Colbeck pondering gubernatorial run

Term-limited senator tired of 'tax-first mentality'

Darrell Clem
hometownlife.com

State Sen. Patrick Colbeck confirmed Tuesday he is "definitely considering" a campaign for the Michigan governor's seat in 2018, citing concerns about higher taxes, shoddy road repairs and spiraling health care costs.

Colbeck, R-Canton, said friends and political supporters, both through personal contact and social media, have pressed him to launch a gubernatorial campaign. He and wife Angie have begun the discussion.

"We are definitely being encouraged to do that," he said, saying his name has been mentioned on platforms such as Facebook and talk radio. "I'm seeing it all over the place."

Colbeck, in his second four-year term, cannot seek reelection to his 7th District Senate seat due to term limits. A staunch conservative, he won his Senate seat amid strong support from the Tea Party and other voters.

Colbeck's district includes Canton, Livonia, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville, Northville Township and Wayne.

Colbeck said he believes voters want a gubernatorial candidate who will place the concerns of "the general public over special interests." He said he opposed the latest road-repair fuel tax and said Michigan needs to make road construction companies more accountable for their work.

"I'm tired of the tax-first mentality," he said.

Colbeck also said he opposed a Medicaid expansion and had pushed for better alternatives.

"Health care is major for me," he said, adding later, "Health care is big, because it touches so many areas."

Under Gov. Rick Snyder,

Colbeck said Michigan has turned a corner economically, but he said the next step needs to focus on making sure citizens at large are benefiting from it.

Other Republicans whose names are mentioned in gubernatorial discussions include state Attorney General Bill Schuette of Midland and Lt. Gov. Brian Calley of Portland. They have said they are considering a run.

Parkside Credit Union expands in Westland

Parkside Credit Union will renovate and expand its current property at 1747 S. Newburgh Road in Westland. Construction on the expansion project is scheduled to begin in March, with an expected completion date in April 2018.

Harmon Management has been selected as the lead contractor for the project.

Trade contractors interested in bidding on the project should contact Harmon Management at info@harmonmanagementllc.com for more information. All proposals must be submitted by Jan. 25.

The 12,119-square-foot administrative wing and adjacent 4,513-square-foot branch will accommodate approximately 40 current staff members and will allow for the addition of new employees serving in lending, accounting, member services and other administrative functions.

"Bringing our administrative departments together under one roof will allow the credit union to create efficiencies, ultimately providing a more streamlined experience for our members," said Janet Thompson, Parkside's president and CEO. "With the move of our administrative office, we are also looking forward to the opportunity to create closer ties with the community."

Mayotte Group Architects, based in Lansing, created the architecture plans for the administrative wing and branch office and will continue to collaborate with Parkside on various design elements throughout the remainder of the project.

Parkside Credit Union is a Michigan-based nonprofit financial institution and has been serving the community since 1953.

LOCAL WOMEN WALK FOR HOPE, RIGHTS AT NATIONAL MARCH

Hannah Provence Donigan finalized her travel plans for the presidential inauguration before election day.

When her candidate lost, the 81-year-old Commerce woman, two of her friends and her eldest daughter found a reason to go through with the trip, swapping out one big event for another.

"Since the women's march came up, now we're flying from Detroit to Baltimore. We'll stay in Baltimore and rent a car," said Donigan, a former teacher and a Humanist minister.

On Friday, Jan. 20, inauguration day, they'll sight-see and possibly take in a few museums. On Saturday, Jan. 21, they'll join thousands of other women and men at the Women's March on Washington. Organizers floated the idea of a march to raise awareness of women's rights on Facebook after Donald Trump won the presidential election. The concept snowballed into an event that is expected to draw hundreds of thousands of marchers to the nation's capital the day after Trump takes the oath of office.

"I have hip problems, but I'm going to do it. I'm determined to go," Donigan said, adding that women's rights include pay equality, career choices, safeguarding Roe v. Wade and protecting voting rights for all Americans. "It's about a lot of things ... liberty and justice and love instead of hate — and hope. If you don't have hope, you don't have anything."

The march will run from 10 a.m. to 1:15 p.m., starting at Independence Avenue and Third Street, near the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C. The march and rally, featuring advocates, artists and entertainers, is free and open to "any person, regardless of gender or gender identity, who believes women's rights are human rights," according to its website. The organizing committee asks participants to register online at www.womensmarch.com to ensure an accurate count.

Phoebe Hopps, state coordinator for the Women's March, estimates that at least 6,000 women from Michigan will participate in the national event. Some will carpool, take trains or fly to Washington, D.C. At least 5,000 will take buses.

Bus from Livonia

Schoolcraft College students and Livonia residents Lizzie Casella and Christian Sullivan will ride with other students, faculty and community members on a bus chartered by the college student activities department.

"I hope this non-violent march is an opening message to the new president that women will have their rights and safety protected," said Sullivan, who is pursuing a nursing degree. "I personally hope to get a positive experience from my first march. I am assuming I will be one of the few men compared to the amount of women at this march, but I want to be shoulder-to-shoulder with the powerful women that are standing up for what is right."

He wants Congress to listen to the marchers' concerns, especially the message that "nobody should tell a woman what she can or can't do with her body."

Casella also supports women's reproductive rights. As a writer for the college newspaper and a future broadcast journalist, she is concerned about First Amendment rights and the president-elect's treat-

Michiganders excited about inauguration

Kathleen Gray
Detroit Free Press

It was Christmas Eve 2009 when Janine Kateff transformed from a retired teacher-turned-builder into a political activist.

It was that day that the U.S. Senate approved the Affordable Care Act — known as Obamacare — without a single Republican vote.

"It was sold to us as an affordable health care plan, but I've experienced just the opposite. I've got to make serious compromises to keep up with my health care," the West Bloomfield resident said. "So when that came in and I saw some of our politicians buy into it, that's when I said I have to get more involved."

She became active in the Republican Party, rising to the chairmanship of the 14th Congressional District GOP organization, and was an early and vocal supporter of Donald Trump, serving as a delegate for him at the Republican National Convention in Cleveland last July.

So she's headed with three friends to Washington, D.C., to celebrate the election and inauguration of Donald Trump as president of the United States.

"I hope to hear a message of unity and coming together as a country. And for those who have been claiming that he is not their president, I hope he can say something that will win their support," Kateff said. "It's a grand celebration and we're going to get to do it now and I hope the rest of the country can be happy for us."

Work is being performed on the stage ahead of next week inauguration at the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 13 in Washington, DC. On Jan. 20, President elect Donald Trump will be sworn in as the nation's 45th president.

Kateff will be joined by many Michiganders who were early supporters of Trump, as well as a few who backed other candidates or none at all.

Gov. Rick Snyder, who didn't endorse anyone for president in either the primary or general election, will use the inauguration to try and build relationships with Trump's administration.

"They're still filling a lot of positions in their administration and it's important to see who those people are and build relations," he said. "That's one of the reasons I'm going. I want us to have a positive relationship."

He'll be talking to transportation officials about continuing the support for the Gordie Howe International Bridge connecting Detroit and Windsor and the possibility of the federal government picking up the cost of a customs plaza at the bridge. He also wants to talk about potential improvements to the Soo Locks at Sault Ste. Marie, noting: "It's clearly a piece of national infrastructure that we need to invest in."

But he also wants to reconnect with Tom Price, the Georgia congressman who is Trump's nominee to head the Department of Health and Human Services. Price is a Michigan native and graduated from Dearborn High School a couple of years ahead of Snyder's wife Sue, so there's a built-in connection.

"I appreciate that Congress has issues. I have issues," Snyder said about the Affordable Care Act. "I can't answer all the puzzle pieces, but I'd like to highlight some of the real benefits that have been real helpful in Michigan for 600,000 people," who have health insurance through Obamacare's expansion of Medicaid to more low-income residents in the state.

For Michigan Attorney General Bill Schuette, Trump wasn't his preferred candidate — he initially backed Florida Gov. Jeb Bush. But the AG got on board when the controversial New York businessman won the Republican nomination.

So, for the Midland Republican, this inauguration is about the change that is sure to come with a President Trump, and a celebration of two Michiganders who are ascending as a result of Trump's victory. Schuette will help host a Thursday evening reception for west Michigan education advocate Betsy DeVos, who Trump has nominated as the Department of Education Secretary, and will happily attend a Friday evening reception for Ronna Romney McDaniel, who is Trump's preferred candidate for chairwoman of the Republican National Convention.

"There's something about Ronna. She's terrific; she has all the ingredients of leadership: she's smart, personable, tough and decisive," Schuette said, of the chairwoman of the Michigan Republican Party, and who helped deliver Michigan for a Republican for the first time since 1988. "She campaigned from top to bottom for the ticket and had a big victory."

For U.S. Sen. Debbie Stabenow, the East Lansing Democrat, the 2017 inauguration will be bittersweet.

"I'll just never forget 2009. It really was an extraordinary moment of hope and excitement about new possibilities," she said. "For me now, it's much more about anxiety and concern about the future."

She'll attend many of the inaugural week activities, including an open house hosted by Michigan's congressional delegation on Thursday afternoon, as well as the swearing-in ceremony for Trump on Friday.

But she's actually looking forward more to the Women's March on Saturday, when thousands of Michiganders will join people from around the country to protest the Trump presidency and advocate for issues of importance to women.

"I'm amazed at the interest. People are engaged as citizens and that's what's going to make a difference. We're in a time of tremendous uncertainty and anxiety. But this shows that everyone of us, as citizens, has the capacity to speak out and make a difference," Stabenow said.

Casella was in the student activities office in December when she noticed fliers about Schoolcraft offering a bus to the march.

"I was the very first one to sign up," she said. "I really hope for myself to gain a little bit of self-pride, being a part of something so big and amazing that could be life-changing. I always wanted to be an activist. As a journalist, I'm excited to be in the event, live reporting it and coming home and sharing the experience through writing."

Her mother initially planned to attend the march, but couldn't get time off from work and will participate in a simultaneous march in Lansing. A rally is planned 1:30 p.m. Saturday on the steps of the state Capitol, 100 N. Capitol Ave., Lansing. For more details, go to www.marchonlansing.org.

"I'm excited to be a part of it and honored that Schoolcraft College allowed us to do something like this," Casella said.

Deborah Burke, Schoolcraft College psychology professor, said as a public institution Schoolcraft should expose students "to all kinds of thought" and events, including the Women's March on Washington.

She worked with Lisa Jackson, a faculty member who also leads the college's student civil rights action club, in working with the college's student activities department to arrange the bus. The ride was priced at $100 per person, but all students on the bus will receive full or partial scholarships funded by donations from the Schoolcraft community, plus Burke's friends and neighbors.

The 56-passenger bus sold out earlier this month.

"I'm excited about the opportunity to take part in a historic event, a moment that is a starting point for Xerox who is now an executive coach for candidates seeking jobs with Fortune 500 companies, also has confirmed his Democratic candidacy in hopes of succeeding Snyder.

"I watched the last six years unfold," Cobbs said. "I'm both angry and disappointed and I know we can do better."

off point," said Burke, who made a quilted sign, bearing the message, "the person is the political," for the march. "And I'm excited to share this opportunity with people I work with, students I teach and the community."

Jeannine Donigan-Hales, Hannah Provence Donigan's daughter, will ride a bus with her 16-year-old daughter to the national event. Donigan-Hales is a teacher in the Farmington Public Schools district and will be part of the Michigan Education Association convoy to Washington.

"Certainly, education is important to everybody in the U.S. and a fair and equitable education for all is important. Being a part of a union, unions are important, too," she said, adding that she hopes government officials pay attention to the marchers' concerns.

"I'm not going to an anti-president march," she added. "For me, it's about women's issues and coming together to be kind and loving to each other."

Colleen Crossey, a social worker and Novi resident who will drive to the march, agrees that the event is not necessarily anti-Trump, but an airing of many concerns and grievances.

"There are so many ways that women are unfairly treated ... the wage issue, health care issue, reproductive health care issue and other things, like racism, sexism, fear of Muslims," she said. "The grievances can't fit on one sign."

She hopes lawmakers will pay attention and realize that women's issues are family issues.

"Government hasn't been doing a great job of listening to people in general," she said.

"Women are saying, 'Enough is enough.'"

Westland honors King's legacy

Westland joined communities around the country Monday in honoring Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and his legacy of freedom and peace.

Westland officials hosted the annual Freedom Walk and ceremony honoring the accomplishments and the vision held by the iconic civil rights leader. With Bishop Luke McClelland of Christ Temple Apostolic Church acting as master of ceremonies, the event featured speeches from local dignitaries, music and the march from the Westland Public Library to city hall.

Musical selections were performed by Christ Temple Apostolic Faith Church choir, while Gabriella Wild and Alex Holycross performed "Hallelujah."

The JROTC unit from John Glenn High School posted and retired the colors and the ceremony featured speeches from Westland Mayor William Wild, the Rev. Dr. John Duckworth of Gethsemane Missionary Baptist Church and the Rev. Vincent Matthews, pastor of Peoples Community Baptist Church.

Judge Cynthia Stephens of the 1st Michigan District Court of Appeals delivered the keynote address.

Jimmy Choo, Christian Dior, Kate Spade and Louboutin were some of the designers who adorned the pristinely pedicured feet of nearly 13,000 people on Friday at the North American International Auto Show's (NAIAS) annual Charity Preview. But back at her home in Bloomfield Hills that night, the only thing gracing Shari Barnett's tired soles were a pair of cars.com swag slippers that she picked up days before during the NAIAS press and industry preview days.

Barnett, director of creative services at Productions Plus-Talent Shop in Bingham Farms, was home regenerating that night, having staffed 344 people for NAIAS 2017. Barnett and her team of 32 from all four Productions Plus-Talent Shop offices in Bingham Farms, Orange County, Calif., Dallas and Atlanta; hired, placed and trained 243 product specialists and 101 brand ambassadors.

And, in an innovative move that spotlights "runway meets the roadway," according to Productions Plus-Talent Shop (PPTS) President Hedy Popson, Popson led the team and Barnett fostered the partnership between fashion-forward international designer Zang Toi and their client Lexus.

"This partnership was so unique because Zang Toi made a custom, hand-knit outfit specific to each product specialist working on the floor for Lexus," said Barnett who, along with Toi, is a graduate of the prestigious Parsons School of Design.

"None are off the rack. They are truly couture pieces."

Zang Toi was in town last week during press preview days, introducing the Lexus NAIAS line which includes a hand-loomed knit dress and hand-beading and embroidery on jackets.

Retail fraud suspect leaves wallet behind

Livonia police were called Friday afternoon to Sears, 29500 Seven Mile, on the report of a shoplifting suspect who fled the store after trying to take a power washer.

When police arrived, they spoke to an employee who said the suspect had fled the area on foot, though left his wallet, cellphone, ID and vehicle. The employee said the suspect was seen selecting a power washer. Because employees believed the suspect may have taken other items the day before, they began watching him.

When the suspect allegedly left without paying, he was approached in the parking lot as he was loading it into his vehicle. The suspect was asked to return inside the store, which he began cooperating with but then reportedly ran away halfway back to the building. The employee chased the man across the parking lot and called police as soon as he left the property. Police impounded the vehicle and his cellphone and wallet were tagged as evidence.

Battery cut off power tool

Police were called Monday afternoon to Home Depot, 13500 Middlebelt, on the report of a retail fraud suspect who had taken a battery from a power tool.

When police arrived, they spoke to an employee, who said the suspect came in and removed a power tool battery and put it in his coat pocket. He then left the store without paying for the item and then came back into the store and remained inside when police arrived. Police then reportedly went into the store and found the suspect and arrested him, recovering the battery from his pocket in the process.

Nicorette products stolen

Police were called Saturday evening to Walmart, 29555 Plymouth, on the report of two men accused of stealing several items.

An employee told police the suspects were seen concealing several items such as Nicorette patches. The two men then allegedly took the concealed items out one of the doors to the store without paying. Police were waiting for the suspects outside the doors and arrested them after they were identified by a loss prevention employee. They were taken to the police station for processing and the items were recovered, police said.

Two Livonians earn Eagle Scout rank

Boy Scout Troop 1382, located in St. Priscilla's Church of Livonia, recently honored Ean Brinker and Zach Obsniuk for attaining the rank of Eagle Scout. At the Court of Honor, there was a large turnout of family and friends to witness the ceremony. Among the dignitaries was a staff member from U.S. Rep. Dave Trott's office, who presented Brinker and Obsniuk with a special certificate honoring their achievement.

Obsniuk's Eagle Scout project was located at the Livonia Cemetery on Farmington Road south of Five Mile across from the Livonia Police station. In his search for a worthy project, Obsniuk was asked by the city to restore the wrought iron fence surrounding a large part of the cemetery. This involved repairing broken and bent sections of the fence, digging out areas of the fence that were buried in dirt, scraping, cleaning, priming and then repainting the entire length. Besides fellow parents and scouts from Troop 1382, volunteers included members of the Livonia Warriors Robotics team, of which Obsniuk was one of the lead programmers, and the Livonia Key Club. A special thanks was given to the city of Livonia for donating some of the materials Obsniuk needed to complete this project.

from Livonia Churchill where he was a student in the MSC program. At Churchill, he was also a member of the quiz bowl team, section leader for the Marching Band and played in the Wind Ensemble, for which he received the John Phillips Sousa award. The award recognizes superior musicianship, dependability, loyalty and cooperation. Obsniuk has completed his first semester at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he is studying math and physics.

Brinker's Eagle Scout project centered on reorganizing storage facilities in two garages for St. Priscilla Catholic Church. Working with church maintenance supervisor Sam Atherton, he organized and supervised crews in sorting, cleaning and re-storing seasonal items, tools and equipment used by church personnel and volunteers for maintenance and seasonal decoration. Under his leadership the group also completed repairs on cabinets and shelving units before replacing items and equipment, improving both access to the equipment and safety for personnel.

Brinker graduated from Livonia Stevenson High School as part of the Global Ed program and started college at Nova Southeastern University in Fort Lauderdale. He is studying marine biology.

"All the King's Horses and All the King's Men" ... Would not be needed if Thurston's freshmen physics students built a safe egg container for Humpty Dumpty.

Last April, the University of Chicago's Department of Psychology's professor Sian Beilock conducted a study to see if learning by doing helped student progress in science class. The findings proved that students should be physically involved in the learning process.

"In many situations, when we allow our bodies to become part of the learning process, we understand better," Beilock said. "Reading about a concept in a textbook or even seeing a demonstration in class is not the same as physically experiencing what you are learning about. We need to rethink how we are teaching math and science because our actions matter for how and what we learn."

At Thurston High School, ninth-grade physics teacher Danielle Aguilar wanted a way to show progress in her class without a traditional test or quiz. Instead, she gave a project that read, "This marking period, we have focused our efforts on learning about gravity, momentum and the velocities of falling objects. There has been a lot of math involved, and you have done wonderfully! Now, it's time to put that math to use in an EGG-citing project!"

Mrs. Aguilar then introduced the project.

"Have you ever dropped an egg? Even it you haven't, it's easy to guess what happens. The egg almost always breaks when it hits the hard floor. But what would happen if you dropped the egg onto a large pillow? What would happen if the egg had a parachute?

"You will build a container for your egg that will survive being dropped from 5 feet (or more) above the ground. You will be able to use the following materials only: one piece of cardboard; 12 inches of yarn; 1 drinking straw; up to 5 sheets of computer paper; 3 full sheets of paper towel; 2 feet of masking tape; other materials may be considered."

All ninth-graders participated in the competition with groups of 3-4. Aguilar was pleased with the results.

"Many students know and understand information but struggle when demonstrating their knowledge on tests," Aguilar said. "A hands-on project allows for me to assess student learning in a different way. All students receive a test and a project grade for each unit in order to show a complete picture of their learning. This project went exceptionally well this year. Students were focused and worked well in their groups. They came up with a lot of creative, successful ideas!"

The most effective and successful designs had a cardboard box with padding (cotton balls, tissue, paper towels, etc.) and a parachute. The most creative design involved origami cubes and balloons.

Trump unworthy for job

The inauguration for Donald Trump will be a historical one ranking high on the list with other major disasters that befall our country, like Pearl Harbor and 9/11.

Trump is not qualified nor experienced enough to be president. He is also unworthy and continues to show it with his tweets.

He has already caused a loss of faith in our system of government and our intelligence agencies.

He has incited hate and mistrust of fellow Americans, along with disrespect and violence.

It will be heartbreaking to see this man given the oath of office.

And truly heartbreaking is knowing it did not have to be this way. Republican leaders could have stopped him, but instead they chose to place their interest before that of the country and its citizens. They are willing to pay any price to maintain their power and control.

We will all pay a price, I fear a very large price, for their choice.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Recognize Clarenceville board

January is School Board Recognition Month — a time to salute the work of our volunteer school board members both in the Clarenceville School District and across the state in a way that celebrates public education.

The theme, "School Boards Lead," reflects our combined commitment to leadership and accountability assuring that ALL children succeed.

It's an exciting and challenging time in public education. School board members in the Clarenceville School District develop policies and make tough decisions that help shape the future of our education system. They establish the district's vision, work to establish a structure to achieve that vision and work to ensure continuous improvement in areas that will improve student learning. They are citizens whose decisions affect our children and build our communities.

Our board of education, and the hundreds like it across the state, preserve the core of our democracy — public education. They ensure that decisions on school programming are made by people we've elected to represent our community's values, culture and circumstances.

Showing appreciation for the important work of school boards should be a year-round process, but too often we neglect to recognize the dedication and hard work of these men and women who represent us. This January, I am asking our staff, students and parents of our district along with our entire school community to take a moment and thank a school board member.

Thank you to the men and women who dedicate countless personal hours to ensure the needs of our community are met by our public schools. We salute the public servants of the Clarenceville School District whose dedication and civic responsibility make local control of public schools in our community possible. We applaud them for their vision and voice to prepare today's students to be tomorrow's leaders.

The men and women serving the Clarenceville School District are: Matt Boettcher, Mark Brooks, Brenda Uren, Cindy Immonen, Steve Massie, Shari Kraelz and Jeff Bunker.

What's up with Canton Center?

Canton Center Road, between Ford and Warren, began breaking up a few short years after the major installation completed. Since then, we've had to deal with patches and many dangerous holes that distract drivers from focusing on driving. I spoke with a friend who owns a business along this stretch and he said the township was in litigation with the original install company. Can somebody provide a status to those of us dealing with this dangerous road daily? It is truly in litigation, when do you expect resolution? Are there any plans better than patching near term?

I appreciate any feedback the appropriate township department may provide.

Stevenson notches pair of 8-0 wins

Spartans go Up North for Traverse City Showcase

Tim Smith

David Mitchell took his Livonia Stevenson hockey family on a nice little trip to Traverse City.

The Spartans varsity boys hockey team repaid their coach with two lopsided wins — 8-0 on Friday night against Traverse City Central and 8-0 Saturday afternoon against Traverse City West — at Centre Ice Arena.

And on Sunday, the team went over to Mt. Holiday for some winter tubing fun.

"We had a great time and were treated first class (by the TC Bay Reps)," said Mitchell, talking like a dad at heart. "We were very happy with our team's play and behavior this weekend. They represented themselves, their families, the school and the city of Livonia extremely well. I couldn't be more proud of them."

Mitchell also gave a shout-out to others behind the scenes for helping make the trip successful on and off the ice.

"Nobody sees or realizes how much certain people do to make this program what it is," Mitchell said. "We have the best and most dedicated staff

EARLY SURGE LIFTS ROCKETS

John Glenn goes off with 28-point first quarter

Tim Smith
Hometownlife.com

Westland John Glenn came out fast and hard Tuesday night and, before the Plymouth Wildcats knew it, the Rockets were up 21-3.

That set the tone in a hurry as John Glenn led 28-7 after one quarter and went on to earn a 74-56 home victory against their KLAA South Division rivals. The Rockets improved to 8-1 overall and 3-1 in the division and now gear up for state-ranked Wayne (7 p.m. Friday at John Glenn).

"Our guys brought their 'A' game in the first quarter," John Glenn head coach Rod Watts said. "They were hungry and had a lot of energy. They were focused, excited to be back on the home floor after the new year."

Conversely, the Wildcats (5-5, 2-2) were in a deep hole pretty much from the opening tip, unable to slow the Rockets dynamic backcourt of senior Christian Agnew and sophomore Joe Moon IV.

"Their pressure really hurt us tonight," said Brandon Bekius, handling coaching duties for Plymouth in the absence of head coach Mike Soukup (excused for personal reasons). "We couldn't handle their pressure, we turned it over. If we're going to be successful we need to handle pressure. But I'm proud of them for not giving up, they fought the entire game."

Agnew could not be stopped, however. He led all scorers with 24 points. Moon contributed 15 while senior center Dajon Parker was stellar in the paint with 14 points and 12 rebounds.

Bushel of buckets

"(Agnew and Parker) are huge, they're three-year varsity players," Watts said. "They're our team captains and between those two guys and Joe Moon, as they go we go. They just bring a lot of energy. When they're on we

Novi hangs on to beat Stevenson, 67-65

Spartans edged in battle for division lead

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com

There were plenty of chances to go around Tuesday night as host Novi knocked Livonia Stevenson from the ranks of the unbeaten with a 67-65 boys basketball win.

Novi, which improved to 6-4 overall while taking over sole possession of first place in the KLAA's Central Division with a 4-0 record, missed six straight free throws in the final 44 seconds, including three straight front ends of a one-and-one while trying to protect a 66-61 lead.

Stevenson (8-0, 3-1), meanwhile, went 4-of-21 from the field during the final quarter including three misses in the final 11 seconds, capped by Devin Dunn's desperation heave from half-court at the buzzer.

"I would say we panicked a little bit, but that was one of the closest games we've been in since Wayne," said Novi junior point-guard Trendon Hankerson, who scored 14 points and dished out five assists. "But we've definitely got to step up, we've got to improve our percentage at the free throw line. The whole game we did well, but coming down the stretch it got a little hazy, yes."

Novi, which led 36-32 at halftime, was outscored 22-16 in the third period and trailed 54-52 following pair of triples from Jeremiah Eason (13 points) entering the fourth.

The Spartans then took a 57-52 lead with 7:19 remaining in the game on an acrobatic rebound put-back by senior Ian Knoph (17 points), but the Wildcats answered with a 14-4 run as senior forward Alec Bageris (16 points, eight rebounds) nailed a pair of triples.

And when Nick Williams scored with 2:32 left to put Novi up 66-61, it appeared the Wildcats would close it out only to have Knoph make a basket followed by two of three free throws by Nader Kandalaft (11 points) with only 21 seconds remaining to pull the Spartans within one, 66-65.

"We drew up a lot of stuff," Stevenson coach Kareem Smart said. "We were getting shots and sometimes they just don't fall in, so we just need to play better in the first three quarters, so we won't have that type of situation in the fourth quarter."

Nervous moments

After Stevenson missed twice to potentially take the lead, Novi's Giovanni Miles stopped the bleeding by splitting a pair of foul shots with 4 seconds left to give the Wildcats a two-point lead.

"No question that we found ourselves in a position where we were comfortable, but a team that can shoot the 'three'

Lutheran Westland wins game at Parkway for first time since 2013

Tim Smith

The last time Lutheran Westland's varsity girls basketball team won a game at Sterling Heights Parkway Christian, it was 2013.

After Friday's 54-46 victory, the Warriors hope it won't be nearly as long a wait for the next win there.

Sparking the victory for Lutheran Westland (6-1 overall, 2-0 in the MIAC Red) was Taylor Jones, who scored 24 points and registered four steals. Contributing 13 points was Rachel Reddeman. The top rebounder for coach Sandi Wade was Makayla Wyly with seven.

"This was a great win for our program," Wade said. "Whenever we play Parkway it is a close, head to head, intense battle and I'm happy to come out on top. (It) wasn't one of our cleanest games but we didn't let the turnovers get to us."

Wade added that the Warriors "didn't let the little things bother us, we just kept going at Parkway and doing what we do and what we had to do to get the win. Proud of them and looking forward to the rest of the season and conference play."

Stevenson took 1-0 leads after the first period in each game of the fourth annual North/South Showcase before letting loose with offensive surges.

"This game (against TC West) was kind of a mirror image of the first game," he said. "We played hard, but were not very efficient or mature with our play."

"We talked about a few things and give our kids credit, the adjustments we made and implemented, the kids did a nice job of executing them. From a hockey standpoint, it was a nice win to cap off the weekend."

Against TC Central, the Spartans were led by Julian Decina's two-goal effort. Also registering goals were Morgen Gray, Cody Cieslaga, Vinny Decina, Brendan Hall, Justin Alton and Jack Williamson.

Earning two assists each were Jake Beaune and Kyle Lynch, with one assist each chalked up by Connor Jakacki, Kevin Stefanick, Alex Walkuski, Seth Lause, Easton Schlatterbeck, Jacob Anderson and Logan Dunham.

It was more of the same the next day against TC West, with Beaune tallying a three-goal game to pace the attack.

Chipping in with one goal each were Vinny Decina, Hall (who also had an assist), Tyler Slabaugh, Williamson and Dunham, while Austin Adamic recorded two assists.

Jakacki, Gray, Stefanick, Walkuski, Cieslaga, Anderson and Julian Decina each picked up an assist in Game 2.

Sharing shutouts each game were goalies Will Tragge and Derek Dukdek.

"We have to keep striving to get better as our schedule in the second half is nothing short of relentless," Mitchell said. "We are looking forward to it."

CHURCHILL 9, WALLED LAKE WESTERN 0: Livonia Churchill scored four goals in the first period and five more in the second Friday night in this rout of Walled Lake Western.

Leading the Chargers with a goal and three assists was Jordan Veneconi. Tyler Haydu also had a big night, with two goals and an assist.

Other players with multiple points included John Doyle (goal, two assists), Josh Friend (goal, two assists), Conor Burnett (goal, assist), Joe Wozniak (goal, assist), and Willis Wuebben (two assists).

Zack Vendittelli and Seth Kucharczyk each scored a goal while Adam Sinclair, Michael Papaiannou and Vaughn Kendall helped the cause with one assist a piece.

Churchill goalie Chris Sergison stopped 13 Western shots.

have pretty good success."

It took Plymouth nearly half of the first quarter to get on the scoreboard, on a trey by junior forward Anthony Crump (who led the Wildcats with 16 points). By that time, it already was a 9-3 lead for the Rockets.

The onslaught was far from over. Agnew buried a 3-ball, and he connected on another one two minutes later to make it 21-3. In between his two treys were three layups, two by Moon.

Plymouth outscored the home team 11-7 in the second quarter to trail 35-18 at halftime. A triple by junior guard Joey Robb (10 points) was a key bucket in that stanza for the Wildcats, looking for any positives by that point.

"We've had big first quarters before," Watts said. "But we took our foot off the gas, guys got comfortable and started playing to the scoreboard."

Watts emphasized that his team can't get into the habit of being complacent after a huge start.

"It is tough but you got to be disciplined," he said. "Because, when you have an opportunity you have to take advantage of it. Because if you let your guard down, then you give them an opportunity to build up some confidence and you get an opportunity to get back in the game."

"We try to teach them, don't play to the scoreboard, play to what you're supposed to do. Your duties, your assignments. Don't let up."

In addition to Crump and Robb, Plymouth junior forward Tariq Woody reached double figures with 12 points.

It took Plymouth nearly half of the first quarter to get on the scoreboard, on a trey by junior forward Anthony Crump (who led the Wildcats with 16 points). By that time, it already was a 9-3 lead for the Rockets.

The onslaught was far from over. Agnew buried a 3-ball, and he connected on another one two minutes later to make it 21-3. In between his two treys were three layups, two by Moon.

Schoolcraft powers to 90-65 victory

Ocelots cruise from opening tip against Oakland Community College

Tim Smith
Hometownlife.com

Schoolcraft College got out fast Jan. 7 against state-ranked Oakland Community College and never let up, earning a 90-65 men's basketball win.

The Ocelots, 10-3 overall and 2-0 in the MCCAA Eastern Conference, made it four straight victories with a strong all-around performance, said head coach Abe Mashhour.

"OCC came in as a highly ranked team and we were able to slow them down offensively, holding them to only 24 first-half points," Mashhour said. "Offensively we played well and moved the ball unselfishly once again. We had 17 assists at halftime and 26 for the game.

"We had great balance and played all 14 players six minutes or more, so that was a great deal of fun to watch."

"They took it pretty hard because they knew the last couple of days practices weren't as great," Smart said after his team's first loss.

"It wasn't intense and stuff like that. They wanted to stay on top, they wanted to stay undefeated, but I told them that's a lesson you learn.

"You got to be prepared to play every game."

Traveon Maddox Jr. was Novi's top scorer with 17 points, while Hankerson scored 10 of his 14 in the third period.

"It was tough coming down the stretch because it was a close game in the third quarter and in the fourth quarter," Hankerson said.

"But we had to get some buckets because we were up and then we went down a little bit, so I just knew my team had to get some points.

"I had to come down, and I had to make it happen for us."

Stevenson will host KLAA Central rival Salem at 7 p.m. Friday.

"I wouldn't say we were tired, but I'd say we were sluggish," Smart said. "We've been sluggish for the past couple of days. But not to take anything away from Novi.

The Warriors came out strong against the Eagles, controlling the tempo and outscoring the hosts 19-9 in the opening quarter. Leading the way in the first were Jones and Reddenman, with nine points and six points, respectively.

Lutheran Westland then outscored Parkway Christian 12-8 in the third to open up some breathing room entering the fourth (39-32).

PREP ATHLETICS

Shamrocks basketball royalty returns home

CC honors Santello, Holowicki with pregame event

Brad Emmons
hometownlife.com

Bob Santello and Bernie Holowicki have come full-circle.

Thanks to a pregame ceremony Friday night prior to Novi Detroit Catholic Central's varsity boys basketball game against rival Birmingham Brother Rice, the former longtime athletic director and the school's winningest basketball coach will be linked forever.

After serving 35 years as the school's A.D. while fulfilling numerous other roles in the school, including coach, teacher and dean of students, CC's basketball/wrestling facility will now named after Santello.

"When you start this A.D. profession, you don't think they're going to have a venue of any kind named in your honor," Santello said. "And so when it does happen, you're overwhelmed by it all."

Santello, who was succeeded by Aaron Babicz, remains a fixture at CC athletic events. A member of CC's Class of 1958, Santello still lives and dies with the Shamrocks.

"Now that you're retired, you have more time and you can pick and choose which events you want to go to," Santello said. "And you can leave when you want to. It's more fun, more relaxed from then. But you know, when you're at a contest and you're not doing well, you still get nervous about that. It was great run and it's a great honor to be part of it with Bernie Holowicki. He was a great coach and a great person."

For Holowicki, it was a night to remember as legions of former players turned out to see the basketball floor now inscribed as Bernie Holowicki Court.

Holowicki, who ranks seventh all-time among coaches in the Michigan High School Athletic Association for wins (612), guided CC to its second Class A state title in school history (1976) beating Magic Johnson and Lansing Everett in the semifinals, followed by a 59-57 victory over Saginaw in the championship game.

lowicki, who admitted he was a little anxious, addressed the crowd and was grateful for the honor.

"It was awesome, one of the best things I ever saw in my life. I never thought it would happen until I saw it now," said Holowicki, who later became the head coach at Madonna University, where he still serves as a volunteer assistant. "I was nervous at the beginning, but then I let it all hang out."

Holowicki coached three high school All-Americans and 13 all-state players.

Among the notables in attendance were NCAA Division I players Tom LaGarde (North Carolina), Greg Wendt (Duke/Detroit), John McIntyre (Detroit/Missouri) and Chad Varga (Richmond/Pittsburgh).

The 6-foot-10 LaGarde played under the late Dean Smith at North Carolina (1973-77) while also winning a gold medal for the U.S. Olympic Team at the 1976 Montreal Summer Games. He was a first-round pick of the Denver Nuggets and won an NBA title with the Seattle SuperSonics in 1979.

"When Bernie came, I was a junior, so I only had him for two years," said LaGarde, who played for four different NBA teams and had a professional stint in Italy as well. "He was such a positive force. I called it the positive pull, because every day he was just happy. He gave us all energy; he was like an energizer. He believed in us and he inspired us. And I am fortunate to have those two years with him at Catholic Central."

LaGarde said Holowicki helped shape his basketball career.

"I think he got me to play with enthusiasm, get a floor burn and believe in yourself," LaGarde said. "He's right — three hours, seven days and 12 months of the year, you really have to work. And when you work and put the time in, then you have positive energy and you can't help but succeed."

LaGarde and his wife Heather, along with their two children, now reside in Saxapahaw, N.C.

"My wife and I have a number of different jobs," LaGarde said. "One is we run a venue at an old cotton mill by the banks of the Haw River called the Haw River Ballroom. And we hold conferences, weddings and concerts, national and international acts, there. My mom and dad recently moved down from Detroit. They're 92 and 90, so we've got them down and so we have a pretty busy day every day."

"I've got two kids there, 16 and 12. My daughter is a junior in high school and she's about 6-3 and she's a great volleyball player and she committed to play at the University of North Carolina, who has a top 20 program, so we're proud of her."

Holowicki was pleased and proud to see all his former players in attendance, many of whom traveled from out-of-state.

"All these guys, it was just good to see them," Holowicki said. "All the guys become young men now. My whole family was here. Very good memory, very good memory."

GIRLS BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Chargers, Rockets fall short in KLAA South matchups

Tim Smith

Standout defense Tuesday night helped Canton's varsity girls basketball team post a 49-25 KLAA South Division win over Livonia Churchill.

The Chiefs (7-3 overall, 3-1 in the KLAA South) hit 45 percent from the floor and stopped Churchill's main threat, Annie Yost, who only scored two points. The game was 25-9 at halftime.

"We did an effective job on both the offensive and defensive boards tonight," Canton head coach Rob Heitmeyer said. "We have not seen a lot of zone defense played against us this year, so we were happy with how we were able to get some good looks at the basket."

Leading Canton with 15 points was Erin Hult, with Shamyra Butler adding 10. Brianna Finn and Sam Mattern each scored six.

For the Chargers, Shae Smith (seven points), Kennedy Carriger (six points) and Macey Reese (four points) were the main contributors.

John Glenn edged

Plymouth defeated Westland John Glenn 54-49 Tuesday behind the efforts of Alexa Ebeling (15 points), Chantal LeDoux (12 points, five rebounds) and Becca Przybylo (10 points, four rebounds).

Sharon Woodard (18 points), Carley Loving (16 points) and Jasmine Edwards (11 points) had solid offensive showings for the Rockets.

"We jumped on them from the tip," said Plymouth head coach Ryan Ballard, whose team (4-6 overall, 3-1 in the KLAA South) won its third straight game. "I loved how focused we were on both ends."

"Defensively, we were able to speed Glenn up and take them out of their offense. Offensively, we pushed the ball in transition."

SPARTANS FALL: Grace Lamerson and Diane Senkowski scored 12 points and nine points, respectively, but Livonia Stevenson could not get over the hump Tuesday night against Novi, dropping a 49-41 decision.

Novi's Cara Ninkovich scored 16 points to spark the Wildcats to the KLAA Central Division win. Adding 13 points was Julia Lalain.

"We missed 10 free throws and some easy layups and that was the difference in the game," Stevenson head coach Karen Anger said. "We had 15 steals but we didn't convert the way we normally do off of them."

HAWKS WIN, 41-29:

Samantha Golchuk's 23 point effort lifted Huron Valley Lutheran to a MIAA girls basketball win over Oakland Christian Tuesday night.

The Hawks outscored their opponents 14-4 in the second to go up 16-12 and scored 14 more points in the third to cement their lead.

Golchuk hit 9-of-17 from the floor to keep the offense clicking.

Others helping the cause for Huron Valley (3-6, 2-1) were Kimberly Beckerman (six points), Sophie Doerher (six points), Rosemary Rundstader (four points, nine rebounds) and Emily Haines (seven rebounds).

EDISON STOPS PCA: Plymouth Christian Academy lost 69-11 Tuesday to Detroit Edison in a non-conference girls basketball game. Robin Albert led the Eagles (6-3, 1-2) with 12 points.

PANTHERS CRUISE: Cassidy Sandelin scored a game-high 24 points and Johanna Steele added 21 points

Tuesday to short-handed Redford Union (6-3, 2-1) romped to a 57-16 Western Wayne Conference Red Division triumph over Dearborn Heights Ann Arbor (2-6, 1-2).

RU, which dressed only five players, finished the game with four after one starter fouled out in the final period.

Nanjet Ala scored nine points for the Cougars, who trailed 21-6 at halftime and 44-8 after three quarters.

"I thought the team played exceptionally well tonight," RU coach Scott Purdy said. "We played really good defense and we passed the ball around. Cassidy played a phenomenal game for us tonight."

GC CLIPS EAGLES:

Kayley Ann Hewer scored a game-high 15 points Tuesday to lift Garden City (4-6, 2-1) to a 55-34 WWAC Red Division triumph over Redford Thurston (5-4, 1-2).

The Eagles, who trailed 30-22 at halftime and 44-30 after three quarters, got a team-high 14 points from Bryanna Burton.

Shamrocks go 3-1 in Super Duals

CC beats state foes, but falls to Ohio powerhouse

Brad Emmons
hometownlife.com

A top 20 national showdown against No. 3 Lakeland (Ohio) St. Edward's highlighted the action Saturday as host Novi Detroit Catholic Central finished 3-1 in its own CC Super Duals wrestling tournament.

The three-time defending MHSAA Division 1 state champion and top-ranked Shamrocks scored victories over Division 4 top-ranked Hudson, 58-15; returning Division 2 finalist and No. 4-ranked St. Johns, 58-7; and Division 1 No. 7-ranked Brighton, 59-3.

In the marquee match-up under National High School Federation weight classes, No. 12 CC won eight of the 14 matches (with a forfeit at 195 pounds), but came out on the short end against the Ohio state power, 36-30.

"We commit ourselves to challenging our young men on and off the mat and that's what we did today and I think our guys responded pretty well," said CC coach Mitch Hancock, whose team is 19-1 overall. "I think we took a backseat to Ed's in certain matchups, which is a bit frustrating. I think our guys believe we could've competed harder and limited bonus points, which is a must if we want to accomplish our goal of winning a state championship."

Cam Amine (145 pounds) and Nick Jenkins (heavyweight) both went 4-0 on the day, while Ben Kamali (113) and Tyler Morland (182) both finished 3-0 to lead the Shamrocks.

Meanwhile, Rhett Newton (113) and Rory Cox (170) both finished 2-0, while Devon Johnson (106), Kevon Davenport (132), Aidan Wagh (152) and Brendin Yatooma (160) all posted 3-1 a record.

"St. Ed's is a darn good team and very well-coached," Hancock said. "What an incredible day. We had some fantastic wrestling talent here today and we are grateful for the opportunity to compete against a team like St. Ed's."

"Our alums are important to this program. They are great contributors and believers in what we do in that wrestling room. It's nice to thank them and honor them when given the chance."

The Shamrocks return to action at 6 p.m. Thursday at Davison to take on the Cardinals, ranked No. 2 in Division 1.

SUDOKU

A 9x9 Sudoku grid with some numbers filled in. The grid has a 3x3 box structure. To the right is a 9x9 number grid for reference.

	6		5		1	7	3
3			9
	7			8
7
5	3		6		9
	8			2			3

3	1	6	9	5

2	3	1	6	8	9	4	5	7
6	4	7	1	2	5	9	8	3
5	9	8	4	3	7	6	2	1
9	1	6	8	5	2	3	7	4
4	5	2	3	7	1	9	8
7	8	3	9	1	4	2	6	5
1	7	5	2	6	3	8	4	9
3	2	4	7	9	8	5	1	6
8	6	9	5	4	1	7	3	2

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
