H.Y.P.E. time

The Westland Parks and Recreation Department is offering children ages 6-14 some H.Y.P.E. during their midwinter break.

The department is partnering with the H.Y.P.E. (Helping Youth Progress and Excel) Athletics Community to offer four-day basketball clinic 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Monday-Thursday, Feb. 20-24, at the Bailey Recreation Center, 36651 Ford, Westland.

The clinic will focus on athletic improvement, individual and group drills, contests, and organized games. Coaches include a former NBA player and a two-time basketball national champion. They cost $30 each. Register at the Bailey Recreation Center. Call (734) 722-7620 for more information.

A Wing deal

How would you like a suite for 10, including beer, pop and food, and a chance to watch the Detroit Red Wings take on the Nashville Predators at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 30.

You could have it if you buy a $10 raffle ticket being sold by the Westland Rotary members to benefit the organization's scholarship fund and other charities. Tickets are available at the Westland Chamber of Commerce Office, 36900 Ford Road, or from any Rotary member. The drawing to be held at 1 p.m. Thursday, March 22, at Joy Manor, 28999 Joy Road, Westland.

For more information, call Mary McGaw at (734) 748-8515.

Leap year babies

With Feb. 29 fast approaching, we are looking for Leap Year babies!

How do you celebrate? When do you celebrate? Has life been any different because you're a Leap Year baby? These are the things we'd like to know.

If you're a Feb. 29 baby, or had a Feb. 29 baby, or even know of a Leap Year baby, and are willing to share your story, please e-mail your information (and a photo!) to Observer editor Sue Mason at smason@hometownlife.com.

Auditor: City hanging in there

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

Westland's municipal finances got a clean bill of health from auditors Plante Moran and city officials got a pat on the back for efforts to deal with declining property tax and state revenues.

"A few years ago when the city was doing strategic planning, you were looking at a $15 million deficit at that point, you made a lot of tough decisions on staffing and trying to maintain service levels," said Michael Swartz of Plante Moran during a presentation on the 2010-11 fiscal year audit. "We applaud that. There will be more tough decisions moving forward. You're doing well better than other communities, not as well as others. You're kind of hanging in there."

The auditors commended the city for efforts already made to address the financial situation, including updating the five-year financial forecast for the general fund, staff reductions and reorganizations, early retirement incentives and cost saving changes in insurance.

Despite decreased revenues, Westland was able to increase the general fund balance by $1.4 million at the end of the 2010-11 fiscal year.

But as city auditors Plante Moran noted, that figure can be misleading by itself. Included in the fund balance are $750,000 related to the closing of the workers' compensation internal service fund, a one-time item.

The city also transferred the majority of the cable fund activity into the general fund which added $694,000 to the fund balance. Without these transactions, the auditors noted the fund balance would have stayed about the same.

With the additions, the fund balance totaled $2.2 million at the end of the fiscal year or 4.2 percent of the general fund's budgeted expenditures for the current 2011-12 fiscal year.

"There will be very few communities at the (recommended) 10 percent fund balance level," said Swartz. "Bonding agencies use that as a benchmark."

Looking back to the 2009 fiscal year, the audit showed a steady decline in funding. Property tax revenues dropped from $25.7 million to $22.3 million budgeted for 2012. Plante Moran noted the decrease in property tax revenues has slowed.

Chamber prepares for 50th anniversary

By Sue Mason
Observer Staff Writer

Planning the celebration is the easy part of celebrating the Westland Chamber of Commerce's 50th anniversary. Putting together the pieces of the earlier history is the hard part for the organizing committee.

"Our main focus is to create a celebration for the chamber, not a fundraiser," said Gary Bulson. "We want everyone to come out and have fun and we need sponsors for what we want to do."

Bulson and chamber members Dan Martin, Rebecca Kelly and Mary Vellardita are planning the 50th Anniversary for Friday, April 20, at the Hellenic Cultural Center. They have been meeting since last November and have pored over photos and ring binders filled with old chamber newsletters to put together a photo slide show and decide what to put on photo boards that will be set around the banquet hall.

"Anything that happened after 2003 we have thousands of photos, before digital, we don't have that much," said Martin.

"And getting a date on a photo is pretty tough," added Bulson, who spent more than two hours one day pulling 200 photos to be considered for the slide show. "We were just going to do a slide show and then just photo boards, but decided both have their benefits. The boards would be nice for people to gather and reminisce."

The committee also trying to track down former chamber directors like Joyce Wheeler, who played a role in the construction of the chamber office building on Ford Road in the 1980s, and Linda Shapona. They enlisted the aid of Sid Shaheen, a lifetime member, "to help us contact the elder statesman of the chamber," according to Bulson. Shaheen also is working to get photographs, he said.

The gala will start with a cocktail hour at 6 p.m. followed by a family-style dinner, featuring chicken cordon bleu and roast beef, at 7 p.m. and entertainment by Steve King

Police seek suspect in theft of mall walker's keys, car

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

A woman walking at Westland Shopping Center had her car stolen Jan. 27 after leaving her keys in the pocket of her coat which had been left unattended on a bench.

The Westland woman, 56, told police she was walking at the mall just before 9:30 a.m. When she finished walking, she said she returned to her coat, left on a bench in the south side of the mall near J.C. Penney.

Noticing her coat had been moved a little, the woman said she realized that she had left her keys in a pocket and the keys were now gone. She then found that her car, a gray 2004 Pontiac Vibe, was missing from the parking lot.

Along with the vehicle, the woman reported her purse contained $100 in cash, credit cards and identification had been left in the car and were missing. A short time later, the woman told police her purse had been recovered in the parking lot of the Dollar Tree store located near the mall.

Westland Police are looking for information on the suspect who stole keys from a coat left unattended by a woman walking at Westland Shopping Center Jan. 27. The suspect stole the woman's car and also her purse which had been left inside the car.

The wallet, with cash and credit cards, were missing.

On Feb. 1, the woman's car was recovered with heavy front end damage, damage to the right rear quarter panel, scratches along the right passenger door and a broken windshield.

The keys weren't in the car but the woman told police that an iPod, a set of headphones, a CD and garage door opener found in the vehicle didn't belong to her.

Westland Police have released a photograph of the suspect taken from mall security cameras. Anyone with information about the suspect is asked to call (734) 722-9600.

Tough decisions leads to bond rating upgrade

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

What a difference a year makes. Having dropped four notches last year, Westland's credit rating has been upgraded, thanks to changes made to the water and sewer fund.

Earlier this week, Mayor William Wild announced that Moody's Investors Service had upgraded the city's bond rating from Baa2 to Ba1 and assigned a positive outlook to Westland's water and sewer system revenue debt.

"Our bond rating is up. That is not an insignificant achievement," said Council President James Godbout. "Once the rating dropped, the council has been aggressive in working with the administration and (auditors) Plante Moran to improve the rating. We've made tough decisions. We introduced new (water and sewer) rates tonight."

Like an individual's personal credit rating, the city's bond rating impacts interest rates when the city has to borrow money for large projects. Part of the problem had been the city's failure to increase water and sewer rates enough to cover annual rate hikes from Detroit and Wayne County along with the city's operational needs.

"Last year, they moved us down four levels. With the work we've done like the repayment to the general fund, they moved us up a notch," said Wild, referring to general fund money which had been subsidizing an underfunded water and sewer fund.

In an effort to keep a better handle on water and sewer fund revenues, the city began reviewing the rates more frequently and has passed on rate increases including fixed charges costs. That resulted in a more than 16 percent rate hike last year with a 12.1 percent increase proposed to be adopted later this month.

Moody's improved rating is based upon the system's improved financial outlook, manageable debt ratio and stable residential cus-

Chamber was 'busy' promoting city in early years

By Sue Mason
Observer Staff Writer

Tracking down the history of the Westland Chamber of Commerce has meant finding people who were there in the early years. Unfortunately, many of the individuals who played a role in its start in 1962 are no longer alive, individuals like Ted Kuckelman, Virgil and Harriot Gagnon, Sandra Weed and Joseph Benyo. "One of the first chamber people I recall were Virgil and Harriot Gagnon," said retired Westland Observer editor Leonard Poger who started covering Westland just 10 days before it became a city on May 16, 1966. "He owned a gas station at Wayne and Warren roads and probably operated it out of the gas station. Virgil ran the chamber as a side job out of his office probably two-three years. Harriot knew the business community through her husband."

By 1966, the chamber was being operated by Ted Kuckelman who had a small office in the Dorsey Community Center. Poger described Kuckelman as a semi-retired businessman who went around starting chambers.

"I remember at the meetings he'd say, 'Board members, we have an action-packed agenda,'" Poger said. "His specialty was starting chambers. Once on their way, he'd quietly leave."

Harriot Gagnon succeeded Kuckelman and the office was moved to an office building on Warren Road that the city leased for use by the 18th District Court. The city allowed the chamber one small office and a conference room.

"I remember Millie Evans going before the council to protest the city giving free space to a private enterprise," said Poger. "The council disagreed and said the chamber was helping promote the community and businesses."

Poger recalled that the chamber had a membership of over 400 — "almost half of the businesses belonged" — in the 1980s, the community was growing and the Westland Shopping Center was attracting families and businesses to the city. Joyce Wheeler was the executive secretary and spearheaded the plan to building an office on Ford Road across from the city's civic center.

Poger, who served on the Board of Directors for three-four years, will admit that his "institutional knowledge" isn't perfect, but he does know one thing: "The chamber was helping the city develop and promoting business."

"It was a very busy community, a very busy city that was growing and a very busy school district," he said. "A lot of things were happening."

tomor base. In 2011 and with a goal of improving its bond rating, the city took steps to increase cash reserves, to pay off a wastewater bond and to reduce operation and maintenance expenses through staff attrition and cutting other operational costs.

"The credit bureaus look for a good working relationship between City Council and the administration in addressing the city's finances," said Wild.

Moody representatives were impressed with the development of a five-year rate analysis that is reviewed annually by the council, the mayor and key staff to stay abreast of economic factors impacting the health of the city's finances.

Wild also credited Plante Moran's Westland team for the help in restructuring the water and sewer model.

Moody's rating upgrade takes into account the city's healthy debt service coverage with the city setting aside sufficient cash reserves in the 2011 fiscal year to meet debt payments in 2012, rate increases being made to address the wholesale costs from Detroit Water and Sewerage Department, and the city's low 6.3 percent debt ratio.

Moody's stated that "future credit reviews will focus on the system's ability to retain healthy debt service coverage and ongoing financial operations..." The city currently has $2.9 million of revenue debt outstanding with a total system debt of $5.3 million.

and the Dittilies 8 p.m. to midnight. The sit-down dinner is something new for the chamber which normally does buffets.

"This is one of our big things we need to celebrate," said Bulson. "That's why we're putting it on, that's why we want it to be a fun event."

Tickets for the gala are $40 per person and $320 for a table of eight. Tickets are available at the chamber office, 36900 Ford Road, east of Newburgh.

Sponsorships also are available with packages ranging from $1,000 to sponsor the entertainment to $250 for a cocktail hour sponsor and $100 for a supporting sponsor. Businesses interested in being sponsors have until April 6 to sign up.

Despite the tough economic times, the chamber has held a steady on its membership. According to Martin, it's doing better than most chambers in Michigan.

"I went to a conference in the fall and a lot of chambers were talking about their membership dropping the last two years," he said. "We've done pretty good."

"We've held steady," added Bulson. "We drop 10, but then we gain 10. We caught a little boost with the buyouts with people starting their own businesses."

The chamber is going back to basics and using committees to help reinvent events and take the pressure off of Chamber Executive Director Brookellen Swope.

"Being a member is only have the battle, you need to be involved," said Martin. "You need to invest, show up at events and market your business."

AUDITOR

In the audit management letter, Plante Moran recommended that the city continue to look at ways to increase revenues and reduce spending as Westland's taxable value is expected to continue to decrease for the next several years and state shared revenues have decreased.

The auditors noted the city's water and sewer fund cash position continues to improve but noted outstanding debts related to previous projects, including approximately $1.7 million owed to the general fund. That is lower thanks to a $512,000 payment to the general fund from the water and sewer fund.

Additionally, the auditors noted that the fund's accounts receivable balance due from customers continues to grow. When the fiscal year ended June 30, $9.8 million was outstanding for 46 percent of the operating revenue.

Sheds to go: Students market their class work

By Sue Mason
Observer Staff Writer

They're built like a house, but they're only sheds, and the construction trades program at Garden City High School has several it needs to sell.

The sheds are being built by students in Andy Romes' construction trades program, and are priced to sell - $500 for a more than 29-square foot building with a door and window.

"We actually built the walls like it was a house. It may be overkill, but they're doing what they would do in the trade," said Romes.

Romes is selling the sheds for the cost of the materials. The price includes delivery. The foundation depends on what the buyer wants and however much the materials cost. If the buyer wants it set on the ground, the students will make sure it is level. They also will set it on stone, cement block or a cement pad.

"I have a student who donated a trailer and we'll roll it out the doors of the wood shop on a dolly," said Romes who is hoping one of the buyers will want the shed on a cement pad which will give students the experience of framing, pouring and smoothing the cement.

The sheds have a 65-inch square base. The door is 24 inches wide and the widow measures 32 inches wide and 15 inches high. The slanted roof has a 3-12 pitch, taking the height of the shed from 9 feet in the front to seven feet in the back. The sheds have a shingled roof and will be covered with vinyl siding that's been donated by Siding World.

Patrick Tirney paints the soffit of the shed white. They will be covered in vinyl siding provided by Siding World.

One shed has already been purchased by the family of a student and will be wired for electricity with lights and outlets.

Class work

Eight of Romes' 17 classes have been involved in building the sheds, one of several projects students work on. His beginning classes build a model wall, then break the walls down and turn them into mini Adirondack chairs, tables, and foot stools, priced at $15, $10 and $5 each.

"Real Adirondacks have longer seats, I had to consider our space so we had to shrink them down," Romes said.

Advanced students work on the bigger projects. For the sheds, they so far have done everything from the framing and making doors to laying shingles and painting the soffits.

Andrew McLean works on the cutout for the shed door's hinges.

"Everyone has an assigned job," said senior Henry Swann. "If you don't do it, you lose points."

Swann has been in the program since his freshman year. He took the class to "learn skills I can use in life."

"The hardest thing is that there's a lot of things that go into this that you wouldn't think of," Swann said. "We had to get the roof right and we had to get the pitch right." There's a lot of angles and measuring, you have to be flawless," said sophomore Austen Ritchie. "You make one thing wrong and you can ruin the entire project."

Ritchie likes working with his hands and wants to pursue construction trades after he's out of high school.

"I like this better than school work," he said.

Other projects

The students also are learning the trade by working on projects around the school. The classes are doing a new storage shed for the baseball team and redoing the inside of the concession stand across from the gymnasium. They've also gotten requests from teachers.

Several students also are working on projects for themselves or their families. One student is making planter boxes attached to a bench for his mother, another is working on a Plexiglas guitar body for himself.

"There's only so much work that can be done on the sheds, so we've taken on other jobs," said Romes. "They get to learn a lot of different things. They learn to problem solve. I stress a lot of job skills in the classes."

Romes is hoping to get more time for the class next year, allowing him get the students off campus to work on jobs. He also looking at doing more around the high school like possibly replacing a sidewalk by the tennis courts.

People interested in buying a shed can contact Romes at (734) 762-8350 or by e-mail at romesa@gcity.k12.mi.us.

"They're more sturdy that what you'd get at Home Depot," Romes said.

Judge dismisses WYAA embezzlement case

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

A week before a scheduled trial was to begin, an embezzlement charge against a former Westland Youth Athletic Association president has been dismissed.

Galen Huren, 47, had been accused of stealing about $31,000 from the WYAA while serving as president from January through July 2010. Huren's attorney Mary Mahoney didn't respond to a request for comment.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Linda Parker granted a defense motion and dismissed the charge against Huren, which had based largely on testimony from WYAA officials. During the period when Huren was president, WYAA records showed $31,000 in cash payments were made for registration but only $1 in cash was deposited in the group's bank account.

"I really don't want to comment, we are meeting with the (Wayne County) prosecutor to see what they say," said WYAA President Don Haas. "We will discuss it as a Board of Directors and see what we want to do from here. It's pretty sad for this to happen to a youth athletic association and then have the charges dismissed this way."

Haas and other WYAA members were surprised when they learned the criminal charge against Huren had been dismissed.

"We felt there was enough to at least send it to trial," Haas said.

WYAA members became aware of financial problems in 2010 when utilities at their headquarters on Farmington Road were shut off for nonpayment and other bills weren't paid or checks bounced.

"We're about 75 percent back to where we were. We paid off the bad debt. We still had to purchase new equipment for the current sports," said Haas.

Along with making up the bad debt and other expenses, Haas said the WYAA building lost its roof during a bad storm last summer. Insurance covered that building damage.

"Last year was trying, to say the least. We're making our way back. It's all due to the parents and kids in the program who had faith in us to bring them back," said Haas.

"We went through a whole process of checks and balances that we put into place."

A big issue with volunteer groups like WYAA is the limited number of volunteers who have limited time available, Haas said.

"With fewer people having more responsibilities on them, sometimes things like this happen," he said.

Police arrest two disorderly patrons

GARDEN CITY

Disorderly conduct

The Garden City police responded to two disorderly conduct calls recently.

In an incident which occurred about 11:30 p.m. Feb. 5, management at Albert's on the Alley located on Middlebelt, north of Ford, had a problem with a 24-year-old Garden City man who refused to leave the bar/restaurant.

The police arrived to find the customer yelling at the employee. The police officer arrested the disorderly man who tried to hit the employee and use pepper spray. The employee tossed the pepper spray up onto the roof.

When the police processed the man, they determined that he was intoxicated with a blood alcohol level of .241.

At 1:16 p.m. Feb. 7 at Joe D's Bar, 29242 Ford, the police arrested a 48-year-old Westland man who wanted to take a beer out of the building.

When the police arrived, they saw a group of people outside trying to stop the man from doing so. He was arrested on an outstanding Westland warrant and for interfering with a police officer because he was uncooperative and belligerent inside the police car.

He had also given the police false personal information.

Stolen vehicle

A resident in the 31000 block of Rush reported that someone stole her 2006 Saab station wagon sometime before 10 a.m. Feb. 2.

She said that the vehicle was locked and that all keys were accounted for. The vehicle had tinted windows and aftermarket rims. The police found no broken glass in the driveway.

Theft

A resident in the 33000 block of Cherry Hill reported that sometime before 6 a.m. Feb. 2 someone stole his Leatherman tools and Tom Tom GPS unit from his vehicle which was unlocked and parked in the driveway during the night.

The man said that he didn't hear anything unusual throughout the night.

A man said that the person who stole his wallet from the glove box of his unlocked car Feb. 6 in the 30000 block of Brown used his credit cards to make fraudulent purchases.

The thief purchased gasoline from the Admiral gas station in Westland and also fraudulently obtained cash advances.

Besides stealing credit and debit cards, the thief also obtained family members' Social Security numbers, he said.

Property destruction

A resident in the 28000 block of Bock planned to call AAA after he learned from a neighbor that the insurance truck wrecker was responsible for leaving deep tire tracks on his front lawn sometime before 5:30 p.m. Feb. 6.

A neighbor said that when her mother's car got stuck on their front lawn, they called AAA. The AAA truck also got stuck, she told her neighbor.

Theft

A resident in the 28000 block of Bridge who bought a Kindle in early December decided to return the e-reader because he wasn't using it much. However, he was unable to locate it.

When he called Amazon, he learned that it was re-registered to another person. He told the police that Amazon wouldn't identify that person.

Ex-boyfriend charged with home invasion

WESTLAND

Home invasion

A Shelby Township man is facing felony charges including home invasion and assaulting a police officer after breaking into the home of his former girlfriend's current boyfriend.

Just before 6:30 a.m. Feb. 4, police were called to a home in the 33000 block of Chief Lane when the homeowner reported hearing someone in the house. The homeowner had locked himself in the bathroom.

Officers didn't find any signs of forced entry but did find a rear door unlocked and were able to enter the garage where the door to the house was ajar.

When an officer made contact with the homeowner at the front door, the homeowner was startled by the basement door shutting behind him as he opened the front door.

Officers opened the basement door and reported that a man wearing a black hoodie, black gloves and a black mask charged up the stairs at them, armed with baseball bat. The man was ordered to stop and drop the bat, but he continued up the stairs, officers said.

Jason Fox

One officer used his Taser on the suspect which caused him to stop and sit on the stairs. Officers said the man released the bat but continued to refuse to move off the stairs. Eventually, the officers dragged the suspect up the stairs in a prone position to the front door of the home where he was arrested.

The homeowner's girlfriend, who was present, identified the suspect, Jason Michael Fox, 34, as her former boyfriend. The woman told police they had broken up in December but she has had recent problems with him stalking her and vandalizing her property.

Fox, who was later arraigned in 18th District Court on charges of home invasion, larceny in a building, possession of burglary tools and assaulting a police officer with a weapon, received facial abrasions while being dragged up the stairs. A not guilty plea was entered and bond set at $100,000 cash.

In a statement to police following his arrest, Fox told police that he had an argument with his former girlfriend and learned through Facebook that she planned to attend the Feb. 3 Detroit Pistons basketball game. Fox told police he followed the couple as they left the game to find out where the current boyfriend lives.

The burglary tools

charge stems from pieces of an automotive spark plug, something officers said is often used to break windows, and a flashlight found in Fox's possession. Fox told police he didn't need to break a window after finding a door unlocked.

When the homeowner appeared to have awakened, Fox told police decided to hide in the basement and hope he would fall back asleep. At that point, officers arrived.

Vandalism

A Westland firefighter told police he finished his shift at 8 a.m. Jan. 4 and headed home when he noticed his 2000 Ford F-150 truck was shaking. A witness flagged him down to tell him his tire was about to fall off. The firefighter discovered four of the five lug nuts on the drivers side rear tire had been removed.

Police said it was unclear whether the missing lug nuts were sabotage or an attempt to steal the tire and wheel. The truck had been parked at the fire station, 36435 Ford Road, while the firefighter was working. He told officers it was the third recent incident of tampering with vehicles belonging to Fire Department employees. The other incidents involved vehicles being ransacked and items being stolen.

DNA evidence supports conviction

By Darrell Clem
Observer Staff Writer

Buhnerkemper

A convicted killer and serial rapist whose victims included a woman he sexually assaulted after driving her to a Canton cemetery in 1989 has lost his attempt to prove his innocence due to DNA evidence long preserved by Canton police, authorities said.

"It's an impressive testament to the department being conscientious and taking care of evidence and doing it right," Canton Detective Sgt. Dave Schreiner said. "It's kind of nice to know that we maintained the ability to prove his guilt, thanks to us being on the job and holding onto evidence."

Canton police turned over DNA evidence for analysis after Wayne County authorities received inquiries about serial rapist and killer David Brian Buhnerkemper, now 55, from the Innocence Project, a national organization dedicated to pursuing a legal review of cases in question.

"The Innocence Project has a place in our society, and we certainly were willing to cooperate with them and abide by a court order for DNA evidence to be submitted to a lab for testing," Schreiner said. "He's in prison on our case and many others."

The latest analysis substantiated Buhnerkemper's guilt.

Life sentence

According to the Michigan Department of Corrections, Buhnerkemper is serving life in prison without the possibility of parole for convictions in 1993 and 1992 on 13 counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct, one count of murder involving a Pontiac woman and one count of kidnapping.

Records indicate that a jury convicted Buhnerkemper of one rape in Canton, though he had been charged with two sexual assaults that authorities at the time said happened in Knollwood Cemetery, on Ridge south of Cherry Hill on the township's far west side.

Described as a drifter, Buhnerkemper was arrested in February 1992 at his brother's house in the 7900 block of Koppernick Road in Canton, following a lengthy investigation.

Buhnerkemper said in court at the time that he owned a 1982 Chevrolet Chevette and little else. He also told a judge he had been fired from his job with a temporary work agency that included a stint at Canton-based Yazaki Corp.

Decades old

The first Knollwood incident occurred Aug. 27, 1988, when a 36-year-old Westland woman told police she was abducted from a Dearborn shopping mall and raped in the cemetery. She had been waiting for a bus but accepted a ride.

The second incident occurred Jan. 25, 1989, and involved a 37-year-old Taylor woman who told police she was picked up by a man near Telegraph Road in Dearborn Heights when her car ran out of gas. She said she was offered a ride to a gas station, but was taken to Knollwood and raped.

Both women eventually escaped.

Michigan Department of Corrections records indicate Buhnerkemper was convicted by a jury of the 1989 rape, along with other incidents such as the 1990 murder of a Pontiac woman, Carol Birrell, whose nude body was found in a Holly Township field near I-75.

"The woman had bite marks on her," then-Michigan State Police Detective Sgt. David Haire said at the time.

Same M/O

Schreiner said the woman whose rape in Canton led to a conviction also had bite marks.

Haire has said Buhnerkemper's victims talked of being bitten and of his unusual teeth, prompting authorities to get a court order to take imprints of his bite. Haire said the marks found on Birrell's back, neck and chest matched the imprints.

Schreiner said the latest developments in the case point out the importance of safeguarding DNA evidence that can now prove much more useful than in the past, due to advances in technology.

Tax code is tough to fathom

By Rick Bloom
Guest Columnist

Over the last few weeks there have been lots of stories about taxes. Whether it is the occupied Wall Street crowd, Warren Buffett's tax rate vs. his secretary, or the release of Mitt Romney's tax returns, taxes have been in the news. Unfortunately, what has become evident to me is that there is a total misunderstanding of our tax laws. Therefore, I thought it would be important to review some of the basics so readers have a better understanding. Everyone recognizes that no one, not even tax experts, understands our tax laws completely. After all, our tax laws are tens of thousands of pages long. Let's not forget they're written by lawyers for lawyers. Therefore, they are very difficult and complex to understand. However, there are some basics that help readers understand some of the conversations that are occurring.

Money Matters

Rick Bloom

Types of income

Much has been said about the fact that Warren Buffett has a lower tax rate than his secretary. Although this may be true, it certainly doesn't mean that Warren Buffett pays less in taxes than his secretary. In fact, I am sure he pays more in taxes per year than most people earn in a lifetime. The confusion comes in understanding tax rates. For the great majority of taxpayers, there are two different tax rates — ordinary income and capital gains.

Ordinary income is generally income from wages. That money is taxed starting at a 10 percent bracket and eventually rises to 35 percent. However, what makes this a little more complex is that we do not pay taxes on our gross income. For example, if you earned $75,000 in wages that does not mean you pay ordinary income taxes on that $75,000. We pay taxes based upon our taxable income, not our gross income. Taxable income is income less any deductions and exemptions. Thus, if someone's gross income is $75,000 their taxable income may only be $50,000. It is important to recognize that there is a distinction between gross income and taxable income.

The other major bracket — capital gain — is based upon the taxes paid on an investment that is held for at least a year and then sold with a gain. Your capital gain rate can either be zero, five percent or 15 percent. Therefore, when Warren Buffett talks about having a lower bracket than his secretary, he is not telling you the whole story. He is comparing his capital gain bracket to his secretary's ordinary income bracket. A fair comparison would be comparing his ordinary bracket to her ordinary income bracket or her capital gain bracket to his. What he did was compare his effective tax rate to her effective tax rate, which is something totally different.

Effective tax rate

Many times during this discussion about taxes you will hear something referred to as your effective tax rate. Basically, your effective tax rate is the total taxes you pay as a percent of your income. However, like so much when it comes to taxes, there are different ways to compute it. First, since the effective tax rate is the percent of your income, the first question is what income do you use? Do you use your gross income, which would be the $75,000, or do you use taxable income, which would be the $50,000 from the example outlined here. Or do you use what is considered adjustable taxable income? The next question is what taxes do you use? Do you use just federal income taxes or do you include all federal taxes such as the Medicare and Social Security tax? The bottom line is the effective tax rate can be computed a number of different ways and when you hear discussions regarding taxes and the effective tax rate, you should keep that in mind.

When taxes are discussed you will also hear the term, marginal tax rate. Your marginal tax rate would be the taxes that you pay on your last dollar of income. For example, if someone's taxable income (all ordinary income) was $400,000 their marginal tax rate would be 35 percent. That means the last dollar that they earned was taxed at 35 percent, however, that doesn't mean that the entire $400,000 was taxed at 35 percent. After all, our tax rates are progressive and, therefore, part of the $400,000 would also have been taxed at the lower brackets.

I suspect that as the presidential campaign heats up later this year, we will hear more and more discussion about taxes, tax policies and tax rates. As far as I'm concerned, it doesn't matter what side of the debate you're on. It is more important that you understand what the conversation is about and that you don't let anyone pull the wool over your eyes. We all know that numbers can be manipulated and politicians are pros at that.

My advice for lawmakers is that they shouldn't focus on tax rates and tax brackets but rather what would make things better for all of us — tax simplification. Good luck!

Founders Day Dinner celebrates all things PTA

By Sue Mason
Observer Staff Writer

They came to celebrate, and that they did at the Garden City PTA Council's 60th annual Founders Day Dinner.

Parents, teachers, administrators and city and state officials were recognized for their efforts. One teacher "was flabbergasted" at being named the 2012 Educator of the Year, and one state lawmaker was "honored" to be a part of the celebration.

"I am so happy to see all your smiling faces here to help us celebrate each other and our mutual successes," said Sue Bellows, longtime PTA activist and master of ceremonies. "Whenever we have individual successes, we all share in that success."

The evening included the announcement of the council's annual Educator of the Year award, presented to Cappi Marshall, a teacher at the Farmington Elementary 5-6 campus. Marshall was nominated by Farmington Principal James Bohnwagner who described her as "probably the most caring, compassionate and dedicated teacher I have ever met."

Friend of PTA

The council presented state Sen. Glenn Anderson with a Michigan PTA Life Membership Award for being a longtime friend of PTA and "stumping for teens and children" while serving in the legislature.

"I'm honored to be chosen for this," said Anderson. "I had no idea. I came here to be part of your doing it right for children. I'm proud of this school district, I truly appreciate this community. You never think this is a bother or a hindrance, you are all here for the kids."

Calling it a "personal favorite," Bellows introduced Marshall as the Educator of the Year.

"This isn't something that happens to just one person, there's other people who also put in their time," said Marshall. "The silver lining in moving to so many buildings is that there were people there to help me. Without their support, I couldn't do what I do."

Among the guest speakers was Garden City Mayor Randy Walker, who thanked the parents, teachers and administrators for what they do.

"Founders Day is a reminder of the important role that PTA has in supporting parent involvement and working on behalf of all children and families," he said. "Take pride in your many accomplishments and renew your commitment to be a powerful voice for our children."

Walker also shared the National Prevention Strategy Information on childhood obesity that he received at the winter meeting of the National Conference of Mayors, telling the crowd that "we must educate out children on healthy eating habits."

Also addressing the group was state Rep.

Garden City High School Principal Derek Fisher shares a picture of his son with Cappi Marshall, the 2012 Educator of the Year, during the annual Founders Day Dinner.

Garden City High School PTSA president Linda Bodnovits looks over the items available to the highest bidder in the silent auction.

Garden City Middle School Assistant Principal Larry Conni, shows centerpiece judge Stanley Szczotka, the director of student services, the explanation for their table arrangement.

Robert Constan, who presented the council with a state proclamation recognizing the work the superintendent, the school board, teachers and parents all do "to prepare students for success."

"You do a great job," he said.

Successful launch

The dinner had a theme of "Helping launch students into success," and Superintendent Michelle Cline noted that it dovetailed with the districts goal of launching students into successful students.

"We have strong teachers and administrators who assess and align the curriculum with the standards, but you are a critical part of making the launch pad," she said. "Parent support is important, the PTA is critical."

School board President Patrick McNally acknowledged that the past few years haven't been easy for parents but offered a goal that "hopefully in a few years we can take a different perspective and tell this room full of people how we're spending money, not how what we have to cut."

Offering words of encouragement was Shaton Berry, Michigan PTSA president, who thanked the group for "carrying the torch."

"Thank you for providing the opportunity for parents to be involved in their students' education," she said. "You make a difference every day, never lose sight of what you do."

The dinner also featured entertainment by the Kish Celtic Band, a 50/50 raffle and the ever-popular silent auction which raises money for scholarships for Garden City High School students, and the awarding of the trophy for the best centerpieces. That honor again went to Garden City Middle Schools which created grumbling about a fix.

Playing off the space theme, the centerpieces included a space shuttle and pictures of stu-

PTA HONORS ITS OWN

Among the awards given out at the annual dinner were given to:

- State Sen. Glenn Anderson, D-Westland — Michigan PTA Life Member Award given by the Garden City PTA Council.
- Garden City Elementary PTA President Jenna McMechan recognized volunteers Julie Forthun, Kristie Kosniewski, Doug Cary, Dave Mouradian, Fawn Salvatore, Lisa Fugitt, Stacey Kempinski, Rose Amore, Tonya Letasz and Cappi Marshall and the members of the Elementary PTA Executive Board — Deborah Bowers, vice president, Lathers Early Childhood and Kindergarten Center; Shannon Chene, vice president, Memorial 1-2 Campus; Kathy McGowan, vice president, Douglas 3-4 Campus; Becky Stibel, vice president, Farmington 5-6 Campus; Amanda Williams, secretary, and Drew McMechan, treasurer.

"These guys have done so much and I get all the compliments," said McMechan. "I'm thrilled the membership campaign brought in an amazing 500 members. I'm really excited with the resurgence in interest in the PTA."

• Special award given to the late Laura Pawlukiewicz by Jenna McMechan. "Our hearts are broken since we lost Laura, she was a very special parent and a cherished volunteer," McMechan said. "She was a very special PTA member."

• Nancy Outlaw — Distinguished Service Award for showing "dedication and working on behalf of children and youth," given by the Garden City High School PTSA.

"This award is very special and you earned it," said Linda Bodnovits, the high school PTSA president.

Nina Perrin and Julie Forthun were among guests at the 60th annual Founders Day Dinner.

Oakwood plans $4 million renovation of Annapolis ER

A renovation project at Oakwood Annapolis Hospital in Wayne will provide more space in the emergency department, increase the efficiency of the operation and reduce the amount of time patients will spend there.

The Oakwood Healthcare System is spending $4 million on a year-long project to redesign and expand the emergency department at the hospital to improve the overall patient experience, said Eric Widner, division president of Oakwood Healthcare.

"This is the largest renovation project in our emergency department since the hospital opened in 1957," said Widner. "It's a continuation of our commitment to provide the highest level of care to the community. We are confident that through these changes we will improve community access to and satisfaction with emergency care services provided at Oak-

Oakwood Annapolis Hospital will undergo a $4 million project this year to expand the emergency room department by 1,500 square feet as well as a renovation of the existing 11,000 square feet.

wood Annapolis."

The project involves an expansion of about 1,500 square feet as well as a renovation of the existing 11,000 square feet in the department. The renovation will result in a modest increase in bed capacity and a significant improvement in design of patient flow, along with optimized patient privacy, enhanced geriatric and bariatric care safety, and greater capacity for isolation and decontamination.

It will augment the separation between the pedestrian and ambulance entrances to promote safety. The new waiting room as well as internal refinements will support the "Start Up" and "Fast Track" initiatives, which are designed to ensure that patients are seen in a timely fashion.

"Our goal is to ensure that patients are seen earlier by an attending physician, which will result in earlier treatment, earlier relief of symptoms, earlier test results, and ultimately a shorter stay in the ED," said Liliana Mandiuc, clinical manager of the Emergency Department at Oakwood Annapolis Hospital.

The dedicated ambulance entrance will provide for an accelerated ambulance drop-off, which will help patients that require acute care receive faster treatment. The renovation will also provide a larger resuscitation room capable of accommodating two patients, which will support the pursuit of Level III trauma center verification at the hospital.

The hospital last upgraded its emergency department in 1993.

Wayne Mayor Al Haidous said he was pleased to see the investment in the hospital and the community.

"I was very excited to see such a modern way of doing business here in the City of Wayne," he said. "We are happy to have such a facility in our community."

The work will be phased in throughout the year and, through a collaborative effort between the hospital and emergency department leadership, the architects and builder, it will be done in a way that will ensure no loss of bed capacity or reduction in ability to provide emergency care, Widner said.

"It won't be business as usual, but we have a plan," he said. "We will be very thoughtful in the execution of this project to ensure that patients will continue to receive the same high level of care."

Kohl's scholarships

The Kohl's Department Stores Kohl's Cares® Scholarship Program will award more than $420,000 in scholarships and prizes, ranging from $50 Kohl's gift cards to $10,000 scholarships, to more than 2,200 young volunteers who have made a positive impact on their communities.

Nominations for kids ages 6-18 are being accepted now through March 15 at kohlskids.com. Kohl's is helping promising youth further their education at a time when college tuition continues to increase yearly – a challenge to many American families who face high unemployment and stagnant incomes.

"Through the Kohl's Cares® Scholarship Program, Kohl's recognizes young volunteers who dedicate their time, energy and passion to helping others and bettering the communities we live in," said Julie Gardner, Kohl's executive vice president and chief marketing officer. "During a time of economic uncertainty and high tuition costs, it's important to support extraordinary kids by investing in their future. We encourage parents, teachers, neighbors and friends to nominate outstanding young volunteers at kohlskids.com."

To make a nomination, visit kohlskids.com.

Nominator must be 21 years or older. Two nominees from each of the more than 1,100 Kohl's stores nationwide will win a $50 Kohl's gift card, and more than 200 will win regional scholarships worth $1,000 toward post-secondary education. Ten national winners will be awarded a total of $10,000 in scholarships for post-secondary education and Kohl's will donate $1,000 to a nonprofit organization on each national winner's behalf.

Through the Kohl's Cares Scholarship Program, Kohl's aims to honor young volunteers who have made a positive impact on their communities. Since the program began in 2001, Kohl's has recognized more than 15,000 kids with more than $3 million in scholarships and prizes. In 2012, Kohl's celebrates its 12th year of rewarding young volunteers.

Don't let technology block your view

By Clarity Patton Newhouse
Guest Columnist

The other day as I was driving home from an unfamiliar area, I had a taste for Dairy Queen. I had to make another stop, so while in the parking lot I used my smartphone's Google Maps app to see if there was someplace nearby to satisfy my sweet tooth.

No luck - all the enticing little listings on the map were too far out of my way. Pulling out of the parking lot in disappointment, I turned my head and right there on the other side of the same building I'd just visited was a Dairy Queen.

The moral of the story isn't "list your business on Google," although that's a very wise thing to do. The more thought-provoking point is that even though technology connects us with people and places around the world, it can get in the way of seeing the people and places right in front of us.

Don't let technology substitute for reality. From engaging with friends and family to exploring the world around us, there's still a lot more to life than captured in even the most amazing new technology.

Let's keep our eyes open – and have a sunny day!

Sinking fund tax renewal deserves a yes vote

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools has worked hard over the past decade to earn the trust of residents when it comes to tax issues.

In 1998, the district asked for and won approval of a $108 million bond issue to repair and renovate the schools. But the list was more than what could be covered by the bond issue. As a result, the district, in 2003, asked voters for a 10-year one-mill sinking fund tax, that allowed it to address those six pages of repairs.

The voters approved the request, and the last levy of that tax will come on the this summer's tax bill. As prelude to its expiration, school officials are asking district residents to approve at .99222-mill renewal on the Feb. 28 presidential primary ballot. If approved, the money would be utilized for the repair and replacement of Wayne-Westland's current educational infrastructure and protect taxpayers' investment in the students, schools and community.

The tax renewal would raise an estimated $1.93 million a year. The money raised could only be used for what is stated in the ballot language, basically building repairs and maintenance.

The original sinking fund levy provided new media centers at elementary schools, expanded parking lots and extra gymnasium space at the high schools. This time the district will use the money to focus on major repairs. Boilers, roofs, chillers and cooling towers, exterior soffits and canopies, exterior doors and windows, elementary kitchen remodeling and expansions, parking lot upgrades and expansions and bathroom renovations are on the list.

We need only look to last month's school board meeting to see how pricey a chiller can be. The school board approved the purchase of a chiller replacement at Wayne Memorial High School. The unit, which will provide air conditioning for the high school office, mathematics, science and library areas, costs $236,140. That purchase is coming out of the district's building and site fund.

The good part about a sinking fund is that unlike a bond issue, it isn't a loan. There is no interest to pay, so it frees up general fund money used for repairs for instruction and the students. The fund is audited by the state yearly, and if there is any discrepancy or violation, it becomes null and void.

That hasn't happened and school officials have done what they said they would do. We are confident that same will be true with this tax renewal.

Residents need to remember that this is not a new tax request, it's a 10-year renewal. It will not increase the amount of taxes they currently pay. For the homeowner with a taxable value of $40,000, considered average in the district, it would cost $39.69 annually.

Voters trusted the district to do the right thing with the bond issue and with the 2003 sinking fund millage request. If residents want to see how those tax dollars were spent, they need only walk into their neighborhood school and look around. What they'll see is Wayne-Westland students getting a 21st century education in buildings that are safe and secure.

The election is a presidential primary, so Wayne-Westland residents have three ways to vote — for the Republican Party, the Democratic Party or for only the millage request. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on election day, or residents can vote by absentee ballot. Whatever the choice, we encourage residents to be a part of the election process.

The district has been prudent in its financial decisions. Through wise money management, school officials have helped the district weather a financial storm that has engulfed the state for almost a decade. And we are confident they will continue to be just as prudent in how that sinking fund money will be spent.

We recommend a YES on the .99222-mill sinking fund renewal on Feb. 28. It is an investment in the students, the schools and the community, an investment that has helped the district meet the challenges of education in the 21st century.

Looking for a Model T

I am reaching out to you because you are involved in retaining the history of the early Ford automobile. I represent Friends of Nankin Mills.

One of the first in the Ford Motor Company Village Industry, the building has been restored and is in operation in a multiple services. The mill is an interpretive center, we have thousands of school children that enter the building every year. We have a speaker program that is growing. We even have a program to restore Thomas Edison's generator in the building so that kids can see how electricity was distributed in the area back in the '20s.

We feel that one thing that is lacking is an opportunity for children to be able to climb in and touch an early model car, specifically a Model T. We feel that having a car in the building that helped build parts for both the Model T and Model A that kids could climb in and feel the joy and excitement of what we all feel when we climb into our old cars. This would help spark interest in the next generation and help keep the history flowing.

What I am asking is that each of you help us by keeping your eyes and ears open for a car. We don't require a working engine, or even a perfect body and tires. This car will be cleaned up and painted and used as a hands-on display in the museum. We do have some money, but we are also a 501(c)3 and are happy to accept donations.

Please feel free to contact me either via e-mail at don@donnicholson.net. Have a great day motoring and preserving the history!

Remember the staff

I would like to extend congratulations to Dr. (Greg) Baracy for his accomplishments in Wayne-Westland School District. The article that appeared in the Observer was well written and gave many accolades to the Dr. Baracy, but what about all of the teachers and principals who followed through on Dr. Baracy's plans in order to earn the advanced state endorsements he received. Let us not forget that the people who actually teach our children are often forgotten and not thanked.

I would like to write this editorial in thanks to every Wayne-Westland principal, teacher and teacher's aide who took the time and patience to teach my children and all of the other children in the district. I agree that Wayne-Westland School District is one of the best in Michigan, but it is thanks to the principals and teachers that this school district has

Important information

Just this week we were talking about World Medical Relief and how they can help folks out with prescriptions and durable medical equipment. Lo and behold, Sue Buck had an article in today's Observer about this very organization.

This is a great article and is chock full of information about WMR and how they can help folks out.

Thanks, Sue (Buck), we have shared this information throughout Plymouth, Canton, Belleville and Northville.

Thanks for help

Thanks to the generous efforts of Detroit-area residents, thousands of hurting children worldwide will have the opportunity to experience the joy of Christmas. Residents joined Operation Christmas Child, the world's largest Christmas project of its kind, to pack 30,190 shoe boxes with toys, school supplies and necessity items. These gift-filled shoe boxes are making their way — or have already made their way — into the hands of needy children in 100 receiving countries.

On behalf of our community, I would like to thank the volunteers at local collection sites and everyone who packed an Operation Christmas Child shoe box gift. For many of the children receiving these boxes, the simple shoe box will be the first gift they have ever received.

Although the Detroit-area drop-off locations are closed until November 2012, gifts are received throughout the year at Samaritan's Purse, 801 Bamboo Road, Boone, NC 28607. If you would like to get involved year-round in helping children in need through Operation Christmas Child, go online to www.samaritanspurse.org/occ or call (937) 374-0761.

Thanks again to everyone who participated in this project. A simple gift, packed with love, can communicate hope and transform the lives of children worldwide!

Be prepared

The thought of a breakdown, an engine not starting or otherwise being stranded is scary as it is, but those things happening in freezing winter weather add another level of fear. So, when the weather outside is frightful, a little advance preparation can make winter driving more delightful. An investment of an hour or so to have your vehicle checked can help you avoid being stranded in severe winter weather:

- Check the battery and charging system for optimum performance. Cold weather is hard on batteries.

- Clean, flush and put new antifreeze in the cooling system. As a general rule of thumb, this should be done every two years.

- Make sure heaters, defrosters and wipers work properly. Consider winter wiper blades and use cold weather washer fluid. Typically, wiper blades should be replaced every six months.

- If you're due for a tune-up, have it done before winter sets in. Winter magnifies existing problems such as pings, hard starts, sluggish performance or rough idling.

- Check the tire tread depth and tire pressure. If snow and ice are a problem in your area, consider special tires designed to grip slick roads. During winter, tire pressure should be checked weekly.

- Check the brakes. The braking system is the vehicle's most important safety component.

- Inspect the exhaust system for carbon monoxide leaks, which can be especially dangerous during cold weather driving when windows are closed.

- Check to see that exterior and interior lights work and headlights are properly aimed.
- Be diligent about changing the oil at recommended intervals as dirty oil can spell trouble in winter. Consider changing to "winter weight" oil if you live in a cold climate. Check the fuel, air and transmission filters at the same time.

Motorists should keep the gas tank at least half full at all times to decrease the chances of moisture forming in the gas lines and possibly freezing. Drivers should also check the tire pressure of the spare in the trunk and stock an emergency kit with an ice scraper and snow brush, jumper cables, flashlight, flares, blanket, extra clothes, candles/matches, bottled water, dry food-snacks and needed medication.

MU well-armed for '12 season

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

Despite an unusually mild winter, Madonna
University baseball coach Greg Haeger decided to get an early jump on the 2012 season.

The Crusaders, who captured a Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic-Conference regular season
title and finished 32-14
overall, start the season
Thursday in San Diego, Calif. with a double-header against Vanguard (Calif.) and Oregon Tech.

"We lost so many games to weather last year we figured adding another trip would help us —
at least add five more games," said the 16th-year coach, who earned his 450th win last season.
"We're going to give it a shot. It's a little unique trying to set up your team to play on February 9, but we're doing our best at it."

And expect the Crusaders, who also have spring trips set for Feb. 17-18 (in Tennessee) and March 2-10 (in Florida), to have plenty of arms on the mound.

"I think most outsiders would look at it that pitching is the strength of our

Gooding

Hardin

team," Haeger said. "We brought six, or junior college transfers, to our program. Guys with great records who throw the ball very hard. In addition to getting (Robert) Fraser back after last year and what Jeremy (Gooding) did the year before ... and where a couple of the sophomores have come since their freshman year, we have a lot of options."

Gooding, a junior right-hander from Livonia and Dearborn Divine Child
High, finished 9-0 with a 1.10 earned average last season en route to NAIA
All-America honors.

"Jeremy is 19-1 in college," Haeger said. "He's put up the numbers, but we have two other kids
— Josh Vandemark, a JC All-America at Glen Oaks Community College. He's a big, strong kid who throws the ball in the upper 80s and low 90s

Lady Ocelots romp, 86-32

Domonique Jones scored 17 points to led four players in double figures as the Schoolcraft College women's basketball team rolled to an 86-35 MCCA
Eastern Conference victory Saturday at home
over winless Wayne County Community College.

The Lady Ocelots,
who won their seventh straight, improved to 18-4 overall and 9-2 in the conference (one game behind first-place Macomb CC).

Charlie Slater contributed eight points,
while Amber Sammons and Diamond Tolliver
each chipped in with 11
for Schoolcraft, which shot 50.7 percent from the field (34-of-67).

Wayne County (0-11, 0-11), suiting up only five players, got 17 points from Jasmine Butler.

Sicily Baker added
13 points and 15 rebounds, while Danielle Davis grabbed 10 boards.

Blazer icers beaten, 5-1

Jacqueline Lough scored a pair of goals
Saturday to lead
Plymouth-Canton-Salem to a 5-1 Michigan
Metro Girls High School
Hockey League win over host Livonia Ladywood at Plymouth's Arctic Pond.

Emily Bullock added
a goal and two assists as the Penguins improved to 12-3 overall and 12-3 in the league.
Nicole Natalborg and Courtney McAdoo also tallied goals for PCS.

Virginia Matherly
scored for Ladywood off assists from Katie Folk and Abby Pelon to cut the deficit to 2-1 in the second period.

Penguins goaltender
Kaitlyn Allard stopped
25-of-26, while Sarah Koch made 13 saves for the Blazers (7-10, 7-10).

Pats claim four winners in KLAA meet

By Brad Emons

Livonia Franklin had more individual champions — four — than the rest of the 24-school field en route to a third-place team finish Saturday in the KLAA Association
wrestling tournament at Howell.

Brighton captured
the team title with

204.5 to unseat three-time defending champion Hartland (159.5), Franklin (143.5), Westland John Glenn (132.5)
and the host Highlanders (99).

Other area teams
included Wayne Memorial, eighth (64); Livonia Stevenson, 14th (43);
and Livonia Churchill, 22nd (6).

"I thought we wrestled pretty well, but it was the same old story," Franklin coach Dave Chiola said. "We score a lot of points from six or seven guys and lose to teams that are more well balanced. We actually had the most champs of any school and I thought we looked great in some tough matchups — we just need the other spots

in the lineup to pick it up.

Maybe next year."

Among the weight class winners for the Patriots were Danny
Martinez (112), Gabe
Martinez (119), Ryan
Derry (145) and Allen
Steele (160).

Danny Martinez is now
47-1 overall, while Gabe is 45-3.

John Glenn boys, girls show no Mercy

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

It was a clean sweep Saturday for the Westland John Glenn boys and girls bowling teams at the Farmington Hills Mercy Tournament held at Drakeshire Lanes in Farmington.

The Glenn boys, who started their tournament season back in December at Drakeshire with a win at the Farmington Early Bird, racked up 3,942 total pins to captured the 12-school field which also included runner-up Novi-Detroit

Catholic Central (3,796) and Salem (3,727).

Meanwhile, the Glenn girls edged North Farmington for the title, 3,233-3,206 with the host Marlins taking third with 3,118.

Livonia Ladywood placed 13th with a 2,744.

"In my opinion, this was our best overall performance in tournament play
this year for both the boys and girls," Glenn boys coach Ron Brusseau said.
"We were very consistent the entire day. It could not come at a better time as postseason play starts in a

PREP BOWLING

couple weeks."

The Rocket boys got off to a shaky start, posting their low Baker score of the tourney with a 164, but rebounded for finish with an 831 four-game set after posting scores of 228, 224 and 215.

Glenn also rolled through the match game process with a three-game set of 1,029, 1,089-1,034.

Junior Jordan Hornes
was the individual winner with a 733 series on games of 222, 248 and 263.

Teammate Mitch Dean, who placed seventh, also made all-tournament with a 659 series on games of 224-
247-188.

Other Glenn scorers included junior Daniel Ammons, 222-194-177-573;
senior Thomas Brusseau, 205-247-452; junior Steven White, 195; sophomore Steven Brusseau, 183; junior Mark Kassab, 117; and senior Tommy Ruark, 152.

The Glenn girls posted a four-game Baker total of 667 with high of 182.

The Rockets scored 3,233
in match play led by individual runner-up Jessica Pate, who rolled a 637

series on games of 246-201-190.

Other top scorers for Glenn included Olivia
Cabildo, 176-190-157-523;
Caitly Lenard, 204-167-135-506; Bre Riblett, 156-168-
324; and Sarah Auldige, 184.

Salem's Kristen Larkins rolled a 679 series on games of 233-225-231 to individual first-place honors.

awhile. I don't know how many years it's been. It's a hard place to play. It's a small gym and always loud and hot. We never play well here. And for that reason they (Madonna) always play better at home, too.

"And No. 2, we were coming off a big win on Wednesday. I was worried about our energy and focus. Thank God basketball is two halves. They woke up a little bit, but I thought Madonna played hard, especially their seniors."

The Crusaders, who started and honored all four of their seniors, led 33-29 at halftime, but committed 15 second half turnovers. MU made five of its 25 turnovers during the first 4:06 of the second half.

A layup by Hannah Sabol (20 points) and a three-pointer by Brittany Gibson — both coming during the first minute of the second half — catapulted the Cardinals to a 34-33 advantage, a lead they would never relinquish the rest of the way.

"We went into the locker room and talked about the first three or four minutes, and how we needed to play in those first three or four minutes," MU coach Carl Graves said. "We had four turnovers and they (Concordia) went on a 10-0 run. That really hurt our chances."

"We really showed we could play with them. We just couldn't afford to give them those opportunities. They converted 27 points off our 25 turnovers and that will beat you every night."

Kortni Elsworth added 12 points for Concordia, which shot 23-of-63 from the field (36.5 percent) and 15-of-23 from the foul line (65.2 percent). Gibson added nine points and nine rebounds.

Gorski's halftime talk stressed more active play on the defensive end.

"We were very quiet, not talking, so they (Madonna) were getting to the basket. We didn't have any energy on the defensive end. We talked about getting in the gaps. We came out scrambling a little bit more. Everyone had their hands up. We were more active. That led to our offense because our offense was so stagnant the first half. We rely on our defense and our fastbreak, but if you're letting them score ... it's hard to get into your fastbreak."

"Basically turn up the defensive energy and our offense will take care of itself. We didn't shoot the ball well, but they (Madonna) did a great defensive job."

Sabol, an All-WHAC player, scored 17 of her game-high 20 over the final 20 minutes.

"Sabol got going in the second half, but they really locked up our post (players) in the first half," Gorski said. "We couldn't catch anything inside with two-and-three people on us."

Junior Michelle Lindsey paced MU in scoring with 13 points, while sophomore Shantelle Herring and junior Kay-lee McGrath (Livonia Stevenson) each added 12.

McGrath also grabbed a team-high nine rebounds.

Prior to the game, MU honored seniors Becca Wojcinski (six points), Katie Martin (five points), Erin Bentley (four assists) and Megan Murphy (four points).

"I have as much confidence in my seniors as much as anybody on the team," said Graves, whose team slipped to 8-15 overall and 5-9 in the WHAC. "They've been wonderful kids for the program. Wonderful for Madonna University. I couldn't be more proud about the way they came out and played with purpose against athletes that were much bigger, and in some cases, much faster. They were very competitive. We owe them our competitive edge in the first half."

It was the final home game for the Crusaders, who finish the regular season with four road games before the WHAC playoffs begin.

"We've been focusing all season on our rebounding," Graves said. "Now we seem to have a little bit of a turnover problem and our free throws. If we're able to control those elements of the game, we're competitive with just about anybody we play. But we've got to give ourselves a better chance to win. Those are things we can control with effort. That's what we're focusing for the stretch."

Wildcat overtime goal freezes Churchill, 4-3

Senior winger Cody Staub's power-play goal 3:37 into overtime lifted the Plymouth team to

BOYS HOCKEY a 4-3 KLAAs South Division boys

hockey victory Saturday over state-ranked Livonia Churchill at Compuware Arena.

Senior defenseman Nate Stemberger collected the puck at center ice, made a quick pass to Staub who skated into the offensive zone and fired a wrist shot past Charger goalie Chris Adams for Staub's second goal of the game and fourth of the season. Stemberger's assist was his second of the game.

"It was a hard-fought win for our team over a quality opponent," Plymouth coach Gerry Vento said. Plymouth (12-7, 5-5) rebounded in overtime after Churchill rallied with two third-period goals to tie the game.

The Wildcats entered the third period with a 3-1 lead, but Churchill's Devin Smythe scored on the power play 1:13 into the period. With Adams on the bench for the extra attacker, the Chargers tied the game on Riley Brown's goal with 19 seconds remaining in regulation.

Churchill's Jake Otto opened the scoring in the first period. Plymouth responded in the second period with goals senior winger Zach Gambrell (13th of the season), junior defenseman Dean Gunther (fifth of the season) and Staub's first goal of the game, also on the power play.

Senior goalie Rich Guglielmi made 16 saves for his eighth victory of the season.

Both teams fired 19 shots on goal.

For the Wildcats, Saturday's win was the team's ninth victory in 10 games since the holiday break. Plymouth also won in overtime at Farmington last Thursday.

Churchill lost its third straight to fall to 14-5 overall and 6-3-0-1 in the division.

Franklin also got a third from Jordan Atienza (145) and a fourth from Omar Haymour (285).

"Jordan (Atienza) lost to (Alec) Panteleo from Canton, but other than that looked really good," Chiola said. "Omar (Haymour) just had a bad day. Heavyweight is such an up-and-down weight anyway — you never know what is going to happen. Hopefully he can shake it off and get ready for the postseason."

John Glenn boasted a pair of individual champions in Kyle Gillies (103) and Travis Mann (152).

Gillies, a state placer a year ago, decided on Hartland's Nate Hughes in the finals, 7-1, to improved to 37-4 overall.

Mann decided on Brighton's Aaron Calderon, 11-7, to run his season record to 32-4.

Wayne Memorial senior Dimitrus Renfro continued his sterling season with a 3-1 over John Glenn's Jordan Brandon at 215 pounds.

Renfro is a perfect 40-0 on the year, while Brandon is 39-6.

Massey fuels Glenn title triumph

Purdue-bound Joselyn Massey had a monster game Tuesday night as Westland John Glenn girls sewed up its first divisional outright championship since 1982 with a 74-33 girls basketball victory at Livonia Franklin.

The 6-foot-1 senior center finished with 25 points and 20 rebounds as the Rockets pulled away with a 30-4 third quarter run after leading 34-18 at intermission.

Erica Coville and Kaira Barnes chipped in with 16 and 10 points, respectively, for the KLAA South champions, who improved to 13-2 overall and 9-0 in the division.

Alexis Smith scored 12 points for the Patriots, who slipped to 1-14 overall and 0-9 in the South.

"We missed nine shots in the paint the first half," Franklin coach Bob Ostrowski said. "Overall we played them better than the last time. It was a better effort."

Glenn was 4-of-12 from the foul line, while Franklin made 7-of-11.

PLYMOUTH 44, WAYNE 30: Kylie Robb's game-high 18 points led the Wildcats (10-5, 6-3) to a KLAA South Division win Tuesday at home over Wayne Memorial (4-10, 2-7). Jada Woody added nine points for Plymouth, which led 30-22 at halftime and 35-25 after three quarters.

Sophomore guard Ashley Bland paced the Zebras with 11 points and 10 rebounds. Plymouth was 6-of-11 at the foul line, while Wayne made only 4-of-9.

CANTON 43, CHURCHILL 27: Robyn Mack tallied 14 points and Kiara Schneider added 11 as the Chiefs (11-3, 7-2) pulled away from a five-point halftime Tuesday to subdue host Livonia Churchill (5-9, 2-7) in a KLAA South Division game.

Canton, leading 18-13 at the half, needed a 17-6 third-quarter run to seal the victory.

Redford Union's Caitlin Scanlon takes the ball to the basket against Clarenceville's Ashley Murphy, who scored 14 points and had 16 rebounds in the Trojans' 40-25 win.

"Defensively we fell apart," Churchill coach Matt McCowan said. "We've got to come out with more energy, especially in the second half. We also have to get the line more and make free throws."

Michelle Azar and Cecilie Hansen tallied eight points apiece for the Chargers, who went 3-of-8 from the foul stripe.

STEVENSON 41, S.L. EAST 31: Sophomore center Charlesann Roy scored 19 points and senior guard Jordan York dished out seven assists Tuesday as KLAA Central Division co-leader Livonia Stevenson (11-3, 7-2) downed visiting South Lyon East (3-12, 2-7). Mara Murray added eight points for the Spartans, who led 21-11 at halftime and 28-21 after three quarters.

Willow Cohn paced the Cougars with 14 points. "I think the girls starting thinking ahead a bit to Friday," said Stevenson coach Jen Knoph, whose team will play 7 p.m. Friday at Novi for the KLAA Central title.

Stevenson was 8-of-14 from the foul line, while East made 6-of-11.

LADYWOOD 53, MARIAN 41: On Tuesday, juniors Sara Even and Kiley Gorski tallied 14 points apiece to propel Livonia Ladywood (8-8, 4-4) past host Birmingham Marian (8-8, 2-6) in a Catholic League Central Division game.

The Blazers trailed 15-9 after one quarter before outscoring the Mustangs 19-11 in the second period and 16-3 in the third.

Andie Anastos also added 12 points, while Even dished out a team-high six assists.

"We played hard, it was a good effort and we hope to build on this going into the Catholic League playoffs," said Ladywood coach Anthony Coratti, whose team faces Warren Regina in the quarterfinals of the A-B Division tourney beginning at 4:30 p.m. Saturday at the Madonna University Activities Center.

CLARENCEVILLE 40, RU 25: Junior forward Ashley Murphy had 14 points, 16 rebounds, two blocks and two steals Tuesday to pace Livonia Clarenceville (3-11) to a victory over visiting Redford Union (1-14).

Sophomore center Ayanna Buckley also added 14 points, 15 rebounds and two blocks for the victorious Trojans, who led 19-12 at halftime and 25-16 after three quarters.

Kim D'Arcangelo scored 12 for the Panthers.

FRANKLIN ROAD 45, LUTH. WESTLAND 31:

Kristen Massey's game-high 34 points carried Novi Franklin Road Christian (10-4, 9-0) to a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Red Division triumph Tuesday over visiting Lutheran High Westland (9-6, 5-4).

Amanda Terranella and Aldreanna Fikes scored 14 and 10, respectively, for the Warriors, who trailed 20-10 at halftime. The two also combined for 19 rebounds with 11 and eight.

"We didn't play our best first half," Lutheran Westland coach Sandi Wade said. "We made some adjustments at halftime and came out and played a better second half. We played hard and with heart until the end."

Franklin Road made 22-of-31 foul shots, while Lutheran Westland made 9-of-11.

LUTH. WESTLAND 40, LUTH. SOUTH 21: Aldreanna Fikes scored 16 points and pulled down eight rebounds to lead Lutheran High Westland (9-5, 6-3) to a MIAC Red Division win Monday night at Newport Lutheran South (7-8, 4-5).

Taylor Wiemer added nine points for the Warriors, who trailed 12-10 at halftime before outscoring the Saints 30-9 in the second half.

Molly Roebke led Lutheran South with 12 points.

MU men deck Cards; S'craft rolls

The old adage "Turnabout is fair play" held true Saturday as the Madonna University men's basketball team

COLLEGE HOOPS avenged a loss earlier in season with a 69-66 Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference win at Concordia University.

Sophomore guards Travis Schuba and Bobby Nubert (Livonia Stevenson) scored 15 and 14 points, respectively, as the Crusaders improved to 15-11 overall and 10-4 in the WHAC.

Freshman Donald Owens came off the bench to add nine points for the Crusaders, who shot 43.4 percent from the floor (23-of-53) and 77.3 percent from the foul line (17-of-22).

Rocko Holmes and John Schaeffer each scored 20 points for the Cardinals (13-13, 8-6), who trailed 28-22 at halftime.

Concordia's Aaron Olsen tried at three-pointer at the buzzer, but missed.

The Cardinals won the first meeting between the teams Jan. 4 at MU, 92-80.

SCHOOLCRAFT 102, WAYNE CO. 63: Karl Moore and Lydell Mason combined for 61 points Saturday as host Schoolcraft College (14-8, 6-5) pulled away in the second half to rout Wayne Community College (2-16, 0-11) in an MCAA Eastern Conference game.

The Ocelots led 39-34 at intermission and then outscored the Wildcats 63-29 over the final 20 minutes.

Moore finished with 31 points, 14 rebounds and three assists, while Mason (Westland John Glenn) added a career-high 30 points and 12 boards.

Also contributing to the win was Daniel Hill (Wayne Memorial) with 13 points and 10 rebounds, and Reshard Anders with 12 points.

Daniel Price scored 28 and James Crisp added 13 for Wayne County.

Schoolcraft made 32-of-37 foul shots, while the Wildcats hit 14-of-26.

Lift-off: Rockets claim South title

Westland John Glenn wrapped up its first KLAA South Division outright title since 2008 with a 52-34 boys basketball victory Tuesday at Livonia Franklin.

The Rockets, who improved to 12-2 overall and 9-0 in the division, got 16 points from junior guard Nick Daniels, who made 9-of-10 free throws and dished out eight assists.

Senior forward Eric Coville added 14 points and 15 boards, while senior point-guard Marquise Graves had eight points and nine assists.

Glenn led 12-11 after one quarter and 22-15 at halftime. The Rockets put it away with a 19-11 fourth-quarter run.

Tyrone Rayford and Olushakin Cole each scored eight for the Patriots (2-12, 1-8), who shot 13-of-35 from the floor (37 percent). They also got nine rebounds from senior center Jake Barham.

Glenn connected on 14-of-20 free throws, while Franklin was 7-of-14.

PLYMOUTH 57, WAYNE 53: Marcus Oden scored 19 points and Brendan Swanson chipped in with 13 to lead the Wildcats (6-8, 4-5) to a KLAA South Division win Tuesday over host Wayne Memorial (6-8, 3-6).

Wayne, which led 15-6 after one quarter, got 13 points apiece from Dezmon Burleigh and Jordan Lowry, while Brian Smith contributed 10.

Both teams struggled from the foul stripe - Wayne, 3-of-9, and Plymouth, 11-of-23.

CANTON 63, CHURCHILL 30: On Tuesday, Paul Baumgart scored 16 points and Josh Mayberry added 16 to lead the host Chiefs (11-3, 7-2) past Livonia Churchill (6-8, 3-6) in a KLAA South Division encounter.

Baumgart also pulled down 10 rebounds.

Kyle Adams also chipped in with 13 and Ryan Planey added 10 for Canton.

Dwayne Scott paced the Chargers, who trailed 29-12 at halftime, with 11 points. Joe Lewis pulled down 10 rebounds.

STEVENSON 73, S.L. EAST 43: Senior forward Carey Cobb's 19 points and 14 rebounds propelled Livonia Stevenson (8-5, 4-5) to a KLAA Central Division triumph Tuesday at South Lyon East (1-12, 0-9).

Senior center Austin Bumpus chipped in with 10 points and nine boards for the Spartans, who led 43-14 at halftime.

"We pounded the ball inside and our guards did a good job of penetrating, either getting to the basket or kicking the ball out for good mid-range shots or layups," said Stevenson first-year coach Brandon Sinawi, whose team was 10-of-12 from the foul line.

Dustin Cough and Dan Habrick paced the Cougars with 14 and 12 points, respectively.

CLARENCEVILLE 45, RU 40: Livonia Clarenceville (4-9) rallied in the second half Tuesday to beat host Redford Union (4-11) in a non-conference game.

Damien Quarles and Kassius Kelly led the victorious Trojans, who rallied from a 28-20 halftime deficit, with 15 and 13 points, respectively.

Tre Goynes led the Panthers with 16 points, including 10 in the opening quarter before Kelly came on to put defensive clamps on the RU guard.

Dwight Pooler also added 11. "They (RU) had 11 second-chance points in the first half, but they didn't get any the second half," Clarenceville coach Justin Johnson said.

Both teams shot miserably from the foul line with RU going 3-for-15 and Clarenceville 9-for-19.

FRANKLIN ROAD 66, LUTH. WESTLAND 61: Jalen Walker scored a game-high 23 points and teammate Averett Barksdale added 19 to lead Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Red Division leader Novi Franklin Road Christian (10-3, 9-0) to a win Tuesday over host Lutheran High Westland (7-6, 6-4).

The Warriors, who trailed by as many as 13 in the third quarter, fought back to within two in the fourth, but couldn't get over the hump.

Taurrek Fikes scored 13 for the Warriors, while Matt Sylvestre and A.J. Seltz each added 12.

Both teams went 11-of-16 from the foul line.

CALVARY 46, HVL 39: Sophomore guard Ryan Schaffer's game-high 16 points were not enough Tuesday as Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (4-11, 2-8) fell to host Ypsilanti Calvary Christian (4-11, 3-7) in a MIAC Red Division game.

Travis Reed and Maalek Getchell scored 13 and 12, respectively, for the Cougars, who led 20-10 at halftime and 32-29 after three quarters.

HVL made only 7-of-19 free throws (36.8 percent) and only 15-of-56 from the floor (26.8 percent).

times a week and I'm making a lot of progress. I want to play as a freshman (at Kent State), so that motivates me to work even harder."

The Golden Flashes' coaches caught an initial glimpse of Holme's stellar net-protecting skills at a showcase event in Arizona during the fall of her junior year at Ladywood.

Impressed by what they saw, they invited Holme to visit their Cleveland-area campus.

"Once I saw the campus, I knew right away that I wanted to go there,"

Holme said. "They have a great field hockey program — field hockey is a lot bigger in Ohio and on the East Coast than it is up here — and I loved the team and the coaching staff."

Holme said she is undecided about what she'll study, but she's steering toward something in the sports medicine field.

Holme wasn't introduced to the sport until her freshman year at Ladywood.

"I kind of got suckered into trying out by a couple of girls who were already on the team," she said, chuckling. "They needed some players and I was a soccer goalie, so I thought I'd give it a shot. I liked it so much that I gave up playing soccer and basketball so I could focus on field hockey."

"I love being the goalkeeper. It's an adrenaline rush whenever I get shot on."

A typical game's work at Ladywood required about "10 to 15" saves, said Holme, who notched 11 shut-outs her junior season.

(mph). And Matt Cook, a Canadian kid, a junior, who showed 93 (mph) in the fall. Those three top guys are all going to compete with each other. It's going to be a lot of fun."

Fraser, a junior right-hander from Westland John Glenn, was 7-1 as a sophomore, but pitched only six games last year after suffering a shoulder injury. He was granted a medical redshirt.

Among the other returnees who made 10 or more appearances on the mound in 2011 include sophomore reliever Travis Schuba, who will return following basketball season; reliever Andy Omilian (Plymouth/Catholic Central), and left-handers Aaron Saarela, Erik Wright (Canton) and Logan Ryan.

Meanwhile, Haeger is confident about his catching duo of starting with fifth-year senior Drew Adamiec and sophomore Donny Holland.

"Donny did such a great job as a freshman," Haeger said. "He sat out last year with labrum surgery. His best asset on the field is defense. The pitching-catching match-up we have here is good."

The team's top hitter, second baseman Jeff Bultinck (.372) graduated, but Haeger is confident he can fill the void.

"Second base is really competitive," he said.

"We have really good kids, all have different assets in what they can do. Ryan Lech, a sophomore and two JUCOs, Tyler Cotter (Churchill/Lake Michigan CC) and Logan Curtis (Brooklyn/Jackson CC), both juniors. All three are capable and will play."

"We have so many pieces and things we can mix with. Billy Hardin (Livonia), two years ago, was our super sub. He played short, second, third — did a great job. He had 150 at-bats in that type of role. He had some arm problems last year and is throwing the ball better now after visiting the doctor. He's back in that role."

Meanwhile, Plymouth High grad Brad Lineberry (.315) returns at first base, while Spencer Sarel moves to third and Victor Barron goes to short.

"We keep on throwing different lineups out," the MU coach said. "(Brad) Lineberry (Plymouth) did a great job converting over to first last year."

"Those three positions we're comfortable with. We have a multitude of guys who can step in and back them up. We have a lot of depth on the infield."

As far as the outfield, Haeger lost the team's second-leading hitter and best defensive outfielder in Matt Kay (Canton), who hit .348.

"He did a great job for us," Haeger said. "Played a solid right field and threw guys out on the base paths. With Matt's graduation it puts us in a hole in right field."

Junior Steve Pelletier (.318), a Farmington Hills Harrison grad, will stay in left field, while Alex Charles (Harrison/Brother Rice) goes to center.

"Charles had Tommy John surgery," Haeger said. "It's the quickest I've ever seen or heard a guy recover in baseball in 25 years. He's about seven months out and he's throwing well. He's got the clearance and said he's ready to go. He's such a dynamic defensive player we're going to give him opportunities out there."

Among those also vying for other outfield time include Chris Baumann, a transfer from Earlham (Ind.) College, and freshman Christian Holder (Divine Child).

"Baumann's a smaller kid, a speed guy," Haeger said. "Those (two) guys are capable of going to center. If you're on the roster, you're an option in right field right."

One possibility in right field is junior Josh Deeg, a native of Lake Orion who made 18 appearances on the mound and threw 68 innings with 52 strikeouts two seasons at NCAA Division I school Xavier University.

Deeg, battling a sore pull, could be also the team's closer, but may eventually land in right.

BALLERT, ILO JOSEPHINE

94 passed away peacefully on February 3, 2012 at Angela Hospice in Livonia, Mich. She was known to friends and family as "Jo" and was a fixture in the Livonia Public School system from 1961 through 1987, having taught in nine different elementary and junior high schools. She loved teaching and particularly her later vocation as a Reading Specialist at Riley Middle School. Jo received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Toledo and Masters of Arts in Education and Education Specialist (Special Education) degrees from the University of Michigan. Wolverine football games were always at the top of her favorite pastimes, as she and husband Al, would cheer from their end zone seats and travel to Bowl games. Jo was also very active in her church, Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church in Livonia, and served on numerous committees, prayer groups and as an elder. Jo made it a point to be an active participant in local and state politics, and to always stay informed on current event issues. Missed dearly by her children, Colby (Carol) and Josette (David) Koets, grandchildren, Steven (Katie) Koets, Sara (Kirk) Pauley, Brendan (Janie), Cassandra and Zachary Ballert and great-grandson Connor Koets. She was preceded in death by her husband of 69 years, Albert G. Ballert, son, Albert Jr. and brother, Robert Butler. Services were held from the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, 9601 Hubbard, Livonia. Interment Toledo Memorial Park. In lieu of flowers, memorials can be given to the church or to the donor's choice of organization in her name. Arrangements entrusted to the Schrader-Howell Funeral Home, Plymouth. Comedy catechism

Nostalgic show benefits Redford church

Arrive late for Mary Zentmyer's performance this weekend at Thurston High School in Redford, and she'll make you apologize to the audience.

Wear a top with cleavage or a short skirt and you risk a dressing down.

Chew gum and you're guaranteed a reprimand.

And if your cell phone rings?

"I will confiscate cell phones. People get shook up. If I can figure out how to call the person back, I'll hold the phone to the mic and ask them to apologize," said Zentmyer, who has played the role of "Sister," a nun from the order of SOB (Sisters of Blarney) in the popular Late Nite Catechism series of interactive shows, for the past 16 years.

"There is some discipline and people eat it up. I don't think patrons like to be picked on but they like to see their friends get picked on. It's hilarious to me."

Zentmyer, who appeared in Late Nite's Christmas show during a six-week run last year at the Century Theatre in Detroit, will return in 'Till Death Do Us Part, Late Nite's Catechism 3 Saturday in Redford. The show includes Sister's lessons on marriage and life, along with a Newlywed Game-style competition for audience members. The show is about 80 percent scripted and 20 percent improvisation.

"There's no profanity and it's good clean fun," said Zentmyer, 56, a Catholic school alumna from Chicago, Ill. She's one of several actresses from around the country who perform the nun character for Entertainment Events, Inc., a New York company that has produced the show since 1999.

Zentmyer said audiences love the nostalgia and the interaction. Audience members who correctly answer Sister's questions might take home a prize, such as a laminated holy card.

Nostalgic show

"You're back in grammar school and I'm your teacher. If you went to Catholic school, it's hilarious," Zentmyer explained. "And even if you didn't go to Catholic school, you still catch on, because everyone has had one tough teacher."

That's exactly the situation that Maryann and Dave Capman of Redford found themselves in when they saw one of the Late Nite Catechism shows years ago in Birmingham, and more recently at the Gem Theatre in Detroit.

"I went to Catholic school, so I knew what was coming. I lived it," Capman said, recalling the performance. "My husband didn't go to Catholic school and he was cracking up."

"At the Gem, she called us out of the audience. She asked us all these silly questions. You had to sit there like a student and answer the questions and if you didn't answer it right, you didn't get a lollipop. I did pretty good but I was laughing."

Perfect date night

Capman is a member of the church council at Our Lady of Loretto and suggested the church hire one of the Late Nite Catechism productions to help raise money for a new roof, parking lot and masonry repairs. 'Till Death Do Us Part was the perfect choice for the weekend before Valentine's Day.

"I think people will really enjoy it," Capman said. "We hope it's a good crowd."

'TIL DEATH DO US PART

What: The third interactive show in the popular "Late Nite Catechism" series with Chicago actress, Mary Zentmyer playing the part of Sister
When: 7 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 11

Where: William F. Weber Performing Arts Center at Thurston High School, 26141 Schoolcraft, Redford

Details: After teaching countless students about the saints, venial sins, limbo and more, Sister will offer a hilarious lessons on the Sacraments of Marriage and the Last Rites, including her own wacky version of the "Newlywed Game." Proceeds benefit Our Lady of Loretto's Capital Campaign for a new roof, parking lot and building masonry repair

Tickets: $30, available at Our Lady of Loretto, visit www.entertainment-events.com, or call (877) 386-6969

Contact: Our Lady of Loretto at (313) 534-9000

Zentmyer looks forward to interacting with the audience. She said the improvised portion of the show helps keep the material fresh and "keeps me on my toes."

She has portrayed the nun — in full habit with no makeup — in churches, "fancy schmancy theaters," black box performing spaces and even a church festival beer tent last summer in Portland, northwest of Lansing.

"I dressed in the rectory and they took Sister in a golf cart to the beer tent," she said. "It's a great gig. I get to make people laugh. How lucky is that?"

SOCIAL SECURITY

Many people are wrongly rejected when they apply for Social Security Disability benefits. Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Sadly, the government denies approximately 60% of those who apply for disability benefits.

Attorneys J.B. Bleske and Jennifer Alfonsi have 42 years combined experience representing only Social Security disability clients. And they personally meet with all clients and appear themselves at all court hearings. Many large firms assign inexperienced attorneys to your case. And some of these firms are located thousands of miles away and only fly the attorney in the day of the court hearing. Attorneys Bleske and Alfonsi have vast experience before local Michigan judges.

In addition to practicing only Social Security disability law attorney Bleske has written a book for attorneys about the subject and has been interviewed on various television programs. Both attorney Bleske and Alfonsi have also been interviewed on radio programs and have given speeches to many groups.

Attorneys Bleske and Alfonsi offer free phone or office consultation. If they represent you, there will be no fee charged until after the case is won. The fee is a percentage of retroactive benefits.

Bleske and Alfonsi represent clients from all over the state of Michigan. Their Livonia office is on Six Mile Road just west of I-275. Their Novi office is located on Haggerty Road just north of 12 Mile Road. Call them at 1-800-331-3530 for a free consultation if you have been denied, or if you are thinking of possibly applying for Social Security benefits.

Those denied can appeal on their own but statistics for many years reveal that those represented by attorneys win a much higher percentage of appeals. And attorneys who specialize in Social Security Disability cases win a much higher percentage yet.

Monday meal makeovers

For some, Mondays may be the start of another week of the same old thing. But with a little help, Mondays can be the perfect time to make a difference in your routine. Celebrity fitness trainer and author Kathy Kaehler has teamed up with MorningStar Farms and the Meatless Monday campaign to encourage people to eat a healthier diet, one week at a time.

"My approach to lasting change has always been to start with small steps," said Kaehler. "I advise taking a weekly approach to help make diet and exercise changes manageable."

Kaehler shares these simple tips and tools for success:

- Get Organized at the top of the week. Use Sundays to make a grocery list, rinse and prep your vegetables for the week, and make a schedule of dinners for each night. It will take you no longer than an hour, will help you get organized, and will save time and money.
- Go Meatless on Mondays. Join the national Meatless Monday campaign and pledge to reduce your meat intake, one Monday at a time. It's a fun way to explore meatless eating, and there are some great meat alternative products that you can incorporate each week.
- Themed Meals. Planning themed meals can make eating healthy a little more exciting. Try meatballs on Monday, tacos on Tuesday and fish on Friday. Try these recipes for Sweet-and-Sour Veggie Meatballs over brown rice or Thai Peanut-Sauced Veggie Meatballs over your favorite noodles.

For recipes, coupons and more, visit www.MorningStarFarms.com.

Sweet-and-Sour Veggie Meatballs

Prep Time: 20 minutes
Total Time: 20 minutes
Servings: 14

- 2 packages (8.5 ounces each) Morningstar Farms Meal Starter Veggie Meatballs
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 4 teaspoons cornstarch
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup vegetable broth
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup red wine vinegar
- 2 tablespoons reduced-sodium soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon light-colored corn syrup
- 2 teaspoons grated gingerroot
- 1 large red bell pepper, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 3 green onions, cut into 1-inch pieces

Prepare veggie meatballs according to package directions.

In medium saucepan stir together brown sugar and cornstarch. Stir in broth, vinegar, soy sauce, corn syrup and gingerroot. Cook and stir over medium-high heat until boiling and thickened. Stir in bell pepper.

In chafing dish or 2½-quart crockery cooker place meatballs. Spoon sauce over top, gently stirring to mix. Sprinkle with green onions. Keep warm over low heat for up to 2 hours. Serve with cocktail picks.

Thai Peanut-Sauced Veggie Meatballs

Thai Peanut-Sauced Veggie Meatballs

Prep Time: 20 minutes
Total Time: 20 minutes
Servings: 14

- 2 packages (8.5 ounces each) Morningstar Farms Meal Starter Veggie Meatballs
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup creamy peanut butter
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup vegetable broth
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup reduced-sodium soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons rice vinegar
- 3 tablespoons chili paste with garlic (sambal oelek)
- 2 teaspoons grated gingerroot
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 3 tablespoons sliced green onions
- 3 tablespoons dry roasted peanuts

Prepare veggie meatballs according to package directions.

Meanwhile, in small saucepan whisk together peanut butter, broth, soy sauce, vinegar, chili paste, gingerroot and sugar. Cook and stir over medium heat for 3-5 minutes or until heated through.

In chafing dish or 2½-quart crockery cooker, place meatballs. Spoon peanut sauce over top, gently stirring to mix. Sprinkle with green onions and peanuts. Keep warm over low heat for up to 2 hours. Serve with cocktail picks.

Brewing your perfect cup of tea

Hot or iced, decaf or caffeinated, with milk or with sugar, there are a lot of ways to enjoy drinking one of the world's most popular beverages — tea. In addition to knowing your preferred way of enjoying tea, it is important to know the right way to brew it. Below are some simple tips to ensure a flawless cup.

- The perfect cup of tea starts with fresh water. If tap water is being used, let the water run for a few minutes so it's as fresh as can be.

- If you plan on serving your tea in a teapot, pre-heat the pot. This prevents cracking that could occur when boiling water is placed in a pot that is room temperature.

- Brewing time depends on the type of tea you are preparing and how strong you'd like it to be. Green tea only needs about 1-4 minutes. Black tea generally steeps for about 3-5 minutes.

- Be sure to use a tea cozy if you are keeping tea in a teapot for a while. Reheating the tea will cause the tea to have less flavor.

Going Green

Growing in popularity, and with good reason, green tea is a consumer favorite and provides a number of benefits. Research suggests that drinking two to three cups per day of green (or black) tea may help support normal, healthy vascular function. Those looking for the benefits of green tea along with the refreshing taste of superfruits can enjoy both with Lipton's Green Tea with Superfruit flavors. This includes flavors such as Red Goji and Raspberry, White Peach and Mangosteen, and Purple Acai and Blueberry.

Here are two recipes using perfectly brewed green tea. Find more recipes at www.lipton.com.

Use fresh water for the perfect cup of tea.

Warm Cinnamon-Spiked Red Goji Tea

Makes: 2 servings
Prep Time: 10 minutes
Brew Time: 3 minutes

- 2½ cups water
- 2 tablespoons granulated sugar or firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 cinnamon sticks
- 3 Lipton Red Goji with Raspberry Green Tea Bags

Bring water and sugar to a boil in 1-quart saucepan. Add cinnamon sticks and simmer 3 minutes. Remove from heat and then add tea bags. Cover and brew 3 minutes. Remove cinnamon sticks, then tea bags and squeeze. Pour into mugs.

Ginger-Honey Mangosteen Warmer

Makes: 4 servings
Prep Time: 5 minutes
Brew Time: 3 minutes

- 4 cups boiling water
- 1 piece fresh ginger (about 3 inches), sliced
- 6 Lipton White Mangosteen and Peach Green Tea Bags
- 3 tablespoons honey or agave nectar

Bring water and ginger to a boil in 2½-quart saucepan. Remove from heat and then add tea bags. Cover and brew 3 minutes. Remove ginger, then tea bags and squeeze. Stir in honey.

Be My Valentine

Let your friends know how much you care for them by making a special Valentine's treat.

Materials Needed:

- ☐ Red, pink, and green construction paper
- ☐ Scissors
- ☐ Lollipop
- ☐ Glue stick

Step by Step Instructions:

Use red and pink construction paper to cut out a heart shape. Make sure that the heart is larger than lollipop candy.

Now let's make leaves. Fold the green paper in half and cut out a leaf shape. Keep the two sides attached making sure not to cut the seam.

Write a special message to your Valentine on the heart or leaf.

Now glue the heart to the candy wrapper. Make sure that your message is on the un-glued opposite side.

Unfold leaf shape and spread glue on it. Place the lollipop handle in the seam of the two leaf sides and press the two glued sides together to secure it around the handle.

Emergency plan vital for small business

Reacting to a natural disaster or emergency not only means ensuring the immediate safety of employees, but also planning how the business will continue to function in the aftermath. Even if your business is not located in an area that is a likely target for a natural or man-made disaster, you need to be prepared for the unexpected with a comprehensive business continuation plan. The Better Business Bureau advises business owners to develop a plan of action should their business face a disaster.

Creating a disaster plan for your business is a great way to start the new year. According to the Insurance Institute for Home and Business Safety, one in four small businesses forced to close because of a disaster never reopens. Business that have a business continuity plan in place — and use it during and after disaster strikes — typically experience less damage, loss and downtime than businesses without a plan.

"If your business lacks an emergency plan, a natural disaster can turn into a business catastrophe," said Patrick Bennett, BBB director of community relations. "But a solid emergency plan can give you a lot of peace of mind and a greater sense of security."

After you've made plans to ensure the safety of your employees, BBB offers the following advice to help keep your business operating and meeting your customers' needs in the wake of a disaster:

- Don't be caught off guard. Consider the different types of disasters — fire, flood, tornado, etc. — that can occur and how your business would respond differently to being displaced for a week, a month, or longer.

- Know your surroundings. Determine alternate locations for your business to operate if you are displaced from your current building. This could mean enabling employees to work from home or finding an alternate location for your office or store.

- Prepare your staff. Identify essential staff who are core to the operations of the business and keep a list of their phone numbers (home, work, pager, cell) and e-mail addresses that can be accessed by employees from several locations (home, Internet, etc.).

•Communicate, communicate, communicate. Devise an emergency communications plan that outlines how your business will communicate with employees, customers, vendors and other key external contacts in the days following a disaster. Contact vendors and suppliers to confirm their emergency response plan procedures. Be prepared to use alternate vendors for essential supplies and equipment. Have your back-up equipment kept in good working condition.

•Have an up-to-date inventory of your assets. Review your insurance policies to ensure that you have adequate coverage for items you cannot afford to lose. A standard policy may not cover business interruption losses.

•Store your documents safely and efficiently. Keep duplicates of personnel, payroll, payables and receivables and other essential records at an off-site location. Regularly make back-up copies of important computer files.

•Establish a succession of management for the company. Determine who will manage the company if key leaders are unavailable.

Yes to inspect request often best

By Robert Meisner
Guest Columnist

Q: We live in a detached condominium and every year the Board of Directors undertakes an exterior inspection of all of the units for maintenance purposes. However, this year we received notice that they are offering an interior/exterior inspection to the interior of the unit, but that would be the financial responsibility of the individual co-owner. Our bylaws state that the association has access to the units as necessary for maintenance, repair or replacement of any of the common elements and to make emergency repairs to prevent damage to the common elements. However, I feel that an interior inspection is an invasion of my privacy. Would it be within my rights to refuse the interior inspection?

Robert Meisner

A: It appears from your question that they are making the interior inspection an option which you do not have to accept. If that is the case, you can obviously opt not to have an interior inspection. On the other hand, to the extent that the association believes that it needs to inspect your unit for common element problems, I think there is a good argument that that cost should be defrayed by the association. If, on the other hand, the inspection of the unit deals with problems that are within the co-owner's responsibility to maintain repair or replacement, then that is something that should be the co-owner's responsibility. You should determine exactly why and what is going to be the subject matter of any inspection in the interior of your unit and whether it is mandatory or not.

Q: The president of our board wants to know whether we should get involved in endorsing any local candidates for election. Do you have any comments on that?

A: The association, through its board, should, in my judgment, steer clear of endorsing candidates entirely. Endorsing a candidate and coming out on the wrong side of an election could certainly end up doing the association a disservice. The best bet is to make this announcement at a board meeting. Let the co-owners know that the association will not be getting involved in any local politics. Obviously, there may be an unusual issue which directly affects the association like an express train going through the middle of the project where some involvement by the association, either politically or legally, would be required, but that is in a rare situation.

SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles?
Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku
savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
