the ready to assist with disasters, large and small. We consider it a privilege to come along first responders and other organizations in time of need to provide food, hydration and emotional and spiritual support.

Above and beyond the call

On Christmas morning, I went to feed the birds and squirrels at the home of an elderly friend who is in Florida. When I took a moment to look up, I saw a yellow cat about 60 feet up in a fork of tiny limbs of a large branch of a tree. He clearly had been chasing a squirrel. When the squirrel leaped up to a smaller limb, the cat turned around and froze with fear of how to get back to the main branch.

To picture where he was, hold out your hand as if to shake hands, separate your two top fingers, making a V. The cat was perched on the lower one. The cat was in that position for hours as the neighbor and I tried everything to get it to climb down. At 12:30 p.m., I could think of nothing else to do but go to the fire station and ask if they could help. So that is what I did.

I talked to a very nice fireman and captain at Fire Station 1 about the plight of the cat. I also told them about the squirrel who went about four feet above the car and appeared to be trying to get the cat to chase him. The cat would not move.

I didn't know what kind of a response I would get, an old man asking for such help on Christmas. I knew if I did nothing the cat would either freeze to death or fall to its death. To my amazement and relief, the captain asked "what was the address." He said they would be there shortly.

My worries for this poor cat were eased when the captain and fireman arrived with a ladder truck. While the captain was putting on his coat, gloves and hat and getting a blanket to wrap the cat in, he was telling me just what could happen, good or bad.

The fireman looked up and asked if that was the squirrel I was talking about. He was on a limb above the cat, flipping his tail and chattering at the cat. All of a sudden, the cat backed up a few inches, put its paw around the split and cautiously pulled itself around to the main branch. He then went straight down the trunk to the ground.

The captain said the cat knew we were coming so he decided to come down. I think the squirrel told the cat, OK, now they are coming to get you and put you in a cage. There will be no more freedom for you. Loser in my tree!

The one thing I know is just three days before our firefighters went above and beyond their duties to organize a fund-raiser for 39 families displaced after the Waynwood Apartments fire. That in itself gave me great pride in them. But when they were willing to help the least, an old yellow cat caught in a tree, my pride and my praise is as high as it could ever be.

God bless you all and may you all have a great 2011.

With all the thanks of an old man and an old yellow cat,

Winterizing can help

The last thing any driver needs is a vehicle that breaks down in cold, harsh winter weather. Winterizing your vehicle should be a top priority, saving you from the inconvenience of being stranded out in the cold. An investment of an hour or two to have your vehicle checked is all it takes to have peace of mind and help avoid the cost and hassle of unexpected emergency repairs.

Keep the battery connections clean, tight and corrosion-free. Batteries don't always give warning signs before they fail completely so it's wise to replace batteries that are more than three years old.

Antifreeze (coolant) should be flushed and refilled at least every two years in most vehicles. As a reminder, do not add 100 percent antifreeze as full-strength antifreeze actually has a lower freeze point than when mixed with water.

Have the brakes checked. The braking system is the vehicle's most important safety item and is key while driving on icy or snow-covered roads.

Check the tire tread depth and tire pressure. If snow and ice are a problem in your area, consider special tires designed to grip slick roads. During winter, tire pressure should be checked weekly as tires will lose pressure when temperatures drop.

Be diligent about changing the oil and filter at recommended intervals. Dirty oil can spell trouble in winter. Consider changing to low-viscosity oil in winter, as it will flow more easily between moving parts when cold.

Cold weather can affect the life of windshield wipers. Wiper blades that are cracked or torn, or that chatter, streak and don't properly clean your windshield, should be changed. Check the windshield washer reservoir in case it needs fluid.

Be sure to keep your vehicle's gas tank at least half full as that decreases the chances of moisture forming in the gas lines and possibly freezing. If you're due for a tuneup, consider having it done as winter weather magnifies existing problems such as pings, hard starts, sluggish performance or rough idling. What about education?

I was wary of Rick Snyder — the nerd — when he ran his gubernatorial campaign, and public education was No. 8 on his 10-point plan. We should all be disturbed beyond measure (actually three years, 363 days and counting) that Gov. Snyder's inaugural address included not one word about our pre-K-12 public education system. In fact, his address had but one miserly reference to children, at all.

It is unfortunate that the public education — preschool through college — of our state's most valuable resource — our children — is not among Michiganders or Rick Snyder's immediate concerns. Michigan is losing 50 percent of our born and bred college graduates to other states that offer stable employment opportunities and a better quality of life. Michigan children have for all practical purposes become an endangered species. Students' test scores on the National Assessment of Education Progress have been stagnant for more than six years and below the national average, including our wealthiest communities such as Bloomfield Hills. Detroit Public Schools is still at "Ground Zero" and has been joined by Ferndale, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Lansing, Lincoln Park, Oak Park, Pontiac, River Rouge, Saginaw and the list goes on. Michigan will not see even minimal life signs of economic recovery until we make a nationally enviable public education system a top priority and address the decades of compounding systemic issues that include ignoring the report from the Cherry Commission, an unstable funding mechanism, the Headlee Amendment, archaic teacher preparation programs, teacher unions with a mindset that warehouses bad practices instead of supporting workers' rights, consolidating our 550-plus school districts and ridding ourselves of ISDs that have become an economic albatross and, of course, term limits, term limits, term limits.

On Jan. 1, 2011, Michigan installed a governor with zero legislative knowledge and a newbie Legislature run from only one side of the political aisle. Mr. Snyder has yet to name an education policy advisor or liaison to the State Board of Education. Do Michiganders care that Rick Snyder thinks so little of our children or public education that he has not filled those positions, or even met with the state Board of Education? Mr. Snyder believes that "ditching the pessimism" is vital to reinventing Michigan. Why are Michigan's children supposed to be optimistic, and when do they become a vested part of our economic recovery?

Get flocked

Garden City High School's Project Graduation 2011 wants to make folks feel special by having their "cheerful flamingos" pay a visit have come to pay. They will typically stay only a few days, but they have been known to take flight early and land on a lawn of your choice for a small fee of $15, which is less than what that special someone paid to flock you.

It's a chance to return the Flamingo Flocking Favor.

Optional Flocking Insurance is available to protect you from any future flockings. The policy amount is $15 and good for the 2010-11 school year.

A word to the wise: Sometimes the flamingos have nothing to do and get bored, so, without notice they will take off for some random flocking. Again, the flamingos will only stay a few days, but when they act like that it's unclear how much fun they are having or how long they will stay.

You can insure a timely departure with a donation to Project Graduation. All Flocking Funds go to Support Garden City High School Project Graduation. Give PG's Flocking Specialists a call at (734) 612-5274 or (734) 904-3643 or send an e-mail to gardencityprojectgrad@yahoo.com.

New members

The Garden City Kiwanis Club of is recruiting new members to help provide assistance to the disadvantaged residents of our community — especially children — who are having a difficult time during this economic recession.

Founded in 1948, the Kiwanis Club of Garden City provides many community service projects each year including a "Baby Shower" for the Garden City Family Resource Center, a continuing Food Pantry drive, the Trauma Doll Project for hospitalized children, and the Third Grade Dictionary Project.

The club meets at noon on Thursdays at Amantea's Restaurant on Warren Road at Venoy in Garden City.

Anyone who is interested in attending one of the luncheons or with questions about the club's community involvement can call Gary Simon at (734) 751-4101.

Turning the switch

PCA's defensive adjustment sinks Warriors

BY TIM SMITH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

After Plymouth Christian Academy head coach Keith Anleitner watched Lutheran Westland sink four triples in the first quarter Tuesday night, it was time to change things on defense.

Anleitner had the Eagles play man-to-man to start the second quarter in favor of zone coverage.

With a string of steals that led to transition baskets, PCA went on a 22-3 scoring spree to go up 38-20 at halftime and it catapulted the visiting Eagles to a 73-56 Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Blue Division boys basketball victory.

"I thought our kids played well right out of the gate, we had a 8-0 run," said Anleitner, after his first win as PCA coach. "Then they came back and hit a bunch of triples.

"We kind of switched it off, we had a zone to begin with and we just ended up with man-to-man because we needed to put ball pressure on their shooters."

Warriors' coach Doug Haller, whose team dropped to 1-3 overall and 0-1 in the MIAC Blue, said everything fell apart in that telltale second frame — which opened with his team ahead 17-16 thanks to a trey by junior Matt Sylvester as the horn sounded.

"There were turnovers, bad shots, we didn't get back on 'D' and they got some easy buckets," Haller lamented. "It took us out of the game."

Another problem for the Warriors was Plymouth Christian 6-5 center Eric Jipping, who muscled his way to 26 points and 11 rebounds.

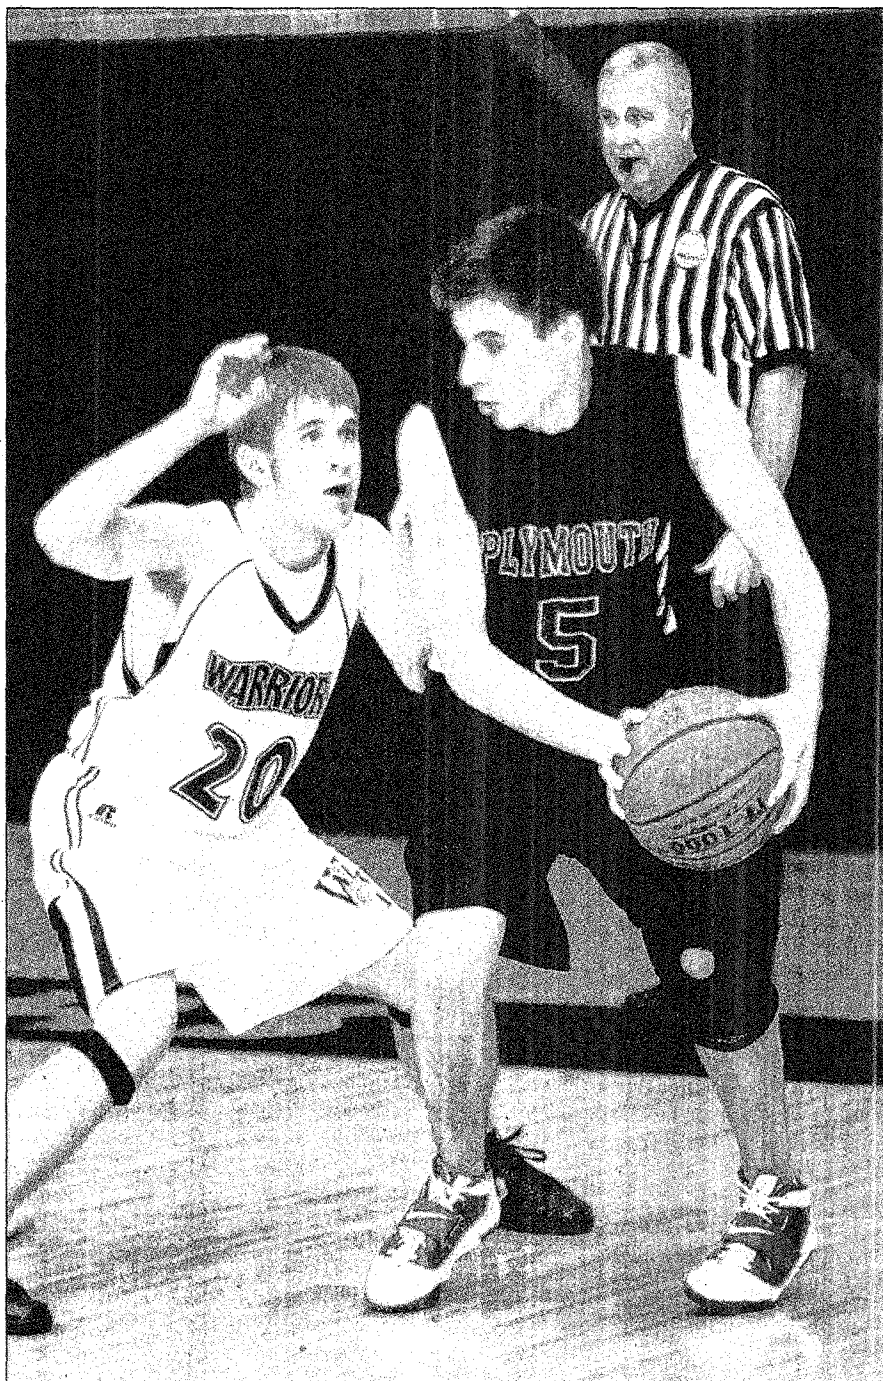

Lutheran Westland's Kent Krzyske (4) slides past Plymouth Christian defender Joshua Middleton for shot during Tuesday's MIAC Blue Division opener.

"Of course, with Eric Jipping inside, they had no answer for him," Anleitner said. "Their tallest guy on the court was 6-2 and he's 6-5.

"Our guys did a great job getting him the ball inside, so that kind of set

SIDELINES

1st Pitch banquet

Detroit Lions broadcaster and Fox 2 sports director Dan Miller will be the featured speaker at the Madonna University baseball program's second annual First Pitch banquet, Sunday, Jan. 23, at the Italian American Club in Livonia.

The event begins at noon with a social hour where fans can meet and get autographs from the 2011 Crusader players. The meal and program follow at 1 p.m.

Individual tickets are $60 (tables for 10 are $600). Proceeds from the event will help defray costs for the MU baseball program including travel, uniforms and other amenities.

There will also be a silent auction where attendees can bid on sports memorabilia items, along with vacation and golf packages, sporting event tickets and more.

For First Pitch banquet ticket information or sponsorship opportunities, call Linda Hall at the MU Advancement Office at (734) 432-5603.

Baseball signee

Grant Campbell, a 2008 graduate of Livonia Stevenson High, has accepted a scholarship offer to pitch at Kalamazoo Valley Community College.

Campbell also pitched for the Livonia Baseball-Softball Association Mudhens since 2007.

C'ville needs coach

Livonia Clarenceville High School needs a boys varsity track coach for the 2011 season.

Applicants can mail a resume, letter of interest and references to: Kevin Murphy, athletic director, Clarenceville H.S., 20155 Middlebelt, Livonia, MI 48152. You can also e-mail KMurphy@clarenceville.k12.mi.us.

Pats blood drive

The Livonia Franklin wrestling team is sponsoring a blood drive with the goal being 500 pints.

(Click on the account login tab in the upper right corner followed by donor login, enter zip code, create a profile under login set up a profile and enter "livoniafranklin" on the Find a Blood Drive page to set up an appointment.)

For more information, e-mail Franklin coach Dave Chiola at chiola44@yahoo.com.

Special skate

The three Livonia varsity hockey teams — Churchill, Franklin and Stevenson — will offer an open skate for special needs youths beginning at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 9, at Edgar Arena, located at 33841 Lyndon (just west of Farmington and north of I-96).

Free skate rental is available. For more information, e-mail Churchill coach Pete Mazzoni at livoniapublicschools.org.

Free throw contest

The 2011 Knights of Columbus Free Throw Championship for boys and girls (ages 9-14) will be Sunday, Jan. 30, at St. Thomas a' Becket Church, 555 S. Lilley, Canton.

Registration starts at 2 p.m. followed by competition at 2:30 p.m.

All contestants on the local level are recognized for their participation in the event. Participants are required to furnish proof of age and written parental consent.

Winners will advance through local, district and state competition. International champions are announced at the K of C international headquarters base on scores from the state level competitions.

For more information, call David Lengel at (734) 516-4930.

Falcons soar by Ladywood, 62-42

Livonia Ladywood got bush-whacked in Tuesday's Catholic League Central Division girls basketball opener.

Junior Rosanna Reynolds scored 19 points to lead three players in double figures as host Dearborn Divine Child remained unbeaten with a convincing 62-42 win over the Blazers in a battle of state-ranked teams.

"We contested shots, but they (Divine Child) shot the lights out and they played really well," said Ladywood first-year coach Anthony Coratti, whose team slipped to 5-1 overall. "Our kids fought and competed, but the ball did not go in the basket."

Nicole Urbanick and Haley Stempien chipped in with 12 and 10 points, respectively, for the Falcons, who led 38-25 at halftime.

Junior Cara Miller, a 6-foot-1 transfer from Ladywood, made three 3-pointers including two in the third period to stretch the Divine Child advantage to 54-33.

GIRLS HOOPS

Senior forward Teresa Wojnarowski tallied a game-high 25 points and grabbed 12 rebounds for Ladywood. She was 7-for-9 from the foul stripe.

Ladywood was 10-of-13 total from the free throw line, while Divine Child connected on 13-of-24.

Divine Child improves to 5-0 overall.

EDSEL FORD 52, FRANKLIN 50: On Tuesday, host Dearborn Edsel Ford (5-3) held on during the final seconds to beat Livonia Franklin (2-3) in a nonleague encounter.

Franklin led 25-21 at halftime before the Thunderbirds charged back with a 14-9 third quarter surge to take a 35-34 advantage heading into the final period. The Patriots were down six with 90 seconds remaining before getting a pair of stops and a pair of baskets from senior guard Chelsea Williams to pull within two, 52-50.

Franklin got another steal in the waning seconds, but could not get off a final shot.

Williams led all scorers with 20 points. Marie Gaedke and Karlene Koos led Edsel Ford with 17 and 12, respectively.

Edsel Ford had a wide advantage in free throws making 22-of-36, while Franklin was 4-of-18.

W.L. WESTERN 30, CHURCHILL 14: Maddie Schram, Kaitlyn Smith and Shelby Turnquist scored six points apiece Tuesday to pace host Walled Lake Western (1-4) to a victory over Livonia Churchill (1-4).

Western led 13-9 at halftime and increased its lead to 22-11 after three quarters.

The Warriors were 2-of-6 from the foul stripe, while Churchill was only 2-of-10.

ANNAPOLIS 67, LUTHERAN WESTLAND 33: Jalissa Williams poured in a game-high 24 points Tuesday as host Dearborn Heights Annapolis rolled to a nonconference win over Lutheran High Westland (1-5).

The Cougars led 41-14 at halftime en route to the victory.

Junior Amanda Terranella led the Warriors with 13 points, while Aldreana Fikes each contributed eight points.

Annapolis was 7-of-17 from the foul stripe, while Lutheran Westland hit 7-of-9.

Glenn cages Tigers, 59-47

The Westland John Glenn boys basketball team caught a Tiger by the tail and wouldn't let go Tuesday night.

Junior guard Nick Daniels led a balanced scoring attack with 17 points as the host Rockets downed Belleville, 59-47, to improve to 3-1 overall.

Marcus Mecks and Kelly Maxwell each added nine points for the Rockets, who led 26-17 at halftime and 39-30 after three quarters.

Marquis Saulsberry and DeAnté Isom tallied 12 and 10 points, respectively, for the Tigers, who slipped to 3-3 overall.

Glenn won the free throw battle making 17-of-23 on the night, while Belleville connected on 8-of-13.

RIVERVIEW 55, WAYNE 32: Brad Stewart's game-high 20 points propelled the Pirates (2-2) to a nonconference win Tuesday at Wayne Memorial (1-3).

Corey Turner added nine for Riverview, which led 30-20 at halftime and broke it open with a 17-5 third-period run.

"They got hot and we went cold so we had to start pressing the rest of the game," Wayne coach Mike Schuette said

Westland gymnast Freier vaults onto national stage

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

As director of Figure Skating at the Novi Ice Arena, Micki Freier figured her daughter, Erin, wouldn't have to explore any other sports.

"I tried to get her to be a figure skater, but she didn't want anything to do with the ice," Micki said.

Starting competitively at age 6, Erin has carved her own niche and has evolved into a Level 10 gymnast already committed to the University of Arkansas, a top ten women's program and NCAA team qualifier.

Last May in Dallas, the 16-year-old from Westland captured the USA Junior Olympic uneven parallel bars individual title with a score of 9.6 and quickly drew interest from 15 different colleges.

"I do my homework in the car," said Erin, who keeps an impressive 3.78 grade point average at Livonia Churchill High School. "When I get home, I eat first, then go to bed. I get tired of it sometimes, but the first thing that keeps me going is that it's a full-ride scholarship and they're going to track all the skills I've been learning."

Erin Freier's daily routine these days is anything but routine for a teenager.

During the day, she attends high school classes before making a daily commute back-and-forth to Lansing to Gedderts' Twisters Gymnastics Club where she trains from 3:30-8 p.m.

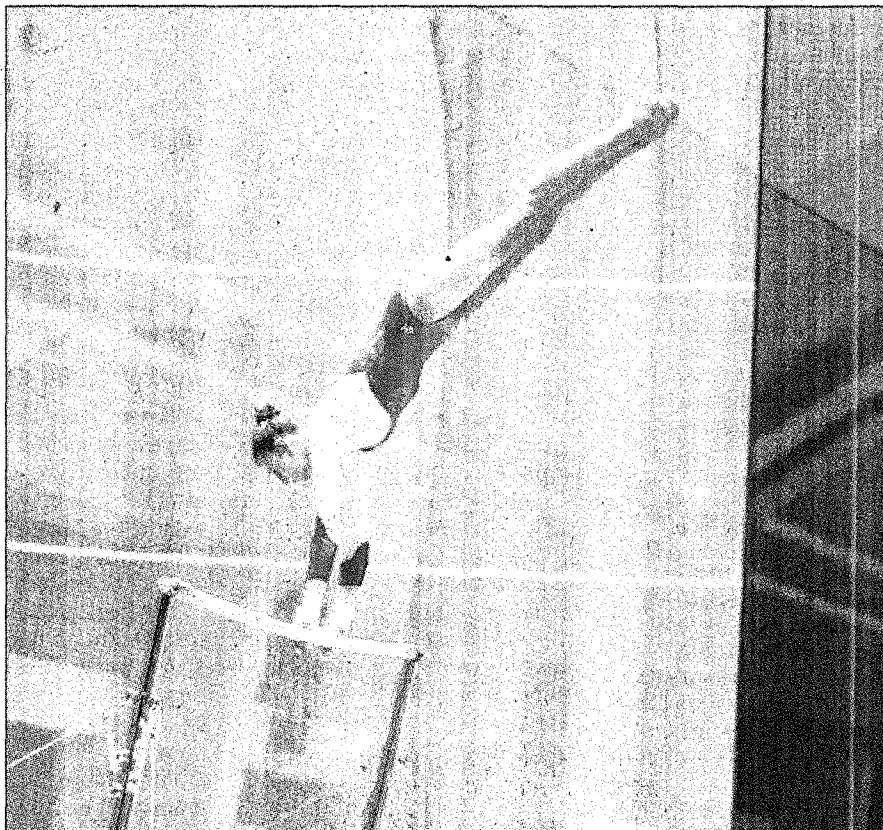

Nicknamed "String Bean," the 5-foot-6 Freier got her start at the Michigan Academy of Gymnastics in Westland before migrating to EuroStars and Splitz clubs in Canton. She was also at the Oakland Gymnastics Training Center until the spring of 2009 before heading to join Gedderts' in Lansing where she has found a home.

"It's the No. 1 program in the nation and she's been there one and a half years and we wanted what was best for her," Micki Freier said. "There are a lot of girls that go through those doors that are college recruits."

Last season, Erin finished fourth in the all-around (37.4) in the Michigan Gymnastics state meet (March 20) in Grand Ledge. She took first on floor exercise (9.625), third on bars (9.4) and fourth on vault (9.5).

At the USA Gymnastics Region 5 meet April 11 in Lansing, Freier placed fourth all-around (37.35), including a first individually on bars (9.55), third on floor (9.425), sixth on vault (9.45) and 13th on balance beam (8.95).

And at the USA Juniors in Dallas, she wound up 17th in the all-around (37.65) highlighted by a first on bars and a tie for eighth on beam (9.525).

"Everybody is positive in the gym and they really help me. And put up with a lot," Erin said of Gedderts. "They coach everyone and don't have favorites. They support me and everyone a lot. The support from my teammates is huge. It's a big family atmosphere."

"I've been upgrading my skills this year. The coaches are amazing and they're coaching me every day, making corrections to every little detail."

John Geddert, who runs the Lansing-based club along with his wife, Katherine, liked what he saw the first day Erin arrived.

"In my 30 years I've had kids come and go, but she's one who not only combines both the talent and the ability, but is also very driven and very focused," Geddert said. "She's a quiet kid and all business when she's in the gym."

Freier has parlayed her success into being a member of the Region 5 all-star team. The last two years, she has traveled to Grand Cayman Islands, along with trips to Slovenia and Italy.

"She knows what she wants to accomplish and has one goal in mind," Geddert said. "She's very goal-oriented and it takes a special kid to excel in those situations coming all that way each day. She also comes from a family of athletes and athletics is in her blood."

Erin's younger sister, Alison, 13, a student at Frost Middle School, is one Freier who found the ice to her liking. She recently returned from the USA Figure Skating Junior Nationals in Salt Lake City where she competed in the Intermediate Level.

Younger brother Logan, 11, meanwhile, plays travel hockey, baseball and football.

Micki Freier serves as Erin's daily chauffeur taking turns with her husband, Steve, a former college football player who is a physical education instructor at Franklin High School.

The commutes, however, do have their drawbacks as Steve, Micki and Erin totaled their Chevy Trailblazer during a crash with a semi-trailer truck on a snowy and icy surface coming back last month from a meet in Chicago.

Thankfully, nobody sustained any injuries.

Erin made unofficial visits to the University of Pittsburgh, Arizona, Michigan and Florida before settling on Arkansas where she'll enroll in 2012.

Micki said her daughter has an interest in going into pharmaceutical sales.

"I like the girls on the team and everyone was very nice," Erin said. "They really have a good business school and that interests me a lot."

There was also another factor in her decision.

"And I really like how they really don't get snow," Erin said. "It's pretty nice there in the winter."

up a pattern for our guys to go inside and then as the defense collapsed we got some three-point shots."

Also playing an excellent game for PCA (1-2) was sophomore point guard Mick Noel, who tallied 18 points, five assists and four steals.

"I just switched him to the point (from the wing) a week ago because we got to have him handling the ball," Anleitner said. "It's obvious when the ball's in his hands he creates good things."

The Eagles' defensive pressure forced 17 Lutheran Westland turnovers, and ultimately cooled off the Warriors' hot hands of the first quarter.

Warriors' senior Marc Rosin scored nine straight points — including a pair of back-to-back triples from the left flank midway through the first — as his team clawed back from that early deficit to go up 11-10.

But Rosin would finish with 14 for the night. Also hitting two treys in the first frame was Sylvester, but he would not score another point and finished with eight.

In the second half, Lutheran Westland came out more aggressively and diminutive senior guard Kent Krzyske fired up his team with 15 points (his total for the game).

Chipping in with nine second-half points was senior Derrick Mozham. However, by that time, the Eagles had enough of a cushion.

"He (Krzyske) plays his butt off and that's how we have to play as a team," Haller said. "Everybody's got to have the energy that he does. If we do, we're going to be fine."

Better shooting wouldn't hurt, either. The Warriors only hit 18 of 54 field goal attempts for the game.

Scoring seven points each for PCA were junior Christopher Scagnetti (also five assists) and sophomore Drew Ibach while sophomore Alexander Huber scored six and pulled down 10 rebounds.

of his team's third-quarter demise. Thomas White and Jordan Buck scored 11 and nine, respectively, for the Zebras.

Riverview was 9-of-13 from the foul line, while Wayne went 2-for-3.

W.L. WESTERN 38, CHURCHILL 32: Senior forward Will Griffen scored eight of his game-high 16 points in the decisive fourth quarter Tuesday as Walled Lake Western (2-3) rallied for a win over host Livonia Churchill (0-5).

Junior guard Corey Wade added seven points for the Warriors, who trailed 20-12 at halftime and 27-22 after three quarters before going on a 16-5 fourth-period run.

Western made 16-of-23 free throws on the night, including 9-of-14 in the final period.

"Western attacked the basket and the offensive glass," Churchill coach Jim Solak said. "We played well enough for three quarters, but then gave the game away."

Senior guard Josh Dillard had 10 points and six rebounds for the Chargers, who committed a total of 24 turnovers.

Senior forward Stephen Foster added seven points.

W.L. CENTRAL 55, CLARENCEVILLE 38: The Coric brothers combined for 25 points Tuesday as Walled Lake Central (4-1) pulled away in the second half for a victory over host Livonia Clarenceville (2-3).

Adam Coric led the way with 14 points, while Dan Coric contributed 11 for the Vikings, who led 26-17 at halftime and 41-27 after three quarters.

Sam Brown scored 10 points for the Trojans, who made only 2-of-9 free throws.

Central connected on just 5-of-11.

MU drops pair in DeVette Tourney

In a battle of Wayne County rivals, the Madonna University men's basketball team took Marygrove College to overtime, but it was the Mustangs who came out on top, 72-69, in the consolation game of the Russ DeVette Memorial Tournament last Thursday night at Hope College.

MU freshman point-guard Bobby Naubert (Livonia Stevenson) scored 19 points and added five assists en route to all-tournament honors but it couldn't keep the Crusaders from falling to 4-12 overall.

Senior center Geoff Gaylor posted a double-double with 15 points and 11 rebounds to go along with a career-high seven blocks.

Brandon Carlson, who also made all-tourney, paced the Mustangs (5-10) with 19 points.

Darryll Dixon added 13 points, while Justin McKinney contributed 11 points and 10 rebounds. Marcus Hopkins chipped in with 10 points.

McKinney's jumper with 43 seconds remaining in regulation tied the game at 59-all.

Travis Schuba's triple with only nine second left pulled MU to within one, 70-69, but Chris Sinagoga's made a pair of free throws to put the Mustangs back up by three.

Schuba's last-ditch three-pointer to tie missed as Marygrove held on for the victory.

MU led 36-29 at halftime and by as many as nine in the second half (51-42) before Marygrove charged back to tie it at 55-all with 3:17 remaining.

The rebounding was even at 39-all with MU shooting 27-of-67 from the floor (40.3 percent), while Marygrove connected on 28-of-64 (43.8 percent).

MALONE (OHIO) 74, MADONNA 65:

Freshman Travis Schuba came off the bench to score a career-high 16 points Wednesday, but Madonna University (4-11) fell to Malone College (10-4) in the opening round of the Russ DeVette Memorial Holiday Tournament hosted by Hope College.

Eric Coblentz paced Malone (10-4) with a game-high 19 points, while Isiah Elliott and Ebiowei Porbeni added 16 and 10, respectively.

With two of the team's top three scorers — Bryant Slaughter (academic issue) and Kevin Henry (no longer with the team) — missing from the lineup, Schuba earned extended minutes (26) and hit 5-of-11 shots from floor, including 4-of-8 from three-point range.

Redshirt junior Mitch Cieslak added 12 points, while senior center Geoff Gaylor and freshman point-guard Bobby Naubert (Livonia Stevenson) each added 10.

Naubert also dished out a team-best six assists for the Crusaders, who trailed 36-32 at halftime.

Lady Rockets earn Roundball victory

Westland John Glenn kept its unbeaten girls basketball record intact with a 57-49 triumph last Thursday night over Southfield-Lathrup in the Roundball Classic held at Beverly Hills-Detroit Country Day Middle School.

The Rockets, now 5-0 overall, led by only one at halftime, 27-26, and increased their lead to 42-38 after three quarters.

They outscored Lathrup 15-11 in the decisive final period but didn't take control until the final three minutes.

Junior forward Erica Covile paced Glenn with 22 points, 14 rebounds, five assists and four steals. Freshman guard Kaira Barnes chipped in with 15 points, five steals and two assists, while senior forward Andrea Gordon-McClain finished with 14 points and six rebounds.

Glenn made 15-of-18 free throws (83 percent) and hit 35 percent from the floor.

Lathrup (3-2) got 16 points and nine boards from Amber McCann, while Kyra Littlejohn contributed nine points.

The Chargers connected on 10-of-16 free throws (63 percent) and shot 41 percent from the floor.

"Lathrup is extremely good and they big throughout their lineup, but I think our speed and quickness, along with our constant pressure over four quarters, was the difference," said Glenn coach Mark Anderson, whose state-ranked team returns to action Friday at home against winless Livonia Churchill.

Former film actress to speak at screening of 1962 classic

BY SHARON DARGAY
O&E STAFF WRITER

Mary Badham starred in the 1962 film, To Kill a Mockingbird, but avoids watching it.

"I hear the score and I tear up," explained Badham, 58, who played "Scout," the daughter of Atticus Finch, roles that landed Gregory Peck an Oscar and Badham an Academy Award nomination.

"We really did become like a family," she added, recalling life on the set.

The former actress will talk about her experience working on the film, the message of the story penned by Harper Lee in 1960 and take questions from the audience Jan. 14-15 at the Redford Theatre in Detroit.

"For years I've been travelling around, teaching the lessons of Mockingbird and keeping it alive for children. I've been doing 'The Big Read' for a number of years and Mockingbird has been a number one pick," she said, referring to the National Endowment for the Arts program that encourages reading for pleasure and enlightenment. "It has been great fun to travel. It keeps me on the road and keeps me busy. They've even done it in Russia. I was sent to Russia a number of years ago. It was mostly adults and college students. I talked about what Birmingham, Alabama, was like when I was growing up and how it has grown and changed today. And in general, how the U.S. has grown as a country. Looking at race and equality and the opening up of our hearts to other human beings is so important."

Badham said she speaks about the importance of family while she's on the road championing the book and film. She's married, has two grown children and a granddaughter, and lives on a farm in Virginia when she's not travelling. And although she hasn't worked in the film industry since her teenage years, she has plenty to say about entertainment today.

"We need to turn off the violence and the electronics. People don't know how to have conversations today. If you look at TV now, everyone is screaming at each other," she said. "They are pulling at the lowest common denominator."

ROLE MODELS

Badham, the youngest child and only girl, was a tomboy in her family, but also grew up reading The Wall Street Journal to her father, a U.S. Army general. She said both he and her mother, a stage actress, stressed reading and made time for children.

"My parents were wonderful. I had the best," she said, also counting Peck and the other actors on Mockingbird as "strong role models."

"It's critical to take time to chill out and be one on one with children and give them the time they need, so they can learn how to deal with the world. This world is a crazy place to deal with."

a casting call in Birmingham for To Kill a Mockingbird when she was 9 years old. Badham said she had no previous acting experience and just went along with what seemed like fun.

"It was five months of having a blast."

She did a few films after Mockingbird, but left the business to pursue college. Films by the late 1960s and early 1970s had too much "sex, drugs and rock and roll" and Badham, who had never planned to study acting, wasn't interested. She considered a career as a veterinarian, with a specialty in equine medicine, but left the university to marry and raise a family.

Now she savors her quiet time "off the grid" at her farm when she's not on the road.

"I love sewing and painting and I work in my garden and play with my pony," she said. "I've been so blessed. If I could just get people, especially these kids who say, 'oh, if I just had a lot of money, to understand money is not the key. It's family and friends. If you have one close friend, you are doing well.'"

Ann Arbor ensemble returns to Canton theater

Juice, a percussion troupe that uses singing bike wheels, glowsticks, sound effect battles and invented instruments to create a one-of-a-kind show, will perform at 8 p.m., Friday, Jan. 7, 2011 at The Village Theater at Cherry Hill, in Canton.

The Ann Arbor group, which performed at The Village Theater in 2009, will bring all-new material to the stage. Its nine members come from many different backgrounds but unite around their shared love for making original music and exploring new ideas.

"I'm really excited to be back at the Village Theater and put on what will be our best show yet," stated Brandon Krieg, the group's founder. "We had a terrific audience last time and hope to see them here again."

Tickets are $16 per person bought by Jan. 6, 2011. After that date they cost $20 for adults, $18 for seniors and students, and $16 for groups of 15 or more.

Off-Broadway shows come to Novi with Andiamo dinner series

Steve Solomon's one-man comedy, My Mother's Italian, My Father's Jewish and I'm in Therapy, kicks off an 11-show series of critically-acclaimed Off-Broadway productions at Andiamo Novi Theatre.

Solomon's show runs Wednesday-Sunday through Jan. 23. Tickets for all shows in the series, which ends in June, are on sale now and range from $30-$35. Dinner and show packages are available for $79.95 and $89.95.

Performance times are 8 p.m. Wednesday-Friday, 7 p.m. Saturday and 5 p.m. Sunday.

There is something for everyone in the 2011 Off-Broadway Series. Shows bring to life such topics as the hilarity and ups-and-downs of relationships between families and men and women, and an up-close-and-personal (and humorous) look at many celebrities' memoirs. Audiences also will have mind-games played on them, will be taken to a galaxy far far away with one man's solo mission, and will feel like they are in the same room as the "Godfather" during a homage to Coppola's classic.

In addition to Solomon's show, other productions are:

Jan. 26-30: Marc Salem's Mindgames

Feb. 3-5: I Say Tomato, You Say Shut Up - A Love Story featuring Annabelle Gurwitch and Jeff Kahn

Feb. 9-20: Mike Dugan's Men Fake Foreplay

Feb. 24-26: One Man Star Wars

March 2-20: The Godfadda Workout

March 23-April 10: I Love You, You're Perfect, Now

Marc Salem brings his "Mindgames" show this month to Andiamo Novi Theatre.

Change
April 13-24: Robert Dubac's Male Intellect - An Oxymoron?
April 29-May 1: Celebrity Autobiography
May 4-22: Bad Dates
May 25-June: The Last Five Years
Buy tickets at the Andiamo Novi Theatre box office; by phone at the box office (248) 348-4448 or at Ticketmaster at (800) 745-3000; or online at www.ticketmaster.com. Dinner and show packages may be purchased only at the Andiamo Novi Theatre box office. The Andiamo Novi Theatre is located at 42705 Grand River Ave., Novi.

Movie series kicks off season with 'Raiders of the Lost Ark'

The 2011 Movies at the Marquis series, "Classics through the Decades" starts Jan. 15 with a screening of the 1981 adventure film, Raiders of the Lost Ark.

Tom Holzer Ford sponsors the series at the family-owned Marquis Theatre, 135 E. Main, in downtown Northville. The series runs Saturdays through March 19.

Here's the upcoming schedule:

- Jan. 15 - Raiders of the Lost Ark (1981): Directed by Steven Spielberg and starring Harrison Ford, this epic adventure introduced the world to famous archaeologist Indiana Jones. Presented by Preservation Dental

- Jan. 22 - Funny Face (1957) A fashion classic, Audrey Hepburn plays a reluctant model swept away to Paris by a handsome photographer. Presented by Next Chapter Bookstore & Bistro

- Jan. 29 - Tootsie (1982): Dustin Hoffman leads a star-studded cast as he plays an unemployed actor who dresses as a woman to land a soap opera role. Presented by Poole's Tavern

- Feb. 5 - Sunset Boulevard (1950): A former silent film star struggles with Hollywood obscurity in a dramatic classic starring William Holden and Gloria Swanson. Presented by Orin Jewelers.

- Feb. 12 - It Happened One Night (1934): Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert heat up the silver screen in this romantic comedy about a spoiled heiress and the roving reporter who courts her. Presented by Long Plumbing, Heating & Cooling, Kitchen & Bath Design.

- Feb. 19 - Love Story (1970): It doesn't get more romantic than this timeless tale of star-cross lovers played by Ali MacGraw and See "Raiders of the Lost Ark" Jan. 15 at the Marquis Theatre in downtown Northville.

A BETTER BROWN BAG

If you think that taking lunch to work has to be as boring as the brown bag you pack it in, think again. With a little planning and creative thinking, you can have a satisfying midday meal wherever you find a table.

Taking your lunch to work saves you money, helps you control calories and allows you to boost your daily nutrition. You control the portions and the ingredients, so you can customize what you carry, ensuring that you get a good-for-you lunch that you'll enjoy.

Here are tips from the National Peanut Board that may inspire you to think outside the lunch box and create a brown bag meal you will be proud to carry.

- Plan ahead — put lunch items on your grocery list and gather lunch-style recipes for your meal plan.

- Balance choices — select a variety of foods from www.MyPyramid.gov, including whole grains, fruits, vegetables, low-fat dairy and lean protein.

- Think small — pack a variety of snacks to satisfy any craving that may hit during the day.

- Pack whole grain crackers and sliced cheese as an alternative to a sandwich.

- Pack a bag of snack peanuts for an energy boost any time of the day.

- Pack a banana for a sweet treat that may save you from a trip to the vending machine.

- Dress up fruits and vegetables with protein-packed peanut butter dip (see recipe). Repurpose leftovers — instead of simply taking last night's dinner for lunch, use the ingredients to make something new.

- Turn leftover roasted chicken into a tasty chicken salad (see recipe).

- Toss cold pasta with dressing and chopped veggies for a pasta salad.

For more delicious ways to upgrade your lunch, visit www.nationalpeanutboard.org.

KICKIN' UP KIDS' LUNCHES

Even kids can get tired of the same sandwich every day. Liven up their lunches with some of these creative ideas and recipes.

- Pack frozen yogurt or an ice cold water bottle as an edible ice pack.

- Mix peanuts, chocolate morsels and raisins for a treat.

- Look for lunch boxes and food containers that keep foods safe and undamaged. Look for those with several compartments that keep foods separate.

- Present food in fun ways: fruit chunks on skewers, deli meats rolled up around sliced vegetables, breakfast for lunch.

- Add a nonfood treat, such as a fun eraser, sticker or other prize that children will enjoy just as much as a sweet treat.

- Pack individual sandwich ingredients and let the kids make their own creation at school.

ROCK 'N' ROLL LUNCH

1 small whole wheat tortilla spread with 2 tablespoons peanut butter, sprinkled with ¼ cup granola, rolled up and sliced
Carrots and celery with Dazzling Peanut Butter Chocolate Dip (recipe follows)
Blackberries
Drinkable yogurt

DAZZLING PEANUT BUTTER CHOCOLATE DIP

Yield: 4 (3-tablespoon) servings

2 tablespoons low-fat plain yogurt

1 teaspoon chocolate syrup

1 tablespoon peanut butter

Chocolate sprinkles (optional)

In a standing mixing bowl, mix yogurt and chocolate syrup on medium speed until well blended.

In a microwave-safe bowl, microwave the peanut butter at 70% power for about 1 minute or until melted; stir half-way through. Pour peanut butter into chocolate yogurt mixture and mix until smooth. Top with sprinkles if desired.

Serve with 1 cup assorted carrot and celery sticks, sliced cucumbers, apples or pear slices.

PITA POCKETS WITH CHINESE CHICKEN-PEANUT SALAD

Yield: 6 pita pockets

2 cups chopped cooked chicken

1 cup grated carrots

½ head roughly chopped iceberg lettuce, (about 4 cups)

¾ cup chow mein noodles

½ cup canned sliced water chestnuts

4 tablespoons peanut oil

3 tablespoons creamy peanut butter

3 tablespoons seasoned rice vinegar

1 tablespoon lite soy sauce

1 tablespoon sugar

¼ cup chopped dry-roasted peanuts

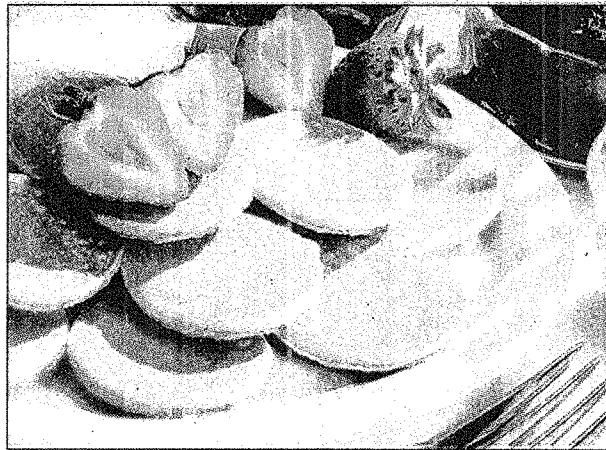

2 tablespoons chopped green onions

3 pita breads, halved

In large bowl, mix together chicken, carrots, lettuce, chow mein noodles and water chestnuts. Set aside.

To make dressing: In separate bowl, mix together peanut oil, peanut butter, rice vinegar, soy sauce and sugar until smooth. Stir in peanuts and green onions. Stir until blended. Pour dressing over salad and toss well.

Fill pita pockets with even portions of chicken salad.

BREAKFAST FOR LUNCH

1 sausage link

3 mini peanut flour pancakes (recipes follows)

Fruit cup

Greek yogurt with honey (for dipping pancakes and fruit)

PEANUT FLOUR PANCAKES

Yield: 24 (3-inch) pancakes

Use your favorite whole grain pancake mix according to package directions for 12 full size pancakes.

Add ¼ cup peanut flour* + 2 to 4 tablespoons milk.

Let stand for 10 minutes before cooking.

*This low-fat, high protein, gluten-free flour is available at supermarkets nationwide and online.

DAVID M. CROCKETT

Age 88, died on January 3, 2011, after a courageous battle with Parkinson's Disease. He is survived by his loving wife of 65 years, Mary, and four children, Jeffrey (Christine), Martha (Horace) Sneed, Paul (Theresa) and Amy (Ken) Carr. He also leaves four grandchildren, Andrew Crockett, Nicholas Crockett, Ali Crockett and Sarah Sneed, a sister-in-law, Martha (Leonard) Seale, and seventeen nephews and nieces. David was predeceased by his brother, Richard (June) Crockett, his sister, Laura McCamman, and his sister-in-law, Marjorie (Warren) Maxey. David served his country honorably as a Marine Corps Veteran of World War II and Korea. His professional career began with a Masters of Social Work from the University of Michigan. During his long career, he served as a probation officer for the Juvenile Court in Detroit, Director of St. Peter's Home for Boys, a social worker at the Plymouth Center for Human Development and, after retirement, as a probation officer for the Farmington Hills Court. David will be sadly missed by his family and his many friends, including old friends from his college days at Wayne State University, his fellow parishioners at Meadowbrook Congregational Church, where he served as a charter member and Life Deacon, and his fellow Kiwanians in Plymouth. David loved to garden, run in marathons, read books, sing in the church choir and follow Detroit sports teams. He was admired for his optimism, faith in God and his wonderful, dry sense of humor. He will always be remembered by his family as a devoted husband and father. Contributions can be made to the Meadowbrook Congregational Church Educational Endowment or Music Program. Funeral service Thursday, January 6, 2011, 1pm from the Meadowbrook Congregational Church, 21355 Meadowbrook Rd., Novi, with family receiving friends beginning at 12pm. Association party mixes business and pleasure Fun was on the agenda Dec. 16 when the Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors held its annual holiday party.

"This time we just had a good time," said Dale E. Smith, executive vice president of WWOCAR, of the event held at American Legion Post 32 on Newburgh in Livonia. WWOCAR had done a charitable bowling fund-raiser for the Farmington-Farmington Hills Foundation for Youth and Families in the spring.

The December party drew just over 200. "We had a lot of Realtors," Smith said. "We had a lot of people related to our businesses," including bankers and attorneys.

Fun was mixed with business talk as industry leaders look to 2011 and improvement in the housing market. "We have a lot of hope for what's going to be coming down the road," he said. A new governor of either party brings change.

"We have some hope that some of the programs in Michigan will be revitalized," Smith said. He noted home sales are comparable to the past but values have declined.

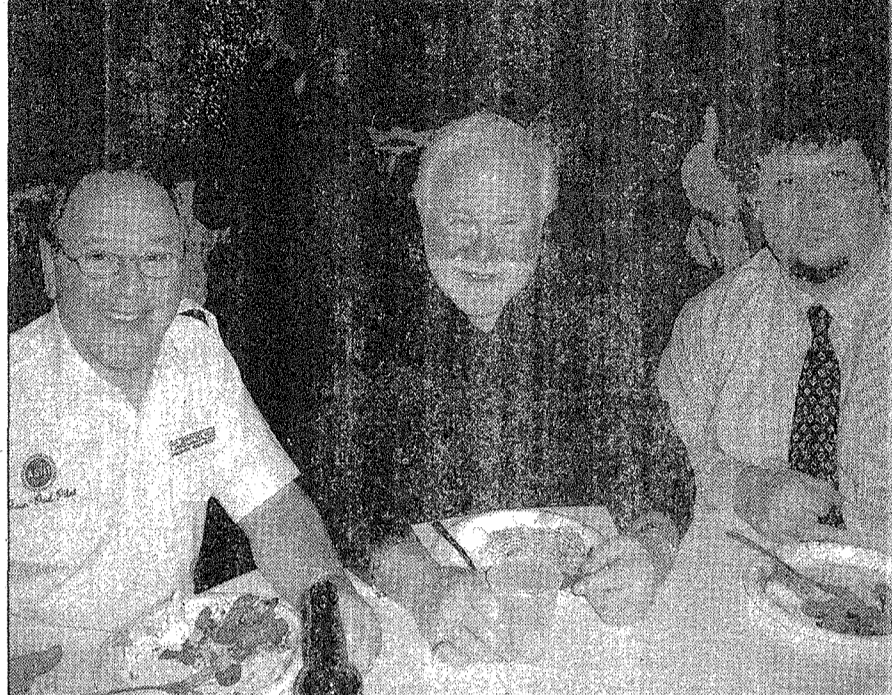

"They're coming back slowly but surely but they'll take a while," he said.

Cleveland Jackson of Brown Realty and Roxanne Fitzpatrick of Keller Williams Farmington Hills share a smile at the WWOCAR party in Livonia.

Nancy Austin of Keller Williams Ann Arbor, Sheila Grimes-Bhirdo of Coldwell Banker Preferred and Johnnie Galens of Century 21 MJL catch up on happenings at the WWOCAR holiday party.

Jean Paul Pilot of P.R.O.S. Home Inspections, Neil McCloskey of Coldwell Banker Weir Manuel, and Jeff Zyck of CUTCO enjoy their time together at the recent WWOCAR party.

Fun was mixed with business talk as industry leaders look to 2011 and improvement in the housing market.

Law's aim: Protect brokers

Q: I understand that commercial brokers now have a lien on the property to satisfy their commissions. Do you have any information on that?

A: Michigan Public Act No. 201 of 2010 (Commercial Real Estate Broker's Lien Act) was signed by Gov. Jennifer Granholm on Oct. 5, 2010, to protect commercial brokers against losing rightfully earned commissions. The Act allows a lien to be placed on commercial property for nonpayment of the commission. The legislation is intended to prevent future lawsuits in regard to commissions. The Act only applies to written commission agreements executed after the Act's effective date of Oct. 5, 2010, to "commercial real estate," which is defined as any property that is not: (i) vacant property zoned for single-family use, (ii) property with four or fewer residential units, or (iii) property with more than four residential units if such units are single-family units that are sold, leased, or otherwise conveyed on a unit-by-unit basis.

With respect to leases, a broker may record a lien at any time within 60 days after a lease is signed, which attaches once the tenant takes possession of the property. The statute of limitations for a broker's lien is one year after the attachment of the lien and the parties can escrow an amount sufficient to satisfy the lien so that the buyer or seller cannot refuse to close a transaction due to the escrow account requirement. An escrow account is not required if either (i) alternative procedures are available that will allow the transaction to close and are acceptable to all of the parties to the transaction, or (ii) the proceeds from the transaction are insufficient to satisfy such lien.

Q: Our condominium has a prohibition on exterior attachments to the unit and several of the board members have been upset with pumpkins being put on the porches of our condominiums. I think this is unreasonable and irrational. What do you think?

A: Generally speaking, the Board of Directors has wide latitude in ensuring the aesthetic integrity of the condominium. Of course, that decision making process can be abused and it would appear that prohibiting pumpkins from being placed on the common elements for a limited period of time would be unreasonable unless there is a safety or other legitimate reason for doing so. However, the ultimate decision process rests with the board and your best recourse may be to elect board members who are more receptive to being neighborly.

Robert M. Meisner is a lawyer and the author of Condominium Operation: Getting Started & Staying on the Right Track, second edition. It is available for $9.95 plus $1 shipping and handling. He also wrote Condo Living: A Survival Guide to Buying, Owning and Selling a Condominium, available for $24.95 plus $5 shipping and handling. SUDOKU

Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Recommends that you to contact a Realtor.
You may know the first thing about selling a home. He knows the eighth, ninth and tenth.
For everything you think you know about selling a home, there's always a handful of questions just under the surface.
A REALTOR® helps you set a fair selling price, orchestrates improvements, conducts open houses, explains closing documents and a million other things that wouldn't even fit on this page.
So once you've made the decision to sell your home, work with someone who'll work with you.
